Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s ... they came, and they were treated like lepers ... not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them". Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored. The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men. In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home. Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre. Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Turkey arrests alleged Australia d

https://www.re...

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[5] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[5] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[5] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net....

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Aualiitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - Wi

https://en.wikipedia....

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment; paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s … they came, and they were treated like lepers … not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Turkey arrests alleged Australia d

https://www.re...

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[5] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[5] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[5] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net....

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Aualiitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - Wi

https://en.wikipedia....

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment; paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s … they came, and they were treated like lepers … not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Turkey arrests alleged Australia d

https://www.re...

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[5] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[5] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[5] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net....

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Aualiitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - Wi

https://en.wikipedia....

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment, paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s … they came, and they were treated like lepers … not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Turkey arrests alleged Australia d

https://www.re...

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[5] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[5] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[5] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net....

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Aualiitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - Wi

https://en.wikipedia....

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment; paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s … they came, and they were treated like lepers … not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Turkey arrests alleged Australia d

https://www.re...

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[5] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[5] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[5] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net....

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Aualiitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - Wi

https://en.wikipedia....

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment, paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s … they came, and they were treated like lepers … not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Turkey arrests alleged Australia d

https://www.re...

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[5] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[5] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[5] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net....

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Aualiitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - Wi

https://en.wikipedia....

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment, paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s … they came, and they were treated like lepers … not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

4 accused of scheme to smuggle 'military-grade firepower' to Mexico's bloodiest cartel

EL PAÍS

'El Mencho': Chasing the most powerful drug lord in Mexico

sed of scheme to smuggle 'military-firepower' to Mexico's bloodiest cartel

EL PAÍS

International

'El Mencho': Chasing the mos lord in Mexico

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes is the leader of the Generation Cartel. Despite being the most want with millions of dollars in rewards hanging over and US governments have failed to track him do

A police vehi

DAVID MARCUS PÉREZ · GEORGINA PERSIA

NBC NEWS

4 accused of scheme to smuggle 'military-grade firepower' to Mexico's bloodiest cartel

Authorities found an arsenal with 10,000 armor-piercing incendiary rounds and kits to make six machine guns capable of firing 6,000 bullets per minute

EL PAÍS

International

MEXICO ›

'El Mencho': Chasing the most powerful drug lord in Mexico

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes is the leader of the brutal Jalisco New Generation Cartel. Despite being the most wanted criminal in North America, with millions of dollars in rewards hanging over his head, both the Mexican and US governments have failed to track him down

A police officer watch over a vehicle set on fire by members of Jalisco New Generation Cartel.

DAVID MARCIAL PÉREZ · GEORGINA PERSIA

https://www.nbcnews.com/news/latin-america/4-accu...

NBC NEWS

4 accused of scheme to smuggle 'military-grade firepower' to Mexico's bloodiest cartel

LATIN AMERICA

4 accused of scheme to smuggle 'military-grade firepower' to Mexico's bloodiest cartel

Authorities found an arsenal with 10,000 armor-piercing incendiary rounds and kits to make six machine guns capable of firing 6,000 bullets per minute.

Create your free profile or log in to save this article

Jan. 24, 2022, 11:00 PM CST / Updated Jan. 26, 2022, 12:21 AM CST

By Tim Stelloh

Four U.S. suspects were arrested in a smuggling scheme to export machine guns, assault rifles and hundreds of thousands of rounds of ammunition to a Mexican drug cartel that authorities have called the country's bloodiest, officials said Monday.

The U.S. Attorney's Office in California's Central District named two more suspects in the alleged scheme to move "military-grade firepower" to the Cártel Jalisco Nueva Generación, a group that law enforcement officials in the U.S. and Mexico have said is filling a vacuum left by the capture of kingpin Joaquín "El Chapo" Guzmán in 2016.

One of the suspects is believed to be at large in Mexico. Another is in state custody in North Carolina on unrelated charges, the prosecutor's office said in a news release.

Most of the suspects were charged with smuggling and violating export regulations. The suspected ringleader and his son were also charged with money laundering, and two others were accused of illegal possession of ammunition.

"The defendants in this case smuggled sophisticated weaponry out of the United States to one of the most violent cartels in Mexico whose members target not only rival gangs, but innocent Mexican citizens and Mexican law enforcement," Kristi Johnson, an FBI official in Los Angeles, said in a statement.

Marco Antonio Santillan Valencia, 51, was identified as the U.S. group's leader. According to the prosecutor's office, he and the others obtained the guns from two

Sponsored Stories by Taboola

FAVORITE BRANDNEW
Unsold Laptops Are Almost Given Away

SAFER TECH TIPS
Why Didn't Anyone Tell Me Windows Computers Can Block Ads?

Garden Tool Free Shipping

cervantes mexico's bloodiest dr...

Narcos: 'El Mencho': Chasing the...

https://english.elpais.c...

EL PAÍS International

SUBSCRIBE LOG IN

MEXICO >

'El Mencho': Chasing the most powerful drug lord in Mexico

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes is the leader of the brutal Jalisco New Generation Cartel. Despite being the most wanted criminal in North America, with millions of dollars in rewards hanging over his head, both the Mexican and US governments have failed to track him down

A police officer stands near a vehicle set on fire by members of Jalisco New Generation Cartel.
FERNANDO CARRANZA (REUTERS)

DAVID MARCIAL PÉREZ | GEORGINA ZEREGA

Mexico - DEC 27, 2022 - 05:39 EST

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL. Subscribe Sign In

Latest World Business U.S. Politics Economy Tech Markets & Finance Opinion Arts Lifestyle Real Estate Personal Finance Health Style Sports

Shabbos Kestenbaum, Jewish Student Suing Harvard, on RNC Speaker List Tonight

By Mariah Timms

Shabbos Kestenbaum testifying during a House subcommittee hearing in May. (Kent Nishimura/Getty Images)

One of the "everyday Americans" included in Wednesday's RNC speaker list is recent Harvard grad Shabbos Kestenbaum, who is suing the university over its alleged failure to combat antisemitism on campus. He is expected to speak at the RNC convention around 9 p.m. Eastern on Wednesday. Kestenbaum, who is Jewish, said he is a "lifelong

salon SUBSCRIBE

BOOK EXCERPT

Meet America's first drug dealer: Arnold Rothstein's wild, real-life 1920s "Sopranos" story

The modern drug war started with Arnold Rothstein, a criminal master so feared he managed to rig the World Series

By JOHANN HARI (HBO)

PUBLISHED MARCH 1, 2015 9:30PM (EST)

save

Excerpted from "Chasing the Scream: The First and Last Days of the War on Drugs"

As I dug deeper, I realized there was a hole in the story of the start of the drug war—a large

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

Lifestyle | Weird But True | Health | Sex & Relationships | Viral Trends | Human Interest

TRENDING NOW IN LIFESTYLE

Flyers can bring these 11 full-size liquids through airport...

Dear Abby: My husband hasn't touched me since I...

Meet 'The Talented Mrs. Mandelbaum:' America's first gangster

By Caroline Howe

Published July 14, 2024, 8:00 a.m. ET

25

Fredericka Mandelbaum ruled Manhattan's Lower East Side during the mid-19th century as she cultivated an extensive crime rink that extended far beyond her modest storefront.

mcny.org

They were branded the "Jewish Mafia," or the "Kosher Nostra" — four violent street-tough Jews with lots of criminal smarts who dominated tabloid headlines and the Wanted posters that festooned the bulletin boards of US post offices across the land.

Among them was Meyer Lansky, dubbed the kingpin of organized crime in America;

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL ISRAEL AT WAR - DAY 271 JOIN OUR COMMUNITY Support ToI and remove all ads

How a Jewish German woman in NY became America's first major crime boss in 1859

Margalit Fox's new book uncovers the fascinating life and capers of Fredericka Mandelbaum, who fenced stolen property and orchestrated complicated jewel heists and bank robberies

By RENEE GHERT-ZAND FOLLOW

Today, 1:24 am

Two 'Puck' satirical magazine covers featuring Mrs. Mandelbaum. On left (Summer 1884): The public feud between D.A. Olney and police inspector Byrnes. In the middle, depicted in blatantly anti-Semitic caricature, is a bejeweled Mrs. Mandelbaum. On right (1885): Mrs. Mandelbaum, safely on the Canadian side of the 'fence' for American defaulters.' (Public domain)

America's first major organized crime boss was a Jewish woman whose name almost no one knows today. She was Fredericka Mandelbaum, the subject of a new historical nonfiction book by Margalit Fox.

"The Talented Mrs. Mandelbaum: The Rise and Fall of an American Organized-Crime Boss" tells the fascinating story of an immigrant who traveled in steerage to the Lower East Side of Manhattan in 1850. After a decade of peddling lace and struggling to support her family, she transformed herself into a successful fence, someone who knowingly buys stolen property and sells it for a profit.

Between 1859 and 1884, Mandelbaum ran and grew her fencing operation from an unassuming storefront. It was the Gilded Age, a time when the emergent middle and professional classes were willing to turn a blind eye to the origins of coveted luxury items.

"They quickly became consumers who were educated by the mass media of the day — catalogs, newspapers, magazines, and manuals of domestic advice aimed at women in particular, who were under real social pressure to have all of the best. They wanted fancy furniture, chintz, silk, doilies, and knickknacks in their home," Fox told The Times of Israel.

ADVERTISEMENT

RECOMMENDED STORIES

Cardiologist: How To Quickly Lose a Hanging Belly

Top Podiatrist: If You Have Toenail Fungus Try This Tonight (It's...

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL. Subscribe Sign In

Latest World Business U.S. Politics Economy Tech Markets & Finance Opinion Arts Lifestyle Real Estate Personal Finance Health Style Sports

Shabbos Kestenbaum, Jewish Student Suing Harvard, on RNC Speaker List Tonight

By Mariah Timms

Shabbos Kestenbaum testifying during a House subcommittee hearing in May. (Kent Nishimura/Getty Images)

One of the "everyday Americans" included in Wednesday's RNC speaker list is recent Harvard grad Shabbos Kestenbaum, who is suing the university over its alleged failure to combat antisemitism on campus. He is expected to speak at the RNC convention around 9 p.m. Eastern on Wednesday. Kestenbaum, who is Jewish, said he is a "lifelong

salon SUBSCRIBE

BOOK EXCERPT

Meet America's first drug dealer: Arnold Rothstein's wild, real-life 1920s "Sopranos" story

The modern drug war started with Arnold Rothstein, a criminal master so feared he managed to rig the World Series

By JOHANN HARI (HBO)

PUBLISHED MARCH 1, 2015 9:30PM (EST)

save

Excerpted from "Chasing the Scream: The First and Last Days of the War on Drugs"

As I dug deeper, I realized there was a hole in the story of the start of the drug war—a large

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

Lifestyle Weird But True Health Sex & Relationships Viral Trends Human Interest

TRENDING NOW IN LIFESTYLE

Flyers can bring these 11 full-size liquids through airport...

Dear Abby: My husband hasn't touched me since I...

Meet 'The Talented Mrs. Mandelbaum:' America's first gangster

By Caroline Howe

Published July 14, 2024, 8:00 a.m. ET

25

Fredericka Mandelbaum ruled Manhattan's Lower East Side during the mid-19th century as she cultivated an extensive crime rink that extended far beyond her modest storefront.

mcny.org

They were branded the "Jewish Mafia," or the "Kosher Nostra" — four violent street-tough Jews with lots of criminal smarts who dominated tabloid headlines and the Wanted posters that festooned the bulletin boards of US post offices across the land.

Among them was Meyer Lansky, dubbed the kingpin of organized crime in America:

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL ISRAEL AT WAR - DAY 271 JOIN OUR COMMUNITY Support ToI and remove all ads

How a Jewish German woman in NY became America's first major crime boss in 1859

Margalit Fox's new book uncovers the fascinating life and capers of Fredericka Mandelbaum, who fenced stolen property and orchestrated complicated jewel heists and bank robberies

By RENEE GHERT-ZAND FOLLOW

Today, 1:24 am

Two 'Puck' satirical magazine covers featuring Mrs. Mandelbaum. On left (Summer 1884): The public feud between D.A. Olney and police inspector Byrnes. In the middle, depicted in blatantly anti-Semitic caricature, is a bejeweled Mrs. Mandelbaum. On right (1885): Mrs. Mandelbaum, safely on the Canadian side of the 'fence' for American defaulters." (Public domain)

America's first major organized crime boss was a Jewish woman whose name almost no one knows today. She was Fredericka Mandelbaum, the subject of a new historical nonfiction book by Margalit Fox.

"The Talented Mrs. Mandelbaum: The Rise and Fall of an American Organized-Crime Boss" tells the fascinating story of an immigrant who traveled in steerage to the Lower East Side of Manhattan in 1850. After a decade of peddling lace and struggling to support her family, she transformed herself into a successful fence, someone who knowingly buys stolen property and sells it for a profit.

Between 1859 and 1884, Mandelbaum ran and grew her fencing operation from an unassuming storefront. It was the Gilded Age, a time when the emergent middle and professional classes were willing to turn a blind eye to the origins of coveted luxury items.

"They quickly became consumers who were educated by the mass media of the day — catalogs, newspapers, magazines, and manuals of domestic advice aimed at women in particular, who were under real social pressure to have all of the best. They wanted fancy furniture, chintz, silk, doilies, and knickknacks in their home," Fox told The Times of Israel.

ADVERTISEMENT

RECOMMENDED STORIES

Cardiologist: How To Quickly Lose a Hanging Belly

getfitoday.online | Sponsored

Top Podiatrist: If You Have Toenail Fungus Try This Tonight (It's...

WellnessGuide101.com | Sp...

Encyclopedia of Buddhism

Page | Discussion | Read | View source | View history | Search Encyclopedia

Bodhidharma

This biography is a copy of a Wikipedia article, with minor modifications. See the latest Wikipedia version here. EOB

Bodhidharma was a Buddhist monk who lived during the 5th or 6th century. He is traditionally credited as the transmitter of Chan Buddhism to China, and regarded as its first Chinese patriarch. According to Chinese legend, he also began the physical training of the monks of Shaolin Monastery that led to the creation of Shaolin kungfu. In Japan, he is known as Daruma.

Little contemporary biographical information on Bodhidharma is extant, and subsequent accounts became layered with legend.[1] [note 1]

According to the principal Chinese sources, Bodhidharma came from the Western Regions,[4][5] which refers to Central Asia but may also include the Indian subcontinent, and was either a "Persian Central Asian"[4] or a "South Indian [...] the third son of a great Indian king."[5][note 2] Throughout Buddhist art, Bodhidharma is depicted as an ill-tempered, profusely-bearded, wide-eyed non-Chinese person. He is referred as "The Blue-Eyed Barbarian" (Chinese: 碧眼胡; pinyin: Bìyǎnhú) in Chan texts.[10]

Aside from the Chinese accounts, several popular traditions also exist regarding Bodhidharma's origins.[note 3]

Bodhidharma
Names (details)	[Expand]

Bodhidharma, Ukiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Main page
Recent changes
Random page
Categories
About
Help
Donate

Tools
What links here
Related changes
Special pages
Printable version
Permanent link
Page information
Cite this page

Britannica

Search Britannica... | Subscribe Now | Login

Philosophy & Religion › Religious Places

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents
Introduction
References & Edit History
Related Topics

Images

Related Questions
What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next
The Effects of China's One-Child Policy
A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover
6 Unusual Olympic Sports
Olympics: Football (Soccer)
8 Olympic Cheating Scandals
What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?
7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports
12 Greek Gods and Goddesses
What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print | Cite | Share | Feedback

Written by Jade Franklin
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopaedia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple
The Shaolin Temple in Henan province, China.

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

In 464 an Indian monk named Bada, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that Indian scriptures were translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen Buddhism formed. Bada (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputed to have introduced martial arts as a complementary practice to meditation—a practice that developed into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount Song, one of the five sacred mountains of China. The original temple structure was simple, but with each succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extensive—many of the current structures date from the Ming and Qing dynasties. Great care was taken to preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with all crucial buildings being constructed along the site's central axis. These include the Gate of the Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly King Hall, the Dharma Hall, the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sutra-Keeping Pavilion. The

Sponsored
5 tips to use your credit card wisely
48% of U.S. households carry credit card debt. These five tips can help you avoid overwhelming debt and feel more financially secure.
Learn more

Ad
GO 4X on every bite.
Earn 4X points on dining. 2X points at grocery stores, gas stations and streaming services

Encyclopedia of Buddhism

Page | Discussion | Read | View source | View history | Search Encyclopedia

Bodhidharma

This biography is a copy of a Wikipedia article, with minor modifications. See the latest Wikipedia version here.

Main page
Recent changes
Random page
Categories
About
Help
Donate

Tools
What links here
Related changes
Special pages
Printable version
Permanent link
Page information
Cite this page

Bodhidharma was a Buddhist monk who lived during the 5th or 6th century. He is traditionally credited as the transmitter of Chan Buddhism to China, and regarded as its first Chinese patriarch. According to Chinese legend, he also began the physical training of the monks of Shaolin Monastery that led to the creation of Shaolin kungfu. In Japan, he is known as Daruma.

Little contemporary biographical information on Bodhidharma is extant, and subsequent accounts became layered with legend.[1] [note 1]

According to the principal Chinese sources, Bodhidharma came from the Western Regions,[4][5] which refers to Central Asia but may also include the Indian subcontinent, and was either a "Persian Central Asian"[4] or a "South Indian [...] the third son of a great Indian king."[6][note 2] Throughout Buddhist art, Bodhidharma is depicted as an ill-tempered, profusely-bearded, wide-eyed non-Chinese person. He is referred as "The Blue-Eyed Barbarian" (Chinese: 碧眼胡; pinyin: Bìyǎnhú) in Chan texts.[10]

Aside from the Chinese accounts, several popular traditions also exist regarding Bodhidharma's origins.[note 3]

Bodhidharma
Names (details)	[Expand]

Bodhidharma, Ukiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Britannica

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents
Introduction
References & Edit History
Related Topics

Images

Related Questions
What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next
The Effects of China's One-Child Policy
A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover
4 Unusual Olympic Sports
Olympics Football (Soccer)
8 Olympic Cheating Scandals
What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?
7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports
12 Greek Gods and Goddesses
What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print | Cite | Share | Feedback

Written by Judy Franklin
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopædia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

In 464 an Indian monk named Buda, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that Indian scriptures were translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen Buddhism formed. Buda (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputed to have introduced martial arts as a complementary practice to meditation—a practice that developed into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

Shaolin Temple
The Shaolin Temple in Henan province, China.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount Song, one of the five sacred mountains of China. The original temple structure was simple, but with each succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extensive—many of the current structures date from the Ming and Qing dynasties. Great care was taken to preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with all crucial buildings being constructed along the site's central axis. These include the Gate of the Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly King Hall, the Dharma Hall, the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sutra-Keeping Pavilion. The

5 tips to use your credit card wisely

GO 4X on every bite.
Earn 4X points on dining, 3X points at grocery stores, gas stations and streaming services

View history

Search Encyclopedia

Bodhidharma

Names (details) [Expand]

Bodhidharma, Utiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Britannica

Search Britannica...

Philosophy & Religion > Religious Place

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents

Introduction

References & Edit History

Related Topics

Images

Related Questions

What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next

The Effects of China's One-Child Policy

A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover

6 Unusual Olympic Sports

Olympics Football (Soccer)

5 Olympic Cheating Scandals

What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?

7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports

12 Greek Gods and Goddesses

What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print Cite Share Feedback

Written by Julie Tomaello
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopædia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

In 464 an Indian monk named Bodo, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that In translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen I (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputa arts as a complementary practice to meditation— into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount S mountains of China. The original temple structu succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extens structures date from the Ming and Qing dynastie preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with a constructed along the site's central axis. These in Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sa

Encyclopedia of Buddhism

Page Discussion Read View source View history Search Encyclopedia

Bodhidharma

Main page
Recent changes
Random page
Categories
About
Help
Donate

Tools

What links here
Related changes
Special pages
Printable version
Permanent link
Page information
Cite this page

Bodhidharma was a Buddhist monk who lived during the 5th or 6th century. He is traditionally credited as the transmitter of Chan Buddhism to China, and regarded as its first Chinese patriarch. According to Chinese legend, he also began the physical training of the monks of Shaolin Monastery that led to the creation of Shaolin kungfu. In Japan, he is known as Daruma.

Little contemporary biographical information on Bodhidharma is extant, and subsequent accounts became layered with legend.[1] [note 1]

According to the principal Chinese sources, Bodhidharma came from the Western Regions,[2][3] which refers to Central Asia but may also include the Indian subcontinent, and was either a "Persian Central Asian"[4] or a "South Indian [...] the third son of a great Indian king."[5][note 2] Throughout Buddhist art, Bodhidharma is depicted as an ill-tempered, profusely-bearded, wide-eyed non-Chinese person. He is referred as "The Blue-Eyed Barbarian" (Chinese: 碧眼胡, pinyin: Bìyǎnhú) in Chan texts.[7][8]

Aside from the Chinese accounts, several popular traditions also exist regarding Bodhidharma's origins.[note 3]

Bodhidharma

Names (details) [Expand]

Bodhidharma. Ukiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887

Title	Chanzu 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Britannica

Subscribe Now Login

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents

Introduction
References & Edit History
Related Topics

Images

Related Questions

What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next

The Effects of China's One-Child Policy
A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Showcase

A Chinese Olympic Sports
Olympics Football (Soccer)
8 Olympic Cheating Scandals
What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?
7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports
12 Greek Gods and Goddesses
What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print Cite Share Feedback

Written by Alan Piquette
Fact checked by The Editors of Encyclopædia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

In 464 an Indian monk named Buda, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowenti, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that Indian scriptures were translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen Buddhism formed. Buda (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputed to have introduced martial arts as a complementary practice to meditation—a practice that developed into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

Shaolin Temple

The Shaolin Temple in Henan province, China

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount Song, one of the five sacred mountains of China. The original temple structure was simple, but with each succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extensive—many of the current structures date from the Ming and Qing dynasties. Great care was taken to preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with all central buildings being constructed along the site's central axis. These include the Gate of the Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly King Hall, the Dharma Hall, the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sutra Keeping Pavilion. The

GO 4X on every bite

Encyclopedia of Buddhism

Page | Discussion | Read | View source | View history | Search Encyclopedia

Bodhidharma

This biography is a copy of a Wikipedia article, with minor modifications. See the latest Wikipedia version here.

Main page
Recent changes
Random page
Categories
About
Help
Donate

Tools
What links here
Related changes
Special pages
Printable version
Permanent link
Page information
Cite this page

Bodhidharma was a Buddhist monk who lived during the 5th or 6th century. He is traditionally credited as the transmitter of Chan Buddhism to China, and regarded as its first Chinese patriarch. According to Chinese legend, he also began the physical training of the monks of Shaolin Monastery that led to the creation of Shaolin kungfu. In Japan, he is known as Daruma.

Little contemporary biographical information on Bodhidharma is extant, and subsequent accounts became layered with legend.[1] [note 1]

According to the principal Chinese sources, Bodhidharma came from the Western Regions,[4][5] which refers to Central Asia but may also include the Indian subcontinent, and was either a "Persian Central Asian"[4] or a "South Indian [...] the third son of a great Indian king."[6][note 2] Throughout Buddhist art, Bodhidharma is depicted as an ill-tempered, profusely-bearded, wide-eyed non-Chinese person. He is referred as "The Blue-Eyed Barbarian" (Chinese: 碧眼胡; pinyin: Bìyǎnhú) in Chan texts.[10]

Aside from the Chinese accounts, several popular traditions also exist regarding Bodhidharma's origins.[note 3]

Bodhidharma
Names (details)	[Expand]

Bodhidharma, Ukiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Britannica

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents
Introduction
References & Edit History
Related Topics

Images

Related Questions
What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next
The Effects of China's One-Child Policy
A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover
4 Unusual Olympic Sports
Olympics Football (Soccer)
8 Olympic Cheating Scandals
What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?
7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports
12 Greek Gods and Goddesses
What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print | Cite | Share | Feedback

Written by Judy Franklin
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopædia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

In 464 an Indian monk named Buda, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that Indian scriptures were translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen Buddhism formed. Buda (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputed to have introduced martial arts as a complementary practice to meditation—a practice that developed into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

Shaolin Temple
The Shaolin Temple in Henan province, China.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount Song, one of the five sacred mountains of China. The original temple structure was simple, but with each succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extensive—many of the current structures date from the Ming and Qing dynasties. Great care was taken to preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with all crucial buildings being constructed along the site's central axis. These include the Gate of the Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly King Hall, the Dharma Hall, the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sutra-Keeping Pavilion. The

5 tips to use your credit card wisely

GO 4X on every bite.
Earn 4X points on dining, 3X points at grocery stores, gas stations and streaming services

Encyclopedia of Buddhism

Page | Discussion | Read | View source | View history | Search Encyclopedi

Bodhidharma

This biography is a copy of a Wikipedia article, with minor modifications. See the latest Wikipedia version here. → EOB

Main page
Recent changes
Random page
Categories
About
Help
Donate

Tools

What links here
Related changes
Special pages
Printable version
Permanent link
Page information
Cite this page

Bodhidharma was a Buddhist monk who lived during the 5th or 6th century. He is traditionally credited as the transmitter of Chan Buddhism to China, and regarded as its first Chinese patriarch. According to Chinese legend, he also began the physical training of the monks of Shaolin Monastery that led to the creation of Shaolin kungfu. In Japan, he is known as Daruma.

Little contemporary biographical information on Bodhidharma is extant, and subsequent accounts became layered with legend.[1] [note 1]

According to the principal Chinese sources, Bodhidharma came from the Western Regions,[4][5] which refers to Central Asia but may also include the Indian subcontinent, and was either a "Persian Central Asian"[4] or a "South Indian [...] the third son of a great Indian king."[5][note 2] Throughout Buddhist art, Bodhidharma is depicted as an ill-tempered, profusely-bearded, wide-eyed non-Chinese person. He is referred as "The Blue-Eyed Barbarian" (Chinese: 碧眼胡; pinyin: Bìyǎnhú) in Chan texts.[10]

Aside from the Chinese accounts, several popular traditions also exist regarding Bodhidharma's origins.[note 3]

Bodhidharma
Names (details)	[Expand]

Bodhidharma, Ukiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Britannica

Search Britannica... | Subscribe Now | Login

Philosophy & Religion › Religious Places

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents

Introduction
References & Edit History
Related Topics

Images

Related Questions

What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next

The Effects of China's One-Child Policy
A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover

6 Unusual Olympic Sports
Olympics: Football (Soccer)
8 Olympic Cheating Scandals
What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?
7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports
12 Greek Gods and Goddesses
What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print | Cite | Share | Feedback

Written by Jade Franklin
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopaedia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

Shaolin Temple
The Shaolin Temple in Henan province, China.

In 464 an Indian monk named Bada, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that Indian scriptures were translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen Buddhism formed. Bada (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputed to have introduced martial arts as a complementary practice to meditation—a practice that developed into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount Song, one of the five sacred mountains of China. The original temple structure was simple, but with each succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extensive—many of the current structures date from the Ming and Qing dynasties. Great care was taken to preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with all crucial buildings being constructed along the site's central axis. These include the Gate of the Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly King Hall, the Dharma Hall, the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sutra-Keeping Pavilion. The

5 tips to use your credit card wisely

48% of U.S. households carry credit card debt. These five tips can help you avoid overwhelming debt and feel more financially secure.

Learn more

Ad

GO 4X on every bite.

Earn 4X points on dining. 2X points at grocery stores, gas stations and streaming services

Encyclopedia of Buddhism

Page | Discussion | Read | View source | View history | Search Encyclopedi

Bodhidharma

This biography is a copy of a Wikipedia article, with minor modifications. See the latest Wikipedia version here. → EOB

Main page
Recent changes
Random page
Categories
About
Help
Donate

Tools

What links here
Related changes
Special pages
Printable version
Permanent link
Page information
Cite this page

Bodhidharma was a Buddhist monk who lived during the 5th or 6th century. He is traditionally credited as the transmitter of Chan Buddhism to China, and regarded as its first Chinese patriarch. According to Chinese legend, he also began the physical training of the monks of Shaolin Monastery that led to the creation of Shaolin kungfu. In Japan, he is known as Daruma.

Little contemporary biographical information on Bodhidharma is extant, and subsequent accounts became layered with legend.[1] [note 1]

According to the principal Chinese sources, Bodhidharma came from the Western Regions,[4][5] which refers to Central Asia but may also include the Indian subcontinent, and was either a "Persian Central Asian"[4] or a "South Indian [...] the third son of a great Indian king."[5][note 2] Throughout Buddhist art, Bodhidharma is depicted as an ill-tempered, profusely-bearded, wide-eyed non-Chinese person. He is referred as "The Blue-Eyed Barbarian" (Chinese: 碧眼胡; pinyin: Bìyǎnhú) in Chan texts.[10]

Aside from the Chinese accounts, several popular traditions also exist regarding Bodhidharma's origins.[note 3]

Bodhidharma
Names (details)	[Expand]

Bodhidharma, Ukiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Britannica

Search Britannica... | Subscribe Now | Login

Philosophy & Religion › Religious Places

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents

Introduction
References & Edit History
Related Topics

Images

Related Questions

What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next

The Effects of China's One-Child Policy
A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover

6 Unusual Olympic Sports
Olympics: Football (Soccer)
8 Olympic Cheating Scandals
What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?
7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports
12 Greek Gods and Goddesses
What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print | Cite | Share | Feedback

Written by Jade Franklin
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopaedia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple
The Shaolin Temple in Henan province, China.

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

In 464 an Indian monk named Bada, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that Indian scriptures were translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen Buddhism formed. Bada (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputed to have introduced martial arts as a complementary practice to meditation—a practice that developed into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount Song, one of the five sacred mountains of China. The original temple structure was simple, but with each succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extensive—many of the current structures date from the Ming and Qing dynasties. Great care was taken to preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with all crucial buildings being constructed along the site's central axis. These include the Gate of the Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly King Hall, the Dharma Hall, the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sutra-Keeping Pavilion. The

5 tips to use your credit card wisely

48% of U.S. households carry credit card debt. These five tips can help you avoid overwhelming debt and feel more financially secure.

Learn more

Ad

GO 4X on every bite.

Earn 4X points on dining. 2X points at grocery stores, gas stations and streaming services

Leaders' Legacy Sanctuary Fundraiser

TMZ

THOMAS MATTHEW CROOKS

JOKINGLY BRAGS ABOUT PENIS SIZE

In New School Days Vid

Search Donate Fundraise gofundme About Sign In Start a GoFundMe

Lezlee's Legacy Sanctuary Fundraiser

Antonio Thompson is organizing this fundraiser on behalf of Vivian Crooks.

Dear Family, Friends and Members of the Nyack Community,

The Project

100 years after my Uncle's ancestors helped conceive and raise money to build Nyack's first synagogue, I am carrying on their legacy by organizing a special fundraiser to help

$3,732

Share

Donate now

Maria Coulanda

Joyce Thompson Gardner

Antonia Cromartie - Wolf

Dan Bluch

Lawrence Kirkland

See all

See map

Daniel Crooks
Public

Hidden African History: Rabbi Itzhak Shapira discussion with ibeo jews
#teachingthetruthisnotracism #lost10tribesofisrael

Daniel Crooks · Origina

8

3

Daniel Crooks
Public

Hidden African History: Rabbi Itzhak Shapira discussion with ibeo jews
#teachingthetruthisnotracism #lost10tribesofisrael

TMZ NEWS SPORTS HIP HOP WATCH PHOTOS TOURS DEALS

THOMAS MATTHEW CROOKS
JOKINGLY BRAGS ABOUT PENIS SIZE
In New School Days Vid

EXCLUSIVE

Thomas Matthew Crooks – the shooter who tried and failed to take out Donald Trump – clearly had a raunchy, sophomoric sense of humor ... as seen in new video obtained by TMZ.

Score 4+ star school supplies

SIGN UP FOR OUR NEWSLETTER

MOST POPULAR

Search Donate Fundraise gofundme About Sign in Start a GoFundMe

Lezlee's Legacy Sanctuary Fundraiser

JoAnne Thompson is organizing this fundraiser on behalf of Vivian Crooks.

Donation protected

$3,732 raised of $50,000 goal

32 donations

Share

Donate now

Maria Osundele
$100 · 11 mos

Joyce Thompson-Gardner
$100 · 1 yr

Adrienne Cromartie- Wolf
$200 · 1 yr

Geri Bloch
$100 · 1 yr

Lawrence Kintisch
$50 · 1 yr

See all

See top

Dear Family, Friends and Members of the Nyack Community,

The Project:
100 years after my Jewish ancestors helped conceive and raise money to build Nyack's first synagogue, I am carrying on their legacy by organizing a special fundraiser to help

Thomas Matthew Crooks

31 languages

Article Talk Read View source View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Thomas Matthew Crooks (September 20, 2003 – July 13, 2024) was an American man who attempted to assassinate Donald Trump, the former president of the United States and at that time presumptive Republican Party nominee for the 2024 presidential election.[1][2]

On July 13, 2024, at a rally near Butler, Pennsylvania, Crooks shot at Trump with an AR-15–style rifle from a nearby rooftop while Trump was giving a speech, injuring Trump and two attendees, and killing another. Crooks was immediately killed by the Secret Service Counter Assault Team. An investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is underway, and his motivation remains unknown.

Thomas Matthew Crooks

Undated driver's license photo of Crooks

Born	September 20, 2003
Died	July 13, 2024 (aged 20) Butler County, Pennsylvania, U.S.
Cause of death	Gunshot wound
Education	Bethel Park High School Community College of Allegheny County (AS)
Known for	Attempted assassination of Donald Trump
Motive	Under investigation
Details
Date	July 13, 2024
Location(s)	Near Butler in Meridian, Pennsylvania
Killed	1
Injured	3 (including Donald Trump)
Weapon	AR-15–style rifle

Early life and education

Thomas Matthew Crooks was born on September 20, 2003,[1] and was raised in Bethel Park, Pennsylvania.[3] The neighborhood he lived in was described as "middle-class, maybe upper-middle class".[4] Both of his parents worked as licensed professional counselors.[5] Recollections about Crooks, including biographical information about his life and personality, vary considerably.[6]

He attended Bethel Park High School, where he was known as an above-average student, and graduated in 2022.[7][8] Classmates and school officials characterized him as quiet, with classmates claiming he was often bullied,[2][7][9] including for his quiet demeanor, and for wearing camouflage hunting outfits and masks to school.[9][10] Crooks enjoyed playing chess and video games, and was learning how to code.[11] He received a $500 "star award" the same year from the National Math and Science Initiative.[7][12] Current and former Bethel Park High School students have alleged that Crooks tried out for his school's rifle team, but did not make the team due to poor aim during tryouts; the Bethel Park School District

Daniel Crooks
Public

Hidden African History: Rabbi Itzhak Shapira discussion with ibeo jews
#teachingthetruthisnotracism #lost10tribesofisrael

Daniel Crooks · Origina

8

3

Daniel Crooks
Public

Hidden African History: Rabbi Itzhak Shapira discussion with ibeo jews
#teachingthetruthisnotracism #lost10tribesofisrael

TMZ NEWS SPORTS HIP HOP WATCH PHOTOS TOURS DEALS

THOMAS MATTHEW CROOKS
JOKINGLY BRAGS ABOUT PENIS SIZE
In New School Days Vid

EXCLUSIVE

Thomas Matthew Crooks -- the shooter who tried and failed to take out Donald Trump -- clearly had a raunchy, sophomoric sense of humor ... as seen in new video obtained by TMZ.

Score 4+ star school supplies

SIGN UP FOR OUR NEWSLETTER
YOUR EMAIL HERE SUBSCRIBE

MOST POPULAR

Trump Rally Shooter Seen Opening Fire & Getting Killed Seconds Later in...

First Photos of Donald Trump Shooter Surface

Shannen Doherty Dead at 53

Search Donate Fundraise gofundme About Sign in Start a GoFundMe

Lezlee's Legacy Sanctuary Fundraiser

JoAnne Thompson is organizing this fundraiser on behalf of Vivian Crooks.

Donation protected

Dear Family, Friends and Members of the Nyack Community,

The Project:
100 years after my Jewish ancestors helped conceive and raise money to build Nyack's first synagogue, I am carrying on their legacy by organizing a special fundraiser to help

$3,732 raised of $50,000 goal

32 donations

Share

Donate now

Maria Osundele
$100 · 11 mos

Joyce Thompson-Gardner
$100 · 1 yr

Adrienne Cromartie- Wolf
$200 · 1 yr

Geri Bloch
$100 · 1 yr

Lawrence Kintisch
$50 · 1 yr

See all

See top

Thomas Matthew Crooks

31 languages

Article Talk Read View source View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Thomas Matthew Crooks (September 20, 2003 – July 13, 2024) was an American man who attempted to assassinate Donald Trump, the former president of the United States and at that time presumptive Republican Party nominee for the 2024 presidential election.[1][2]

On July 13, 2024, at a rally near Butler, Pennsylvania, Crooks shot at Trump with an AR-15–style rifle from a nearby rooftop while Trump was giving a speech, injuring Trump and two attendees, and killing another. Crooks was immediately killed by the Secret Service Counter Assault Team. An investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is underway, and his motivation remains unknown.

Thomas Matthew Crooks

Undated driver's license photo of Crooks

Born	September 20, 2003
Died	July 13, 2024 (aged 20) Butler County, Pennsylvania, U.S.
Cause of death	Gunshot wound
Education	Bethel Park High School Community College of Allegheny County (AS)
Known for	Attempted assassination of Donald Trump
Motive	Under investigation
Details
Date	July 13, 2024
Location(s)	Near Butler in Meridian, Pennsylvania
Killed	1
Injured	3 (including Donald Trump)
Weapon	AR-15–style rifle

Early life and education

Thomas Matthew Crooks was born on September 20, 2003,[1] and was raised in Bethel Park, Pennsylvania.[3] The neighborhood he lived in was described as "middle-class, maybe upper-middle class".[4] Both of his parents worked as licensed professional counselors.[5] Recollections about Crooks, including biographical information about his life and personality, vary considerably.[6]

He attended Bethel Park High School, where he was known as an above-average student, and graduated in 2022.[7][8] Classmates and school officials characterized him as quiet, with classmates claiming he was often bullied,[2][7][9] including for his quiet demeanor, and for wearing camouflage hunting outfits and masks to school.[9][10] Crooks enjoyed playing chess and video games, and was learning how to code.[11] He received a $500 "star award" the same year from the National Math and Science Initiative.[7][12] Current and former Bethel Park High School students have alleged that Crooks tried out for his school's rifle team, but did not make the team due to poor aim during tryouts; the Bethel Park School District ating, making it more elegant and ogram from Kraemy

nd a Harvard Business School ware for the Apple II machine, r "visible calculator," it was a ochrome numerals and paper-based charts anage a budget. VisiCalc could umns and rows in real time,
o more writing out numbers copies in its first six years, and f the Apple II, which retailed

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

Culture magazines › Ice-Cream Cone

Ice-Cream Cone

CENGAGE

Ice-Cream Cone

One of the most popular American snacks, it is generally believed the ice-cream cone was initially popularized at the 1904 St. Louis Exposition. At that time, Ernest Hamwi, a Syrian waffle vendor, created the "World's Fair Cornucopia" by taking portions of ice cream being dispensed by a fellow vendor who had run out of dishes and serving them up inside waffles that were folded into a cone-like shape. However, other sources, including the Library of Congress, claim that the ice-cream cone was invented on July 23, 1904, by Charles E. Menches of St. Louis and that it did not make its debut as a "walk-away" treat until later that year, at the St. Louis Exposition. A year earlier, a patent for a cone maker had been granted to Italo Marchiony (1868–1954), a New York pushcart vendor, who claimed to have been

6 Ground
American

Americans born in countless significan

With its America countless sig cover music iPod, have an Americans.

1. Tele
Screen

Born in Hatte taught mach
the United St Institute of Te sciences from specialist at t

In 1923, Sam
under a contr
engineers, mad

THE NEW YORKER

INFINITE SCROLL

THE BIRTH OF THE PERSONAL COMPUTER

A new history of the Apple II charts how computers became unavoidable fixtures of our daily lives.

By Kyle Chayka

May 10, 2023

Steve Jobs insisted that the Apple II be housed in a plastic casing, making it more elegant and approachable than hobbyists' severe industrial boxes. Photograph from Alamy

Save this story

In 1979, two M.I.T. computer-science alumni and a Harvard Business School graduate launched a new piece of computer software for the Apple II machine, an early home computer. Called VisiCalc, short for "visible calculator," it was a spreadsheet, with an unassuming interface of monochrome numerals and characters. But it was a dramatic upgrade from the paper-based charts traditionally used to project business revenue or manage a budget. VisiCalc could perform calculations and update figures across columns and rows in real time, based on formulas that the user programmed in. No more writing out numbers painstakingly by hand.

VisiCalc sold more than seven hundred thousand copies in its first six years, and almost single-handedly demonstrated the utility of the Apple II, which retailed

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

Culture magazines › Ice-Cream Cone

Ice-Cream Cone

CENGAGE

Ice-Cream Cone

One of the most popular American snacks, it is generally believed the ice-cream cone was initially popularized at the 1904 St. Louis Exposition. At that time, Ernest Hamwi, a Syrian waffle vendor, created the "World's Fair Cornucopia" by taking portions of ice cream being dispensed by a fellow vendor who had run out of dishes and serving them up inside waffles that were folded into a cone-like shape. However, other sources, including the Library of Congress, claim that the ice-cream cone was invented on July 23, 1904, by Charles E. Menches of St. Louis and that it did not make its debut as a "walk-away" treat until later that year, at the St. Louis Exposition. A year earlier, a patent for a cone maker had been granted to Italo Marchiony (1868–1954), a New York pushcart vendor, who claimed to have been

6 Groundbreaking Innovations by Arab Americans

Americans born in or with ancestral ties to Arab-speaking countries have made countless significant scientific, medical and engineering contributions.

While Americans born in or with ancestral ties to Arab countries have made countless significant scientific, medical and engineering contributions, most have never made it into record books. From cryptography, to the artificial heart, to the iPod, here are a few examples of some of the major advancements by Arab Americans.

1. Television Transmission and LCD Screens

Born in Nabatieh, Lebanon in 1895, Hassan Kamal Al-Sabbah studied and then taught mathematics at the American University of Beirut before immigrating to the United States in 1921. After a brief stint studying at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), Al-Sabbah earned a master's degree in engineering sciences from the University of Illinois, says Lujine Nasrallah, communications specialist at the Arab American National Museum in Dearborn, Michigan.

"In 1923, General Electric (GE) hired him to work in its Engineering Laboratory under a contract that awarded him a dollar for each of his patents," Nasrallah explains, noting that between 1927 and 1935, he applied for patents for 52 of his

THE NEW YORKER

INFINITE SCROLL

THE BIRTH OF THE PERSONAL COMPUTER

A new history of the Apple II charts how computers became unavoidable fixtures of our daily lives.

By Kyle Chayka

May 18, 2023

Steve Jobs insisted that the Apple II be housed in a plastic casing, making it more elegant and approachable than hobbyists' severe industrial boxes. Photograph from Alamy

Save this story

In 1979, two M.I.T. computer-science alumni and a Harvard Business School graduate launched a new piece of computer software for the Apple II machine, an early home computer. Called VisiCalc, short for "visible calculator," it was a spreadsheet, with an unassuming interface of monochrome numerals and characters. But it was a dramatic upgrade from the paper-based charts traditionally used to project business revenue or manage a budget. VisiCalc could perform calculations and update figures across columns and rows in real time, based on formulas that the user programmed in. No more writing out numbers painstakingly by hand.

VisiCalc sold more than seven hundred thousand copies in its first six years, and almost single-handedly demonstrated the utility of the Apple II, which retailed

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

EXPLORE

Culture magazines › Ice-Cream Cone

Ice-Cream Cone

CENGAGE Views 3,157,248 Updated

Ice-Cream Cone

One of the most popular American snacks, it is generally believed the ice-cream cone was initially popularized at the 1904 St. Louis Exposition. At that time, Ernest Hamwi, a Syrian waffle vendor, created the "World's Fair Cornucopia" by taking portions of ice cream being dispensed by a fellow vendor who had run out of dishes and serving them up inside waffles that were folded into a cone-like shape. However, other sources, including the Library of Congress, claim that the ice-cream cone was invented on July 23, 1904, by Charles E. Menches of St. Louis and that it did not make its debut as a "walk-away" treat until later that year, at the St. Louis Exposition. A year earlier, a patent for a cone maker had been granted to Italo Marchiony (1868–1954), a New York pushcart vendor, who claimed to have been

HISTORY CLASSICS | LIVE TV | YOUR PROFILE

6 Groundbreaking Innovations by Arab Americans

Americans born in or with ancestral ties to Arab-speaking countries have made countless significant scientific, medical and engineering contributions.

BY: ELIZABETH YUKO
UPDATED: MARCH 26, 2024 | ORIGINAL: MARCH 31, 2022

copy page link

PRINT PAGE

BETTMANN ARCHIVE/GETTY IMAGES

While Americans born in or with ancestral ties to Arab countries have made countless significant scientific, medical and engineering contributions, most have never made it into record books. From cryptography, to the artificial heart, to the iPod, here are a few examples of some of the major advancements by Arab Americans.

1. Television Transmission and LCD Screens

Born in Nabatieh, Lebanon in 1895, Hassan Kamel Al-Sabbah studied and then taught mathematics at the American University of Beirut before immigrating to the United States in 1921. After a brief stint studying at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), Al-Sabbah earned a master's degree in engineering sciences from the University of Illinois, says Lujine Nasralla, communications specialist at the Arab American National Museum in Dearborn, Michigan.

"In 1923, General Electric (GE) hired him to work in its Engineering Laboratory under a contract that awarded him a dollar for each of his patents," Nasralla explains, noting that between 1927 and 1935, he applied for patents for 52 of his

INFINITE SCROLL

THE BIRTH OF THE PERSONAL COMPUTER

A new history of the Apple II charts how computers became unavoidable fixtures of our daily lives.

By Kyle Chayka

May 18, 2023

Steve Jobs insisted that the Apple II be housed in a plastic casing, making it more elegant and approachable than hobbyists' severe industrial boxes. Photograph from Alamy

Save this story

In 1979, two M.I.T. computer-science alumni and a Harvard Business School graduate launched a new piece of computer software for the Apple II machine, an early home computer. Called VisiCalc, short for "visible calculator," it was a spreadsheet, with an unassuming interface of monochrome numerals and characters. But it was a dramatic upgrade from the paper-based charts traditionally used to project business revenue or manage a budget. VisiCalc could perform calculations and update figures across columns and rows in real time, based on formulas that the user programmed in. No more writing out numbers painstakingly by hand.

VisiCalc sold more than seven hundred thousand copies in its first six years, and almost single-handedly demonstrated the utility of the Apple II, which retailed

Culture magazines › Ice-Cream Cone

Ice-Cream Cone

CENGAGE Views 3,157,246 Updated

Ice-Cream Cone

One of the most popular American snacks, it is generally believed the ice-cream cone was initially popularized at the 1904 St. Louis Exposition. At that time, Ernest Hamwi, a Syrian waffle vendor, created the "World's Fair Cornucopia" by taking portions of ice cream being dispensed by a fellow vendor who had run out of dishes and serving them up inside waffles that were folded into a cone-like shape. However, other sources, including the Library of Congress, claim that the ice-cream cone was invented on July 23, 1904, by Charles E. Menches of St. Louis and that it did not make its debut as a "walk-away" treat until later that year, at the St. Louis Exposition. A year earlier, a patent for a cone maker had been granted to Italo Marchiony (1868–1954), a New York pushcart vendor, who claimed to have been

6 Groundbreaking Innovations by Arab Americans

Americans born in or with ancestral ties to Arab-speaking countries have made countless significant scientific, medical and engineering contributions.

BY: ELIZABETH YUKO
UPDATED: MARCH 26, 2024 | ORIGINAL: MARCH 31, 2022

copy page link PRINT PAGE

BETTMANN ARCHIVE/GETTY IMAGES

While Americans born in or with ancestral ties to Arab countries have made countless significant scientific, medical and engineering contributions, most have never made it into record books. From cryptography, to the artificial heart, to the iPod, here are a few examples of some of the major advancements by Arab Americans.

1. Television Transmission and LCD Screens

Born in Nabatieh, Lebanon in 1895, Hassan Kamel Al-Sabbah studied and then taught mathematics at the American University of Beirut before immigrating to the United States in 1921. After a brief stint studying at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), Al-Sabbah earned a master's degree in engineering sciences from the University of Illinois, says Lujine Nasralla, communications specialist at the Arab American National Museum in Dearborn, Michigan.

"In 1923, General Electric (GE) hired him to work in its Engineering Laboratory under a contract that awarded him a dollar for each of his patents," Nasralla explains, noting that between 1927 and 1935, he applied for patents for 52 of his

INFINITE SCROLL

THE BIRTH OF THE PERSONAL COMPUTER

A new history of the Apple II charts how computers became unavoidable fixtures of our daily lives.

By Kyle Chayka
May 18, 2023

Steve Jobs insisted that the Apple II be housed in a plastic casing, making it more elegant and approachable than hobbyists' severe industrial boxes. Photograph from Alamy

Save this story

In 1979, two M.I.T. computer-science alumni and a Harvard Business School graduate launched a new piece of computer software for the Apple II machine, an early home computer. Called VisiCalc, short for "visible calculator," it was a spreadsheet, with an unassuming interface of monochrome numerals and characters. But it was a dramatic upgrade from the paper-based charts traditionally used to project business revenue or manage a budget. VisiCalc could perform calculations and update figures across columns and rows in real time, based on formulas that the user programmed in. No more writing out numbers painstakingly by hand.

VisiCalc sold more than seven hundred thousand copies in its first six years, and almost single-handedly demonstrated the utility of the Apple II, which retailed

Culture magazines › Ice-Cream Cone

Ice-Cream Cone

CENGAGE Views 3,157,246 Updated

Ice-Cream Cone

One of the most popular American snacks, it is generally believed the ice-cream cone was initially popularized at the 1904 St. Louis Exposition. At that time, Ernest Hamwi, a Syrian waffle vendor, created the "World's Fair Cornucopia" by taking portions of ice cream being dispensed by a fellow vendor who had run out of dishes and serving them up inside waffles that were folded into a cone-like shape. However, other sources, including the Library of Congress, claim that the ice-cream cone was invented on July 23, 1904, by Charles E. Menches of St. Louis and that it did not make its debut as a "walk-away" treat until later that year, at the St. Louis Exposition. A year earlier, a patent for a cone maker had been granted to Italo Marchiony (1868–1954), a New York pushcart vendor, who claimed to have been

6 Groundbreaking Innovations by Arab Americans

Americans born in or with ancestral ties to Arab-speaking countries have made countless significant scientific, medical and engineering contributions.

BY: ELIZABETH YUKO
UPDATED: MARCH 26, 2024 | ORIGINAL: MARCH 31, 2022

copy page link PRINT PAGE

BETTMANN ARCHIVE/GETTY IMAGES

While Americans born in or with ancestral ties to Arab countries have made countless significant scientific, medical and engineering contributions, most have never made it into record books. From cryptography, to the artificial heart, to the iPod, here are a few examples of some of the major advancements by Arab Americans.

1. Television Transmission and LCD Screens

Born in Nabatieh, Lebanon in 1895, Hassan Kamel Al-Sabbah studied and then taught mathematics at the American University of Beirut before immigrating to the United States in 1921. After a brief stint studying at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), Al-Sabbah earned a master's degree in engineering sciences from the University of Illinois, says Lujine Nasralla, communications specialist at the Arab American National Museum in Dearborn, Michigan.

"In 1923, General Electric (GE) hired him to work in its Engineering Laboratory under a contract that awarded him a dollar for each of his patents," Nasralla explains, noting that between 1927 and 1935, he applied for patents for 52 of his

Jizzmopper Goldstein
639 photos & videos

Follow

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve

New to this websight. Don't tweet at me if your not gonna be civil. Family friendly, gospel preaching account. True Patriot. Goatse Foundation Supporter

Kansas City, MO · goatse.info · Joined February 2017

1,312 Following 348 Followers

Not followed by anyone you're following

Posts Replies Media

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve
Follow

Live look at the Steve compound...

10:22 AM · Apr 17, 2017

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve
Follow

had 4 accounts banned over dec/jan. i'll let loose again mentor king matt

6:47 PM · May 20, 2017

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve
Follow

Tell me this bitch isn't playing to the camera

4:38 PM · Jul 1, 2017

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve
Follow

ating cereal out of assholes is outdated. I've moved on to ear fucking ideos

1:54 PM · Dec 16, 2017

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve
Follow

Don't be shy. Raffling this off at the top of the hour

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve

atch this

Jan 28, 2018

lawyer has informed us that we need a warni
age of 18 or find this photograph offensive, pl
u!

NT NOTE: There are many merch
r goatse.cx around the web-- non one of them are official. Do not bu erchandise. The official goatse.cx
se is coming soon!

[the giver] [feedback] [contrib]

urinalpoop

Jizzmopper Goldstein
639 photos & videos

Follow

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve

New to this websight. Don't tweet at me if your not gonna be civil. Family friendly, gospel preaching account. True Patriot. Goatse Foundation Supporter

Kansas City, MO · goatse.info · Joined February 2017

1,312 Following · 348 Followers

Not followed by anyone you're following

Posts · Replies · Media

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve
Follow

Live look at the Steve compound...

10:22 AM · Apr 17, 2017

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve
Follow

had 4 accounts banned over dec/jan. i'll let loose again mentor king matt

6:47 PM · May 20, 2017

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve
Follow

Tell me this bitch isn't playing to the camera

4:38 PM · Jul 1, 2017

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve
Follow

ating cereal out of assholes is outdated. I've moved on to ear fucking ideos

1:38 / 2:18

54 PM · Dec 18, 2017

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve
Follow

Don't be shy. Raffling this off at the top of the hour

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve

tch this

0:36 / 0:45

Jan 28, 2018

lawyer has informed us that we need a warni
age of 18 or find this photograph offensive, pl
u!

NT NOTE: There are many mercha
r goatse.cx around the web-- non
one of them are official. Do not buy erchandise. The official goatse.cx
se is coming soon!

[the giver] [feedback] [contrib]

urinalpoop

SLATE

ARTICLES

So Are the Neanderthals Still Jews?

And other revelations culled from history's big secrets.

BY CHARLES PAUL FREUND

AUG 02, 1997 • 3:30 AM

You read the press reports in July about the DNA of Neanderthals, and you quickly grasped how the new findings suggest that this branch of humanoids is much more distantly related to modern Homo sapiens than you may have believed—they are not even direct human ancestors. Now you must apply these findings, and examine their implications for the world around you. Specifically, you must weigh their effect on certain theories in circulation, among them that Neanderthals still walk—or lumber—among us, and indeed that they have maintained their cohesion through the ages and still constitute a group apart. And, most importantly, that this group of living, lumbering Neanderthals is the Jews.

You read the press reports in July about the DNA of Neanderthals, and you quickly grasped how the new findings suggest that this branch of humanoids is much more distantly related to modern Homo sapiens than you may have believed—they are not even direct human ancestors. Now you must apply these findings, and examine their implications for the

Guide to Jewish Genetic Diseases

What Are Jewish Genetic Diseases?

As many as 1 in 3 Ashkenazi Jews are estimated to be carriers for one of about 19 genetic diseases.

BY MY JEWISH LEARNING

Advertisement

Jewish genetic diseases are a group of rare autosomal recessive disorders that are far more prevalent among people with Jewish ancestry than in the general population. Autosomal recessive diseases are transmitted genetically by carrier parents who themselves do not suffer from the disorder but carry the genes that can cause the disease. When two carriers of a genetic mutation associated with a particular disorder have children together, each of their offspring has a one in four chance of developing the disease and a 50 percent chance of becoming carriers themselves.

As many as one in three Ashkenazi Jews are estimated to be carriers for one of about 19 genetic diseases. In all, Jews have higher carrier rates for more than 40 genetic diseases. These include better known disorders such as

How Neanderthal are you? Tracing our genetic ancestry | Natural History Museum

SLATE News & Politics Culture Technology Business Life Advice Pod

AGED APPROXIMATELY 900 YEARS IN LESS THAN A WEEK FOLLOW US

ARTICLES

So Are the Neanderthals Still Jews?

And other revelations culled from history's big secrets.

BY CHARLES PAUL FREUND
AUG 02, 1997 • 3:30 AM

You read the press reports in July about the DNA of Neanderthals, and you quickly grasped how the new findings suggest that this branch of humanoids is much more distantly related to modern Homo sapiens than you may have believed–they are not even direct human ancestors. Now you must apply these findings, and examine their implications for the world around you. Specifically, you must weigh their effect on certain theories in circulation, among them that Neanderthals still walk–or lumber–among us, and indeed that they have maintained their cohesion through the ages and still constitute a group apart. And, most importantly, that this group of living, lumbering Neanderthals is the Jews.

You read the press reports in July about the DNA of Neanderthals, and you quickly grasped how the new findings suggest that this branch of humanoids is much more distantly related to modern Homo sapiens than you may have believed–they are not even direct human ancestors. Now you must apply these findings, and examine their implications for the

Kveller

Guide to Jewish Genetic Diseases

By Kveller Staff

Below are the 19 Ashkenazic Jewish genetic diseases for which people are most commonly screened. It is estimated that 1 in 5 Ashkenazic Jews is a carrier of a mutation in at least one of these disease genes:

- Bloom Syndrome
- Canavan Disease
- Cystic Fibrosis
- Familial Dysautonomia
- Fanconi Anemia Type C
- Gaucher Disease
- Glycogen Storage Disease, Type 1a
- Maple Syrup Urine Disease
- Mucolipidosis IV (ML-IV)
- Niemann-Pick Disease Type A
- Tay-Sachs Disease
- Walker-Warburg Syndrome

Screening is also available for the following diseases on a more limited basis:

- Dihydrolipoamide Dehydrogenase Deficiency (DLD Deficiency)
- Familial Hyperinsulinism
- Joubert Syndrome
- Nemaline Myopathy
- Spinal Muscular Atrophy
- Usher Syndrome Type 1F
- Usher Syndrome Type III

Reach Jewish audiences.
LEARN MORE

MOST POPULAR

What Are Jewish Genetic Diseases?

As many as 1 in 3 Ashkenazi Jews are estimated to be carriers for one of about 19 genetic diseases.

BY MY JEWISH LEARNING

Advertisement

Jewish genetic diseases are a group of rare autosomal recessive disorders that are far more prevalent among people with Jewish ancestry than in the general population. Autosomal recessive diseases are transmitted genetically by carrier parents who themselves do not suffer from the disorder but carry the genes that can cause the disease. When two carriers of a genetic mutation associated with a particular disorder have children together, each of their offspring has a one in four chance of developing the disease and a 50 percent chance of becoming carriers themselves.

As many as one in three Ashkenazi Jews are estimated to be carriers for one of about 19 genetic diseases. In all, Jews have higher carrier rates for more than 40 genetic diseases. These include better-known disorders such as

YouTube Search Sign in

How Neanderthal are you? Tracing our genetic ancestry | Natural History Museum

Natural History Museum 193K subscribers Subscribe 6.9K Share Save

770,430 views Feb 12, 2014

Scientists examining the evolutionary history recorded within our DNA are uncovering the global human story in greater detail. Watch the film to discover what DNA analyses taught six well-known figures, Maggie Aderin-Pocock, Clive Anderson, Bill Bailey, Kevin Fong, Alice Roberts and Sian Williams about their genetic ancestry.

Find out more in our new Human Evolution gallery: http://bit.ly/NHM-YT-Human-Evolution-...

00:00 Introduction
00:56 What scientists look at when they analyse our DNA to trace our ancestry
01:26 Who do we descend from?
01:46 An explanation of the migration of modern humans 60,000 years ago
02:58 An explanation of the migration of modern humans 55,000 years ago
03:43 The interbreeding of modern humans and neanderthals
04:41 The modern humans who remained in Africa
05:05 An explanation of the migration of modern humans 40,000 years ago
06:09 How scientists form a wider view of our DNA ancestry

SLATE News & Politics Culture Technology Business Life Advice Podc

AGED APPROXIMATELY 900 YEARS IN LESS THAN A WEEK FOLLOW US

ARTICLES

So Are the Neanderthals Still Jews?

And other revelations culled from history's big secrets.

BY CHARLES PAUL FREUND
AUG 02, 1997 • 3:30 AM

You read the press reports in July about the DNA of Neanderthals, and you quickly grasped how the new findings suggest that this branch of humanoids is much more distantly related to modern Homo sapiens than you may have believed–they are not even direct human ancestors. Now you must apply these findings, and examine their implications for the world around you. Specifically, you must weigh their effect on certain theories in circulation, among them that Neanderthals still walk–or lumber–among us, and indeed that they have maintained their cohesion through the ages and still constitute a group apart. And, most importantly, that this group of living, lumbering Neanderthals is the Jews.

You read the press reports in July about the DNA of Neanderthals, and you quickly grasped how the new findings suggest that this branch of humanoids is much more distantly related to modern Homo sapiens than you may have believed–they are not even direct human ancestors. Now you must apply these findings, and examine their implications for the

Kveller

Guide to Jewish Genetic Diseases

By Kveller Staff

Below are the 19 Ashkenazic Jewish genetic diseases for which people are most commonly screened. It is estimated that 1 in 5 Ashkenazic Jews is a carrier of a mutation in at least one of these disease genes:

- Bloom Syndrome
- Canavan Disease
- Cystic Fibrosis
- Familial Dysautonomia
- Fanconi Anemia Type C
- Gaucher Disease
- Glycogen Storage Disease, Type 1a
- Maple Syrup Urine Disease
- Mucolipidosis IV (ML-IV)
- Niemann-Pick Disease Type A
- Tay-Sachs Disease
- Walker-Warburg Syndrome

Screening is also available for the following diseases on a more limited basis:

- Dihydrolipoamide Dehydrogenase Deficiency (DLD Deficiency)
- Familial Hyperinsulinism
- Joubert Syndrome
- Nemaline Myopathy
- Spinal Muscular Atrophy
- Usher Syndrome Type 1F
- Usher Syndrome Type III

Reach Jewish audiences.
LEARN MORE

MOST POPULAR

MOVIES
Lena Dunham and Stephen Fry Connect With Jewish Trauma and Family in 'Treasure'

TELEVISION
These Binge-Worthy Israeli TV Shows Are Currently Streaming

TELEVISION
'Kafka' Is One of the Most Delightfully Jewish Shows of the Year

JEWISH CELEBRITIES
These Hot Jewish Celebrity Dads Will Make You Schvitz

JEWISH CELEBRITIES
Why Is Robert Downey Jr. Wearing a Chai Necklace?

What Are Jewish Genetic Diseases?

As many as 1 in 3 Ashkenazi Jews are estimated to be carriers for one of about 19 genetic diseases.

BY MY JEWISH LEARNING

Advertisement

Jewish genetic diseases are a group of rare autosomal recessive disorders that are far more prevalent among people with Jewish ancestry than in the general population. Autosomal recessive diseases are transmitted genetically by carrier parents who themselves do not suffer from the disorder but carry the genes that can cause the disease. When two carriers of a genetic mutation associated with a particular disorder have children together, each of their offspring has a one in four chance of developing the disease and a 50 percent chance of becoming carriers themselves.

As many as one in three Ashkenazi Jews are estimated to be carriers for one of about 19 genetic diseases. In all, Jews have higher carrier rates for more than 40 genetic diseases. These include better-known disorders such as

YouTube Search Sign in

How Neanderthal are you? Tracing our genetic ancestry | Natural History Museum

Natural History Museum
193K subscribers
Subscribe 6.9K Share Save

770,430 views Feb 12, 2014

Scientists examining the evolutionary history recorded within our DNA are uncovering the global human story in greater detail. Watch the film to discover what DNA analyses taught six well-known figures, Maggie Aderin-Pocock, Clive Anderson, Bill Bailey, Kevin Fong, Alice Roberts and Sian Williams about their genetic ancestry.

Find out more in our new Human Evolution gallery: http://bit.ly/NHM-YT-Human-Evolution-...

00:00 Introduction
00:56 What scientists look at when they analyse our DNA to trace our ancestry
01:26 Who do we descend from?
01:46 An explanation of the migration of modern humans 60,000 years ago
02:58 An explanation of the migration of modern humans 55,000 years ago
03:43 The interbreeding of modern humans and neanderthals
04:41 The modern humans who remained in Africa
05:05 An explanation of the migration of modern humans 40,000 years ago
06:09 How scientists form a wider view of our DNA ancestry

You'll probably recognize the Australian Museum's model in the upper left. The lower left I'm calling the New Age Neanderthal. Upper right is, I think, a game rendering. And the lower right is a fairly traditional, shuffling brute, 'hairy ape' concept.

* This is me using a bit of biological anthropology jargon so the grown-ups will know that I can ~~walk the talk~~ ~~walk the walk~~ walk and chew bubble-gum at the same time. So are all the other high-falutin' words that I use. It's important to switch linguistic code when you're trying to get in with the cool kids.
 The Frankfurt Plane is the specified position of the head in what's known as the correct anatomical position.

Magazine

Ettinger (Photo: Avihu Shapira)
Photo: Avihu Shapira

Meir Ettinger: The face of Jewish terrorism

The Shin Bet describes him as a central figure in Jewish terrorism, 'a violent and dangerous ideological criminal,' while his friends tell of a quiet and pleasant young man who became a leader merely because of his writing skills; somewhere on the way, between the outposts he's been living in since he was 15, to his administrative detention following the Duma murders, Rabbi Meir Kahane's grandson has formed a radical and anti-Zionist ideology.

Oded Shalom, Yifat Erlich | Published: 12.12.15 , 14:27

Ynetnews
332,548 followers
Israel at War
Stand With Israel
Follow Page
Sha

Jewish extremist Meir Ettinger, who was involved in a deadly arson attack on a Palestinian home that killed three people, including a baby, has been released following a 10-month detention.

MENA 2 min read

The New Arab | 01 June, 2016

Ettinger has been released following a 10-month detention [AFP]

UK NEWS WEBSITE OF THE YEAR 2024
The Telegraph
Subscribe now
Free for one month
Log in
News Election Euros Sport Money Travel Business Health Opinion

Israel 'investigates radical group seeking Jewish monarchy' over Palestinian family deaths

Israeli police is looking at the HaMered group, which means "the rebellion" in Hebrew, in connection with the attack on a Palestinian family

Magazine

Magazine

You'll probably recognize the Australian Museum's model in the upper left. The lower left I'm calling the New Age Neanderthal. Upper right is, I think, a game rendering. And the lower right is a fairly traditional, shuffling brute, 'hairy ape' concept.

* This is me using a bit of biological anthropology jargon so the grown-ups will know that I can ~~walk the talk walk the walk~~ walk and chew bubble-gum at the same time. So are all the other high-falutin' words that I use. It's important to switch linguistic code when you're trying to get in with the cool kids.
 The Frankfurt Plane is the specified position of the head in what's known as the correct anatomical position.

Magazine

Meir Ettinger: The face of Jewish terrorism

The Shin Bet describes him as a central figure in Jewish terrorism, 'a violent and dangerous ideological criminal,' while his friends tell of a quiet and pleasant young man who became a leader merely because of his writing skills; somewhere on the way, between the outposts he's been living in since he was 15, to his administrative detention following the Duma murders, Rabbi Meir Kahane's grandson has formed a radical and anti-Zionist ideology.

Ettinger (Photo: Avital Shapira)

Ozed Shalom, Yitzi Erlich | Published: 12.12.15, 14:27

Jewish extremist Meir Ettinger, who was involved in a deadly arson attack on a Palestinian home that killed three people, including a baby, has been released following a 10-month detention.

Ettinger has been released following a 10-month detention (AFP)

The Telegraph

Israel 'investigates radical group seeking Jewish monarchy' over Palestinian family deaths

Israeli police is looking at the Richtovod group, which means "the rebellion" in Hebrew, in connection with the attack on a Palestinian family

You'll probably recognize the Australian Museum's model in the upper left. The lower left I'm calling the New Age Neanderthal. Upper right is, I think, a game rendering. And the lower right is a fairly traditional, shuffling brute, 'hairy ape' concept.

* This is me using a bit of biological anthropology jargon so the grown-ups will know that I can ~~walk the talk~~ ~~walk the walk~~ walk and chew bubble-gum at the same time. So are all the other high-falutin' words that I use. It's important to switch linguistic code when you're trying to get in with the cool kids.
 The Frankfurt Plane is the specified position of the head in what's known as the correct anatomical position.

Magazine

Ettinger (Photo: Avihu Shapira)
Photo: Avihu Shapira

Meir Ettinger: The face of Jewish terrorism

The Shin Bet describes him as a central figure in Jewish terrorism, 'a violent and dangerous ideological criminal,' while his friends tell of a quiet and pleasant young man who became a leader merely because of his writing skills; somewhere on the way, between the outposts he's been living in since he was 15, to his administrative detention following the Duma murders, Rabbi Meir Kahane's grandson has formed a radical and anti-Zionist ideology.

Oded Shalom, Yifat Erlich | Published: 12.12.15 , 14:27

Jewish extremist Meir Ettinger, who was involved in a deadly arson attack on a Palestinian home that killed three people, including a baby, has been released following a 10-month detention.

OPINION 2 min read

The New Arab | 01 June, 2016

Ettinger has been released following a 10-month detention (AFP)

The Telegraph

Subscribe now | Log in

News Election Euros Sport Money Travel Business Health Opinion

Israel 'investigates radical group seeking Jewish monarchy' over Palestinian family deaths

Israeli police is looking at the HaMered group, which means "the rebellion" in Hebrew, in connection with the attack on a Palestinian family

You'll probably recognize the Australian Museum's model in the upper left. The lower left I'm calling the New Age Neanderthal. Upper right is, I think, a game rendering. And the lower right is a fairly traditional, shuffling brute, 'hairy ape' concept.

* This is me using a bit of biological anthropology jargon so the grown-ups will know that I can ~~walk the talk~~ ~~walk the walk~~ walk and chew bubble-gum at the same time. So are all the other high-falutin' words that I use. It's important to switch linguistic code when you're trying to get in with the cool kids.
 The Frankfurt Plane is the specified position of the head in what's known as the correct anatomical position.

Magazine

Ettinger (Photo: Avihu Shapira)
Photo: Avihu Shapira

Meir Ettinger: The face of Jewish terrorism

The Shin Bet describes him as a central figure in Jewish terrorism, 'a violent and dangerous ideological criminal,' while his friends tell of a quiet and pleasant young man who became a leader merely because of his writing skills; somewhere on the way, between the outposts he's been living in since he was 15, to his administrative detention following the Duma murders, Rabbi Meir Kahane's grandson has formed a radical and anti-Zionist ideology.

Oded Shalom, Yifat Erlich | Published: 12.12.15 , 14:27

Jewish extremist Meir Ettinger, who was involved in a deadly arson attack on a Palestinian home that killed three people, including a baby, has been released following a 10-month detention.

MENA 2 min read

The New Arab | 01 June, 2016

Ettinger has been released following a 10-month detention [AFP]

UK NEWS WEBSITE OF THE YEAR 2024

The Telegraph

Subscribe now Free for one month | Log in

News Election Euros Sport Money Travel Business Health Opinion

Israel 'investigates radical group seeking Jewish monarchy' over Palestinian family deaths

Israeli police is looking at the HaMered group, which means "the rebellion" in Hebrew, in connection with the attack on a Palestinian family

You'll probably recognize the Australian Museum's model in the upper left. The lower left I'm calling the New Age Neanderthal. Upper right is, I think, a game rendering. And the lower right is a fairly traditional, shuffling brute, 'hairy ape' concept.

* This is me using a bit of biological anthropology jargon so the grown-ups will know that I can ~~walk the talk~~ ~~walk the walk~~ walk and chew bubble-gum at the same time. So are all the other high-falutin' words that I use. It's important to switch linguistic code when you're trying to get in with the cool kids.
 The Frankfurt Plane is the specified position of the head in what's known as the correct anatomical position.

Magazine

Ettinger (Photo: Avihu Shapira)
Photo: Avihu Shapira

Meir Ettinger: The face of Jewish terrorism

The Shin Bet describes him as a central figure in Jewish terrorism, 'a violent and dangerous ideological criminal,' while his friends tell of a quiet and pleasant young man who became a leader merely because of his writing skills; somewhere on the way, between the outposts he's been living in since he was 15, to his administrative detention following the Duma murders, Rabbi Meir Kahane's grandson has formed a radical and anti-Zionist ideology.

Oded Shalom, Yifat Erlich | Published: 12.12.15 , 14:27

Jewish extremist Meir Ettinger, who was involved in a deadly arson attack on a Palestinian home that killed three people, including a baby, has been released following a 10-month detention.

MENA 2 min read

The New Arab | 01 June, 2016

Ettinger has been released following a 10-month detention [AFP]

UK NEWS WEBSITE OF THE YEAR 2024
The Telegraph
Subscribe now Free for one month | Log in

News Election Euros Sport Money Travel Business Health Opinion

Israel 'investigates radical group seeking Jewish monarchy' over Palestinian family deaths

Israeli police is looking at the HaMered group, which means "the rebellion" in Hebrew, in connection with the attack on a Palestinian family

Magazine

You'll probably recognize the Australian Museum's model in the upper left. The lower left I'm calling the New Age Neanderthal. Upper right is, I think, a game rendering. And the lower right is a fairly traditional, shuffling brute, 'hairy ape' concept.

* This is me using a bit of biological anthropology jargon so the grown-ups will know that I can ~~walk the talk walk the walk~~ walk and chew bubble-gum at the same time. So are all the other high-falutin' words that I use. It's important to switch linguistic code when you're trying to get in with the cool kids.
 The Frankfurt Plane is the specified position of the head in what's known as the correct anatomical position.

Magazine

Ettinger (Photo: Avihu Shapira)
Photo: Avihu Shapira

Meir Ettinger: The face of Jewish terrorism

The Shin Bet describes him as a central figure in Jewish terrorism, 'a violent and dangerous ideological criminal,' while his friends tell of a quiet and pleasant young man who became a leader merely because of his writing skills; somewhere on the way, between the outposts he's been living in since he was 15, to his administrative detention following the Duma murders, Rabbi Meir Kahane's grandson has formed a radical and anti-Zionist ideology.

Oded Shalom, Yifat Erlich | Published: 12.12.15 , 14:27

Jewish extremist Meir Ettinger, who was involved in a deadly arson attack on a Palestinian home that killed three people, including a baby, has been released following a 10-month detention.

MENA 2 min read

The New Arab | 01 June, 2016

Ettinger has been released following a 10-month detention (AFP)

The Telegraph

Subscribe now
Log in

News Election Euros Sport Money Travel Business Health Opinion

Israel 'investigates radical group seeking Jewish monarchy' over Palestinian family deaths

Israeli police is looking at the HaMered group, which means 'the rebellion' in Hebrew, in connection with the attack on a Palestinian family

You'll probably recognize the Australian Museum's model in the upper left. The lower left I'm calling the New Age Neanderthal. Upper right is, I think, a game rendering. And the lower right is a fairly traditional, shuffling brute, 'hairy ape' concept.

* This is me using a bit of biological anthropology jargon so the grown-ups will know that I can ~~walk the talk~~ ~~walk the walk~~ walk and chew bubble-gum at the same time. So are all the other high-falutin' words that I use. It's important to switch linguistic code when you're trying to get in with the cool kids.
 The Frankfurt Plane is the specified position of the head in what's known as the correct anatomical position.

Magazine

Ettinger (Photo: Avihu Shapira)
Photo: Avihu Shapira

Meir Ettinger: The face of Jewish terrorism

The Shin Bet describes him as a central figure in Jewish terrorism, 'a violent and dangerous ideological criminal,' while his friends tell of a quiet and pleasant young man who became a leader merely because of his writing skills; somewhere on the way, between the outposts he's been living in since he was 15, to his administrative detention following the Duma murders, Rabbi Meir Kahane's grandson has formed a radical and anti-Zionist ideology.

Oded Shalom, Yifat Erlich | Published: 12.12.15 , 14:27

Jewish extremist Meir Ettinger, who was involved in a deadly arson attack on a Palestinian home that killed three people, including a baby, has been released following a 10-month detention.

MENA 2 min read

The New Arab | 01 June, 2016

Ettinger has been released following a 10-month detention [AFP]

UK NEWS WEBSITE OF THE YEAR 2024

The Telegraph

Subscribe now Free for one month | Log in

News Election Euros Sport Money Travel Business Health Opinion

Israel 'investigates radical group seeking Jewish monarchy' over Palestinian family deaths

Israeli police is looking at the HaMered group, which means "the rebellion" in Hebrew, in connection with the attack on a Palestinian family

You'll probably recognize the Australian Museum's model in the upper left. The lower left I'm calling the New Age Neanderthal. Upper right is, I think, a game rendering. And the lower right is a fairly traditional, shuffling brute, 'hairy ape' concept.

* This is me using a bit of biological anthropology jargon so the grown-ups will know that I can ~~walk the talk~~ ~~walk the walk~~ walk and chew bubble-gum at the same time. So are all the other high-falutin' words that I use. It's important to switch linguistic code when you're trying to get in with the cool kids.
 The Frankfurt Plane is the specified position of the head in what's known as the correct anatomical position.

Magazine

Ettinger (Photo: Avihu Shapira)
Photo: Avihu Shapira

Meir Ettinger: The face of Jewish terrorism

The Shin Bet describes him as a central figure in Jewish terrorism, 'a violent and dangerous ideological criminal,' while his friends tell of a quiet and pleasant young man who became a leader merely because of his writing skills; somewhere on the way, between the outposts he's been living in since he was 15, to his administrative detention following the Duma murders, Rabbi Meir Kahane's grandson has formed a radical and anti-Zionist ideology.

Oded Shalom, Yifat Erlich | Published: 12.12.15 , 14:27

Ynetnews
332,548 followers
Israel at War
Stand With Israel
Follow Page
Sha

Jewish extremist Meir Ettinger, who was involved in a deadly arson attack on a Palestinian home that killed three people, including a baby, has been released following a 10-month detention.

MENA 2 min read

The New Arab | 01 June, 2016

Ettinger has been released following a 10-month detention [AFP]

UK NEWS WEBSITE OF THE YEAR 2024
The Telegraph
Subscribe now
Free for one month
Log in
News Election Euros Sport Money Travel Business Health Opinion

Israel 'investigates radical group seeking Jewish monarchy' over Palestinian family deaths

Israeli police is looking at the HaMered group, which means "the rebellion" in Hebrew, in connection with the attack on a Palestinian family

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[5] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakunu, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[3] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[5] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Asaliria

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:16am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment; paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s … they came, and they were treated like lepers … not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Register

:ingpin in big

Aa

ABC NEWS

Just In | Watch Live | Politics | World | Business | Analysis | More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tamara Australian

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:00am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:35am

Muhammad Yusuf (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right), who believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. Supplied: Victoria Police

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 23-year-old Muhammad Yusuf and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhammad Yusuf and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William

Article | Talk

From Wikipedia, the free e

William George "Jock

1943) is a Scottish-bor

best known as the four

Commander" of the Co

Club and for his involv massacre of 1984. Ros imprisonment with Jud

one of the men most r

out at the Viking Taven

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glas

working-class family.[1]

Gorbals neighbourhoo

father worked as a ber

you never backed off, I laugh too."[2] He serve

Army at the age of 17 a nonetheless left over fro

Aden Protectorate (no

settled in Australia, ma

flat and then moved to

William worked variou

The Comanche

The "Supreme Co

Ross befriended a nun

interview: "I came out soldiers coming back f treated like lepers. ... A founded Comanches

Wayne Western flies. R

Lindsay Simpson and extremely dramatic other men.[1] In 1971,

Road for $600 that tw

Sandy and their infant countryside to be a refl

Reuters

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[6] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[7] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[7] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[8] This business was organised in co-

ABC NEWS

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tatiana Austrina

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:36am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden chiding him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comanchero
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment, paroled in 1989

Youth

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[3] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[2] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[5]

The Comancheros

The "Supreme Commander"

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s ... they came, and they were treated like lepers ... not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[7] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[8][9] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

THE CREEK HERALD

Mirror

BODIES FOUND AFTER MEXICAN DRUG MASSACRE

NEWS | POLITICS | FOOTBALL | CELEBS | TV | SHOPPING

Mexico's 'new El Chapo' slaughters women and babies in bloodiest ever cartel war

Mexico's new drug kingpin Nemesio Cervantes, also known as 'El Mencho', is waging a vicious war against rival cartels

By Matthew Dresch, Features Writer

Listen to this article

A Mexican druglord, described as El Chapo's successor, has taken violence in the country to the next level.

Cartel boss Nemesio Cervantes has allegedly ordered the murder of pregnant women and babies as part of the ongoing drug wars in Mexico.

Cervantes, also known as 'El Mencho', is now top of the US's 'most wanted' list and has a bounty of $15million on his head.

As gang violence spirals out of control in Mexico, the country's politicians have warned that attacks against women are at 'pandemic levels'.

Nemesio Cervantes, also known as El Mencho, stands accused of ordering hits on women and babies

A member of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel wielding a pistol

THE GREEK HERALD

Angelo Pandeli named in Australian cartel responsible for $1.5 billion drug imports

An exclusive story by The Age, The Sydney Morning Herald and 60 Minutes aired last night, revealing how some of Australia's most dangerous crime bosses have organised themselves into a cartel earning an estimated $1.5 billion a year by smuggling drugs past the nation's border with the help of corrupt government officials and border insiders.

This intel comes from the Australian Criminal Intelligence Commission which says nine Australian men, drawn mostly from Australian biker gangs and Middle Eastern crime syndicates, make up what the agency has named the 'Aussie cartel.'

The CEO of the Commission, Michael Phelan, told the media outlets that the cartel's members are "the backbone of the bad" and estimated they were responsible for "about one-third of the drug importations into our country."

LATEST NEWS

From Cyprus invasion to SA politician: How Andrew Michaelis' tough upbringing shaped her

Hellenic Club of Canberra awarded Modern

Login

MERCURY

Get a read on this story

But it's a member-only story. Subscribe today to unlock it and more....

New most wanted: Fugitive bikie kingpin's meteoric rise

SA-born bikie and Sydney Hells Angels boss Angelo Pandeli has quietly assumed power over Australia's billion-dollar drug trade, living a lavish lifestyle overseas.

Choose from one of our tailored subscription packages below.

Full Digital Access

No lock-in contract

$4

for 4 weeks

Mirror

Click for Sound

44 BODIES FOUND AFTER MEXICAN DRUG MASSACRE

00:29 / 00:38

Bodies of women and children found after 'El Mencho' drug gang massacres 44 people

NEWS | POLITICS | FOOTBALL
CELEBS | TV | SHOPPING

Mexico's 'new El Chapo' slaughters women and babies in bloodiest ever cartel war

Mexico's new drug kingpin Nemesio Cervantes, also known as 'El Mencho', is waging a vicious war against rival cartels

By Matthew Dresch, Features Writer
03:11, 14 Oct 2019 | UPDATED 07:33, 14 OCT 2019

BOOKMARK

Listen to this article

A Mexican druglord, described as El Chapo's successor, has taken violence in the country to the next level.

Cartel boss Nemesio Cervantes has allegedly ordered the murder of pregnant women and babies as part of the ongoing drug wars in Mexico.

Cervantes, also known as 'El Mencho', is now top of the US's 'most wanted' list and has a bounty of £7.9million on his head.

As gang violence spirals out of control in Mexico, the country's politicians have warned that attacks against women are at 'pandemic levels'.

Nemesio Cervantes, also known as El Mencho, stands accused of ordering hits on women and babies (Image: DOJ)

A member of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel wielding a pistol (Image: CEN)

SEARCH

THE GREEK HERALD

HOME > NEWS > AUSTRALIA

Angelo Pandeli named in Australian cartel responsible for $1.5 billion drug imports

07 / 06 / 2021 The Greek Herald

Angelo Pandeli.

An exclusive story by The Age, The Sydney Morning Herald and 60 Minutes aired last night, revealing how some of Australia's most dangerous crime bosses have organised themselves into a cartel earning an estimated $1.5 billion a year by smuggling drugs past the nation's border with the help of corrupt government officials and border insiders.

This intel comes from the Australian Criminal Intelligence Commission which says nine Australian men, drawn mostly from Australian bikie gangs and Middle Eastern crime syndicates, make up what the agency has named the "Aussie cartel."

The CEO of the Commission, Michael Phelan, told the media outlets that the cartel's members are "the baddest of the bad" and estimated they were responsible for "about one-third of the drug importations into our country."

Advertisement

LATEST NEWS

COMMUNITY

From Cyprus invasion to SA politician: How Andrea Michaels' tough upbringing shaped her 18 / 07 / 2024

AUSTRALIA

Hellenic Club of Canberra awarded Woden

Log In

MERCURY

Get a read on this story

But it's a member-only story. Subscribe today to unlock it and more…

New most wanted: Fugitive bikie kingpin's meteoric rise

SA-born bikie and Sydney Hells Angels boss Angelo Pandeli has quietly assumed power over Australia's billion-dollar drug trade, living a lavish lifestyle overseas.

Choose from one of our tailored subscription packages below.

Full Digital Access

No lock-in contract

$4

for 4 weeks

Gematria

The Ayik-Becher Letter Transformation (איק בכר)

by Inny GalEinai February 12, 2014 0 766

SHARE 0

Ayik-becher is a method of alphabetic transformation wherein the 27 letters of the full alef-bet (including the five letters with a final form (mem, nun, tzadik, pei, and chaf (refered to as mantzapach, for short) are initially divided into three equal groups of nine letters, which are then tripled together in "direct order".

The first letter in each group–alef, yud, and kuf (whose numerical values are 1, 10 and 100); the second in each group–beit, kaf, and reish (whose numerical values are 2, 20 and 200); etc.

The transformation pattern is one of "revolution" within each triplet, i.e. alef transforms into yud which transforms into kuf which transforms into alef (which can now be considered as equaling 1000), etc. The name ayik-becher is a

Genealogy.com

FORUM ARTICLES SEARCH

Home > Forum > Surnames > Santillan

Santillan as a Sephardic Surname

By Harry Stein December 26, 2001 at 10:05:43

The surname Santillan has been identified by the Holy Office of the Catholic Church of Spain as a Sephardic (Jewish) name.The Holy Office administered the Inquisition and gathered Sephardic names by census.If you are interested in researching this aspect of the Santillan family line, you are invited to visit Sephardim.com located at
http://www.sephardim.comhttp://www.sephardim.com

The Story Of Frank Costello, The Legendary Mob Boss Who Inspired 'The Godfather'

By Katie Serena | Edited By John Kuroski
Published April 22, 2024 | Updated May 14, 2024

Luciano family boss Frank Costello survived gang wars, police scrutiny, and an assassination attempt while becoming one of history's wealthiest mobsters.

As far as mob bosses go, there were three things that set Frank Costello apart: he never carried a gun, he testified at a Senate hearing on organized crime without the protection of the Fifth Amendment, and despite his multiple arrests and assassination attempt, he died a free man at age 82.

Frank Costello was arguably one of the most successful gangsters of all time. What's more, the "Prime Minister" of the mob was the man who inspired The Godfather himself, Don Vito Corleone.

Marlon Brando even watched footage of Frank Costello's appearance at the widely-publicized Kefauver Senate hearings and based both his character's calm demeanor and raspy voice on Costello.

About Staff Contact Advertise FAQ Privacy Policy Terms of Service

mynewsLA.com

Crime Government Business Education Hollywood Life OC Weather

Home » Archive » Crime » Sentencing Due for Whittier Ex-Marine in Cross-Border Gun-Smuggling Scheme

CRIME

Sentencing Due for Whittier Ex-Marine in Cross-Border Gun-Smuggling Scheme

by Contributing Editor
January 8, 2024

Handgun. MyNewsLA photo by Clancy O'Dessky

Sentencing is scheduled Monday for a former U.S. Marine from Whittier who led a six-man scheme to smuggle high-powered weapons and ammunition to one of the most feared transnational drug cartels in Mexico.

Marco Antonio Santillan, 53, pleaded guilty in May 2022 to conspiracy to violate export regulations and conspiracy to commit money laundering, according to the U.S. Attorney's Office.

Washington Examiner

Subscribe

Six charged in scheme to smuggle firearms and ammunition to Mexican drug cartel

By Asher Notheis

January 25, 2022 4:13 pm

The Justice Department announced Monday it had charged six people connected to a gun trafficking organization that smuggled firearms and ammunition to one of the largest and most violent drug cartels in Mexico.

The department stated that the leader of the organization is allegedly Marco Antonio Santillan Valencia, 51, who is believed to have used the organization to obtain and supply weapons, firearms parts, and ammunition for the Jalisco Nueva Generacion Cartel. Other defendants charged by the department were Marco Santillan Jr., 29, Anthony Marmolejo Aguilar, 30, Michael Diaz, 33, Luis De Arcos, 51, and Rafael Magallon Castillo, 34.

Sentencing Due for Whatever Ex-Marine in Cross-Border Gun-Smuggling Scheme

Forebears.com

FORUM ARTICLES SEARCH

Home > Forum > Surnames > Santillan

Santillan as a Sephardic Surname

The surname Santillan has been identified by the Holy Office of the Catholic Church of Spain as a Sephardic (Jewish) name. The Holy Office administered the Inquisition and gathered Sephardic names by census. If you are interested in researching the origins of the Santillan family tree, you are welcome to visit Sephardim.com located at:

http://www.sephardim.com/ http://www.sephardim.com

The Story Of Frank Costello, The Legendary Mob Boss Who Inspired 'The Godfather'

Luciano family boss Frank Costello survived gang wars, police scrutiny, and an assassination attempt while becoming one of history's wealthiest mobsters.

As far as mob bosses go, there were three things that set Frank Costello apart. He never carried a gun, he testified at a Senate hearing on organized crime without the protection of the Fifth Amendment, and despite his multiple arrests and assassination attempt, he died a free man at age 80.

Frank Costello was arguably one of the most successful gangsters of all time. What's more, the "Prime Minister" of the mob was the man who inspired "The Godfather" himself, Don Vito Corleone.

Marlon Brando even watched footage of Frank Costello's appearance at the widely publicized Kefauver Senate hearings and based both his character's calm demeanor and raspy voice on Costello.

mynewsLA.com

CRIME

Sentencing Due for Whittier Ex-Marine in Cross-Border Gun-Smuggling Scheme

Rodgar Ashwal (photo by Gary Alfonso)

Sentencing is scheduled Monday for a former U.S. Marine from Whittier who led a six-man scheme to smuggle high-powered weapons and ammunition to one of the most feared transnational drug cartels in Mexico.

Marco Antonio Santillan, 53, pleaded guilty in May 2022 to conspiracy to violate export regulations and conspiracy to launder money laundering, according to the U.S. Attorney's Office.

Indianapolis Business Journal

Six charged in scheme to smuggle firearms and ammunition to Mexican drug cartel

By Asher Nichols

January 25, 2022 4:13 pm

The Justice Department announced Monday it had charged six people connected to a gun trafficking organization that smuggled firearms and ammunition to one of the largest and most violent drug cartels in Mexico.

The department stated that the leader of the organization is allegedly Marco Antonio Santillan Valencia, 51, who is believed to have used the organization to obtain and supply weapons, firearms parts, and ammunition for the Jalisco Nueva Generacion Cartel. Other defendants charged by the department were Marco Santillan Jr., 29, Anthony Miramontes Aguilar, 30, Michael Diaz, 33, Luis De Anda, 51, and Rafael Magallon Castillo, 34.

Home > Forum > Surnames > Santillan

Santillan as a Sephardic Surname

By Harry Stein December 28, 2001 at 10:00:43

The surname Santillan has been identified by the Holy Office of the Catholic Church of Spain as a Sephardic (Jewish) name.The Holy Office administered the inquisition and gathered Sephardic names by census.If you are interested in researching this aspect of the Santillan family line, you are invited to visit Sephardim.com located at

http://www.sephardim.com

The Story Of Frank Costello, The Legendary Mob Boss Who Inspired 'The Godfather'

By Halle Stanford | Edited By John Kuroski

Luciano family boss Frank Costello survived gang wars, police scrutiny, and an assassination attempt while becoming one of history's wealthiest mobsters.

As far as mob bosses go, there were three things that set Frank Costello apart: he never carried a gun, he testified at a Senate hearing on organized crime without the protection of the Fifth Amendment, and despite his multiple arrests and assassination attempt, he died a free man at age 80.

Frank Costello was arguably one of the most successful gangsters of all time. What's more, the "Prime Minister" of the mob was the man who inspired The Godfather himself, Don Vito Corleone.

Marlon Brando even watched footage of Frank Costello's appearance at the widely-publicized Kefauver Senate hearings and based both his character's calm demeanor and raspy voice on Costello.

CRIME

Sentencing Due for Whittier Ex-Marine in Cross-Border Gun-Smuggling Scheme

By Contributing Editor
January 8, 2024

Sentencing is scheduled Monday for a former U.S. Marine from Whittier who led a six-man scheme to smuggle high-powered weapons and ammunition to one of the most feared transnational drug cartels in Mexico.

Marco Antonio Santillan, 53, pleaded guilty in May 2022 to conspiracy to violate export regulations and conspiracy to commit money laundering, according to the U.S. Attorney's Office.

Washington Examiner

Six charged in scheme to smuggle firearms and ammunition to Mexican drug cartel

By Asher Notheis

January 25, 2022 4:13 pm

The Justice Department announced Monday it had charged six people connected to a gun trafficking organization that smuggled firearms and ammunition to one of the largest and most violent drug cartels in Mexico.

The department stated that the leader of the organization is allegedly Marco Antonio Santillan Valencia, 51, who is believed to have used the organization to obtain and supply weapons, firearms parts, and ammunition for the Jalisco Nueva Generacion Cartel. Other defendants charged by the department were Marco Santillan Jr., 29, Anthony Marmolejo Aguilar, 30, Michael Diaz, 33, Luis De Arcos, 51, and Rafael Magallon Castillo, 34.

Genealogy.com

FORUM ARTICLES SEARCH

Home > Forum > Surnames > Santillan

Santillan as a Sephardic Surname

By Harry Stein December 26, 2001 at 10:05:43

The surname Santillan has been identified by the Holy Office of the Catholic Church of Spain as a Sephardic (Jewish) name.The Holy Office administered the Inquisition and gathered Sephardic names by census.If you are interested in researching this aspect of the Santillan family line, you are invited to visit Sephardim.com located at
http://www.sephardim.comhttp://www.sephardim.com

The Story Of Frank Costello, The Legendary Mob Boss Who Inspired 'The Godfather'

By Katie Serena | Edited By John Kuroski
Published April 22, 2024 | Updated May 14, 2024

Luciano family boss Frank Costello survived gang wars, police scrutiny, and an assassination attempt while becoming one of history's wealthiest mobsters.

As far as mob bosses go, there were three things that set Frank Costello apart: he never carried a gun, he testified at a Senate hearing on organized crime without the protection of the Fifth Amendment, and despite his multiple arrests and assassination attempt, he died a free man at age 82.

Frank Costello was arguably one of the most successful gangsters of all time. What's more, the "Prime Minister" of the mob was the man who inspired The Godfather himself, Don Vito Corleone.

Marlon Brando even watched footage of Frank Costello's appearance at the widely-publicized Kefauver Senate hearings and based both his character's calm demeanor and raspy voice on Costello.

About Staff Contact Advertise FAQ Privacy Policy Terms of Service

mynewsLA.com

Crime Government Business Education Hollywood Life OC Weather

Home > Archive > Crime > Sentencing Due for Whittier Ex-Marine in Cross-Border Gun-Smuggling Scheme

CRIME

Sentencing Due for Whittier Ex-Marine in Cross-Border Gun-Smuggling Scheme

by Contributing Editor
January 8, 2024

Handgun. MyNewsLA photo by Clancy O'Dessky

Sentencing is scheduled Monday for a former U.S. Marine from Whittier who led a six-man scheme to smuggle high-powered weapons and ammunition to one of the most feared transnational drug cartels in Mexico.

Marco Antonio Santillan, 53, pleaded guilty in May 2022 to conspiracy to violate export regulations and conspiracy to commit money laundering, according to the U.S. Attorney's Office.

Washington Examiner

Subscribe

Six charged in scheme to smuggle firearms and ammunition to Mexican drug cartel

By Asher Notheis

January 25, 2022 4:13 pm

The Justice Department announced Monday it had charged six people connected to a gun trafficking organization that smuggled firearms and ammunition to one of the largest and most violent drug cartels in Mexico.

The department stated that the leader of the organization is allegedly Marco Antonio Santillan Valencia, 51, who is believed to have used the organization to obtain and supply weapons, firearms parts, and ammunition for the Jalisco Nueva Generacion Cartel. Other defendants charged by the department were Marco Santillan Jr., 29, Anthony Marmolejo Aguilar, 30, Michael Diaz, 33, Luis De Arcos, 51, and Rafael Magallon Castillo, 34.

...eme to smuggle 'military-... to Mexico's bloodiest cartel

...0-armor-piercing incendiary rounds and kits to make six ...0 bullets per minute

MEXICO

'El Mencho': Chasing the most ... lord in Mexico

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes is the leader of the b... Generation Cartel. Despite being the most wanted ... with millions of dollars in rewards hanging over hi... and US governments have failed to track him dow...

A police officer in ...

DAVID MARCIAL PÉREZ · GEORGINA PEREGA

Mexico · DEC 27 2022 - 12:00 CET

“there are no coincidences”
-Marjorie Taylor Green

Knappily

Visit

Neanderthals became 'feminine' by mating with humans | Knappily

“there are no coincidences”
-Marjorie Taylor Green

Knappily

Visit

Neanderthals became 'feminine' by mating with humans | Knappily

Glass Staircase
Today Apple retail stores sell more per square foot than any other retail store. When your CEO is so focused that he patents a better staircase, well, maybe that's what happens.

Power Adapter (2006)
Sometimes, a power adapter is more than just a power adapter. Sometimes, it is something that causes your PC friends -- fumbling with wild black cords with delicate tips and rubber straps -- to look at you with envy. It a simple power adapter with a brilliant design is something that lets you know that the top dog in the company is looking out for every detail.

iPhone OS / iOS (2007)
iOS is the leading mobile device operating system in the world. It is simple, powerful, and beautiful, and the iPad and iPhone would not be the market-changing devices they are without it.

Magic Mouse (2009)
Look Ma, no wheels! When the Magic Mouse was released in 2009, it was the first consumer mouse to have multi-touch capabilities. Ok, Steve, this one makes up for the hockey puck.

CHM Computer History Museum

HOME > CHM BLOG > REMARKABLE PEOPLE

STEVE JOBS: FROM GARAGE TO WORLD'S MOST VALUABLE COMPANY

By Dag Spicer | December 02, 2011

FIRST

So we're sitting in the payphone trying to make a blue box c
And the operator comes back on the line. And we're all sca and we'd try it again. ... And she comes back on the line; we all scared so we put in money. And then a cop car pulls up.
Steve was shaking, you know, and he got the blue box back my pocket. I got it– he got it to me because the cop turned look in the bushes for drugs or something, you know? So I the box in my pocket. The cop pats me down and says, "Wh this?" I said, "It's an electronic music synthesizer." Wasn't musical. Second cop says, "What's the orange button for?"
for calibration," says Steve.

NBC NEWS Chinese Apple fans say farewell to 'Ma SHARE & SAVE

Chinese Apple fans say farewell to 'Master Jobs'

A Chinese man takes a photo of flowers and tributes to Steve Jobs placed outside the Apple retail store in Beijing, China on Thursday. Click on the photo to see a slideshow of world reactions to Jobs death. Ng Han Guan / AP

iMac G3 (1998)
Of all the great Apple products in the last 35 years, the iMac G3 is truly iconic. It symbolized the return of top spot in the company, and showed how high he immediately set the bar for innovative and disruptive quipped "the back of our computer looks better than the front of anyone else's". And Apple has never loo

USB Mouse (1998)
OK, we know how you felt about this one, and trust us, we felt the same way. But the Hockey Puck most c speak to the boundaries that Cupertino design was willing to cross once Jobs came back to the helm.

npr DONATE Play Live Radio
HOURLY NEWS LISTEN

FRESH AIR BOOKS LISTEN & FOLLOW

Steve Jobs: The Story Of The Man Behind The Personal Computer

OCTOBER 9, 2015 · 3:41 PM ET
HEARD ON FRESH AIR

37-Minute Listen + PLAYLIST

The Apple founder spoke with Fresh Air's Terry Gross in 1996. Later, after he was diagnosed with cancer, Jobs asked Walter Isaacson to write his biography. Isaacson spoke to Fresh Air Oct. 25, 2011.

Hear The Original Interview

Transcript

DAVID BIANCULLI, HOST:

This is FRESH AIR. I'm David Bianculli, editor of TV Worth Watching, sitting in for Terry Gross. The movie "Steve Jobs," with a screenplay by Aaron Sorkin based on the best-selling biography by Walter Isaacson, opens today in New York and LA. Today on FRESH AIR, we'll listen back to Terry's 2011 interview with Isaacson and hear what our film critic, David Edelstein, thinks of the film. But let's start with an excerpt of an interview Terry recorded with Steve Jobs himself. They spoke in 1996.

(SOUNDBITE OF ARCHIVED BROADCAST)

TERRY GROSS, HOST:

From what I've read, it sounds like you were really the advocate for having a mouse on the Mac. Why did you push for that and what was the argument against it?

STEVE JOBS: Well, as I mentioned earlier, I went to Xerox PARC, Palo Alto

Hello
Chinese Apple fans say farewell to 'Master Jobs'
Steve Jobs: The Story Of The Man Behind The Personal Computer

NBC NEWS
Chinese Apple fans say farewell to 'Master Jobs'
STEVE JOBS: FROM GARAGE TO WORLD'S MOST VALUABLE COMPANY
December 02, 2011
for calibration," says Steve.

Power Adapter (2006)
iPhone OS / iOS (2007)
Magic Mouse (2009)
CHM
hello.
STEVE JOBS: FROM GARAGE TO WORLD'S MOST VALUABLE COMPANY
By Dag Spicer | December 02, 2011
FIRST
So we're sitting in the payphone trying to make a blue box
And the operator comes back on the line. And we're all sca and we'd try it again. ... And she comes back on the line; we all scared so we put in money. And then a cop car pulls up.
Steve was shaking, you know, and he got the blue box back
my pocket. I got it– he got it to me because the cop turned look in the bushes for drugs or something, you know? So I
the box in my pocket. The cop pats me down and says, "Wh this?" I said, "It's an electronic music synthesizer." Wasn't musical. Second cop says, "What's the orange button for?"
for calibration," says Steve.
NBC NEWS
Chinese Apple fans say farewell to 'Master Jobs'
USB Mouse (1998)
iPod (2001)
Steve Jobs: The Story Of The Man Behind The Personal Computer
Hear The Original Interview
DAVID BIANCULLI, HOST:
This is FRESH AIR. I'm David Bianculli, editor of TV Worth Watching, sitting in for Terry Gross. The movie "Steve Jobs," with a screenplay by Aaron Sorkin based on the best-selling biography by Walter Isaacson, opens today in New York and L.A. Today on FRESH AIR, we'll listen back to Terry's 2011 interview with Isaacson and hear what our film critic, David Edelstein, thinks of the film. But let's start with an excerpt of an interview Terry recorded with Steve Jobs himself. They spoke in 1996.
(SOUNDBITE OF ARCHIVED BROADCAST)
TERRY GROSS, HOST:
From what I've read, it sounds like you were really the advocate for having a mouse on the Mac. Why did you push for that and what was the argument against it?
STEVE JOBS: Well, as I mentioned earlier, I went to Xerox PARC, Palo Alto

The economy of Switzerland is offically reported as having a debt-to-GDP ratio of 39.1%, indicating Switzerland's debt level is $316 Billion.

World Economics has reassessed

National debt of Poland 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

The statistic shows the national debt of Poland from 2019 to 2022, with projections up until 2029. In 2022, the national debt of Poland amounted to around 1,636.97 billion U.S. dollars.

Key Information about Sweden National Government Debt

- Sweden National Government Debt reached 196.0 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 172.0 USD bn in the previous quarter.
- Sweden National Government Debt data is updated quarterly, available from Mar 1999 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 246.7 USD bn in Dec 2020 and a record low of 116.0 USD bn in Jun 2001.

Key Information about Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt

- Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt reached 3.4 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 3.3 USD bn in the previous year.
- Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt data is updated yearly, available from Dec 2007 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 4.0 USD bn in Dec 2013 and a record low of 2.2 USD bn in Dec 2007.

Germany's total public debt reached €2.57 trillion (roughly $2.6 trillion) at the end of 2022 — a new record high — Federal Statistical Office (Destatis) announced on Wednesday.

The level of debt corresponded to a 2% — or €46.1 billion — rise from the end of 2021, when the coronavirus pandemic was still in full swing.

According to Destatis, the national public debt has reached the equivellent of €28,155 per person in Germany.

National debt of Italy 2019-2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

This statistic shows the national debt of Italy from 2019 to 2023, with projections up until 2029. In 2023, the national debt in Italy was around 3.1 trillion U.S. dollars.

National debt of Egypt 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 22, 2024

The national debt in Egypt was forecast to continuously increase between 2024 and 2029 by in total 128.4 billion U.S. dollars (+46.5 percent). After the tenth consecutive increasing year, the national debt is estimated to reach 404.48 billion U.S. dollars and therefore a new peak in 2029. Notably, the national debt was continuously increasing over the past years.

The indicator describes the general government gross debt

Iran External Debt 1960-2024

Population | Economy | Trade | Health | Education | Development | Labor Force | Environment

Trade Balance | Trade to GDP Ratio | Exports | Imports | Foreign Direct Investment | Tariff Rates

Total external debt is debt owed to nonresidents repayable in currency, goods, or services, publicly guaranteed, and private nonguaranteed long-term debt, use of IMF credit, and short all debt having an original maturity of one year or less and interest in arrears on long-term

- Iran external debt for 2022 was $9,990,997,247, a 3.85% decline from 2021.
- Iran external debt for 2021 was $10,348,874,157, a 90.48% increase from 2020.
- Iran external debt for 2020 was $5,433,188,396, a 11.9% increase from 2019.
- Iran external debt for 2019 was $4,855,393,068, a 15.9% decline from 2018.

National debt of Iraq 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 17, 2024

The national debt in Iraq was forecast to continuously increase between 2024 and 2029 by in total 160.9 billion U.S. dollars (+133.52 percent). After the sixth consecutive increasing year, the national debt is estimated to reach 297.12 billion U.S. dollars and therefore a new peak in 2029.

As defined by the International Monetary Fund, the general government

Key Information about Turkey National Government Debt

- Turkey National Government Debt reached 254.5 USD bn in Dec 2022, compared with 231.3 USD bn in the previous year.
- Turkey National Government Debt data is updated yearly, available from Dec 2001 to Dec 2022.
- The data reached an all-time high of 299.2 USD bn in Dec 2010 and a record low of 129.4 USD bn in Dec 2001.

national debt?
The New York Times
Why China Has a Giant Pile of Debt
A major lender abroad, China is facing a debt bomb at home: trillions of dollars owed by local governments, their financial affiliates, and real estate developers.
What was Israel's National Government Debt in 2023?
Israel National Government Debt reached 315.8 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared 294.7 USD bn in the previous year. See the table below for more data.
National debt of India 2029
Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024
In 2021, the national debt of India amounted to around 2.37 trillion U.S. dollars. Projections show an upward trend, with a significant increase each year.
Honor thy national debt
Syriar

FOX 35 ORLANDO

Live | News | Weather | Good Day Orlando | We Love Florida | Contests | More

Heat Advisory

Man running on water inside 'bubble' for charity washes up on Florida beach

Body cam shows wheel wash onshore

FLAGLER COUNTY, Fla. - The Flagler County Sheriff's Office said a strange vessel washed ashore on Saturday morning. It turned out to be a Central Florida man who was 'walking on water' for charity.

"I will show people anything you want to do, do it. Don't listen to anyone. Chase your dreams."

Bodycam shows wheel that washed up on Florida beach

In an exclusive interview with FOX 35 News, Reza Baluchi says he is no stranger to the water. He calls his floating contraption his bubble. But his bubble washed ashore in Flagler County early Saturday morning.

"My goal is to not only raise money for homeless people, raise money for the Coast Guard, raise money for the police department, raise money for the fire department. They are in public service, they do it for safety and they help other people."

Latest News

Trending

NBC NEWS | WATCH LIVE

Florida man arrested after trying to cross Atlantic in 'human-powered hamster wheel'

It isn't the first time Reza Baluchi has tried to get across the ocean in a human-powered object.

A "human-powered hamster wheel." U.S. Coast Guard via Facebook

Sun., 7, 2021, 12:47 PM CDT

By Inyoung Choi

A man from Florida who was trying to cross the Atlantic in a "human-powered hamster wheel" was arrested by the Coast Guard, according to court documents.

Reza Baluchi was 70 miles off Georgia when officers found him during a "manifestly unsafe voyage" while Hurricane Franklin was headed toward the area, the Coast Guard said Wednesday in a statement on Facebook.

Reza Baluchi

Article | Talk | Read | Edit | View history | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Reza Baluchi in his water craft in 2016, with members of the US Coast Guard

Reza Ray Baluchi (born 1972)[1] is an Iranian athlete and activist living in the United States. He has several times attempted to travel long distances off the East Coast of the United States in a self-propelled water craft resembling a hamster ball, which he calls a "hydro pod" or bubble.

Background [edit]

Baluchi was born in Rasht,[2] and in Iran was tortured and served 18 months of a two-year sentence for offenses against Islam.[3][4] After cycling for the Iranian national team, in 1992 he defected to Germany, where he was a member of a professional cycling team[5] and cycled through 55 countries promoting world peace.[6] He arrived in the United States in 2002 from Mexico and was granted political asylum[4] after five months in detention.[3][5] He has set records as a runner and a cyclist, with the aim of promoting world peace.[6] He ran from Los Angeles to Ground Zero in New York in 2003 to dispel misconceptions about Middle Easterners and as a stand against terrorism;[7] ran 11,720 miles (18,860 km) around the perimeter of the United States as a fundraiser for Children's Hospital of Denver; ran again from Los Angeles to New York in 2009, acquiring an American flag from the White House;[7][8][9] and in 2010 moved to Death Valley, where he ran and trained in the desert heat for two years.[3]

Bubble expeditions [edit]

Baluchi built and equipped his first "hydro pod" using $4,500 in savings from working as a mechanic and a dishwasher,[4] at a hookah bar and a supermarket in Newport Beach, California.[3] The craft is a cylinder of 3-millimeter thick plastic in an aluminum frame with paddles and is propelled by his running inside it, like a hamster ball.[10] He estimated in 2014 that he could reach 4–5 knots (7.4–9.3 km/h) at sea,[6] and in 2021, 6 knots (11 km/h) in the 10 by 6 feet (3.0 m × 1.8 m) pod he has registered in Florida as a water craft.[7] He has said that he undertakes his ocean journeys to inspire others and to raise money for public services, including the US Coast Guard, which has repeatedly stopped him for his own safety.[9]

2014 attempt to reach Bermuda and Puerto Rico [edit]

In 2014, after two years of training[6] including a 30-mile (48 km) journey from Newport Beach to Catalina Island,[6][11] Baluchi set off from Pompano Beach, Florida, intending to trace the Bermuda Triangle by traveling approximately 3,000 miles (4,800 km) to Bermuda, to Puerto Rico, and back to Miami.[6] The Coast Guard had warned him that the expedition was too dangerous,[12] and stopped him approximately 185 miles (298 km)

FOX 35 ORLANDO | Live | News | Weather | Good Day Orlando | We Love Florida | Contests | More

Heat Advisory from SAT 12:00 PM EDT until SAT 6:00 PM EDT, Sumter County

Man running on water inside 'bubble' for charity washes up on Florida beach

By FOX 35 News Staff | Updated August 2, 2021 7:39pm EDT | News | FOX 35 Orlando |

Body cam shows wheel wash onshore

A Florida man was trying to run on the water to travel from St. Augustine to New York to raise money for charity.

FLAGLER COUNTY, Fla. - The Flagler County Sheriff's Office said a strange vessel washed ashore on Saturday morning. It turned out to be a Central Florida man who was 'walking on water' for charity.

"I will show people anything you want to do, do it. Don't listen to anyone. Chase your dreams."

Bodycam shows wheel that washed up on Florida beach

The Flagler County Sheriff's Office shared bodycam video of a strange vessel that washed ashore on Saturday morning. It turned out to be a Central Florida man who was 'walking on water' for charity.

In an exclusive interview with FOX 35 News, Reza Baluchi says he is no stranger to the water. He calls his floating contraption his bubble. But his bubble washed ashore in Flagler County early Saturday morning.

"My goal is to not only raise money for homeless people, raise money for the Coast Guard, raise money for the police department, raise money for the fire department. They are in public service, they do it for safety and they help other people."

Latest News

- Teen girl goes missing on the Fourth of July from Daytona Beach , police say
- Polk County deputy resigns after arrest on domestic violence charges
- What is a rip current? Here's how to escape safely if you ever get caught in one
- Citrus County fire training captain dies in Fourth of July boat crash in Crystal River
- Teen loses fingers in Berkeley July 4 fireworks mishap: neighbors

Trending

1. Is Publix open on the Fourth of July? Here's a look at Florida grocery store hours
2. Florida mom arrested after 2-year-old found wandering alone for hours in neighborhood, deputies say
3. Florida man who lost most of his fingers in fireworks explosion

NBC NEWS | WATCH LIVE

Florida man arrested after trying to cross Atlantic in 'human-powered hamster wheel'

It isn't the first time Reza Baluchi has tried to get across the ocean in a human-powered object.

A "human-powered hamster wheel." U.S. Coast Guard Via Facebook

SAVE

Sept. 7, 2023, 12:47 PM CDT

By Inyoung Choi

A man from Florida who was trying to cross the Atlantic in a "human-powered hamster wheel" was arrested by the Coast Guard, according to court documents.

Reza Baluchi was 70 miles off Georgia when officers found him during a "manifestly unsafe voyage" while Hurricane Franklin was headed toward the area, the Coast Guard said Wednesday in a statement on Facebook.

Reza Baluchi

Add languages

Article | Talk | Read | Edit | View history | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Reza Baluchi in his water craft in 2016, with members of the US Coast Guard

Reza Ray Baluchi (born 1972)[1] is an Iranian athlete and activist living in the United States. He has several times attempted to travel long distances off the East Coast of the United States in a self-propelled water craft resembling a hamster ball, which he calls a "hydro pod" or bubble.

Background [edit]

Baluchi was born in Rasht,[2] and in Iran was tortured and served 18 months of a two-year sentence for offenses against Islam;[3] [4] After cycling for the Iranian national team, in 1992 he defected to Germany, where he was a member of a professional cycling team[1] and cycled through 55 countries promoting world peace.[3] He arrived in the United States in 2002 from Mexico and was granted political asylum[4] after five months in detention.[2][5] He has set records as a runner and a cyclist, with the aim of promoting world peace.[6] He ran from Los Angeles to Ground Zero in New York in 2003 to dispel misconceptions about Middle Easterners and as a stand against terrorism;[7] ran 11,720 miles (18,860 km) around the perimeter of the United States as a fundraiser for Children's Hospital of Denver; ran again from Los Angeles to New York in 2009, acquiring an American flag from the White House;[3][4][8] and in 2010 moved to Death Valley, where he ran and trained in the desert heat for two years.[3]

Bubble expeditions [edit]

Baluchi built and equipped his first "hydro pod" using $4,500 in savings from working as a mechanic and a dishwasher,[4] at a hookah bar and a supermarket in Newport Beach, California.[3] The craft is a cylinder of 3-millimeter thick plastic in an aluminum frame with paddles and is propelled by his running inside it, like a hamster ball.[3][6] He estimated in 2014 that he could reach 4–5 knots (7.4–9.3 km/h) at sea,[6] and in 2021, 6 knots (11 km/h) in the 10 by 6 feet (3.0 m × 1.8 m) pod he has registered in Florida as a water craft.[7] He has said that he undertakes his ocean journeys to inspire others and to raise money for public services, including the US Coast Guard, which has repeatedly stopped him for his own safety.[9]

2014 attempt to reach Bermuda and Puerto Rico [edit]

In 2014, after two years of training[6] including a 30-mile (48 km) journey from Newport Beach to Catalina Island,[8][10] Baluchi set off from Pompano Beach, Florida, intending to trace the Bermuda Triangle by traveling approximately 3,000 miles (4,800 km) to Bermuda, to Puerto Rico, and back to Miami.[6] The Coast Guard had warned him that the expedition was too dangerous,[10] and stopped him approximately 185 miles (298 km)

Retarded Policeman Bribe
Subscribe
Transcript
Show transcript
Show less
Retarded Policeman Assburgers
Transcript
Show transcript
Show less

Romany Malco - Ponce & Greg Benson
RETARTED POLICEMAN RETURNS!
Retarded Policeman Bribe
Transcript
Retarded Policeman Assburgers
Transcript
Retarded Policeman Episode 23: Bitches
Transcript

Turkey arrests alleged Australia d

https://www.re...

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[5] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[5] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[5] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne Co

https://www.abc.net....

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Aualiitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - Wi

https://en.wikipedia....

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment; paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s … they came, and they were treated like lepers … not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Turkey arrests alleged Australia

https://www.re...

Reuters

Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

Summary Companies

- Facebook gangster Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- PM says Ayik smuggling helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) – Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero. But he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering activity.

Hakan Ayik

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1976) is a Turkish-Australian drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".

Early life

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey. His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users. His cousin and brother later ended up in prison. He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales. A classmate of Ayik was Duan Ryakers, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.

Criminal career

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Cairns. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury. His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club. He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga. The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars. This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net...

ABC NEWS

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tiffany Avelino

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 10:18am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:16pm

Mohamad Yusuf (left) and Zaki Ezedyar (right) are described as innocent victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bike-members-...

Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yusuf and 26-year-old Zaki Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yusuf and Zaki Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - W

https://en.wikipedia...

William "Jock" Ross

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comancheros Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden chiding him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, thief
Years active	1966-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comancheros MC
Convicted(s)	Murder (1985) released to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment; paroled in 1999

Youth

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family. Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver. Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too." He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers. Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 9 years. As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong. After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales. In 1968, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare. Ross (who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William) worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.

The Comancheros

The "Supreme Commander"

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2010 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People came out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s ... they came, and they were treated like lepers ... not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them." Ross founded Comancheros Motorcycle Club in 1969 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne western film (The Comancheros) that Ross adored. The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose maelstrome and toughness inspired much devotion from other men. In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for 1500 that became his home. Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Debbie. Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

ABC NEWS

Just In | Watch Live | Politics | World | Business | Analysis | More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "premeditated, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2007 deaths of 22-year-old Muhammad Yucel and 20-year-old Zalal Loedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhammad Yucel and Zalal Loedyar were shot in 2007, both victims of mistaken identity

Turkey arrests alleged Australia

https://www.re...

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[6] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[6] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[6] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[3] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[6] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net....

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Ausilitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - Wi

https://en.wikipedia....

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment; paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s ... they came, and they were treated like lepers ... not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Turkey arrests alleged Australia d

https://www.re...

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[5] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[5] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[5] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net....

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Aualiitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - Wi

https://en.wikipedia....

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment; paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s … they came, and they were treated like lepers … not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Turkey arrests alleged Australia

https://www.re...

Reuters

Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".

Early life

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey. His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users. His cousin and brother later ended up in prison. He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales. A classmate of Ayik was Duaa Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.

Criminal career

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury. His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club. He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga. The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars. This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net...

ABC NEWS

Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlia Aushima

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross

https://en.wikipedia...

William "Jock" Ross

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden chiding him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comanchero
Successor	Mick Hoar
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment, paroled in 1989

Youth

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family. Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver. Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too." He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers. Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years. As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong. After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales. In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare. Ross who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.

The Comancheros

The "Supreme Commander"

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s ... they came, and they were treated like lepers ... not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them". Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored. The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men. In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home. Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre. Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Turkey arrests alleged Australia

https://www.re...

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[6] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[6] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[6] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[3] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[6] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net....

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Ausilitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - Wi

https://en.wikipedia....

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment; paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s ... they came, and they were treated like lepers ... not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

EL PAÍS

https://www.nbcnews.com/news/latin-america/4-accu...

NBC NEWS

4 accused of scheme to smuggle 'military-grade firepower' to Mexico's bloodiest cartel

Authorities found an arsenal with 10,000 armor-piercing incendiary rounds and kits to make six machine guns capable of firing 6,000 bullets per minute.

By Tim Stelloh

Four U.S. suspects were arrested in a smuggling scheme to export machine guns, assault rifles and hundreds of thousands of rounds of ammunition to a Mexican drug cartel that authorities have called the country's bloodiest, officials said Monday.

The U.S. Attorney's Office in California's Central District named two more suspects in the alleged scheme to move "military-grade firepower" to the Cártel Jalisco Nueva Generación, a group that law enforcement officials in the U.S. and Mexico have said is filling a vacuum left by the capture of Joaquín Joaquín "El Chapo" Guzmán in 2016.

One of the suspects is believed to be at large in Mexico. Another is in state custody in North Carolina on unrelated charges, the prosecutor's office said in a news release.

Most of the suspects were charged with smuggling and violating export regulations. The suspected ringleader and his son were also charged with money laundering, and two others were accused of illegal possession of ammunition.

"The defendants in this case smuggled sophisticated weaponry out of the United States to one of the most violent cartels in Mexico whose members target not only rival gangs, but innocent Mexican citizens and Mexican law enforcement," Kristi Johnson, an FBI official in Los Angeles, said in a statement.

Marco Antonio Sandlier Valencia, 31, was identified as the U.S. group's leader. According to the prosecutor's office, he and the others obtained the guns from two

Sponsored Stories

Unsold Laptops Are Almost Given Away

Why Didn't Anyone Tell Me Windows Computers Can Block Ads?

Garden Tool Free Shipping

cervantes mexico's bloodiest d...

Narcos: 'El Mencho': Chasing th...

https://english.elpais.c...

EL PAÍS

International

MEXICO »

'El Mencho': Chasing the most powerful drug lord in Mexico

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes is the leader of the brutal Jalisco New Generation Cartel. Despite being the most wanted criminal in North America, with millions of dollars in rewards hanging over his head, both the Mexican and US governments have failed to track him down

A police officer stands near a vehicle set on fire by members of Jalisco New Generation Cartel. FERNANDO CARBAJAL (REUTERS)

DAVID MARCIAL PÉREZ · GEORGINA ZERIGA

https://www.nbcnews.com/news/latin-america/4-accu...

NBC NEWS

4 accused of scheme to smuggle 'military-grade firepower' to Mexico's bloodiest cartel

Authorities found an arsenal with 10,000 armor-piercing incendiary rounds and kits to make six machine guns capable of firing 6,000 bullets per minute.

By Tim Stelloh

Four U.S. suspects were arrested in a smuggling scheme to export machine guns, assault rifles and hundreds of thousands of rounds of ammunition to a Mexican drug cartel that authorities have called the country's bloodiest, officials said Monday.

The U.S. Attorney's Office in California's Central District named two more suspects in the alleged scheme to move "military-grade firepower" to the Cártel Jalisco Nueva Generación, a group that law enforcement officials in the U.S. and Mexico have said is filling a vacuum left by the capture of kingpin Joaquín "El Chapo" Guzmán in 2016.

One of the suspects is believed to be at large in Mexico. Another is in state custody in North Carolina on unrelated charges, the prosecutor's office said in a news release.

Most of the suspects were charged with smuggling and violating export regulations. The suspected ringleader and his son were also charged with money laundering, and two others were accused of illegal possession of ammunition.

"The defendants in this case smuggled sophisticated weaponry out of the United States to one of the most violent cartels in Mexico whose members target not only rival gangs, but innocent Mexican citizens and Mexican law enforcement," Kristi Johnson, an FBI official in Los Angeles, said in a statement.

Marco Antonio Santillan Valencia, 51, was identified as the U.S. group's leader. According to the prosecutor's office, he and the others obtained the guns from two

Sponsored Stories

Unsold Laptops Are Almost Given Away

Why Didn't Anyone Tell Me Windows Computers Can Block Ads?

Garden Tool Free Shipping

cervantes mexico's bloodiest dr... | Narcos: 'El Mencho': Chasing the...

https://english.elpais.c...

EL PAÍS International

MEXICO >

'El Mencho': Chasing the most powerful drug lord in Mexico

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes is the leader of the brutal Jalisco New Generation Cartel. Despite being the most wanted criminal in North America, with millions of dollars in rewards hanging over his head, both the Mexican and US governments have failed to track him down

A police officer stands near a vehicle set on fire by members of Jalisco New Generation Cartel. FERNANDO CARRANZA (REUTERS)

DAVID MARCIAL PÉREZ · GEORGINA ZEREGA

Mexico – DEC 21, 2022 - 05:20 EST

https://www.nbcnews.com/news/latin-america/4-accu...

NBC NEWS | 4 accused of scheme to smuggle 'military-grade firepower' to Mexico's bloodiest cartel

LATIN AMERICA

4 accused of scheme to smuggle 'military-grade firepower' to Mexico's bloodiest cartel

Authorities found an arsenal with 10,000 armor-piercing incendiary rounds and kits to make six machine guns capable of firing 6,000 bullets per minute.

Create your free profile or log in to save this article

Jan. 24, 2022, 11:09 PM CST / Updated Jan. 25, 2022, 12:21 AM CST

By Tim Stelloh

Four U.S. suspects were arrested in a smuggling scheme to export machine guns, assault rifles and hundreds of thousands of rounds of ammunition to a Mexican drug cartel that authorities have called the country's bloodiest, officials said Monday.

The U.S. Attorney's Office in California's Central District named two more suspects in the alleged scheme to move "military-grade firepower" to the Cártel Jalisco Nueva Generación, a group that law enforcement officials in the U.S. and Mexico have said is filling a vacuum left by the capture of kingpin Joaquín "El Chapo" Guzmán in 2016.

One of the suspects is believed to be at large in Mexico. Another is in state custody in North Carolina on unrelated charges, the prosecutor's office said in a news release.

Most of the suspects were charged with smuggling and violating export regulations. The suspected ringleader and his son were also charged with money laundering, and two others were accused of illegal possession of ammunition.

"The defendants in this case smuggled sophisticated weaponry out of the United States to one of the most violent cartels in Mexico whose members target not only rival gangs, but innocent Mexican citizens and Mexican law enforcement," Kristi Johnson, an FBI official in Los Angeles, said in a statement.

Marco Antonio Santillan Valencia, 51, was identified as the U.S. group's leader. According to the prosecutor's office, he and the others obtained the guns from two

Sponsored Stories by Taboola

FAVORITE SEARCHES
Unsold Laptops Are Almost Given Away

SAFER TECH TIPS Read More
Why Didn't Anyone Tell Me Windows Computers Can Block Ads?

Garden Tool Free Shipping

cervantes mexico's bloodiest dr... | Narcos: 'El Mencho': Chasing the...

https://english.elpais.c...

EL PAÍS | International | SUBSCRIBE | LOG IN

MEXICO >

'El Mencho': Chasing the most powerful drug lord in Mexico

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes is the leader of the brutal Jalisco New Generation Cartel. Despite being the most wanted criminal in North America, with millions of dollars in rewards hanging over his head, both the Mexican and US governments have failed to track him down

A police officer stands near a vehicle set on fire by members of Jalisco New Generation Cartel.
FERNANDO CARRANZA (REUTERS)

DAVID MARCIAL PÉREZ | GEORGINA ZEREGA

Mexico - DEC 27, 2022 - 05:39 EST

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL

Shaddow Kravalbaum, Jewish Student Suing Harvard, on BM' Speaker List Tonight

salon

BOOK EXCERPT

Meet America's first drug dealer: Arnold Rothstein's wild, real-life 1920s "Sopranos" story

The modern drug war started with Arnold Rothstein, a criminal master who feared he managed to rig the World Series

By JOHANN HARI

Excerpted from Chasing the Scream: The First and Last Days of the War on Drugs

As I dug deeper, I realized there was a role in the story of the start of the drug war – a large

NEW YORK POST

LOG IN

Lifestyle | Weird But True | Health | Sex & Relationships | Viral Trends | Human Interest

TRENDING NOW IN LIFESTYLE

Flyers can bring these 11 full-size liquids through airport...

Dear Abby: My husband hasn't touched me since I...

Meet 'The Talented Mrs. Mandelbaum:' America's first gangster

By Caroline Howe

Published July 14, 2021, 8:00 a.m. ET

Fredericka Mandelbaum ruled Manhattan's Lower East Side during the mid-19th century as she cultivated an extensive crime ring that extended far beyond her modest storefront.

They were branded the "Jewish Mafia," or the "Kosher Nostra" — four violent street-tough Jews with lots of criminal smarts who dominated tabloid headlines and the Wanted posters that festooned the bulletin boards of US post offices across the land.

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL

How a Jewish German woman in NY became America's first major crime boss in 1859

RECOMMENDED STORIES

THE WALL STREET JOURNAL.

Subscribe Sign In

Latest World Business U.S. Politics Economy Tech Markets & Finance Opinion Arts Lifestyle Real Estate Personal Finance Health Style Sports

Shabbos Kestenbaum, Jewish Student Suing Harvard, on RNC Speaker List Tonight

By Mariah Timms

Shabbos Kestenbaum testifying during a House subcommittee hearing in May. (Kent Nishimura/Getty Images)

One of the "everyday Americans" included in Wednesday's RNC speaker list is recent Harvard grad Shabbos Kestenbaum, who is suing the university over its alleged failure to combat antisemitism on campus. He is expected to speak at the RNC convention around 9 p.m. Eastern on Wednesday. Kestenbaum, who is Jewish, said he is a "lifelong salon

SUBSCRIBE

BOOK EXCERPT

Meet America's first drug dealer: Arnold Rothstein's wild, real-life 1920s "Sopranos" story

The modern drug war started with Arnold Rothstein, a criminal master so feared he managed to rig the World Series

By JOHANN HARI (HBO)

PUBLISHED MARCH 1, 2015 9:30PM (EST)

save

Excerpted from "Chasing the Scream: The First and Last Days of the War on Drugs"

As I dug deeper, I realized there was a hole in the story of the start of the drug war—a large

NEW YORK POST

LOG IN

Lifestyle | Weird But True | Health | Sex & Relationships | Viral Trends | Human Interest

TRENDING NOW IN LIFESTYLE

Flyers can bring these 11 full-size liquids through airport...

Dear Abby: My husband hasn't touched me since I...

Meet 'The Talented Mrs. Mandelbaum:' America's first gangster

By Caroline Howe

Published July 14, 2024, 8:00 a.m. ET

25

Fredericka Mandelbaum ruled Manhattan's Lower East Side during the mid-19th century as she cultivated an extensive crime rink that extended far beyond her modest storefront.

mcny.org

They were branded the "Jewish Mafia," or the "Kosher Nostra" — four violent street-tough Jews with lots of criminal smarts who dominated tabloid headlines and the Wanted posters that festooned the bulletin boards of US post offices across the land.

Among them was Meyer Lansky, dubbed the kingpin of organized crime in America;

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL ISRAEL AT WAR - DAY 271

JOIN OUR COMMUNITY Support ToI and remove all ads

How a Jewish German woman in NY became America's first major crime boss in 1859

Margalit Fox's new book uncovers the fascinating life and capers of Fredericka Mandelbaum, who fenced stolen property and orchestrated complicated jewel heists and bank robberies

By RENEE GHERT-ZAND FOLLOW

Today, 1:24 am

Two 'Puck' satirical magazine covers featuring Mrs. Mandelbaum. On left (Summer 1884): The public feud between D.A. Olney and police inspector Byrnes. In the middle, depicted in blatantly anti-Semitic caricature, is a bejeweled Mrs. Mandelbaum. On right (1885): Mrs. Mandelbaum, safely on the Canadian side of the 'fence' for American defaulters." (Public domain)

America's first major organized crime boss was a Jewish woman whose name almost no one knows today. She was Fredericka Mandelbaum, the subject of a new historical nonfiction book by Margalit Fox.

"The Talented Mrs. Mandelbaum: The Rise and Fall of an American Organized-Crime Boss" tells the fascinating story of an immigrant who traveled in steerage to the Lower East Side of Manhattan in 1850. After a decade of peddling lace and struggling to support her family, she transformed herself into a successful fence, someone who knowingly buys stolen property and sells it for a profit.

Between 1859 and 1884, Mandelbaum ran and grew her fencing operation from an unassuming storefront. It was the Gilded Age, a time when the emergent middle and professional classes were willing to turn a blind eye to the origins of coveted luxury items.

"They quickly became consumers who were educated by the mass media of the day — catalogs, newspapers, magazines, and manuals of domestic advice aimed at women in particular, who were under real social pressure to have all of the best. They wanted fancy furniture, chintz, silk, doilies, and knickknacks in their home," Fox told The Times of Israel.

ADVERTISEMENT

RECOMMENDED STORIES

Cardiologist: How To Quickly Lose a Hanging Belly

getfriday.online | Sponsored

Top Podiatrist: If You Have Toenail Fungus Try This Tonight (It's...

WellnessGuide101.com | Sp...

Encyclopedia of Buddhism

Page | Discussion | Read | View source | View history | Search Encyclopedi

Bodhidharma

This biography is a copy of a Wikipedia article, with minor modifications. See the latest Wikipedia version here.

Main page
Recent changes
Random page
Categories
About
Help
Donate

Tools

What links here
Related changes
Special pages
Printable version
Permanent link
Page information
Cite this page

Bodhidharma was a Buddhist monk who lived during the 5th or 6th century. He is traditionally credited as the transmitter of Chan Buddhism to China, and regarded as its first Chinese patriarch. According to Chinese legend, he also began the physical training of the monks of Shaolin Monastery that led to the creation of Shaolin kungfu. In Japan, he is known as Daruma.

Little contemporary biographical information on Bodhidharma is extant, and subsequent accounts became layered with legend.[1] [note 1]

According to the principal Chinese sources, Bodhidharma came from the Western Regions,[4][5] which refers to Central Asia but may also include the Indian subcontinent, and was either a "Persian Central Asian"[4] or a "South Indian [...] the third son of a great Indian king."[5][note 2] Throughout Buddhist art, Bodhidharma is depicted as an ill-tempered, profusely-bearded, wide-eyed non-Chinese person. He is referred as "The Blue-Eyed Barbarian" (Chinese: 碧眼胡; pinyin: Bìyǎnhú) in Chan texts.[10]

Aside from the Chinese accounts, several popular traditions also exist regarding Bodhidharma's origins.[note 3]

Bodhidharma
Names (details)	[Expand]

Bodhidharma, Ukiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Britannica

Search Britannica... | Subscribe Now | Login

Philosophy & Religion > Religious Places

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents

Introduction
References & Edit History
Related Topics

Images

Related Questions

What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next

The Effects of China's One-Child Policy
A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover

6 Unusual Olympic Sports
Olympics: Football (Soccer)
8 Olympic Cheating Scandals
What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?
7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports
12 Greek Gods and Goddesses
What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print | Cite | Share | Feedback

Written by Jade Franklin
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopædia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

Shaolin Temple

The Shaolin Temple in Henan province, China.

In 464 an Indian monk named Bada, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that Indian scriptures were translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen Buddhism formed. Bada (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputed to have introduced martial arts as a complementary practice to meditation—a practice that developed into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount Song, one of the five sacred mountains of China. The original temple structure was simple, but with each succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extensive—many of the current structures date from the Ming and Qing dynasties. Great care was taken to preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with all crucial buildings being constructed along the site's central axis. These include the Gate of the Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly King Hall, the Dharma Hall, the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sutra-Keeping Pavilion. The

5 tips to use your credit card wisely

GO 4X on every bite.

Earn 4X points on dining, 2X points at grocery stores, gas stations and streaming services

Encyclopedia of Buddhism

Page | Discussion | Read | View source | View history | Search Encyclopedia

Main page
Recent changes
Random page
Categories
About
Help
Donate

Tools

What links here
Related changes
Special pages
Printable version
Permanent link
Page information
Cite this page

Bodhidharma

This biography is a copy of a Wikipedia article, with minor modifications. See the latest Wikipedia version here. → EDB

Bodhidharma was a Buddhist monk who lived during the 5th or 6th century. He is traditionally credited as the transmitter of Chan Buddhism to China, and regarded as its first Chinese patriarch. According to Chinese legend, he also began the physical training of the monks of Shaolin Monastery that led to the creation of Shaolin kungfu. In Japan, he is known as Daruma.

Little contemporary biographical information on Bodhidharma is extant, and subsequent accounts became layered with legend.[1] [note 1]

According to the principal Chinese sources, Bodhidharma came from the Western Regions,[4][5] which refers to Central Asia but may also include the Indian subcontinent, and was either a "Persian Central Asian"[4] or a "South Indian [...] the third son of a great Indian king."[5][note 2] Throughout Buddhist art, Bodhidharma is depicted as an ill-tempered, profusely-bearded, wide-eyed non-Chinese person. He is referred as "The Blue-Eyed Barbarian" (Chinese: 碧眼胡; pinyin: Bìyǎnhú) in Chan texts.[10]

Aside from the Chinese accounts, several popular traditions also exist regarding Bodhidharma's origins.[note 3]

Bodhidharma

Names (details) [Expand]

Bodhidharma, Ukiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Britannica | Search Britannica... | Subscribe Now | Login

Philosophy & Religion › Religious Places

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents

Introduction
References & Edit History
Related Topics

Images

Related Questions

What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next

The Effects of China's One-Child Policy
A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover

6 Unusual Olympic Sports
Olympics: Football (Soccer)
8 Olympic Cheating Scandals
What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?
7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports
12 Greek Gods and Goddesses
What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print | Cite | Share | Feedback

Written by Jade Franklin
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopaedia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

Shaolin Temple

The Shaolin Temple in Henan province, China.

In 464 an Indian monk named Bada, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that Indian scriptures were translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen Buddhism formed. Bada (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputed to have introduced martial arts as a complementary practice to meditation—a practice that developed into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount Song, one of the five sacred mountains of China. The original temple structure was simple, but with each succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extensive—many of the current structures date from the Ming and Qing dynasties. Great care was taken to preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with all crucial buildings being constructed along the site's central axis. These include the Gate of the Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly King Hall, the Dharma Hall, the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sutra-Keeping Pavilion. The

5 tips to use your credit card wisely

48% of U.S. households carry credit card debt. These five tips can help you avoid overwhelming debt and feel more financially secure.

Learn more

Ad

GO 4X on every bite.

Earn 4X points on dining, 2X points at grocery stores, gas stations and streaming services

Encyclopedia of Buddhism

Page | Discussion | Read | View source | View history | Search Encyclopedia

Bodhidharma

This biography is a copy of a Wikipedia article, with minor modifications. See the latest Wikipedia version here. EOB

Bodhidharma was a Buddhist monk who lived during the 5th or 6th century. He is traditionally credited as the transmitter of Chan Buddhism to China, and regarded as its first Chinese patriarch. According to Chinese legend, he also began the physical training of the monks of Shaolin Monastery that led to the creation of Shaolin kungfu. In Japan, he is known as Daruma.

Little contemporary biographical information on Bodhidharma is extant, and subsequent accounts became layered with legend.[1] [note 1]

According to the principal Chinese sources, Bodhidharma came from the Western Regions,[4][5] which refers to Central Asia but may also include the Indian subcontinent, and was either a "Persian Central Asian"[4] or a "South Indian [...] the third son of a great Indian king."[5][note 2] Throughout Buddhist art, Bodhidharma is depicted as an ill-tempered, profusely-bearded, wide-eyed non-Chinese person. He is referred as "The Blue-Eyed Barbarian" (Chinese: 碧眼胡; pinyin: Bìyǎnhú) in Chan texts.[10]

Aside from the Chinese accounts, several popular traditions also exist regarding Bodhidharma's origins.[note 3]

Bodhidharma
Names (details)	[Expand]

Bodhidharma, Ukiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Main page
Recent changes
Random page
Categories
About
Help
Donate

Tools
What links here
Related changes
Special pages
Printable version
Permanent link
Page information
Cite this page

Britannica

Search Britannica... | Subscribe Now | Login

Philosophy & Religion › Religious Places

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents
Introduction
References & Edit History
Related Topics

Images

Related Questions
What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next
The Effects of China's One-Child Policy
A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover
6 Unusual Olympic Sports
Olympics: Football (Soccer)
8 Olympic Cheating Scandals
What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?
7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports
12 Greek Gods and Goddesses
What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print | Cite | Share | Feedback

Written by Jade Franklin
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopaedia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple
The Shaolin Temple in Henan province, China.

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

In 464 an Indian monk named Bada, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that Indian scriptures were translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen Buddhism formed. Bada (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputed to have introduced martial arts as a complementary practice to meditation—a practice that developed into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount Song, one of the five sacred mountains of China. The original temple structure was simple, but with each succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extensive—many of the current structures date from the Ming and Qing dynasties. Great care was taken to preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with all crucial buildings being constructed along the site's central axis. These include the Gate of the Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly King Hall, the Dharma Hall, the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sutra-Keeping Pavilion. The

Sponsored
5 tips to use your credit card wisely
48% of U.S. households carry credit card debt. These five tips can help you avoid overwhelming debt and feel more financially secure.
Learn more

Ad
GO 4X on every bite.
Earn 4X points on dining. 2X points at grocery stores, gas stations and streaming services

Encyclopedia of Buddhism

Page | Discussion | Read | View source | View history | Search Encyclopedia

Bodhidharma

This biography is a copy of a Wikipedia article, with minor modifications. See the latest Wikipedia version here.

Main page
Recent changes
Random page
Categories
About
Help
Donate

Tools
What links here
Related changes
Special pages
Printable version
Permanent link
Page information
Cite this page

Bodhidharma was a Buddhist monk who lived during the 5th or 6th century. He is traditionally credited as the transmitter of Chan Buddhism to China, and regarded as its first Chinese patriarch. According to Chinese legend, he also began the physical training of the monks of Shaolin Monastery that led to the creation of Shaolin kungfu. In Japan, he is known as Daruma.

Little contemporary biographical information on Bodhidharma is extant, and subsequent accounts became layered with legend.[1] [note 1]

According to the principal Chinese sources, Bodhidharma came from the Western Regions,[4][5] which refers to Central Asia but may also include the Indian subcontinent, and was either a "Persian Central Asian"[4] or a "South Indian [...] the third son of a great Indian king."[6][note 2] Throughout Buddhist art, Bodhidharma is depicted as an ill-tempered, profusely-bearded, wide-eyed non-Chinese person. He is referred as "The Blue-Eyed Barbarian" (Chinese: 碧眼胡; pinyin: Bìyǎnhú) in Chan texts.[10]

Aside from the Chinese accounts, several popular traditions also exist regarding Bodhidharma's origins.[note 3]

Bodhidharma
Names (details)	[Expand]

Bodhidharma, Ukiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Britannica

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents
Introduction
References & Edit History
Related Topics

Images

Related Questions
What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next
The Effects of China's One-Child Policy
A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover
4 Unusual Olympic Sports
Olympics Football (Soccer)
8 Olympic Cheating Scandals
What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?
7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports
12 Greek Gods and Goddesses
What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print | Cite | Share | Feedback

Written by Judy Franklin
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopædia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

In 464 an Indian monk named Buda, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that Indian scriptures were translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen Buddhism formed. Buda (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputed to have introduced martial arts as a complementary practice to meditation—a practice that developed into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

Shaolin Temple
The Shaolin Temple in Henan province, China.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount Song, one of the five sacred mountains of China. The original temple structure was simple, but with each succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extensive—many of the current structures date from the Ming and Qing dynasties. Great care was taken to preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with all crucial buildings being constructed along the site's central axis. These include the Gate of the Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly King Hall, the Dharma Hall, the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sutra-Keeping Pavilion. The

5 tips to use your credit card wisely

GO 4X on every bite.
Earn 4X points on dining, 3X points at grocery stores, gas stations and streaming services

Encyclopedia of Buddhism

Page | Discussion | Read | View source | View history | Search Encyclopedi

Bodhidharma

This biography is a copy of a Wikipedia article, with minor modifications. See the latest Wikipedia version here.

Main page
Recent changes
Random page
Categories
About
Help
Donate

Tools

What links here
Related changes
Special pages
Printable version
Permanent link
Page information
Cite this page

Bodhidharma was a Buddhist monk who lived during the 5th or 6th century. He is traditionally credited as the transmitter of Chan Buddhism to China, and regarded as its first Chinese patriarch. According to Chinese legend, he also began the physical training of the monks of Shaolin Monastery that led to the creation of Shaolin kungfu. In Japan, he is known as Daruma.

Little contemporary biographical information on Bodhidharma is extant, and subsequent accounts became layered with legend.[1] [note 1]

According to the principal Chinese sources, Bodhidharma came from the Western Regions,[4][5] which refers to Central Asia but may also include the Indian subcontinent, and was either a "Persian Central Asian"[4] or a "South Indian [...] the third son of a great Indian king."[5][note 2] Throughout Buddhist art, Bodhidharma is depicted as an ill-tempered, profusely-bearded, wide-eyed non-Chinese person. He is referred as "The Blue-Eyed Barbarian" (Chinese: 碧眼胡; pinyin: Bìyǎnhú) in Chan texts.[10]

Aside from the Chinese accounts, several popular traditions also exist regarding Bodhidharma's origins.[note 3]

Bodhidharma
Names (details)	[Expand]

Bodhidharma, Ukiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Britannica

Search Britannica... | Subscribe Now | Login

Philosophy & Religion > Religious Places

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents

Introduction
References & Edit History
Related Topics

Images

Related Questions

What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next

The Effects of China's One-Child Policy
A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover

6 Unusual Olympic Sports
Olympics: Football (Soccer)
8 Olympic Cheating Scandals
What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?
7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports
12 Greek Gods and Goddesses
What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print | Cite | Share | Feedback

Written by Jade Franklin
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopædia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

Shaolin Temple

The Shaolin Temple in Henan province, China.

In 464 an Indian monk named Bada, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that Indian scriptures were translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen Buddhism formed. Bada (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputed to have introduced martial arts as a complementary practice to meditation—a practice that developed into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount Song, one of the five sacred mountains of China. The original temple structure was simple, but with each succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extensive—many of the current structures date from the Ming and Qing dynasties. Great care was taken to preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with all crucial buildings being constructed along the site's central axis. These include the Gate of the Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly King Hall, the Dharma Hall, the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sutra-Keeping Pavilion. The

5 tips to use your credit card wisely

GO 4X on every bite.

Earn 4X points on dining, 2X points at grocery stores, gas stations and streaming services

Encyclopedia of Buddhism

Page | Discussion | Read | View source | View history | Search Encyclopedi

Bodhidharma

This biography is a copy of a Wikipedia article, with minor modifications. See the latest Wikipedia version here. → EOB

Main page
Recent changes
Random page
Categories
About
Help
Donate

Tools

What links here
Related changes
Special pages
Printable version
Permanent link
Page information
Cite this page

Bodhidharma was a Buddhist monk who lived during the 5th or 6th century. He is traditionally credited as the transmitter of Chan Buddhism to China, and regarded as its first Chinese patriarch. According to Chinese legend, he also began the physical training of the monks of Shaolin Monastery that led to the creation of Shaolin kungfu. In Japan, he is known as Daruma.

Little contemporary biographical information on Bodhidharma is extant, and subsequent accounts became layered with legend.[1] [note 1]

According to the principal Chinese sources, Bodhidharma came from the Western Regions,[4][5] which refers to Central Asia but may also include the Indian subcontinent, and was either a "Persian Central Asian"[4] or a "South Indian [...] the third son of a great Indian king."[5][note 2] Throughout Buddhist art, Bodhidharma is depicted as an ill-tempered, profusely-bearded, wide-eyed non-Chinese person. He is referred as "The Blue-Eyed Barbarian" (Chinese: 碧眼胡; pinyin: Bìyǎnhú) in Chan texts.[10]

Aside from the Chinese accounts, several popular traditions also exist regarding Bodhidharma's origins.[note 3]

Bodhidharma
Names (details)	[Expand]

Bodhidharma, Ukiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Britannica

Search Britannica... | Subscribe Now | Login

Philosophy & Religion › Religious Places

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents

Introduction
References & Edit History
Related Topics

Images

Related Questions

What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next

The Effects of China's One-Child Policy
A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover

6 Unusual Olympic Sports
Olympics: Football (Soccer)
8 Olympic Cheating Scandals
What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?
7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports
12 Greek Gods and Goddesses
What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print | Cite | Share | Feedback

Written by Jade Franklin
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopaedia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple
The Shaolin Temple in Henan province, China.

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

In 464 an Indian monk named Bada, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that Indian scriptures were translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen Buddhism formed. Bada (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputed to have introduced martial arts as a complementary practice to meditation—a practice that developed into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount Song, one of the five sacred mountains of China. The original temple structure was simple, but with each succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extensive—many of the current structures date from the Ming and Qing dynasties. Great care was taken to preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with all crucial buildings being constructed along the site's central axis. These include the Gate of the Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly King Hall, the Dharma Hall, the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sutra-Keeping Pavilion. The

5 tips to use your credit card wisely

48% of U.S. households carry credit card debt. These five tips can help you avoid overwhelming debt and feel more financially secure.

Learn more

Ad

GO 4X on every bite.

Earn 4X points on dining. 2X points at grocery stores, gas stations and streaming services

Daniel Crooks
Public

Hidden African History: Rabbi Itzhak Shapira discussion with ibeo jews
#teachingthetruthisnotracism #lost10tribesofisrael

Daniel Crooks · Origina

Daniel Crooks
Public

Hidden African History: Rabbi Itzhak Shapira discussion with ibeo jews
#teachingthetruthisnotracism #lost10tribesofisrael

TMZ

THOMAS MATTHEW CROOKS
JOKINGLY BRAGS ABOUT PENIS SIZE
In New School Days Vid

EXCLUSIVE

Score 4+ star school supplies

SIGN UP FOR OUR NEWSLETTER

Search Donate Fundraise gofundme About Sign in Start a GoFundMe

Lezlee's Legacy Sanctuary Fundraiser

JoAnne Thompson is organizing this fundraiser on behalf of Vivian Crooks.

Donation protected

Dear Family, Friends and Members of the Nyack Community,

The Project:
100 years after my Jewish ancestors helped conceive and raise money to build Nyack's first synagogue, I am carrying on their legacy by organizing a special fundraiser to help

$3,732 raised of 500,000 goal

32 donations

Share

Donate now

Maria Osundele $100 · 11 mos

Joyce Thompson-Gardner $100 · 1 yr

Adrienne Cromartie- Wolf $200 · 1 yr

Geri Bloch $100 · 1 yr

Lawrence Kintisch $50 · 1 yr

See all

See top

Thomas Matthew Crooks

31 languages

Article Talk Read View source View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Thomas Matthew Crooks (September 20, 2003 – July 13, 2024) was an American man who attempted to assassinate Donald Trump, the former president of the United States and at that time presumptive Republican Party nominee for the 2024 presidential election.[1][2]

On July 13, 2024, at a rally near Butler, Pennsylvania, Crooks shot at Trump with an AR-15–style rifle from a nearby rooftop while Trump was giving a speech, injuring Trump and two attendees, and killing another. Crooks was immediately killed by the Secret Service Counter Assault Team. An investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is underway, and his motivation remains unknown.

Thomas Matthew Crooks

Undated driver's license photo of Crooks

Born	September 20, 2003
Died	July 13, 2024 (aged 20) Butler County, Pennsylvania, U.S.
Cause of death	Gunshot wound
Education	Bethel Park High School Community College of Allegheny County (AS)
Known for	Attempted assassination of Donald Trump
Motive	Under investigation
Details
Date	July 13, 2024
Location(s)	Near Butler in Meridian, Pennsylvania
Killed	1
Injured	3 (including Donald Trump)
Weapon	AR-15-style rifle

Early life and education

Thomas Matthew Crooks was born on September 20, 2003,[1] and was raised in Bethel Park, Pennsylvania.[3] The neighborhood he lived in was described as "middle-class, maybe upper-middle class".[4] Both of his parents worked as licensed professional counselors.[5] Recollections about Crooks, including biographical information about his life and personality, vary considerably.[6]

He attended Bethel Park High School, where he was known as an above-average student, and graduated in 2022.[7][8] Classmates and school officials characterized him as quiet, with classmates claiming he was often bullied,[2][7][9] including for his quiet demeanor, and for wearing camouflage hunting outfits and masks to school.[9][10] Crooks enjoyed playing chess and video games, and was learning how to code.[11] He received a $500 "star award" the same year from the National Math and Science Initiative.[7][12] Current and former Bethel Park High School students have alleged that Crooks tried out for his school's rifle team, but did not make the team due to poor aim during tryouts; the Bethel Park School District

Daniel Crooks
Public

Hidden African History: Rabbi Itzhak Shapira discussion with ibeo jews
#teachingthetruthisnotracism #lost10tribesofisrael

Daniel Crooks · Origina

8

3

Daniel Crooks
Public

Hidden African History: Rabbi Itzhak Shapira discussion with ibeo jews
#teachingthetruthisnotracism #lost10tribesofisrael

TMZ NEWS SPORTS HIP HOP WATCH PHOTOS TOURS DEALS

THOMAS MATTHEW CROOKS
JOKINGLY BRAGS ABOUT PENIS SIZE
In New School Days Vid

EXCLUSIVE

Thomas Matthew Crooks – the shooter who tried and failed to take out Donald Trump – clearly had a raunchy, sophomoric sense of humor … as seen in new video obtained by TMZ.

Score 4+ star school supplies

SIGN UP FOR OUR NEWSLETTER

MOST POPULAR

Search Donate Fundraise gofundme About Sign in Start a GoFundMe

Lezlee's Legacy Sanctuary Fundraiser

JoAnne Thompson is organizing this fundraiser on behalf of Vivian Crooks.

Donation protected

Dear Family, Friends and Members of the Nyack Community,

The Project:
100 years after my Jewish ancestors helped conceive and raise money to build Nyack's first synagogue, I am carrying on their legacy by organizing a special fundraiser to help

$3,732 raised of $60,000 goal

32 donations

Share

Donate now

Maria Osundele
$100 · 11 mos

Joyce Thompson-Gardner
$100 · 1 yr

Adrienne Cromartie- Wolf
$200 · 1 yr

Geri Bloch
$100 · 1 yr

Lawrence Kintisch
$50 · 1 yr

See all

See top

Thomas Matthew Crooks

31 languages

Article Talk Read View source View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Thomas Matthew Crooks (September 20, 2003 – July 13, 2024) was an American man who attempted to assassinate Donald Trump, the former president of the United States and at that time presumptive Republican Party nominee for the 2024 presidential election.[1][2]

On July 13, 2024, at a rally near Butler, Pennsylvania, Crooks shot at Trump with an AR-15–style rifle from a nearby rooftop while Trump was giving a speech, injuring Trump and two attendees, and killing another. Crooks was immediately killed by the Secret Service Counter Assault Team. An investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is underway, and his motivation remains unknown.

Thomas Matthew Crooks

Undated driver's license photo of Crooks

Born	September 20, 2003
Died	July 13, 2024 (aged 20) Butler County, Pennsylvania, U.S.
Cause of death	Gunshot wound
Education	Bethel Park High School Community College of Allegheny County (AS)
Known for	Attempted assassination of Donald Trump
Motive	Under investigation
Details
Date	July 13, 2024
Location(s)	Near Butler in Meridian, Pennsylvania
Killed	1
Injured	3 (including Donald Trump)
Weapon	AR-15–style rifle

Early life and education

Thomas Matthew Crooks was born on September 20, 2003,[1] and was raised in Bethel Park, Pennsylvania.[3] The neighborhood he lived in was described as "middle-class, maybe upper-middle class".[4] Both of his parents worked as licensed professional counselors.[5] Recollections about Crooks, including biographical information about his life and personality, vary considerably.[6]

He attended Bethel Park High School, where he was known as an above-average student, and graduated in 2022.[7][8] Classmates and school officials characterized him as quiet, with classmates claiming he was often bullied,[2][7][9] including for his quiet demeanor, and for wearing camouflage hunting outfits and masks to school.[9][10] Crooks enjoyed playing chess and video games, and was learning how to code.[11] He received a $500 "star award" the same year from the National Math and Science Initiative.[7][12] Current and former Bethel Park High School students have alleged that Crooks tried out for his school's rifle team, but did not make the team due to poor aim during tryouts; the Bethel Park School District

THE NEW YORKER

THE BIRTH OF THE PERSONAL COMPUTER

A new history of the Apple II charts how computers became unavoidable fixtures of our daily lives.

By Kyle Chayka

Steve Jobs insisted that the Apple II be housed in a plastic casing, making it more elegant and approachable than fellow-tech' severe industrial boxes. Photograph from Alamy

Save this story

In 1979, two M.I.T. computer-science alumni and a Harvard Business School graduate launched a new piece of computer software for the Apple II machine, an early home computer. Called VisiCalc, short for "visible calculator," it was a spreadsheet, with an unassuming interface of monochrome numerals and characters. But it was a dramatic upgrade from the paper-based charts traditionally used to project business revenue or manage a budget. VisiCalc could perform calculations and update figures across columns and rows in real time, based on formulas that the user programmed in. No more writing out numbers painstakingly by hand.

VisiCalc sold more than seven hundred thousand copies in its first six years, and almost single-handedly demonstrated the utility of the Apple II, which retailed

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

Culture magazines > Ice-Cream Cone

Ice-Cream Cone

CENGAGE

Ice-Cream Cone

One of the most popular American snacks, it is generally believed the ice-cream cone was initially popularized at the 1904 St. Louis Exposition. At that time, Ernest Hamwi, a Syrian waffle vendor, created the "World's Fair Cornucopia" by taking portions of ice cream being dispensed by a fellow vendor who had run out of dishes and serving them up inside waffles that were folded into a cone-like shape. However, other sources, including the Library of Congress, claim that the ice-cream cone was invented on July 23, 1904, by Charles E. Menches of St. Louis and that it did not make its debut as a "walk-away" treat until later that year, at the St. Louis Exposition. A year earlier, a patent for a cone maker had been granted to Italo Marchiony (1868–1954), a New York pushcart vendor, who claimed to have been

6 Groundbreaking Innovations by Arab Americans

Americans born in or with ancestral ties to Arab-speaking countries have made countless significant scientific, medical and engineering contributions.

While American born in or with ancestral ties to Arab countries have made countless significant scientific, medical and engineering contributions, most have never made it into textbooks. From cryptography, to the artificial heart, to the iPod, here are a few examples of some of the major advancements by Arab Americans.

1. Television Transmission and LCD Screens

Born in Nazareth, Lebanon in 1955, Hassan Kamal A. Sabbah studied and then taught mathematics at the American University of Beirut before immigrating to the United States in 1971. After a brief stint studying at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), Dr. Sabbah earned a master's degree in engineering sciences from the University of Illinois, says Sophia Kazinski, communications specialist at the Arab American National Museum in Dearborn, Michigan.

"In 1983, General Electric (GE) hired him to work in its Engineering Laboratory under a contract that awarded him a dollar for each of his patents," Kazinski explains, noting that between 1977 and 1995, he applied for patents for 53 of his

Jizzmopper Goldstein
Follow
Post
Live look at the Steve compound...
DONT TREAD ON ME
MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN
OPEN BORDER FOR ISRAEL
Tell me this bitch isn't playing to the camera
Don't be shy. Baffling this off at the top of the hour
Not Just 4hrs - WICKED 4hrs
24 UNCUT WICKED SEX SCENES!!!!
Mexican Humping Beans

Jizzmopper Goldstein

Follow

Jizzmopper Goldstein

@MoppingSteve

New to this webright. Don't tweet at me if your not gonna be civil. Family friendly, gospel preaching account. True Patriot. Goatse Foundation Supporter

Kansas City, MO · goatse.info · Joined February 2017

1,312 Following · 348 Followers

Not followed by anyone you're following

Posts · Replies · Media

Jizzmopper Goldstein

@MoppingSteve

Follow

Live look at the Steve compound...

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein

@MoppingSteve

Follow

had 4 accounts banned over dec/jan. i'll let loose again mentor king matt

6:47 PM · May 20, 2017

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein

@MoppingSteve

Follow

Tell me this bitch isn't playing to the camera

6:38 PM · Jul 1, 2017

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein

@MoppingSteve

Follow

utting cereal out of assholes is outdated. I've moved on to eir fucking

Jizzmopper Goldstein

@MoppingSteve

Follow

Don't be shy. Raffling this off at the top of the hour

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein

@MoppingSteve

tch this

lawyer has informed us that we need a warn ge of 18 or find this photograph offensive, pl

T NOTE: There are many merch
r goatse.cx around the web-- non ne of them are official. Do not bu erchandise. The official goatse.cx
e is coming soon!

[the giver] [feedback] [contrib]

"uninaboop"

Jizzmopper Goldstein
639 photos & videos

Follow

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve

New to this websight. Don't tweet at me if your not gonna be civil. Family friendly, gospel preaching account. True Patriot. Goatse Foundation Supporter

Kansas City, MO · goatse.info · Joined February 2017

1,312 Following · 348 Followers

Not followed by anyone you're following

Posts · Replies · Media

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve

Follow

had 4 accounts banned over dec/jan. i'll let loose again mentor king matt

GIF

EFUKT.COM

6:47 PM · May 20, 2017

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve

Follow

ating cereal out of assholes is outdated. I've moved on to ear fucking
ideos

1:38 / 2:18

54 PM · Dec 16, 2017

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve

Follow

atch this

0:36 / 0:45

Jan 28, 2018

lawyer has informed us that we need a warni
age of 18 or find this photograph offensive, pl
u!

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve

Follow

Live look at the Steve compound...

DONT TREAD ON ME

MAKE AMERICA GREAT AGAIN

OPEN BORDERS FOR ISRAEL

10:22 AM · Apr 17, 2017

Post

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve

Follow

Tell me this bitch isn't playing to the camera

4:38 PM · Jul 1, 2017

Jizzmopper Goldstein
@MoppingSteve

Follow

Don't be shy. Raffling this off at the top of the hour

Not Just 4hrs - WICKED 4hrs

21 UNCUT WICKED SEX SCENES!!!!

Mexican Humping Beans

NT NOTE: There are many mercha
r goatse.cx around the web-- non
one of them are official. Do not buy erchandise. The official goatse.cx
se is coming soon!

[the giver] [feedback] [contrib]

urinalpoop

What Are Jewish Genetic Diseases?

SLATE News & Politics Culture Technology Business Life Advice Pod

AGED APPROXIMATELY 100 YEARS IN LESS THAN A WEEK FOLLOW US

ARTICLES

So Are the Neanderthals Still Jews?

And other revelations culled from history's big secrets.

BY CHARLES PAUL FREUND
AUG 02, 1997 • 3:30 AM

You read the press reports in July about the DNA of Neanderthals, and you quickly grasped how the new findings suggest that this branch of humanoids is much more distantly related to modern Homo sapiens than you may have believed–they are not even direct human ancestors. Now you must apply these findings, and examine their implications for the world around you. Specifically, you must weigh their effect on certain theories in circulation, among them that Neanderthals still walk–or lumber–among us, and indeed that they have maintained their cohesion through the ages and still constitute a group apart. And, most importantly, that this group of living, lumbering Neanderthals is the Jews.

You read the press reports in July about the DNA of Neanderthals, and you quickly grasped how the new findings suggest that this branch of humanoids is much more distantly related to modern Homo sapiens than you may have believed–they are not even direct human ancestors. Now you must apply these findings, and examine their implications for the

Reader

Guide to Jewish Genetic Diseases

Reach Jewish audiences.
LEARN MORE

MOST POPULAR

What Are Jewish Genetic Diseases?

As many as 1 in 3 Ashkenazi Jews are estimated to be carriers for one of about 19 genetic diseases.

BY MY JEWISH LEARNING

Advertisement

Jewish genetic diseases are a group of rare autosomal recessive disorders that are far more prevalent among people with Jewish ancestry than in the general population. Autosomal recessive diseases are transmitted genetically by carrier parents who themselves do not suffer from the disorder but carry the genes that can cause the disease. When two carriers of a genetic mutation associated with a particular disorder have children together, each of their offspring has a one in four chance of developing the disease and a 50 percent chance of becoming carriers themselves.

As many as one in three Ashkenazi Jews are estimated to be carriers for one of about 19 genetic diseases. In all, Jews have higher carrier rates for more than 40 genetic diseases. These include better-known disorders such as

YouTube Search Sign In

How Neanderthal are you? Tracing our genetic ancestry | Natural History Museum

Natural History Museum Subscribe 6.9K Share Save

770,430 views Feb 12, 2014

Scientists examining the evolutionary history recorded within our DNA are uncovering the global human story in greater detail. Watch the film to discover what DNA analyses taught six well-known figures, Maggie Aderin-Pocock, Clive Anderson, Bill Bailey, Kevin Fong, Alice Roberts and Sian Williams about their genetic ancestry.

Find out more in our new Human Evolution gallery: http://bit.ly/NHM-YT-Human-Evolution...

00:00 Introduction
00:56 What scientists look at when they analyse our DNA to trace our ancestry
01:26 Who do we descend from?
01:46 An explanation of the migration of modern humans 60,000 years ago
02:58 An explanation of the migration of modern humans 55,000 years ago
03:43 The interbreeding of modern humans and neanderthals
04:41 The modern humans who remained in Africa
06:05 An explanation of the migration of modern humans 40,000 years ago

Magazine
Meir Ettinger: The face of Jewish terrorism
The Shin Bet describes him as a central figure in Jew terrorism, "a violent and dangerous ideological crimir his friends tell of a quiet and pleasant young man wh leader merely because of his writing skills; somewhe way, between the outposts he's been living in since h
to his administrative detention following the Duma m
Rabbi Meir Kahane's grandson has formed a radical Zionist ideology.
Oded Shalom, Yifat Erlich | Published: 12.12.15 , 14:27
Ettinger (Photo: Avital Shalom)
Photo: Avital Shapira
model in the upper left. The lower left
, I think, a game rendering. And the ape' concept.
the grown-ups will know that I can walk me time. So are all the other high-falutin' n you're trying to get in with the cool kids.
in what's known as the correct anatomical horizontal
The Telegr
News
Israel 'invest over Palestin

You'll probably recognize the Australian Museum's model in the upper left. The lower left I'm calling the New Age Neanderthal. Upper right is, I think, a game rendering. And the lower right is a fairly traditional, shuffling brute, 'hairy ape' concept.

* This is me using a bit of biological anthropology jargon so the grown-ups will know that I can ~~walk the talk walk the walk~~ walk and chew bubble-gum at the same time. So are all the other high-falutin' words that I use. It's important to switch linguistic code when you're trying to get in with the cool kids.
 The Frankfurt Plane is the specified position of the head in what's known as the correct anatomical position.

Magazine

Ettinger (Photo: Avihu Shapira)

Meir Ettinger: The face of Jewish terrorism

The Shin Bet describes him as a central figure in Jewish terrorism, 'a violent and dangerous ideological criminal,' while his friends tell of a quiet and pleasant young man who became a leader merely because of his writing skills; somewhere on the way, between the outposts he's been living in since he was 15, to his administrative detention following the Duma murders, Rabbi Meir Kahane's grandson has formed a radical and anti-Zionist ideology.

Oded Shalom, Yifat Erlich | Published: 12.12.15 , 14:27

Jewish extremist Meir Ettinger, who was involved in a deadly arson attack on a Palestinian home that killed three people, including a baby, has been released following a 10 month detention.

Ettinger has been released following a 10-month detention (AFP)

The Telegraph

News Election Euros Sport Money Travel Business Health Opinion

Israel 'investigates radical group seeking Jewish monarchy' over Palestinian family deaths

Israeli police is looking at the HaMered group, which means 'the rebellion' in Hebrew, in connection with the attack on a Palestinian family

Reuters

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[6] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[7] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[7] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[8] This business was organised in co-

ABC NEWS

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tatiana Austrina

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:36am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden chiding him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comanchero
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment, paroled in 1989

Youth

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[3] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[2] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[5]

The Comancheros

The "Supreme Commander"

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s ... they came, and they were treated like lepers ... not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[7] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[8][9] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[5] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[5] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[5] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Aualiitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment; paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s … they came, and they were treated like lepers … not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

THE GREEK HERALD

Angelo Pandeli named in Australian cartel responsible for $1.5 billion drug imports

LATEST NEWS

Full Digital Access

No lock-in contract

Mirror

Click for Sound

BODIES FOUND AFTER MEXICAN DRUG MASSACRE

Bodies of women and children found after 'El Mencho' drug gang massacres 44 people

NEWS | POLITICS | FOOTBALL
CELEBS | TV | SHOPPING

Mexico's 'new El Chapo' slaughters women and babies in bloodiest ever cartel war

Mexico's new drug kingpin Nemesio Cervantes, also known as 'El Mencho', is waging a vicious war against rival cartels

By Matthew Dresch, Features Writer
03:15, 14 Oct 2019 | UPDATED 07:33, 14 OCT 2019

BOOKMARK

Listen to this article

A Mexican druglord, described as El Chapo's successor, has taken violence in the country to the next level.

Cartel boss Nemesio Cervantes has allegedly ordered the murder of pregnant women and babies as part of the ongoing drug wars in Mexico.

Cervantes, also known as 'El Mencho', is now top of the US's 'most wanted' list and has a bounty of £7.9million on his head.

As gang violence spirals out of control in Mexico, the country's politicians have warned that attacks against women are at 'pandemic levels'.

Nemesio Cervantes, also known as El Mencho, stands accused of ordering hits on women and babies (Image: DOJ)

A member of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel wielding a pistol (Image: CENI)

SEARCH

THE GREEK HERALD

HOME > NEWS > AUSTRALIA

Angelo Pandeli named in Australian cartel responsible for $1.5 billion drug imports

07 / 06 / 2021 · The Greek Herald

Angelo Pandeli

An exclusive story by The Age, The Sydney Morning Herald and 60 Minutes aired last night, revealing how some of Australia's most dangerous crime bosses have organised themselves into a cartel earning an estimated $1.5 billion a year by smuggling drugs past the nation's border with the help of corrupt government officials and border insiders.

This intel comes from the Australian Criminal Intelligence Commission which says nine Australian men, drawn mostly from Australian bikie gangs and Middle Eastern crime syndicates, make up what the agency has named the "Aussie cartel."

The CEO of the Commission, Michael Phelan, told the media outlets that the cartel's members are "the baddest of the bad" and estimated they were responsible for "about one-third of the drug importations into our country."

LATEST NEWS

COMMUNITY

From Cyprus invasion to SA politician: How Andrea Michaels' tough upbringing shaped her

18 / 07 / 2024

AUSTRALIA

Hellenic Club of Canberra awarded Woden

Log In

MERCURY

Get a read on this story

But it's a member-only story. Subscribe today to unlock it and more...

New most wanted: Fugitive bikie kingpin's meteoric rise

SA-born bikie and Sydney Hells Angels boss Angelo Pandeli has quietly assumed power over Australia's billion-dollar drug trade, living a lavish lifestyle overseas.

Choose from one of our tailored subscription packages below.

Full Digital Access

No lock-in contract

$4

for 4 weeks

Mirror

Click for Sound

44 BODIES FOUND AFTER MEXICAN DRUG MASSACRE

00:29 / 00:38

Bodies of women and children found after 'El Mencho' drug gang massacres 44 people

NEWS | POLITICS | FOOTBALL
CELEBS | TV | SHOPPING

Mexico's 'new El Chapo' slaughters women and babies in bloodiest ever cartel war

Mexico's new drug kingpin Nemesio Cervantes, also known as 'El Mencho', is waging a vicious war against rival cartels

By Matthew Dresch, Features Writer
03:11, 14 Oct 2019 | UPDATED 07:33, 14 OCT 2019

BOOKMARK

Listen to this article

A Mexican druglord, described as El Chapo's successor, has taken violence in the country to the next level.

Cartel boss Nemesio Cervantes has allegedly ordered the murder of pregnant women and babies as part of the ongoing drug wars in Mexico.

Cervantes, also known as 'El Mencho', is now top of the US's 'most wanted' list and has a bounty of £7.9million on his head.

As gang violence spirals out of control in Mexico, the country's politicians have warned that attacks against women are at 'pandemic levels'.

Nemesio Cervantes, also known as El Mencho, stands accused of ordering hits on women and babies (Image: DOJ)

A member of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel wielding a pistol (Image: CEN)

SEARCH

THE GREEK HERALD

HOME > NEWS > AUSTRALIA

Angelo Pandeli named in Australian cartel responsible for $1.5 billion drug imports

07 / 06 / 2021 The Greek Herald

Angelo Pandeli

An exclusive story by The Age, The Sydney Morning Herald and 60 Minutes aired last night, revealing how some of Australia's most dangerous crime bosses have organised themselves into a cartel earning an estimated $1.5 billion a year by smuggling drugs past the nation's border with the help of corrupt government officials and border insiders.

This intel comes from the Australian Criminal Intelligence Commission which says nine Australian men, drawn mostly from Australian bikie gangs and Middle Eastern crime syndicates, make up what the agency has named the "Aussie cartel."

The CEO of the Commission, Michael Phelan, told the media outlets that the cartel's members are "the baddest of the bad" and estimated they were responsible for "about one-third of the drug importations into our country."

Advertisement

LATEST NEWS

COMMUNITY

From Cyprus invasion to SA politician: How Andrea Michaels' tough upbringing shaped her

18 / 07 / 2024

AUSTRALIA

Hellenic Club of Canberra awarded Woden

Log In

MERCURY

Get a read on this story

But it's a member-only story. Subscribe today to unlock it and more…

New most wanted: Fugitive bikie kingpin's meteoric rise

SA-born bikie and Sydney Hells Angels boss Angelo Pandeli has quietely assumed power over Australia's billion-dollar drug trade, living a lavish lifestyle overseas.

Choose from one of our tailored subscription packages below.

Full Digital Access

✓ No lock-in contract

$4

for 4 weeks

Sentencing Due for Whittier Ex-Marine in Cross-Border Gun-Smuggling Scheme

Sentencing is scheduled Monday for a former U.S. Marine from Whittier who led a six-man scheme to smuggle high-powered weapons and ammunition to one of the most feared transnational drug cartels in Mexico.

Marco Antonio Santillan, 33, pleaded guilty in May 2022 to conspiracy to violate export regulations and conspiracy to commit money laundering, according to the U.S. Attorney's Office.

Genealogy.com

FORUM ARTICLES SEARCH

Home > Forum > Surnames > Santillan

Santillan as a Sephardic Surname

By Harry Stein December 26, 2001 at 10:05:43

The surname Santillan has been identified by the Holy Office of the Catholic Church of Spain as a Sephardic (Jewish) name.The Holy Office administered the Inquisition and gathered Sephardic names by census.If you are interested in researching this aspect of the Santillan family line, you are invited to visit Sephardim.com located at
http://www.sephardim.comhttp://www.sephardim.com

The Story Of Frank Costello, The Legendary Mob Boss Who Inspired 'The Godfather'

By Katie Serena | Edited By John Kuroski

Luciano family boss Frank Costello survived gang wars, police scrutiny, and an assassination attempt while becoming one of history's wealthiest mobsters.

As far as mob bosses go, there were three things that set Frank Costello apart: he never carried a gun, he testified at a Senate hearing on organized crime without the protection of the Fifth Amendment, and despite his multiple arrests and assassination attempt, he died a free man at age 82.

Frank Costello was arguably one of the most successful gangsters of all time. What's more, the "Prime Minister" of the mob was the man who inspired The Godfather himself, Don Vito Corleone.

Marlon Brando even watched footage of Frank Costello's appearance at the widely-publicized Kefauver Senate hearings and based both his character's calm demeanor and raspy voice on Costello.

About Staff Contact Advertise FAQ Privacy Policy Terms of Service

mynewsLA.com

Crime Government Business Education Hollywood Life OC Weather

CRIME

Sentencing Due for Whittier Ex-Marine in Cross-Border Gun-Smuggling Scheme

by Contributing Editor
January 8, 2024

Handguns. MyNewsLA photo by Chancy O'Dessky

Sentencing is scheduled Monday for a former U.S. Marine from Whittier who led a six-man scheme to smuggle high-powered weapons and ammunition to one of the most feared transnational drug cartels in Mexico.

Marco Antonio Santillan, 53, pleaded guilty in May 2022 to conspiracy to violate export regulations and conspiracy to commit money laundering, according to the U.S. Attorney's Office.

PASTOR
Retired

Washington Examiner

Subscribe

Six charged in scheme to smuggle firearms and ammunition to Mexican drug cartel

By Asher Notheis

January 25, 2022 4:13 pm

The Justice Department announced Monday it had charged six people connected to a gun trafficking organization that smuggled firearms and ammunition to one of the largest and most violent drug cartels in Mexico.

The department stated that the leader of the organization is allegedly Marco Antonio Santillan Valencia, 51, who is believed to have used the organization to obtain and supply weapons, firearms parts, and ammunition for the Jalisco Nueva Generacion Cartel. Other defendants charged by the department were Marco Santillan Jr., 29, Anthony Marmolejo Aguilar, 30, Michael Diaz, 33, Luis De Arcos, 51, and Rafael Magallon Castillo, 34.

EL PAÍS
'El Mencho': Chasing the most lord in Mexico

“there are no coincidences”
-Marjorie Taylor Green

Knappily

Visit

Neanderthals became 'feminine' by mating with humans | Knappily

Glass Staircase

Today Apple retail stores sell more per square foot than any other retail store. When your CEO is so focused that he patents a better staircase, well, maybe that's what happens.

Power Adapter (2006)

Sometimes, a power adapter is more than just a power adapter. Sometimes, it is something that causes your PC friends – fumbling with wild black cords with delicate tips and rubber straps – to look at you with envy. It a simple power adapter with a brilliant design is something that lets you know that the top dog in the company is looking out for every detail.

iPhone OS / iOS (2007)

iOS is the leading mobile device operating system in the world. It is simple, powerful, and beautiful, and the iPad and iPhone would not be the market-changing devices they are without it.

Magic Mouse (2009)

Look Ma, no wheels! When the Magic Mouse was released in 2009, it was the first consumer mouse to have multi-touch capabilities. Ok, Steve, this one makes up for the hockey puck.

CHM

HOME ▸ CHM BLOG ▸ REMARKABLE PEOPLE

STEVE JOBS: FROM GARAGE TO WORLD'S MOST VALUABLE COMPANY

By Dag Spicer | December 02, 2011

FIRST

So we're sitting in the payphone trying to make a blue box c
And the operator comes back on the line. And we're all sca and we'd try it again. ... And she comes back on the line; w all scared so we put in money. And then a cop car pulls up.
Steve was shaking, you know, and he got the blue box back
my pocket. I got it– he got it to me because the cop turned look in the bushes for drugs or something, you know? So I
the box in my pocket. The cop pats me down and says, "Wh this?" I said, "It's an electronic music synthesizer." Wasn't t musical. Second cop says, "What's the orange button for?"
for calibration," says Steve.

NBC NEWS

Chinese Apple fans say farewell to 'Master Jobs'

A Chinese man takes a photo of flowers and tributes to Steve Jobs placed outside the Apple retail store in Beijing, China on Thursday. Click on the photo to see a slideshow of world reactions to Jobs death.

iMac G3 (1998)

Of all the great Apple products in the last 35 years, the iMac G3 is truly iconic. It symbolized the return of top spot in the company, and showed how high he immediately set the bar for innovative and disruptive quipped "the back of our computer looks better than the front of anyone else's". And Apple has never lo

Patent # D418125, Filed 1998

USB Mouse (1998)

USB Mouse (1998)

OK, we know how you felt about this one, and trust us, we felt the same way. But the Hockey Puck most speak to the boundaries that Cupertino design was willing to cross once Jobs came back to the helm.

Patent # D472245, Filed 2001

iPod (2001)

npr

DONATE

Play Live Radio

BOOKS

LISTEN & FOLLOW

Steve Jobs: The Story Of The Man Behind The Personal Computer

OCTOBER 9, 2015 · 3:41 PM ET

HEARD ON FRESH AIR

37-Minute Listen

+ PLAYLIST

The Apple founder spoke with Fresh Air's Terry Gross in 1996. Later, after he was diagnosed with cancer, Jobs asked Walter Isaacson to write his biography. Isaacson spoke to Fresh Air Oct. 25, 2011.

Hear The Original Interview

Transcript

DAVID BIANCULLI, HOST:

This is FRESH AIR. I'm David Bianculli, editor of TV Worth Watching, sitting in for Terry Gross. The movie "Steve Jobs," with a screenplay by Aaron Sorkin based on the best-selling biography by Walter Isaacson, opens today in New York and LA. Today on FRESH AIR, we'll listen back to Terry's 2011 interview with Isaacson and hear what our film critic, David Edelstein, thinks of the film. But let's start with an excerpt of an interview Terry recorded with Steve Jobs himself. They spoke in 1996.

(SOUNDBITE OF ARCHIVED BROADCAST)

TERRY GROSS, HOST:

From what I've read, it sounds like you were really the advocate for having a mouse on the Mac. Why did you push for that and what was the argument against it?

STEVE JOBS: Well, as I mentioned earlier, I went to Xerox PARC, Palo Alto

Glass Staircase
Today Apple retail stores sell more per square foot than any other retail store. When your CEO is so focused that he patents a better staircase, well, maybe that's what happens.

Patent # D519922, Filed 2005 — Power Adapter (2006)

Power Adapter (2006)
Sometimes, a power adapter is more than just a power adapter. Sometimes, it is something that causes your PC friends -- fumbling with wild black cords with delicate tips and rubber straps -- to look at you with envy. It a simple power adapter with a brilliant design is something that lets you know that the top dog in the company is looking out for every detail.

Patent # 0122796, Filed 2007 — iPhone OS / iOS (2007)

iPhone OS / iOS (2007)
iOS is the leading mobile device operating system in the world. It is simple, powerful, and beautiful, and the iPad and iPhone would not be the market-changing devices they are without it.

Patent # D624917, Filed 2008 — Magic Mouse (2009)

Magic Mouse (2009)
Look Ma, no wheels! When the Magic Mouse was released in 2009, it was the first consumer mouse to have multi-touch capabilities. Ok, Steve, this one makes up for the hockey puck.

CHM Computer History Museum

HOME > CHM BLOG > REMARKABLE PEOPLE

STEVE JOBS: FROM GARAGE TO WORLD'S MOST VALUABLE COMPANY

By Dag Spicer | December 02, 2011

FIRST

So we're sitting in the payphone trying to make a blue box c
And the operator comes back on the line. And we're all sca and we'd try it again. ... And she comes back on the line; we all scared so we put in money. And then a cop car pulls up.
Steve was shaking, you know, and he got the blue box back
my pocket. I got it– he got it to me because the cop turned look in the bushes for drugs or something, you know? So I
the box in my pocket. The cop pats me down and says, "Wh
this?" I said, "It's an electronic music synthesizer." Wasn't musical. Second cop says, "What's the orange button for?"
for calibration," says Steve.

NBC NEWS — Chinese Apple fans say farewell to 'Mas — SHARE & SAVE

Chinese Apple fans say farewell to 'Master Jobs'

A Chinese man takes a photo of flowers and tributes to Steve Jobs placed outside the Apple retail store in Beijing, China on Thursday. Click on the photo to see a slideshow of world reactions to Jobs death. Ng Han Guan / AP

iMac G3 (1998)

iMac G3 (1998)
Of all the great Apple products in the last 35 years, the iMac G3 is truly iconic. It symbolized the return of top spot in the company, and showed how high he immediately set the bar for innovative and disruptive quipped "the back of our computer looks better than the front of anyone else's". And Apple has never loo

Patent # D418125, Filed 1998 — USB Mouse (19

USB Mouse (1998)
OK, we know how you felt about this one, and trust us, we felt the same way. But the Hockey Puck most c speak to the boundaries that Cupertino design was willing to cross once Jobs came back to the helm.

Patent # D472245, Filed 2001 — iPod (2001)

npr — DONATE — Play Live Radio — HOURLY NEWS — LISTEN

FRESH AIR — BOOKS — LISTEN & FOLLOW

Steve Jobs: The Story Of The Man Behind The Personal Computer

OCTOBER 9, 2015 · 3:41 PM ET

HEARD ON FRESH AIR

37-Minute Listen — + PLAYLIST

The Apple founder spoke with Fresh Air's Terry Gross in 1996. Later, after he was diagnosed with cancer, Jobs asked Walter Isaacson to write his biography. Isaacson spoke to Fresh Air Oct. 25, 2011.

Hear The Original Interview

Transcript

DAVID BIANCULLI, HOST:

This is FRESH AIR. I'm David Bianculli, editor of TV Worth Watching, sitting in for Terry Gross. The movie "Steve Jobs," with a screenplay by Aaron Sorkin based on the best-selling biography by Walter Isaacson, opens today in New York and LA. Today on FRESH AIR, we'll listen back to Terry's 2011 interview with Isaacson and hear what our film critic, David Edelstein, thinks of the film. But let's start with an excerpt of an interview Terry recorded with Steve Jobs himself. They spoke in 1996.

(SOUNDBITE OF ARCHIVED BROADCAST)

TERRY GROSS, HOST:

From what I've read, it sounds like you were really the advocate for having a mouse on the Mac. Why did you push for that and what was the argument against it?

STEVE JOBS: Well, as I mentioned earlier, I went to Xerox PARC, Palo Alto

Glass Staircase
Today Apple retail stores sell more per square foot than any other retail store. When your CEO is so focused that he patents a better staircase, well, maybe that's what happens.

Patent # D519922, Filed 2005

Power Adapter (2006)

Power Adapter (2006)
Sometimes, a power adapter is more than just a power adapter. Sometimes, it is something that causes your PC friends -- fumbling with wild black cords with delicate tips and rubber straps -- to look at you with envy. It a simple power adapter with a brilliant design is something that lets you know that the top dog in the company is looking out for every detail.

Patent # 0122796, Filed 2007

iPhone OS / iOS (2007)

iPhone OS / iOS (2007)
iOS is the leading mobile device operating system in the world. It is simple, powerful, and beautiful, and the iPad and iPhone would not be the market-changing devices they are without it.

Patent # D624917, Filed 2008

Magic Mouse (2009)

Magic Mouse (2009)
Look Ma, no wheels! When the Magic Mouse was released in 2009, it was the first consumer mouse to have multi-touch capabilities. Ok, Steve, this one makes up for the hockey puck.

CHM Computer History Museum

HOME > CHM BLOG > REMARKABLE PEOPLE

STEVE JOBS: FROM GARAGE TO WORLD'S MOST VALUABLE COMPANY

By Dag Spicer | December 02, 2011

FIRST

So we're sitting in the payphone trying to make a blue box c
And the operator comes back on the line. And we're all sca and we'd try it again. ... And she comes back on the line; we all scared so we put in money. And then a cop car pulls up.
Steve was shaking, you know, and he got the blue box back
my pocket. I got it– he got it to me because the cop turned look in the bushes for drugs or something, you know? So I
the box in my pocket. The cop pats me down and says, "Wh
this?" I said, "It's an electronic music synthesizer." Wasn't musical. Second cop says, "What's the orange button for?"
for calibration," says Steve.

NBC NEWS Chinese Apple fans say farewell to 'Ma SHARE & SAVE

Chinese Apple fans say farewell to 'Master Jobs'

A Chinese man takes a photo of flowers and tributes to Steve Jobs placed outside the Apple retail store in Beijing, China on Thursday. Click on the photo to see a slideshow of world reactions to Jobs death. Ng Han Guan / AP

iMac G3 (1998)

iMac G3 (1998)
Of all the great Apple products in the last 35 years, the iMac G3 is truly iconic. It symbolized the return of top spot in the company, and showed how high he immediately set the bar for innovative and disruptive quipped "the back of our computer looks better than the front of anyone else's". And Apple has never loo

Patent # D418125, Filed 1998

USB Mouse (19

USB Mouse (1998)
OK, we know how you felt about this one, and trust us, we felt the same way. But the Hockey Puck most c speak to the boundaries that Cupertino design was willing to cross once Jobs came back to the helm.

Patent # D472245, Filed 2001

iPod (2001)

npr DONATE Play Live Radio
HOURLY NEWS LISTEN

FRESH AIR BOOKS LISTEN & FOLLOW

Steve Jobs: The Story Of The Man Behind The Personal Computer

OCTOBER 9, 2015 · 3:41 PM ET
HEARD ON FRESH AIR

37-Minute Listen + PLAYLIST

The Apple founder spoke with Fresh Air's Terry Gross in 1996. Later, after he was diagnosed with cancer, Jobs asked Walter Isaacson to write his biography. Isaacson spoke to Fresh Air Oct. 25, 2011.

Hear The Original Interview

Transcript

DAVID BIANCULLI, HOST:

This is FRESH AIR. I'm David Bianculli, editor of TV Worth Watching, sitting in for Terry Gross. The movie "Steve Jobs," with a screenplay by Aaron Sorkin based on the best-selling biography by Walter Isaacson, opens today in New York and LA. Today on FRESH AIR, we'll listen back to Terry's 2011 interview with Isaacson and hear what our film critic, David Edelstein, thinks of the film. But let's start with an excerpt of an interview Terry recorded with Steve Jobs himself. They spoke in 1996.

(SOUNDBITE OF ARCHIVED BROADCAST)

TERRY GROSS, HOST:

From what I've read, it sounds like you were really the advocate for having a mouse on the Mac. Why did you push for that and what was the argument against it?

STEVE JOBS: Well, as I mentioned earlier, I went to Xerox PARC, Palo Alto

The economy of Switzerland is offically reported as having a debt-to-GDP ratio of 39.1%, indicating Switzerland's debt level is $316 Billion.

World Economics has reassessed

National debt of Poland 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

The statistic shows the national debt of Poland from 2019 to 2022, with projections up until 2029. In 2022, the national debt of Poland amounted to around 1,636.97 billion U.S. dollars.

Key information about Sweden National Government Debt

- Sweden National Government Debt reached 196.0 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 172.0 USD bn in the previous quarter.
- Sweden National Government Debt data is updated quarterly, available from Mar 1999 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 246.7 USD bn in Dec 2020 and a record low of 116.0 USD bn in Jun 2001.

Key information about Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt

- Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt reached 3.4 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 3.3 USD bn in the previous year.
- Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt data is updated yearly, available from Dec 2007 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 4.0 USD bn in Dec 2013 and a record low of 2.2 USD bn in Dec 2007.

Germany's total public debt reached €2.37 trillion (roughly $2.6 trillion) at the end of 2022 — a new record high — Federal Statistical Office (Destatis) announced on Wednesday.

The level of debt corresponded to a 2% — or €46.1 billion — rise from the end of 2021, when the coronavirus pandemic was still in full swing.

According to Destatis, the national public debt has reached the equivellent of €28,155 per person in Germany.

National debt of Italy 2019-2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

This statistic shows the national debt of Italy from 2019 to 2023, with projections up until 2029. In 2023, the national debt in Italy was around 3.1 trillion U.S. dollars.

National debt of Egypt 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 22, 2024

The national debt in Egypt was forecast to continuously increase between 2024 and 2029 by in total 128.4 billion U.S. dollars (+46.5 percent). After the tenth consecutive increasing year, the national debt is estimated to reach 404.48 billion U.S. dollars and therefore a new peak in 2029. Notably, the national debt was continuously increasing over the past years.
The indicator describes the general government gross debt

Iran External Debt 1960-2024

Population | Economy | Trade | Health | Education | Development | Labor Force | Environment

Trade Balance | Trade to GDP Ratio | Exports | Imports | Foreign Direct Investment | Tariff Rates

Total external debt is debt owed to nonresidents repayable in currency, goods, or services. publicly guaranteed, and private nonguaranteed long-term debt, use of IMF credit, and sho all debt having an original maturity of one year or less and interest in arrears on long-term

- Iran external debt for 2022 was $9,950,397,347, a 3.85% decline from 2021.
- Iran external debt for 2021 was $10,348,874,167, a 90.48% increase from 2020.
- Iran external debt for 2020 was $5,433,188,396, a 11.9% increase from 2019.
- Iran external debt for 2019 was $4,855,393,068, a 15.9% decline from 2018.

National debt of Iraq 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 17, 2024

The national debt in Iraq was forecast to continuously increase between 2024 and 2029 by in total 169.9 billion U.S. dollars (+133.52 percent). After the sixth consecutive increasing year, the national debt is estimated to reach 297.12 billion U.S. dollars and therefore a new peak in 2029.
As defined by the International Monetary Fund, the general government

y information about Turkey National Government Debt

- Turkey National Government Debt reached 254.5 USD bn in Dec 2022, compared with 233.3 USD bn in the previous year.
- Turkey National Government Debt data is updated yearly, available from Dec 2001 to Dec 2022.
- The data reached an all-time high of 299.2 USD bn in Dec 2010 and a record low of 129.4 USD bn in Dec 2001.

Iran External Debt 1960-2024

The economy of Switzerland is offically reported as having a debt-to-GDP ratio of 39.1%, indicating Switzerland's debt level is $316 Billion.

World Economics has reassessed

National debt of Poland 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

The statistic shows the national debt of Poland from 2019 to 2022, with projections up until 2029. In 2022, the national debt of Poland amounted to around 1,636.97 billion U.S. dollars.

Key information about Sweden National Government Debt

- Sweden National Government Debt reached 196.0 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 172.0 USD bn in the previous quarter.
- Sweden National Government Debt data is updated quarterly, available from Mar 1999 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 246.7 USD bn in Dec 2020 and a record low of 116.0 USD bn in Jun 2001.

Key information about Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt

- Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt reached 3.4 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 3.3 USD bn in the previous year.
- Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt data is updated yearly, available from Dec 2007 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 4.0 USD bn in Dec 2013 and a record low of 2.2 USD bn in Dec 2007.

Germany's total public debt reached €2.37 trillion (roughly $2.6 trillion) at the end of 2022 — a new record high — Federal Statistical Office (Destatis) announced on Wednesday.

The level of debt corresponded to a 2% — or €46.1 billion — rise from the end of 2021, when the coronavirus pandemic was still in full swing.

According to Destatis, the national public debt has reached the equivellent of €28,155 per person in Germany.

National debt of Italy 2019-2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

This statistic shows the national debt of Italy from 2019 to 2023, with projections up until 2029. In 2023, the national debt in Italy was around 3.1 trillion U.S. dollars.

National debt of Egypt 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 22, 2024

The national debt in Egypt was forecast to continuously increase between 2024 and 2029 by in total 128.4 billion U.S. dollars (+46.5 percent). After the tenth consecutive increasing year, the national debt is estimated to reach 404.48 billion U.S. dollars and therefore a new peak in 2029. Notably, the national debt was continuously increasing over the past years.
The indicator describes the general government gross debt

Iran External Debt 1960-2024

Population | Economy | Trade | Health | Education | Development | Labor Force | Environment

Trade Balance | Trade to GDP Ratio | Exports | Imports | Foreign Direct Investment | Tariff Rates

Total external debt is debt owed to nonresidents repayable in currency, goods, or services. publicly guaranteed, and private nonguaranteed long-term debt, use of IMF credit, and sho all debt having an original maturity of one year or less and interest in arrears on long-term

- Iran external debt for 2022 was $9,950,397,347, a 3.85% decline from 2021.
- Iran external debt for 2021 was $10,348,874,167, a 90.48% increase from 2020.
- Iran external debt for 2020 was $5,433,188,396, a 11.9% increase from 2019.
- Iran external debt for 2019 was $4,855,393,068, a 15.9% decline from 2018.

National debt of Iraq 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 17, 2024

The national debt in Iraq was forecast to continuously increase between 2024 and 2029 by in total 169.9 billion U.S. dollars (+133.52 percent). After the sixth consecutive increasing year, the national debt is estimated to reach 297.12 billion U.S. dollars and therefore a new peak in 2029.
As defined by the International Monetary Fund, the general government

Key information about Turkey National Government Debt

- Turkey National Government Debt reached 254.5 USD bn in Dec 2022, compared with 233.3 USD bn in the previous year.
- Turkey National Government Debt data is updated yearly, available from Dec 2001 to Dec 2022.
- The data reached an all-time high of 299.2 USD bn in Dec 2010 and a record low of 129.4 USD bn in Dec 2001.

The economy of Switzerland is offically reported as having a debt-to-GDP ratio of 39.1%, indicating Switzerland's debt level is $316 Billion.

World Economics has reassessed

National debt of Poland 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

The statistic shows the national debt of Poland from 2019 to 2022, with projections up until 2029. In 2022, the national debt of Poland amounted to around 1,636.97 billion U.S. dollars.

Key information about Sweden National Government Debt

- Sweden National Government Debt reached 196.0 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 172.0 USD bn in the previous quarter.
- Sweden National Government Debt data is updated quarterly, available from Mar 1999 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 246.7 USD bn in Dec 2020 and a record low of 116.0 USD bn in Jun 2001.

Key information about Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt

- Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt reached 3.4 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 3.3 USD bn in the previous year.
- Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt data is updated yearly, available from Dec 2007 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 4.0 USD bn in Dec 2013 and a record low of 2.2 USD bn in Dec 2007.

DW

Germany's total public debt reached €2.37 trillion (roughly $2.6 trillion) at the end of 2022 — a new record high — Federal Statistical Office (Destatis) announced on Wednesday.

The level of debt corresponded to a 2% — or €46.1 billion — rise from the end of 2021, when the coronavirus pandemic was still in full swing.

According to Destatis, the national public debt has reached the equivellent of €28,155 per person in Germany.

National debt of Italy 2019-2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

This statistic shows the national debt of Italy from 2019 to 2023, with projections up until 2029. In 2023, the national debt in Italy was around 3.1 trillion U.S. dollars.

National debt of Egypt 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 22, 2024

The national debt in Egypt was forecast to continuously increase between 2024 and 2029 by in total 128.4 billion U.S. dollars (+46.5 percent). After the tenth consecutive increasing year, the national debt is estimated to reach 404.48 billion U.S. dollars and therefore a new peak in 2029. Notably, the national debt was continuously increasing over the past years.
The indicator describes the general government gross debt

Iran External Debt 1960-2024

Population | Economy | Trade | Health | Education | Development | Labor Force | Environment

Trade Balance | Trade to GDP Ratio | Exports | Imports | Foreign Direct Investment | Tariff Rates

Total external debt is debt owed to nonresidents repayable in currency, goods, or services. publicly guaranteed, and private nonguaranteed long-term debt, use of IMF credit, and sho all debt having an original maturity of one year or less and interest in arrears on long-term

- Iran external debt for 2022 was $9,950,397,347, a 3.85% decline from 2021.
- Iran external debt for 2021 was $10,348,874,167, a 90.48% increase from 2020.
- Iran external debt for 2020 was $5,433,188,396, a 11.9% increase from 2019.
- Iran external debt for 2019 was $4,855,393,068, a 15.9% decline from 2018.

National debt of Iraq 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 17, 2024

The national debt in Iraq was forecast to continuously increase between 2024 and 2029 by in total 169.9 billion U.S. dollars (+133.52 percent). After the sixth consecutive increasing year, the national debt is estimated to reach 297.12 billion U.S. dollars and therefore a new peak in 2029.
As defined by the International Monetary Fund, the general government

y information about Turkey National Government Debt

- Turkey National Government Debt reached 254.5 USD bn in Dec 2022, compared with 233.3 USD bn in the previous year.
- Turkey National Government Debt data is updated yearly, available from Dec 2001 to Dec 2022.
- The data reached an all-time high of 299.2 USD bn in Dec 2010 and a record low of 129.4 USD bn in Dec 2001.

The economy of Switzerland is offically reported as having a debt-to-GDP ratio of 39.1%, indicating Switzerland's debt level is $316 Billion.

World Economics has reassessed

National debt of Poland 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

The statistic shows the national debt of Poland from 2019 to 2022, with projections up until 2029. In 2022, the national debt of Poland amounted to around 1,636.97 billion U.S. dollars.

Key information about Sweden National Government Debt

- Sweden National Government Debt reached 196.0 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 172.0 USD bn in the previous quarter.
- Sweden National Government Debt data is updated quarterly, available from Mar 1999 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 246.7 USD bn in Dec 2020 and a record low of 116.0 USD bn in Jun 2001.

Key information about Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt

- Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt reached 3.4 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 3.3 USD bn in the previous year.
- Bosnia and Herzegovina National Government Debt data is updated yearly, available from Dec 2007 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 4.0 USD bn in Dec 2013 and a record low of 2.2 USD bn in Dec 2007.

DW

Germany's total public debt reached €2.37 trillion (roughly $2.6 trillion) at the end of 2022 — a new record high — Federal Statistical Office (Destatis) announced on Wednesday.

The level of debt corresponded to a 2% — or €46.1 billion — rise from the end of 2021, when the coronavirus pandemic was still in full swing.

According to Destatis, the national public debt has reached the equivellent of €28,155 per person in Germany.

National debt of Italy 2019-2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

This statistic shows the national debt of Italy from 2019 to 2023, with projections up until 2029. In 2023, the national debt in Italy was around 3.1 trillion U.S. dollars.

National debt of Egypt 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 22, 2024

The national debt in Egypt was forecast to continuously increase between 2024 and 2029 by in total 128.4 billion U.S. dollars (+46.5 percent). After the tenth consecutive increasing year, the national debt is estimated to reach 404.48 billion U.S. dollars and therefore a new peak in 2029. Notably, the national debt was continuously increasing over the past years.
The indicator describes the general government gross debt

Iran External Debt 1960-2024

Population | Economy | Trade | Health | Education | Development | Labor Force | Environment

Trade Balance | Trade to GDP Ratio | Exports | Imports | Foreign Direct Investment | Tariff Rates

Total external debt is debt owed to nonresidents repayable in currency, goods, or services. publicly guaranteed, and private nonguaranteed long-term debt, use of IMF credit, and sho all debt having an original maturity of one year or less and interest in arrears on long-term

- Iran external debt for 2022 was $9,950,397,347, a 3.85% decline from 2021.
- Iran external debt for 2021 was $10,348,874,167, a 90.48% increase from 2020.
- Iran external debt for 2020 was $5,433,188,396, a 11.9% increase from 2019.
- Iran external debt for 2019 was $4,855,393,068, a 15.9% decline from 2018.

National debt of Iraq 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 17, 2024

The national debt in Iraq was forecast to continuously increase between 2024 and 2029 by in total 169.9 billion U.S. dollars (+133.52 percent). After the sixth consecutive increasing year, the national debt is estimated to reach 297.12 billion U.S. dollars and therefore a new peak in 2029.
As defined by the International Monetary Fund, the general government

y information about Turkey National Government Debt

- Turkey National Government Debt reached 254.5 USD bn in Dec 2022, compared with 233.3 USD bn in the previous year.
- Turkey National Government Debt data is updated yearly, available from Dec 2001 to Dec 2022.
- The data reached an all-time high of 299.2 USD bn in Dec 2010 and a record low of 129.4 USD bn in Dec 2001.

- Mexico National Government Debt reached 940.7 USD bn in Apr 2024, compared with 960.4 USD bn in the previous month.
- Mexico National Government Debt data is updated monthly, available from Dec 2005 to Apr 2024.
- The data reached an all-time high of 960.4 USD bn in Mar 2024 and a record low of 197.7 USD bn in Dec 2005.
- Argentina National Government Debt reached 370.7 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 406.9 USD bn in the previous quarter.
- Argentina National Government Debt data is updated quarterly, available from Dec 1994 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 406.9 USD bn in Sep 2023 and a record low of 74.6 USD bn in Dec 1994.

Key information about Saudi Arabia National Government Debt

- Saudi Arabia National Government Debt reached 273.1 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 264.0 USD bn in the previous year.
- Saudi Arabia National Government Debt data is updated yearly, available from Dec 2004 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 273.1 USD bn in Dec 2023 and a record low of 11.8 USD bn in Dec 2014.

CEIC converts annual Government Debt into USD. The Ministry of Finance provides Outstanding Government Domestic Debt

The New York Times

Why China Has a Giant Pile of Debt

A major lender shared. China is facing a debt bomb at home: trillions of dollars owed by local governments, their financial affiliates, and real estate developers.

What was Israel's National Government Debt in 2023?

Israel National Government Debt reached 310.8 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared 294.7 USD bn in the previous year. See the table below for more data.

National debt of India 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

In 2021, the national debt of India amounted to around 2.37 trillion U.S. dollars. Projections show an upward trend, with a significant increase each year.

Honor thy national debt

Syrian Arab Republic External Debt 1960-

National debt of the United Kingdom 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

This statistic shows the national debt of the United Kingdom from 2019 to 2022, with projections up until 2029. In 2022, the national debt in the United Kingdom was about 3.46 trillion U.S. dollars.

Reduction of the national debt and recovery of the economy in the UK

The debt of the United Kingdom, which amounted to around 1,600 billion pounds in 2014 - more than it has ever been - is projected to keep rising. Since the economic recession of

Published by Aaron O'Neill, Jun 13, 2024

The statistic shows the national debt of France from 2019 to 2022, with projections up until 2029. In 2022, the national debt of France amounted to around 3.19 trillion U.S. dollars. For comparison, the Greek debt amounted to approximately 392.27 billion euros that same year.

Total external debt is debt owed to nonresidents repayable in currency, goods, or services. To publicly guaranteed, and private nonguaranteed long-term debt, use of IMF credit, and short-t all debt having an original maturity of one year or less and interest in arrears on long-term det

- Myanmar external debt for 2022 was $12,537,515,247, a 8.88% decline from 2021.
- Myanmar external debt for 2021 was $13,758,854,822, a 2.62% increase from 2020.
- Myanmar external debt for 2020 was $13,407,423,214, a 19.9% increase from 2019.
- Myanmar external debt for 2019 was $11,182,088,460, a 4.2% increase from 2018.

- Mexico National Government Debt reached 943.7 USD bn in Apr 2024, compared with 960.4 USD bn in the previous month.
- Mexico National Government Debt data is updated monthly, available from Dec 2005 to Apr 2024.
- The data reached an all-time high of 960.4 USD bn in Mar 2024 and a record low of 197.7 USD bn in Dec 2005.
- Argentina National Government Debt reached 370.7 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 406.9 USD bn in the previous quarter.
- Argentina National Government Debt data is updated quarterly, available from Dec 1994 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 406.9 USD bn in Sep 2023 and a record low of 74.6 USD bn in Dec 1994.

The Ministry of Treasury provides quarterly Government Debt

Key information about Saudi Arabia National Government Debt

- Saudi Arabia National Government Debt reached 273.1 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared with 264.0 USD bn in the previous year.
- Saudi Arabia National Government Debt data is updated yearly, available from Dec 2004 to Dec 2023.
- The data reached an all-time high of 273.1 USD bn in Dec 2023 and a record low of 11.8 USD bn in Dec 2014.

CEIC converts annual Government Debt into USD. The Ministry of Finance provides Outstanding Government Domestic Debt

national debt?

of Australia's national debt was $805 billion.
trillion dollars.
total, or gross debt figure is not the best deb
, which takes the total debt then subtracts m like cash it holds, deposits and loans it is ow at $515 billion, or just over half a trillion doll money. But economists also look to another k
bt, to the size of Australia's economy.

DP (% percent)

ury can borrow is limited by the United

$30 trillion mark for the first time in history al federal debt was $33.1 trillion; $26.5 trillio overnmental debt.[7] In February 2024, the trillion after having grown by approximately ds since the previous June.[8] The annualiz in July 2023, which accounted for 14% of the , debt held by the public was estimated at his public debt was owned by foreigners ates has the largest external debt in th
s held by foreign entities in December ember 2020.[11]

onomist magazine, Canada's $1.1 trillion, which is $32,50

SC
adas-current-debt/

The New York Times

China's Economy | An I.P.O. Drought | Exports Surge | Real Estate Bailout | Housing Crisis | Industrial Policy

Why China Has a Giant Pile of Debt

A major lender abroad, China is facing a debt bomb at home: trillions of dollars owed by local governments, their financial affiliates, and real estate developers.

Share full article

What was Israel's National Government Debt in 2023?

Israel National Government Debt reached 310.8 USD bn in Dec 2023, compared 294.7 USD bn in the previous year. See the table below for more data.

National debt of India 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

In 2021, the national debt of India amounted to around 2.37 trillion U.S. dollars. Projections show an upward trend, with a significant increase each year.

Honor thy national debt

Syrian Arab Republic External Debt 1960-

Population | Economy | Trade | Health | Education | Development | Labor Force | Environment

Trade Balance | Trade to GDP Ratio | Exports | Imports | Foreign Direct Investment | Tariff Rates

Total external debt is debt owed to nonresidents repayable in currency, goods, or services. T publicly guaranteed, and private nonguaranteed long-term debt, use of IMF credit, and short all debt having an original maturity of one year or less and interest in arrears on long-term d

- Syrian Arab Republic external debt for 2022 was $4,847,741,936, a 3.6% decline from
- Syrian Arab Republic external debt for 2021 was $5,028,598,332, a 5.57% increase fr
- Syrian Arab Republic external debt for 2020 was $4,763,247,278, a 3.77% increase fr
- Syrian Arab Republic external debt for 2019 was $4,590,239,654, a 0.15% increase fr

National debt of the United Kingdom 2029

Published by Aaron O'Neill, May 30, 2024

This statistic shows the national debt of the United Kingdom from 2019 to 2022, with projections up until 2029. In 2022, the national debt in the United Kingdom was about 3.46 trillion U.S. dollars.

Reduction of the national debt and recovery of the economy in the UK

The debt of the United Kingdom, which amounted to around 1,600 billion pounds in 2014 - more than it has ever been - is projected to keep rising. Since the economic recession of

Published by Aaron O'Neill, Jun 13, 2024

The statistic shows the national debt of France from 2019 to 2022, with projections up until 2029. In 2022, the national debt of France amounted to around 3.19 trillion U.S. dollars. For comparison, the Greek debt amounted to approximately 392.27 billion euros that same year.

FOX 35 ORLANDO

Man running on water inside 'bubble' for charity washes up on Florida beach

FLAGLER COUNTY, Fla. - The Flagler County Sheriff's Office said a strange vessel washed ashore on Saturday morning. It turned out to be a Central Florida man who was 'walking on water' for charity.

"I will show people anything you want to do, do it. Don't listen to anyone. Chase your dreams."

NBC NEWS

Florida man arrested after trying to cross Atlantic in 'human-powered hamster wheel'

By Inyoung Choi

A man from Florida who was trying to cross the Atlantic in a "human-powered hamster wheel" was arrested by the Coast Guard, according to court documents.

Reza Baluchi was 70 miles off Georgia when officers found him during a "manifestly unsafe voyage" while Hurricane Franklin was headed toward the area, the Coast Guard said Wednesday in a statement on Facebook.

Reza Baluchi

Reza Baluchi in his water craft in 2016 with members of the US Coast Guard

Background

Bubble expeditions

2014 attempt to reach Bermuda and Puerto Rico

FOX 35 ORLANDO | Live | News | Weather | Good Day Orlando | We Love Florida | Contests | More

Heat Advisory

Man running on water inside 'bubble' for charity washes up on Florida beach

Body cam shows wheel wash onshore

FLAGLER COUNTY, Fla. - The Flagler County Sheriff's Office said a strange vessel washed ashore on Saturday morning. It turned out to be a Central Florida man who was 'walking on water' for charity.

"I will show people anything you want to do, do it. Don't listen to anyone. Chase your dreams."

Bodycam shows wheel that washed up on Florida beach

In an exclusive interview with FOX 35 News, Reza Baluchi says he is no stranger to the water. He calls his floating contraption his bubble. But his bubble washed ashore in Flagler County early Saturday morning.

"My goal is to not only raise money for homeless people, raise money for the Coast Guard, raise money for the police department, raise money for the fire department. They are in public service, they do it for safety and they help other people."

ICELAND
FIND YOUR ADVENTURE
SIDE STAGE

Latest News

Teen girl goes missing on the Fourth of July from Daytona Beach, police say

Polk County deputy resigns after arrest on domestic violence charges

What is a rip current? Here's how to escape safely if you ever get caught in one

Citrus County fire training captain dies in Fourth of July boat crash in Crystal River

Teen loses fingers in Berkeley July 4 fireworks mishap: neighbors

Trending

1. Is Publix open on the Fourth of July? Here's a look at Florida grocery store hours
2. Florida mom arrested after 2-year-old found wandering alone for hours in neighborhood, deputies say
3. Florida man who lost most of his fingers in fireworks explosion

NBC NEWS | WATCH LIVE

Florida man arrested after trying to cross Atlantic in 'human-powered hamster wheel'

It isn't the first time Reza Baluchi has tried to get across the ocean in a human-powered object.

A "human-powered hamster wheel." U.S. Coast Guard Via Facebook

SAVE

Sept. 7, 2023, 12:47 PM CDT

By Inyoung Choi

A man from Florida who was trying to cross the Atlantic in a "human-powered hamster wheel" was arrested by the Coast Guard, according to court documents.

Reza Baluchi was 70 miles off Georgia when officers found him during a "manifestly unsafe voyage" while Hurricane Franklin was headed toward the area, the Coast Guard said Wednesday in a statement on Facebook.

Reza Baluchi

Add languages

Article | Talk | Read | Edit | View history | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Reza Ray Baluchi (born 1972)[1] is an Iranian athlete and activist living in the United States. He has several times attempted to travel long distances off the East Coast of the United States in a self-propelled water craft resembling a hamster ball, which he calls a "hydro pod" or bubble.

Reza Baluchi in his water craft in 2016, with members of the US Coast Guard

Background [edit]

Baluchi was born in Rasht,[2] and in Iran was tortured and served 18 months of a two-year sentence for offenses against Islam;[3] [4] After cycling for the Iranian national team, in 1992 he defected to Germany, where he was a member of a professional cycling team[1] and cycled through 55 countries promoting world peace.[3] He arrived in the United States in 2002 from Mexico and was granted political asylum[4] after five months in detention.[2][5] He has set records as a runner and a cyclist, with the aim of promoting world peace.[6] He ran from Los Angeles to Ground Zero in New York in 2003 to dispel misconceptions about Middle Easterners and as a stand against terrorism;[7] ran 11,720 miles (18,860 km) around the perimeter of the United States as a fundraiser for Children's Hospital of Denver; ran again from Los Angeles to New York in 2009, acquiring an American flag from the White House;[3][4][8] and in 2010 moved to Death Valley, where he ran and trained in the desert heat for two years.[9]

Bubble expeditions [edit]

Baluchi built and equipped his first "hydro pod" using $4,500 in savings from working as a mechanic and a dishwasher,[4] at a hookah bar and a supermarket in Newport Beach, California.[3] The craft is a cylinder of 3-millimeter thick plastic in an aluminum frame with paddles and is propelled by his running inside it, like a hamster ball.[1][11] He estimated in 2014 that he could reach 4–5 knots (7.4–9.3 km/h) at sea,[6] and in 2021, 6 knots (11 km/h) in the 10 by 6 feet (3.0 m × 1.8 m) pod he has registered in Florida as a water craft.[7] He has said that he undertakes his ocean journeys to inspire others and to raise money for public services, including the US Coast Guard, which has repeatedly stopped him for his own safety.[9]

2014 attempt to reach Bermuda and Puerto Rico [edit]

In 2014, after two years of training[6] including a 30-mile (48 km) journey from Newport Beach to Catalina Island,[8][10] Baluchi set off from Pompano Beach, Florida, intending to trace the Bermuda Triangle by traveling approximately 3,000 miles (4,800 km) to Bermuda, to Puerto Rico, and back to Miami.[9] The Coast Guard had warned him that the expedition was too dangerous,[10] and stopped him approximately 185 miles (298 km)

FOX 35 ORLANDO | Live | News | Weather | Good Day Orlando | We Love Florida | Contests | More

Heat Advisory from SAT 12:00 PM EDT until SAT 6:00 PM EDT, Sumter County

Man running on water inside 'bubble' for charity washes up on Florida beach

By FOX 35 News Staff | Updated August 2, 2021 7:39pm EDT | News | FOX 35 Orlando |

Body cam shows wheel wash onshore

A Florida man was trying to run on the water to travel from St. Augustine to New York to raise money for charity.

FLAGLER COUNTY, Fla. - The Flagler County Sheriff's Office said a strange vessel washed ashore on Saturday morning. It turned out to be a Central Florida man who was 'walking on water' for charity.

"I will show people anything you want to do, do it. Don't listen to anyone. Chase your dreams."

Bodycam shows wheel that washed up on Florida beach

The Flagler County Sheriff's Office shared bodycam video of a strange vessel that washed ashore on Saturday morning. It turned out to be a Central Florida man who was 'walking on water' for charity.

In an exclusive interview with FOX 35 News, Reza Baluchi says he is no stranger to the water. He calls his floating contraption his bubble. But his bubble washed ashore in Flagler County early Saturday morning.

"My goal is to not only raise money for homeless people, raise money for the Coast Guard, raise money for the police department, raise money for the fire department. They are in public service, they do it for safety and they help other people."

Latest News

- Teen girl goes missing on the Fourth of July from Daytona Beach , police say
- Polk County deputy resigns after arrest on domestic violence charges
- What is a rip current? Here's how to escape safely if you ever get caught in one
- Citrus County fire training captain dies in Fourth of July boat crash in Crystal River
- Teen loses fingers in Berkeley July 4 fireworks mishap: neighbors

Trending

1. Is Publix open on the Fourth of July? Here's a look at Florida grocery store hours
2. Florida mom arrested after 2-year-old found wandering alone for hours in neighborhood, deputies say
3. Florida man who lost most of his fingers in fireworks explosion

NBC NEWS | WATCH LIVE

Florida man arrested after trying to cross Atlantic in 'human-powered hamster wheel'

It isn't the first time Reza Baluchi has tried to get across the ocean in a human-powered object.

A "human-powered hamster wheel." U.S. Coast Guard Via Facebook

SAVE

Sept. 7, 2023, 12:47 PM CDT

By Inyoung Choi

A man from Florida who was trying to cross the Atlantic in a "human-powered hamster wheel" was arrested by the Coast Guard, according to court documents.

Reza Baluchi was 70 miles off Georgia when officers found him during a "manifestly unsafe voyage" while Hurricane Franklin was headed toward the area, the Coast Guard said Wednesday in a statement on Facebook.

Reza Baluchi

Add languages

Article | Talk | Read | Edit | View history | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Reza Ray Baluchi (born 1972)[1] is an Iranian athlete and activist living in the United States. He has several times attempted to travel long distances off the East Coast of the United States in a self-propelled water craft resembling a hamster ball, which he calls a "hydro pod" or bubble.

Reza Baluchi in his water craft in 2016, with members of the US Coast Guard

Background [edit]

Baluchi was born in Rasht,[2] and in Iran was tortured and served 18 months of a two-year sentence for offenses against Islam;[3] [4] After cycling for the Iranian national team, in 1992 he defected to Germany, where he was a member of a professional cycling team[1] and cycled through 55 countries promoting world peace.[3] He arrived in the United States in 2002 from Mexico and was granted political asylum[4] after five months in detention.[2][5] He has set records as a runner and a cyclist, with the aim of promoting world peace.[6] He ran from Los Angeles to Ground Zero in New York in 2003 to dispel misconceptions about Middle Easterners and as a stand against terrorism;[7] ran 11,720 miles (18,860 km) around the perimeter of the United States as a fundraiser for Children's Hospital of Denver; ran again from Los Angeles to New York in 2009, acquiring an American flag from the White House;[3][4][8] and in 2010 moved to Death Valley, where he ran and trained in the desert heat for two years.[3]

Bubble expeditions [edit]

Baluchi built and equipped his first "hydro pod" using $4,500 in savings from working as a mechanic and a dishwasher,[4] at a hookah bar and a supermarket in Newport Beach, California.[3] The craft is a cylinder of 3-millimeter thick plastic in an aluminum frame with paddles and is propelled by his running inside it, like a hamster ball.[3][6] He estimated in 2014 that he could reach 4–5 knots (7.4–9.3 km/h) at sea,[6] and in 2021, 6 knots (11 km/h) in the 10 by 6 feet (3.0 m × 1.8 m) pod he has registered in Florida as a water craft.[7] He has said that he undertakes his ocean journeys to inspire others and to raise money for public services, including the US Coast Guard, which has repeatedly stopped him for his own safety.[9]

2014 attempt to reach Bermuda and Puerto Rico [edit]

In 2014, after two years of training[6] including a 30-mile (48 km) journey from Newport Beach to Catalina Island,[8][10] Baluchi set off from Pompano Beach, Florida, intending to trace the Bermuda Triangle by traveling approximately 3,000 miles (4,800 km) to Bermuda, to Puerto Rico, and back to Miami.[6] The Coast Guard had warned him that the expedition was too dangerous,[10] and stopped him approximately 185 miles (298 km)

Romany Malco - Ponce & Greg Benson
RETARTED POLICEMAN RETURNS!
Retarded Policeman Bribe
Transcript
Retarded Policeman Assburgers
oh that's a tough one oh double meat with bacon god
Transcript
back did you miss me well we didn't know you before
Retarded Policeman Episode 23: Bitches
Transcript

YouTube
Romany Malco - Ponce & Greg Benson
RETARTED POLICEMAN RETURNS!
RomanyMalco
Subscribe
83
Share
20,088 views Dec 28, 2011
PLEASE TWEET THIS! http://clicktotweet.com/ke50e  CLICK "SHOW MORE" **
You asked for it! You got it! The Most Controversial Web Series of All Time is Back!
Retarded Policeman returns on Thursdays starting January 5, 2012!
Only at / mediocrefilms
ADD THE NEW RETARDED GOOGLE+ ACCOUNT!
SEE ALL EPISODES:
LOST EPISODES ARE BACK!
Racial Profiling
Casual Friday
Mime
DOES PONCE GET PAID FOR THIS!?
YouTube
Search
[...] but let's stop you what thing you will give me all your money
Retarded Policeman Bribe
tvshowsguy
Subscribe
1.3K
74,272 views Sep 16, 2010
Transcript
Follow along using the transcript.
Show transcript
tvshowsguy
Videos
About
Show less
Police Officers
Austin Powers in Goldmember
'Retarded Policeman' Chad Vader Training #6
YouTube
Search
oh that's a tough one oh double meat with bacon god
Retarded Policeman Assburgers
R4INgamer
Subscribe
803
87,024 views Jul 25, 2011
Everything belongs to the rightful owner. No copyright intended
Transcript
Follow along using the transcript.
Show transcript
R4INgamer
Videos
About
Show less
Cartman Has Ass Burgers - SOUTH PARK
YouTube
Search
back did you miss me well we didn't know you before 0:51 / 2:02
Retarded Policeman Episode 23: Bitches
Kylo Pat
Subscribe
44
Share
4,331 views Mar 25, 2024
The only other upload of this has Spanish subtitles on it.
Transcript
Follow along using the transcript.
Show transcript
Kylo Pat
Videos
About
Show less
Retarded Policeman Episode 29: Donuts

YouTube
reta
Romany Malco - Ponce & Greg Benson
RETARTED POLICEMAN RETURNS!
RomanyMalco
25.1K subscribers
Subscribe
83
Share
20,088 views Dec 28, 2011
PLEASE TWEET THIS! http://clicktotweet.com/ke50e  CLICK "SHOW MORE" **
You asked for it! You got it! The Most Controversial Web Series of All Time is Back!
Retarded Policeman returns on Thursdays starting January 5, 2012!
Only at / mediocrefilms
ADD THE NEW RETARDED GOOGLE+ ACCOUNT!
https://plus.google.com/1008162898961...
SEE ALL EPISODES:
• Video .
LOST EPISODES ARE BACK!
Racial Profiling
• Video .
Casual Friday
• Video .
Mime
• Video .
Before you leave mean comments, just know that our friend Ponce (the Cop) is an awesome a talented young dude who loves performing and making light of his Down syndrome. He's a sm and funny guy, and has complete awareness of his actions and decisions. And we all had a gr time shooting "Retarded Policeman!"
DOES PONCE GET PAID FOR THIS!?

YouTube
Search
[__] but let's stop you what thing
you will give me all your money
0:36 / 1:27
Retarded Policeman Bribe
tvshowsguy
622 subscribers
Subscribe
1.3K
74,272 views Sep 16, 2010
Transcript
Follow along using the transcript.
Show transcript
tvshowsguy
622 subscribers
Videos
About
Show less
Police Officers
superwog1
5.3M views • 7 months ago
7:14
Austin Powers in Goldmember
YouTube Movies & TV
Comedy • 2002
Free with ads PG-13
1:34:29
"Retarded Policeman" Chad Vader Training #6

YouTube
Search
oh that's a tough one oh double meat
with bacon god
Retarded Policeman Assburgers
R4INgamer
71 subscribers
Subscribe
803
87,024 views Jul 25, 2011
Everything belongs to the rightful owner. No copyright intended
Transcript
Follow along using the transcript.
Show transcript
R4INgamer
71 subscribers
Videos
About
Show less
Cartman Has Ass Burgers - SOUTH PARK
South Park Studios
582K views • 3 years ago
2:30

YouTube
Search
back did you miss me well we didn't know
you before
0:51 / 2:02
Retarded Policeman Episode 23: Bitches
Kylo Pat
516 subscribers
Subscribe
44
Share
4,331 views Mar 25, 2024
The only other upload of this has Spanish subtitles on it.
Transcript
Follow along using the transcript.
Show transcript
Kylo Pat
516 subscribers
Videos
About
Show less
Retarded Policeman Episode 29: Donuts
Kylo Pat
186 views • 3 months ago

YouTube
reta
Romany Malco - Ponce & Greg Benson
RETARTED POLICEMAN RETURNS!
RomanyMalco
25.1K subscribers
Subscribe
83
Share
20,088 views Dec 28, 2011
PLEASE TWEET THIS! http://clicktotweet.com/ke50e  CLICK "SHOW MORE" **
You asked for it! You got it! The Most Controversial Web Series of All Time is Back!
Retarded Policeman returns on Thursdays starting January 5, 2012!
Only at / mediocrefilms
ADD THE NEW RETARDED GOOGLE+ ACCOUNT!
https://plus.google.com/1008162898961...
SEE ALL EPISODES:
• Video
LOST EPISODES ARE BACK!
Racial Profiling
• Video
Casual Friday
• Video
Mime
• Video
Before you leave mean comments, just know that our friend Ponce (the Cop) is an awesome a talented young dude who loves performing and making light of his Down syndrome. He's a sm and funny guy, and has complete awareness of his actions and decisions. And we all had a gr time shooting "Retarded Policeman!"
DOES PONCE GET PAID FOR THIS!?

YouTube
Search
[__] but let's stop you what thing
you will give me all your money
0:36 / 1:27
Retarded Policeman Bribe
tvshowsguy
622 subscribers
Subscribe
1.3K
74,272 views Sep 16, 2010
Transcript
Follow along using the transcript.
Show transcript
tvshowsguy
622 subscribers
Videos
About
Show less
Police Officers
superwog1
5.3M views • 7 months ago
7:14
Austin Powers in Goldmember
YouTube Movies & TV
Comedy • 2002
Free with ads PG-13
1:34:29
"Retarded Policeman" Chad Vader Training #6

YouTube
Search
oh that's a tough one oh double meat
with bacon god
Retarded Policeman Assburgers
R4INgamer
71 subscribers
Subscribe
803
87,024 views Jul 25, 2011
Everything belongs to the rightful owner. No copyright intended
Transcript
Follow along using the transcript.
Show transcript
R4INgamer
71 subscribers
Videos
About
Show less
Cartman Has Ass Burgers - SOUTH PARK
South Park Studios
582K views • 3 years ago
2:30

YouTube
Search
back did you miss me well we didn't know
you before
0:51 / 2:02
Retarded Policeman Episode 23: Bitches
Kylo Pat
516 subscribers
Subscribe
44
Share
4,331 views Mar 25, 2024
The only other upload of this has Spanish subtitles on it.
Transcript
Follow along using the transcript.
Show transcript
Kylo Pat
516 subscribers
Videos
About
Show less
Retarded Policeman Episode 29: Donuts
Kylo Pat
186 views • 3 months ago

ABC NEWS

Just In | Watch Live | Politics | World | Business | Analysis | More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "premeditated, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2007 deaths of 22-year-old Muhammad Yucel and 20-year-old Zalal Loedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhammad Yucel and Zalal Loedyar were shot in 2007, both victims of mistaken identity

Turkey arrests alleged Australia

https://www.re...

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[6] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[6] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[6] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[3] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[6] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net....

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Ausilitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - Wi

https://en.wikipedia....

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment; paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s ... they came, and they were treated like lepers ... not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Turkey arrests alleged Australia d

https://www.re...

Reuters World Business Markets More My News Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

November 2, 2023 8:24 AM CDT · Updated 9 months ago

Hakan Ayik, a fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, is detained by Turkish police in Istanbul, Turkey November 1, 2023. Turkish Interior Ministry/Handout via REUTERS Purchase Licensing Rights

Give Feedback

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian[1] drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".[2][3]

Early life [edit]

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey.[4] His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users.[5] His cousin and brother later ended up in prison.[5] He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales.[5] A classmate of Ayik was Duax Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.[6]

Criminal career [edit]

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury.[5] His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club.[5] He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga.[5] The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars.[5] This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne Co

https://www.abc.net....

ABC NEWS Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlea Aualiitia

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross - Wi

https://en.wikipedia....

William "Jock" Ross

Add languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden childing him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comancheros
Successor	Mick Hawi
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment; paroled in 1989

Youth [edit]

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family.[1] Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver.[2] Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too."[2] He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers.[1] Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years.[3] As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong.[1] After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales.[1] In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare.[4] Ross-who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William-worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.[4]

The Comancheros [edit]

The "Supreme Commander" [edit]

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s … they came, and they were treated like lepers … not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them".[1] Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored.[5][6] The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men.[7] In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home.[7] Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre.[7] Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

Turkey arrests alleged Australia

https://www.re...

Reuters

Register

Turkey arrests alleged Australia drug kingpin in big crime bust

By Jonathan Spicer

Summary Companies

- 'Facebook gangster' Hakan Ayik among Australia's most wanted
- Turkey rounds up alleged members of bike gang Comanchero
- FBI says Ayik unwittingly helped promote bugged phone app

ISTANBUL, Nov 2 (Reuters) - Turkey said on Thursday it had captured Hakan Ayik, a top fugitive wanted in Australia for drug smuggling, and 36 others involved in an international organised crime ring that has also been pursued by U.S. and New Zealand authorities.

Interior Minister Ali Yerlikaya said the detentions in Istanbul targeted the armed motorcycle gang Comanchero that he said was allegedly involved in drug trafficking, manslaughter, looting and money laundering globally.

Hakan Ayik

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Joseph Hakan Ayik, also known as Hakan Reis (born 31 January 1979) is a Turkish-Australian drug trafficker. He has an estimated net worth of 1.2 billion dollars, and was described in June 2021 as "Australia's most wanted man".

Early life

Ayik was born in Australia to parents from Turkey. His father died when he was young, with many family members being drug users. His cousin and brother later ended up in prison. He studied at James Cook Boys Technology High School in Kogarah, New South Wales. A classmate of Ayik was Duaa Ngakuru, the future boss of the Comanchero gang.

Criminal career

In the 2000s, Ayik was running a large criminal empire. He held ownership of karaoke bars and brothels in Sydney and Canberra. He reportedly travelled to Dubai, India and Hong Kong in luxury. His activities were involved with the Comanchero Motorcycle Club. He is also said to have worked with corrupt customs officials and jail officers in Australia and Tonga. The drug importations he engaged in were estimated to be valued in the hundreds of millions of dollars. This business was organised in co-

'Cowardly' Melbourne C

https://www.abc.net...

ABC NEWS

Log In

Just In Watch Live Politics World Business Analysis More

'Cowardly' Melbourne Comanchero gang members suspected of murdering two innocent men

By Tahlia Aushima

Posted Mon 31 May 2021 at 12:38am, updated Mon 31 May 2021 at 1:15am

Muhamad Yucel (left) and Zabi Ezedyar (right) are believed to have been victims of mistaken identity. (Supplied: Victoria Police)

abc.net.au/news/cowardly-bikie-members-... Copy link Share

Police have described Melbourne motorcycle gang members who allegedly murdered two men by mistake as "panicked, incompetent" and "cowardly".

Authorities are appealing for information about the 2017 deaths of 22-year-old Muhamad Yucel and 26-year-old Zabi Ezedyar whose murders have been linked to the Comanchero outlaw motorcycle gang.

Key points:

- Muhamad Yucel and Zabi Ezedyar were shot in 2017, both victims of mistaken identity

William "Jock" Ross

https://en.wikipedia...

William "Jock" Ross

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

William George "Jock" Ross (born 5 August 1943) is a Scottish-born Australian outlaw biker, best known as the founder and the "Supreme Commander" of the Comanchero Motorcycle Club and for his involvement in the Milperra massacre of 1984. Ross was sentenced to life imprisonment with Judge Roden chiding him as one of the men most responsible for the shoot-out at the Viking Tavern.

Jock Ross
Born	William George Ross 5 August 1943 (age 80) Glasgow, Scotland
Occupation(s)	Outlaw biker, soldier, fireman
Years active	1968-2002
Known for	Founder of the Comanchero
Successor	Mick Hoar
Allegiance	Comanchero MC
Conviction(s)	Murder (1986), reduced to manslaughter upon appeal (1992)
Criminal penalty	Life imprisonment, paroled in 1989

Youth

Ross was born in Glasgow, Scotland into a working-class family. Ross grew up in the Gorbals neighbourhood of Glasgow, where his father worked as a lorry (truck) driver. Ross stated of his youth: "In the old Glasgow days you never backed off, that's how you survived. The Gorbals was tough and you had to be tough too." He served in the British Army in the Royal Engineers. Ross joined the British Army at the age of 17 and served for 7 years. As an engineer, he was involved in clearing minefields left over from the Second World War in Libya as well as laying minefields in the Aden Protectorate (modern Yemen) and Hong Kong. After his honourable discharge, he settled in Australia, making his home in New South Wales. In 1966, he settled in a coastal flat and then moved to Point Clare. Ross who was known to his friends as "Jock" instead of William worked variously as a lorry driver and as an apprentice blacksmith.

The Comancheros

The "Supreme Commander"

Ross befriended a number of Australian veterans of the Vietnam War, saying in a 2019 interview: "I came out of the army, came here. People come out of the army, especially soldiers coming back from Vietnam back in the '70s, the late '70s ... they came, and they were treated like lepers ... not real good. Me, as an ex-soldier, I empathised with them". Ross founded Comanchero Motorcycle Club in 1968 with the name being taken from a 1961 John Wayne Western film The Comancheros that Ross adored. The Australian journalists Lindsay Simpson and Sandra Harvey described Ross as a natural "leader of men", an extremely charismatic man whose machismo and toughness inspired much devotion from other men. In 1971, Ross purchased a property along the then rural Mangrove Mountain Road for $800 that became his home. Settling with Ross in his caravan were his first wife Sandy and their infant daughter Deidre. Ross found the sunny New South Wales countryside to be a refreshing change from the decaying industrial neighbourhoods of the

https://www.nbcnews.com/news/latin-america/4-accu...

NBC NEWS | 4 accused of scheme to smuggle 'military-grade firepower' to Mexico's bloodiest cartel

LATIN AMERICA

4 accused of scheme to smuggle 'military-grade firepower' to Mexico's bloodiest cartel

Authorities found an arsenal with 10,000 armor-piercing incendiary rounds and kits to make six machine guns capable of firing 6,000 bullets per minute.

SAVE | Create your free profile or log in to save this article

Jan. 24, 2022, 11:59 PM CST / Updated Jan. 26, 2022, 12:21 AM CST

By Tim Stelloh

Four U.S. suspects were arrested in a smuggling scheme to export machine guns, assault rifles and hundreds of thousands of rounds of ammunition to a Mexican drug cartel that authorities have called the country's bloodiest, officials said Monday.

The U.S. Attorney's Office in California's Central District named two more suspects in the alleged scheme to move "military-grade firepower" to the Cártel Jalisco Nueva Generación, a group that law enforcement officials in the U.S. and Mexico have said is filling a vacuum left by the capture of kingpin Joaquín "El Chapo" Guzmán in 2016.

One of the suspects is believed to be at large in Mexico. Another is in state custody in North Carolina on unrelated charges, the prosecutor's office said in a news release.

Most of the suspects were charged with smuggling and violating export regulations. The suspected ringleader and his son were also charged with money laundering, and two others were accused of illegal possession of ammunition.

"The defendants in this case smuggled sophisticated weaponry out of the United States to one of the most violent cartels in Mexico whose members target not only rival gangs, but innocent Mexican citizens and Mexican law enforcement," Kristi Johnson, an FBI official in Los Angeles, said in a statement.

Marco Antonio Santillan Valencia, 51, was identified as the U.S. group's leader. According to the prosecutor's office, he and the others obtained the guns from two

Sponsored Stories by Taboola

FAVORITE SEARCHES
Unsold Laptops Are Almost Given Away

SAFER TECH TIPS | Read More
Why Didn't Anyone Tell Me Windows Computers Can Block Ads?

Garden Tool Free Shipping
Temu

cervantes mexico's bloodiest dr... | Narcos: 'El Mencho': Chasing the...

https://english.elpais.c...

EL PAÍS | International | SUBSCRIBE | LOG IN

MEXICO >

'El Mencho': Chasing the most powerful drug lord in Mexico

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes is the leader of the brutal Jalisco New Generation Cartel. Despite being the most wanted criminal in North America, with millions of dollars in rewards hanging over his head, both the Mexican and US governments have failed to track him down

A police officer stands near a vehicle set on fire by members of Jalisco New Generation Cartel.
FERNANDO CARRANZA (REUTERS)

DAVID MARCIAL PÉREZ | GEORGINA ZEREGA

Mexico - DEC 27, 2022 - 05:39 EST

View history

Search Encyclopedia

Bodhidharma

Names (details) [Expand]

Bodhidharma, Utiyo-e woodblock print by Tsukioka Yoshitoshi, 1887.

Title	Chanshi 1st Chan Patriarch
Personal
Religion	Buddhism
School	Chan
Senior posting
Successor	Huike
Students	[Expand]

Britannica

Search Britannica...

Philosophy & Religion > Religious Place

Shaolin Temple

Table of Contents

Introduction

References & Edit History

Related Topics

Images

Related Questions

What are the major ethnic groups in China?

Read Next

The Effects of China's One-Child Policy

A Brief Overview of China's Cultural Revolution

Discover

6 Unusual Olympic Sports

Olympics Football (Soccer)

5 Olympic Cheating Scandals

What's the Difference Between Rhythmic and Artistic Gymnastics?

7 Canceled or Reintroduced Olympic Sports

12 Greek Gods and Goddesses

What's the Difference Between Great Britain and the United Kingdom?

Shaolin Temple

monastery, Henan province, China

Print Cite Share Feedback

Written by Julie Tomaello
Fact-checked by The Editors of Encyclopædia Britannica
Article History

Ask a Question

Shaolin Temple, Buddhist monastery in Henan province, China, that was founded in 495.

In 464 an Indian monk named Bodo, the 28th successor in a line of religious leaders that could be traced back to Buddha, arrived in China to spread Buddhist teachings. The Shaolin Temple, the construction of which began in 495 under the orders of the Wei emperor Xiaowendi, bears testimony to his success. It was from here that In translated into Chinese and the precepts of Zen I (often referred to as Bodhidharma) is also reputa arts as a complementary practice to meditation— into the highly skilled Shaolin kung fu.

The Shaolin Temple sits on the slopes of Mount S mountains of China. The original temple structu succeeding dynasty it became increasingly extens structures date from the Ming and Qing dynastie preserve symmetry in the temple's design, with a constructed along the site's central axis. These in Temple, the Bell and Drum towers, the Heavenly the Abbot's Room, the Mahavira Hall, and the Sa

Daniel Crooks
@Public

Hidden African History: Rabbi Itzhak Shapira discussion with Beo-jews
#teachingthetruthisnotracism
#lost10tribesofisrael

Daniel Crooks · Original

Daniel Crooks
@Public

Hidden African History: Rabbi Itzhak Shapira discussion with Beo-jews
#teachingthetruthisnotracism #lost10tribesofisrael

TMZ

THOMAS MATTHEW CROOKS

JOKINGLY BRAGS ABOUT PENIS SIZE

In New School Days Vid

Search · Donate · Fundraiser · About · Sign in · Start a GoFundMe

Lezlee's Legacy Sanctuary Fundraiser

Jullonne Thompson is organizing this fundraiser on behalf of Vivian Crooks.

Promotion protected

Dear Family, Friends and Members of the Rosalie Community,

The Project:

100 years after my Jewish ancestors helped conceive and raise money to build Israel's first synagogue, I am carrying on their legacy by organizing a special fundraiser to help

$3,732 raised of $50,000 goal

Share

Donate now

Maria Chuckleberry — $1000 · Friend

Joyce Thompson-Gardner — $500 · 1yr

Jullonne Chandler-Wolf — $250 · 1yr

Sam Bluth — $100 · 1yr

Lawrence Gotham — $50 · 1yr

See all · See less

Thomas Matthew Crooks

Article · Talk · Read · View source · View history · Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Thomas Matthew Crooks (September 20, 2003 – July 13, 2024) was an American man who attempted to assassinate Donald Trump, the former president of the United States and at that time presumptive Republican Party nominee for the 2024 presidential election.[1][2]

On July 13, 2024, at a rally near Butler, Pennsylvania, Crooks shot at Trump with an AR-15-style rifle from a nearby rooftop while Trump was giving a speech, injuring Trump and two attendees, and killing another. Crooks was immediately killed by the Secret Service Counter Assault Team. An investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is underway, and his motivation remains unknown.

Thomas Matthew Crooks

Enlarged driver's license photo of Crooks

Born	September 20, 2003
Died	July 13, 2024 (aged 20) Butler County, Pennsylvania, U.S.
Cause of death	Gunshot wound
Education	Bethel Park High School, Community College of Allegheny County (AAS)
Known for	Attempted assassination of Donald Trump
Motive	Under investigation
Details
Date	July 13, 2024
Location(s)	Near Butler in Moniteau, Pennsylvania
Killed	1
Injured	3 (including Donald Trump)
Weapon	AR-15-style rifle

Early life and education

Thomas Matthew Crooks was born on September 20, 2003,[3] and was raised in Bethel Park, Pennsylvania.[4] The neighborhood he lived in was described as "middle class, maybe upper-middle class".[5] Both of his parents worked as licensed professional counselors.[6] Recollections about Crooks, including biographical information about his life and personality, vary considerably.[6]

He attended Bethel Park High School, where he was known as an above-average student, and graduated in 2022.[7][8] Classmates and school officials characterized him as quiet, with classmates claiming he was often bullied,[9][10][11] including for his quiet demeanor, and for wearing camouflage hunting outfits and masks to school.[12][13] Crooks enjoyed playing chess and video games, and was learning how to code.[14] He received a $500 "star award" the same year from the National Math and Science Initiative.[15][16] Current and former Bethel Park High School students have alleged that Crooks tried out for his school's rifle team, but did not make the team due to poor aim during tryouts, the Bethel Park School District

Daniel Crooks
Public

Hidden African History: Rabbi Itzhak Shapira discussion with ibeo jews
#teachingthetruthisnotracism
#lost10tribesofisrael

Daniel Crooks · Origina

Daniel Crooks
Public

Hidden African History: Rabbi Itzhak Shapira discussion with ibeo jews
#teachingthetruthisnotracism #lost10tribesofisrael

TMZ

THOMAS MATTHEW CROOKS

JOKINGLY BRAGS ABOUT PENIS SIZE

In New School Days Vid

SIGN UP FOR OUR NEWSLETTER

Search Donate Fundraise gofundme About Sign In Start a GoFundMe

Lezlee's Legacy Sanctuary Fundraiser

JoAnne Thompson is organizing this fundraiser on behalf of Vivian Crooks.

Donation protected

Dear Family, Friends and Members of the Nyack Community,

The Project:

$3,732

Share

Donate now

Maria Oxundale

Joyce Thompson-Gardner

Adrianne Cromartie- Wolf

Geri Bloch

Lawrence Kirtlach

See all See top

Thomas Matthew Crooks

31 languages

Article Talk Read View source View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Thomas Matthew Crooks (September 20, 2003 – July 13, 2024) was an American man who attempted to assassinate Donald Trump, the former president of the United States and at that time presumptive Republican Party nominee for the 2024 presidential election.[1][2]

On July 13, 2024, at a rally near Butler, Pennsylvania, Crooks shot at Trump with an AR-15-style rifle from a nearby rooftop while Trump was giving a speech, injuring Trump and two attendees, and killing another. Crooks was immediately killed by the Secret Service Counter Assault Team. An investigation by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) is underway, and his motivation remains unknown.

Thomas Matthew Crooks

Undated driver's license photo of Crooks

Born	September 20, 2003
Died	July 13, 2024 (aged 20) Butler County, Pennsylvania, U.S.
Cause of death	Gunshot wound
Education	Bethel Park High School Community College of Allegheny County (AS)
Known for	Attempted assassination of Donald Trump
Motive	Under investigation
Details
Date	July 13, 2024
Location(s)	Near Butler in Meridian, Pennsylvania
Killed	1
Injured	3 (including Donald Trump)
Weapon	AR-15-style rifle

Early life and education

Thomas Matthew Crooks was born on September 20, 2003,[7] and was raised in Bethel Park, Pennsylvania.[8] The neighborhood he lived in was described as "middle-class, maybe upper-middle class".[9] Both of his parents worked as licensed professional counselors.[9] Recollections about Crooks, including biographical information about his life and personality, vary considerably.[9]

He attended Bethel Park High School, where he was known as an above-average student, and graduated in 2022.[7][9] Classmates and school officials characterized him as quiet, with classmates claiming he was often bullied,[7][10] including for his quiet demeanor, and for wearing camouflage hunting outfits and masks to school.[9][11] Crooks enjoyed playing chess and video games, and was learning how to code.[7] He received a $500 "star award" the same year from the National Math and Science Initiative.[7][12] Current and former Bethel Park High School students have alleged that Crooks tried out for his school's rifle team, but did not make the team due to poor aim during tryouts; the Bethel Park School District

INFINITE SCROLL

THE BIRTH OF THE PERSONAL COMPUTER

A new history of the Apple II charts how computers became unavoidable fixtures of our daily lives.

By Kyle Chayka

May 18, 2023

Steve Jobs insisted that the Apple II be housed in a plastic casing, making it more elegant and approachable than hobbyists' severe industrial boxes. Photograph from Alamy

Save this story

In 1979, two M.I.T. computer-science alumni and a Harvard Business School graduate launched a new piece of computer software for the Apple II machine, an early home computer. Called VisiCalc, short for "visible calculator," it was a spreadsheet, with an unassuming interface of monochrome numerals and characters. But it was a dramatic upgrade from the paper-based charts traditionally used to project business revenue or manage a budget. VisiCalc could perform calculations and update figures across columns and rows in real time, based on formulas that the user programmed in. No more writing out numbers painstakingly by hand.

VisiCalc sold more than seven hundred thousand copies in its first six years, and almost single-handedly demonstrated the utility of the Apple II, which retailed

Culture magazines › Ice-Cream Cone

Ice-Cream Cone

CENGAGE Views 3,157,246 Updated

Ice-Cream Cone

One of the most popular American snacks, it is generally believed the ice-cream cone was initially popularized at the 1904 St. Louis Exposition. At that time, Ernest Hamwi, a Syrian waffle vendor, created the "World's Fair Cornucopia" by taking portions of ice cream being dispensed by a fellow vendor who had run out of dishes and serving them up inside waffles that were folded into a cone-like shape. However, other sources, including the Library of Congress, claim that the ice-cream cone was invented on July 23, 1904, by Charles E. Menches of St. Louis and that it did not make its debut as a "walk-away" treat until later that year, at the St. Louis Exposition. A year earlier, a patent for a cone maker had been granted to Italo Marchiony (1868–1954), a New York pushcart vendor, who claimed to have been

6 Groundbreaking Innovations by Arab Americans

Americans born in or with ancestral ties to Arab-speaking countries have made countless significant scientific, medical and engineering contributions.

BY: ELIZABETH YUKO
UPDATED: MARCH 26, 2024 | ORIGINAL: MARCH 31, 2022

copy page link PRINT PAGE

BETTMANN ARCHIVE/GETTY IMAGES

While Americans born in or with ancestral ties to Arab countries have made countless significant scientific, medical and engineering contributions, most have never made it into record books. From cryptography, to the artificial heart, to the iPod, here are a few examples of some of the major advancements by Arab Americans.

1. Television Transmission and LCD Screens

Born in Nabatieh, Lebanon in 1895, Hassan Kamel Al-Sabbah studied and then taught mathematics at the American University of Beirut before immigrating to the United States in 1921. After a brief stint studying at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT), Al-Sabbah earned a master's degree in engineering sciences from the University of Illinois, says Lujine Nasralla, communications specialist at the Arab American National Museum in Dearborn, Michigan.

"In 1923, General Electric (GE) hired him to work in its Engineering Laboratory under a contract that awarded him a dollar for each of his patents," Nasralla explains, noting that between 1927 and 1935, he applied for patents for 52 of his

THE BIRTH OF THE PERSONAL COMPUTER

6 Groundbreaking Innovations by Arab Americans

1. Television Transmission and LCD Screens

James Earl Ray - Wikipedia

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/James_Earl_Ray

James Earl Ray

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For other people with the same name, see James Ray (disambiguation).

James Earl Ray (March 10, 1928 – April 23, 1998) was an American fugitive who was convicted of the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr. at the Lorraine Motel in Memphis, Tennessee, on April 4, 1968. After the assassination, Ray fled the United States and was captured in the United Kingdom. Ray was convicted in 1969 after entering a guilty plea—thus forgoing a jury trial and the possibility of a death sentence—and was sentenced to 99 years of imprisonment.

In 1993, Loyd Jowers, the owner of a restaurant, publicly began claiming that he had been part of a conspiracy to assassinate King and that Ray was a scapegoat. In a Memphis civil trial in 1999, a jury unanimously concluded that Jowers was liable for the assassination, that King was the victim of a conspiracy, and that various United States governmental agencies had conspired to murder King and frame Ray for the assassination. The King family has consistently said that they believe Ray was innocent, though this conclusion was disputed by the United States Department of Justice in 2000.[1][2] The King family has stated that they believe the true murderer was a Memphis Police Department officer, Lieutenant Earl Clark.[3]

Mug shot of Ray taken on July 9, 1959

Born	March 10, 1928 Alton, Illinois, U.S.
Died	April 23, 1998 (aged 70) Nashville, Tennessee, U.S.
Known for	Being convicted for the assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr.
Conviction(s)	First-degree murder Armed robbery Burglary Escape
Criminal penalty	99 years imprisonment[4]
Escaped	June 10–13, 1977
Details
Victims	Martin Luther King, Jr., 39
Date	April 4, 1968

Early life and education [edit]

Ray was born on March 10, 1928, in Alton, Illinois, the son of George Ellis Ray and Lucille Ray (née Mathers). He had Irish, Scottish and Welsh ancestry.[4]

In February 1935, Ray's father, known by the nickname Great Dane, passed a bad check in Alton, Illinois, and then moved to Ewing, Missouri, where the family changed their name to Raynes to avoid law enforcement.[5] James Earl Ray was the oldest of nine children,[6] including John Larry Ray,[7] Franklin Ray, Jerry William Ray,[8] Melba Ray, Carol Ray Pepper, Suzan Ray, and Marjorie Ray. His sister Marjorie died in a fire as a young child in 1933.[9] Ray left school at the age of 12. He later joined the U.S. Army at the close of World War II and served in Germany. Ray struggled to adapt to military life and was eventually discharged for ineptitude and lack of adaptability in 1946.[10]

Initial convictions and first escape from prison [edit]

Ray committed a variety of crimes prior to the murder of King. Ray's first conviction for criminal activity, a burglary in Galifornia, came in 1949. In 1952, he served two years for the armed robbery of a taxi driver in Illinois. In 1955, he was convicted of mail fraud after stealing money orders in Hannibal, Missouri. For this, he was imprisoned for four years in the federal United States Penitentiary Leavenworth. In 1959, he was caught stealing $120 (~$1,204 in 2023) in an armed robbery of a Kroger store in St. Louis.[11] He was sentenced to twenty years in prison for repeated offenses. He escaped from the Missouri State Penitentiary in 1967 by hiding in a truck transporting bread from the prison bakery.[12]

Post first escape [edit]

Following his escape, Ray stayed on the move throughout the United States and Canada, going first to St. Louis and then onward to Chicago, Toronto, Montreal, and Birmingham, Alabama, where he stayed long enough to buy a 1966 Ford Mustang and get an Alabama driver's license. He then drove to Mexico, stopping in Acapulco before settling in Puerto Vallarta on October 19, 1967.[13]

While in Mexico, Ray, using the alias Eric Starvo Galt, attempted to establish himself as a pornographic film director. Using mail-ordered equipment, he filmed and photographed local prostitutes. Frustrated with his results and jilted by the prostitute with whom he had formed a relationship, Ray left Mexico on or around November 16, 1967,[14] arriving in Los Angeles three days later. While there, Ray attended a local bartending school and took dance lessons.[15] His chief interest, however, was the George Wallace presidential campaign. Ray was quickly drawn to Wallace's segregationist platform. He spent much of his time in Los Angeles volunteering at the Wallace campaign headquarters in North Hollywood.[16]

He considered emigrating to Rhodesia (now Zimbabwe), where a predominantly white minority regime had unilaterally asserted independence from the United Kingdom in 1965.[17] The notion of living in Rhodesia continued to appeal to Ray for several years afterwards, and it was his intended destination after King's assassination. The Rhodesian government expressed its disapproval.[18]

Activity in early 1968 [edit]

On March 5, 1968, Ray had an operation on his nose, performed by physician Russell Hadley.[19] On March 18, 1968, Ray left Los Angeles and began a cross-country drive to Atlanta, Georgia.[19]

Arriving in Atlanta on March 24, 1968, Ray checked into a rooming house.[20] He bought a map of the city. FBI agents later found this map when they searched the room in which he was staying. On the map, the locations of the church and residence of Martin Luther King Jr. were circled.[21]

69°F
Mostly cloudy

Search

1:30 AM
6/12/2024

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love.
Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and

World: Middle East

Israel sued over "wrong target"

Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case

CURRIN MURDER CASE

PLEA DEAL

How Was Jessica Currin Killed?

David Cross Biography: In His Own Words – Exclusive Video, News, Photos, Age

David Cross is an American actor, director and comedian who is best known for his stand-up performances, as well as his role as Tobias Fünke in the cult Netflix stream Arrested Development.

David Cross Biography: Age, Early Life, Family, Education

David Cross was born on April 4, 1964 (David Cross age: 59) in Roswell, Georgia, to a Jewish family. His father, Barry, emigrated from Leeds, England. Half a year after his birth, Cross and his family relocated to Florida. After a couple of additional moves to Connecticut and New York, Cross settled back in Roswell, where he and his family remained for about a decade. Cross is the eldest of three children, having two younger sisters, Juli and Wendy Cross.

SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt

Avraham Heffner
Biography
Influence

The New York Times
Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91
PLAYBOY

The New York Times
Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

All Content | Images
Advanced Search
Register
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Browse
Wor
This is a preview. Log in through your library.

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin
University of Massachusetts Boston

"Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews, and the Problem of Assimilation" examines cultural representations of Jewish criminals over the course of the twentieth century. The essay seeks to demonstrate that for several successive generations following the mass immigration of Jews to the United States, these figures have been invoked and described as a kind of index to the possibility—and desirability—of Jewish assimilation into the American mainstream. Taking into its purview accounts of Jewish outlaws ranging from newspaper stories and nonfiction writing to memoir, movies, and a popular TV series, the essay shows that the Jewish gangster has proved to be a figure flexible enough to accommodate and reflect changes in the social position and the cultural needs of Jews in America.

According to legend, Meyer Lansky, one of the longest-lived and most powerful Jewish gangsters in U.S. history, once described his success in the following terms: "We're bigger than U.S. Steel." Whether Lansky ever actually said this—and whether it was literally true—is beside the point: Lansky's boast manages to convey not only the prominence of men such as Lansky, Dutch Schultz, Bugsy Siegel, Gyp the Blood, and scores of others, but also offers a way of evaluating these men's success that is poignantly American and deliberately conventional.

At very least, Lansky was right in principle. From its origin in the 1880s, to a peak of accomplishment during Prohibition, the Jewish underworld flourished in ghettos such as New York's Lower East Side, Chicago's West Side, or those in Detroit, Boston, Baltimore, and other places. During this time Jews contributed some of the United States' foremost bootleggers, racketeers, panderers, and professional killers, culminating most famously in the Jewish-Italian criminal syndicate dubbed "Murder, Inc." by contemporary journalists.

After a few lucrative and bloody decades, though, the heyday of the Jewish gangster was over. The end of Prohibition necessitated a restructuring of organized crime's business plan to emphasize other sources of income, gambling in particular. Furthermore, following World War I, Jews in huge numbers were leaving the old urban neighborhoods that had given birth to the gangsters; a result of these two factors was that Jewish gangsters became much less visible or even went "legit." By the 1950s, Jewish gangsters had disappeared from the newspaper headlines and political dis-

JOURNAL ARTICLE

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin

Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 4 (SUMMER 2002), pp. 1-17 (17 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press
https://www.jstor.org/stable/42943489

Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

All Content | Images
Advanced Search
Register
Log in
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Browse
Workspace
This is a preview. Log in through your library.

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway
Tel-Aviv University

During Prohibition (1920–1933), Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. At the time, Jewish gangs dominated illicit activities in a number of America's largest cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York, and Philadelphia. One of the more notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang. The gang dealt in bootlegging, gambling, extortion, drugs, and murder, and developed a reputation for being more ruthless than Al Capone's mob in Chicago. The Purple's decade-long reign of terror ended when most of the gang's members either went to prison or were murdered by rivals.

After World War I, Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. During the Prohibition era (1919–1933) 50 percent of the country's leading bootleggers were Jews, and Jewish criminals financed and directed much of the nation's narcotics traffic. Jewish gangs also dominated illicit activities in a number of America's largest cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York and Philadelphia.[1] Perhaps the most notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang.

[1] See Mark Haller, "Bootleggers and American Gambling, 1920–1950," in Gambling in America, Commission on the Review of National Policy Toward Gambling, Appendix 1 (Washington, D.C., 1976), p. 106; David Courtwright, Herman Joseph, and Don Des Jarlais, Addicts Who Survived: An Oral History of Narcotics Use in America, 1923–1965 (Knoxville, 1989), pp. 110, n. 2, 186–188, 199–201; and U.S. Congress, Senate Special Committee to Investigate Organized Crime in Interstate Commerce, 81st Congress, 1st Session, 1950, Part 2; Stephen Fox, Blood and Power: Organized Crime in Twentieth Century America (New York, 1989), pp. 24–35; Albert Fried, The Rise and Fall of the Jewish Gangster in America (New York, 1980); Humbert S. Nelli, The Business of Crime: Italians and Syndicate Crime in the United States (New York, 1976), pp. 168–169, 172; Jenna Weissman Joselit, Our Gang: Jewish Crime and the New York Jewish Community, 1900–1940 (Bloomington, 1983), especially pp. 140–156; and Robert Rockaway, But He Was Good to His Mother: The Lives and Crimes of Jewish Gangsters (Jerusalem, 2000), pp. 7–62. See also Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), files 92-3105, 58-4641, 62-26085, 62-69850, and 62-69870. The FBI files are located at the Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters, Washington, D.C.

JOURNAL ARTICLE

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway

Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 1, Special Issue: American Jews (FALL 2001), pp. 113-130 (18 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press
https://www.jstor.org/stable/42944836

Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

NEWS19 News Weather Sports VERIFY WLTX19+ An unknown error has occurred

SPEAKING OF HEALTH ADVERTISE WITH US PLAYER OF THE WEEK STREET SQUAD LEXINGTON

CRIME

29-year-old convicted heroin trafficker in Lexington County gets 30 year prison sentence

Prosecutors report there have been more than 50 overdoses deaths linked to heroin since the suspect was caught in 2018.

Credit: AndreyPopov

Author: Christopher Buchanan
Published: 2:11 PM EDT August 27, 2022
Updated: 2:31 PM EDT August 27, 2022

WEST COLUMBIA, S.C. — A convicted drug trafficker will spend the next three decades in prison following a conviction handed up in Lexington County.

According to the 11th Circuit Solicitor's Office, 29-year-old Israel Mendoza Cervantes was sentenced in general sessions court earlier in the week after being convicted of all charges brought against him.

The charges included trafficking heroin - 28 grams or more, possession of a weapon during the commission of a violent crime, and possession with intent to distribute cocaine.

Cervantes received a 25-year sentence for the trafficking conviction, a concurrent 15-year sentence for the possession with intent to distribute conviction, and a consecutive five-year sentence for the weapon charge which came to 30 years in all.

The conviction stems from an investigation that began in September 2018 when Richland County Sheriff's Department narcotics agents shared information with the neighboring Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Cervantes was one of two suspects in the case who

Israel Mendoza Cervantes (Lexington County Detention Center)

By WIS News 10 Staff

An official website of the United States government
Here's how you know

United States Attorney's Office
District of Kansas

Menu

Search

PRESS RELEASE

Man sentenced in Kansas City drug ring tied to Mexican cartel

Friday, January 19, 2024

Share

For Immediate Release

U.S. Attorney's Office, District of Kansas

KANSAS CITY, KAN. – A man was sentenced to 102 months in prison for his involvement in a Kansas City metro-based drug trafficking ring with ties to Mexico.

According to court documents, Edwar Salazar-Belleda, 34, pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy to distribute and possess with intent to distribute 50 grams or more of methamphetamine.

Salazar-Belleda was part of an international drug trafficking ring operating with meth brought in from Mexico. The co-conspirators laundered illegal proceeds as wire payments destined for individuals in Mexico and California.

From August 2019 through May 2021, the Kansas Bureau of Investigation (KBI) and Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) led an undercover investigation which included multiple purchases of meth, heroin, and firearms. Romel Alvarado-Calderon, 27, of Kansas City, Kansas, was the head of the operation, and Salazar-Belleda acted as a broker.

telaviv.cervantes.es

Instituto Cervantes Tel Aviv

Síguenos en Facebook

siele

¡APRENDE ESPAÑOL EN ESPAÑA! CURSOS DE LENGUA Y CULTURA

INSCRÍBETE YA DIPLOMAS DE ESPAÑOL DELE 2024

Cursos de preparación al DELE

LEGADO SEFARDÍ

מורשת יהודי ספרד

CLUB VIRTUAL DE LECTURA 2024 Concha LAGOS

Club de lectura Ven a leer con nosotros

EMBAJADA DE ESPAÑA EN TEL AVIV

CONSULADO GRAL. DE ESPAÑA EN JERUSALÉN

La Opinión

Greta Cervantes es una actriz mexicana que vive en Israel y tras los ataques de Hamás a ese país, se ha visto obligada a refugiarse en el búnker que tiene dentro de su casa, el cual mostró en un video que compartió en su cuenta de TikTok.

La artista mexicana de 29 años, quien ha participado en programas unitarios como "La Rosa de Guadalupe" y "Como dice El Dicho", hizo una pausa en su carrera para vivir junto a su esposo israelí Yarden Hassid, pero siempre ha e[illegible]en contacto con sus seguidores.

Greta Cervantes muestra su refugio en Israel

29-year-old convicted heroin trafficker in Lexington County gets 30 year prison sentence

La Opinión

Grete Cervantes es una adolescente mexicana que vive en Israel y vivió los ataques de Hamás a ese país, en la vivió obligada a refugiarse en el búnker que tiene dentro de su casa, el cual muestra en un video que compartió en su cuenta de TikTok.

La adolescente mexicana de 15 años, quien ha participado en programas televisivos como Los Reyes de Juanchitos y "Vamos Arte Si Sirve", vive una pesadilla en su casa para vivir junto a su esposo Israeli Yaniv Hazaiá para cuando los [illegible] realicen nuevos ataques.

Grete Cervantes muestra su refugio en Israel

Rafael Caro Quintero: The True Story Of The Narcos Drug Lord Still On The Run

Rafael Caro Quintero was one of Mexico's first and most powerful cartel leaders until he was suspected of orchestrating the brutal torture and murder of a DEA agent.

Rafael Caro Quintero was considered the "Teacher of Narcos." The incredibly drug lord thought he was untouchable, but he overstepped his bounds when he brutally murdered an American agent.

[illegible] on a technicality. He trafficked to and at large — and wanted by the FBI. Now, Caro Quintero is the central figure of season four of Netflix's popular series Narcos. Here's his true story.

Early Life And Finding The Guadalajara Cartel

Mugshot of Rafael Caro Quintero from 2016.

Rafael Caro Quintero was born somewhere in October 1952, in Sinaloa, Mexico, [illegible] Agency. In October, in November or March of

EL PAÍS International SUBSCRIBE LOG IN

MEXICAN CARTELS >

Rafael Caro Quintero: the historic head of the Sinaloa cartel is captured

Sources from the Marines confirm that the veteran narco, implicated in the murder of a DEA agent in the 1980s, was detained on Friday

ELENA REINA
Mexico - JUL 15, 2022 - 19:38 EDT

Rafael Caro Quintero, in prison, in a file image. CUARTOSCURO

Rafael Caro Quintero, the legendary narco leader of the 1980s, has been captured. Sources from the Marines confirmed to EL PAÍS that the former cartel leader, on whose head the United States Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) had placed the highest ever reward for a criminal, was detained on Friday. One of the founders of the legendary Guadalajara cartel, which later became the Sinaloa cartel, was arrested for the second time near his home territory, in the Sinaloa highlands.

The criminal previously entered prison in 1985 after the brutal murder of undercover DEA agent Kiki Camarena. In 2013, still with 12 years of his sentence left to serve, he was released in Mexico after a state court concluded that he had been tried improperly. The United States pressured Mexican authorities to recapture him. The old drug capo, far

NEWSLETTER

Sign up to EL PAÍS US Edition bulletin

APÚNTATE

MOST VIEWED

1. Europe and the US commemorate D-Day (and suddenly World War II no longer seems so remote)
2. No money for David Lynch and no distributor for Francis Ford Coppola: Hollywood is no country for old men
3. Lisbon, a city dying from its own success
4. The 'Saltburn' effect, or the dangers of renting out your castle to a film or TV crew
5. Disfrutar, the new best restaurant in the world, is in Barcelona

Momentum

LEARNING

SISTER SPOTLIGHTS

3 MIN

Weaving science into Torah learning

There are many ways to interpret the Torah, but for Momentum sister Sherri Quintero, a biology teacher, one of her favorite ways to study is to look for the wonders of science and technology woven into the texts.

The recent holiday of Shavuot, a celebration of the day the Israelites received the Torah at Mount Sinai, is a perfect example. It is written in the Torah: "The smoke rose like the smoke of a kiln, and the whole mountain trembled violently. The blare of the horn grew louder and louder. As Moses spoke, God answered him in thunder." (Exodus 19:19-20)

For Sherri, who teaches at the Kellman Brown Academy, a Jewish Day School in New Jersey, it was an opportunity to explore with her students: Is it possible to see sound? What is a soundwave? Why does smoke always rise? What causes earthquakes?

A call for change

The Shavuot lesson is just one way that Sherri is taking an innovative approach towards combining Jewish learning and science, an idea that started coalescing during Sherri's MOMentum Trip to Israel in 2016. At the time, she was in the middle of her ninth year as

YouTube Search Sign in

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

Subscribe Join

Home Videos Shorts Live Community

Latest Popular Oldest

Hasta estar en su Lugar
3.8K views • 3 weeks ago

Pa' atrás, ni para tomar impulso!!!
4K views • 1 month ago

Eres libre!!! o no?
2.9K views • 1 month ago

25 de abril de 2024
5K views • 1 month ago

Pesaj kasher v'sameaj
2.8K views • 1 month ago

Un saludo de Shavua tov
3.6K views • 1 month ago

Kehilath HaDerekh's leadership is composed of three components:

1. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors are the governing body of the congregation. The Directors are:

- Maharat Erika Quintero, President
- Reb Andrew Friedman, Vice President
- David Frontera, Director
- Richard Snoddy, Director

2. ELDERS

Zakenim (Ordained Elders) along with our Shamashim (Deacons), are the servant-leaders. Under the guidance and authority of the Rabbi, provide prayer, teachings, classes, and lead ministries of the shul.

3. ACCOUNTABILITY BOARD

The Accountability Board exists as a body of accountability for the Congregation's Senior Leader. The Accountability Board may only be called upon by the rabbi for prayer or counsel as needed. The Board of Directors may contact the Accountability Board, only by unanimous vote (excepting the rabbi), if any matter of serious unrepentant biblical sin should arise concerning the senior leader. The Accountability Board is empowered to have authority over the senior leader. Their identity is known only to the senior rabbi, and the board of directors.

WORLD / Ashkelon Journal; The Ever-So-Quiet Exodus: Israeli Cuba

Share full article

Now that their situation could be openly discussed, they said, they could make public a demand. They wanted, as Mr. Carpio put it, "to be treated like Ethiopians" in terms of Israeli aid to immigrants. They wanted Israel to recognize that they had forfeited all their possessions -- "down to the drinking glasses," Mr. Carpio said -- to the Cuban Government. They had arrived with nothing but a few battered suitcases and 48 pounds of clothes per family. They want to receive an "immigration basket" of money and services, they said, just like the Ethiopians and, to a less generous extent, the Russians.

"Hey, they're complaining," commented Avraham Burg, the Speaker of the Parliament. "That means they've really become Israelis."

Ms. Quintero is not complaining, especially not after the Immigration Minister, Yuli Tamir, proposed late today that the Cubans get the help they are asking for.

Fingering her Star of David necklace, Ms. Quintero said she felt embarrassed that Israel's first glimpse of the Cuban community showed not their appreciation but their pent-up frustrations. She also regretted that Israelis might have got what she called a false impression that most of the Cubans see Israel as a way station to Miami or New York.

Television cameras could not help but focus today on one Cuban immigrant, Ester Mechulam, since she greeted them at the gate to the center. "Brooklyn, Brooklyn," she was saying. "I dream of Brooklyn."

In contrast, Ms. Quintero said she and her husband considered themselves "die-hard Zionist Jews," even though, like everyone else, they left primarily because the opportunity presented itself.

"We have well-established family in New York, in New Jersey," she said. "We don't want to join them. We want them to join us here."

Discover The Times. 7 days free, then ~~$4.25~~ $1/week.

Learn more ›

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Contact Us | Registries

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Showing Results For:

First Name: a, Last Name: sevilla, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/1/2024, 10:24:52 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
SEVILLA, ANASTACIO EUSEBIO	51		6299 FINDE NAIFEH DRIVE MASON, 38049 TIPTON RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, ANDREW S	36	SEVILLA, ANDREW S SEVILLA, ANDREW SCOTT SEVILLA, DREW	N/A, 54302 BROWN RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, MICHAEL ANTHONY	37	SEVILLA, ANTHONY M	6464 HAWTHORNE ST GARDEN CITY, MI 48135 WAYNE RESIDENCE 8375 HIX RD WESTLAND, MI 48185 WAYNE EMPLOYMENT

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of t population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family mem who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including na in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archi documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

sevilla

FILTER YOUR RESULTS

Showing 1 results for sevilla ... Sort by: Rel

Side
Confederacy (1)

State
Louisiana (1)

Sevilla, Valentin

Side: Confederacy
Location: Louisiana
Battle Unit: 5th Regiment, European Brigade, Lou
(Spanish Regiment)

Was this page helpful?

- Yes
- No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden. [4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives. [4]

Alison Czinkota / Investopedia

Early Life and Education

Janet Yellen, born on August 13, 1946, in the Bay Ridge neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York, to a Polish Jewish family has had a distinguished career in economics and public service [5] Her mother, Anna Ruth, was an elementary school teacher a her father, Julius, was a doctor who treated patients out of the family's brownstone. [4] Demonstrating early academic prowes Yellen served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper a Fort Hamilton High School, where she graduated as valedictori in 1963. She graduated summa cum laude with an economics degree from Brown University in 1967 and went on to receive h Ph.D. from Yale University in 1971 under the guidance of Nobel laureate James Tobin. [6]

Advertisement

National Park Service

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of the adu population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family members, o who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North and S
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the men in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including name, ra in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Recor
Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archives' on documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

yellen

No results match your search query. Please try again.

Was this page helpful?

- Yes
- No

An official form of the United States government. Provided by Touchpoints

Menu Tampa Bay Times Subscribe

NEWS

Japan honors its 'god of wrestling' 10 years after his quiet death in Tampa

Jody Simon of Tampa, alongside Japanese wrestler Osamu Nishimura, holds the ashes of Karl Istaz during a wrestling event honoring Istaz on July 24 in Tokyo. Istaz, known in Japan as wrestler Karl Gotch, was honored through the efforts of his former student Simon. [Courtesy of Jody Simon]

By Paul Guzzo Times staff

Published Aug. 2, 2017

Karl Istaz lived quietly in the Tampa area for 30 years. When he died, his friends followed his wishes and scattered his ashes without ceremony over Lake Keystone in Odessa.

But the European-born Istaz — or more to the point, his alter ego Karl Gotch — was revered across Japan as a hardnosed, professional wrestler whose style so influenced the industry that fans and peers nicknamed him "Kamisama," or deity.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article is about a martial arts organization. For the baseball pitch, see Shoulo. For shuffl, see Knifehand strike.

Shooto (Japanese: 修斗, Hepburn: shūtō) is a combat sport and mixed martial arts organization that is governed by the Shooto Association and the International Shooto Commission (ISC). Shooto was originally formed in 1985, first as a particular fighting system and then in 1989 as a mixed martial arts promotion. It is considered one of the first true mixed martial arts competitions, with its Vale Tudo Japan events being essential to the rise of Pride Fighting Championships and the development of modern MMA. Many Japanese MMA fighters had their start at Shooto and the organization still holds both professional and amateur tournaments.

As a fighting system, Shooto is considered a hybrid martial art derived from shoot wrestling. It is focused on all aspects of fighting: striking, stand-up grappling and ground fighting. Practitioners are referred to as shooters or shootists. Shooto rules have evolved with time, are different depending on the class, Class C and D are amateur and have more restricted rules more similar to their first events, while professional classes are now true mixed martial arts competitions.[7] Shooto weight classes are different from those of the United States Association of Boxing Commissions, which are used by most MMA promotions.[3][3][4]

Although modern Shooto is indistinguishable from MMA, in Japan promoters, fighters and fans still see it as its own standalone combat sport. While outside it is mostly seen as a system of MMA promotions, organizing events from amateur grassroots to professional levels.[5]

Shooto

Native name	修斗
Formerly	Shin-kakutōgi
Company type	Private
Industry	Mixed martial arts
Predecessor	Universal Wrestling Federation
Founded	1985; 39 years ago
Founder	Sayama Satoru
Headquarters	Japan
Website	www.shooto-mma.com

Shooto (修斗)

Focus	Hybrid
Hardness	Full-contact
Country of origin	Japan
Creator	Satoru Sayama
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama Yuki Nakai Rumina Sato Takanori Gomi Erik Paulson Jake Shields Shinya Aoki
Ancestor arts	Shoot Wrestling, Catch Wrestling, Boxing, Kickboxing, Full contact karate, Muay Thai, Sambo, Judo
Descendant arts	Mixed Martial Arts, Sokendo

Etymology [edit]

The Japanese word "shooto" is derived from the English word "shoot". Although the word is of foreign origin, it is not written in katakana, but rather as an ateji: 修斗. Its first kanji means "to practice or train in", and the second kanji is an alternative form of 闘 in the word tatakai (戦い), meaning "battle" or "war").

SUNWOO
IDOL K-POP WIBU ISMI
AKAN MEMBAWAMU KE ISEKAI

TV SHOWBIZ TEKNO FOTO HOT CEK FAKTA ISLAMI CRYPTO LAINN

Ilustrasi Bayi/ Daria Shevtsova from Pexels

Berikut beberapa nama nama anak laki-laki islam arab 3 suku kata

1. Bakir Ahsan Amal: Laki-laki yang senantiasa lebih mendahului pe

2. Dhiaurrahman Zahid Hamizan: Laki-laki yang memiliki sinar yang dan tampan serta menjauhkan diri dari kemewahan

3. Dzihni Labib Salim: Laki-laki yang berakal sehat dan selamat da berpikir

4. Fadhlan Arkhan Fathurrahman: Laki-laki yang memiliki keutama menjadi pembuka kejayaan Yang Maha Pengasih

5. Ikhbar Shaqr Akhdan: Sahabat yang menyampaikan berita dan t

6. Istaz Qasim Maulana: Pendakwah yang elok dan dihormati

7. Layyin Fakhruddin Fashih: Laki-laki yang halus dan fasih bercak agama

8. Makarim Mulud Mubarak: Laki-laki mulia yang dilahirkan banyak

9. Naqib Ibni Humam: Anak laki-laki pemberani tinggi cita-citanya pemimpin

10. Robih Hakimul Karim: Laki-laki beruntung yang penuh bijaksan

11. Tsabit Qalbun Salim: Laki-laki yang hatinya istiqomah dan damai

12. Wahid Amzar Hafizuddin: Laki-laki pertama yang mulia serta m agama

Gerson Yellen - Florida

Arrest Record Search

Arrest Record Search

Get 40% off

NEWS

Search Arrest Records

Search Arrest Records

Harry Vaughn Yellen - Tennessee

Search Arrest Records

Mugshots.com: 24998858

Age: 20

Class: PRETRIAL FELON

Race: W

Sex: M

Intake Date: 10/01/2012

Charges:

TCA Description:	FEDERAL SAFE HOUSING
Bond:	$0
Court Date:	Not Set

External Links:

Frederick Yellen - ROBBERY - Idaho

See Arrest Records

No Mugshot

Arrest Record Search

$80 INSTANT SAVINGS

BBC NEWS

Gulf cartel

Customer Review

Customer Review

Jose A. Abrego, MD

Practice Location(s)

ABC NEWS The drug lords behind Mexico's deadly turf war SHARE

Gulf cartel

The Gulf cartel is perhaps the oldest organised crime group in Mexico and is known for intimidating local civilians and being particularly violent.

Former allies of the Zetas, the Gulf cartel are now believed to be allied to the Sinaloa cartel.

Its founder Juan Guerra - considered to be the "godfather" of the cartel - smuggled alcohol into the US in the 1930s.

After the end of the Prohibition, Guerra, widely known as Don Juan, turned his focus to drug smuggling.

In the 1970s the command shifted to Guerra's nephew, Juan Garcia Abrego. He lead the lucrative business until his arrest and extradition to the US in 1996.

Juan Garcia Abrego is led out of an FBI office after his arrest in 1996. (Reuters)

After a series of internal battles Osiel Cardenas took over. As his cartel grew, he created Los Zetas, a new armed wing made up of military defectors.

The two groups were collectively known as The Company.

Los Zetas was designed to protect the Gulf

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas (July 18, 1910 – July 12, 2001) was a Mexican drug lord who founded and led the Gulf Cartel for over 50 years. He is often considered the "godfather" of U.S.-Mexico border cartels.[1]

He began his criminal career in the 1930s by smuggling alcohol from Mexico during the Prohibition in the United States. He later diversified to other cross-border smuggling activities. He is the uncle of Juan Garcia Abrego, his successor in the cartel and once considered Mexico's most-wanted man.

Early life and career [edit]

During the 1930s he began smuggling whisky across the Mexico–United States border through south Texas. Through shrewd political connections he had fostered, Nepomuceno Guerra was able to control all the contraband moving across the Rio Grande. [1] In the 1970s, his nephew Juan Garcia Abrego began utilizing those connections and developed the organization into a drug cartel primarily dedicated to the more lucrative business of smuggling cocaine.[4]

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra

Nepomuceno Guerra pictured on far left

Born	Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas July 18, 1910 Matamoros, Tamaulipas, Mexico

amazon

All Medical Care Groceries Best Sellers Amazon Basics New Releases Prime

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

★★★★★ Jewish History

Reviewed in the United States on July 7, 2023

Verified Purchase

This book is in one word "Awesome". And should be mandatory to read to any Judeo-Christian believer.

Helpful Report Permalink

Customers who viewed items in your browsing history also viewed

amazon

All Today's Deals Customer Service Registry Gift Cards Sell

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

★★★★★ WOW !! What a gem of a book

Reviewed in the United States on April 18, 2024

I have a lot of positive things to say about the high-level content in this book. It is a great resource for a serious person wanting to learn Biblical Hebrew in-depth. However, it could be somewhat hard for someone without some prior knowledge of the language. Once you have a basic understanding, you can use this book to enhance your knowledge. As a solution B, I recommend "Basics of Biblical Hebrew" by Gary D. Pratico as a secondary resource when starting from scratch.

By getting hold of these two books, you will have all the necessary tools to navigate through the complexities of grammar, which other books tend to make unnecessarily difficult and discouraging. The best part is that you can easily purchase them at a very competitive price on Amazon.

Helpful Report Permalink

Beth Israel Lahey Health

« Search Results

Jose A. Abrego, MD

Internal Medicine | Primary Care

Patient Portal Save Contact

Practice Location(s)

Beth Israel Lahey Health Primary Care - 1000 Broadway
1000 Broadway
Chelsea, MA 02150
Driving Directions

Phone:
617-975-6200
Fax:
617-975-6151

William Barksdale

Article Talk

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For the member of the Virginia Senate, see William P. Barksdale. For the Confederate colonel, see William Barksdale Tabb.

William Barksdale (August 21, 1821 – July 3, 1863) was an American lawyer, newspaper editor, US Representative, and Confederate general in the American Civil War. He served four terms in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1853 to 1861.

A staunch secessionist, he was mortally wounded during the Battle of Gettysburg while he led his brigade's attack on Union forces not far from Cemetery Ridge.

William Barksdale
Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's 2nd district
In office March 4, 1853 – January 21, 1861
Preceded by Otho R. Singleton
Succeeded by Henry Bonn
Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's at-large district
In office March 4, 1853 – March 3, 1853
Preceded by no at-large seats
Succeeded by 3rd Congressional District established
Personal details
Born August 21, 1821 Smyrna, Tennessee
Died July 3, 1863 (aged 41) Gettysburg, Pennsylvania
Resting place Greenwood Cemetery Jackson, Mississippi
Political party Democratic
Profession Newspaper editor, writer

Early life [edit]

William Barksdale was born in Smyrna, Tennessee, the son of William Barksdale and Nancy Harvey Lester Barksdale. He was the older brother of Charles Barksdale, who would serve in both the antebellum U.S. Congress and then the Confederate States Congress during the Civil War. He was of English ancestry which came to America during the 1600s.[1]

Barksdale graduated from the University of Nashville and practiced law in Mississippi from the age of 21, but gave up his practice to become the editor of the Columbus (Mississippi) Democrat, a pro-slavery newspaper.[2]

He enlisted in the 2nd Mississippi Infantry Regiment and served in the Mexican War as a captain and quartermaster, but often participated in the infantry fighting as well.

Congress [edit]

After the war, he became active in political causes, making a name for himself as an advocate of the Compromise of 1850. His political visibility and recent military service gave him a strong profile for a political

David Barksdale

Born	Kenan David Barksdale May 24, 1947 Gary, Mississippi, US
Died	September 2, 1974 (aged 27) Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Resting place	Oakwood Cemetery, Alsip, Illinois, U.S.
Other names	King David Emperor David David Jones
Known for	Street gang leader (Chicago)
Spouse	Yvonne Walker (m. 1973–1974)
Children	3

Gangster Disciples

Founded	1969; 55 years ago as the Black Gangster Disciple Nation 1974; 51 years ago as the Gangster Disciples
Founder	Larry Hoover David Barksdale (BGDN)
Named after	Supreme Gangsters
Founding location	Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Years active	1969–present
Territory	Southeastern, Minneapolis and Southeastern United States[1][2]
Ethnicity	Primarily African American[3]
Membership (est.)	20,000–30,000[4]
Leader(s)	Larry Hoover (retired)
Activities	Drug trafficking, assault, firearms violations, fraud,

David Barksdale

1 language

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

David Barksdale (born Donise David Barksdale; May 24, 1947 – September 2, 1974), also known as King David, was an American gangster and activist from Chicago, Illinois. He was the founder of the Black Disciples. He and Larry Hoover (leader of the Gangster Disciples) decided to merge and create the Black Gangster Disciple Nation. Barksdale was seen as a hero in the black community because he operated a free breakfast program in Englewood to poor children, and he and the Disciples marched with Martin Luther King Jr. in Marquette Park. He was a close friend of Fred Hampton. Barksdale died on September 2, 1974, due to kidney failure, at the age of 27.

David Barksdale
Born	Donise David Barksdale May 24, 1947 Sallis, Mississippi, U.S.
Died	September 2, 1974 (aged 27) Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Resting place	Restvale Cemetery, Alsip, Illinois, U.S.
Other names	King David Emperor David David Jones
Known for	Street gang leader (Chicago)
Spouse	Yvonne Yarber (m. 1972–1974)
Children	3

Biography [edit]

Born Donise David Barksdale in Sallis, Mississippi to parents Virginia and Charlie Barksdale, he was the tenth of thirteen children. His family moved to Chicago, Illinois in 1957.

Within three years of arriving, Barksdale had become a notorious gang leader. By 1966, his gang absorbed several others and became known as the Black Disciple Nation. Tensions grew between the Black Disciples and other gangs such as the Black Stone Rangers. In the late 1960s, King David, as he had become known, started to lead the Black Disciples into activism, serving breakfast to school children and marching with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Marquette park during the Chicago Freedom Movement. He

The Gangster Disciple Nation (often abbreviated as the GD's; formally, GDN), also known as Growth & Development, is an African American street and prison gang founded by former rivals David Barksdale and Larry Hoover; in 1968, the two came together to form the Black Gangster Disciple Nation (BGDN).

Post-1989, following growing tension between the two over declining leadership, the BGDN split into two new factions—Hoover's Gangster Disciple Nation (GDN) and Barksdale's Black Disciple Nation (BDN), respectively. As of 2022, following Hoover's departure, the GDN has no full-time leadership role.[10]

Gangster Disciples
Founded	1969; 55 years ago (as the Black Gangster Disciple Nation) 1989; 35 years ago (as the Gangster Disciples)
Founder	Larry Hoover David Barksdale (BGDN)
Named after	Supreme Gangsters
Founding location	Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Years active	1969–present
Territory	Northeastern, Midwestern and Southeastern United States[1][2]
Ethnicity	Primarily African American[3]
Membership (est.)	25,000–50,000+[4]
Leader(s)	Larry Hoover (formerly)
Activities	Drug trafficking, assault, firearms violations, fraud,

History [edit]

The origins of the Gangster Disciples began in Englewood (in Chicago, Illinois's South Side) in 1964, when then 13-year-old Larry "The King" Hoover joined a small street gang called the "Supreme Gangsters". For years, the Supreme Gangsters had an outstanding war with the Black Disciples Nation, led by David Barksdale.[11] In 1969, Hoover and Barksdale agreed to a ceasefire. This resulted in the creation of the Black Gangster Disciple Nation.[12][13] By the early 1970s, the BGDN dominated the Chicago gang scene. Barksdale died of kidney failure in 1974, at the age of 27.[14] Following his death, Hoover assumed full control of the Black Gangster Disciples.

Folks Nation [edit]

See also: Folk Nation

In 1978, the BGDN began to splinter into three distinct factions: Black Gangsters, Black Disciples and Gangster Disciples; however, Hoover (at the time incarcerated on murder charges) prevented it by quickly setting up an alliance of all street and prison gangs in his interest into one family.[15][16]

The alliance consisted of Gangster Disciples, Black Disciples, Satan Disciples, Latin Disciples, Spanish Gangster Disciples, Ambrose, Two-Two Boys, Two-Sixers/Two-Six Boys, Simon City Royals, North Side Insane Popes, La Raza, Spanish Cobras, Imperial Gangsters, Harrison Gents, and the Latin Eagles.

Expansions [edit]

The Gangster Disciples are active in over 100 cities and 50 states, predominantly in the Midwestern and

William Barksdale

9 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For the member of the Virginia Senate, see William P. Barksdale. For the Confederate colonel, see William Barksdale Tabb.

William Barksdale (August 21, 1821 – July 3, 1863) was an American lawyer, newspaper editor, US Representative, and Confederate general in the American Civil War. He served four terms in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1853 to 1861.

A staunch secessionist, he was mortally wounded during the Battle of Gettysburg while he led his brigade's attack on Union forces not far from Cemetery Ridge.

William Barksdale

Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's 3rd district
In office	March 4, 1855 – January 21, 1861
Preceded by	Otho R. Singleton
Succeeded by	Henry Barry
Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's at-large district
In office	March 4, 1853 – March 3, 1855
Preceded by	no at-large seats
Succeeded by	3rd Congressional District established
Personal details
Born	August 21, 1821 Smyrna, Tennessee
Died	July 3, 1863 (aged 41) Gettysburg, Pennsylvania
Resting place	Greenwood Cemetery Jackson, Mississippi
Political party	Democratic
Profession	Newspaper editor, soldier

Early life [edit]

William Barksdale was born in Smyrna, Tennessee, the son of William Barksdale and Nancy Hervey Lester Barksdale. He was the older brother of Ethelbert Barksdale, who would serve in both the antebellum U.S. Congress and then the Confederate States Congress during the Civil War. He was of English ancestry which came to America during the 1600s.[1]

Barksdale graduated from the University of Nashville and practiced law in Mississippi from the age of 21, but gave up his practice to become the editor of the Columbus [Mississippi] Democrat, a pro-slavery newspaper.[2]

He enlisted in the 2nd Mississippi Infantry Regiment and served in the Mexican War as a captain and quartermaster, but often participated in the infantry fighting as well.

Congress [edit]

After the war, he became active in political causes, making a name for himself as an advocate of the Compromise of 1850. His political visibility and recent military service gave him a strong profile for a political

We are a Warm and Welcoming Conservative Congregation in Pepper Pike, Ohio

B'nai Jeshurun Congregation

About Us Pray Learn Engage Giv

Mind-Full Shabbat Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale

Friday, March 29, 2024 • 19 Adar II 5784

6:00 PM - 9:00 PM
B'nai Jeshurun

Register

You must be logged into your ShulCloud account if you are not paying online and plan to mail or drop off your payment later. Please make sure you are logged in to your ShulCloud account. If you are unsure, look in the top right hand corner of the screen and it should say either Log In or Welcome "Your Name." If you need any assistance contact Joscelyn Harris.

Mind-Full Shabbat Dinner
Friday, March 29
7:00 pm
Antifragility: Working to Build Resilience in the Wake of Tragedy & Violence
Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale
Nationally recognized pediatric surgeon who launched a hospital-based violence intervention teen program.

Register by March 20 for earlybird
Registration will close on Monday, March 25

Shabbat Service • 6:00 pm
Dinner • 7:00 pm
Speaker with Q&A: • 8:00 pm

Eat and engage at Mind-Full Shabbat, an exciting way to connect with congregants, the community

PORNIA

France | Zen Porn | HD | Big Tits | Brunette | MILF | Tattoo | Big Cock | Big Ass | In

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Isiah Maxwell

1 months ago

Advertisement

0 0 719 Comments

NudeVista

tubes | models | directory

Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevance, newest, popularity, duration or random

Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian Bosnia Macedonian

Cute Bosnian Immature Love
tubecup, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, 2 months ago

Hot Bosnian American
eporner, bosnia and herzegovina, usa, co-ed, flashing, 3 months ago

Bosnian First Time
tube8, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, amateur, homemade,

Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend
mylust, riding, girlfriend, bosnia and herzegovina, brunettes, 8 months ago

Hg - Serbians Gang Rape Their Bosnian Sex Slave

Tube: motherless

Tags: slave, serbia, bosnia and herzegovina, violence, dominance, homemade, brunettes

Added 9 months ago

Report problem

Bosnian Amela Receives Tired
hclips, bosnia and herzegovina, amateur, hardcore, 9 months ago

Big Tits
Brunette
MILF
Tattoo
Big Cock
Big Ass
Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Advertisement
NudeVista
tubes
Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian 30:34
11:25
Cute Bosnian Immature Love
Hot Bosnian American
Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend
Search

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest

51.159.194.214/videos/5...

Tor

UPORNIA

France | Zen Porn | HD | Big Tits | Brunette | MILF | Tattoo | Big Cock | Big Ass

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Isiah Maxwell

1 months ago

AD Watch Premium Video (FULL)

02:51 / 21:31

Cherokee

Advertisement

0 0 719 Comments

https://web.archive.org/web/201 90%

NudeVista

tubes | models | directory

Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevance, newest, popularity, duration or random

Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian Bosnia Macedonian

30:34

Cute Bosnian Immature Love

tubecup, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, 2 months ago

11:25

Hot Bosnian American

epornet, bosnia and herzegovina, usa, co-ed, flashing, 3 months ago

04:10

Bosnian First Time

tube8, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, amateur, homemade,

29:55

Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend

mylust, riding, girlfriend, bosnia and herzegovina, brunettes, 8 months ago

10:48

Hg - Serbians Gang Rape Their Bosnian Sex Slave

Tube: motherless

Tags: slave, serbia, bosnia and herzegovina, violence, dominance, homemade, brunettes

Added 9 months ago

Report problem

47:53

Bosnian Amela Receives Tired

hclips, bosnia and herzegovina, amateur, hardcore, 9 months ago

82°F Sunny

Search

4:40 PM 6/11/2024

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest

51.159.194.214/videos/5...

Tor

PORNIA

France | Zen Porn | HD | Big Tits | Brunette | MILF | Tattoo | Big Cock | Big Ass

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Isiah Maxwell

1 months ago

Advertisement

0 0 719 Comments

https://web.archive.org/web/201

90%

NudeVista

tubes | models | directory

Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevance, newest, popularity, duration or random

Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian Bosnia Macedonian

Cute Bosnian Immature Love
tubecup, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, 2 months ago

Hot Bosnian American
eporner, bosnia and herzegovina, usa, co-ed, flashing, 3 months ago

Bosnian First Time
tube8, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, amateur, homemade,

Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend
mylust, riding, girlfriend, bosnia and herzegovina, brunettes, 8 months ago

Hg - Serbians Gang Rape Their Bosnian Sex Slave

Tube: motherless

Tags: slave, serbia, bosnia and herzegovina, violence, dominance, homemade, brunettes

Added 9 months ago

Report problem

Bosnian Amela Receives Tired
hclips, bosnia and herzegovina, amateur, hardcore, 9 months ago

82°F Sunny

Search

4:40 PM 6/11/2024

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL

Framed

NJ Jewish paper mixes its Guzmans

New Jersey-based Orthodox weekly illustrates Mexican drug lord's capture with photo of comic actor Luis Guzman

John Travolta isn't the only one who has been struggling with name recognition of late.

Get The Times of Israel's Daily Edition by email and never miss our top stories

In an attempt to cover the capture of Mexican cartel leader Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman, The Lakewood Shopper, an Orthodox Jewish newspaper based in Lakewood, New Jersey, accidentally used a photograph of Luis Guzman, a popular Puerto Rican-American comedian from New York's Lower East Side, Elite Daily reported.

Guzman is best known for his roles in "Carlito's Way" and "How To Make It In America."

The gaffe was identified by Malel Rikud on Twitter and was well received by

US: Peace framework to recognize Israel as state

shiva The resource for Jewish mourning

LEARN PLAN SEND

In Loving Memory of Raphael Cardenas

BACK

In Loving Memory of

Raphael Cardenas

December 7th, 2019 - June 2nd, 2022

OBITUARY

Raphael Cardenas, beloved son of Marina Ross and Henry Cardenas. Adored grandson of Diana Balzak, Darren Ross, Victorino Cardenas and Ruth Leticia Vazquez. Cherished nephew of Sonia Balzak. His loss is deeply felt by many other extended family and friends. Graveside service Tuesday, 11 AM, at Shalom Memorial Park (Section XII Mt. Zion), 1700 W. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights, IL 60004. In lieu of flowers memorials in his name may made to Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago, 225 East Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611, www.luriechildrens.org, 312.227.7500. Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals - Skokie Chapel, 847.229.8822, www.cjfinfo.com.

Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals.
www.chicagojewishfunerals.com

Send Shiva Meals

Express your condolences and provide comfort with

Plant a Tree in Israel

Honor and commemorate loved ones by planting trees

Congregation Kol Emeth

4.7

Overview Reviews About

Photos & videos

Review summary

4.7

Write a review

Reviews

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this Spanish name, the first or paternal surname is Oseguera and the second or maternal family name is Cervantes.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes (born American Spanish: [nemeˈsjo ruˈben osegeˈra seɾˈβantes]; born 17 July 1966, or 17 July 1964), commonly referred to by his alias El Mencho (Spanish: [ˈmenʧo]), is a Mexican drug lord and leader of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), an organized crime group based in Jalisco. He is the most-wanted person in Mexico and one of the most-wanted in the U.S. The US government, as well as the Mexican government, is offering $15 million and $20 million respectively for information leading to his arrest.

He is wanted for drug trafficking, organized crime involvement, and unlicensed/illegal possession of firearms. El Mencho is allegedly responsible for coordinating global drug trafficking operations. Under his command, the CJNG became one of Mexico's leading criminal organizations.

Born into poverty in Mexico, El Mencho grew up in poverty and dropped out of primary school before immigrating illegally to the U.S. in the 1980s. After being arrested several times, he was deported to Mexico in the early 1990s and worked for the Milenio Cartel. He eventually climbed to the top of the criminal organization and founded the CJNG after several of his bosses were arrested or killed.

His notoriety is also a result of his aggressive leadership and sensationalist acts of violence against both rival criminal groups and Mexican security forces alike. These attacks brought him increased government attention and an extensive manhunt. Security forces suspect he is hiding in the rural terrains of Jalisco, Michoacán, Nayarit, and/or Colima, and is guarded by mercenaries with Kaibil military training.

In February 2022 unconfirmed reports began to surface stating that El Mencho had died from respiratory complications while undergoing treatment in a private hospital in Guadalajara.

However, U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent Ryan Moss, who heads the search for El Mencho, denied rumors of his death in an interview he gave to RT RMN in March 2023.

Early life [edit]

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes was born in July 1964 or 1966 in the rural community of Cuitzillos in

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes

Born	17 July 1966 (age 57) Aguililla, Michoacán, Mexico
Other names	El Mencho El Viejo Lobo[1] Don Nemesio El Señor de los Gallos[2]
Employer	Jalisco New Generation Cartel
Predecessor	Ignacio Coronel Villarreal
Criminal status	Wanted
Spouse	Rosalinda González Valencia (m. 1986; div. 1988)[3]
Children	4, including Rubén Oseguera González
Relatives	Abigael González Valencia (nephew-in-law)

Notes

Bounty: US$15 million offered from the U.S. government; MN$30 million offered from Mexico (PGR)

Jalisco New Generation Cartel

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Jalisco New Generation Cartel (Spanish: Cártel de Jalisco Nueva Generación) or CJNG, is a Mexican criminal syndicate based in Jalisco and headed by Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes ("El Mencho").[1] The cartel has been characterized by extreme violence and public relations campaigns.[2] Though the CJNG is known for diversifying into various criminal markets, drug trafficking primarily cocaine and methamphetamine remains its most profitable activity.[3] The cartel has been noted for dismembering some victims during the kidnapping of rival sicarios or members, as well as using drones[4][5] and rocket-propelled grenades in attack assaults.[6]

CJNG started in 2009 as one of the splits of the Milenio Cartel, the other being La Resistencia. CJNG relocated La Resistencia and took control of Milenio's smuggling networks. CJNG expanded its operation outside from coast to coast in six months, making it one of the criminal groups with the greatest operating capacity by 2012.[7][8] Following emergence of the cartel, homicides, kidnappings and discoveries of mass graves spiked in Jalisco.[9] By 2018, the CJNG was believed to have over 100 methamphetamine labs throughout Mexico. Based on average street value, its trade could net upwards of $8 billion for cocaine and $4.6 billion for crystal meth each year.[10][11][12] The CJNG are fighting the Sinaloa Cartel for control of Guadalajara, La Unión Tepito for Mexico City, Los Viagras and La Familia Michoacana for the states of Michoacán and Guerrero, Los Zetas in the states of Veracruz and Puebla. Cells are formed in Zacatecas, the Sinaloa Cartel in Baja California, Sonora,[13] Quintana Roo, Zacatecas and Chiapas, as well as the Gulf Cartel in Coahuila.[14] They have an alliance with the Cártel del Golfo in Zacatecas and La Línea in Jalisco.[15]

CJNG is considered by the Mexican government to be one of the most dangerous criminal organizations in Mexico[16] and arguably most powerful drug cartel after the Sinaloa Cartel.[17] CJNG is heavily militarized and more violent than other criminal organizations. It has a special operations group for specific types of warfare.[18] Its Kaibil-trained program is strict and

Jalisco Cartel

Cartel Jalisco Nueva Generación

CJNG

Logo of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Founded	31 August 2009
Founder	Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes, Erendira Alejandro Pablo Gerardo, Abdiel Arcos Ortega, and Erick Valencia Salazar[1]
Founding location	Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico[2]
Years active	2009–present[3]
Territory	Mexico: Jalisco, Nayarit, Michoacán, Colima, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Puebla, Baja California, Baja California Sur, Chihuahua, Sonora, Veracruz, Tamaulipas, Estado de México, México City, Morelos, Guerrero, Oaxaca, Tlaxcala, Querétaro, Hidalgo United States: California, New York, Oregon, Illinois, Texas, Georgia, Florida, Washington Americas: Victoria, New South Wales, South America: Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Brazil, Venezuela, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay, Uruguay, Argentina, Uruguay Europe: France, United Kingdom, Germany, Italy, Spain Oceania: Australia
Ethnicity	Mexicans
Membership	23,000–50,000 (estimated)[4]

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes

Article Talk

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this Spanish name, the first or paternal surname is Oseguera and the second or maternal family name is Cervantes.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes (Latin American Spanish: [ne.ˈmesjo ˈrow.ˈben]; born 17 July 1966, or 17 July 1964), commonly referred to by his alias El Mencho ([el ˈmenʧo]), is a Mexican drug lord and leader of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), an organized crime group based in Jalisco. He is the most-wanted person in Mexico and one of the most-wanted in the U.S. The US government, as well as the Mexican government, is offering $10 million and $30 million respectively for information leading to his arrest.

He is wanted for drug trafficking, organized crime involvement, and undocumented possession of firearms. El Mencho is allegedly responsible for coordinating global drug trafficking operations. Under his command, the CJNG became one of Mexico's leading criminal organizations.

Born into poverty in Mexico, El Mencho grew aversive and dropped out of primary school before immigrating illegally to the U.S. in the 1980s. After being arrested several times, he was deported to Mexico in the early 1990s and worked for the Milenio Cartel.[7] He eventually climbed to the top of the criminal organization and founded the CJNG after several of his bosses were arrested or killed.

His notoriety is also a result of his aggressive leadership and sensationalist acts of violence against both rival criminal groups and Mexican security forces alike. These attacks brought him increased government attention and an extensive manhunt. Security forces suspect he is hiding in the rural terrains of Jalisco, Michoacán, Nayarit, and/or Colima, and is guarded by mercenaries with former military training.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes

Born	17 July 1966 (age 57) Aguililla, Michoacán, Mexico
Other names	El Mencho El Mato Zetas[1] Don Nemesio El Señor de los Gallos[1]
Employer	Jalisco New Generation Cartel
Predecessor	Ignacio Coronel Villarreal
Criminal status	Wanted
Spouse	Rosalinda González Valencia (m. 1996; div. 2018)[1]
Children	4, including Rubén Oseguera González
Relatives	Abigael González Valencia (brother-in-law)

Notes

Bounty: US$10 million offered from the U.S. government; MN$30 million offered from Mexico's Office of the General Prosecutor (PGR).

In February 2022 unconfirmed reports began to surface stating that El Mencho had died from respiratory arrest while undergoing treatment in a private hospital in Guadalajara.[8]

However, U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent Kyle Mott, who heads the search for El Mencho, denied rumors of his death in an interview he gave to KPI AM's in March 2023.[9]

Early life [edit]

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes was born in July 1964 or 1966 in the rural community of Cuatitlán in

Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Article Talk

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Jalisco New Generation Cartel (Spanish: Cártel de Jalisco Nueva Generación) or CJNG,[1][2][3][4] is a Mexican criminal syndicate, based in Jalisco and headed by Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes ("El Mencho").[5][6] The cartel has been characterized by extreme violence and public relations campaigns.[7] Though the CJNG is known for diversifying into various criminal rackets, drug trafficking (primarily cocaine and methamphetamine) remains its most profitable activity.[8][9] The cartel has been noted for cannibalizing some victims during the training of new sicarios or members, as well as using drones[10][11][12] and rocket-propelled grenades to attack enemies.[13]

CJNG started in 2009 as one of the splits of the Milenio Cartel, the other being La Resistencia. CJNG defeated La Resistencia and took control of Milenio's smuggling networks. CJNG expanded its operation network from coast to coast in six months, making it one of the criminal groups with the greatest operating capacity by 2012.[14][15] Following emergence of the cartel, homicides, kidnappings and discoveries of mass graves spiked in Jalisco.[16] By 2018, the CJNG was believed to have over 100 methamphetamine labs throughout Mexico. Based on average street value, its trade could net upwards of $8 billion for cocaine and $4.4 billion for crystal meth each year.[17][18][19][20][21] The CJNG are fighting the Nueva Plaza Cartel for control of Guadalajara; La Union Tepito for Mexico City; Los Viagras and La Familia Michoacana for the states of Michoacán and Guerrero; Los Zetas in the states of Veracruz and Puebla; Cartel del Noreste in Zacatecas; the Sinaloa Cartel in Baja California, Sonora,[22] Ciudad Juárez, Zacatecas and Chiapas; as well as the Santa Rosa de Lima Cartel in Guanajuato.[23] They have an alliance with the Cártel del Golfo in Zacatecas and La Línea in Juárez.[24]

CJNG is considered by the Mexican government to be one of the most dangerous criminal organizations in Mexico[25] and second most powerful drug cartel after the Sinaloa Cartel.[26] CJNG is heavily militarized and more violent than other criminal organizations. It has a special operations group for specific types of warfare.[27] Its hitman training program is strict and

Jalisco Cartel

Cártel Jalisco Nueva Generación

Logo of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Founded	31 August 2009
Founder	Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes, Emilio Alejandro Pulido Salazar, Martín Acosta Ortega, and Erick Valencia Salazar[28]
Founding location	Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico[29]
Years active	2009–present[30]
Territory	Mexico: Jalisco, Nayarit, Michoacán, Colima, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Puebla, Baja California, Baja California Sur, Chihuahua, Sonora, Veracruz, Tamaulipas, Estado de México, Mexico City, Tabasco, Guerrero, Chiapas, Tlaxcala, Querétaro, Hidalgo, United States: California, New York, Oregon, Illinois, Texas, Georgia, Florida, Washington Australia: Victoria, New South Wales South America: Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Brazil, Venezuela, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay, Guyana, Argentina, Uruguay Europe: France, United Kingdom, Belgium, Italy, Spain
Ethnicity	Hispanic
Membership	20,000-50,000 (suspected)[31]

Who owns this Phone Number
(302) 658-7581

whitepages

Menu

1-302-658-7581

Who owns the Phone Number

(302) 658-7581

LOW SPAM RISK

Landline · Last updated Feb 2024

Monitor

Registered to: Coby L Ringgenberg

Coby Lynn Ringgenberg • Coby Lynn Coswell • Coby Lynn Caswell

Other names for Coby

40s

YouTube

HIGHWEBMEDIA CHATURE

Marc Abigmess

41 subscribers

Subsc

257 views Oct 4, 2019

Mark Text

CHATURBATE

Mark Image

Mark Image Description

Registration Number

Mark Type

Mark Form

Status

Owner

Holder Name

Holder Address

Correspondent Name

JASON A. FISCHER

Correspondent Address

HANGAUER LEGAL GROUP 2 SOUTH B

SUITE 2000 MIAMI, FL 33131

Management (check one)

Additional Information

Execution

SIGNATURE

DATE

NAME OF SIGNATORY

TYPE OR PRINT NAME OF SIGNATORY

SIGNATION

Governor | General Assembly | Courts | Elected Officials | State Agencies

Allowable Characters

Entity Details

THIS IS NOT A STATEMENT OF GOOD STANDING

File Number:	6277903	Incorporation Date / Formation Date:	1/9/2017 (mm/dd/yyyy)
Entity Name:	CHATURBATE, LLC
Entity Kind:	Limited Liability Company	Entity Type:	General
Residency:	Domestic	State:	DELAWARE

REGISTERED AGENT INFORMATION

Name:	NATIONAL REGISTERED AGENTS, INC.
Address:	1209 ORANGE STREET
City:	WILMINGTON	County:	New Castle
State:	DE	Postal Code:	19801
Phone:	302-658-7581

Additional Information is available for a fee. You can retrieve Status for a fee of $10.00 or more detailed information including current franchise tax assessment, current filing history and more for a fee of $20.00.

Would you like ○ Status ○ Status,Tax & History Information

Submit

View Search Results | New Entity Search

ag to take you to the help area.

this site | contact us | translate | delaware.gov

https://icis.corp.delaware.gov/eCor...c.aspx#REGISTERED AGENT INFORMATION

whitepages Menu

1-302-658-7581

Who owns the Phone Number

(302) 658-7581

LOW SPAM RISK

Landline Last updated Feb 2024

Monitor

Registered to: Coby L Ringgenberg

Coby Lynn Ringgenberg • Coby Lynn Coswell • Coby Lynn Caswell

Other names for Coby

40s

Management (Check only one)

5. THE LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY WILL BE MANAGED BY:

- [x] ONE MANAGER
- [ ] MORE THAN ONE MANAGER
- [ ] ALL LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY MEMBER(S)

Additional Information

6. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION SET FORTH ON THE ATTACHED PAGES, IF ANY, IS INCORPORATED HEREIN BY THIS REFERENCE AND MADE A PART OF THIS CERTIFICATE.

Execution

7. I DECLARE I AM THE PERSON WHO EXECUTED THIS INSTRUMENT, WHICH EXECUTION IS MY ACT AND DEED.

4/21/2011
DATE

SIGNATURE OF ORGANIZER

Jason Zimmerman
TYPE OR PRINT NAME OF ORGANIZER

LLC-1 (REV 04/2010) APPROVED BY SECRETARY OF STATE

YouTube Sign in

Washington Post: Break

Chaturbate, LLC [US] https://fr.chaturbate.com/

0:38 / 0:50

HIGHWEBMEDIA CHATURBATE JASON ZIMMERMAN

Marc Abigmess
41 subscribers

Subscribe 0 Share

257 views Oct 4, 2019

Mark Text
CHATURBATE

Mark Image

Mark Image Description
The mark consists of the word "Chaturbate" written in a cursive font with an underline.

Internation Registration Number
86808048

Mark Type
Illustration: Drawing or design which also includes word(s)/ letter(s)/number(s)

Mark Form
Image

Status
REGISTERED

Url
http://tsdr.uspto.gov/ #caseNumber=86808048&caseSearchType=US_APPLICATION&caseType=DEFAULT&searchType=statusSearch

Holder Name
Multi Media, LLC

Holder Address
23615 El Toro Rd #X344, Lake Forrest, CA, 92630

Correspondent Name
JASON A. FISCHER

Correspondent Address
RANDAZZA LEGAL GROUP 2 SOUTH BISCAYNE BLVD. SUITE 2600 MIAMI, FL 33131

Governor | General Assembly | Courts | Elected Officials | State Agencies

Allowable Characters

Entity Details

THIS IS NOT A STATEMENT OF GOOD STANDING

File Number:	6277903	Incorporation Date / Formation Date:	1/9/2017 (mm/dd/yyyy)
Entity Name:	CHATURBATE, LLC
Entity Kind:	Limited Liability Company	Entity Type:	General
Residency:	Domestic	State:	DELAWARE

REGISTERED AGENT INFORMATION

Name:	NATIONAL REGISTERED AGENTS, INC.
Address:	1209 ORANGE STREET
City:	WILMINGTON	County:	New Castle
State:	DE	Postal Code:	19801
Phone:	302-658-7581

Additional Information is available for a fee. You can retrieve Status for a fee of $10.00 or more detailed information including current franchise tax assessment, current filing history and more for a fee of $20.00.

Would you like ○ Status ○ Status,Tax & History Information

Submit

View Search Results | New Entity Search

g to take you to the help area.

this site | contact us | translate | delaware.gov

https://icis.corp.delaware.gov/eCor...c.aspx#REGISTERED AGENT INFORMATION

whitepages Menu

1-302-658-7581

Who owns the Phone Number

(302) 658-7581

LOW SPAM RISK

Landline Last updated Feb 2024

Monitor

Registered to: Coby L Ringgenberg

Coby Lynn Ringgenberg • Coby Lynn Coswell • Coby Lynn Caswell

Other names for Coby

40s

Management (Check only one)

5. THE LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY WILL BE MANAGED BY:

- [x] ONE MANAGER
- [ ] MORE THAN ONE MANAGER
- [ ] ALL LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY MEMBER(S)

Additional Information

6. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION SET FORTH ON THE ATTACHED PAGES, IF ANY, IS INCORPORATED HEREIN BY THIS REFERENCE AND MADE A PART OF THIS CERTIFICATE.

Execution

7. I DECLARE I AM THE PERSON WHO EXECUTED THIS INSTRUMENT, WHICH EXECUTION IS MY ACT AND DEED.

4/21/2011
DATE

SIGNATURE OF ORGANIZER

Jason Zimmerman
TYPE OR PRINT NAME OF ORGANIZER

LLC-1 (REV 04/2010) APPROVED BY SECRETARY OF STATE

YouTube Sign in

HIGHWEBMEDIA CHATURBATE JASON ZIMMERMAN

Marc Abigmess
41 subscribers

Subscribe 0 Share

257 views Oct 4, 2019

Mark Text
CHATURBATE

Mark Image

Mark Image Description
The mark consists of the word "Chaturbate" written in a cursive font with an underline.

Internation Registration Number
86808048

Mark Type
Illustration: Drawing or design which also includes word(s)/ letter(s)/number(s)

Mark Form
image

Status
REGISTERED

Url
http://tsdr.uspto.gov/ #caseNumber=86808048&caseSearchType=US_APPLICATION&caseType=DEFAULT&searchType=statusSearch

Holder Name
Multi Media, LLC

Holder Address
23615 El Toro Rd #X344, Lake Forrest, CA, 92630

Correspondent Name
JASON A. FISCHER

Correspondent Address
RANDAZZA LEGAL GROUP 2 SOUTH BISCAYNE BLVD. SUITE 2600 MIAMI, FL 33131

Playboy Plus | Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

.tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Klana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus

Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

Karl Gotch
Karl Gotch
Early life and amateur wrestling career
Professional wrestling career
YouTube
first mma fight history
ULISSE
6R
Muhammad Ali vs Antonio Inoki 1976 MMA Begins
Subscribe
Antonio Inoki
ISTAZ
Top Leader ISTAZ
Pimpinan Kampus ISTAZ
Drs.H.Imam B, MM
Ketua Senat
PENGUMUMAN
ENGUMUMAN
UIAN AKHIR

Shoot wrestling

7 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article needs additional citations for verification. Please help improve this article by adding citations to reliable sources. Unsourced material may be challenged and removed.

Find sources: "Shoot wrestling" – news · newspapers · books · scholar · JSTOR (February 2019) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shoot wrestling is a Japanese hybrid grappling style and combat sport. Shoot wrestling incorporates techniques from various wrestling, submission grappling, kickboxing and karate styles. It was particularly inspired and influenced by catch wrestling, a form of wrestling with submissions that was the predominant style of professional wrestling in the 19th and early 20th century, at the time a competitive sport and not yet predetermined.[1]

Shoot wrestling

Focus	Grappling
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama, Yuki Nakai, Yorinaga Nakamura, Kazuo Yamazaki, Kazushi Sakuraba, Kiyoshi Tamura, Tsuyoshi Kosaka, Volk Han, Ken Shamrock, Masakatsu Funaki, Daisuke Nakamura
Parenthood	Catch wrestling, freestyle wrestling, Greco-Roman wrestling, judo, karate, Muay Thai, sambo
Descendant arts	Shootfighting, shootboxing, mixed martial arts
Olympic sport	No

Shoot wrestling originated in Japan's professional wrestling circuit (puroresu) of the 1970s, particularly stemming from the influence of wrestlers Karl Gotch and all who had an enduring popularity in Japan due to their serious submission wrestling style. Professional wrestlers of that era attempted to use more realistic or even "full contact" moves in their matches to increase their excitement, diminishing or eschewing the theatrical elements and acrobatics, looking more similar to an actual, unscripted fight. The name "shoot wrestling" comes from the professional wrestling term "shoot", which refers to any unscripted occurrence within a scripted wrestling event.[2]

The first wave of shoot wrestlers were students of Antonio Inoki and Karl Gotch from New Japan Pro-Wrestling (NJPW), two wrestlers which already were advocates of a stiffer and more realistic wrestling style. Their students lefi NJPW to form the Universal Wrestling Federation (UWF) in 1984, pioneering in the new style.[3]

Shoot wrestling was popular in Japan from the 1980s until the mid-1990s, fading from popularity due the demise of the leading shoot-style promotion UWFi in 1996 and the simultaneous rise of mixed martial arts (MMA) in Japan. Most shoot wrestlers started to migrate to MMA or back to more theatrical forms of professional wrestling.[3][4] Shoot wrestling had a considerable influence on the sport of mixed martial arts.

Prior to the emergence of the current sport of shoot wrestling, the term was commonly used in the professional wrestling business, particularly in the United Kingdom, as a synonym for the sport of catch wrestling.[5] Shoot wrestling can be used to describe a range of hybrid fighting systems such as shootfighting, shoot boxing and the styles of mixed martial arts done in the Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS promotions. Organizations, promotions and gyms with origins in shoot wrestling are referred as the "U-Kei".

History [edit]

Shootfighting

4 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article includes a list of general references, but it lacks sufficient corresponding inline citations. Please help to improve this article by introducing more precise citations. (August 2022) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shootfighting is a martial art and combat sport, with competitions governed by the International Shootfighting Association (ISFA). It incorporates techniques from a multitude of traditional martial arts, the most principal of these being wrestling and kenpo.

Shootfighting

Focus	Hybrid (Combat Sport & Street Combat)
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Alexander Gustafsson (UFC) Evan Tanner (UFC) Frank Shamrock (Strikeforce) Jake Shields (PFL) Kazushi Sakuraba (UFC) Ken Shamrock (Pancrase) Kyoji Horiguchi (Rizin FF) Takanori Gomi (Shooto)
Parenthood	Catch Wrestling, Shoot Wrestling, American Kenpo, Judo, Boxing, Kickboxing, Karate, Muay Thai, Jujutsu, Brazilian Jiu Jitsu[1]
Olympic sport	No

Shootfighting was previously used synonymously with mixed martial arts competitions in Japan, as opposed to shoot-style professional wrestling competitions. The term has been retired from common usage because it became a registered trademark of Bart Vale, who uses it to describe his hybrid fighting system derived from shoot wrestling. However, it is still sometimes used colloquially.

Examples which were once considered shootfighting styles, tournaments or organizations are Pancrase, Fighting Network RINGS, and Shooto, where many fighters still considered themselves to be shootfighters. Ken Shamrock is possibly the most recognisable shoot fighter, as it was the discipline he used during the early days of the UFC.

History [edit]

Shootfighting's use as a synonym for mixed martial arts had its genesis in the 1970s, when Karl Gotch taught a group of Japanese professional wrestlers catch wrestling techniques, called "hooking" or "shooting". In 1976, one of these pro-wrestlers, Antonio Inoki, hosted a series of matches against practitioners of other martial arts; most of these were "worked" (predetermined), but one particular high-profile one was against Muhammad Ali, which was in fact a shoot. This led to an increased interest in real and effective technique, and eventually led to the creation of shoot wrestling, with some shoot-style professional wrestling organizations hosting legitimate mixed martial arts bouts, called "shoots". Interest grew in the 1990s, and certain shoot-style organizations like Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS evolved into

muslim.sg

22 Jun 2024
15 Zulhijjah 1445H

16:38 Subuh

Ask An Ustaz or Ustazah Questions Through Anonymous Chat With MYSAFESPACE

With MYSAFESPACE, you can conveniently and anonymously ask your religious queries from the comfort of your homes.

by Alia Fatin Binte Abdullah

Alia Abdullah is the editor-in-chief of Muslim.Sg. In 2021, she won the Exemplary Skillsfuture @ Public Service Award, a national award that recognises individuals who constantly upgrade their competencies. A law graduate and digital media specialist, Alia is an exceptional writer whose work has been featured in Young Women in Leadership Dialogue's (YWILD) Commemorative Book "Unprecedented - To the Beat of Her Own Drum" and on platforms such as Mvslim and The Muslim Vibe. Alia lived and worked in Saudi Arabia for 2 years. She is now based in Singapore.

2023-03-22 • 4 min read

As a Muslim living in Singapore, we understand that having a safe space to ask questions to asatizah (religious teachers) is crucial for your personal and spiritual development.

First, a safe space allows you to freely ask questions without fear of judgment or discrimination. This is important because sometimes, you may hesitate to ask questions you think may be sensitive or controversial.

Second, having access to knowledgeable asatizah who can provide guidance and answer your questions is essential in helping you understand and navigate your faith. They can provide valuable insights and help clarify any confusion or doubts you may have, which can deepen your understanding of Islam and strengthen your faith.

Furthermore, a safe space for Muslim youth to ask questions to asatizah can foster a sense of community and belonging. Knowing that you have a support system of trusted scholars who can provide guidance and support can be comforting, especially when living

Shoot wrestling

7 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article needs additional citations for verification. Please help improve this article by adding citations to reliable sources. Unsourced material may be challenged and removed.

Find sources: "Shoot wrestling" – news · newspapers · books · scholar · JSTOR (February 2019) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shoot wrestling is a Japanese hybrid grappling style and combat sport. Shoot wrestling incorporates techniques from various wrestling, submission grappling, kickboxing and karate styles. It was particularly inspired and influenced by catch wrestling, a form of wrestling with submissions that was the predominant style of professional wrestling in the 19th and early 20th century, at the time a competitive sport and not yet predetermined.[1]

Shoot wrestling

Focus	Grappling
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama, Yuki Nakai, Yorinaga Nakamura, Kazuo Yamazaki, Kazushi Sakuraba, Kiyoshi Tamura, Tsuyoshi Kosaka, Volk Han, Ken Shamrock, Masakatsu Funaki, Daisuke Nakamura
Parenthood	Catch wrestling, freestyle wrestling, Greco-Roman wrestling, judo, karate, Muay Thai, sambo
Descendant arts	Shootfighting, shootboxing, mixed martial arts
Olympic sport	No

Shoot wrestling originated in Japan's professional wrestling circuit (puroresu) of the 1970s, particularly stemming from the influence of wrestlers Karl Gotch and all who had an enduring popularity in Japan due to their serious submission wrestling style. Professional wrestlers of that era attempted to use more realistic or even "full contact" moves in their matches to increase their excitement, diminishing or eschewing the theatrical elements and acrobatics, looking more similar to an actual, unscripted fight. The name "shoot wrestling" comes from the professional wrestling term "shoot", which refers to any unscripted occurrence within a scripted wrestling event.[2]

The first wave of shoot wrestlers were students of Antonio Inoki and Karl Gotch from New Japan Pro-Wrestling (NJPW), two wrestlers which already were advocates of a stiffer and more realistic wrestling style. Their students left NJPW to form the Universal Wrestling Federation (UWF) in 1984, pioneering in the new style.[3]

Shoot wrestling was popular in Japan from the 1980s until the mid-1990s, fading from popularity due the demise of the leading shoot-style promotion UWFi in 1996 and the simultaneous rise of mixed martial arts (MMA) in Japan. Most shoot wrestlers started to migrate to MMA or back to more theatrical forms of professional wrestling.[3][4] Shoot wrestling had a considerable influence on the sport of mixed martial arts.

Prior to the emergence of the current sport of shoot wrestling, the term was commonly used in the professional wrestling business, particularly in the United Kingdom, as a synonym for the sport of catch wrestling.[5] Shoot wrestling can be used to describe a range of hybrid fighting systems such as shootfighting, shoot boxing and the styles of mixed martial arts done in the Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS promotions. Organizations, promotions and gyms with origins in shoot wrestling are referred as the "U-Kei".

History [edit]

Shootfighting

4 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article includes a list of general references, but it lacks sufficient corresponding inline citations. Please help to improve this article by introducing more precise citations. (August 2022) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shootfighting is a martial art and combat sport, with competitions governed by the International Shootfighting Association (ISFA). It incorporates techniques from a multitude of traditional martial arts, the most principal of these being wrestling and kenpo.

Shootfighting

Focus	Hybrid (Combat Sport & Street Combat)
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Alexander Gustafsson (UFC) Evan Tanner (UFC) Frank Shamrock (Strikeforce) Jake Shields (PFL) Kazushi Sakuraba (UFC) Ken Shamrock (Pancrase) Kyoji Horiguchi (Rizin FF) Takanori Gomi (Shooto)
Parenthood	Catch Wrestling, Shoot Wrestling, American Kenpo, Judo, Boxing, Kickboxing, Karate, Muay Thai, Jujutsu, Brazilian Jiu Jitsu[1]
Olympic sport	No

Shootfighting was previously used synonymously with mixed martial arts competitions in Japan, as opposed to shoot-style professional wrestling competitions. The term has been retired from common usage because it became a registered trademark of Bart Vale, who uses it to describe his hybrid fighting system derived from shoot wrestling. However, it is still sometimes used colloquially.

Examples which were once considered shootfighting styles, tournaments or organizations are Pancrase, Fighting Network RINGS, and Shooto, where many fighters still considered themselves to be shootfighters. Ken Shamrock is possibly the most recognisable shoot fighter, as it was the discipline he used during the early days of the UFC.

History [edit]

Shootfighting's use as a synonym for mixed martial arts had its genesis in the 1970s, when Karl Gotch taught a group of Japanese professional wrestlers catch wrestling techniques, called "hooking" or "shooting". In 1976, one of these pro-wrestlers, Antonio Inoki, hosted a series of matches against practitioners of other martial arts; most of these were "worked" (predetermined), but one particular high-profile one was against Muhammad Ali, which was in fact a shoot. This led to an increased interest in real and effective technique, and eventually led to the creation of shoot wrestling, with some shoot-style professional wrestling organizations hosting legitimate mixed martial arts bouts, called "shoots". Interest grew in the 1990s, and certain shoot-style organizations like Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS evolved into

muslim.sg

22 Jun 2024
15 Zulhijjah 1445H

16:38 Subuh

Ask An Ustaz or Ustazah Questions Through Anonymous Chat With MYSAFESPACE

With MYSAFESPACE, you can conveniently and anonymously ask your religious queries from the comfort of your homes.

by Alia Fatin Binte Abdullah

Alia Abdullah is the editor-in-chief of Muslim.Sg. In 2021, she won the Exemplary Skillsfuture @ Public Service Award, a national award that recognises individuals who constantly upgrade their competencies. A law graduate and digital media specialist, Alia is an exceptional writer whose work has been featured in Young Women in Leadership Dialogue's (YWILD) Commemorative Book "Unprecedented - To the Beat of Her Own Drum" and on platforms such as Mvslim and The Muslim Vibe. Alia lived and worked in Saudi Arabia for 2 years. She is now based in Singapore.

2023-03-22 • 4 min read

As a Muslim living in Singapore, we understand that having a safe space to ask questions to asatizah (religious teachers) is crucial for your personal and spiritual development.

First, a safe space allows you to freely ask questions without fear of judgment or discrimination. This is important because sometimes, you may hesitate to ask questions you think may be sensitive or controversial.

Second, having access to knowledgeable asatizah who can provide guidance and answer your questions is essential in helping you understand and navigate your faith. They can provide valuable insights and help clarify any confusion or doubts you may have, which can deepen your understanding of Islam and strengthen your faith.

Furthermore, a safe space for Muslim youth to ask questions to asatizah can foster a sense of community and belonging. Knowing that you have a support system of trusted scholars who can provide guidance and support can be comforting, especially when living

Shoot wrestling

7 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article needs additional citations for verification. Please help improve this article by adding citations to reliable sources. Unsourced material may be challenged and removed.

Find sources: "Shoot wrestling" – news · newspapers · books · scholar · JSTOR (February 2019) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shoot wrestling is a Japanese hybrid grappling style and combat sport. Shoot wrestling incorporates techniques from various wrestling, submission grappling, kickboxing and karate styles. It was particularly inspired and influenced by catch wrestling, a form of wrestling with submissions that was the predominant style of professional wrestling in the 19th and early 20th century, at the time a competitive sport and not yet predetermined.[1]

Shoot wrestling

Focus	Grappling
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama, Yuki Nakai, Yorinaga Nakamura, Kazuo Yamazaki, Kazushi Sakuraba, Kiyoshi Tamura, Tsuyoshi Kosaka, Volk Han, Ken Shamrock, Masakatsu Funaki, Daisuke Nakamura
Parenthood	Catch wrestling, freestyle wrestling, Greco-Roman wrestling, judo, karate, Muay Thai, sambo
Descendant arts	Shootfighting, shootboxing, mixed martial arts
Olympic sport	No

Shoot wrestling originated in Japan's professional wrestling circuit (puroresu) of the 1970s, particularly stemming from the influence of wrestlers Karl Gotch and all who had an enduring popularity in Japan due to their serious submission wrestling style. Professional wrestlers of that era attempted to use more realistic or even "full contact" moves in their matches to increase their excitement, diminishing or eschewing the theatrical elements and acrobatics, looking more similar to an actual, unscripted fight. The name "shoot wrestling" comes from the professional wrestling term "shoot", which refers to any unscripted occurrence within a scripted wrestling event.[2]

The first wave of shoot wrestlers were students of Antonio Inoki and Karl Gotch from New Japan Pro-Wrestling (NJPW), two wrestlers which already were advocates of a stiffer and more realistic wrestling style. Their students left NJPW to form the Universal Wrestling Federation (UWF) in 1984, pioneering in the new style.[3]

Shoot wrestling was popular in Japan from the 1980s until the mid-1990s, fading from popularity due the demise of the leading shoot-style promotion UWFi in 1996 and the simultaneous rise of mixed martial arts (MMA) in Japan. Most shoot wrestlers started to migrate to MMA or back to more theatrical forms of professional wrestling.[3][4] Shoot wrestling had a considerable influence on the sport of mixed martial arts.

Prior to the emergence of the current sport of shoot wrestling, the term was commonly used in the professional wrestling business, particularly in the United Kingdom, as a synonym for the sport of catch wrestling.[5] Shoot wrestling can be used to describe a range of hybrid fighting systems such as shootfighting, shoot boxing and the styles of mixed martial arts done in the Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS promotions. Organizations, promotions and gyms with origins in shoot wrestling are referred as the "U-Kei".

History [edit]

Shootfighting

4 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article includes a list of general references, but it lacks sufficient corresponding inline citations. Please help to improve this article by introducing more precise citations. (August 2022) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shootfighting is a martial art and combat sport, with competitions governed by the International Shootfighting Association (ISFA). It incorporates techniques from a multitude of traditional martial arts, the most principal of these being wrestling and kenpo.

Shootfighting

Focus	Hybrid (Combat Sport & Street Combat)
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Alexander Gustafsson (UFC) Evan Tanner (UFC) Frank Shamrock (Strikeforce) Jake Shields (PFL) Kazushi Sakuraba (UFC) Ken Shamrock (Pancrase) Kyoji Horiguchi (Rizin FF) Takanori Gomi (Shooto)
Parenthood	Catch Wrestling, Shoot Wrestling, American Kenpo, Judo, Boxing, Kickboxing, Karate, Muay Thai, Jujutsu, Brazilian Jiu Jitsu[1]
Olympic sport	No

Shootfighting was previously used synonymously with mixed martial arts competitions in Japan, as opposed to shoot-style professional wrestling competitions. The term has been retired from common usage because it became a registered trademark of Bart Vale, who uses it to describe his hybrid fighting system derived from shoot wrestling. However, it is still sometimes used colloquially.

Examples which were once considered shootfighting styles, tournaments or organizations are Pancrase, Fighting Network RINGS, and Shooto, where many fighters still considered themselves to be shootfighters. Ken Shamrock is possibly the most recognisable shoot fighter, as it was the discipline he used during the early days of the UFC.

History [edit]

Shootfighting's use as a synonym for mixed martial arts had its genesis in the 1970s, when Karl Gotch taught a group of Japanese professional wrestlers catch wrestling techniques, called "hooking" or "shooting". In 1976, one of these pro-wrestlers, Antonio Inoki, hosted a series of matches against practitioners of other martial arts; most of these were "worked" (predetermined), but one particular high-profile one was against Muhammad Ali, which was in fact a shoot. This led to an increased interest in real and effective technique, and eventually led to the creation of shoot wrestling, with some shoot-style professional wrestling organizations hosting legitimate mixed martial arts bouts, called "shoots". Interest grew in the 1990s, and certain shoot-style organizations like Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS evolved into

muslim.sg

22 Jun 2024
15 Zulhijjah 1445H

16:38 Subuh

Ask An Ustaz or Ustazah Questions Through Anonymous Chat With MYSAFESPACE

With MYSAFESPACE, you can conveniently and anonymously ask your religious queries from the comfort of your homes.

by Alia Fatin Binte Abdullah

Alia Abdullah is the editor-in-chief of Muslim.Sg. In 2021, she won the Exemplary Skillsfuture @ Public Service Award, a national award that recognises individuals who constantly upgrade their competencies. A law graduate and digital media specialist, Alia is an exceptional writer whose work has been featured in Young Women in Leadership Dialogue's (YWILD) Commemorative Book "Unprecedented - To the Beat of Her Own Drum" and on platforms such as Mvslim and The Muslim Vibe. Alia lived and worked in Saudi Arabia for 2 years. She is now based in Singapore.

2023-03-22 • 4 min read

As a Muslim living in Singapore, we understand that having a safe space to ask questions to asatizah (religious teachers) is crucial for your personal and spiritual development.

First, a safe space allows you to freely ask questions without fear of judgment or discrimination. This is important because sometimes, you may hesitate to ask questions you think may be sensitive or controversial.

Second, having access to knowledgeable asatizah who can provide guidance and answer your questions is essential in helping you understand and navigate your faith. They can provide valuable insights and help clarify any confusion or doubts you may have, which can deepen your understanding of Islam and strengthen your faith.

Furthermore, a safe space for Muslim youth to ask questions to asatizah can foster a sense of community and belonging. Knowing that you have a support system of trusted scholars who can provide guidance and support can be comforting, especially when living

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2011

SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner wire.

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

NBC NEWS

WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

SAVE

Dec. 30, 2009, 8:03 PM CST / Source: The Associated Press

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS

Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 20, 2009 5:51pm EST Updated January 14, 2015 12:40am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

euronews.

News · World · Gaza

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Copyright AP Photo

By Euronews

Published on 27/11/2023 - 15:18

Share this article Comments

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochleas and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2011 SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner The Wire.

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

NBC NEWS WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

SAVE

Dec. 20, 2009, 8:03 PM CST / Source: The Associated Press

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 20, 2009 5:51pm EST Updated January 14, 2015 12:40am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

euronews.

News > World > Gaza

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Copyright AP Photo

By Euronews

Published on 27/11/2023 - 15:18

Share this article Comments

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochleas and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

Sign In Subscribe

:t-Ever Organ

Thursday to selling organs on in as he bought kidneys from nericans for $120,000 or more.

SHARE SAVE

"WIRE

Thursday to selling organs on
in as he bought kidneys from nericans for $120,000 or more.
: in his plan was that one of his orsed. With his guilty plea, 60-the first person ever convicted which outlawed selling human
d. Rosenbaum's practice does reports.

NBC NEWS WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

SAVE

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 26, 2000 | Updated January 14, 2010 12:00am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Our Ontario

Israel 'steali human right

Concerns about raised by Euro-M

Israel's army has be which called for an

Euro-filled Human R theft from Palestini examined some bo

The NGO claimed t
from the al-Shifa al
south.

Medical professiona alongside cochlear
"substance" of poke

They also claimed diagnosis than 10 d

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Orga

https://www.theatlantic.co

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2011

SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner The Wire.

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

Israel harvested organs in

NBC NEWS

WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

SAVE

Dec. 20, 2009, 8:03 PM CST / Source: The Associated Press

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS

Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 20, 2009 5:51pm EST Updated January 14, 2015 12:40am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Israel 'stealing o

https://w

euronews.

News > World > Gaza

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Copyright AP Photo

By Euronews

Published on 27/11/2023 - 15:18

Share this article Comments

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochleas and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

Avraham Heffner

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2008

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After the IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor in Uri Zohar's Hor Ba'Lunah.

His first movie as director was Rival Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1968 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s, he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre). Films that were influenced from the Avant-garde/European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Polanski born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Pitaa, Ish Gadol (Small Country, Great Man), is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jerusalem film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renan Shor, Ari Folman, Haggai Levi, Menahem Golan and Dover Koshashvili.

SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt

Avraham Heffner
Biography
Influence

The New York Times
Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91
PLAYBOY

Playboy Plus | Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2008

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLuvana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Klara, Ish Gadol (Small Country, Great Man), is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Schorr, Avi Forman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Koshashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 400

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Massenzio

Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español | 阅读简体中文版 | 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

Playboy Plus | Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

.tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2

SexART

Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2

SexART

Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus

Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

The Tribune-Democrat | E-Paper | Local Events | Celebrations | Obituaries | Public Notices | Contact Us

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

By ANDREW DALTON
The Associated Press Sep 28, 2017

1 of 2

In this May 14, 1999 file photo, Playboy founder and editor in chief Hugh Hefner receives kisses from Playboy playmates during the 52nd Cannes Film Festival in Cannes, France. (AP Photo/Laurent Rebours, File)

Laurent Rebours

LOS ANGELES — Hugh Hefner turned silk pajamas into a work uniform, women into centerfolds and sexual desire into a worldwide multimedia empire that spanned several generations of American life.

With Playboy, he helped slip sex out of the confines of plain brown wrappers and into mainstream conversation.

In 1953, a time when states could legally ban contraceptives and the word "pregnant" was not allowed on "I Love Lucy," Hefner published the first issue of Playboy, featuring naked photos of Marilyn Monroe and an editorial promise of "humor, sophistication and spice."

The Great Depression and World War II were over and Playboy soon became forbidden fruit for teens and a bible for men with time and money, primed for the magazine's prescribed evenings of dimmed lights, hard drinks, soft jazz, deep thoughts and deeper desires. Within a year, circulation neared 200,000. Within five years, it had topped 1 million.

NEWSPAPER ADS
MARKET BASKET
Picking Treece Bennett Mortuary
PJ Stevens
Randy's BILO FOODS
Riverside Fire Co.
SARGENT'S PERSONNEL AGENCY
The Meadows
THERMOALL REMODELING
TRI COUNTY CHIMNEY SERVICE

Buy Local
EAT · DRINK · SHOP · LIVE

CLASSIFIED Yellow The one place to

Johnstown Magazine

Johnstown Magazine is a positive and forward-th monthly publication for people of our region.

Read now

Trending Recipes

Tomato Pie

BONNIE'S BEST BL RIBBON OVEN BAK FRIES

Giant Danish

Most Popular

Articles

Visit our Israel resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent teachings and events.

Next Service: Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 10:00 am

B'NAI JESHURUN

Robert and Jane Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Vitina Biondo and Yosef Riemer
Shirley Bisgeier
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anomymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corenswet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adeena Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Dimson and John Hatleberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Etingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Felsenfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardiner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

PBS NEWS HOUR | Menu | Live

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Sep 28, 2017 7:13 PM EDT

Leave your feedback | Share •••

By – PBS NewsHour

Transcript | Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

The Tribune-Democrat | E-Paper | Local Events | Celebrations | Obituaries | Public Notices | Contact Us

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

By ANDREW DALTON
The Associated Press Sep 28, 2017

1 of 2

In this May 14, 1999 file photo, Playboy founder and editor in chief Hugh Hefner receives kisses from Playboy playmates during the 52nd Cannes Film Festival in Cannes, France. (AP Photo/Laurent Rebours, File)

Laurent Rebours

LOS ANGELES — Hugh Hefner turned silk pajamas into a work uniform, women into centerfolds and sexual desire into a worldwide multimedia empire that spanned several generations of American life.

With Playboy, he helped slip sex out of the confines of plain brown wrappers and into mainstream conversation.

In 1953, a time when states could legally ban contraceptives and the word "pregnant" was not allowed on "I Love Lucy," Hefner published the first issue of Playboy, featuring naked photos of Marilyn Monroe and an editorial promise of "humor, sophistication and spice."

The Great Depression and World War II were over and Playboy soon became forbidden fruit for teens and a bible for men with time and money, primed for the magazine's prescribed evenings of dimmed lights, hard drinks, soft jazz, deep thoughts and deeper desires. Within a year, circulation neared 200,000. Within five years, it had topped 1 million.

NEWSPAPER ADS
MARKET BASKET
Picking Treece Bennett Mortuary
PJ Stevens
Randy's BILO FOODS
Riverside Fire Co.
SARGENT'S PERSONNEL AGENCY
The Meadows
THERMOALL REMODELING
TRI COUNTY CHIMNEY SERVICE

Buy Local
EAT · DRINK · SHOP · LIVE

CLASSIFIED Yellow The one place to

Johnstown Magazine

Johnstown Magazine is a positive and forward-th monthly publication for people of our region.

Read now

Trending Recipes

Tomato Pie

BONNIE'S BEST BL RIBBON OVEN BAK FRIES

Giant Danish

Most Popular

Articles

Visit our Israel resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent teachings and events.

Next Service: Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 10:00 am

B'NAI JESHURUN

Robert and Jane Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Vitina Biondo and Yosef Riemer
Shirley Bisgeier
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anomymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corenswet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adeena Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Dimson and John Hatleberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Etingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Felsenfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardiner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

PBS NEWS HOUR | Menu | Live

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Sep 28, 2017 7:13 PM EDT

Leave your feedback | Share •••

By – PBS NewsHour

Transcript | Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

er of the sexual dies at 91

NEWSPAPER ADS

Buy Local

CLASSIFIED

Johnstown Magazine

Trending Recipes

Most Popular

Visit our news resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent meetings and events.

Robert and Jane Raum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Wilma Biondo and Yosef Rinnon
Shirley Bigelsen
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anonymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corenswet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adonna Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Demson and John Hallsberg
Barbara and Eric Dubkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Elingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Feiserfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Ray Gardner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Cross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

PBS NEWS HOUR

Remo
mogu

Leave you

By – PBS

Transcrip

Playboy
First pu face of feminis legacy
of Colu

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

By ANDREW DALTON
The Associated Press

With Playboy, he helped slip sex out of the confines of plain brown wrappers and into mainstream conversation.

In 1953, a time when states could legally ban contraceptives and the word "pregnant" was not allowed on "I Love Lucy," Hefner published the first issue of Playboy, featuring naked photos of Marilyn Monroe and an editorial promise of "humor, sophistication and spice."

The Great Depression and World War II were over and Playboy soon became forbidden fruit for teens and a bible for men with time and money, primed for the magazine's prescribed evenings of dimmed lights, hard drinks, soft jazz, deep thoughts and deeper desires. Within a year, circulation neared 200,000. Within five years, it had topped 1 million.

NEWSPAPER ADS

Buy Local

CLASSIFIED

Johnstown Magazine

Read now

Trending Recipes

Most Popular

Visit our latest resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent teachings and events.

Next Service: Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 10:00 am

Robert and Jane Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Vitina Biondo and Yosef Riemer
Shirley Blageier
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anonymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corensweet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adeena Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Dimson and John Hatleberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Etingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Felsenfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardiner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

PBS NEWSHOUR

Menu

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Sep 18, 2017 7:13 PM EDT

Leave your feedback

Share

By PBS NewsHour

Transcript Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

The Tribune-Democrat

E-Paper | Local Events | Celebrations | Obituaries | Public Notices | Contact Us

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

By ANDREW DALTON
The Associated Press Sep 28, 2017

1 of 2

In this May 14, 1998 file photo, Playboy founder and editor in chief Hugh Hefner receives kisses from Playboy playmates during the 52nd Cannes Film Festival in Cannes, France. (AP Photo/Laurent Rebours, File)

Laurent Rebours

LOS ANGELES – Hugh Hefner traced silk pajamas into a work uniform, women into centerfolds and sexual desire into a worldwide multimedia empire that spanned several generations of American life.

With Playboy, he helped slip sex out of the confines of plain brown wrappers and into mainstream conversation.

In 1953, a time when states could legally ban contraceptives and the word "pregnant" was not allowed on "I Love Lucy," Hefner published the first issue of Playboy, featuring naked photos of Marilyn Monroe and an editorial promise of "humor, sophistication and spice."

The Great Depression and World War II were over and Playboy soon became forbidden fruit for teens and a bible for men with time and money, primed for the magazine's prescribed evenings of dimmed lights, hard drinks, soft jazz, deep thoughts and deeper desires. Within a year, circulation neared 200,000. Within five years, it had topped 1 million.

NEWSPAPER ADS

Buy Local
EAT · DRINK · SHOP · LIVE

CLASSIFIED YellOw

Johnstown Magazine

Johnstown Magazine is a positive and forward-th monthly publication for people of our region.

Read now

Trending Recipes

Most Popular

Articles

Visit our Israel resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent teachings and events.

Next Service: Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 10:00 am

BNAI JESHURUN

Robert and Jane Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Vitina Biondo and Yosef Riemer
Shirley Bisgeier
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anomymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corenswet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adeena Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Dimson and John Hatleberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Etingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Felsenfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardiner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

PBSO NEWS HOUR

Menu | Live

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Sep 28, 2017 7:13 PM EDT

Leave your feedback | Share •••

By – PBS NewsHour

Transcript | Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

The Tribune-Democrat

E-Paper | Local Events | Celebrations | Obituaries | Public Notices | Contact Us

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

By ANDREW DALTON
The Associated Press Sep 28, 2017

1 of 2

In this May 14, 1999 file photo, Playboy founder and editor in chief Hugh Hefner receives kisses from Playboy playmates during the 52nd Cannes Film Festival in Cannes, France. (AP Photo/Laurent Rebours, File)

Laurent Rebours

LOS ANGELES — Hugh Hefner turned silk pajamas into a work uniform, women into centerfolds and sexual desire into a worldwide multimedia empire that spanned several generations of American life.

With Playboy, he helped slip sex out of the confines of plain brown wrappers and into mainstream conversation.

In 1953, a time when states could legally ban contraceptives and the word "pregnant" was not allowed on "I Love Lucy," Hefner published the first issue of Playboy, featuring naked photos of Marilyn Monroe and an editorial promise of "humor, sophistication and spice."

The Great Depression and World War II were over and Playboy soon became forbidden fruit for teens and a bible for men with time and money, primed for the magazine's prescribed evenings of dimmed lights, hard drinks, soft jazz, deep thoughts and deeper desires. Within a year, circulation neared 200,000. Within five years, it had topped 1 million.

NEWSPAPER ADS
Buy Local
CLASSIFIED Yellow

Johnstown Magazine

Johnstown Magazine is a positive and forward-th monthly publication for people of our region.

Read now

Trending Recipes

Tomato Pie

BONNIE'S BEST BL RIBBON OVEN BA FRIES

Giant Danish

Most Popular

Articles

Visit our Israel resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent teachings and events.

Next Service: Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 10:00 am

B'NAI JESHURUN

Robert and Jane Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Vitina Biondo and Yosef Riemer
Shirley Bisgeier
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anomymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corenswet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adeena Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Dimson and John Hatleberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Etingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Felsenfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardiner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

PBS NEWS HOUR

Menu | Live

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Sep 28, 2017 7:13 PM EDT

Leave your feedback | Share •••

By – PBS NewsHour

Transcript | Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

PLAYBOY
SELENA GOMEZ
THE ALL-AMERICAN POP PRINCESS DOES SEX ON THE BEACH
THE PLAYBOY INTERVIEW
SELENA IS HARD ON THE BIEBER: "BOYS ARE FUN, BUT I NEEDED A MAN."
SPECIAL EDITION COVER SET
classmates
Matt Heffner: CLASS OF 1992
Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu Class of 1992
Toronto, ON
Matt's Story
Matt is from Ashland, Pennsylvania. Matt's schools include Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu. Music Matt likes includes Metal. Books Ma...Expand for more
Send Email
Remember
ye·shi·va
noun
an Orthodox Jewish college or seminary
an Orthodox Jewish elementary or secondary school
(58 of 158)
Playboy USA - December 2007
Favorite
Share
Flag
sky news
Home › World
Playboy founder Hugh Hefner dies aged 91
"Hef" established Playboy magazine in 1953 and turned it into one of the most recognisable American brands in history.
Thursday 28 September 2017 14:28, UK
Image:
Hugh Hefner poses with three Playmates in 2007
Playboy magazine founder Hugh Hefner has died at the age of 91.

How Hugh Hefner Commercialized Sex

Remembrance Day: Jewish Holocaust survivors want their story told

Hugh Hefner 'Pig Night' sex parties saw 'carloads' of women brought to Playboy Mansion

The Atlantic

How Hugh Hefner Commercialized Sex

The Playboy founder—who died at the age of 91—peddled an American dream that was as much about money as desire.

By Sophie Gilbert

In 1953, Hugh Hefner was living out a stereotypical version of the American Dream. At the age of 27, he had a job (as a cartoonist and copywriter), a wife, and a baby daughter. As Elizabeth Fraterrigo notes in her 2009 book Playboy and the Making of the Good Life in Modern America, Hefner's home life was so picture-perfect that it was photographed for a two-page story in the Chicago Daily News. In one image, Hefner sits on the floor of a tidy, modern living room holding baby Christie, while his wife, Millie, watches from the couch, holding a magazine.

63°

KOIN 6

WATCHING OUT FOR YOU

WATCH NOW

NEWS

Remembrance Day: Jewish Holocaust rescuers want their story told

Deal Hefner-Reiner points to her photo on a poster in memory of members of the Zionist youth movement underground in Hungary during the Holocaust at a ceremony ...

by: The Associated Press
Posted: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST
Updated: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST

SHARE

KIBBUTZ HAZOREA, Israel (AP) — Just before Nazi Germany invaded Hungary in March 1944, Jewish youth leaders in the eastern European country jumped into action: They formed an underground network that in the coming months would save tens of thousands of fellow Jews from the gas chambers.

STAR

Hugh Hefner 'Pig Night' sex parties saw 'carloads' of women brought to Playboy Mansion

Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', according to upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy. It's claimed pimps brought 'carloads' of women to the mansion for the parties

Bookmark SHARE Comments 1

By Samantha Bartlett Assistant Editor, Social Newsdesk

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night' (Image: Wireimage)

Sign up for the Hot Topics newsletter for hot style and sex tips

More Newsletters

Enter your Email...

Subscribe

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', in upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy.

LOCAL NEWS

Convicted sex offender accused of attacking 3 females, grabbing child in Orange County

by: Marc Sternfield
Posted: Jun 6, 2024 / 08:56 AM PDT
Updated: Jun 6, 2024 / 03:48 PM PDT

SHARE

Police in Santa Ana, California, arrested a convicted sex offender who is accused of attacking three females and attempting to abduct a child on the same day.

Moises Hernandez, 30, faces felony counts of sexual penetration by force, indecent exposure, committing lewd acts on a child, battery and resisting arrest.

SHAVEI ISRAEL

SUPPORT US

RABBI ELISHA SALAS STARTS TO WORK WITH THE COMMUNITY OF ALICANTE, SPAIN

Rabbi Elisha Salas, the 'Shavei Israel' emissary in Portugal, is currently expanding his activities to neighboring Spain, the home for many Bnei Anousim communities. This week, he begins to support the community of Alicante on an ongoing basis.

Rabbi Salas and the community of Alicante have a long-standing common history of friendship and

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Services down

The following jurisdiction(s) : [Georgia] are temporarily unavailable. Please try again later.

Showing Results For:

First Name: d, Last Name: stein, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/7/2024, 6:21:02 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 Next

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 5 of 32 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
HIGHBARGER, BRADLEY DOUGLAS	51	BOSE, BRADLEY D STEIN, DOUGLAS JEROME	310 W MAIN ST MT MORRIS, IL 61054 OGLE RESIDENTIAL
STEIN, DALE LESLIE	61	STEIN, DALE STEIN, SHORTY	262 MCMASTER RD SKANDIA, MI 49885 MARQUETTE RESIDENCE
STEIN, DAVID ARNOLD	65		2451 CORINTH AVE LOS ANGELES, CA 90064 LOS ANGELES RESIDENCE

LOCAL NEWS

Convicted sex offender accused of attacking 3 females, grabbing child in Orange County

by: Marc Sternfield
Posted: Jun 6, 2024 / 08:56 AM PDT
Updated: Jun 6, 2024 / 03:48 PM PDT

SHARE

Police in Santa Ana, California, arrested a convicted sex offender who is accused of attacking three females and attempting to abduct a child on the same day.

Moises Hernandez, 30, faces felony counts of sexual penetration by force, indecent exposure, committing lewd acts on a child, battery and resisting arrest.

SHAVEI ISRAEL

SUPPORT US

RABBI ELISHA SALAS STARTS TO WORK WITH THE COMMUNITY OF ALICANTE, SPAIN

Rabbi Elisha Salas, the 'Shavei Israel' emissary in Portugal, is currently expanding his activities to neighboring Spain, the home for many Bnei Anousim communities. This week, he begins to support the community of Alicante on an ongoing basis.

Rabbi Salas and the community of Alicante have a long-standing common history of friendship and

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Home

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Services down

The following jurisdiction(s) : [Georgia] are temporarily unavailable. Please try again later.

Showing Results For:

First Name: d, Last Name: stein, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/7/2024, 6:21:02 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 Next

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 5 of 32 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
HIGHBARGER, BRADLEY DOUGLAS	51	BOSE, BRADLEY D STEIN, DOUGLAS JEROME	310 W MAIN ST MT MORRIS, IL 61054 OGLE RESIDENTIAL
STEIN, DALE LESLIE	61	STEIN, DALE STEIN, SHORTY	262 MCMASTER RD SKANDIA, MI 49885 MARQUETTE RESIDENCE
STEIN, DAVID ARNOLD	65		2451 CORINTH AVE LOS ANGELES, CA 90064 LOS ANGELES RESIDENCE

Larry Flynt's Hustler: Most con...

https://nypost.com/2021/02/10/larry-flynts-hustler-most-controversial-nude-pics-ever

Entertainment TV Movies Music Celebrities

Get notifications from The New York Post

Click 'Sign Up' then 'Allow'

Dismiss Sign Up

Harbor cop ...d Justin ...already...

NYC Jewish family pummeled at 5th-grade commencement by...

Belgium, Lady Gaga took Flynt's cheekiness to the next level. Wearing an homage to her infamous meat dress and responding to flack she'd gotten for putting on 25 pounds, Gaga climbed into a black leather meat grinder.

She announced to the audience, "In 1970, women would no longer be treated like meat. On the cover of Hustler magazine or at the Born This Way Ball, meat is precisely how we treat them."

ALERTS

Search

James Earl Ray - Wikipedia
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/James_Earl_Ray
Search Wikipedia Search
Create account Log in

James Earl Ray

35 languages
Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For other people with the same name, see James Ray (disambiguation).

James Earl Ray (March 10, 1928 – April 23, 1998) was an American fugitive who was convicted of the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr. at the Lorraine Motel in Memphis, Tennessee, on April 4, 1968. After the assassination, Ray fled the United States and was captured in the United Kingdom. Ray was convicted in 1969 after entering a guilty plea—thus forgoing a jury trial and the possibility of a death sentence—and was sentenced to 99 years of imprisonment.

In 1993, Loyd Jowers, the owner of a restaurant, publicly began claiming that he had been part of a conspiracy to assassinate King and that Ray was a scapegoat. In a Memphis civil trial in 1999, a jury unanimously concluded that Jowers was liable for the assassination, that King was the victim of a conspiracy, and that various United States governmental agencies had conspired to murder King and frame Ray for the assassination. The King family has consistently said that they believe Ray was innocent, though this conclusion was disputed by the United States Department of Justice in 2000.[1][2] The King family has stated that they believe the true murderer was a Memphis Police Department officer, Lieutenant Earl Clark.[3]

James Earl Ray

Mug shot of Ray taken on July 8, 1955

Born	March 10, 1928 Alton, Illinois, U.S.
Died	April 23, 1998 (aged 70) Nashville, Tennessee, U.S.
Known for	Being convicted for the Assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr.
Conviction(s)	First degree murder Armed robbery Burglary Escape
Criminal penalty	100 years imprisonment[4]
Escaped	June 10–13, 1977
Details
Victims	Martin Luther King Jr., 39
Date	April 4, 1968

Early life and education [edit]

Ray was born on March 10, 1928, in Alton, Illinois, the son of George Ellis Ray and Lucille Ray (née Maher). He had Irish, Scottish and Welsh ancestry.[4]

In February 1935, Ray's father, known by the nickname Great Dane, passed a bad check in Alton, Illinois, and then moved to Ewing, Missouri, where the family changed their name to Raynes to avoid law enforcement.[5] James Earl Ray was the oldest of nine children,[6] including John Larry Ray,[7] Franklin Ray, Jerry William Ray,[8] Melba Ray, Carol Ray Pepper, Suzan Ray, and Marjorie Ray. His sister Marjorie died in a fire as a young child in 1933.[9] Ray left school at the age of 12. He later joined the U.S. Army at the close of World War II and served in Germany. Ray struggled to adapt to military life and was eventually discharged for ineptitude and lack of adaptability in 1948.[9]

Initial convictions and first escape from prison [edit]

Ray committed a variety of crimes prior to the murder of King. Ray's first conviction for criminal activity, a burglary in California, came in 1949. In 1952, he served two years for the armed robbery of a taxi driver in Illinois. In 1955, he was convicted of mail fraud after stealing money orders in Hannibal, Missouri. For this, he was imprisoned for four years in the federal United States Penitentiary Leavenworth. In 1959, he was caught stealing $120 (~$1,254 in 2023) in an armed robbery of a Kroger store in St. Louis.[10] He was sentenced to twenty years in prison for repeated offenses. He escaped from the Missouri State Penitentiary in 1967 by hiding in a truck transporting bread from the prison bakery.[11]

Post first escape [edit]

Following his escape, Ray stayed on the move throughout the United States and Canada, going first to St. Louis and then onward to Chicago, Toronto, Montreal, and Birmingham, Alabama, where he stayed long enough to buy a 1966 Ford Mustang and get an Alabama driver's license. He then drove to Mexico, stopping in Acapulco before settling in Puerto Vallarta on October 19, 1967.[12]

While in Mexico, Ray, using the alias Eric Starvo Galt, attempted to establish himself as a pornographic film director. Using mail-ordered equipment, he filmed and photographed local prostitutes. Frustrated with his results and jilted by the prostitute with whom he had formed a relationship, Ray left Mexico on or around November 16, 1967,[13] arriving in Los Angeles three days later. While there, Ray attended a local bartending school and took dance lessons.[14] His chief interest, however, was the George Wallace presidential campaign. Ray was quickly drawn to Wallace's segregationist platform. He spent much of his time in Los Angeles volunteering at the Wallace campaign headquarters in North Hollywood.[15]

He considered emigrating to Rhodesia (now Zimbabwe), where a predominantly white minority regime had unilaterally assumed independence from the United Kingdom in 1965.[16] The notion of living in Rhodesia continued to appeal to Ray for several years afterwards, and it was his intended destination after King's assassination. The Rhodesian government expressed its disapproval.[17]

Activity in early 1968 [edit]

On March 5, 1968, Ray had an operation on his nose, performed by physician Russell Hadley.[18] On March 18, 1968, Ray left Los Angeles and began a cross-country drive to Atlanta, Georgia.[19]

Arriving in Atlanta on March 24, 1968, Ray checked into a rooming house.[20] He bought a map of the city. FBI agents later found this map when they searched the room in which he was staying. On the map, the locations of the church and residence of Martin Luther King Jr. were circled.[21]

69°F
Mostly cloudy
Search
1:30 AM
6/12/2024

SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

THE IRISH TIMES

Heart disappears after jail death

Edinburgh: The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed...

Edinburgh: The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed during a post mortem examination, a pathologist could not confirm yesterday.

Now his family are believed to be speculating whether a heart with Yassir was the right one. Mohsen Mustafa (27), from Suffolk, is believed to have hanged himself in jail in April after being arrested on suspicion of drug smuggling.

BBC NEWS

World: Middle East

Israel sued over 'wrong heart'

PALESTINE CHRONICLE

Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

Sunday, December 20, 1998 Published at 16:21 GMT

World: Middle East

Israel sued over 'wrong heart'

Sinclair's brother made the claims in Tel Aviv

The family of a Scottish tourist who died in Israel say the authorities have returned the wrong heart.

Alistair Sinclair's relatives are suing Israel for one million shekels (£142,053) for removing his heart and thyroid for medical tests without their permission.

Sinclair, a musician from Selkirk in the Scottish borders, was arrested in Israel in April on his way out of the country. He was alleged to have been smuggling drugs.

Police found him the next morning hanging from his shoelaces in his cell. Police said it was suicide but Sinclair's family believe he was killed.

His body was returned for cremation, minus the heart which was removed during a post-mortem examination.

Transplant theory

A heart was later sent to the family, who ordered forensic tests in Glasgow to find out whether it matched genetic samples taken from the dead man's body before the funeral.

Speaking in Tel Aviv on Sunday, Sinclair's brother James said he believed Israel kept his brother's heart and may have even used it in an organ transplant.

Africa | Americas | Asia Pacific | Europe | Middle East | South Asia

Internet Links

Israel's Ministry of Heal

The BBC is not responsible for the content of external internet sites.

In this section

Safety chief dockers crash speculation

Iraq oil-for-food aid extended

Israel demands scooter sex scandal inquiry

Israeli PM's plane in accident

Jordan police stop trade unionists prayers

New Israeli raid in southern Lebanon

New demand over PLO terror list

Earthquake hits Iran

New UN decision on Iraq accepted

Algerian president pledges reform

THE IRISH TIMES

Ireland

Heart disappears after jail death

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed...

Sat Jun 20 1998 - 01:00

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed during a post-mortem examination, a pathologist confirmed yesterday.

Now his family are believed to be questioning whether a heart sent later was the right one. Alistair Sinclair (47), from Selkirk, is believed to have hanged himself in jail in April after being arrested on suspicion of drug smuggling.

BBC NEWS

News in Audio | News in Video | Newyddion | Новости | Noticias | أخبار | 国际新闻 | 与语言

Front Page
World
UK
UK Politics
Business
Sci/Tech
Health Education
Sport
Entertainment
Talking Point

On Air
Feedback
Low Graphics
Help

Sunday, December 20, 1998 Published at 16:21 GMT

World: Middle East

Israel sued over 'wrong heart'

Sinclair's brother made the claims in Tel Aviv

The family of a Scottish tourist who died in Israel say the authorities have returned the wrong heart.

Alistair Sinclair's relatives are suing Israel for one million shekels (£142,053) for removing his heart and thyroid for medical tests without their permission.

Sinclair, a musician from Selkirk in the Scottish borders, was arrested in Israel in April on his way out of the country. He was alleged to have been smuggling drugs.

Police found him the next morning hanging from his shoelaces in his cell. Police said it was suicide but Sinclair's family believe he was killed.

His body was returned for cremation, minus the heart which was removed during a post-mortem examination.

Transplant theory

A heart was later sent to the family, who ordered forensic tests in Glasgow to find out whether it matched genetic samples taken from the dead man's body before the funeral.

Speaking in Tel Aviv on Sunday, Sinclair's brother James said he believed Israel kept his brother's heart and may have even used it in an organ transplant.

Africa | Americas | Asia-Pacific | Europe | Middle East | South Asia

Internet Links

Israel's Ministry of Heal

The BBC is not responsible for the content of external internet sites.

In this section

Safety chief deplores crash speculation
Iraq oil-for-food aid extended
Israel demands soccer sex scandal inquiry
Israeli PM's plane in accident
Jordan police stop trade unionists prayers
New Israeli raid in southern Lebanon
New demand over PLO terror list
Earthquake hits Iran
New UN decision on Ira approved
Algerian president pledges reform

PC PALESTINE CHRONICLE

SEARCH ...

HOME › NEWS › Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

September 13, 2009

The controversy triggered by a Swedish newspaper report about Israel's harvesting of Palestinian organs has salted the wounds of many Palestinian families haunted by the memories of loved ones who suffered the same fate.

"They claimed they came to arrest him, but in truth they came to murder him, which they did," Walid Masalmeh, a resident of the small West Bank town of Dura, 10 kilometer west of Al-Khalil (Hebron), said about his relative Bassam.

In 1995, Bassam was killed by the Israeli army at the village of Beit Awwa, located near the former armistice line between the West Bank and what is now Israel.
"But 24 hours later they returned the body with a huge scar running from the chin to the lower abdomen," Walid remembers.

"They took all the vital organs, including the heart, kidneys, Liver. Then they stuffed the empty cavities with garbage before sewing him up."

Several other Palestinians gave a similar narrative, recounting how they received the bodies of their murdered relatives, mostly men in their early twenties, with vital organs taken away by the Israeli authorities.

THE IRISH TIMES

Ireland

Heart disappears after jail death

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed...

Sat Jun 20 1998 - 01:00

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed during a post-mortem examination, a pathologist confirmed yesterday.

Now his family are believed to be questioning whether a heart sent later was the right one. Alistair Sinclair (47), from Selkirk, is believed to have hanged himself in jail in April after being arrested on suspicion of drug smuggling.

BBC NEWS

News in Audio | News in Video | Newyddion | Новости | Noticias | أخبار | 国际新闻

Front Page
World
UK
UK Politics
Business
Sci/Tech
Health
Education
Sport
Entertainment
Talking Point

On Air
Feedback
Low Graphics
Help

Sunday, December 20, 1998 Published at 16:21 GMT

World: Middle East

Israel sued over 'wrong heart'

Sinclair's brother made the claims in Tel Aviv

The family of a Scottish tourist who died in Israel say the authorities have returned the wrong heart.

Alistair Sinclair's relatives are suing Israel for one million shekels (£142,053) for removing his heart and thyroid for medical tests without their permission.

Sinclair, a musician from Selkirk in the Scottish borders, was arrested in Israel in April on his way out of the country. He was alleged to have been smuggling drugs.

Police found him the next morning hanging from his shoelaces in his cell. Police said it was suicide but Sinclair's family believe he was killed.

His body was returned for cremation, minus the heart which was removed during a post-mortem examination.

Transplant theory

A heart was later sent to the family, who ordered forensic tests in Glasgow to find out whether it matched genetic samples taken from the dead man's body before the funeral.

Speaking in Tel Aviv on Sunday, Sinclair's brother James said he believed Israel kept his brother's heart and may have even used it in an organ transplant.

Africa | Americas | Asia-Pacific | Europe | Middle East | South Asia

Internet Links

Israel's Ministry of Heal

The BBC is not responsible for the content of external internet sites.

In this section

Safety chief deplores crash speculation
Iraq oil-for-food aid extended
Israel demands soccer sex scandal inquiry
Israeli PM's plane in accident
Jordan police stop trade unionists prayers
New Israeli raid in southern Lebanon
New demand over PLO terror list
Earthquake hits Iran
New UN decision on Ira approved
Algerian president pledges reform

PALESTINE CHRONICLE

SEARCH ...

HOME › NEWS › Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

September 13, 2009

The controversy triggered by a Swedish newspaper report about Israel's harvesting of Palestinian organs has salted the wounds of many Palestinian families haunted by the memories of loved ones who suffered the same fate.

"They claimed they came to arrest him, but in truth they came to murder him, which they did," Walid Masalmeh, a resident of the small West Bank town of Dura, 10 kilometer west of Al-Khalil (Hebron), said about his relative Bassam.

In 1995, Bassam was killed by the Israeli army at the village of Beit Awwa, located near the former armistice line between the West Bank and what is now Israel.
"But 24 hours later they returned the body with a huge scar running from the chin to the lower abdomen," Walid remembers.

"They took all the vital organs, including the heart, kidneys, Liver. Then they stuffed the empty cavities with garbage before sewing him up."

Several other Palestinians gave a similar narrative, recounting how they received the bodies of their murdered relatives, mostly men in their early twenties, with vital organs taken away by the Israeli authorities.

THE IRISH TIMES

Ireland

Heart disappears after jail death

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed...

Sat Jun 20 1998 - 01:00

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed during a post-mortem examination, a pathologist confirmed yesterday.

Now his family are believed to be questioning whether a heart sent later was the right one. Alistair Sinclair (47), from Selkirk, is believed to have hanged himself in jail in April after being arrested on suspicion of drug smuggling.

BBC NEWS

News in Audio | News in Video | Newyddion | Новости | Noticias | أخبار | 国际新闻 | 身語廣

Front Page
World
UK
UK Politics
Business
Sci/Tech
Health
Education
Sport
Entertainment
Talking Point

On Air
Feedback
Low Graphics
Help

Sunday, December 20, 1998 Published at 16:21 GMT

World: Middle East

Israel sued over 'wrong heart'

Sinclair's brother made the claims in Tel Aviv

The family of a Scottish tourist who died in Israel say the authorities have returned the wrong heart.

Alistair Sinclair's relatives are suing Israel for one million shekels (£142,053) for removing his heart and thyroid for medical tests without their permission.

Sinclair, a musician from Selkirk in the Scottish borders, was arrested in Israel in April on his way out of the country. He was alleged to have been smuggling drugs.

Police found him the next morning hanging from his shoelaces in his cell. Police said it was suicide but Sinclair's family believe he was killed.

His body was returned for cremation, minus the heart which was removed during a post-mortem examination.

Transplant theory

A heart was later sent to the family, who ordered forensic tests in Glasgow to find out whether it matched genetic samples taken from the dead man's body before the funeral.

Speaking in Tel Aviv on Sunday, Sinclair's brother James said he believed Israel kept his brother's heart and may have even used it in an organ transplant.

Africa | Americas | Asia-Pacific | Europe | Middle East | South Asia

Internet Links

Israel's Ministry of Heal

The BBC is not responsible for the content of external internet sites.

In this section

Safety chief deplores crash speculation
Iraq oil-for-food aid extended
Israel demands soccer sex scandal inquiry
Israeli PM's plane in accident
Jordan police stop trade unionists prayers
New Israeli raid in southern Lebanon
New demand over PLO terror list
Earthquake hits Iran
New UN decision on Ira approved
Algerian president pledges reform

PC PALESTINE CHRONICLE

SEARCH ...

HOME › NEWS › Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

September 13, 2009

The controversy triggered by a Swedish newspaper report about Israel's harvesting of Palestinian organs has salted the wounds of many Palestinian families haunted by the memories of loved ones who suffered the same fate.

"They claimed they came to arrest him, but in truth they came to murder him, which they did," Walid Masalmeh, a resident of the small West Bank town of Dura, 10 kilometer west of Al-Khalil (Hebron), said about his relative Bassam.

In 1995, Bassam was killed by the Israeli army at the village of Beit Awwa, located near the former armistice line between the West Bank and what is now Israel.
"But 24 hours later they returned the body with a huge scar running from the chin to the lower abdomen," Walid remembers.

"They took all the vital organs, including the heart, kidneys, Liver. Then they stuffed the empty cavities with garbage before sewing him up."

Several other Palestinians gave a similar narrative, recounting how they received the bodies of their murdered relatives, mostly men in their early twenties, with vital organs taken away by the Israeli authorities.

12 KFVS FIRST ALERT Your First Alert Station

82° Cape Girardeau, MO

Watch Live Latest Video First Alert Weather

Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case

Published: Sep. 29, 2008 at 6:37 PM CDT | Updated: Sep. 30, 2008 at 4:24 PM CDT

Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case

By: Heartland News

MAYFIELD, Ky. - Two people charged in the murder of a Murray teen eight years ago make a plea deal in the case.

Jeffrey Burton and Tamara Caldwell entered Alford pleas Monday to manslaughter and abuse of a corpse.

Burton entered the same plea to tampering with physical evidence.

All other charges against the pair were dropped. Sentencing is set for October 17th.

Burton and Caldwell are two of five people charged in the death of 18-year-old Jessica Currin, whose burned body was found in 2000.

Quincy Omar Cross, considered the ringleader of the group, was convicted in April of kidnap, rape and murder.

Monica Lewinsky Leaves Behind A Fortune That Makes Her Family...

Daily Roundup

How Was Jessica Currin Killed?

According to Talk Murder With Me, the following details of Jessica Currin's murder were given by a key witness named Victoria.

On the night of July 29, 2000, a man named Quincy Cross and a woman named Tamara Caldwell approached her for sex. However, when she rejected their advances, Cross hit her with a baseball bat, which knocked her unconscious. They took her to the house of another man, named Jeffrey Burton, and sexually assaulted her.

Soon, Quincy Cross hit the 18-year-old on her head with a wrench and strangled her to death using his black braided belt. Cross along with her posse placed Jessica's corpse in Burton's garage. However, when the body began to decay, it was taken to the school and set on fire.

DEBANGSHU NATH

Debangshu watched a couple of Scorsese, Tarantino and Coppola films in seventh grade and developed an unhealthy obsession with criminals, psychopaths and serial killers. Fueled by his passion for Death, Thrash and Black Metal, he finds solace in writing about some of the most deranged people and incidents in human history.

Thank God for cats.

Investigation Discovery | Jessica Currin murder | Mom's Night Out | Murder in the Heartland | True Crime News

SHARE ARTICLE

CNN US Watch Listen Live TV Sign In

A charred body, shifting stories and a convicted man's assertion of innocence

By Jacque Smith, CNN

12 minute read · Updated 11:40 AM EST, Mon November 13, 2023

Quincy Cross listened during his sentencing on April 9, 2008, in Hickman County Circuit Court in Kentucky. Cross was convicted of murder, rape, kidnapping, abuse of a corpse and tampering with evidence. Stephen Lance Dennee/The Paducah Sun/AP

Editor's Note: This story contains language that some readers may find offensive.

(CNN) — Crooked cops. Drug dealers. Secret agendas.

The rumor mill churned after the body of 18-year-old Jessica Currin was found burned and decomposing behind Mayfield Middle School in 2000. People in the small Kentucky town still talk about the case – or don't want to talk at all, if an outsider is asking the questions.

A jury deliberated for 3 hours and 45 minutes before convicting Quincy Omar Cross of murder, rape, sodomy, kidnapping, evidence tampering and abuse of a corpse in 2008 and sentenced him to life in prison. But Cross has always expressed his innocence, and Currin's father, Joe Currin, has come to believe Cross was wrongfully convicted. For over a decade, he has advocated for finding the person who, he says, really killed his daughter.

"We've just always (been) hoping that the truth would bring itself out," Joe Currin said. "But when you've got more people hiding the truth than you do trying to get to the truth, it's kind of hard to do."

IMDb Sign In Use app

David Cross Biography: In His Own Words – Exclusive Video, News, Photos, Age

David Cross is an American actor, director and comedian who is best known for his stand-up performances, as well as his role as Tobias Fünke in the cult Netflix sitcom Arrested Development.

David Cross Biography: Age, Early Life, Family, Education

David Cross was born on April 4, 1964 (David Cross age: 59) in Roswell, Georgia, to a Jewish family. His father, Barry, emigrated from Leeds, England. Half a year after his birth, Cross and his family relocated to Florida. After a couple of additional moves to Connecticut and New York, Cross settled back in Roswell, where he and his family remained for about a decade. Cross is the eldest of three children, having two younger sisters, Juli and Wendy Cross.

12 KFVS FIRST ALERT Your First Alert Station

82° Cape Girardeau, MO

Watch Live Latest Video First Alert Weather

Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case

Published: Sep. 29, 2008 at 6:37 PM CDT | Updated: Sep. 30, 2008 at 4:24 PM CDT

Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case

By: Heartland News

MAYFIELD, Ky. - Two people charged in the murder of a Murray teen eight years ago make a plea deal in the case.

Jeffrey Burton and Tamara Caldwell entered Alford pleas Monday to manslaughter and abuse of a corpse.

Burton entered the same plea to tampering with physical evidence.

All other charges against the pair were dropped. Sentencing is set for October 17th.

Burton and Caldwell are two of five people charged in the death of 18-year-old Jessica Currin, whose burned body was found in 2000.

Quincy Omar Cross, considered the ringleader of the group, was convicted in April of kidnap, rape and murder.

Monica Lewinsky Leaves Behind A Fortune That Makes Her Family...

How Was Jessica Currin Killed?

According to Talk Murder With Me, the following details of Jessica Currin's murder were given by a key witness named Victoria.

On the night of July 29, 2000, a man named Quincy Cross and a woman named Tamara Caldwell approached her for sex. However, when she rejected their advances, Cross hit her with a baseball bat, which knocked her unconscious. They took her to the house of another man, named Jeffrey Burton, and sexually assaulted her.

Soon, Quincy Cross hit the 18-year-old on her head with a wrench and strangled her to death using his black braided belt. Cross along with her posse placed Jessica's corpse in Burton's garage. However, when the body began to decay, it was taken to the school and set on fire.

DEBANGSHU NATH

Debangshu watched a couple of Scorsese, Tarantino and Coppola films in seventh grade and developed an unhealthy obsession with criminals, psychopaths and serial killers. Fueled by his passion for Death, Thrash and Black Metal, he finds solace in writing about some of the most deranged people and incidents in human history.

Thank God for cats.

Investigation Discovery | Jessica Currin murder | Mom's Night Out | Murder in the Heartland | True Crime News

SHARE ARTICLE

CNN US Watch Listen Live TV Sign In

A charred body, shifting stories and a convicted man's assertion of innocence

By Jacque Smith, CNN

12 minute read · Updated 11:40 AM EST, Mon November 13, 2023

Quincy Cross listened during his sentencing on April 9, 2008, in Hickman County Circuit Court in Kentucky. Cross was convicted of murder, rape, kidnapping, abuse of a corpse and tampering with evidence. Stephen Lance Dennee/The Paducah Sun/AP

Editor's Note: This story contains language that some readers may find offensive.

(CNN) — Crooked cops. Drug dealers. Secret agendas.

The rumor mill churned after the body of 18-year-old Jessica Currin was found burned and decomposing behind Mayfield Middle School in 2000. People in the small Kentucky town still talk about the case – or don't want to talk at all, if an outsider is asking the questions.

A jury deliberated for 3 hours and 45 minutes before convicting Quincy Omar Cross of murder, rape, sodomy, kidnapping, evidence tampering and abuse of a corpse in 2008 and sentenced him to life in prison. But Cross has always expressed his innocence, and Currin's father, Joe Currin, has come to believe Cross was wrongfully convicted. For over a decade, he has advocated for finding the person who, he says, really killed his daughter.

"We've just always (been) hoping that the truth would bring itself out," Joe Currin said. "But when you've got more people hiding the truth than you do trying to get to the truth, it's kind of hard to do."

IMDb Sign In Use app

David Cross Biography: In His Own Words – Exclusive Video, News, Photos, Age

David Cross is an American actor, director and comedian who is best known for his stand-up performances, as well as his role as Tobias Fünke in the cult Netflix sitcom Arrested Development.

David Cross Biography: Age, Early Life, Family, Education

David Cross was born on April 4, 1964 (David Cross age: 59) in Roswell, Georgia, to a Jewish family. His father, Barry, emigrated from Leeds, England. Half a year after his birth, Cross and his family relocated to Florida. After a couple of additional moves to Connecticut and New York, Cross settled back in Roswell, where he and his family remained for about a decade. Cross is the eldest of three children, having two younger sisters, Juli and Wendy Cross.

JSTOR
All Content | Images
Advanced Search
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Register
Browse
Wor

This is a preview. Log in through your library.

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin
University of Massachusetts Boston

"Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews, and the Problem of Assimilation" examines cultural representations of Jewish criminals over the course of the twentieth century. The essay seeks to demonstrate that for several successive generations following the mass immigration of Jews to the United States, these figures have been invoked and described as a kind of index to the possibility—and desirability—of Jewish assimilation into the American mainstream. Taking into its purview accounts of Jewish mobsters ranging from newspaper stories and nonfiction writing to memoir, movies, and a popular TV series, the essay shows that the Jewish gangster has proved to be a figure flexible enough to accommodate and reflect changes in the social position and the cultural needs of Jews in America.

According to legend, Meyer Lansky, one of the longest-lived and most powerful Jewish gangsters in U.S. history, once described his success in the following terms: "We're bigger than U.S. Steel." Whether Lansky ever actually said this—and whether it was literally true—is beside the point: Lansky's boast manages to convey not only the prominence of men such as Lansky, Dutch Schultz, Bugsy Siegel, Gyp the Blood, and scores of others, but also offers a way of evaluating these men's success that is pointedly American and deliberately conventional.

At very least, Lansky was right in principle. From its origin in the 1880s, to a peak of accomplishment during Prohibition, the Jewish underworld flourished in ghettos such as New York's Lower East Side, Chicago's West Side, or those in Detroit, Boston, Baltimore, and other places. During this time Jews contributed some of the United States' foremost bootleggers, racketeers, panderers, and professional killers, culminating most famously in the Jewish-Italian criminal syndicate dubbed "Murder, Inc." by contemporary journalists.

After a few lucrative and bloody decades, though, the heyday of the Jewish gangster was over. The end of Prohibition necessitated a restructuring of organized crime's business plan to emphasize other sources of income, gambling in particular. Furthermore, following World War I, Jews in huge numbers were leaving the old urban neighborhoods that had given birth to the gangsters; a result of these two factors was that Jewish gangsters became much less visible or even went "legit." By the 1950s, Jewish gangsters had disappeared from the newspaper headlines and political dis-

JOURNAL ARTICLE
Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation
Rachel Rubin
Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 4 (SUMMER 2002), pp. 1-17 (17 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press
https://www.jstor.org/stable/42943489
Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

JSTOR
All Content | Images
Advanced Search
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Register
Log in
Browse
Workspace

This is a preview. Log in through your library.

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway
Tel-Aviv University

During Prohibition (1920–1933), Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. At the time, Jewish gangs dominated illicit activities in a number of America's largest cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York, and Philadelphia. One of the more notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang. The gang dealt in bootlegging, gambling, extortion, drugs, and murder, and developed a reputation for being more ruthless than Al Capone's mob in Chicago. The Purple's decade-long reign of terror ended when most of the gang's members either went to prison or were murdered by rivals.

After World War I, Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. During the Prohibition era (1919–1933) 50 percent of the country's leading bootleggers were Jews, and Jewish criminals financed and directed much of the nation's narcotics traffic. Jewish gangs also dominated illicit activities in a number of America's largest cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York and Philadelphia.[1] Perhaps the most notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang.

[1] See Mark Haller, "Bootleggers and American Gambling, 1920–1950," in Gambling in America, Commission on the Review of National Policy Toward Gambling, Appendix I (Washington, D.C., 1976), p. 106; David Courtwright, Herman Joseph, and Don Des Jarlais, Addicts Who Survived: An Oral History of Narcotics Use in America, 1923–1965 (Knoxville, 1989), pp. 110, n. 2, 186–188, 199–201; and U.S. Congress, Senate Special Committee to Investigate Organized Crime in Interstate Commerce, 81st Congress, 1st Session, 1950, Part 2; Stephen Fox, Blood and Power: Organized Crime in Twentieth Century America (New York, 1989), pp. 24–35; Albert Fried, The Rise and Fall of the Jewish Gangster in America (New York, 1980); Humbert S. Nelli, The Business of Crime: Italians and Syndicate Crime in the United States (New York, 1976), pp. 168–169, 172; Jenna Weissman Joselit, Our Gang: Jewish Crime and the New York Jewish Community, 1900–1940 (Bloomington, 1983), especially pp. 140–156; and Robert Rockaway, But He Was Good to His Mother: The Lives and Crimes of Jewish Gangsters (Jerusalem, 2000), pp. 7–62. See also Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), files 92-3105, 58-4441, 62-26085, 62-69850, and 62-69870. The FBI files are located at the Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters, Washington, D.C.

JOURNAL ARTICLE
The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob
Robert A. Rockaway
Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 1, Special Issue: American Jews (FALL 2001), pp. 113-130 (18 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press
https://www.jstor.org/stable/42944836
Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

JSTOR
All Content | Images
Advanced Search
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Register
Browse
Wor

This is a preview. Log in through your library.

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin
University of Massachusetts Boston

"Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews, and the Problem of Assimilation" examines cultural representations of Jewish criminals over the course of the twentieth century. The essay seeks to demonstrate that for several successive generations following the mass immigration of Jews to the United States, these figures have been invoked and described as a kind of index to the possibility—and desirability—of Jewish assimilation into the American mainstream. Taking into its purview accounts of Jewish mobsters ranging from newspaper stories and nonfiction writing to memoir, movies, and a popular TV series, the essay shows that the Jewish gangster has proved to be a figure flexible enough to accommodate and reflect changes in the social position and the cultural needs of Jews in America.

According to legend, Meyer Lansky, one of the longest-lived and most powerful Jewish gangsters in U.S. history, once described his success in the following terms: "We're bigger than U.S. Steel." Whether Lansky ever actually said this—and whether it was literally true—is beside the point: Lansky's boast manages to convey not only the prominence of men such as Lansky, Dutch Schultz, Bugsy Siegel, Gyp the Blood, and scores of others, but also offers a way of evaluating these men's success that is pointedly American and deliberately conventional.

At very least, Lansky was right in principle. From its origin in the 1880s, to a peak of accomplishment during Prohibition, the Jewish underworld flourished in ghettos such as New York's Lower East Side, Chicago's West Side, or those in Detroit, Boston, Baltimore, and other places. During this time Jews contributed some of the United States' foremost bootleggers, racketeers, panderers, and professional killers, culminating most famously in the Jewish-Italian criminal syndicate dubbed "Murder, Inc." by contemporary journalists.

After a few lucrative and bloody decades, though, the heyday of the Jewish gangster was over. The end of Prohibition necessitated a restructuring of organized crime's business plan to emphasize other sources of income, gambling in particular. Furthermore, following World War I, Jews in huge numbers were leaving the old urban neighborhoods that had given birth to the gangsters; a result of these two factors was that Jewish gangsters became much less visible or even went "legit." By the 1950s, Jewish gangsters had disappeared from the newspaper headlines and political dis-

JOURNAL ARTICLE

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin

Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 4 (SUMMER 2002), pp. 1-17 (17 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press
https://www.jstor.org/stable/42943489

Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

JSTOR
All Content | Images
Advanced Search
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Register
Log in
Browse
Workspace

This is a preview. Log in through your library.

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway
Tel-Aviv University

During Prohibition (1920–1933), Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. At the time, Jewish gangs dominated illicit activities in a number of America's largest cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York, and Philadelphia. One of the more notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang. The gang dealt in bootlegging, gambling, extortion, drugs, and murder, and developed a reputation for being more ruthless than Al Capone's mob in Chicago. The Purple's decade-long reign of terror ended when most of the gang's members either went to prison or were murdered by rivals.

After World War I, Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. During the Prohibition era (1919–1933) 50 percent of the country's leading bootleggers were Jews, and Jewish criminals financed and directed much of the nation's narcotics traffic. Jewish gangs also dominated illicit activities in a number of America's largest cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York and Philadelphia.[1] Perhaps the most notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang.

[1]See Mark Haller, "Bootleggers and American Gambling, 1920–1950," in Gambling in America, Commission on the Review of National Policy Toward Gambling, Appendix 1 (Washington, D.C., 1976), p. 106; David Courtwright, Herman Joseph, and Don Des Jarlais, Addicts Who Survived: An Oral History of Narcotics Use in America, 1923–1965 (Knoxville, 1989), pp. 110, n. 2, 186–188, 199–201; and U.S. Congress, Senate Special Committee to Investigate Organized Crime in Interstate Commerce, 81st Congress, 1st Session, 1950, Part 2; Stephen Fox, Blood and Power: Organized Crime in Twentieth Century America (New York, 1989), pp. 24–35; Albert Fried, The Rise and Fall of the Jewish Gangster in America (New York, 1980); Humbert S. Nelli, The Business of Crime: Italians and Syndicate Crime in the United States (New York, 1976), pp. 168–169, 172; Jenna Weissman Joselit, Our Gang: Jewish Crime and the New York Jewish Community, 1900–1940 (Bloomington, 1983), especially pp. 140–156; and Robert Rockaway, But He Was Good to His Mother: The Lives and Crimes of Jewish Gangsters (Jerusalem, 2000), pp. 7–62. See also Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), files 92-3105, 58-4441, 62-26085, 62-69850, and 62-69870. The FBI files are located at the Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters, Washington, D.C.

JOURNAL ARTICLE

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway

Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 1, Special Issue: American Jews (FALL 2001), pp. 113-130 (18 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press
https://www.jstor.org/stable/42944836

Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

Los Zetas

27 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Los Zetas (pronounced [los ˈsetas], Spanish for "The Zs") is a Mexican criminal syndicate, known as one of the most dangerous of Mexico's drug cartels.[17][18][19][20][21] They are known for engaging in brutally violent "shock and awe" tactics such as beheadings, torture, and indiscriminate murder.[22] While primarily concerned with drug trafficking, the organization also runs profitable sex and gun rackets.[23] Los Zetas also operate through protection rackets, assassinations, extortion, kidnappings and other illegal activities.[24] The organization is based in Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, directly across the border from Laredo, Texas.[25] The origins of Los Zetas date back to the late 1990s, when commandos of the Mexican Army deserted their ranks and began working as the enforcement arm of the Gulf Cartel.[22][26] In February 2010, Los Zetas broke away and formed their own criminal organization, rivalling the Gulf Cartel.[27][28]

They were at one point Mexico's largest and most expansive drug cartel in terms of geographical presence, overtaking their rivals, the Sinaloa Cartel, in physical territory.[29] However, in recent times Los Zetas has become fragmented and seen its influence diminish.[30] As of March 2016, Grupo Bravo (Bravo Group) and Zetas Vieja Escuela (Old School Zetas) have formed an alliance with the Gulf Cartel against Cartel Del Noreste (Cartel of the Northeast).[31] In March 2019, Texas Republican congressman Chip Roy introduced a bill that would list the Cartel Del Noreste faction of Los Zetas, Jalisco New Generation Cartel and Gulf Cartel as foreign terrorist organizations. Former United States President Donald Trump had also expressed interest in designating cartels as terrorist organizations.[32] However such plans were halted at the request of Mexican President Andrés Manuel López Obrador.[33]

History [edit]

Etymology [edit]

Los Zetas was named after its first commander, Arturo Guzmán Decena, whose Federal Judicial

Los Zetas

Los Zetas

Founded by	Osiel Cárdenas Guillén,[1] Arturo Guzmán Decena
Founding location	Tamaulipas
Years active	1997–present
Territory	Mexico: Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, Veracruz, Tabasco, Campeche, Yucatán, Quintana Roo, San Luis Potosí, Chiapas, Puebla, Tlaxcala, Hidalgo, Guerrero, Oaxaca, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Michoacán, State of México Rest of North America: United States, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Costa Rica, Nicaragua South America: Colombia, Peru, Panama, and Venezuela[2] Europe: Balkans, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, European Union, Norway, Switzerland and Liechtenstein
Ethnicity	Multi-ethnic, but mainly Mexican and Latino
Membership (est.)	20,000-50,000
Leader(s)	Maxiley Barahona Nadales
Criminal activities	Drug trafficking, human trafficking arms trafficking, murder, rape, kidnapping, racketeering, extortion, arson, hacking, video piracy, prostitution, theft[3][4][5][6][7][8]
Allies	Tijuana Cartel Juárez Cartel 'Ndrangheta Los Mazatlecos

Theresa Musgrove
Let's Talk

Was Dickens' guilt about Fagin a product of his Jewish family?

Documentary evidence, including contemporary copies of the JC, sheds fascinating new light on Dicken's Jewishness

This vintage image features Charles Dickens in his study.

May 23, 2022 14:32

The recent BBC series Dodger, a "prequel" to one aspect of Charles Dickens's story of Oliver Twist, has revived once more the eternal controversy over the malevolent figure of Fagin, and this character's role in the dark history of antisemitism.

In 1863, some 25 years after the publication of Oliver Twist, Dickens was taken to task by Eliza Davis, a middle aged Jewish woman who persuaded him to make at least some reparation for the damage he had caused. Their correspondence, which was published soon after his death, is held to be responsible for his decision to remove much of the most offensive material in the novel, as well as for inspiring the inclusion of the saintly Jewish character Riah, in Our Mutual Friend.

Eliza Davis's influence on Dickens can be said to have resulted in the restoration of his reputation in the eyes of the Anglo-Jewish community – or at least in the eyes of the editors of the Jewish Chronicle. The paper had accused Dickens of "pandering to a vitiated taste" in creating Fagin, and being "a contaminating influence". Yet after his death, he was described in terms of real affection, indeed something approaching reverence, and accompanied by a genuine sense of loss. The JC observed that the novelist's work had struck a chord, "broke it to a pure echo and

David Vladimir Bermant

Rabbi Jonathan Romain

amazon Deliver to Israel All Search Amazon EN Hello, sign in Account & Lists Returns & Orders

All Medical Care Groceries Best Sellers Amazon Basics New Releases Prime Music Customer Service Today's Deals

Customer Review

orniel antonio rodriguez decena

★★★★★ Buen libro

Reviewed in the United States on January 25, 2020

Verified Purchase

Excelente libro . Algunos errores de traducción .

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Translate review to English

Product Details

Libro De Oraciones Hebreo- Espanol
by Sinai publication

★★★★☆ 4.5 out of 5

56 global ratings

5 star	79%
4 star	4%
3 star	8%
2 star	3%

(Top)
- Early life
- Criminal career
  - Early activities and prison
  - Early cocaine career
  - Norman's Cay
- Return to Colombia
  - Participation in the MAS
  - The National Latin Movement

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this Spanish name, the first or paternal surname is Lehder and the second or maternal family name is Rivas.

Carlos Enrique Lehder Rivas (born 7 September 1949)[9] is a Colombian and German former drug lord who was co-founder of the Medellín Cartel. Born to a German father and Colombian mother,[10] he was the first high-level drug trafficker extradited to the United States, after which he was released from prison in the United States after 33 years in 2020.[11][12] Originally from Armenia, Colombia, Lehder eventually ran a cocaine transport empire on Norman's Cay island, 210 miles (340 km) off the Florida coast in the central Bahamas.[11][13]

Lehder was one of the founding members of Muerte a Secuestradores ("MAS"), a paramilitary group whose focus was to retaliate against the kidnappings of cartel members and their families[11] by the guerrillas.[14][15][16][17] His motivation to join the MAS was to retaliate against the M-19 guerrilla movement, which, in November 1981, attempted to kidnap him for a ransom; Lehder managed to escape from the kidnappers, though he was shot in the leg.[18] He was one

Carlos Lehder

JHSC JEWISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY of SOUTH CAROLINA

CONTACT

PROJECTS ABOUT SUPPORT EVEN
BURIALS & MEMORIALS

Kahal Kadosh Beth Elohim (KKBE) Memori

90 Hasell Street Charleston, SC

Show 50 entries

Surname	LEHDER	LEHDER
Given Name(s)	Bernard	Helen SOMMERFIELD
Date of Birth	11-Jan-1922	07-Nov-1924
Date of Death (English)	26-Feb-2002	03-Jun-2010

1. Thieves' stars

Depending on the location on the body, the stars convey a prisoner's status. When worn on the knees, the stars are a sign of a prisoner who commands respect. The implied meaning is "I will never get on my knees in front of anyone."

Stars on the chest mark a higher rank. Only the most respected can wear the 'thieves' stars in that area of the body. The tattoos must be earned, and an inmate wearing an undeserved tattoo risks a beating or worse.

National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW

From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 | Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.

https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/spotlight/f/catalog?utf8=%E2%9C%93&exhibit_id=f&search_field=all_fields&q=

Circulate this:

---

encyclopedia.com

Arts › Educational magazines › DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

CONGAGE

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch: Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lingering topic of interest was his

---

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS | 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeja Dabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

CIRCULATING NOW
WARD CARTS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL TEAM CHIEFS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II
Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

NEW ATLAS

Overlaid shadowgraph-chemiluminescence images show conditions in the test chamber in a non-reacting black Carolina, and then with fuel added to create the oblique detonation wave. University of Central Florida

Compared to conditions measured with the main fuel injector turned off, peak pressure was 2.1 times higher behind the ramp, and the nozzle exit pressure was 10.5 times higher. The flow velocity was calculated at 98.7 percent of the theoretical detonation wave speed for a freely propagating, normal explosion in the given mixture.

"This is the first time a detonation has been shown to be stabilized experimentally," says Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor in UCF's Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering, and one of the authors on the new research paper. "We are finally able to hold the detonation in space in oblique detonation form. It's almost like freezing an internal explosion in physical space."

Where a detonation typically lasts only a matter of micro- or milliseconds, the UCF team managed to sustain this one experimentally until the fuel was turned off after around three seconds. That's long enough to prove the device works, Ahmed told LiveScience, and if the team kept the fuel flowing any longer it would've destroyed the sports windows on the sides of the test section, which were there to allow optical imaging of the tests. Replacing the test section with something entirely metal-sided would allow the detonation to be sustained much longer.

LIVESCIENCE

This concept drawing shows a rocket-to-aircraft-powered by an oblique detonation wave engine. Image credit: Kareem A. Ahmed, UCF

A never-ending detonation could be the key to hypersonic flight and space planes that can seamlessly fly from Earth into orbit. And now, researchers have recreated the explosive phenomenon in the lab that could make it possible.

Detonations are a particularly powerful kind of explosion that move outward faster than the speed of sound. The massive explosion that razed the port of Beirut in Lebanon last August was a detonation, and the widespread destruction it caused demonstrates the huge amounts of energy they can produce.

Scientists have long dreamed of building aircraft engines that can harness this energy; such craft could theoretically fly from New York to London in under an hour. But detonations are incredibly hard to control and typically last less than a microsecond, so no one has yet been able to make them a reality.

Related: The top 10 greatest explosions ever

Now, a team from the University of Central Florida has created an experimental setup that lets them sustain a detonation in a fixed position for several seconds, which the researchers say is a major step toward future hypersonic propulsion systems.

"What we're trying to do here is no control that detonation," said Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor of mechanical and aerospace engineering at the University of Central Florida, and lead author of a new paper on the research published Monday (May 10) in the journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

"We want to freeze it in space and harness that energy. Rather than it destroying buildings, as you see in Lebanon, now I want to use it and produce thrust with it," Ahmed told Live Science. "If we can do that, we can travel super fast."

The breakthrough was built on decades of research into a novel rocket propulsion system called an oblique detonation wave engine (ODWE). The concept works by funneling a mixture of air and fuel at hypersonic speeds (more than five times the speed of sound) toward a ramp, which creates a shock wave. This shock wave rapidly heats up the fuel-air mixture and causes it to detonate, blasting exhaust gases out from the back of the engine at high speed. The result can, of course,

FOX 13 TAMPA BAY

UCF develops breakthrough in hypersonic propulsion

Breakthrough in Science: Hypersonic travel

TAMPA - Aerospace engineers at the University of Central Florida are drawing global attention for their successful experiments in hypersonic propulsion. Their work would lead to safe and stable hypersonic air travel in the future - that could fly passengers from Tampa to Los Angeles in a matter of minutes.

UCF has not built such a jet, but professor Kareem Ahmed and his students figured out how to stabilize a hypersonic engine in their lab.

"That's hypersonic as opposed to supersonic. For perspective, NASA's X-59 supersonic aircraft is designed to fly 925 miles per hour. UCF's hypersonic design could lead to air travel up to 14 times faster - up to 13,000 miles per hour!

"The first reaction was actually denial, not believing it's actually real," said Dr. Ahmed.

For background, we've powered engines through internal combustion for more than 200 years.

"When you have fuel injector in a car, it sprays mist into your combustion," said UCF graduate student Trevor Schroeder.

The fuel mist burns, which releases energy, which drives motion. We currently ride or fly on comparatively slow controlled explosions. Dr. Ahmed likens it to a burning candle flame.

DAILY NEWSLETTER

Sign Up

Trending

Latest headlines

An official website of the United States government
Here's how you know ~

United States Attorney's Office
District of Kansas

Menu

Search

PRESS RELEASE

Man sentenced in Kansas City drug ring tied to Mexican cartel

Friday, January 19, 2024

Share

For Immediate Release

U.S. Attorney's Office, District of Kansas

KANSAS CITY, KAN. – A man was sentenced to 192 months in prison for his involvement in a Kansas City metro-based drug trafficking ring with ties to Mexico.

According to court documents, Edwar Solazar-Belleda, 34, pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy to distribute and possess with intent to distribute 50 grams or more of methamphetamine.

Solazar-Belleda was part of an international drug trafficking ring operating with meth brought in from Mexico. The co-conspirators laundered illegal proceeds as wire payments destined for individuals in Mexico and California.

From August 2019 through May 2021, the Kansas Bureau of Investigation (KBI) and Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) led an undercover investigation which included multiple purchases of meth, heroin, and firearms. Ronal Alvarado-Calderon, 37, of Kansas City, Kansas, was the head of the operation, and Solazar-Belleda acted as a broker.

telaviv.cervantes.es

siete

¡APRENDE ESPAÑOL EN ESPAÑA!

DELE 2024

Ciudad de Israel

La C

Greta Cervantes es una act
ataques de Hamás a ese el búnker que tiene dentr que compartió en su cuenta de Tik

La artista mexicana de 29 años, qu como "La Rosa de Guadalupe" y " carrera para vivir junto a su espos
en contacto con sus seguid

Greta Cervantes muestra su

NEWS19 News Weather Sports VERIFY

29-year-old convicted heroin trafficker in Lexington County gets 30 year prison sentence

Prosecutors report there have been more than 50 overdoses deaths linked to heroin since the suspect was caught in 2018.

Author: Christopher Buchanan
Published: 2:11 PM EDT August 27, 2022
Updated: 2:31 PM EDT August 27, 2022

WEST COLUMBIA, S.C. — A convicted drug trafficker will spend the next three decades in prison following a conviction handed up in Lexington County.

According to the 11th Circuit Solicitor's Office, 29-year-old Israel Mendoza Cervantes was sentenced in general sessions court earlier in the week after being convicted of all charges brought against him.

The charges included trafficking heroin - 28 grams or more, possession of a weapon during the commission of a violent crime, and possession with intent to distribute cocaine.

Cervantes received a 25-year sentence for the trafficking conviction, a concurrent 15-year sentence for the possession with intent to distribute conviction, and a consecutive five-year sentence for the weapon charge which came to 30 years in all.

The conviction stems from an investigation that began in September 2018 when Richland County Sheriff's Department narcotics agents shared information with the neighboring Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Cervantes was one of two suspects in the case who

An official website of the United States government
Here's how you know

United States Attorney's Office
District of Kansas

Menu

Search

PRESS RELEASE

Man sentenced in Kansas City drug ring tied to Mexican cartel

Friday, January 19, 2024

Share

For Immediate Release

U.S. Attorney's Office, District of Kansas

KANSAS CITY, KAN. – A man was sentenced to 102 months in prison for his involvement in a Kansas City metro-based drug trafficking ring with ties to Mexico.

According to court documents, Edwar Salazar-Belleda, 34, pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy to distribute and possess with intent to distribute 50 grams or more of methamphetamine.

Salazar-Belleda was part of an international drug trafficking ring operating with meth brought in from Mexico. The co-conspirators laundered illegal proceeds as wire payments destined for individuals in Mexico and California.

From August 2019 through May 2021, the Kansas Bureau of Investigation (KBI) and Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) led an undercover investigation which included multiple purchases of meth, heroin, and firearms. Romel Alvarado-Calderon, 27, of Kansas City, Kansas, was the head of the operation, and Salazar-Belleda acted as a broker.

telaviv.cervantes.es

siele

¡APRENDE ESPAÑOL EN ESPAÑA!

INSCRÍBETE YA DELE 2024

Instituto Cervantes Tel Aviv

Síguenos en Facebook

Club de lectura

La Opinión

Greta Cervantes es una actriz mexicana que vive en Israel y tras los ataques de Hamás a ese país, se ha visto obligada a refugiarse en el búnker que tiene dentro de su casa, el cual mostró en un video que compartió en su cuenta de TikTok.

La artista mexicana de 29 años, quien ha participado en programas unitarios como "La Rosa de Guadalupe" y "Como dice El Dicho", hizo una pausa en su carrera para vivir junto a su esposo israelí Yarden Hassid, pero siempre ha e[illegible] en contacto con sus seguidores.

Greta Cervantes muestra su refugio en Israel

Brown
Academy
Brown
Academy
Weaving science into Torah learning
There are many ways to interpret the Torah, but for Momentum sister Sherri Quintero, a biology teacher, one of her favorite ways to study is to look for the wonders of science and technology woven into the texts.
The recent holiday of Shavuot, a celebration of the day the Israelites received the Torah at Mount Sinai, is a perfect example. It is written in the Torah: "The smoke rose like the smoke of a kiln, and the whole mountain trembled violently. The blare of the horn grew louder and louder. As Moses spoke, God answered him in thunder." (Exodus 19:19-20)
For Sherri, who teaches at the Kellman Brown Academy, a Jewish Day School in New Jersey, it was an opportunity to explore with her students: Is it possible to see sound? What is a soundwave? Why does smoke always rise? What causes earthquakes?
A call for change
The Shavuot lesson is just one way that Sherri is taking an innovative approach towards combining Jewish learning and science, an idea that started coalescing during Sherri's MOMentum Trip to Israel in 2016. At the time, she was in the middle of her ninth year as

EL PAÍS International

MEXICAN CARTELS >

Rafael Caro Quintero: the historic head of the Sinaloa cartel is captured

Sources from the Marines confirm that the veteran narco, implicated in the murder of a DEA agent in the 1980s, was detained on Friday

ELENA REINA

Mexico - July 15, 2022 - 10:59 EDT

Rafael Caro Quintero, in prison, in a file image. CUARTOSCURO

Rafael Caro Quintero, the legendary narco leader of the 1980s, has been captured. Sources from the Marines confirmed to EL PAÍS that the former cartel leader, on whose head the United States Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) had placed the highest ever reward for a criminal, was detained on Friday. One of the founders of the legendary Guadalajara cartel, which later became the Sinaloa cartel, was arrested for the second time near his home territory, in the Sinaloa highlands.

The criminal previously entered prison in 1985 after the brutal murder of undercover DEA agent Kiki Camarena. In 2013, still with 12 years of his sentence left to serve, he was released in Mexico after a state court concluded that he had been tried improperly. The United States pressured Mexican authorities to recapture him. The old drug capo, far

NEWSLETTER

Sign up to EL PAÍS US Edition bulletin

SUBSCRIBE

MOST VIEWED

1. Europe and the US commemorate D-Day (and suddenly World War I no longer seems so remote)
2. No money for David Lynch and no distribution for Francis Ford Coppola: Hollywood is no country for old men
3. Lisbon, a city dying from its own success
4. The 'Sakhnin' effect, or the dangers of reaping on your castle in a film or TV crew
5. Dudrazar, the new best restaurant in the world, is in Barcelona

Momentum

LEARNING

SISTER SPOTLIGHTS

3 MIN

Weaving science into Torah learning

There are many ways to interpret the Torah, but for Momentum sister Sherri Quintero, a biology teacher, one of her favorite ways to study is to look for the wonders of science and technology woven into the texts.

The recent holiday of Shavuot, a celebration of the day the Israelites received the Torah at Mount Sinai, is a perfect example. It is written in the Torah: "The smoke rose like the smoke of a kiln, and the whole mountain trembled violently. The blare of the horn grew louder and louder. As Moses spoke, God answered him in thunder." (Exodus 19:19-20)

For Sherri, who teaches at the Kellman Brown Academy, a Jewish Day School in New Jersey, it was an opportunity to explore with her students: Is it possible to see sound? What is a soundwave? Why does smoke always rise? What causes earthquakes?

A call for change

The Shavuot lesson is just one way that Sherri is taking an innovative approach towards combining Jewish learning and science, an idea that started coalescing during Sherri's MOMentum Trip to Israel in 2016. At the time, she was in the middle of her ninth year as

YouTube Search Sign in

EL PAÍS International

MEXICAN CARTELS >

Rafael Caro Quintero: the historic head of the Sinaloa cartel is captured

Sources from the Marines confirm that the veteran narco, implicated in the murder of a DEA agent in the 1980s, was detained on Friday

ELENA REINA

Mexico - JUL. 15, 2022 - 10:38 EDT

Rafael Caro Quintero, in prison, in a file image. CUARTOSCURO

Rafael Caro Quintero, the legendary narco leader of the 1980s, has been captured. Sources from the Marines confirmed to EL PAÍS that the former cartel leader, on whose head the United States Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) had placed the highest ever reward for a criminal, was detained on Friday. One of the founders of the legendary Guadalajara cartel, which later became the Sinaloa cartel, was arrested for the second time near his home territory, in the Sinaloa highlands.

The criminal previously entered prison in 1985 after the brutal murder of undercover DEA agent Kiki Camarena. In 2013, still with 12 years of his sentence left to serve, he was released in Mexico after a state court concluded that he had been tried improperly. The United States pressured Mexican authorities to recapture him. The old drug capo, far

NEWSLETTER

Sign up to EL PAÍS US Edition bulletin

APUNTATE

MOST VIEWED

1. Europe and the US commemorate D-Day (and suddenly World War II no longer seems so remote)
2. No money for David Lynch and no distributor for Francis Ford Coppola: Hollywood is no country for old men
3. Lisbon, a city dying from its own success
4. The 'Saltburn' effect, or the dangers of renting out your castle to a film or TV crew
5. Disfrutar, the new best restaurant in the world, is in Barcelona

Momentum

LEARNING

SISTER SPOTLIGHTS

3 MIN

Weaving science into Torah learning

There are many ways to interpret the Torah, but for Momentum sister Sherri Quintero, a biology teacher, one of her favorite ways to study is to look for the wonders of science and technology woven into the texts.

The recent holiday of Shavuot, a celebration of the day the Israelites received the Torah at Mount Sinai, is a perfect example. It is written in the Torah: "The smoke rose like the smoke of a kiln, and the whole mountain trembled violently. The blare of the horn grew louder and louder. As Moses spoke, God answered him in thunder." (Exodus 19:19-20)

For Sherri, who teaches at the Kellman Brown Academy, a Jewish Day School in New Jersey, it was an opportunity to explore with her students: Is it possible to see sound? What is a soundwave? Why does smoke always rise? What causes earthquakes?

A call for change

The Shavuot lesson is just one way that Sherri is taking an innovative approach towards combining Jewish learning and science, an idea that started coalescing during Sherri's MOMentum Trip to Israel in 2016. At the time, she was in the middle of her ninth year as

YouTube Search Sign in

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

Subscribe Join

Home Videos Shorts Live Community

Latest Popular Oldest

Hasta estar en su Lugar

3.8K views • 3 weeks ago

Pa' atrás, ni para tomar impulso!!

4K views • 1 month ago

Eres libre!!! o no?

2.9K views • 1 month ago

25 de abril de 2024

5K views • 1 month ago

Pesaj kasher v'sameaj

2.8K views • 1 month ago

Un saludo de Shavua tov

3.6K views • 1 month ago

EL PAÍS International SUBSCRIBE LOG IN

MEXICAN CARTELS >

Rafael Caro Quintero: the historic head of the Sinaloa cartel is captured

Sources from the Marines confirm that the veteran narco, implicated in the murder of a DEA agent in the 1980s, was detained on Friday

ELENA REINA
Mexico - JUL 15, 2022 - 19:38 EDT

Rafael Caro Quintero, in prison, in a file image. CUARTOSCURO

Rafael Caro Quintero, the legendary narco leader of the 1980s, has been captured. Sources from the Marines confirmed to EL PAÍS that the former cartel leader, on whose head the United States Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) had placed the highest ever reward for a criminal, was detained on Friday. One of the founders of the legendary Guadalajara cartel, which later became the Sinaloa cartel, was arrested for the second time near his home territory, in the Sinaloa highlands.

The criminal previously entered prison in 1985 after the brutal murder of undercover DEA agent Kiki Camarena. In 2013, still with 12 years of his sentence left to serve, he was released in Mexico after a state court concluded that he had been tried improperly. The United States pressured Mexican authorities to recapture him. The old drug capo, far

NEWSLETTER

Sign up to EL PAÍS US Edition bulletin

APÚNTATE

MOST VIEWED

1. Europe and the US commemorate D-Day (and suddenly World War II no longer seems so remote)
2. No money for David Lynch and no distributor for Francis Ford Coppola: Hollywood is no country for old men
3. Lisbon, a city dying from its own success
4. The 'Saltburn' effect, or the dangers of renting out your castle to a film or TV crew
5. Disfrutar, the new best restaurant in the world, is in Barcelona

Momentum

LEARNING

SISTER SPOTLIGHTS

3 MIN

Weaving science into Torah learning

There are many ways to interpret the Torah, but for Momentum sister Sherri Quintero, a biology teacher, one of her favorite ways to study is to look for the wonders of science and technology woven into the texts.

The recent holiday of Shavuot, a celebration of the day the Israelites received the Torah at Mount Sinai, is a perfect example. It is written in the Torah: "The smoke rose like the smoke of a kiln, and the whole mountain trembled violently. The blare of the horn grew louder and louder. As Moses spoke, God answered him in thunder." (Exodus 19:19-20)

For Sherri, who teaches at the Kellman Brown Academy, a Jewish Day School in New Jersey, it was an opportunity to explore with her students: Is it possible to see sound? What is a soundwave? Why does smoke always rise? What causes earthquakes?

A call for change

The Shavuot lesson is just one way that Sherri is taking an innovative approach towards combining Jewish learning and science, an idea that started coalescing during Sherri's MOMentum Trip to Israel in 2016. At the time, she was in the middle of her ninth year as

YouTube Search Sign in

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

Subscribe Join

Home Videos Shorts Live Community

Latest Popular Oldest

Hasta estar en su Lugar
3.8K views · 3 weeks ago

Pa' atrás, ni para tomar impulso!!!
4K views · 1 month ago

Eres libre!!! o no?
2.9K views · 1 month ago

25 de abril de 2024
5K views · 1 month ago

Pesaj kasher v'sameaj
2.8K views · 1 month ago

Un saludo de Shavua tov
3.6K views · 1 month ago

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

US NEWS

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

6

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extraidted to the US.

CBS 47 FOX 30 ACTION NEWS JAX 95° WATCH

NEWS VIDEO FIRST ALERT WEATHER HURRICANE CENTER INVESTIGATES SPORTS ELECTION 2024 FAMILY FOCUS

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road 1/3

Resize:

Action News Jax Now

Latest Local News

Newscast covering important local topics and events

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

+ Caption

By ActionNewsJax.com News Staff

April 29, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

CNN World Watch Listen Live TV Sign in

World / Americas

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

By Lauren Koenig and Priscilla Alvarez, CNN

2 minute read · Updated 7:29 PM EDT, Sat May 25, 2024

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, also known as 'El Nini.' United States Drug Enforcement Administration

(CNN) — A top Mexican cartel member known as 'El Nini,' who was one of America's most-wanted criminals for his alleged role in the fentanyl trade, has been extradited to the United States.

In a speech celebrating US-Mexico cooperation on the case, US President Joe Biden on Saturday hailed the extradition of El Nini – also known as Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas – as "a good day for justice."

"El Nini played a prominent role in the notorious Sinaloa cartel, one of the deadliest drug trafficking enterprises in the world. The United States has charged him for his role in illicit fentanyl trafficking and for murdering, torturing, and kidnapping numerous rivals, witnesses, and others," Biden said, thanking Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

"Our governments will continue to work together to attack the fentanyl and synthetic drug epidemic that is killing so many people in our homelands and globally, and to bring to justice the criminals and organizations producing, smuggling, and selling these lethal poisons in both of our countries," he added.

According to the US Department of Justice, Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas "was one of the Sinaloa cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins" and was involved in the "production and sale of fentanyl" in the United States.

Biden has previously described El Nini as one of America's most-wanted criminals. Pérez Salas was charged in the US with cocaine and methamphetamine trafficking conspiracy, possession of machine guns and destructive devices, and witness retaliation in February 2021.

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

US NEWS

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

6

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extraidted to the US.

CBS 47 FOX 30 ACTION NEWS JAX 95° WATCH

NEWS VIDEO FIRST ALERT WEATHER HURRICANE CENTER INVESTIGATES SPORTS ELECTION 2024 FAMILY FOCUS

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road 1/3

Resize:

Action News Jax Now

Latest Local News

Newscast covering important local topics and events

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

+ Caption

By ActionNewsJax.com News Staff

April 29, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

CNN World Watch Listen Live TV Sign in

World / Americas

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

By Lauren Koenig and Priscilla Alvarez, CNN

2 minute read · Updated 7:29 PM EDT, Sat May 25, 2024

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, also known as 'El Nini.' United States Drug Enforcement Administration

(CNN) — A top Mexican cartel member known as 'El Nini,' who was one of America's most-wanted criminals for his alleged role in the fentanyl trade, has been extradited to the United States.

In a speech celebrating US-Mexico cooperation on the case, US President Joe Biden on Saturday hailed the extradition of El Nini – also known as Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas – as "a good day for justice."

"El Nini played a prominent role in the notorious Sinaloa cartel, one of the deadliest drug trafficking enterprises in the world. The United States has charged him for his role in illicit fentanyl trafficking and for murdering, torturing, and kidnapping numerous rivals, witnesses, and others," Biden said, thanking Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

"Our governments will continue to work together to attack the fentanyl and synthetic drug epidemic that is killing so many people in our homelands and globally, and to bring to justice the criminals and organizations producing, smuggling, and selling these lethal poisons in both of our countries," he added.

According to the US Department of Justice, Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas "was one of the Sinaloa cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins" and was involved in the "production and sale of fentanyl" in the United States.

Biden has previously described El Nini as one of America's most-wanted criminals. Pérez Salas was charged in the US with cocaine and methamphetamine trafficking conspiracy, possession of machine guns and destructive devices, and witness retaliation in February 2021.

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

US NEWS

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

6

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extraidted to the US.

CBS 47 FOX 30 ACTION NEWS JAX 95° WATCH

NEWS VIDEO FIRST ALERT WEATHER HURRICANE CENTER INVESTIGATES SPORTS ELECTION 2024 FAMILY FOCUS

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road 1/3

Resize:

Action News Jax Now

Latest Local News

Newscast covering important local topics and events

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

+ Caption

By ActionNewsJax.com News Staff

April 29, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

CNN World Watch Listen Live TV Sign in

World / Americas

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

By Lauren Koenig and Priscilla Alvarez, CNN

2 minute read · Updated 7:29 PM EDT, Sat May 25, 2024

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, also known as 'El Nini.' United States Drug Enforcement Administration

(CNN) — A top Mexican cartel member known as 'El Nini,' who was one of America's most-wanted criminals for his alleged role in the fentanyl trade, has been extradited to the United States.

In a speech celebrating US-Mexico cooperation on the case, US President Joe Biden on Saturday hailed the extradition of El Nini – also known as Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas – as "a good day for justice."

"El Nini played a prominent role in the notorious Sinaloa cartel, one of the deadliest drug trafficking enterprises in the world. The United States has charged him for his role in illicit fentanyl trafficking and for murdering, torturing, and kidnapping numerous rivals, witnesses, and others," Biden said, thanking Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

"Our governments will continue to work together to attack the fentanyl and synthetic drug epidemic that is killing so many people in our homelands and globally, and to bring to justice the criminals and organizations producing, smuggling, and selling these lethal poisons in both of our countries," he added.

According to the US Department of Justice, Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas "was one of the Sinaloa cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins" and was involved in the "production and sale of fentanyl" in the United States.

Biden has previously described El Nini as one of America's most-wanted criminals. Pérez Salas was charged in the US with cocaine and methamphetamine trafficking conspiracy, possession of machine guns and destructive devices, and witness retaliation in February 2021.

Search Public Sex Offender Registries
The Civil War
Search For Soldiers
Was this page helpful?
The Civil War
Search For Soldiers
Was this page helpful?

The Civil War
Search For Soldiers
Bevilla, Valentin
Was this page helpful?
Yes
No
Investopedia
Janet Yellen
Early Life and Education

An official website of the United States government, Department of Justice. Here's how you know

DRU SJODIN
NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Contact Us | Registries

Search

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Home

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries +

Showing Results For:

First Name: a, Last Name: sevilla, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/1/2024, 10:24:52 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
SEVILLA, ANASTACIO EUSEBIO	51		6299 FINDE NAIFEH DRIVE MASON, 38049 TIPTON RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, ANDREW S	36	SEVILLA, ANDREW S SEVILLA, ANDREW SCOTT SEVILLA, DREW	N/A, 54302 BROWN RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, MICHAEL ANTHONY	37	SEVILLA, ANTHONY M	6464 HAWTHORNE ST GARDEN CITY, MI 48135 WAYNE RESIDENCE 8375 HIX RD WESTLAND, MI 48185 WAYNE EMPLOYMENT

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of t population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family mem
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including na
in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archiv documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

sevilla

FILTER YOUR RESULTS

Showing 1 results for sevilla ... Sort by: Rele

Side
Confederacy (1)

State
Louisiana (1)

Sevilla, Valentin

Side: Confederacy
Location: Louisiana
Battle Unit: 5th Regiment, European Brigade, Loui
(Spanish Regiment)

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden.[4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives.[4]

Alison Czinkota / Investopedia

Early Life and Education

Janet Yellen, born on August 13, 1946, in the Bay Ridge neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York, to a Polish Jewish family has had a distinguished career in economics and public service.[5] Her mother, Anna Ruth, was an elementary school teacher a her father, Julius, was a doctor who treated patients out of the family's brownstone.[4] Demonstrating early academic prowes Yellen served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper a Fort Hamilton High School, where she graduated as valedictori in 1963. She graduated summa cum laude with an economics degree from Brown University in 1967 and went on to receive h Ph.D. from Yale University in 1971 under the guidance of Nobel laureate James Tobin.[6]

Advertisement

National Park Service

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of the adu population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family members, o
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North and S
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the men
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including name, ra in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Recor
Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archives' ori documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

yellen

No results match your search query. Please try again.

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

An official form of the United States government. Provided by Touchpoints

Groups

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups

TOP Friends

Favorite Comments (1) Share Shout Download

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Bdsm #Cuckold #Hardcore

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 4

corpsXYZ SUBSCRIBE

Videos Images Categories

TOP Friends

Favorite Comments (2)

#Oral #Pussy #Anal

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 1

corpsXYZ SUBSCRIBE

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn
6. Phun Girls 7. Porn Site Ri
11. The Porn List 12. Terk Amatei
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish
21. Home XXX Vid... 22. XXX Videos

Favorite Comments (1) Share Shout Download

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced #Hardcore

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 3

5,144 Views • 35 Favorites • 15 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups Galler

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn
6. Phun Girls 7. Extensity Craz...
11. The Porn List 12. Terk Amateur ...
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish Sit...
21. Home XXX Vid... 22. Homemade Fu...

Favorite Comments (1) Share Shout Download

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced #Hardcore #Fem POV

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 4

13,881 Views • 90 Favorites • 15 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups Galleri

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn 3. A
6. Phun Girls 7. Porn Site Revi... 8. Fa
11. Amateur Bitch 12. Terk Amateur ... 13. H
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish Sit... 18. H
21. XXX Videos 22. Large Penis Su... 23. H

Favorite Comments (2) Share Shout Download Add To

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 1

10,071 Views • 35 Favorites • 14 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn
6. Phun Girls 7. Porn Site R
11. The Porn List 12. Terk Amate
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish
21. Home XXX Vid... 22. XXX Videos

4:07

Favorite Comments (1) Share Shout Download

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced #Hardcore

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 3

5,144 Views • 35 Favorites • 15 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups Galler

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn
6. Phun Girls 7. Entensity Craz...
11. The Porn List 12. Terk Amateur ...
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish Sit...
21. Home XXX Vid... 22. Homemade Fu...

6:33

Favorite Comments (1) Share Shout Download

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced #Hardcore #Fem POV

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 4

13,881 Views • 90 Favorites • 15 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups Galleri

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn 3. All
6. Phun Girls 7. Porn Site Revi... 8. Fa
11. Amateur-Bitch 12. Terk Amateur ... 13. Ho
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish Sit... 18. Ho
21. XXX Videos 22. Large Penis Su... 23. Ho

2:30 -7:38

Favorite Comments (2) Share Shout Download Add To

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 1

10,071 Views • 55 Favorites • 14 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

SHEIN
Search Anyone's Arrest Records
See Arrest Records
No Mugshot
Search Public Sex Offender Registries
JEWISH TELEGRAPHIC AGENCY
Jewish liberal Claudia Sheinbaum likely to win this week's Mexican presidential election, polls show

Menu Tampa Bay Times Subscribe

NEWS

Japan honors its 'god of wrestling' 10 years after his quiet death in Tampa

Judy Simon of Tampa, pledges to Japanese wrestler Osama Nishiwaki, holds the ashes of Karl Istaz during a wrestling event honoring Istaz on July 29 in Tokyo. Istaz, known in Japan as wrestler Karl Gotch, was honored through the efforts of his former student, Simon. (Courtesy of Judy Simon)

By Paul Guzzo Times staff

Published Aug. 3, 2011

Karl Istaz lived quietly in the Tampa area for 30 years. When he died, his friends followed his wishes and scattered his ashes without ceremony over Lake Keystone in Odessa.

But the European-born Istaz — or more to the point, his alter ego Karl Gotch — was revered across Japan as a hardnosed, professional wrestler whose style so influenced the industry that fans and peers nicknamed him "Kamisama," or deity.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article is about a martial arts organization. For the baseball pitch, see Shoots. For shoots, see Rhizomes#Shoots.

Shooto (Japanese: 修斗, Hepburn: shūtō) is a combat sport and mixed martial arts organization that is governed by the Shooto Association and the International Shooto Commission (ISC). Shooto was originally formed in 1985, first as a particular fighting system and then in 1989 as a mixed martial arts promotion. It is considered one of the first true mixed martial arts competitions, with its Vale Tudo Japan events being essential to the rise of Pride Fighting Championships and the development of modern MMA. Many Japanese MMA fighters had their start at Shooto and the organization still holds both professional and amateur tournaments.

As a fighting system, Shooto is considered a hybrid martial art derived from shoot wrestling. It is focused on all aspects of fighting: striking, stand-up grappling and ground fighting. Practitioners are referred to as shooters or shootists. Shooto rules have evolved with time, are different depending on the class. Class C and D are amateur and have more restricted rules more similar to their first events, while professional classes are now true mixed martial arts competitions.[1] Shooto weight classes are different from those of the United States Association of Boxing Commissions, which are used by most MMA promotions.[2][3][4]

Although modern Shooto is including/shade from MMA, in Japan promoters, fighters and fans still see it as its own standalone combat sport. While outside it is mostly seen as a system of MMA promotions, organizing events from amateur grassroots to professional levels.[5]

Etymology [edit]

The Japanese word "Shooto" is derived from the English word "Shoot". Although the word is of foreign origin, it is not written in katakana, but rather as an ateji: 修斗. Its first kanji means "to practice or train in", and the second kanji is an alternative form of 戈 in the word tatakai (戦い), meaning "battle" or "war").

Shooto

Native name	修斗
Formerly	Shin-kakutōgi
Company type	Private
Industry	Mixed martial arts
Predecessor	Universal Wrestling Federation
Founded	1985; 36 years ago
Founder	Sayama Sakuraba
Headquarters	Japan
Website	www.shooto-koa.com.jp

Shooto (修斗)

Focus	Hybrid
Hardness	Full-contact
Country of origin	Japan
Creator	Sakuraba Sayama
Famous practitioners	Sakuraba Sayama Yuki Kondo Ryushiro Sato Takanori Gomi Erik Paulson Jake Shields Shinya Aoki
Ancestor arts	Shoot wrestling, Catch wrestling, Boxing, Kickboxing, Full contact karate, Muay Thai, Sambo, Judo
Descendant arts	Mixed Martial Arts, Sokeshido

SUNWOO

TV SHOWBIZ TEKNO FOTO HOT CEK FAKTA ISLAM CRYPTO LAINN

Rashad Bayli/ Daria Shevtsova from Pexels

Berikut beberapa nama nama anak laki-laki islam arab 3 suku kata

1. Bakir Ahsan Amat: Laki-laki yang senantiasa lebih mendahului pe

2. Dhiaurrahman Zahid Hamizan: Laki-laki yang memiliki sinar yang dan tampan serta menjauhkan diri dari kemewahan

3. Dzihni Labib Salim: Laki-laki yang berakal sehat dan selamat da berpikir

4. Fadhian Arkhan Fathurrahman: Laki-laki yang memiliki keutama menjadi pembuka kejayaan Yang Maha Pengasih

5. Ikhbar Shaqr Akhdan: Sahabat yang menyampaikan berita dan

6. Istaz Qasim Maulana: Pendakwah yang elok dan dihormati

7. Layyin Fakhruddin Fashih: Laki-laki yang halus dan fasih bercak agama

8. Makarim Mulud Mubarak: Laki-laki mulia yang dilahirkan banyak

9. Naqib Ibni Humam: Anak laki-laki pemberani tinggi cita-citanya pemimpin

10. Robih Hakimul Karim: Laki-laki beruntung yang penuh bijaksan

11. Tsabit Qalbun Salim: Laki-laki yang hatinya istiqomah dan

12. Wahid Amdar Hafizuddin: Laki-laki pertama yang mulia serta m agama

Menu Tampa Bay Times Subscribe

NEWS

Japan honors its 'god of wrestling' 10 years after his quiet death in Tampa

Jody Simon of Tampa, alongside Japanese wrestler Osamu Nishimura, holds the ashes of Karl Istaz during a wrestling event honoring Istaz on July 24 in Tokyo. Istaz, known in Japan as wrestler Karl Gotch, was honored through the efforts of his former student Simon. [Courtesy of Jody Simon]

By Paul Guzzo Times staff

Published Aug. 2, 2017

Karl Istaz lived quietly in the Tampa area for 30 years. When he died, his friends followed his wishes and scattered his ashes without ceremony over Lake Keystone in Odessa.

But the European-born Istaz — or more to the point, his alter ego Karl Gotch — was revered across Japan as a hardnosed, professional wrestler whose style so influenced the industry that fans and peers nicknamed him "Kamisama," or deity.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article is about a martial arts organization. For the baseball pitch, see Shuuto. For shutō, see Knifehand strike.

Shooto (Japanese: 修斗, Hepburn: shūto) is a combat sport and mixed martial arts organization that is governed by the Shooto Association and the International Shooto Commission (ISC). Shooto was originally formed in 1985, first as a particular fighting system and then in 1989 as a mixed martial arts promotion. It is considered one of the first true mixed martial arts competitions, with its Vale Tudo Japan events being essential to the rise of Pride Fighting Championships and the development of modern MMA. Many Japanese MMA fighters had their start at Shooto and the organization still holds both professional and amateur tournaments.

As a fighting system, Shooto is considered a hybrid martial art derived from shoot wrestling. It is focused on all aspects of fighting: striking, stand-up grappling and ground fighting. Practitioners are referred to as shooters or shootists. Shooto rules have evolved with time, are different depending on the class, Class C and D are amateur and have more restricted rules more similar to their first events, while professional classes are now true mixed martial arts competitions.[1] Shooto weight classes are different from those of the United States Association of Boxing Commissions, which are used by most MMA promotions.[2][3][4]

Although modern Shooto is indistinguishable from MMA, in Japan promoters, fighters and fans still see it as its own standalone combat sport. While outside it is mostly seen as a system of MMA promotions, organizing events from amateur grassroots to professional levels.[5]

Shooto

Native name	修斗
Formerly	Shin-kakutōgi
Company type	Private
Industry	Mixed martial arts
Predecessor	Universal Wrestling Federation
Founded	1985; 39 years ago
Founder	Sayama Satoru
Headquarters	Japan
Website	www.shooto-mma.com

Shooto (修斗)

Focus	Hybrid
Hardness	Full-contact
Country of origin	Japan
Creator	Satoru Sayama
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama Yuki Nakai Rumina Sato Takanori Gomi Erik Paulson Jake Shields Shinya Aoki
Ancestor arts	Shoot Wrestling, Catch Wrestling, Boxing, Kickboxing, Full contact karate, Muay Thai, Sambo, Judo
Descendant arts	Mixed Martial Arts, Seikendo

Etymology [edit]

The Japanese word "shooto" is derived from the English word "shoot". Although the word is of foreign origin, it is not written in katakana, but rather as an ateji: 修斗. Its first kanji means "to practice or train in", and the second kanji is an alternative form of 戦 in the word tatakai (戦い, meaning "battle" or "war").

SUNWOO THE BOYZ
IDOL K-POP WIBU YANG AKAN MEMBAWAMU KE ISEKAI

TV SHOWBIZ TEKNO FOTO HOT CEK FAKTA ISLAMI CRYPTO LAINN

Ilustrasi Bayi/ Daria Shevtsova from Pexels

Berikut beberapa nama nama anak laki-laki islam arab 3 suku kata

1. Bakir Ahsan Amal: Laki-laki yang senantiasa lebih mendahului pe

2. Dhiaurrahman Zahid Hamizan: Laki-laki yang memiliki sinar yang dan tampan serta menjauhkan diri dari kemewahan

3. Dzihni Labib Salim: Laki-laki yang berakal sehat dan selamat da berpikir

4. Fadhlan Arkhan Fathurrahman: Laki-laki yang memiliki keutama menjadi pembuka kejayaan Yang Maha Pengasih

5. Ikhbar Shaqr Akhdan: Sahabat yang menyampaikan berita dan t

6. Istaz Qasim Maulana: Pendakwah yang elok dan dihormati

7. Layyin Fakhruddin Fashih: Laki-laki yang halus dan fasih bercak agama

8. Makarim Mulud Mubarak: Laki-laki mulia yang dilahirkan banyak

9. Naqib Ibni Humam: Anak laki-laki pemberani tinggi cita-citanya pemimpin

10. Robih Hakimul Karim: Laki-laki beruntung yang penuh bijaksan

11. Tsabit Qalbun Salim: Laki-laki yang hatinya istiqomah dan dama

12. Wahid Amzar Hafizuddin: Laki-laki pertama yang mulia serta m agama

NEWS

Search Arrest Records

Search Arrest Records

Search Arrest Records

Search Arrest Records

Arrest Record Search

No Mugshot

Charges

Internal Links

Home » US States » Florida » Seminole County, FL » Gerson Yellen

Gerson Yellen - Florida

Date added: 7/25/2011

Arrest Record Search

Who is Gerson Yellen? Was Gerson Yellen arrested? When was Gerson Yellen arrested? What was Gerson Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Gerson Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Gerson Yellen? Is this the Gerson Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Gerson Yellen was booked in Seminole County, FL

Mugshots.com : 2666377
Booking No : 200500000533
Name : GERSON YELLEN
Birth date : 11/07/1968
Location : O
Arrested By : US Marshall Orlando Office
Arrest Date : 1/11/2005
Account Balance : ($0.00)

Charges:

- FEDERAL INMATE

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link now.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Published mugshots and/or arrest records are previously published public records of: an arrest, an indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivation of liberty or a detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mugshots.com are in no way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actual crime has been committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are merely accusations. A defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convicted. For latest case status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which originally released the information.

The following Official Record of Gerson Yellen is being redistributed by Mugshots.com and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal rights. This Official Record was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 7/25/2011.

Arrest Record Search
First Name: Gerson
Last Name: Yellen
State: Florida
Search

Not the Gerson Yellen you were looking for? Click here to search for other Gerson Yellen

Show Facebook Widget

PROGRESSIVE
AMERICA'S #1 BOAT INSURER
Get a quote

Get 40% off
when you pay with Discover® rewards
Redeem Now
Up to $30 off. Limited-time offer, see terms.

NEWS

RECORD LAWS WERE WRITTEN TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC; BY INFORMING THE PUBLIC OF ARRESTS AND TO HOLD LAW ENFORCEMENT ACCOUNTABLE FOR THE HUMANE TREATMENT OF ARRESTEES. MOST OF, IF NOT ALL "MUGSHOT LAWS" WERE CRAFTED TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC FROM FEES FOR REMOVAL OF ONLINE MUGSHOTS AND TO FURTHER PROTECT THE PRESS FROM THOSE VERY SAME "MUGSHOT LAWS". TO BE CLEAR: WE DO NOT ACCEPT PAYMENT FOR REMOVAL OF ARREST INFORMATION AND/OR BOOKING PHOTOGRAPHS. MORE...

Search Arrest Records
First Name: Harry
Last Name: Yellen
State: Tennessee
Search

Lee Hollyfield

Daniel Aurther Hodge →

» US States » Tennessee » Blount County, TN » Harry Vaughn Yellen

y Vaughn Yellen - Tennessee

dded: 11/01/2012

Who is Harry Vaughn Yellen? Was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested? When was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested? What was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Harry Vaughn Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Harry Vaughn Yellen? Is this the Harry Vaughn Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Harry Vaughn Yellen was booked in Blount County, TN

Mugshots.com : 24898858
Age : 20
Class : PRETRIAL FELON
Race : W
Sex : M
Intake Date : 11/01/2012

Charges:

TCA Description	FEDERAL SAFE HOUSING
Bond	$0
Court Date	Not Set

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link now.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Published mugshots and/or arrest records are previously published public records of: an arrest, an indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivation of liberty or a detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mugshots.com are in no way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actual crime has been committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are merely accusations. A defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convicted. For latest case status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which originally released the information.

The following Official Record of Harry Vaughn Yellen is being redistributed by Mugshots.com and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal rights. This Official Record was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 11/01/2012.

Search Arrest Records
First Name: Harry
Last Name: Yellen
State: Tennessee
✓ Search

ARREST HISTORY CHECK
PUBLIC RECORDS LOOKUP
ONLINE MUGSHOT LOOKUP
FREE PUBLIC RECORDS

Home » US States » Idaho » Unsorted, ID » Frederick Yellen

Frederick Yellen - ROBBERY - Idaho

Date added: 2/17/2013

See Arrest Records

No Mugshot

Who is Frederick Yellen? Was Frederick Yellen arrested? When was Frederick Yellen arrested? What was Frederick Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Frederick Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Frederick Yellen? Is this the Frederick Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Frederick Yellen was booked in Unsorted, ID for ROBBERY, PROPELLING BODILY FLUIDS

Mugshots.com : 47252992
ID : 19530
Name : FREDERICK YELLEN
Status : Inmate

Offenses:

#1 #2

Offense	ROBBERY
Sentencing County	ADA
Case No.	HCR21010
Sentence Satisfaction Date	07/01/2015

Mailing Address : IDAHO STATE CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTION UNIT 16 P.O. Box 14 Boise Idaho 83707
Phone Number : 208-336-0740
Parole Eligibility Date : N/A
Last Parole Activity : 10/17/2012

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link now.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Published mugshots and/or arrest records are previously published public records of: an arrest, an indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivation of liberty or a detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mugshots.com are in no way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actual crime has been committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are merely accusations. A defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convicted. For latest case status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which originally released the information.

The following Official Record of Frederick Yellen is being redistributed by Mugshots.com and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal rights. This Official Record was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 2/17/2013.

Arrest Record Search
First Name: Frederick
Last Name: Yellen
State: Idaho
Search

MICHELIN
UP TO $80
INSTANT SAVINGS
ONLINE SPECIAL
LIMITED TIME!

a mugshot of Frederick Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Frederick Yellen? Is this the Frederick Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Frederick Yellen was booked in Ada County, ID for TRESPASS-CRIMINAL, DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Mugshots.com : 162924534
Age : 52
Arresting Agency : Ada County Sheriff
JID Number : 01114514

Charges:

#1 #2

Severity	M
Charge	TRESPASS-CRIMINAL

SHARE

group in Mexico and is known for ent.

ived to be allied to the Sinaloa her" of the cartel - smuggled as Don Juan, turned his focus to Garcia Abrego is led out of an FBI office his arrest in 1996. (Reuters)

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra
Cardenas
July 16, 1915
Mexico

amazon

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

Jewish History

Reviewed in the United States on July 7, 2025

Verified Purchase

This book is in one word "Awesome". And should be mandatory to read to any Judeo-Christian Believer.

Helpful Report Permalink

Customers who viewed items in your browsing history also viewed

amazon

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

WOW ! What a gem of a book

Reviewed in the United States on April 19, 2024

I have a lot of positive things to say about the high-level content in this book. It is a great resource for a serious person wanting to learn Biblical Hebrew in depth. Moreover, it could be somewhat hard for someone without some prior knowledge of the language. Once you have a basic understanding, you can use this book to enhance your knowledge. As a solution B, I recommend "Basics of Biblical Hebrew" by Gary D. Pratico as a secondary resource when starting from scratch.
By getting hold of these two books, you will have all the necessary tools to navigate through the complexities of grammar, which other books tend to make unnecessarily difficult and discouraging. The best part is that you can easily purchase them at a very competitive price on Amazon.

Helpful Report Permalink

Beth Is

« S

Pr

Beth Broac
1000 Chels
Driving

Phor
617-9
Fax:
617-9

ABC NEWS — The drug lords behind Mexico's deadly turf war — SHARE

Gulf cartel

The Gulf cartel is perhaps the oldest organised crime group in Mexico and is known for intimidating local civilians and being particularly violent.

Former allies of the Zetas, the Gulf cartel are now believed to be allied to the Sinaloa cartel.

Its founder Juan Guerra - considered to be the "godfather" of the cartel - smuggled alcohol into the US in the 1930s.

After the end of the Prohibition, Guerra, widely known as Don Juan, turned his focus to drug smuggling.

In the 1970s the command shifted to Guerra's nephew, Juan Garcia Abrego. He lead the lucrative business until his arrest and extradition to the US in 1996.

Juan Garcia Abrego is led out of an FBI office after his arrest in 1996. (Reuters)

After a series of internal battles Osiel Cardenas took over. As his cartel grew, he created Los Zetas, a new armed wing made up of military defectors.

The two groups were collectively known as The Company.

Los Zetas was designed to protect the Gulf

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas (July 18, 1915 – July 12, 2001) was a Mexican drug lord who founded and led the Gulf Cartel for over 50 years. He is often considered the "godfather" of U.S–Mexico border cartels.[2]

He began his criminal career in the 1930s by smuggling alcohol from Mexico during the Prohibition in the United States. He later diversified to other cross-border smuggling activities. He is the uncle of Juan García Ábrego, his successor in the cartel and once considered Mexico's most-wanted man.

Early life and career [edit]

During the 1930s he began smuggling whisky across the Mexico–United States border through south Texas. Through shrewd political connections he had fostered, Nepomuceno Guerra was able to control all the contraband moving across the Rio Grande. [3] In the 1970s, his nephew Juan García Abrego began utilizing those connections and developed the organization into a drug cartel primarily dedicated to the more lucrative business of smuggling cocaine.[4]

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra

Nepomuceno Guerra pictured on far left

Born	Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas July 18, 1915 Matamoros, Tamaulipas, Mexico

amazon — Deliver to Israel — All — Search Amazon

All | Medical Care | Groceries | Best Sellers | Amazon Basics | New Releases | Prime

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

★★★★★ Jewish History

Reviewed in the United States on July 7, 2023

Verified Purchase

This book is in one word "Awesome". And should be mandatory to read to any Judeo-Christian believer.

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Customers who viewed items in your browsing history also viewed

amazon — Deliver to Israel — All — Search Amazon

All | Today's Deals | Customer Service | Registry | Gift Cards | Sell

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

★★★★★ WOW !! What a gem of a book

Reviewed in the United States on April 18, 2024

I have a lot of positive things to say about the high-level content in this book. It is a great resource for a serious person wanting to learn Biblical Hebrew in-depth. However, it could be somewhat hard for someone without some prior knowledge of the language. Once you have a basic understanding, you can use this book to enhance your knowledge. As a solution B, I recommend "Basics of Biblical Hebrew" by Gary D. Pratico as a secondary resource when starting from scratch.

By getting hold of these two books, you will have all the necessary tools to navigate through the complexities of grammar, which other books tend to make unnecessarily difficult and discouraging. The best part is that you can easily purchase them at a very competitive price on Amazon.

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Beth Israel Lahey Health

« Search Results

Jose A. Abrego, MD

Internal Medicine | Primary Care

Patient Portal | Save Contact

Practice Location(s)

Beth Israel Lahey Health Primary Care - 1000 Broadway
1000 Broadway
Chelsea, MA 02150
Driving Directions

Phone:
617-975-6200

Fax:
617-975-6151

ABC NEWS — The drug lords behind Mexico's deadly turf war — SHARE

Gulf cartel

The Gulf cartel is perhaps the oldest organised crime group in Mexico and is known for intimidating local civilians and being particularly violent.

Former allies of the Zetas, the Gulf cartel are now believed to be allied to the Sinaloa cartel.

Its founder Juan Guerra - considered to be the "godfather" of the cartel - smuggled alcohol into the US in the 1930s.

After the end of the Prohibition, Guerra, widely known as Don Juan, turned his focus to drug smuggling.

In the 1970s the command shifted to Guerra's nephew, Juan Garcia Abrego. He lead the lucrative business until his arrest and extradition to the US in 1996.

Juan Garcia Abrego is led out of an FBI office after his arrest in 1996. (Reuters)

After a series of internal battles Osiel Cardenas took over. As his cartel grew, he created Los Zetas, a new armed wing made up of military defectors.

The two groups were collectively known as The Company.

Los Zetas was designed to protect the Gulf

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas (July 18, 1915 – July 12, 2001) was a Mexican drug lord who founded and led the Gulf Cartel for over 50 years. He is often considered the "godfather" of U.S–Mexico border cartels.[2]

He began his criminal career in the 1930s by smuggling alcohol from Mexico during the Prohibition in the United States. He later diversified to other cross-border smuggling activities. He is the uncle of Juan García Ábrego, his successor in the cartel and once considered Mexico's most-wanted man.

Early life and career [edit]

During the 1930s he began smuggling whisky across the Mexico–United States border through south Texas. Through shrewd political connections he had fostered, Nepomuceno Guerra was able to control all the contraband moving across the Rio Grande. [3] In the 1970s, his nephew Juan García Abrego began utilizing those connections and developed the organization into a drug cartel primarily dedicated to the more lucrative business of smuggling cocaine.[4]

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra

Nepomuceno Guerra pictured on far left

Born	Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas July 18, 1915 Matamoros, Tamaulipas, Mexico

amazon — Deliver to Israel — All — Search Amazon

All | Medical Care | Groceries | Best Sellers | Amazon Basics | New Releases | Prime

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

★★★★★ Jewish History

Reviewed in the United States on July 7, 2023

Verified Purchase

This book is in one word "Awesome". And should be mandatory to read to any Judeo-Christian believer.

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Customers who viewed items in your browsing history also viewed

amazon — Deliver to Israel — All — Search Amazon

All | Today's Deals | Customer Service | Registry | Gift Cards | Sell

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

★★★★★ WOW !! What a gem of a book

Reviewed in the United States on April 18, 2024

I have a lot of positive things to say about the high-level content in this book. It is a great resource for a serious person wanting to learn Biblical Hebrew in-depth. However, it could be somewhat hard for someone without some prior knowledge of the language. Once you have a basic understanding, you can use this book to enhance your knowledge. As a solution B, I recommend "Basics of Biblical Hebrew" by Gary D. Pratico as a secondary resource when starting from scratch.
By getting hold of these two books, you will have all the necessary tools to navigate through the complexities of grammar, which other books tend to make unnecessarily difficult and discouraging. The best part is that you can easily purchase them at a very competitive price on Amazon.

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Beth Israel Lahey Health

« Search Results

Jose A. Abrego, MD

Internal Medicine | Primary Care

Patient Portal | Save Contact

Practice Location(s)

Beth Israel Lahey Health Primary Care - 1000 Broadway
1000 Broadway
Chelsea, MA 02150
Driving Directions

Phone:
617-975-6200
Fax:
617-975-6151

ABC NEWS — The drug lords behind Mexico's deadly turf war — SHARE

Gulf cartel

The Gulf cartel is perhaps the oldest organised crime group in Mexico and is known for intimidating local civilians and being particularly violent.

Former allies of the Zetas, the Gulf cartel are now believed to be allied to the Sinaloa cartel.

Its founder Juan Guerra - considered to be the "godfather" of the cartel - smuggled alcohol into the US in the 1930s.

After the end of the Prohibition, Guerra, widely known as Don Juan, turned his focus to drug smuggling.

In the 1970s the command shifted to Guerra's nephew, Juan Garcia Abrego. He lead the lucrative business until his arrest and extradition to the US in 1996.

Juan Garcia Abrego is led out of an FBI office after his arrest in 1996. (Reuters)

After a series of internal battles Osiel Cardenas took over. As his cartel grew, he created Los Zetas, a new armed wing made up of military defectors.

The two groups were collectively known as The Company.

Los Zetas was designed to protect the Gulf

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas (July 18, 1915 – July 12, 2001) was a Mexican drug lord who founded and led the Gulf Cartel for over 50 years. He is often considered the "godfather" of U.S–Mexico border cartels.[2]

He began his criminal career in the 1930s by smuggling alcohol from Mexico during the Prohibition in the United States. He later diversified to other cross-border smuggling activities. He is the uncle of Juan García Ábrego, his successor in the cartel and once considered Mexico's most-wanted man.

Early life and career [edit]

During the 1930s he began smuggling whisky across the Mexico–United States border through south Texas. Through shrewd political connections he had fostered, Nepomuceno Guerra was able to control all the contraband moving across the Rio Grande. [3] In the 1970s, his nephew Juan García Abrego began utilizing those connections and developed the organization into a drug cartel primarily dedicated to the more lucrative business of smuggling cocaine.[4]

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra

Nepomuceno Guerra pictured on far left

Born	Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas July 18. 1915 Matamoros, Tamaulipas, Mexico

amazon — Deliver to Israel — All — Search Amazon

All | Medical Care | Groceries | Best Sellers | Amazon Basics | New Releases | Prime

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

★★★★★ Jewish History

Reviewed in the United States on July 7, 2023

Verified Purchase

This book is in one word "Awesome". And should be mandatory to read to any Judeo-Christian believer.

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Customers who viewed items in your browsing history also viewed

amazon — Deliver to Israel — All — Search Amazon

All | Today's Deals | Customer Service | Registry | Gift Cards | Sell

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

★★★★★ WOW !! What a gem of a book

Reviewed in the United States on April 18, 2024

I have a lot of positive things to say about the high-level content in this book. It is a great resource for a serious person wanting to learn Biblical Hebrew in-depth. However, it could be somewhat hard for someone without some prior knowledge of the language. Once you have a basic understanding, you can use this book to enhance your knowledge. As a solution B, I recommend "Basics of Biblical Hebrew" by Gary D. Pratico as a secondary resource when starting from scratch.
By getting hold of these two books, you will have all the necessary tools to navigate through the complexities of grammar, which other books tend to make unnecessarily difficult and discouraging. The best part is that you can easily purchase them at a very competitive price on Amazon.

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Beth Israel Lahey Health

« Search Results

Jose A. Abrego, MD

Internal Medicine | Primary Care

Patient Portal | Save Contact

Practice Location(s)

Beth Israel Lahey Health Primary Care - 1000 Broadway
1000 Broadway
Chelsea, MA 02150
Driving Directions

Phone:
617-975-6200
Fax:
617-975-6151

The New York Times

the National Institutes of Health, which paid for the research to develop the artificial heart, ordered investigations. Baylor's report was not made public, and the government's findings cannot be found, spokeswomen for both institutions said.

The furor led Dr. Cooley to resign from Baylor.

The annals of medicine are full of feuds. For example, Dr. Robert C. Gallo, then of the National Cancer Institute in Bethesda, Md., and Dr. Luc Montagnier, of the Pasteur Institute in Paris, battled over credit for the discovery of the AIDS virus. The dispute had to be settled at the highest levels, with a resolution that declared the scientists co-discoverers coming in a joint announcement from President Ronald Reagan and the French prime minister, Jacques Chirac.

Still, the DeBakey-Cooley feud is hard to top, not just for longevity but for the sheer drama of the incident that set it off.

In those days, cardiac surgery was in many ways in its infancy. It was only in 1966 that Dr. DeBakey had been the first to successfully implant a partial artificial heart — a left ventricular assist device — in a patient.

Dr. Denton A. Cooley, top, commandeered an artificial heart from the lab of Dr. Michael E. DeBakey and put it in Haskell Karp. Ralph Morse/Time Life Pictures/Getty Images; Ted Spiegel/Corbis

As Dr. DeBakey, Dr. Cooley and others succeeded in operations that only a rare predecessor had dared to try, the need for a device that could pump for both ventricles — a total artificial heart — became more apparent.

NBC NEWS POLITICS U.S. NEWS WORLD BUSINESS WATCH LIVE

HEALTH NEWS

Pioneering heart surgeon DeBakey dead at 99

SAVE Create your free profile or log in to save this article

July 12, 2008, 5:12 AM CDT / Source: The Associated Press

Dr. Michael DeBakey, the world-famous cardiovascular surgeon who pioneered such now-common procedures as bypass surgery and invented a host of devices to help heart patients, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday night at The Methodist Hospital in Houston from "natural causes," according to a statement issued early Saturday by Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital.

DeBakey counted world leaders among his patients and helped turn Baylor from a provincial school into one of the nation's great medical institutions.

"Dr. DeBakey's reputation brought many people into this institution, and he treated them all: heads of state, entertainers, businessmen and presidents, as well as people with no titles and no means," said Ron Girotto, president of The Methodist Hospital System.

Girotto said the surgeon "has improved the human condition and touched the lives of generations to come."

A lifetime of innovation

While still in medical school in 1932, he invented the roller pump, which became the major component of the heart-lung machine, beginning the era of open-heart surgery. The machine takes over the function of the heart and lungs during surgery.

It was only a start of a lifetime of innovation. The surgical procedures that DeBakey developed once were the wonders of the medical world. Today, they are commonplace procedures in most hospitals.

He also was a pioneer in the effort to develop artificial hearts and heart pumps to assist patients waiting for transplants, and helped create more than 70 surgical instruments.

In early 2006, DeBakey underwent surgery for a damaged aorta – a procedure he had developed.

In a rare interview published later that year, DeBakey gave The New York Times details of the operation, performed when he was 97.

"It is a miracle," DeBakey said. "I really should not be here." He said he at first gambled that his aorta would heal on its own and refused to be admitted to a hospital, and was unresponsive and near death when his doctors and his wife decided to proceed, despite his age. He then spent several months in the hospital

Los Angeles Times LOG IN

TIMES STAFF WRITER

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, a medical pioneer who was the driving force in developing the field of cardiac surgery, operating on more than 60,000 patients and developing medical technology that saved millions more, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday at Methodist Hospital in Houston, the Baylor College of Medicine and Methodist Hospital announced, without specifying the cause of death.

In his highly influential career, DeBakey performed the first coronary artery bypass surgery and the first carotid endarterectomy to prevent strokes. He developed the pump that is the key component of the heart-and-lung machines routinely used on patients during heart surgery and an artificial heart now used to keep patients alive while they wait for their own heart to improve.

He also developed the concept of the mobile army surgical hospital -- immortalized in the film

WIRED SUBSCRIBE

Under the supervision of pioneering transplant surgeon Michael DeBakey, doctors perform the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant procedure.

American heart surgeon Dr. Michael E. DeBakey takes a break from surgery at Methodist Hospital in Houston. ASSOCIATED PRESS / BRETT COOMER

1968: Dr. Michael DeBakey supervises five teams of surgeons in the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant.

The heart, the lobe of one lung and both kidneys were removed by one team from a 20-year-old woman, the victim of a gunshot wound, and

NEWS

ering heart surgeon DeBakey dead at 99

Los Angeles Times

LOG IN

TIMES STAFF WRITER

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, a medical pioneer who was the driving force in developing the field of cardiac surgery, operating on more than 60,000 patients and developing medical technology that saved millions more, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday at Methodist Hospital in Houston, the Baylor College of Medicine and Methodist Hospital announced, without specifying the cause of death.

In his highly influential career, DeBakey performed the first coronary artery bypass surgery and the first carotid endarterectomy to prevent strokes. He developed the pump that is the key component of the heart-and-lung machines routinely used on patients during heart surgery and an artificial heart now used to keep patients alive while they wait for their own heart to improve.

He also developed the concept of the mobile army surgical hospital -- immortalized in the film

David Barksdale

1 language

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

David Barksdale (born Donise David Barksdale; May 24, 1947 – September 2, 1974), also known as King David, was an American gangster and activist from Chicago, Illinois. He was the founder of the Black Disciples. He and Larry Hoover (leader of the Gangster Disciples) decided to merge and create the Black Gangster Disciple Nation. Barksdale was seen as a hero in the black community because he operated a free breakfast program in Englewood to poor children, and he and the Disciples marched with Martin Luther King Jr. in Marquette Park. He was a close friend of Fred Hampton. Barksdale died on September 2, 1974, due to kidney failure, at the age of 27.

David Barksdale
Born	Donise David Barksdale May 24, 1947 Sallis, Mississippi, U.S.
Died	September 2, 1974 (aged 27) Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Resting place	Restvale Cemetery, Alsip, Illinois, U.S.
Other names	King David Emperor David David Jones
Known for	Street gang leader (Chicago)
Spouse	Yvonne Yarber (m. 1972–1974)
Children	3

Biography [edit]

Born Donise David Barksdale in Sallis, Mississippi to parents Virginia and Charlie Barksdale, he was the tenth of thirteen children. His family moved to Chicago, Illinois in 1957.

Within three years of arriving, Barksdale had become a notorious gang leader. By 1966, his gang absorbed several others and became known as the Black Disciple Nation. Tensions grew between the Black Disciples and other gangs such as the Black Stone Rangers. In the late 1960s, King David, as he had become known, started to lead the Black Disciples into activism, serving breakfast to school children and marching with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Marquette park during the Chicago Freedom Movement. He

The Gangster Disciple Nation (often abbreviated as the GD's; formally, GDN), also known as Growth & Development, is an African American street and prison gang founded by former rivals David Barksdale and Larry Hoover; in 1968, the two came together to form the Black Gangster Disciple Nation (BGDN).

Post-1989, following growing tension between the two over declining leadership, the BGDN split into two new factions—Hoover's Gangster Disciple Nation (GDN) and Barksdale's Black Disciple Nation (BDN), respectively. As of 2022, following Hoover's departure, the GDN has no full-time leadership role.[10]

Gangster Disciples
Founded	1969; 55 years ago (as the Black Gangster Disciple Nation) 1989; 35 years ago (as the Gangster Disciples)
Founder	Larry Hoover David Barksdale (BGDN)
Named after	Supreme Gangsters
Founding location	Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Years active	1969–present
Territory	Northeastern, Midwestern and Southeastern United States[1][2]
Ethnicity	Primarily African American[3]
Membership (est.)	25,000–50,000+[4]
Leader(s)	Larry Hoover (formerly)
Activities	Drug trafficking, assault, firearms violations, fraud,

History [edit]

The origins of the Gangster Disciples began in Englewood (in Chicago, Illinois's South Side) in 1964, when then 13-year-old Larry 'The King' Hoover joined a small street gang called the 'Supreme Gangsters'. For years, the Supreme Gangsters had an outstanding war with the Black Disciples Nation, led by David Barksdale.[11] In 1969, Hoover and Barksdale agreed to a ceasefire. This resulted in the creation of the Black Gangster Disciple Nation.[12][13] By the early 1970s, the BGDN dominated the Chicago gang scene. Barksdale died of kidney failure in 1974, at the age of 27.[14] Following his death, Hoover assumed full control of the Black Gangster Disciples.

Folks Nation [edit]

See also: Folk Nation

In 1978, the BGDN began to splinter into three distinct factions: Black Gangsters, Black Disciples and Gangster Disciples; however, Hoover (at the time incarcerated on murder charges) prevented it by quickly setting up an alliance of all street and prison gangs in his interest into one family.[15][16]

The alliance consisted of Gangster Disciples, Black Disciples, Satan Disciples, Latin Disciples, Spanish Gangster Disciples, Ambrose, Two-Two Boys, Two-Sixers/Two-Six Boys, Simon City Royals, North Side Insane Popes, La Raza, Spanish Cobras, Imperial Gangsters, Harrison Gents, and the Latin Eagles.

Expansions [edit]

The Gangster Disciples are active in over 100 cities and 50 states, predominantly in the Midwestern and

The Free Encyclopedia

William Barksdale

9 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For the member of the Virginia Senate, see William P. Barksdale. For the Confederate colonel, see William Barksdale Tabb.

William Barksdale (August 21, 1821 – July 3, 1863) was an American lawyer, newspaper editor, US Representative, and Confederate general in the American Civil War. He served four terms in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1853 to 1861.

A staunch secessionist, he was mortally wounded during the Battle of Gettysburg while he led his brigade's attack on Union forces not far from Cemetery Ridge.

William Barksdale

Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's 3rd district
In office	March 4, 1855 – January 21, 1861
Preceded by	Otho R. Singleton
Succeeded by	Henry Barry
Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's at-large district
In office	March 4, 1853 – March 3, 1855
Preceded by	no at-large seats
Succeeded by	3rd Congressional District established
Personal details
Born	August 21, 1821 Smyrna, Tennessee
Died	July 3, 1863 (aged 41) Gettysburg, Pennsylvania
Resting place	Greenwood Cemetery Jackson, Mississippi
Political party	Democratic
Profession	Newspaper editor, soldier

Early life [edit]

William Barksdale was born in Smyrna, Tennessee, the son of William Barksdale and Nancy Hervey Lester Barksdale. He was the older brother of Ethelbert Barksdale, who would serve in both the antebellum U.S. Congress and then the Confederate States Congress during the Civil War. He was of English ancestry which came to America during the 1600s.[1]

Barksdale graduated from the University of Nashville and practiced law in Mississippi from the age of 21, but gave up his practice to become the editor of the Columbus [Mississippi] Democrat, a pro-slavery newspaper.[2]

He enlisted in the 2nd Mississippi Infantry Regiment and served in the Mexican War as a captain and quartermaster, but often participated in the infantry fighting as well.

Congress [edit]

After the war, he became active in political causes, making a name for himself as an advocate of the Compromise of 1850. His political visibility and recent military service gave him a strong profile for a political

Powered by ShulCloud Login

We are a Warm and Welcoming Conservative Congregation In Pepper Pike, Ohio

B'nai Jeshurun Congregation

CALENDAR STREAMING MEMBERSHIP DONATIONS PHOTOS CONTACT COMMUNICAT

About Us Pray Learn Engage Giv

Mind-Full Shabbat Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale

Friday, March 29, 2024 • 19 Adar II 5784

6:00 PM - 9:00 PM
B'nai Jeshurun

Register

You must be logged into your ShulCloud account if you are not paying online and plan to mail or drop off your payment later. Please make sure you are logged in to your ShulCloud account. If you are unsure, look in the top right hand corner of the screen and it should say either Log In or Welcome "Your Name." If you need any assistance contact Joscelyn Harris.

Mind-Full Shabbat Dinner
Friday, March 29
7:00 pm
Antifragility: Working to Build Resilience in the Wake of Tragedy & Violence
Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale
Nationally recognized pediatric surgeon who launched a hospital-based violence intervention teen program.

Register by March 20 for earlybird
Registration will close on Monday, March 25

Shabbat Service • 6:00 pm
Dinner • 7:00 pm
Speaker with Q&A; • 8:00 pm

Eat and engage at Mind-Full Shabbat, an exciting way to connect with congregants, the community

Partner Links:
Learn Hebrew
Shopinisrael.com
Israel Car Rental

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL

Framed

NJ Jewish paper mixes its Guzmans

New Jersey-based Orthodox weekly illustrates Mexican drug lord's capture with photo of comic actor Luis Guzman

BY ARON DÓNZIS | March 6, 2014, 2:01 pm |

Tweet
Email Print Share

Actor-comedian Luis Guzman. (screen capture: YouTube)

NEWSROOM
Email the Newsroom
Facebook
Twitter

John Travolta isn't the only one who has been struggling with name recognition of late.

Get The Times of Israel's Daily Edition by email and never miss our top stories FREE SIGN UP!

In an attempt to cover the capture of Mexican cartel leader Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman, The Lakewood Shopper, an Orthodox Jewish newspaper based in Lakewood, New Jersey, accidentally used a photograph of Luis Guzman, a popular Puerto Rican-American comedian from New York's Lower East Side, Elite Daily reported.

Guzman is best known for his roles in "Carlito's Way" and "How To Make It In America."

The gaffe was identified by Malei Rikud on Twitter and was well received by

THE TIMES OF
CURRENT TOP ST

US: Peace framew recognize Israel a
state

BY ELIE LESHEM |

→ Newfound Jewish roots gave with Israel
→ The key to Mideast peace, ne
world
→ Israeli recognition demand s debate

How did Ha
this mess?
BY DAVID HORO

Disloyalty d
BY MARISSA NE

Ukraine lead agree on des crisis
BY MAX DELAN

Britons will preemptive
MP says
BY DAVID HORO

adzerk tracking image

shiva The resource for Jewish mourning

LEARN PLAN SEND

Shiva Plans > Find and Contribute to a Shiva > In Loving Memory of Raphael Cardenas

BACK

In Loving Memory of

Raphael Cardenas

December 7th, 2019 - June 2nd, 2022

CHICAGO JEWISH FUNERALS
The way it should be.

OBITUARY

Raphael Cardenas, beloved son of Marina Ross and Henry Cardenas. Adored grandson of Diana Balzak, Darren Ross, Victorino Cardenas and Ruth Leticia Vazquez. Cherished nephew of Sonia Balzak. His loss is deeply felt by many other extended family and friends. Graveside service Tuesday, 11 AM, at Shalom Memorial Park (Section XII Mt. Zion), 1700 W. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights, IL 60004. In lieu of flowers memorials in his name may made to Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago, 225 East Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611, www.luriechildrens.org, 312.227.7500. Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals - Skokie Chapel, 847.229.8822, www.cjfinfo.com.

Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals.
www.chicagojewishfunerals.com

Send Shiva Meals

Express your condolences and provide comfort with sympathy baskets and meals

Plant a Tree in Israel

Honor and commemorate loved ones by planting trees i Israel. Learn More

Congregation Kol Emeth

Congregation Kol Emeth
4.7 ★★★★★ (7)
Conservative synagogue · ♿

Overview Reviews About

Directions Save Nearby Send to phone Share

4435 Oakton St, Skokie, IL 60076
Open · Closes 4 PM
kolemethskokie.org
(847) 673-3370
27G6+C7 Skokie, Illinois
LGBTQ+ friendly

Photos & videos

All
Street View & 360°

Review summary

5
4
3
2
1

4.7
★★★★★
7 reviews

Write a review

Reviews Sort

Cesar Guillen
52 reviews · 1 photo
★★★★★ 2 years ago
Beautiful congregation, and great members, plus The Rabbi is awesome. This is the ideal place for peace.

1 Share

Yehudah Bernath
705 reviews · 341 photos

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL
NJ Jewish paper mourn its Guatemala
shiva
Raphael Cardenas
4.7

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL

Partner Links:
Learn Hebrew
Shopinisrael.com
Israel Car Rental

Home > Jewish Times

Framed

NJ Jewish paper mixes its Guzmans

New Jersey-based Orthodox weekly illustrates Mexican drug lord's capture with photo of comic actor Luis Guzman

BY ARON DÓNZIS | March 6, 2014, 2:01 pm |

Tweet Email Print Share

Actor-comedian Luis Guzman. (screen capture: YouTube)

NEWSROOM
Email the Newsroom
Facebook
Twitter

John Travolta isn't the only one who has been struggling with name recognition of late.

Get The Times of Israel's Daily Edition by email and never miss our top stories FREE SIGN UP!

In an attempt to cover the capture of Mexican cartel leader Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman, The Lakewood Shopper, an Orthodox Jewish newspaper based in Lakewood, New Jersey, accidentally used a photograph of Luis Guzman, a popular Puerto Rican-American comedian from New York's Lower East Side, Elite Daily reported.

Guzman is best known for his roles in "Carlito's Way" and "How To Make It In America."

The gaffe was identified by Malei Rikud on Twitter and was well received by

THE TIMES OF
CURRENT TOP ST

US: Peace framew recognize Israel a
state

BY ELIE LESHEM |

Newfound Jewish roots gave
with Israel
The key to Mideast peace, ne
world
Israeli recognition demand s debate

How did Ha
this mess?
BY DAVID HORO

Disloyalty d
BY MARISSA ME

Ukraine lead agree on des crisis
BY MAX DELANY

Britons will preemptive
MP says
BY DAVID HORO

adzerk tracking image

Find a Jewish Funeral Home

shiva The resource for Jewish mourning

LEARN PLAN SEND

Shiva Plans > Find and Contribute to a Shiva > In Loving Memory of Raphael Cardenas

BACK

In Loving Memory of

Raphael Cardenas

December 7th, 2019 - June 2nd, 2022

CHICAGO JEWISH FUNERALS
The way it should be.

OBITUARY

Raphael Cardenas, beloved son of Marina Ross and Henry Cardenas. Adored grandson of Diana Balzak, Darren Ross, Victorino Cardenas and Ruth Leticia Vazquez. Cherished nephew of Sonia Balzak. His loss is deeply felt by many other extended family and friends. Graveside service Tuesday, 11 AM, at Shalom Memorial Park (Section XII Mt. Zion), 1700 W. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights, IL 60004. In lieu of flowers memorials in his name may made to Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago, 225 East Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611, www.luriechildrens.org, 312.227.7500. Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals - Skokie Chapel, 847.229.8822, www.cjfinfo.com.

Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals.
www.chicagojewishfunerals.com

Send Shiva Meals

Express your condolences and provide comfort with sympathy baskets and meals

Plant a Tree in Israel

Honor and commemorate loved ones by planting trees in Israel. Learn More

Congregation Kol Emeth

Congregation Kol Emeth
4.7 ★★★★★ (7)
Conservative synagogue · ♿

Overview Reviews About

Directions Save Nearby Send to phone Share

4435 Oakton St, Skokie, IL 60076
Open · Closes 4PM
kolemethskokie.org
(847) 673-3370
27G6+C7 Skokie, Illinois
LGBTQ+ friendly

Photos & videos

Review summary

5
4
3
2
1

4.7
★★★★★
7 reviews

Write a review

Reviews Sort

Cesar Guillen
52 reviews · 1 photo
★★★★★ 2 years ago
Beautiful congregation, and great members, plus The Rabbi is awesome. This is the ideal place for peace.

1 Share

Yehudah Bernath
705 reviews · 341 photos

Search this area Sign in

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes

8 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this Spanish name, the first or paternal surname is Oseguera and the second or maternal family name is Cervantes.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes (Latin American Spanish: [neˈmesio oseˈɣera serˈβantes]; born 17 July 1966, or 17 July 1964), commonly referred to by his alias El Mencho ([elˈmentʃo]), is a Mexican drug lord and leader of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), an organized crime group based in Jalisco. He is the most-wanted person in Mexico and one of the most-wanted in the U.S. The US government, as well as the Mexican government, is offering $10 million and $30 million respectively for information leading to his arrest.

He is wanted for drug trafficking, organized crime involvement, and undocumented possession of firearms. El Mencho is allegedly responsible for coordinating global drug trafficking operations. Under his command, the CJNG became one of Mexico's leading criminal organizations.

Born into poverty in Mexico, El Mencho grew avocados and dropped out of primary school before immigrating illegally to the U.S. in the 1980s. After being arrested several times, he was deported to Mexico in the early 1990s and worked for the Milenio Cartel.[2] He eventually climbed to the top of the criminal organization and founded the CJNG after several of his bosses were arrested or killed.

His notoriety is also a result of his aggressive leadership and sensationalist acts of violence against both rival criminal groups and Mexican security forces alike. These attacks brought him increased government attention and an extensive manhunt. Security forces suspect he is hiding in the rural terrains of Jalisco, Michoacán, Nayarit, and/or Colima, and is guarded by mercenaries with former military training.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes

Born	17 July 1966 (age 57) Aguililla, Michoacán, Mexico
Other names	El Mencho El Mata Zetas[a] Don Nemesio El Señor de los Gallos[b]
Employer	Jalisco New Generation Cartel
Predecessor	Ignacio Coronel Villarreal
Criminal status	Wanted
Spouse	Rosalinda González Valencia (m. 1996; div. 2018)[c][1]
Children	4, including Rubén Oseguera González
Relatives	Abigael González Valencia (brother-in-law)

Notes

Bounty: US$10 million offered from the U.S. government; MXN$30 million offered from Mexico's Office of the General Prosecutor (PGR).

In February 2022 unconfirmed reports began to surface stating that El Mencho had died from respiratory arrest while undergoing treatment in a private hospital in Guadalajara.[3]

However, U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent Kyle Mori, who heads the search for El Mencho, denied rumors of his death in an interview he gave to KFI AM's in March 2023.[4]

Early life [edit]

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes was born in July 1964 or 1966 in the rural community of Culotitlán in Aguililla, Michoacán, Mexico.[d][5][6] His first name is cited as "Rubén" and/or "Nemesio".[5][9] He has

Jalisco New Generation Cartel

16 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Jalisco New Generation Cartel (Spanish: Cártel de Jalisco Nueva Generación) or CJNG,[39][40][41][42] is a Mexican criminal syndicate, based in Jalisco and headed by Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes ("El Mencho").[43] The cartel has been characterized by extreme violence and public relations campaigns.[4] Though the CJNG is known for diversifying into various criminal rackets, drug trafficking (primarily cocaine and methamphetamine) remains its most profitable activity.[6][4] The cartel has been noted for cannibalizing some victims during the training of new sicarios or members, as well as using drones[7][44][27] and rocket-propelled grenades to attack enemies.[45]

CJNG started in 2009 as one of the splits of the Milenio Cartel, the other being La Resistencia. CJNG defeated La Resistencia and took control of Millenio's smuggling networks. CJNG expanded its operation network from coast to coast in six months, making it one of the criminal groups with the greatest operating capacity by 2012.[46][47] Following emergence of the cartel, homicides, kidnappings and discoveries of mass graves spiked in Jalisco.[4] By 2018, the CJNG was believed to have over 100 methamphetamine labs throughout Mexico. Based on average street value, its trade could net upwards of $8 billion for cocaine and $4.6 billion for crystal meth each year.[6][48][49][50][51][52][53][34] The CJNG are fighting the Nueva Plaza Cartel for control of Guadalajara; La Unión Tepito for Mexico City; Los Viagras and La Familia Michoacana for the states of Michoacán and Guerrero; Los Zetas in the states of Veracruz and Puebla; Cártel del Noreste in Zacatecas; the Sinaloa Cartel in Baja California, Sonora,[54] Ciudad Juárez, Zacatecas and Chiapas; as well as the Santa Rosa de Lima Cartel in Guanajuato.[55] They have an alliance with the Cártel del Golfo in Zacatecas and La Línea in Juárez.[20]

CJNG is considered by the Mexican government to be one of the most dangerous criminal organizations in Mexico[26] and second most powerful drug cartel after the Sinaloa Cartel.[56] CJNG is heavily militarized and more violent than other criminal organizations. It has a special operations group for specific types of warfare.[57] Its hitman training program is strict and

Jalisco Cartel

Cártel Jalisco Nueva Generación

Logo of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Founded	31 August 2009
Founder	Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes, Emilio Alejandro Pulido Salazar, Martin Arzola Ortega, and Erick Valencia Salazar[1]
Founding location	Guadalajara, Jalisco, México[2][3]
Years active	2009–present[2][4]
Territory	Mexico: Jalisco, Nayarit, Michoacan, Colima, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Puebla, Baja California, Baja California Sur, Chihuahua, Sonora, Veracruz, Tamaulipas, Estado de Mexico, Mexico City, Tabasco, Guerrero, Chiapas, Tlaxcala, Querétaro, Hidalgo, United States: California, New York, Oregon, Illinois, Texas, Georgia, Florida, Washington Australia: Victoria, New South Wale South America: Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Brazil, Venezuela, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay, Guyana, Argentina, Uruguay Europe: France, United Kingdom, Balkans, Italy, Spain
Ethnicity	Hispanic
Membership	20,000-50,000 (suspected)[citation needed]

Rabbi Yochanan Salazar

Traveling Sofer

Rabbi Yochanan Salazar is a master sofer (scribe), educator and lecturer. Born in Ecuador, South America, he moved to the US as a teen. Before becoming a scribe he studied in Hudson College and later attended NJIT where he majored in electronics engineering and public speaking. While in college he met his wife Hanna, together they moved to Florida where they now live with their six children.

He received his rabbinic ordination in 2004 from Rabbi Daniel Channen in Beit Shemesh, Israel. In Miami, Rabbi Salazar studied art of Safrut as an apprentice under Rabbi's Druin at Sofer On Site. After years of training he received his ordination as a Sofer from Rabbi Eliyahu Ben Hayyim the Head of Sephardic studies at Yeshiva University in New York.
With his expert and gifted talent for precise and accurate Torah repair work, he now heads the Torah Restoration Department of Sofer On Site. He often travels around the country restoring Torahs on site, while educating communities on the proper techniques of Torah care.

Rabbi Levi Selwyn

Traveling Sofer

Rabbi Levi Selwyn was born in London, England where he attended the local Jewish schoo
He then continued his studies at the Yeshivah Gedolah in Hampstead. At the age of 18 he is Salazar.

Érick Valencia Salazar (Spanish pronunciation: [ˈerik βaˈlensja salaˈsar]; born 11 March 1977 or 19 November 1982), commonly referred to by his alias El 85, is a Mexican drug lord and high-ranking leader of the Nueva Plaza Cartel.[1][2][3] He previously served as a high-ranking leader of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), a criminal group based in Jalisco. The Mexican Army suspects he was responsible for supervising the CJNG's cocaine and ephedrine delivery shipments from Colombia and China to Mexico, and for coordinating attacks against rival groups like La Resistencia and Los Zetas in the 2010s. Before leading the CJNG, Valencia reportedly held a leadership role within the Milenio Cartel, the predecessor group where the CJNG originated from. When several of his superiors were arrested and/or killed, Valencia and several others from the Milenio Cartel reportedly formed the CJNG.

On 3 March 2012, the Mexican Army arrested Valencia in Zapopan, Jalisco. The arrest triggered a series of coordinated attacks carried out by the CJNG to try to rescue Valencia. Throughout the states of Jalisco and Michoacán, the CJNG hijacked 25 vehicles and set them on fire across multiple highways. Three people were killed and sixteen suspects were arrested. On 27 December 2017, Valencia was released from prison after a judge concluded there were violations in his due process and because of insufficient

Érick Valencia Salazar

Born	11 March 1977 (age 47) or 19 November 1982 (age 41) Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico
Other names	El 85
Employers	Nueva Plaza Cartel Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Ellen Cervantes	Finance Vice President	Meredith Fox	Zena Step
Cheri Mayman	Development Vice President	Dr. Robert Gelb
Jessica Docter	Recording Secretary
Leah Kuluva	Immediate Past President
Miriam Carroll	Past President's Council Representative

Shomrei Torah Synagogue
7353 Valley Circle Boulevard
West Hills, CA 91304

Main Office:
(818) 854-7650

Mailing List
E-Newsletter Sign Up

About Shomrei Torah
› About Us
› Membership
› Education
› Worship
› Social Action

Shabbat @ STS
More Shabbat Information

DAILY MINYAN
Monday - Friday: 8:00 AM
Monday - Thursday: 7:15 PM
Sunday : 9:00 AM

Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Article Talk

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Jalisco New Generation Cartel (Spanish: Cártel de Jalisco Nueva Generación or CJNG) is a Mexican criminal syndicate, based in Jalisco and headed by Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes ("El Mencho").[1] The cartel has been characterized by extreme violence and public relations campaigns.[2] Though the CJNG is known for diversifying into various criminal rackets, drug trafficking (primarily cocaine and methamphetamine) remains its most profitable activity.[3][4] The cartel has been noted for case-basing some victims during the training of new sicarios or members as well as using drones[5][6][7] and rocket-propelled grenades to attack enemies.[8]

CJNG started in 2009 as one of the splits of the Milenio Cartel, the other being La Resistencia. CJNG defeated La Resistencia and took control of Milenio's smuggling networks. CJNG expanded its operation network from coast to coast in six months, making it one of the criminal groups with the greatest operating capacity by 2012.[9][10] Following emergence of the cartel, homicides, kidnappings and discoveries of mass graves spiked in Jalisco.[11] By 2018, the CJNG was believed to have over 100 methamphetamine laboratories throughout Mexico. Based on average street values, its trade could net upwards of $6 billion for cocaine and $4.5 billion for crystal meth each year.[12][13][14][15][16] The CJNG are fighting the Sinaloa Cartel for control of Guadalajara, La Unión Tepitec for Mexico City, Los Viagras and La Familia Michoacana for the states of Michoacán and Guerrero, Los Zetas in the states of Veracruz and Puebla, Cártel del Noroeste in Zacatecas, the Sinaloa Cartel in Baja California, Sonora,[17] Ciudad Juárez, Zacatecas and Chiapas, as well as the Santa Rosa de Lima Cartel in Guanajuato.[18] They have an alliance with the Cártel del Golfo in Zacatecas and La Línea in Juárez.[19]

CJNG is considered by the Mexican government to be one of the most dangerous criminal organizations in Mexico[20] and second-most powerful drug cartel after the Sinaloa Cartel.[21] CJNG is heavily armed and more violent than other criminal organizations. It has a special operations group for specific types of warfare[22] its fighter training program is strict and

Jalisco Cartel

Cártel Jalisco Nueva Generación

CJNG

Logo of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Founded	31 August 2009
Founder	Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes, Erick Valencia Salazar, Pablo Lopez Ortiga, and Erick Valencia Salazar[23]
Founding location	Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico[24]
Years active	2009–present[25]
Territory	Mexico: Jalisco, Nayarit, Michoacán, Colima, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Puebla, Baja California, Baja California Sur, Chihuahua, Sonora, Veracruz, Tamaulipas, Estado de México, Mexico City, Morelos, Guerrero, Oaxaca, Yucatán, Quintana Roo, Hidalgo, United States: California, New York, Oregon, Illinois, Texas, Georgia, Florida, Washington, Australia: Victoria, New South Wales, South America: Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Brazil, Venezuela, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay, Guyana, Argentina, Uruguay, Europe: France, United Kingdom, Belgium, Italy, Spain
Ethnicity	Hispanic
Membership	20,000-40,000 (estimated)[26]

Erick Valencia Salazar (Spanish pronunciation: [ˈeɾik ɡaˈlaθ ...]; born November 1982), commonly referred to by his alias El 85, is a Mexican ... of the Nueva Plaza Cartel.[1][2] He previously served as a high-ranking member of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), a criminal group based in Jalisco. The ... responsible for supervising the CJNG's cocaine and methamphetamine ... Chile to Mexico, and for coordinating attacks against rival groups ... (2016). Before leading the CJNG, Valencia reportedly held a ... predecessor group where the CJNG originated from. Others seen ... killed, Valencia and several others from the Milenio Cartel became ...

On 3 March 2012, the Mexican Army arrested Valencia in Zapopan ... of coordinated attacks carried out by the CJNG in by Nuevo León ... and Michoacán, the CJNG hijacked 35 vehicles and set them on fire ... people were killed and sixteen suspects were arrested. On 27 Ge... from prison after a judge concluded there were irregularities in his ...

Rabbi Yochanan Salazar

Traveling Sofer

Rabbi Yochanan Salazar is a traveling sofer (scribe) ... South America, he moved to the US as a child. Both ... Chicago and later attended U.C. where he major... speaking. While in college he met his wife Marina, ... now live with their 4 children.

He worked his way through yeshiva in [illegible] ... in Miami, Florida (Chassan Torah of Sofer as an ... Bible. After years of laboring he received his ordination ... the merit of Rav Yaakov Israel Weinberg ... with his expertise and gifted talent for preparing and ... Torah. Presently he is Sofer for Sofer for Sofer. He ... Torahs as well, while educating instructors on the ...

Rabbi
Trave

Erick Valencia Salazar (Spanish pronunciation: [ˈeɾik ...]; born November 1982), commonly referred to by his alias El 85, is a Mexican ... of the Nueva Plaza Cartel.[1][2] He previously served as a high-ranking member of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), a criminal group based in Jalisco. The ... responsible for supervising the CJNG's cocaine and methamphetamine ... Chile to Mexico, and for coordinating attacks against rival groups ... (2016). Before leading the CJNG, Valencia reportedly held a ... predecessor group where the CJNG originated from. Others seen ... killed, Valencia and several others from the Milenio Cartel became ...

On 3 March 2012, the Mexican Army arrested Valencia in Zapopan ... of coordinated attacks carried out by the CJNG in by Nuevo León ... and Michoacán, the CJNG hijacked 35 vehicles and set them on fire ... people were killed and sixteen suspects were arrested. On 27 Ge... from prison after a judge concluded there were irregularities in his ...

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes

8 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this Spanish name, the first or paternal surname is Oseguera and the second or maternal family name is Cervantes.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes (Latin American Spanish: [ne'mesio ose'yera ser'βantes]; born 17 July 1966, or 17 July 1964), commonly referred to by his alias El Mencho ([el 'mentʃo]), is a Mexican drug lord and leader of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), an organized crime group based in Jalisco. He is the most-wanted person in Mexico and one of the most-wanted in the U.S. The US government, as well as the Mexican government, is offering $10 million and $30 million respectively for information leading to his arrest.

He is wanted for drug trafficking, organized crime involvement, and undocumented possession of firearms. El Mencho is allegedly responsible for coordinating global drug trafficking operations. Under his command, the CJNG became one of Mexico's leading criminal organizations.

Born into poverty in Mexico, El Mencho grew avocados and dropped out of primary school before immigrating illegally to the U.S. in the 1980s. After being arrested several times, he was deported to Mexico in the early 1990s and worked for the Milenio Cartel.[7] He eventually climbed to the top of the criminal organization and founded the CJNG after several of his bosses were arrested or killed.

His notoriety is also a result of his aggressive leadership and sensationalist acts of violence against both rival criminal groups and Mexican security forces alike. These attacks brought him increased government attention and an extensive manhunt. Security forces suspect he is hiding in the rural terrains of Jalisco, Michoacán, Nayarit, and/or Colima, and is guarded by mercenaries with former military training.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes

Born	17 July 1966 (age 57) Apatzingán, Michoacán, Mexico
Other names	El Mencho El Más Zetas[4] Don Nemesio El Señor de los Gallos[5]
Employer	Jalisco New Generation Cartel
Predecessor	Ignacio Coronel Villarreal
Criminal status	Wanted
Spouse	Rosalinda González Valencia (m. 1996; div. 2018)[6][7]
Children	4, including Rubén Oseguera González
Relatives	Abigael González Valencia (brother-in-law)

Notes

Bounty: US$10 million offered from the U.S. government; MXN$30 million offered from Mexico's Office of the General Prosecutor (PGR).

In February 2022 unconfirmed reports began to surface stating that El Mencho had died from respiratory arrest while undergoing treatment in a private hospital in Guadalajara.[8]

However, U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent Kyle Mori, who heads the search for El Mencho, denied rumors of his death in an interview he gave to KFI AM's in March 2023.[9]

Early life [edit]

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes was born in July 1964 or 1966 in the rural community of Culoitán in

Jalisco New Generation Cartel

14 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Jalisco New Generation Cartel (Spanish: Cártel de Jalisco Nueva Generación) or CJNG,[38][40][41][42] is a Mexican criminal syndicate, based in Jalisco and headed by Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes ("El Mencho").[43] The cartel has been characterized by extreme violence and public relations campaigns.[4] Though the CJNG is known for diversifying into various criminal rackets, drug trafficking (primarily cocaine and methamphetamine) remains its most profitable activity.[44] The cartel has been noted for cannibalizing some victims during the training of new sicarios or members, as well as using drones[7][44][27] and rocket-propelled grenades to attack enemies.[45]

CJNG started in 2009 as one of the splits of the Milenio Cartel, the other being La Resistencia. CJNG defeated La Resistencia and took control of Milenio's smuggling networks. CJNG expanded its operation network from coast to coast in six months, making it one of the criminal groups with the greatest operating capacity by 2012.[46][47] Following emergence of the cartel, homicides, kidnappings and discoveries of mass graves spiked in Jalisco.[4] By 2018, the CJNG was believed to have over 100 methamphetamine labs throughout Mexico. Based on average street value, its trade could net upwards of $8 billion for cocaine and $4.6 billion for crystal meth each year.[48][49][50][51][52][53][54] The CJNG are fighting the Nueva Plaza Cartel for control of Guadalajara; La Unión Tepito for Mexico City; Los Viagras and La Familia Michoacana for the states of Michoacán and Guerrero; Los Zetas in the states of Veracruz and Puebla; Cártel del Noreste in Zacatecas; the Sinaloa Cartel in Baja California, Sonora,[55] Ciudad Juárez, Zacatecas and Chiapas; as well as the Santa Rosa de Lima Cartel in Guanajuato.[56] They have an alliance with the Cártel del Golfo in Zacatecas and La Línea in Juárez.[20]

CJNG is considered by the Mexican government to be one of the most dangerous criminal organizations in Mexico[26] and second most powerful drug cartel after the Sinaloa Cartel.[58] CJNG is heavily militarized and more violent than other criminal organizations. It has a special operations group for specific types of warfare.[57] Its hitman training program is strict and

Jalisco Cartel

Cártel Jalisco Nueva Generación

Logo of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Founded	31 August 2009
Founder	Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes, Emilio Alejandro Pulido Salazar, Martín Acosta Ortega, and Erick Valencia Salazar[1]
Founding location	Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico[2][3]
Years active	2009–present[3][4]
Territory	Mexico: Jalisco, Nayarit, Michoacán, Colima, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Puebla, Baja California, Baja California Sur, Chihuahua, Sonora, Veracruz, Tamaulipas, Estado de México, Mexico City, Tabasco, Guerrero, Chiapas, Tlaxcala, Querétaro, Hidalgo, United States: California, New York, Oregon, Illinois, Texas, Georgia, Florida, Washington Australia: Victoria, New South Wales South America: Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Brazil, Venezuela, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay, Guyana, Argentina, Uruguay Europe: France, United Kingdom, Balkans, Italy, Spain
Ethnicity	Hispanic
Membership	20,000-50,000 (suspected)[citation needed]

Rabbi Yochanan Salazar

Traveling Sofer

Rabbi Yochanan Salazar is a master sofer (scribe), educator and lecturer. Born in Ecuador, South America, he moved to the US as a teen. Before becoming a scribe he studied in Hudson College and later attended NJIT where he majored in electronics engineering and public speaking. While in college he met his wife Hanna, together they moved to Florida where they now live with their six children.

He received his rabbinic ordination in 2004 from Rabbi Daniel Channen in Beit Shemesh, Israel. In Miami, Rabbi Salazar studied art of Soffut as an apprentice under Rabbi's Drori at Sofer On Site. After years of training he received his ordination as a Sofer from Rabbi Eliyahu Ben Hayim the Head of Sephardic studies at Yeshiva University in New York.
With his expert and gifted talent for precise and accurate Torah repair work, he now heads the Torah Restoration Department of Sofer On Site. He often travels around the country restoring Torahs on site, while educating communities on the proper techniques of Torah care.

Rabbi Levi Selwyn

Traveling Sofer

Rabbi Levi Selwyn was born in London, England where he attended the local Jewish school. He then continued his studies at the Yeshivah Gedolah in Hampstead. At the age of 18 he

is Salazar

Erick Valencia Salazar (Spanish pronunciation: [ˈerik βaˈlensja salaˈsar]; born 11 March 1977 or 19 November 1982), commonly referred to by his alias El 85, is a Mexican drug lord and high-ranking leader of the Nueva Plaza Cartel.[1][2][3] He previously served as a high-ranking leader of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), a criminal group based in Jalisco. The Mexican Army suspects he was responsible for supervising the CJNG's cocaine and ephedrine delivery shipments from Colombia and China to Mexico, and for coordinating attacks against rival groups like La Resistencia and Los Zetas in the 2010s. Before leading the CJNG, Valencia reportedly held a leadership role within the Milenio Cartel, the predecessor group where the CJNG originated from. When several of his superiors were arrested and/or killed, Valencia and several others from the Milenio Cartel reportedly formed the CJNG.

On 3 March 2012, the Mexican Army arrested Valencia in Zapopan, Jalisco. The arrest triggered a series of coordinated attacks carried out by the CJNG to try to rescue Valencia. Throughout the states of Jalisco and Michoacán, the CJNG hijacked 25 vehicles and set them on fire across multiple highways. Three people were killed and sixteen suspects were arrested. On 27 December 2017, Valencia was released from prison after a judge concluded there were violations in his due process and because of insufficient

Erick Valencia Salazar

Born	11 March 1977 (age 47) or 19 November 1982 (age 41) Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico
Other names	El 85
Employers	Nueva Plaza Cartel Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Governor | General Assembly | Courts | Elected Officials | State Agencies

Allowable Characters

Entity Details

THIS IS NOT A STATEMENT OF GOOD STANDING

File Number:	6277903	Incorporation Date / Formation Date:	1/9/2017 (mm/dd/yyyy)
Entity Name:	CHATURBATE, LLC
Entity Kind:	Limited Liability Company	Entity Type:	General
Residency:	Domestic	State:	DELAWARE

REGISTERED AGENT INFORMATION

Name:	NATIONAL REGISTERED AGENTS, INC.
Address:	1209 ORANGE STREET
City:	WILMINGTON	County:	New Castle
State:	DE	Postal Code:	19801
Phone:	302-658-7581

Additional Information is available for a fee. You can retrieve Status for a fee of $10.00 or more detailed information including current franchise tax assessment, current filing history and more for a fee of $20.00.

Would you like ○ Status ○ Status,Tax & History Information

Submit

View Search Results | New Entity Search

ag to take you to the help area

t this site | contact us | translate | delaware.gov

https://icis.corp.delaware.gov/eCor...c.aspx#REGISTERED AGENT INFORMATION

whitepages Menu

1-302-658-7581

Who owns the Phone Number

(302) 658-7581

LOW SPAM RISK

Landline Last updated Feb 2024

Monitor

Registered to: Coby L Ringgenberg

Coby Lynn Ringgenberg • Coby Lynn Coswell • Coby Lynn Caswell

Other names for Coby

40s

Management (Check only one)

5. THE LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY WILL BE MANAGED BY:

- [x] ONE MANAGER
- [ ] MORE THAN ONE MANAGER
- [ ] ALL LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY MEMBER(S)

Additional Information

6. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION SET FORTH ON THE ATTACHED PAGES, IF ANY, IS INCORPORATED HEREIN BY THIS REFERENCE AND MADE A PART OF THIS CERTIFICATE.

Execution

7. I DECLARE I AM THE PERSON WHO EXECUTED THIS INSTRUMENT, WHICH EXECUTION IS MY ACT AND DEED.

4/21/2011
DATE

SIGNATURE OF ORGANIZER

Jason Zimmerman
TYPE OR PRINT NAME OF ORGANIZER

LLC-1 (REV 04/2010) APPROVED BY SECRETARY OF STATE

YouTube Sign in

HIGHWEBMEDIA CHATURBATE JASON ZIMMERMAN

Marc Abigmess
41 subscribers

Subscribe 0 Share

257 views Oct 4, 2019

Mark Text
CHATURBATE

Mark Image

Mark Image Description
The mark consists of the word "Chaturbate" written in a cursive font with an underline.

Internation Registration Number
86808048

Mark Type
Illustration: Drawing or design which also includes word(s)/ letter(s)/number(s)

Mark Form
image

Status
REGISTERED

Url
http://tsdr.uspto.gov/ #caseNumber=86808048&caseSearchType=US_APPLICATION&caseType=DEFAULT&searchType=statusSearch

Holder Name
Multi Media, LLC

Holder Address
23615 El Toro Rd #X344, Lake Forrest, CA, 92630

Correspondent Name
JASON A. FISCHER

Correspondent Address
RANDAZZA LEGAL GROUP 2 SOUTH BISCAYNE BLVD. SUITE 2600 MIAMI, FL 33131

Who owns the Phone Number
(302) 658-7581

Avraham Heffner

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel Aviv, October 2006

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupations	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor Baumacha).

His first movie as director was Sene Dover (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1980s and the 1990s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films in the "New Sensitivity" genre, films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where is Daniel Allen?, which he wrote and directed. But Where is Daniel Allen?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Avec Claire (1979) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Avec Claire, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1988, Kvish Hama'avir (Street Country, Street Hero), is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1980s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[citation needed]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[citation]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[citation]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Schorr, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Shmuelik Roy and Doron Kopatchinski.

tv
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt

Avraham Heffner
Biography
Influence

The New York Times
Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Playboy Plus | Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Klana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 833

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus

Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

Karl Gotch
Early life and amateur wrestling career
Professional wrestling career
Muhammad Ali vs Antonio Inoki 1976 MMA Begins
Antonio Inoki
ISTAZ
Top Leader ISTAZ
Drs.H.Imam B, MM
PENGUMUMAN
ENGUMUMAN
UIAN AKHIR

Shoot wrestling

7 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article needs additional citations for verification. Please help improve this article by adding citations to reliable sources. Unsourced material may be challenged and removed.
Find sources: "Shoot wrestling" – news · newspapers · books · scholar · JSTOR (February 2019) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shoot wrestling is a Japanese hybrid grappling style and combat sport. Shoot wrestling incorporates techniques from various wrestling, submission grappling, kickboxing and karate styles. It was particularly inspired and influenced by catch wrestling, a form of wrestling with submissions that was the predominant style of professional wrestling in the 19th and early 20th century, at the time a competitive sport and not yet predetermined.[1]

Shoot wrestling

Focus	Grappling
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama, Yuki Nakai, Yorinaga Nakamura, Kazuo Yamazaki, Kazushi Sakuraba, Kiyoshi Tamura, Tsuyoshi Kosaka, Volk Han, Ken Shamrock, Masakatsu Funaki, Daisuke Nakamura
Parenthood	Catch wrestling, freestyle wrestling, Greco-Roman wrestling, judo, karate, Muay Thai, sambo
Descendant arts	Shootfighting, shootboxing, mixed martial arts
Olympic sport	No

Shoot wrestling originated in Japan's professional wrestling circuit (puroresu) of the 1970s, particularly stemming from the influence of wrestlers Karl Gotch and all who had an enduring popularity in Japan due to their serious submission wrestling style. Professional wrestlers of that era attempted to use more realistic or even "full contact" moves in their matches to increase their excitement, diminishing or eschewing the theatrical elements and acrobatics, looking more similar to an actual, unscripted fight. The name "shoot wrestling" comes from the professional wrestling term "shoot", which refers to any unscripted occurrence within a scripted wrestling event.[2]

The first wave of shoot wrestlers were students of Antonio Inoki and Karl Gotch from New Japan Pro-Wrestling (NJPW), two wrestlers which already were advocates of a stiffer and more realistic wrestling style. Their students left NJPW to form the Universal Wrestling Federation (UWF) in 1984, pioneering in the new style.[3]

Shoot wrestling was popular in Japan from the 1980s until the mid-1990s, fading from popularity due the demise of the leading shoot-style promotion UWFi in 1996 and the simultaneous rise of mixed martial arts (MMA) in Japan. Most shoot wrestlers started to migrate to MMA or back to more theatrical forms of professional wrestling.[3][4] Shoot wrestling had a considerable influence on the sport of mixed martial arts.

Prior to the emergence of the current sport of shoot wrestling, the term was commonly used in the professional wrestling business, particularly in the United Kingdom, as a synonym for the sport of catch wrestling.[5] Shoot wrestling can be used to describe a range of hybrid fighting systems such as shootfighting, shoot boxing and the styles of mixed martial arts done in the Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS promotions. Organizations, promotions and gyms with origins in shoot wrestling are referred as the "U-Kei".

History [edit]

Shootfighting

4 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article includes a list of general references, but it lacks sufficient corresponding inline citations. Please help to improve this article by introducing more precise citations.
(August 2022) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shootfighting is a martial art and combat sport, with competitions governed by the International Shootfighting Association (ISFA). It incorporates techniques from a multitude of traditional martial arts, the most principal of these being wrestling and kenpo.

Shootfighting

Focus	Hybrid (Combat Sport & Street Combat)
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Alexander Gustafsson (UFC) Evan Tanner (UFC) Frank Shamrock (Strikeforce) Jake Shields (PFL) Kazushi Sakuraba (UFC) Ken Shamrock (Pancrase) Kyoji Horiguchi (Rizin FF) Takanori Gomi (Shooto)
Parenthood	Catch Wrestling, Shoot Wrestling, American Kenpo, Judo, Boxing, Kickboxing, Karate, Muay Thai, Jujutsu, Brazilian Jiu Jitsu[1]
Olympic sport	No

Shootfighting was previously used synonymously with mixed martial arts competitions in Japan, as opposed to shoot-style professional wrestling competitions. The term has been retired from common usage because it became a registered trademark of Bart Vale, who uses it to describe his hybrid fighting system derived from shoot wrestling. However, it is still sometimes used colloquially.

Examples which were once considered shootfighting styles, tournaments or organizations are Pancrase, Fighting Network RINGS, and Shooto, where many fighters still considered themselves to be shootfighters. Ken Shamrock is possibly the most recognisable shoot fighter, as it was the discipline he used during the early days of the UFC.

History [edit]

Shootfighting's use as a synonym for mixed martial arts had its genesis in the 1970s, when Karl Gotch taught a group of Japanese professional wrestlers catch wrestling techniques, called "hooking" or "shooting". In 1976, one of these pro-wrestlers, Antonio Inoki, hosted a series of matches against practitioners of other martial arts; most of these were "worked" (predetermined), but one particular high-profile one was against Muhammad Ali, which was in fact a shoot. This led to an increased interest in real and effective technique, and eventually led to the creation of shoot wrestling, with some shoot-style professional wrestling organizations hosting legitimate mixed martial arts bouts, called "shoots". Interest grew in the 1990s, and certain shoot-style organizations like Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS evolved into

muslim.sg

22 Jun 2024
15 Zulhijjah 1445H

16:38 Subuh

Ask An Ustaz or Ustazah Questions Through Anonymous Chat With MYSAFESPACE

With MYSAFESPACE, you can conveniently and anonymously ask your religious queries from the comfort of your homes.

by Alia Fatin Binte Abdullah

Alia Abdullah is the editor-in-chief of Muslim.Sg. In 2021, she won the Exemplary Skillsfuture @ Public Service Award, a national award that recognises individuals who constantly upgrade their competencies. A law graduate and digital media specialist, Alia is an exceptional writer whose work has been featured in Young Women in Leadership Dialogue's (YWILD) Commemorative Book "Unprecedented - To the Beat of Her Own Drum" and on platforms such as Mvslim and The Muslim Vibe. Alia lived and worked in Saudi Arabia for 2 years. She is now based in Singapore.

2023-03-22 • 4 min read

As a Muslim living in Singapore, we understand that having a safe space to ask questions to asatizah (religious teachers) is crucial for your personal and spiritual development.

First, a safe space allows you to freely ask questions without fear of judgment or discrimination. This is important because sometimes, you may hesitate to ask questions you think may be sensitive or controversial.

Second, having access to knowledgeable asatizah who can provide guidance and answer your questions is essential in helping you understand and navigate your faith. They can provide valuable insights and help clarify any confusion or doubts you may have, which can deepen your understanding of Islam and strengthen your faith.

Furthermore, a safe space for Muslim youth to ask questions to asatizah can foster a sense of community and belonging. Knowing that you have a support system of trusted scholars who can provide guidance and support can be comforting, especially when living as a minority in a multiracial and multireligious country like Singapore.

18+ Playboy Plus | 18+ Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | 18+ Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

.tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2

SexART

Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus

Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

Remembering Hugh Hefner: American icon of sex

er of the sexual dies at 91

NEWSPAPER ADS

Buy Local

CLASSIFIED

Johnstown Magazine

Trending Recipes

Most Popular

Visit our news resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent meetings and events.

Robert and Jane Raum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Wilma Biondo and Yosef Rinnon
Shirley Bigelsen
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anonymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corenswet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adonna Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Demson and John Hallsberg
Barbara and Eric Dubkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Elingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Feiserfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Ray Gardner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Cross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

PBS NEWS HOUR

Remo
mogu

Leave you

By – PBS

Transcrip

Playboy
First pu face of feminis legacy
of Colu

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

NEWSPAPER ADS

Buy Local

Trending Recipes

Most Popular

Robert and Janet Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Pulowsky
Vilma Bondo and Yosef Hamer
Shirley Bragner
Jeannie Brauskin and Peter Grace
Stacy Bolton
Edward Grill and Michele Levin
Brad Rankin and Susan Brooks
Anonymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Cohen and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Cronovum and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adriana Karawski
Carol and Andrew Dittman
Rise Dimson and John Holdberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Donald Dockoroff
Rochelle Dingin
Christopher and Kai Fallenberg
Alex Fisherman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Feiswinkel
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardner
Michael Gonzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Hanne Heffner

PBS NEWSHOUR

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Leave your feedback

Share

By PBS NewsHour

Transcript Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

NEWSPAPER ADS

Buy Local

Trending Recipes

Most Popular

Robert and Janet Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Pulowsky
Vilma Bondo and Yosef Hamer
Shirley Bragner
Jeannie Brauskin and Peter Grace
Stacy Bolton
Edward Grill and Michele Levin
Brad Rankin and Susan Brooks
Anonymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Cohen and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Cronovum and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adriana Karawski
Carol and Andrew Dittman
Rise Dimson and John Holdberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Donald Dockoroff
Rochelle Dingin
Christopher and Kai Fallenberg
Alex Fisherman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Feiswinkel
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardner
Michael Gonzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Hanne Heffner

PBS NEWSHOUR

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Leave your feedback

Share

By PBS NewsHour

Transcript Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

The Tribune-Democrat

E-Paper | Local Events | Celebrations | Obituaries | Public Notices | Contact Us

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

By ANDREW DALTON
The Associated Press Sep 28, 2017

1 of 2

In this May 14, 1999 file photo, Playboy founder and editor in chief Hugh Hefner receives kisses from Playboy playmates during the 52nd Cannes Film Festival in Cannes, France. (AP Photo/Laurent Rebours, File)

Laurent Rebours

LOS ANGELES — Hugh Hefner turned silk pajamas into a work uniform, women into centerfolds and sexual desire into a worldwide multimedia empire that spanned several generations of American life.

With Playboy, he helped slip sex out of the confines of plain brown wrappers and into mainstream conversation.

In 1953, a time when states could legally ban contraceptives and the word "pregnant" was not allowed on "I Love Lucy," Hefner published the first issue of Playboy, featuring naked photos of Marilyn Monroe and an editorial promise of "humor, sophistication and spice."

The Great Depression and World War II were over and Playboy soon became forbidden fruit for teens and a bible for men with time and money, primed for the magazine's prescribed evenings of dimmed lights, hard drinks, soft jazz, deep thoughts and deeper desires. Within a year, circulation neared 200,000. Within five years, it had topped 1 million.

NEWSPAPER ADS
Buy Local
CLASSIFIED Yellow

Johnstown Magazine

Read now

Trending Recipes

Tomato Pie

Giant Danish

Most Popular

Visit our Israel resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent teachings and events.

Next Service: Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 10:00 am

BNAI JESHURUN

Robert and Jane Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Vitina Biondo and Yosef Riemer
Shirley Bisgeier
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anomymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corenswet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adeena Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Dimson and John Hatleberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Etingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Felsenfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardiner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

PBS NEWS HOUR

Menu | Live

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Sep 28, 2017 7:13 PM EDT

Leave your feedback | Share •••

By – PBS NewsHour

Transcript | Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

classmates

Matt Heffner: CLASS OF 1992

Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu Class of 1992

Toronto, ON

Matt's Story

Matt is from Ashland, Pennsylvania. Matt's schools include Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu. Music Matt likes includes Metal. Books Ma...Expand for more

Send Email

Remember

ye·shi·va
[yə SHēvə]

noun
an Orthodox Jewish college or seminary.
• an Orthodox Jewish elementary or secondary school.

A yeshiva, jeshibah is a traditi educational institution focused of Rabbinic literature, primarily and halacha, while Torah and

Women in Love
Erin Daniels (above left, with dark hair) soaks up the love, and Leisha Hailey (above, far right) seemingly does a comparison test of antiperspirants on The L Word, Showtime's sexy lesbian melodrama.

Sopranos? Who Dey?
HBO insists its new series Tell Me You Love Me (above), about three couples dealing with their sex lives in therapy sessions, isn't just about sex. Do you think the network is referring to that stuff in between the sex parts?

(58 of 158)

Playboy USA - December 2007

Favorite Share Flag

sky news Home › World

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner dies aged 91

"Hef" established Playboy magazine in 1953 and turned it into one of the most recognisable American brands in history.

Thursday 28 September 2017 14:28, UK

Image:
Hugh Hefner poses with three Playmates in 2007

Playboy magazine founder Hugh Hefner has died at the age of 91.

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

CULTURE

How Hugh Hefner Commercialized Sex

The Playboy founder—who died at the age of 91—peddled an American dream that was as much about money as desire.

By Sophie Gilbert

Westcom / Starmax / AP

SEPTEMBER 28, 2017

SHARE SAVE

In 1953, Hugh Hefner was living out a stereotypical version of the American Dream. At the age of 27, he had a job (as a cartoonist and copywriter), a wife, and a baby daughter. As Elizabeth Fraterrigo notes in her 2009 book Playboy and the Making of the Good Life in Modern America, Hefner's home life was so picture-perfect that it was photographed for a two-page story in the Chicago Daily News. In one image, Hefner sits on the floor of a tidy, modern living room holding baby Christie, while his wife, Millie, watches from the couch, holding a magazine.

ADVERTISEMENT

DISCOVER THE ROLEX AND NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC PERPETUAL PLANET AMAZON EXPEDITION

63°

KOIN 6

WATCHING OUT FOR YOU

WATCH NOW

NEWS

Remembrance Day: Jewish Holocaust rescuers want their story told

Dezi Heffner-Reiner points to her photo on a poster in memory of members of the Zionist youth movement underground in Hungary during the Holocaust at a ceremony …

by: The Associated Press
Posted: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST
Updated: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST

SHARE

KIBBUTZ HAZOREA, Israel (AP) — Just before Nazi Germany invaded Hungary in March 1944, Jewish youth leaders in the eastern European country jumped into action: They formed an underground network that in the coming months would save tens of thousands of fellow Jews from the gas chambers.

DAILY STAR

Hugh Hefner 'Pig Night' sex parties saw 'carloads' of women brought to Playboy Mansion

Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', according to upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy. It's claimed pimps brought 'carloads' of women to the mansion for the parties

Bookmark SHARE Comments 1

By Samantha Bartlett Assistant Editor, Social Newsdesk
10:40, 18 JAN 2022

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night' (Image: Wireimage)

Sign up for the Hot Topics newsletter for hot style and sex tips

More Newsletters

Enter your Email…

Subscribe

We use your sign-up to provide content in ways you've consented to and improve our understanding of you. This may include adverts from us and third parties based on our knowledge of you. More info

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', in upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy.

LOCAL NEWS

Convicted sex offender accused of attacking 3 females, grabbing child in Orange County

by: Marc Sternfield
Posted: Jun 6, 2024 / 08:56 AM PDT
Updated: Jun 6, 2024 / 03:48 PM PDT

SHARE

Police in Santa Ana, California, arrested a convicted sex offender who is accused of attacking three females and attempting to abduct a child on the same day.

Moises Hernandez, 30, faces felony counts of sexual penetration by force, indecent exposure, committing lewd acts on a child, battery and resisting arrest.

SHAVEI ISRAEL שבטי ישראל

SUPPORT US

RABBI ELISHA SALAS STARTS TO WORK WITH THE COMMUNITY OF ALICANTE, SPAIN

Rabbi Elisha Salas, the 'Shavei Israel' emissary in Portugal, is currently expanding his activities to neighboring Spain, the home for many Bnei Anousim communities. This week, he begins to support the community of Alicante on an ongoing basis.

Rabbi Salas and the community of Alicante have a long-standing common history of friendship and

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Search

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Home

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries +

Services down

The following jurisdiction(s) : [Georgia] are temporarily unavailable. Please try again later.

Showing Results For:

First Name: d, Last Name: stein, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/7/2024, 6:21:02 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 Next

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 5 of 32 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
HIGHBARGER, BRADLEY DOUGLAS	51	BOSE, BRADLEY D STEIN, DOUGLAS JEROME	310 W MAIN ST MT MORRIS, IL 61054 OGLE RESIDENTIAL
STEIN, DALE LESLIE	61	STEIN, DALE STEIN, SHORTY	262 MCMASTER RD SKANDIA, MI 49885 MARQUETTE RESIDENCE
STEIN, DAVID ARNOLD	65		2451 CORINTH AVE LOS ANGELES, CA 90064 LOS ANGELES RESIDENCE

RABBI ELIZRA SALAS STARTS TO WORK WITH THE COMMUNITY OF ALICANTE, SPAIN

ttacking 3 females,

der who is accused of attacking three ion by force, indecent exposure,

SUPPORT US

RABBI ELISHA SALAS STARTS TO WORK WITH THE COMMUNITY OF ALICANTE, SPAIN

Rabbi Elisha Salas, the 'Shavei Israel' emissary in Portugal, is currently expanding his activities to neighboring Spain, the home for many Bnei Anousim communities. This week, he begins to support the community of Alicante on an ongoing basis.

Rabbi Salas and the community of Alicante have a long-standing common history of friendship and

LOCAL NEWS

Convicted sex offender accused of attacking 3 females, grabbing child in Orange County

by: Marc Sternfield
Posted: Jun 6, 2024 / 08:56 AM PDT
Updated: Jun 6, 2024 / 03:48 PM PDT

SHARE

Police in Santa Ana, California, arrested a convicted sex offender who is accused of attacking three females and attempting to abduct a child on the same day.

Moises Hernandez, 30, faces felony counts of sexual penetration by force, indecent exposure, committing lewd acts on a child, battery and resisting arrest.

SUPPORT US

RABBI ELISHA SALAS STARTS TO WORK WITH THE COMMUNITY OF ALICANTE, SPAIN

Rabbi Elisha Salas, the 'Shavei Israel' emissary in Portugal, is currently expanding his activities to neighboring Spain, the home for many Bnei Anousim communities. This week, he begins to support the community of Alicante on an ongoing basis.

Rabbi Salas and the community of Alicante have a long-standing common history of friendship and

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Services down

Showing Results For:

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
HIGHBARGER, BRADLEY DOUGLAS	51	BOSE, BRADLEY D STEIN, DOUGLAS JEROME	310 W MAIN ST MT MORRIS, IL 61054 OGLE RESIDENTIAL
STEIN, DALE LESLIE	67	STEIN, DALE STEIN, SHORTY	262 MCMASTER RD SKANDIA, MI 49885 MARQUETTE RESIDENCE
STEIN, DAVID ARNOLD	65		2401 CORNITH AVE LOS ANGELES, CA 90064 LOS ANGELES RESIDENCE

nypost.com wants to

Show notifications

Entertainment TV Movies Music Celebrities

Get notifications from The New York Post

Click 'Sign Up' then 'Allow'

Dismiss Sign Up

Harbor cop

NYC Jewish family pummeled at 5th-grade commencement by...

Penis cancer surge across Docs reveal h

Use your G to sign in to

Belgium, Lady Gaga took Flynt's cheekiness to the next level. Wearing an homage to her infamous meat dress and responding to flack she'd gotten for putting on 25 pounds, Gaga climbed into a black leather meat grinder.

She announced to the audience, "In 1970, women would no longer be treated like meat. On the cover of Hustler magazine or at the Born This Way Ball, meat is precisely how we treat them."

ALERA

Lady Gaga Jumps Into a Meat Grinder on Stage | Splash News...

Watch later Share

Watch on YouTube

Search

Larry Flynt's Hustler: Most cont

https://nypost.com/2021/02/10/larry-flynts-hustler-most-controversial-nude-pics-ever

nypost.com wants to

Show notifications

Get notifications from The New York Post

Click 'Sign Up' then 'Allow'

Dismiss Sign Up

Entertainment TV Movies Music Celebrities

Harbor cop ...d Justin already...

NYC Jewish family pummeled at 5th-grade commencement by...

...'s brutal ...anti-Israel ...

Penis cancer surge across Docs reveal h...

Belgium, Lady Gaga took Flynt's cheekiness to the next level: Wearing an homage to her infamous meat dress and responding to flack she'd gotten for putting on 25 pounds, Gaga climbed into a black leather meat grinder.

She announced to the audience, "In 1970, women would no longer be treated like meat. On the cover of Hustler magazine or at the Born This Way Ball, meat is precisely how we treat them."

ALEXA

The designer who got

Sign in wit

Use your G... to sign in to...

No more passw... remember. Sign... simple and secu...

Hustler mag... Wednesday

Getty Images;

86°F Partly sunny

Search

11:24 AM 6/23/2024

James Earl Ray - Wikipedia

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/James_Earl_Ray

James Earl Ray

Early life and education

Initial convictions and first escape from prison

Post-first escape

Activity in early 1968

Search

1:30 AM
6/12/2024

Boy Club Join Now Log In

Home Episodes Models

Avraham Heffner

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel Aviv, October 2006

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Music School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor Ba'Moadim).

His first movie as director was Shes Dvar (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensibility" genre), films that were influenced from the Nouvelle Vague European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, Eat Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. Eat Where Is Daniel Wax? Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be an eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Habimah theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Little Drama, Oh Gaster (Small Country, Great Wars), is a cynical look at the ever-changing fears of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his lifetime of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held of the Israeli Film Archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Schorr, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Moshe Mizrahi and Doron Kavillio.

Hugh Hei
and Emb

Share full article

By Laura Manson
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español

Hugh Heffner, and entertain avatar, squirin them) well int
Mansion, in th

His death was Heffner the ma advertised the from America derided over t

SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt

Avraham Heffner
Biography
Influences

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91
The Last Word: Hugh Hefner
Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 60s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.
His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.
Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and

Playboy Plus · Magazine Archives · Playboy Shop · Playboy Club · Join Now · Log In

tv · Shows · Episodes · Models

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 1, Episode 1

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 1, Episode 2

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 1, Episode 3

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 1, Episode 4

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article · Talk · Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor Balavana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Klara, Ish Gadol (Small Country, Great Man), is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Schorr, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Koshashvili.

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article · 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love.
Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Massenzio
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and

Playboy Plus | Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

.tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 1

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 2

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 3

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 4

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor Bal.evana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love.
Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and

THE IRISH TIMES

Ireland

Heart disappears after jail death

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed...

Sat Jun 20 1998 - 01:00

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed during a post-mortem examination, a pathologist confirmed yesterday.

Now his family are believed to be questioning whether a heart sent later was the right one. Alistair Sinclair (47), from Selkirk, is believed to have hanged himself in jail in April after being arrested on suspicion of drug smuggling.

BBC NEWS

News in Audio | News in Video | Newyddion | Новости | Noticias | أخبار | 国际新闻 | 身語展

Front Page
World
UK
UK Politics
Business
Sci/Tech
Health
Education
Sport
Entertainment
Talking Point

On Air
Feedback
Low Graphics
Help

Sunday, December 20, 1998 Published at 16:21 GMT

World: Middle East

Israel sued over 'wrong heart'

Sinclair's brother made the claims in Tel Aviv

The family of a Scottish tourist who died in Israel say the authorities have returned the wrong heart.

Alistair Sinclair's relatives are suing Israel for one million shekels (£142,053) for removing his heart and thyroid for medical tests without their permission.

Sinclair, a musician from Selkirk in the Scottish borders, was arrested in Israel in April on his way out of the country. He was alleged to have been smuggling drugs.

Police found him the next morning hanging from his shoelaces in his cell. Police said it was suicide but Sinclair's family believe he was killed.

His body was returned for cremation, minus the heart which was removed during a post-mortem examination.

Transplant theory

A heart was later sent to the family, who ordered forensic tests in Glasgow to find out whether it matched genetic samples taken from the dead man's body before the funeral.

Speaking in Tel Aviv on Sunday, Sinclair's brother James said he believed Israel kept his brother's heart and may have even used it in an organ transplant.

Africa | Americas | Asia-Pacific | Europe | Middle East | South Asia

Internet Links

Israel's Ministry of Heal

The BBC is not responsible for the content of external internet sites.

In this section

Safety chief deplores crash speculation
Iraq oil-for-food aid extended
Israel demands soccer sex scandal inquiry
Israeli PM's plane in accident
Jordan police stop trade unionists prayers
New Israeli raid in southern Lebanon
New demand over PLO terror list
Earthquake hits Iran
New UN decision on Ira approved
Algerian president pledges reform

PC PALESTINE CHRONICLE

SEARCH ...

HOME > NEWS > Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

September 13, 2009

The controversy triggered by a Swedish newspaper report about Israel's harvesting of Palestinian organs has salted the wounds of many Palestinian families haunted by the memories of loved ones who suffered the same fate.

"They claimed they came to arrest him, but in truth they came to murder him, which they did," Walid Masalmeh, a resident of the small West Bank town of Dura, 10 kilometer west of Al-Khalil (Hebron), said about his relative Bassam.

In 1995, Bassam was killed by the Israeli army at the village of Beit Awwa, located near the former armistice line between the West Bank and what is now Israel.
"But 24 hours later they returned the body with a huge scar running from the chin to the lower abdomen," Walid remembers.

"They took all the vital organs, including the heart, kidneys, Liver. Then they stuffed the empty cavities with garbage before sewing him up."

Several other Palestinians gave a similar narrative, recounting how they received the bodies of their murdered relatives, mostly men in their early twenties, with vital organs taken away by the Israeli authorities.

THE IRISH TIMES

Ireland

Heart disappears after jail death

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed...

Sat Jun 20 1998 - 01:00

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed during a post-mortem examination, a pathologist confirmed yesterday.

Now his family are believed to be questioning whether a heart sent later was the right one. Alistair Sinclair (47), from Selkirk, is believed to have hanged himself in jail in April after being arrested on suspicion of drug smuggling.

BBC NEWS

Front Page
World
UK
UK Politics
Business
Sci/Tech
Health
Education
Sport
Entertainment
Talking Point

On Air
Feedback
Low Graphics
Help

Sunday, December 20, 1998 Published at 16:21 GMT

World: Middle East

Israel sued over 'wrong heart'

Sinclair's brother made the claims in Tel Aviv

The family of a Scottish tourist who died in Israel say the authorities have returned the wrong heart.

Alistair Sinclair's relatives are suing Israel for one million shekels (£142,053) for removing his heart and thyroid for medical tests without their permission.

Sinclair, a musician from Selkirk in the Scottish borders, was arrested in Israel in April on his way out of the country. He was alleged to have been smuggling drugs.

Police found him the next morning hanging from his shoelaces in his cell. Police said it was suicide but Sinclair's family believe he was killed.

His body was returned for cremation, minus the heart which was removed during a post-mortem examination.

Transplant theory

A heart was later sent to the family, who ordered forensic tests in Glasgow to find out whether it matched genetic samples taken from the dead man's body before the funeral.

Speaking in Tel Aviv on Sunday, Sinclair's brother James said he believed Israel kept his brother's heart and may have even used it in an organ transplant.

Africa | Americas | Asia Pacific | Europe | Middle East | South Asia

Internet Links

Israel's Ministry of Heal

The BBC is not responsible for the content of external internet sites.

In this section

Safety chief deplores crash speculation
Iraq oil-for-food aid extended
Israel demands soccer sex scandal inquiry
Israeli PM's plane in accident
Jordan police stop trade unionists prayers
New Israeli raid in southern Lebanon
New demand over PLO terror list
Earthquake hits Iran
New UN decision on Ira approved
Algerian president pledges reform

PALESTINE CHRONICLE

HOME › NEWS › Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

September 13, 2009

The controversy triggered by a Swedish newspaper report about Israel's harvesting of Palestinian organs has salted the wounds of many Palestinian families haunted by the memories of loved ones who suffered the same fate.

"They claimed they came to arrest him, but in truth they came to murder him, which they did," Walid Masalmeh, a resident of the small West Bank town of Dura, 10 kilometer west of Al-Khalil (Hebron), said about his relative Bassam.

In 1995, Bassam was killed by the Israeli army at the village of Beit Awwa, located near the former armistice line between the West Bank and what is now Israel.
"But 24 hours later they returned the body with a huge scar running from the chin to the lower abdomen," Walid remembers.

"They took all the vital organs, including the heart, kidneys, Liver. Then they stuffed the empty cavities with garbage before sewing him up."

Several other Palestinians gave a similar narrative, recounting how they received the bodies of their murdered relatives, mostly men in their early twenties, with vital organs taken away by the Israeli authorities.

THE IRISH TIMES

Ireland

Heart disappears after jail death

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed...

Sat Jun 20 1998 - 01:00

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed during a post-mortem examination, a pathologist confirmed yesterday.

Now his family are believed to be questioning whether a heart sent later was the right one. Alistair Sinclair (47), from Selkirk, is believed to have hanged himself in jail in April after being arrested on suspicion of drug smuggling.

BBC NEWS

News in Audio | News in Video | Newyddion | Новости | Noticias | أخبار | 国际新闻 | 与語版

Front Page
World
UK
UK Politics
Business
Sci/Tech
Health
Education
Sport
Entertainment
Talking Point

On Air
Feedback
Low Graphics
Help

Sunday, December 20, 1998 Published at 16:21 GMT

World: Middle East

Israel sued over 'wrong heart'

Sinclair's brother made the claims in Tel Aviv

The family of a Scottish tourist who died in Israel say the authorities have returned the wrong heart.

Alistair Sinclair's relatives are suing Israel for one million shekels (£142,053) for removing his heart and thyroid for medical tests without their permission.

Sinclair, a musician from Selkirk in the Scottish borders, was arrested in Israel in April on his way out of the country. He was alleged to have been smuggling drugs.

Police found him the next morning hanging from his shoelaces in his cell. Police said it was suicide but Sinclair's family believe he was killed.

His body was returned for cremation, minus the heart which was removed during a post-mortem examination.

Transplant theory

A heart was later sent to the family, who ordered forensic tests in Glasgow to find out whether it matched genetic samples taken from the dead man's body before the funeral.

Speaking in Tel Aviv on Sunday, Sinclair's brother James said he believed Israel kept his brother's heart and may have even used it in an organ transplant.

Africa | Americas | Asia-Pacific | Europe | Middle East | South Asia

Internet Links

Israel's Ministry of Healt

The BBC is not responsible for the content of external internet sites.

In this section

Safety chief deplores crash speculation
Iraq oil-for-food aid extended
Israel demands soccer sex scandal inquiry
Israeli PM's plane in accident
Jordan police stop trade unionists prayers
New Israeli raid in southern Lebanon
New demand over PLO terror list
Earthquake hits Iran
New UN decision on Ira approved
Algerian president pledges reform

PC PALESTINE CHRONICLE

SEARCH ...

HOME › NEWS › Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

September 13, 2009

The controversy triggered by a Swedish newspaper report about Israel's harvesting of Palestinian organs has salted the wounds of many Palestinian families haunted by the memories of loved ones who suffered the same fate.

"They claimed they came to arrest him, but in truth they came to murder him, which they did," Walid Masalmeh, a resident of the small West Bank town of Dura, 10 kilometer west of Al-Khalil (Hebron), said about his relative Bassam.

In 1995, Bassam was killed by the Israeli army at the village of Beit Awwa, located near the former armistice line between the West Bank and what is now Israel.
"But 24 hours later they returned the body with a huge scar running from the chin to the lower abdomen," Walid remembers.

"They took all the vital organs, including the heart, kidneys, Liver. Then they stuffed the empty cavities with garbage before sewing him up."

Several other Palestinians gave a similar narrative, recounting how they received the bodies of their murdered relatives, mostly men in their early twenties, with vital organs taken away by the Israeli authorities.

18+ Playboy Plus | 18+ Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | 18+ Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

.tv | Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

Playboy Plus | Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2
SexART
Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Klana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

Playboy Plus | Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

.tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español | 阅读简体中文版 | 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español | 阅读简体中文版 | 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

All Content | Images | Advanced Search | Register
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Browse | Workspace
This is a preview. Log in through your library.

JOURNAL ARTICLE

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin

Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 4 (SUMMER 2002), pp. 117-137 (21 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press

https://www.jstor.org/stable/42943489
Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin
University of Massachusetts Boston

"Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews, and the Politics of Assimilation" examines cultural representations of Jewish criminals over the course of the twentieth century. The study seeks to determine how the second successive generation following the mass immigration of Jews to the United States, from figures have been invented and described as a form of video or the possibility – and desirability – of Jewish assimilation into the American mainstream. Taking into consideration accounts of Jewish criminals ranging from newspaper stories and journalistic writing to movies, novels, and a popular TV series, the essay shows that the Jewish gangster has proved to be a figure flexible enough to accommodate and reflect changes in the social position and the cultural roles of Jews in America.

According to legend, Meyer Lansky, one of the longest lived and most powerful Jewish gangsters in U.S. history, once described his success in the following terms: "We're bigger than U.S. Steel." Whether Lansky ever actually said this – and whether it was literally true – to handle the point: Lansky's Jewish managers in currency not only the prominence of men such as Lansky, Dutch Schultz, Bugsy Siegel, Crip the Blood, and scores of others, but also offers a way of evaluating these men's success that is primarily American and deliberately commercial.

As very Jews, Lansky was right in principle. Jews in origin in the 1880s, in a period of increasing influence during Prohibition, the Jewish underworld flourished in glorious work in New York's Lower East Side, Chicago's West Side, or those in Detroit, Boston, Baltimore, and other places. During this time Jews contributed some of the United States' foremost bootleggers, racketeers, pandemics, and professional killers, culminating most famously in the Jewish Italian criminal syndicate dubbed "Murder, Inc." by contemporary journalists.

After a few lucrative and bloody decades, though, the heyday of the Jewish gangster was over. The end of Prohibition necessitated a restructuring of organized crime's business plan to emphasize other sources of income, gambling in particular. Furthermore, following World War I, Jews in large numbers were leaving the old urban neighborhoods that had given birth to the gangsters, a result of these two factors was that Jewish gangsters became much less visible or even were "legit." By the 1950s, Jewish gangsters had disappeared from the newspaper headlines and political dis-

JOURNAL ARTICLE

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway

Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 1, Special Issue: American Jews (FALL 2000), pp. 113-133 (21 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press

https://www.jstor.org/stable/42944820
Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway
Tel-Aviv University

During Prohibition (1920-1933), Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and management of organized crime in the United States. In the cities, Jewish gangs dominated illicit activities in association of American Gangsterdom, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York, and Philadelphia. One of the most successful of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang. The gang dealt in bootlegging, gambling, extortion, drugs, and murder, and developed a reputation for being more ruthless than Al Capone's mob in Chicago. The Purple's decades-long reign of terror ended when most of the gang's members either were in prison or were murdered by rivals.

After World War I, Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and management of organized crime in the United States. During the Prohibition era (1919-1933) 90 percent of the country's leading bootleggers were Jews, and Jewish criminals financed and directed much of the nation's narcotics traffic. Jewish gangs also dominated illicit activities in a number of America's largest cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York and Philadelphia.[1] Perhaps the most notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang.

[1] See Mark Haller, "Bootleggers and American Gambling, 1920-1950," in Gambling in America, Commission on the Review of National Policy Toward Gambling, Appendix 1 (Washington, D.C., 1976), p. 126; David Cunningham, Notorious Gangs, and Their Girl Friends, Mobsters Who Survived: An Oral History of Narcotics Use in America, 1920-1980 (Jefferson, 1989), pp. 119, n. 2, 186-188, 190-193, and U.S. Congress, Senate Special Committee to Investigate Organized Crime in Interstate Commerce, 81st Congress, 1st Session, 1950 Part 5; Stephen Fox, Blood and Power: Organized Crime in Twentieth Century America (New York, 1989), pp. 28-33; Albert Fried, The Rise and Fall of the Jewish Gangster in America (New York, 1980); Humbert S. Nelli, The Business of Crime: Italians and Syndicate Crime in the United States (New York, 1976), pp. 108-109, 170; Jonathan Kwitny, Vice Squad: Jewish Crime and the New York Jewish Community, 1909-1940 (Bloomington, 1965), especially pp. 140-156, and Robert Rockaway, But We Were Good to Our Mother: The Lives and Times of Jewish Gangsters (Jerusalem, 2000), pp. 7-42. See also Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), Files 92-2-93, 23-4441, 23-24000, 23-24000, and 23-24079. The FBI files are located at the Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters, Washington, D.C.

Los Zetas

27 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Los Zetas (pronounced [los ˈsetas], Spanish for "The Zs") is a Mexican criminal syndicate, known as one of the most dangerous of Mexico's drug cartels.[17][18][19][20][21] They are known for engaging in brutally violent "shock and awe" tactics such as beheadings, torture, and indiscriminate murder.[22] While primarily concerned with drug trafficking, the organization also runs profitable sex and gun rackets.[23] Los Zetas also operate through protection rackets, assassinations, extortion, kidnappings and other illegal activities.[24] The organization is based in Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, directly across the border from Laredo, Texas.[25] The origins of Los Zetas date back to the late 1990s, when commandos of the Mexican Army deserted their ranks and began working as the enforcement arm of the Gulf Cartel.[22][26] In February 2010, Los Zetas broke away and formed their own criminal organization, rivalling the Gulf Cartel.[27][28]

They were at one point Mexico's largest and most expansive drug cartel in terms of geographical presence, overtaking their rivals, the Sinaloa Cartel, in physical territory.[29] However, in recent times Los Zetas has become fragmented and seen its influence diminish.[30] As of March 2016, Grupo Bravo (Bravo Group) and Zetas Vieja Escuela (Old School Zetas) have formed an alliance with the Gulf Cartel against Cartel Del Noreste (Cartel of the Northeast).[31] In March 2019, Texas Republican congressman Chip Roy introduced a bill that would list the Cartel Del Noreste faction of Los Zetas, Jalisco New Generation Cartel and Gulf Cartel as foreign terrorist organizations. Former United States President Donald Trump had also expressed interest in designating cartels as terrorist organizations.[32] However such plans were halted at the request of Mexican President Andrés Manuel López Obrador.[33]

History [edit]

Etymology [edit]

Los Zetas was named after its first commander, Arturo Guzmán Decena, whose Federal Judicial

Los Zetas

Los Zetas

Founded by	Osiel Cárdenas Guillén,[1] Arturo Guzmán Decena
Founding location	Tamaulipas
Years active	1997–present
Territory	Mexico: Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, Veracruz, Tabasco, Campeche, Yucatán, Quintana Roo, San Luis Potosí, Chiapas, Puebla, Tlaxcala, Hidalgo, Guerrero, Oaxaca, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Michoacán, State of México Rest of North America: United States, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Costa Rica, Nicaragua South America: Colombia, Peru, Panama, and Venezuela[2] Europe: Balkans, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, European Union, Norway, Switzerland and Liechtenstein
Ethnicity	Multi-ethnic, but mainly Mexican and Latino
Membership (est.)	20,000-50,000
Leader(s)	Maxiley Barahona Nadales
Criminal activities	Drug trafficking, human trafficking arms trafficking, murder, rape, kidnapping, racketeering, extortion, arson, hacking, video piracy, prostitution, theft[3][4][5][6][7][8]
Allies	Tijuana Cartel Juárez Cartel 'Ndrangheta Los Mazatlecos

Theresa Musgrove
Let's Talk

Was Dickens' guilt about Fagin a product of his Jewish family?

Documentary evidence, including contemporary copies of the JC, sheds fascinating new light on Dicken's Jewishness

This vintage image features Charles Dickens in his study.

May 23, 2022 14:32

The recent BBC series Dodger, a "prequel" to one aspect of Charles Dickens's story of Oliver Twist, has revived once more the eternal controversy over the malevolent figure of Fagin, and this character's role in the dark history of antisemitism.

In 1863, some 25 years after the publication of Oliver Twist, Dickens was taken to task by Eliza Davis, a middle aged Jewish woman who persuaded him to make at least some reparation for the damage he had caused. Their correspondence, which was published soon after his death, is held to be responsible for his decision to remove much of the most offensive material in the novel, as well as for inspiring the inclusion of the saintly Jewish character Riah, in Our Mutual Friend.

Eliza Davis's influence on Dickens can be said to have resulted in the restoration of his reputation in the eyes of the Anglo-Jewish community – or at least in the eyes of the editors of the Jewish Chronicle. The paper had accused Dickens of "pandering to a vitiated taste" in creating Fagin, and being "a contaminating influence". Yet after his death, he was described in terms of real affection, indeed something approaching reverence, and accompanied by a genuine sense of loss. The JC observed that the novelist's work had struck a chord, "broke it to a pure echo and

David (Vladimir) Bermant

Rabbi Jonathan Romain

amazon Deliver to Israel All Search Amazon EN Hello, sign in Account & Lists Returns & Orders 0

All Medical Care Groceries Best Sellers Amazon Basics New Releases Prime Music Customer Service Today's Deals

Customer Review

orniel antonio rodriguez decena

★★★★★ Buen libro

Reviewed in the United States on January 25, 2020

Verified Purchase

Excelente libro . Algunos errores de traducción .

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Translate review to English

Product Details

Libro De Oraciones Hebreo- Espanol
by Sinai publication

★★★★☆ 4.5 out of 5

56 global ratings

5 star	79%
4 star	4%
3 star	8%
2 star	3%

(Top)
- Early life
- Criminal career
  - Early activities and prison
  - Early cocaine career
  - Norman's Cay
- Return to Colombia
  - Participation in the MAS
  - The National Latin Movement

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this Spanish name, the first or paternal surname is Lehder and the second or maternal family name is Rivas.

Carlos Enrique Lehder Rivas (born 7 September 1949)[9] is a Colombian and German former drug lord who was co-founder of the Medellín Cartel. Born to a German father and Colombian mother,[10] he was the first high-level drug trafficker extradited to the United States, after which he was released from prison in the United States after 33 years in 2020.[11][12] Originally from Armenia, Colombia, Lehder eventually ran a cocaine transport empire on Norman's Cay island, 210 miles (340 km) off the Florida coast in the central Bahamas.[11][13]

Lehder was one of the founding members of Muerte a Secuestradores ("MAS"), a paramilitary group whose focus was to retaliate against the kidnappings of cartel members and their families[11] by the guerrillas.[14][15][16][17] His motivation to join the MAS was to retaliate against the M-19 guerrilla movement, which, in November 1981, attempted to kidnap him for a ransom; Lehder managed to escape from the kidnappers, though he was shot in the leg.[18] He was one

Carlos Lehder

JHSC JEWISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY of SOUTH CAROLINA

CONTACT

PROJECTS ABOUT SUPPORT EVEN
BURIALS & MEMORIALS

Kahal Kadosh Beth Elohim (KKBE) Memori

90 Hasell Street Charleston, SC

Show 50 entries

Surname	LEHDER	LEHDER
Given Name(s)	Bernard	Helen SOMMERFIELD
Date of Birth	11-Jan-1922	07-Nov-1924
Date of Death (English)	26-Feb-2002	03-Jun-2010

first mobile hos | MASH units were

https://circulatingnow.nlm.nih....

NIH National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW
From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 | Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.
https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/spotlight/fj/catalog?utf8=%E2%9C%93&exhibit_id=fj&search_field=all_fields&q=

Circulate this:

DeBakey, Michael E. 190

https://www.encyclo...

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

What do you want to learn

› Arts › Educational magazines › DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

CENGAGE Views 1,802,219 Updated

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch: Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lingering topic of interest was his

Pioneers in Cardiothorac

https://blog.transoni...

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS | 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeja Dabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

AND DEVELOPED
, CONSULTANTS
WAR II

my Surgical Hospitals) were l Consultants in the first years ery survival rates by getting taken during the Korean war
f the surgical units, including ed.

Biography

encyclopedia-com

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch. Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lifelong topic of interest was his

Pioneers
Michael

By Susan Eym

Perhaps no a treatment of than Dr. Mich
innovator, me and humanita surgery, from educational a

Michael Ellis D
in Lake Charle 1908 to Leban parents Shake Dougherty (later DeBakey). He
B.S. and M.D.
Tulane Univer
Orleans. While which later be that led the w

DeBakey remo
Charity Hospit
at the Univers
Germany. Upo
faculty at Tula Ochsner, were cigarette smok 1948 appointe where he rem his 75-year ca

During World where he help stationing of d development saved countle
the U.S. Surge

NIH National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW
From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 | Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.
https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/spotlight/fj/catalog?utf8=%E2%9C%93&exhibit_id=fj&search_field=all_fields&q=

Circulate this:

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

What do you want to learn

› Arts › Educational magazines › DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

CENGAGE Views 1,882,219 Updated

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch: Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lingering topic of interest was his

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS | 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeja Dabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

This conceptual image shows a hypersonic scramjet propelling an orbital demonstrator above Virginia, photo credit: Sierra Nevada Corp.

A never-ending detonation could be the key to hypersonic flight and space planes that can seamlessly fly from Earth into orbit. And now, researchers have recreated the explosive phenomenon in the lab that could make it possible.

Detonations are a particularly powerful kind of explosion that move outward faster than the speed of sound. The massive explosion that rocked the port of Beirut in Lebanon last August was a detonation, and the widespread destruction it caused demonstrates the huge amounts of energy they can produce.

Scientists have long dreamed of building aircraft engines that can harness this energy; such craft could theoretically fly from New York to London in under an hour. But detonations are incredibly hard to control and typically last less than a microsecond, so no one has yet been able to make them a reality.

Related: The top 10 greatest explosions ever

Now, a team from the University of Central Florida has created an experimental setup that lets them sustain a detonation in a fixed position for several seconds, which the researchers say is a major step toward future hypersonic propulsion systems.

"What we're trying to do here is to control that detonation," said Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor of mechanical and aerospace engineering at the University of Central Florida, and lead author of a new paper on the research published Monday (May 10) in the journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

"We want to freeze it in space and harness that energy. Rather than it destroying buildings, as you saw in Lebanon, now I want to use it and produce thrust with it," Ahmed told Live Science. "If we can do that, we can travel super fast."

The breakthrough was built on decades of research into a theoretical propulsion system called an oblique detonation wave engine (ODWE). The concept works by funneling a mixture of air and fuel at hypersonic speeds (more than five times the speed of sound) toward a ramp, which creates a shock wave. This shock wave rapidly heats up the fuel-air mixture and causes it to detonate, blasting exhaust gases out from the back of the engine at high speed. The result: Lots of thrust.

UCF develops hypersonic pr

Breakthrough in Science: Hypersonic Wave

TAMPA - Aerospace engineers at the University attention for their successful experiments in hy lead to safe and stable hypersonic air travel in from Tampa to Los Angeles in a matter of minu

UCF has not built such a jet, but professor Kare here to stabilize a hypersonic engine in their lab

That's hypersonic as opposed to supersonic. Fo aircraft is designed to fly 620 miles per hour. U travel up to 14 times faster - up to 13,000 miles

"The first reaction was actually denial, not belie

For background, we've powered engines throug 200 years.

"When you have fuel injected in a car, it sprays graduate student Steven Schmalzer.

The fuel-air mixture burns, which releases energy, wh fly on a tangent slowly slow, controlled nuclear bom flame.

NEW ATLAS

Overlaid shadowgraph-chemiluminescence images show conditions in the test chamber in a non-reacting Mach 5 airflow, and then with fuel added to create the oblique detonation wave University of Central Florida

Compared to conditions measured with the main fuel injector turned off, peak pressure was 2.7 times higher behind the ramp, and the nozzle exit pressure was 10.5 times higher. The flow velocity was calculated at 99.7 percent of the theoretical detonation wave speed for a freely propagating, normal explosion in the given mixture.

"This is the first time a detonation has been shown to be stabilized experimentally," says Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor in UCF's Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering, and one of the authors on the new research paper. "We are finally able to hold the detonation in space in oblique detonation form. It's almost like freezing an intense explosion in physical space."

Where a detonation typically lasts only a matter of micro- or milliseconds, the UCF team managed to sustain this one experimentally until the fuel was turned off after around three seconds. That's long enough to prove the device works, Ahmed told LiveScience, and if the team kept the fuel flowing any longer it would've destroyed the quartz windows on the sides of the test section, which were there to allow optical imaging of the tests. Replacing the test section with something entirely metal-sided would allow the detonation to be sustained much longer.

LIVESCIENCE Subscribe

This conceptual image shows a hypersonic aircraft powered by an Oblique Detonation Wave Engine. (Image credit: Daniel A. Rosato, NASA)

A never-ending detonation could be the key to hypersonic flight and space planes that can seamlessly fly from Earth into orbit. And now, researchers have recreated the explosive phenomenon in the lab that could make it possible.

Detonations are a particularly powerful kind of explosion that move outward faster than the speed of sound. The massive explosion that rocked the port of Beirut in Lebanon last August was a detonation, and the widespread destruction it caused demonstrates the huge amounts of energy they can produce.

Scientists have long dreamed of building aircraft engines that can harness this energy; such craft could theoretically fly from New York to London in under an hour. But detonations are incredibly hard to control and typically last less than a microsecond, so no one has yet been able to make them a reality.

Related: The top 10 greatest explosions ever

Now, a team from the University of Central Florida has created an experimental setup that lets them sustain a detonation in a fixed position for several seconds, which the researchers say is a major step toward future hypersonic propulsion systems.

"What we're trying to do here is to control that detonation," said Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor of mechanical and aerospace engineering at the University of Central Florida, and lead author of a new paper on the research published Monday (May 10) in the journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

"We want to freeze it in space and harness that energy. Rather than it destroying buildings, as you saw in Lebanon, now I want to use it and produce thrust with it," Ahmed told Live Science. "If we can do that, we can travel super fast."

The breakthrough was built on decades of research into a theoretical propulsion system called an oblique detonation wave engine (ODWE). The concept works by funneling a mixture of air and fuel at hypersonic speeds (more than five times the speed of sound) toward a ramp, which creates a shock wave. This shock wave rapidly heats up the fuel-air mixture and causes it to detonate, blasting exhaust gasses out from the back of the engine at high speed. The result? Lots of thrust.

FOX13 TAMPA BAY News Weather Sports Good Day We Live Here Contests More

UCF develops breakthrough in hypersonic propulsion

By Craig Patrick | Published May 20, 2024 10:56pm EDT | Breakthroughs in Science | FOX 13 News |

Breakthrough in Science: Hypersonic travel
Craig Patrick reports

TAMPA - Aerospace engineers at the University of Central Florida are drawing global attention for their successful experiments in hypersonic propulsion. Their work would lead to safe and stabile hypersonic air travel in the future-- that could fly passengers from Tampa to Los Angeles in a matter of minutes.

UCF has not built such a jet, but professor Kareem Ahmed and his students figured out how to stabilize a hypersonic engine in their lab.

That's hypersonic as opposed to supersonic. For perspective, NASA's X-59 supersonic aircraft is designed to fly 925 miles per hour. UCF's hypersonic design could lead to air travel up to 14 times faster-- up to 13,000 miles per hour!

"The first reaction was actually denial, not believing it's actually real," said Dr. Ahmed.

For background, we've powered engines through internal combustion for more than 200 years.

"When you have fuel injector in a car, it sprays mist into your combustor," said UCF graduate student Steven Schroeder.

The fuel mist burns, which releases energy, which drives motion. We currently ride or fly on comparatively slow, controlled reactions, Dr. Ahmed likens to a burning candle flame.

DAILY NEWSLETTER

All the news you need to know, every day

Email Address

Sign Up

By clicking Sign Up, I confirm that I have read and agree to the Privacy Policy and Terms of Service

Trending

1 Florida named the shark attack capital of the world, again

2 Semi-truck, dump truck collide on I-75 in Sarasota County, causing major traffic delays

3 Former Tampa church employee agrees to plea deal after stealing more than $775,000 from church

4 Rapper's lyrics help lead to mail theft arrest in Venice: 'Imma show you what swiping will get you'

5 Large fire damages more than a dozen condos at Brandon complex

Latest headlines

Hurricane season begins June 1: Here's what you need to know

Large brush fire causes evacuations in North Port: Officials

News Weather Sports VERIFY

29-year-old convicted heroin trafficker in Lexington County gets 30 year prison sentence

Prosecutors report there have been more than 50 overdoses deaths linked to heroin since the suspect was caught in 2018.

WEST COLUMBIA, S.C. – A convicted drug trafficker will serve the next three decades in prison following a conviction handed up in Lexington County.

According to the 7th Circuit Solicitor's Office, 29-year-old Israel Mendoza-Cervantes was sentenced in a plea hearing court earlier in the week after being convicted of all charges brought against him.

The charges included trafficking heroin - 28 grams or more, possession of a weapon during the commission of a violent crime, and possession with intent to distribute heroin.

Cervantes-Mendoza pled guilty to the trafficking charges, as prescribed 15 year sentence for the possession with intent to distribute condition, and a consecutive five year sentence for the weapon charge which comes to 30 years in all.

The conviction stems from an investigation that began in September 2018 when Richland County Sheriff's Department narcotics agents shared information with the neighboring Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Cervantes was one of two suspects in the case who

An official website of the United States government
Here's how you know ›

United States Attorney's Office
District of Kansas

Menu

Search

PRESS RELEASE

Man sentenced in Kansas City drug ring tied to Mexican cartel

Friday, January 19, 2024

Share

For Immediate Release

U.S. Attorney's Office, District of Kansas

KANSAS CITY, KAN. – A man was sentenced to 100 months in prison for his involvement in a Kansas City metro-based drug trafficking ring with ties to Mexico.

According to court documents, Fulgeir Salazar-Belleda, 34, pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy to distribute and possess with intent to distribute 50 grams or more of methamphetamine.

Salazar-Belleda was part of an international drug trafficking ring operating with meth brought in from Mexico. The co-conspirators laundered illegal proceeds as wire payments declared for individuals in Mexico and California.

From August 2019 through May 2021, the Kansas Bureau of Investigation (KBI) and Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) led an undercover investigation which included multiple purchases of meth, heroin, and firearms. Ronel Alvarado-Calderon, 27, of Kansas City, Kansas, was the head of the operation, and Salazar-Belleda acted as a broker.

telaviv.cervantes.es

siele

¡APRENDE TURNÁN EN ESPAÑA!

DELE 2024

Ciclo de lectura

La Opinión

Greta Cervantes es una actriz mexicana que vive en Israel y tras los ataques de Hamás a ese país, se ha visto obligada a refugiarse en el búnker que tiene dentro de su casa, el cual mostró en un video que compartió en su cuenta de TikTok.

La artista mexicana de 29 años, quien ha participado en programas unitarios como "La Rosa de Guadalupe" y "Como dice El Dicho", hizo una pausa en su carrera para vivir junto a su esposo israelí Yarden Hassid, pero siempre ha estado en contacto con sus seguidores.

Greta Cervantes muestra su refugio en Israel

NEWS19 News Weather Sports VERIFY An unknown error has occurred

SPEAKING OF HEALTH ADVERTISE WITH US PLAYER OF THE WEEK STREET SQUAD LEXINGTON

CRIME

29-year-old convicted heroin trafficker in Lexington County gets 30 year prison sentence

Prosecutors report there have been more than 50 overdoses deaths linked to heroin since the suspect was caught in 2018.

Credit: AndreyPopov

Author: Christopher Buchanan
Published: 2:11 PM EDT August 27, 2022
Updated: 2:31 PM EDT August 27, 2022

WEST COLUMBIA, S.C. — A convicted drug trafficker will spend the next three decades in prison following a conviction handed up in Lexington County.

According to the 11th Circuit Solicitor's Office, 29-year-old Israel Mendoza Cervantes was sentenced in general sessions court earlier in the week after being convicted of all charges brought against him.

The charges included trafficking heroin - 28 grams or more, possession of a weapon during the commission of a violent crime, and possession with intent to distribute cocaine.

Cervantes received a 25-year sentence for the trafficking conviction, a concurrent 15-year sentence for the possession with intent to distribute conviction, and a consecutive five-year sentence for the weapon charge which came to 30 years in all.

The conviction stems from an investigation that began in September 2018 when Richland County Sheriff's Department narcotics agents shared information with the neighboring Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Cervantes was one of two suspects in the case who

Israel Mendoza Cervantes (Lexington County Detention Center)

By WIS News 10 Staff

An official website of the United States government
Here's how you know

United States Attorney's Office
District of Kansas

Menu

Search

PRESS RELEASE

Man sentenced in Kansas City drug ring tied to Mexican cartel

Friday, January 19, 2024

Share

For Immediate Release

U.S. Attorney's Office, District of Kansas

KANSAS CITY, KAN. – A man was sentenced to 102 months in prison for his involvement in a Kansas City metro-based drug trafficking ring with ties to Mexico.

According to court documents, Edwar Salazar-Belleda, 34, pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy to distribute and possess with intent to distribute 50 grams or more of methamphetamine.

Salazar-Belleda was part of an international drug trafficking ring operating with meth brought in from Mexico. The co-conspirators laundered illegal proceeds as wire payments destined for individuals in Mexico and California.

From August 2019 through May 2021, the Kansas Bureau of Investigation (KBI) and Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) led an undercover investigation which included multiple purchases of meth, heroin, and firearms. Romel Alvarado-Calderon, 27, of Kansas City, Kansas, was the head of the operation, and Salazar-Belleda acted as a broker.

telaviv.cervantes.es

siele

¡APRENDE ESPAÑOL EN ESPAÑA!

INSCRÍBETE YA DELE 2024

Instituto Cervantes Tel Aviv

Siguenos en Facebook

LEGADO SEFARDÍ

Club de lectura

La Opinión

Greta Cervantes es una actriz mexicana que vive en Israel y tras los ataques de Hamás a ese país, se ha visto obligada a refugiarse en el búnker que tiene dentro de su casa, el cual mostró en un video que compartió en su cuenta de TikTok.

La artista mexicana de 29 años, quien ha participado en programas unitarios como "La Rosa de Guadalupe" y "Como dice El Dicho", hizo una pausa en su carrera para vivir junto a su esposo israelí Yarden Hassid, pero siempre ha e[illegible] en contacto con sus seguidores.

Greta Cervantes muestra su refugio en Israel

NEWS19 News Weather Sports VERIFY WLTX An unknown error has occurred

SPEAKING OF HEALTH ADVERTISE WITH US PLAYER OF THE WEEK STREET SQUAD LEXINGTON

CRIME

29-year-old convicted heroin trafficker in Lexington County gets 30 year prison sentence

Prosecutors report there have been more than 50 overdoses deaths linked to heroin since the suspect was caught in 2018.

Credit: AndreyPopov

Author: Christopher Buchanan
Published: 2:11 PM EDT August 27, 2022
Updated: 2:31 PM EDT August 27, 2022

WEST COLUMBIA, S.C. — A convicted drug trafficker will spend the next three decades in prison following a conviction handed up in Lexington County.

According to the 11th Circuit Solicitor's Office, 29-year-old Israel Mendoza Cervantes was sentenced in general sessions court earlier in the week after being convicted of all charges brought against him.

The charges included trafficking heroin - 28 grams or more, possession of a weapon during the commission of a violent crime, and possession with intent to distribute cocaine.

Cervantes received a 25-year sentence for the trafficking conviction, a concurrent 15-year sentence for the possession with intent to distribute conviction, and a consecutive five-year sentence for the weapon charge which came to 30 years in all.

The conviction stems from an investigation that began in September 2018 when Richland County Sheriff's Department narcotics agents shared information with the neighboring Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Cervantes was one of two suspects in the case who

Israel Mendoza Cervantes (Lexington County Detention Center)

By WIS News 10 Staff

An official website of the United States government
Here's how you know

United States Attorney's Office
District of Kansas

Menu

Search

PRESS RELEASE

Man sentenced in Kansas City drug ring tied to Mexican cartel

Friday, January 19, 2024

Share

For Immediate Release

U.S. Attorney's Office, District of Kansas

KANSAS CITY, KAN. – A man was sentenced to 102 months in prison for his involvement in a Kansas City metro-based drug trafficking ring with ties to Mexico.

According to court documents, Edwar Salazar-Belleda, 34, pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy to distribute and possess with intent to distribute 50 grams or more of methamphetamine.

Salazar-Belleda was part of an international drug trafficking ring operating with meth brought in from Mexico. The co-conspirators laundered illegal proceeds as wire payments destined for individuals in Mexico and California.

From August 2019 through May 2021, the Kansas Bureau of Investigation (KBI) and Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) led an undercover investigation which included multiple purchases of meth, heroin, and firearms. Romel Alvarado-Calderon, 27, of Kansas City, Kansas, was the head of the operation, and Salazar-Belleda acted as a broker.

telaviv.cervantes.es

Instituto Cervantes Tel Aviv

La Opinión

Greta Cervantes es una actriz mexicana que vive en Israel y tras los ataques de Hamás a ese país, se ha visto obligada a refugiarse en el búnker que tiene dentro de su casa, el cual mostró en un video que compartió en su cuenta de TikTok.

La artista mexicana de 29 años, quien ha participado en programas unitarios como "La Rosa de Guadalupe" y "Como dice El Dicho", hizo una pausa en su carrera para vivir junto a su esposo israelí Yarden Hassid, pero siempre ha e[illegible] en contacto con sus seguidores.

Greta Cervantes muestra su refugio en Israel

NEWS19 News Weather Sports VERIFY WLTX19+ An unknown error has occurred

SPEAKING OF HEALTH ADVERTISE WITH US PLAYER OF THE WEEK STREET SQUAD LEXINGTON

CRIME

29-year-old convicted heroin trafficker in Lexington County gets 30 year prison sentence

Prosecutors report there have been more than 50 overdoses deaths linked to heroin since the suspect was caught in 2018.

Credit: AndreyPopov

Author: Christopher Buchanan
Published: 2:11 PM EDT August 27, 2022
Updated: 2:31 PM EDT August 27, 2022

WEST COLUMBIA, S.C. — A convicted drug trafficker will spend the next three decades in prison following a conviction handed up in Lexington County.

According to the 11th Circuit Solicitor's Office, 29-year-old Israel Mendoza Cervantes was sentenced in general sessions court earlier in the week after being convicted of all charges brought against him.

The charges included trafficking heroin - 28 grams or more, possession of a weapon during the commission of a violent crime, and possession with intent to distribute cocaine.

Cervantes received a 25-year sentence for the trafficking conviction, a concurrent 15-year sentence for the possession with intent to distribute conviction, and a consecutive five-year sentence for the weapon charge which came to 30 years in all.

The conviction stems from an investigation that began in September 2018 when Richland County Sheriff's Department narcotics agents shared information with the neighboring Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Cervantes was one of two suspects in the case who

Israel Mendoza Cervantes (Lexington County Detention Center)

By WIS News 10 Staff

An official website of the United States government
Here's how you know

United States Attorney's Office
District of Kansas

Menu

Search

PRESS RELEASE

Man sentenced in Kansas City drug ring tied to Mexican cartel

Friday, January 19, 2024

Share

For Immediate Release

U.S. Attorney's Office, District of Kansas

KANSAS CITY, KAN. – A man was sentenced to 102 months in prison for his involvement in a Kansas City metro-based drug trafficking ring with ties to Mexico.

According to court documents, Edwar Salazar-Belleda, 34, pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy to distribute and possess with intent to distribute 50 grams or more of methamphetamine.

Salazar-Belleda was part of an international drug trafficking ring operating with meth brought in from Mexico. The co-conspirators laundered illegal proceeds as wire payments destined for individuals in Mexico and California.

From August 2019 through May 2021, the Kansas Bureau of Investigation (KBI) and Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) led an undercover investigation which included multiple purchases of meth, heroin, and firearms. Romel Alvarado-Calderon, 27, of Kansas City, Kansas, was the head of the operation, and Salazar-Belleda acted as a broker.

telaviv.cervantes.es

Instituto Cervantes Tel Aviv

La Opinión

Greta Cervantes es una actriz mexicana que vive en Israel y tras los ataques de Hamás a ese país, se ha visto obligada a refugiarse en el búnker que tiene dentro de su casa, el cual mostró en un video que compartió en su cuenta de TikTok.

La artista mexicana de 29 años, quien ha participado en programas unitarios como "La Rosa de Guadalupe" y "Como dice El Dicho", hizo una pausa en su carrera para vivir junto a su esposo israelí Yarden Hassid, pero siempre ha e[illegible] en contacto con sus seguidores.

Greta Cervantes muestra su refugio en Israel

Dallas

U.S. Attorney's Office

February 11, 2015

Dallas County Man Admits to Producing Child Pornography

Henry F. Quintero Sentenced To 25 Years For Failure To Register As Sex Offender

Convicted for Sexual Assault of a Child in 1997

Ellis County and District Attorney Ann Montgomery announced that Henry F. Quintero, 52, of Bardwell, Texas, was sentenced to 25 years

Rafael Caro Quintero: The True Story Of The Narcos Drug Lord Still On The Run

Rafael Caro Quintero was one of Mexico's first and most powerful cartel leaders until he was suspected of orchestrating the brutal torture and murder of a DEA agent.

Early Life And Finding The Guadalajara Cartel

Yoel Quintero oficial

Kehilath HaDerekh's leadership is composed of three components:

1. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors are the governing body of the congregation. The Directors are:

- Maharat Erika Quintero, President
- Rab Andrew Friedman, Vice President
- David Frontera, Director
- Richard Snoddy, Director

2. ELDERS

Zakenim (Ordained Elders) along with our Shamashim (Deacons), are the servant-leaders. Under the guidance and authority of the Rabbi, provide prayer, teachings, classes, and lead ministries of the shul.

3. ACCOUNTABILITY BOARD

The Accountability Board exists as a body of accountability for the Congregation's Senior Leader. The Accountability Board may only be called upon by the rabbi for prayer or counsel as needed. The Board of Directors may contact the Accountability Board, only by unanimous vote (excepting the rabbi), if any matter of serious unimportant biblical sin should arise concerning the senior leader. The Accountability Board is empowered to have authority over the senior leader. Their identity is known only to the senior rabbi, and the board of directors.

WORLD Ashkelon Journal: The Ever-So-Quiet Exodus Israeli Color

Now that their situation could be openly discussed, they said, they could make public a demand. They wanted, as Mr. Carpio put it, "to be treated like Ethiopians" in terms of Israeli aid to immigrants. They wanted Israel to recognize that they had forfeited all their possessions -- "down to the drinking glasses," Mr. Carpio said -- to the Cuban Government. They had arrived with nothing but a few battered suitcases and 48 pounds of clothes per family. They want to receive an "immigration basket" of money and services, they said, just like the Ethiopians and, to a less generous extent, the Russians.

"Hey, they're complaining," commented Avraham Burg, the Speaker of the Parliament. "That means they've really become Israelis."

Ms. Quintero is not complaining, especially not after the Immigration Minister, Yuli Tamir, proposed late today that the Cubans get the help they are asking for.

Fingering her Star of David necklace, Ms. Quintero said she felt embarrassed that Israel's first glimpse of the Cuban community showed not their appreciation but their pent-up frustrations. She also regretted that Israelis might have got what she called a false impression that most of the Cubans see Israel as a way station to Miami or New York.

Television cameras could not help but focus today on one Cuban immigrant, Ester Mechulam, since she greeted them at the gate to the center. "Brooklyn, Brooklyn," she was saying. "I dream of Brooklyn."

In contrast, Ms. Quintero said she and her husband considered themselves "die-hard Zionist Jews," even though, like everyone else, they left primarily because the opportunity presented itself.

"We have well-established family in New York, in New Jersey," she said. "We don't want to join them. We want them to join us here."

Discover The Times. 7 days free, then $6.25 $1/week. Learn more ›

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

US NEWS

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extradited to the US.

CBS 47 FOX 30 ACTION NEWS JAX 95° WATCH

NEWS VIDEO FIRST ALERT WEATHER HURRICANE CENTER INVESTIGATES SPORTS ELECTION 2024 FAMILY FOCUS

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road

Action News Jax Now

Latest Local News

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

By ActionNewsJax.com News Staff

April 25, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

CNN World

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, also known as "El Nini" | United States Drug Enforcement Administration

(CNN) — A top Mexican cartel member known as "El Nini," who was one of America's most-wanted criminals for his alleged role in the fentanyl trade, has been extradited to the United States.

In a speech celebrating US-Mexico cooperation on the case, US President Joe Biden on Saturday hailed the extradition of El Nini – also known as Nestor Isidro Perez Salas – as "a good day for justice."

"El Nini played a prominent role in the notorious Sinaloa cartel, one of the deadliest drug trafficking enterprises in the world. The United States has charged him for his role in illicit fentanyl trafficking and for murdering, torturing, and kidnapping numerous rivals, witnesses, and others," Biden said, thanking Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

"Our governments will continue to work together to attack the fentanyl and synthetic drug epidemic that is killing so many people in our homelands and globally, and to bring to justice the criminals and organizations producing, smuggling, and selling these lethal poisons in both of our countries," he added.

According to the US Department of Justice, Nestor Isidro Perez Salas "was one of the Sinaloa cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins" and was involved in the "production and sale of fentanyl" in the United States.

Biden has previously described El Nini as one of America's most-wanted criminals. Perez Salas was charged in the US with cocaine and methamphetamine trafficking conspiracy, possession of machine guns and destructive devices, and witness retaliation in February 2023.

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

US NEWS

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extraidted to the US.

CBS 47 FOX 30 ACTION NEWS JAX 95° WATCH

NEWS VIDEO FIRST ALERT WEATHER HURRICANE CENTER INVESTIGATES SPORTS ELECTION 2024 FAMILY FOCUS

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road

Action News Jax Now

Latest Local News

Newscast covering important local topics and events

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

By ActionNewsJax.com News Staff

April 29, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

CNN World Watch Listen Live TV Sign in

World / Americas

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

By Lauren Koenig and Priscilla Alvarez, CNN

2 minute read · Updated 7:29 PM EDT, Sat May 25, 2024

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, also known as 'El Nini.' United States Drug Enforcement Administration

(CNN) — A top Mexican cartel member known as 'El Nini,' who was one of America's most-wanted criminals for his alleged role in the fentanyl trade, has been extradited to the United States.

In a speech celebrating US-Mexico cooperation on the case, US President Joe Biden on Saturday hailed the extradition of El Nini – also known as Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas – as "a good day for justice."

"El Nini played a prominent role in the notorious Sinaloa cartel, one of the deadliest drug trafficking enterprises in the world. The United States has charged him for his role in illicit fentanyl trafficking and for murdering, torturing, and kidnapping numerous rivals, witnesses, and others," Biden said, thanking Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

"Our governments will continue to work together to attack the fentanyl and synthetic drug epidemic that is killing so many people in our homelands and globally, and to bring to justice the criminals and organizations producing, smuggling, and selling these lethal poisons in both of our countries," he added.

According to the US Department of Justice, Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas "was one of the Sinaloa cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins" and was involved in the "production and sale of fentanyl" in the United States.

Biden has previously described El Nini as one of America's most-wanted criminals. Pérez Salas was charged in the US with cocaine and methamphetamine trafficking conspiracy, possession of machine guns and destructive devices, and witness retaliation in February 2021.

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

US NEWS

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extraidted to the US.

CBS 47 FOX 30 ACTION NEWS JAX 95° WATCH

NEWS VIDEO FIRST ALERT WEATHER HURRICANE CENTER INVESTIGATES SPORTS ELECTION 2024 FAMILY FOCUS

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road

Action News Jax Now

Latest Local News

Newscast covering important local topics and events

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

By ActionNewsJax.com News Staff

April 29, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

CNN World Watch Listen Live TV Sign in

World / Americas

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

By Lauren Koenig and Priscilla Alvarez, CNN

2 minute read · Updated 7:29 PM EDT, Sat May 25, 2024

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, also known as 'El Nini.' United States Drug Enforcement Administration

(CNN) — A top Mexican cartel member known as 'El Nini,' who was one of America's most-wanted criminals for his alleged role in the fentanyl trade, has been extradited to the United States.

In a speech celebrating US-Mexico cooperation on the case, US President Joe Biden on Saturday hailed the extradition of El Nini – also known as Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas – as "a good day for justice."

"El Nini played a prominent role in the notorious Sinaloa cartel, one of the deadliest drug trafficking enterprises in the world. The United States has charged him for his role in illicit fentanyl trafficking and for murdering, torturing, and kidnapping numerous rivals, witnesses, and others," Biden said, thanking Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

"Our governments will continue to work together to attack the fentanyl and synthetic drug epidemic that is killing so many people in our homelands and globally, and to bring to justice the criminals and organizations producing, smuggling, and selling these lethal poisons in both of our countries," he added.

According to the US Department of Justice, Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas "was one of the Sinaloa cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins" and was involved in the "production and sale of fentanyl" in the United States.

Biden has previously described El Nini as one of America's most-wanted criminals. Pérez Salas was charged in the US with cocaine and methamphetamine trafficking conspiracy, possession of machine guns and destructive devices, and witness retaliation in February 2021.

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Showing Results For:

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
SEVILLA, MANTADO RUBENO	51		6299 FINDE NAFEH DRIVE MAGON, 38049 TIPTON RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, ANDREW S	36	SEVILLA, ANDREW S SEVILLA, ANDREW SCOTT SEVILLA, DREW	N/A, 54332 BROWN RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, MICHAEL ANTHONY	37	SEVILLA, ANTHONY M	6464 HAWTHORNE ST GARDEN CITY, MI 48135 WAYNE RESIDENCE 8375 HIX RD WESTLAND, MI 48185 WAYNE EMPLOYMENT

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

The Civil War

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of the population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family members, who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North and S contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the men in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including name, ra in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Recor Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archives' on documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

sevilla

FILTER YOUR RESULTS

Showing 1 results for sevilla

Side

Confederacy (1)

State

Louisiana (1)

Sevilla, Valentin

Side: Confederacy
Location: Louisiana
Battle Unit: 5th Regiment, European Brigade, Lou (Spanish Regiment)

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden.[4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives.[4]

Early Life and Education

Janet Yellen, born on August 13, 1946, in the Bay Ridge neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York, to a Polish Jewish family has had a distinguished career in economics and public service.[3] Her mother, Anna Ruth, was an elementary school teacher a her father, Julius, was a doctor who treated patients out of the family's brownstone.[4] Demonstrating early academic prowes Yellen served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper a Fort Hamilton High School, where she graduated as valedictor in 1963. She graduated summa cum laude with an economics degree from Brown University in 1967 and went on to receive h Ph.D. from Yale University in 1971 under the guidance of Nobel laureate James Tobin.[4]

National Park Service

The Civil War

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of the adu population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family members, who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North and S contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the men in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including name, ra in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Recor Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archives' on documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

yellen

No results match your search query. Please try again.

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

An official form of the United States government. Provided by Touchpoints

An official website of the United States government, Department of Justice. Here's how you know

DRU SJODIN
NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Contact Us | Registries

Search

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Home

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries +

Showing Results For:

First Name: a, Last Name: sevilla, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/1/2024, 10:24:52 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
SEVILLA, ANASTACIO EUSEBIO	51		6299 FINDE NAIFEH DRIVE MASON, 38049 TIPTON RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, ANDREW S	36	SEVILLA, ANDREW S SEVILLA, ANDREW SCOTT SEVILLA, DREW	N/A, 54302 BROWN RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, MICHAEL ANTHONY	37	SEVILLA, ANTHONY M	6464 HAWTHORNE ST GARDEN CITY, MI 48135 WAYNE RESIDENCE 8375 HIX RD WESTLAND, MI 48185 WAYNE EMPLOYMENT

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of t population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family mem
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including na
in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archiv documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

sevilla

FILTER YOUR RESULTS

Showing 1 results for sevilla ... Sort by: Rele

Side
Confederacy (1)

State
Louisiana (1)

Sevilla, Valentin

Side: Confederacy
Location: Louisiana
Battle Unit: 5th Regiment, European Brigade, Lou
(Spanish Regiment)

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden.[4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives.[4]

Alison Czinkota / Investopedia

Early Life and Education

Janet Yellen, born on August 13, 1946, in the Bay Ridge neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York, to a Polish Jewish family has had a distinguished career in economics and public service [5] Her mother, Anna Ruth, was an elementary school teacher a her father, Julius, was a doctor who treated patients out of the family's brownstone.[4] Demonstrating early academic prowes Yellen served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper a Fort Hamilton High School, where she graduated as valedictori in 1963. She graduated summa cum laude with an economics degree from Brown University in 1967 and went on to receive h Ph.D. from Yale University in 1971 under the guidance of Nobel laureate James Tobin.[6]

Advertisement

National Park Service

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of the adu population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family members, o
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North and S
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the men
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including name, ra in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Recor
Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archives' ori documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

yellen

No results match your search query. Please try again.

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

An official form of the United States government. Provided by Touchpoints

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn
6. Phun Girls 7. Porn Site R
11. The Porn List 12. Terk Amate
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish
21. Home XXX Vid... 22. XXX Videos

4:07

Favorite Comments (1) Share Shout Download

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced #Hardcore #F

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 3

5,144 Views • 35 Favorites • 15 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups Galler

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn
6. Phun Girls 7. Entensity Craz...
11. The Porn List 12. Terk Amateur ...
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish Sit...
21. Home XXX Vid... 22. Homemade Fu...

6:33

Favorite Comments (1) Share Shout Download

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced #Hardcore #Fem POV

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 4

13,881 Views • 90 Favorites • 15 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups Galleri

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn 3. All
6. Phun Girls 7. Porn Site Revi... 8. Fa
11. Amateur-Bitch 12. Terk Amateur ... 13. Ho
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish Sit... 18. Ho
21. XXX Videos 22. Large Penis Su... 23. Ho

2:30 -7:38

Favorite Comments (2) Share Shout Download Add To

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 1

10,071 Views • 55 Favorites • 14 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Showing Results For:

The Civil War

Search For Soldiers

Sevilla, Valentin

Side: Confederacy

Location: Louisiana

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden.[4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives.[4]

Janet Yellen

Early Life and Education

Janet Yellen, born on August 13, 1946, in the Bay Ridge neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York, to a Polish Jewish family, has had a distinguished career in economics and public service.[5] Her mother, Anna Ruth, was an elementary school teacher; her father, Julius, was a doctor who treated patients out of the family's brownstone.[4] Demonstrating early academic prowess, Yellen served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper at Fort Hamilton High School, where she graduated as valedictorian in 1963. She graduated summa cum laude with an economics degree from Brown University in 1967 and went on to receive her Ph.D. from Yale University in 1971 under the guidance of Nobel laureate James Tobin.[6]

National Park Service

The Civil War

Search For Soldiers

No results match your search query. Please try again.

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

An official website of the United States government, Department of Justice. Here's how you know

DRU SJODIN
NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Contact Us | Registries

Search

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Home

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries +

Showing Results For:

First Name: a, Last Name: sevilla, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/1/2024, 10:24:52 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
SEVILLA, ANASTACIO EUSEBIO	51		6299 FINDE NAIFEH DRIVE MASON, 38049 TIPTON RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, ANDREW S	36	SEVILLA, ANDREW S SEVILLA, ANDREW SCOTT SEVILLA, DREW	N/A, 54302 BROWN RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, MICHAEL ANTHONY	37	SEVILLA, ANTHONY M	6464 HAWTHORNE ST GARDEN CITY, MI 48135 WAYNE RESIDENCE 8375 HIX RD WESTLAND, MI 48185 WAYNE EMPLOYMENT

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of t population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family mem
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including na
in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archiv documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

sevilla

FILTER YOUR RESULTS

Showing 1 results for sevilla ... Sort by: Rel

Side
Confederacy (1)

State
Louisiana (1)

Sevilla, Valentin

Side: Confederacy
Location: Louisiana
Battle Unit: 5th Regiment, European Brigade, Lou
(Spanish Regiment)

Was this page helpful?

- Yes
- No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden.[4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives.[4]

Alison Czinkota / Investopedia

Early Life and Education

Janet Yellen, born on August 13, 1946, in the Bay Ridge neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York, to a Polish Jewish family has had a distinguished career in economics and public service [5] Her mother, Anna Ruth, was an elementary school teacher a her father, Julius, was a doctor who treated patients out of the family's brownstone.[4] Demonstrating early academic prowes Yellen served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper a Fort Hamilton High School, where she graduated as valedictori in 1963. She graduated summa cum laude with an economics degree from Brown University in 1967 and went on to receive h Ph.D. from Yale University in 1971 under the guidance of Nobel laureate James Tobin.[6]

Advertisement

National Park Service

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of the ad population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family members, c
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North and S
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the men
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including name, ra in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Recor
Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archives' ori documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

yellen

No results match your search query. Please try again.

Was this page helpful?

- Yes
- No

An official form of the United States government. Provided by Touchpoints

NEW USERS ONLY | FREE SHIPPING & 20% OFF COUPON (YOUR FIRST ORDER) | FREE RETURNS (*CONDITIONS APPLY) | PRICE ADJUSTMENT (WITHIN 30 DAYS)

SHEIN

Sandals

Categories | New In | Sale | Women Clothing | Beachwear | Kids | Curve | Men Clothing | Shoes | Underwear

Home / Beauty & Health / Sexual Wellness / Sex Toys

Filter

Sort By Recommend | QuickShip | Black | Purple | More

Color

Material

- Polyester
- ABS
- PU Leather
- PVC
- Stainless Steel
- Stone

+ View More

Price Range (USD)

$ 0 — $ 314

1pc Soft Material Sexual ...
500+ sold recently
$2.64 -20%

Rose Toy Tongue Licking...
(1000+)
$6.40 -20%

Personal Vibrating Mass...
200+ sold recently
$6.60 -11%

Sex Toy Rose Vibrator F...
10k+ sold recently
$7.60 -4%

Bondaged Kit Adult Bed ...
(500+)
$2.60 -4%

NEW Rose Sex Toy Dild...
30+ sold recently
$13.50 -4%

Clit Sucker Clitoral Sucki...
(1000+)
$7.40 -4%

Clitoral Sucking Vibrator ...
100+ sold recently
$7.60 -4%

Powerful AV Vibrator Dild...
(000+)
$11.30 -5%

1pc Mini Powerful Silent ...
(500+)

20 Stalls Powerful Dildo ...
(100+)

1pc - Male Vagina Ass O...
(100+)

INFORMATION AND/OR BOOKING PHOTOGRAPHS. MORE...

Search Anyone's Arrest Records

First Name: Jill | Last Name: Sheinbaum | State: New Jersey | Search

Patrick James Shember — Asil Manzur Sheikh →

Home » US States » New Jersey » Bergen County, NJ » Jill A Sheinbaum

Jill A Sheinbaum - New Jersey

Date added: 3/11/2017

Arrest Record Search: Jill | Sheinbaum | NJ | Search — See Arrest Records

Reddit | Tweet | Share

No Mugshot

Who is Jill A Sheinbaum? Was Jill A Sheinbaum arrested? When was Jill A Sheinbaum arrested? What was Jill A Sheinbaum arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Jill A Sheinbaum? Are there more Mugshots of Jill A Sheinbaum? Is this the Jill A Sheinbaum you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Jill A Sheinbaum was booked in Bergen County, NJ

Mugshots.com : 150763067
Sex : F
Race : WHITE
Height : 5' 7" (1.70 m)
Weight : 130 lb (59 kg)
Hair Color : BROWN
Hair Length : LONG
Eye Color : HAZEL
Complexion : LIGHT SKINNED
DOB : 3/17/1966
Marital Status : DIVORCED
State ID : 316690E
FBI : N/A
INS : N/A
Citizen : United States of America
COB : United States of America
Booking Number : E-14251
Permanent ID : D-95512
Current Location : MAIN
County : SUPERIOR COURTS (all)
Current Housing Section : N/A
Current Housing Block : N/A
Current Housing Cell : N/A
Current Housing Bed : N/A
Commitment Date : 6/23/2014
Release Date : 6/23/2014
Alias Information : N/A
Detainer Information : N/A
Bond Information : N/A

Charge Information:
#1 #2 #3 #4 #5

Case #	355-12
Offense Date	05/01/2014
Code	2C:14-2A(1)
Description	AGGRAVATED SEXUAL ASSAULT
Grade
Degree

External Links:

Search Arrest Records
First Name: Jill
Last Name: Sheinbaum
State: New Jersey
✓ Search

Restock the essentials
Shop now

DOJ SMART
NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Showing Results For:
First Name: a, Last Name: baum, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/2/2024, 5:33:08 PM Central Daylight Time

Show All entries

Showing 1 to 17 of 17 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
BAUM, AARON MICHAEL	45	BAUM, AARON BAUM, MICHAEL	315 WOODS AVENUE NORTH LENWBURG, TN 37091 MARSHALL RESIDENCE
BAUM, ALVA JACOB	77	BAUM, AL BAUM, ALVA JACOB	9696 DIA ROUTE 14 MANDEREE, ND 58757 N/A RESIDENTIAL
BAUM, ANDREW JARROD	34		628 MARQUIS AVE MANSFIELD, OH 44907 RICHLAND RESIDENCE 1776 HARRINGTON MEMORIAL RD MANSFIELD, OH 44903 RICHLAND EMPLOYMENT
BAUM, ANDREW THOMAS	40	BAUM, ANDREW	SCI SMITHFIELD HUNTINGDON, PA 16652 HUNTINGDON RESIDENCE
BAUM, ANTHONY LEON	52	GILBERT, ANTHONY L LEON, ANTHONY LEON GILBERT, ANTHONY LEON BAUM, ANTHONY LEON	306 S S 3RD ST BURLINGTON, IA 52601 OUT OF STATE RESIDENTIAL
BAUM, ANTHONY LEON	52	BAUM, LEON A BAUM, TONY BAUM, ANTHONY L GILBERT, ANTHONY L GILBERT, TONY	150 MECHANIC ST MIDDLETOWN, IA 52638 DES MOINES RESIDENCE
BAUMANN, ANTHONY JOSEPH	64	BAUMAN, BIG B BAUMANN, ANTHONY NULL BAUMANN, ANTHONY J	6564 SE HORSESHOE DR UNING CLINTON COUNTY, MO 64048 N/A RESIDENTIAL 6925 RIVERVIEW AVE N/A, 66102 N/A EMPLOYMENT
BAUMBACH, ADAM DELOS			3107 MIDWAY ROAD

DONATE | US | ISRAEL | GLOBAL | NEW YORK | MORE

JEWISH TELEGRAPHIC AGENCY
EST 1917

TOP NEWS › 2024 Campus Protests

GLOBAL

Jewish liberal Claudia Sheinbaum likely to win this week's Mexican presidential election, polls show

BY PHILISSA CRAMER MAY 30, 2024 9:33 AM

Mexican presidential candidate Claudia Sheinbaum speaks during the 2024 closing campaign event in Mexico City, Mexico, May 29, 2024. (Br Obinuradon/MX/Getty Images)

ADVERTISEMENT

Claudia Sheinbaum vaulted to the top of the Mexican presidential polls last year when she was selected as the candidate for the left-wing Morena party, which has been led by the country's popular outgoing president, Andrés Manuel López Obrador.

Now, with the election days away, Sheinbaum's lead over Xóchitl Gálvez, her center-right opponent, has only widened — making it even more likely that the country will elect both its first woman president and the first leader from a Jewish family.

With a population of 127 million, Mexico would become the largest country by far to have a head of state with a Jewish background.

A former mayor of Mexico City, Sheinbaum is a respected scientist and political liberal who has taken credit for beating back crime. Unlike López Obrador, she comes from an affluent family, has lived in the United States and speaks English fluently. But she has been his political protege for decades, and her candidacy is widely understood as a way to extend his popular policies even though Mexico limits presidents to one term.

GET JTA'S DAILY BRIEFING
Enter your email address to get the latest headlines in your inbox.
Email Address | SUBSCRIBE
By submitting the above I agree to the Privacy policy of JTA.org

Sheinbaum's Jewish background has barely come up on the campaign trail. But she has always been open about her family's story: Sheinbaum had Ashkenazi grandparents who immigrated from Lithuania in the 1920s and Sephardic grandparents who left Sofia, Bulgaria, in the 1940s to escape the Holocaust. She has said that she celebrated holidays at her grandparents' houses, but at home with her political activist parents, her family life was secular.

Home to an estimated 50,000 Jews, Mexico is known for having multiple tight-knit Jewish communities, many of which don't mingle much. Sheinbaum — who married her second husband, Jesús María Tarriba, in November — is not part of any of them.

"She's not seen as, let's say, one of us," Daniel Fainstein, the dean of Jewish Studies at the Hebraica University in Mexico City, told the Jewish Telegraphic Agency last year. "I think that she's seen as someone from Jewish origins that is developing her work as an academician and then as a politician."

ADVERTISEMENT

Search Anyone's Arrest Records

Jil A Sheinbaum - New Jersey

See Arrest Records

No Mugshot

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Restock the essentials

Subscribe

tling' 10 Tampa

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article is about a martial arts organization. For the baseball pitch, see Shoots. For shoots, see Knobhand strike.

Shooto (Japanese: 修斗, Hepburn: shūtō) is a combat sport and mixed martial arts organization that is governed by the Shooto Association and the International Shooto Commission (ISC). Shooto was originally formed in 1985, first as a particular fighting system and then in 1989 as a mixed martial arts promotion. It is considered one of the first true mixed martial arts competitions, with its Vale Tudo Japan events being essential to the rise of Pride Fighting Championships and the development of modern MMA. Many Japanese MMA fighters had their start at Shooto and the organization still holds both professional and amateur tournaments.

As a fighting system, Shooto is considered a hybrid martial art derived from shoot wrestling. It is focused on all aspects of fighting: striking, stand-up grappling and ground fighting. Practitioners are referred to as shootera or shootists. Shooto rules have evolved with time, are different depending on the class. Class C and D are amateur and have more restricted rules more similar to their first events, while professional classes are now true mixed martial arts competitions.[1] Shooto weight classes are different from those of the United States Association of Boxing Commissions, which are used by most MMA promotions.[1][2][3]

Although modern Shooto is indistinguishable from MMA, in Japan promoters, fighters and fans still see it as its own standalone combat sport. While outside it is mostly seen as a system of MMA promotions, organizing events from amateur grassroots to professional levels.[4]

Etymology [edit]

The Japanese word "shooto" is derived from the English word "shoot". Although the word is of foreign origin, it is not written in katakana, but rather as an ateji (当て字). Its first kanji means "to practice or train oneself", and the second kanji is an alternative form of 道 in the word bakuto (博徒), meaning "bettor" or "seer".

Shooto

Native name	修斗
Formerly	Shin-kenpō
Company type	Private
Industry	Mixed martial arts
Predecessor	Universal Wrestling Federation
Founded	1985; 39 years ago
Founder	Satoshi Sato
Headquarters	Japan
Website	www.shooto-nina.com ↗

Shooto (修斗)

Focus	Hybrid
Hardness	Full-contact
Country of origin	Japan
Creator	Satoru Sayama
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama Yuki Nakai Rumina Sato Takanori Gomi Ryo Kawajiri Jake Shields Shinya Aoki
Ancestor arts	Shoot Wrestling, Catch Wrestling, Boxing, Kickboxing, Full-contact karate, Muay Thai, Sambo, Judo
Descendant arts	Mixed Martial Arts, Sekendo

SUNWOO
TV SHOWBIZ TE
Berikut beberap
1. Bakir Ahsan A
2. Dhiaurrahmar dan tampan ser
3. Dzihni Labib S berpikir
4. Fadhlan Arkh menjadi pembul
5. Ikhbar Shaqr
6. Istar Qasim M
7. Layyin Fakhru agama
8. Makarim Muk
9. Naqib Ibni Hu pemimpin
10. Robih Hakim
11. Tsabit Qaibu
12. Wahid Amza agama

Menu Tampa Bay Times Subscribe

NEWS

Japan honors its 'god of wrestling' 10 years after his quiet death in Tampa

Jody Simon of Tampa, alongside Japanese wrestler Osamu Nishimura, holds the ashes of Karl Istaz during a wrestling event honoring Istaz on July 24 in Tokyo. Istaz, known in Japan as wrestler Karl Gotch, was honored through the efforts of his former student Simon. [Courtesy of Jody Simon]

By Paul Guzzo Times staff

Published Aug. 2, 2017

Karl Istaz lived quietly in the Tampa area for 30 years. When he died, his friends followed his wishes and scattered his ashes without ceremony over Lake Keystone in Odessa.

But the European-born Istaz — or more to the point, his alter ego Karl Gotch — was revered across Japan as a hardnosed, professional wrestler whose style so influenced the industry that fans and peers nicknamed him "Kamisama," or deity.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article is about a martial arts organization. For the baseball pitch, see Shuuto. For shutō, see Knifehand strike.

Shooto (Japanese: 修斗, Hepburn: shūto) is a combat sport and mixed martial arts organization that is governed by the Shooto Association and the International Shooto Commission (ISC). Shooto was originally formed in 1985, first as a particular fighting system and then in 1989 as a mixed martial arts promotion. It is considered one of the first true mixed martial arts competitions, with its Vale Tudo Japan events being essential to the rise of Pride Fighting Championships and the development of modern MMA. Many Japanese MMA fighters had their start at Shooto and the organization still holds both professional and amateur tournaments.

As a fighting system, Shooto is considered a hybrid martial art derived from shoot wrestling. It is focused on all aspects of fighting: striking, stand-up grappling and ground fighting. Practitioners are referred to as shooters or shootists. Shooto rules have evolved with time, are different depending on the class, Class C and D are amateur and have more restricted rules more similar to their first events, while professional classes are now true mixed martial arts competitions.[1] Shooto weight classes are different from those of the United States Association of Boxing Commissions, which are used by most MMA promotions.[2][3][4]

Although modern Shooto is indistinguishable from MMA, in Japan promoters, fighters and fans still see it as its own standalone combat sport. While outside it is mostly seen as a system of MMA promotions, organizing events from amateur grassroots to professional levels.[5]

Shooto

Native name	修斗
Formerly	Shin-kakutōgi
Company type	Private
Industry	Mixed martial arts
Predecessor	Universal Wrestling Federation
Founded	1985; 39 years ago
Founder	Sayama Satoru
Headquarters	Japan
Website	www.shooto-mma.com

Shooto (修斗)

Focus	Hybrid
Hardness	Full-contact
Country of origin	Japan
Creator	Satoru Sayama
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama Yuki Nakai Rumina Sato Takanori Gomi Erik Paulson Jake Shields Shinya Aoki
Ancestor arts	Shoot Wrestling, Catch Wrestling, Boxing, Kickboxing, Full contact karate, Muay Thai, Sambo, Judo
Descendant arts	Mixed Martial Arts, Seikendo

Etymology [edit]

The Japanese word "shooto" is derived from the English word "shoot". Although the word is of foreign origin, it is not written in katakana, but rather as an ateji: 修斗. Its first kanji means "to practice or train in", and the second kanji is an alternative form of 戦 in the word tatakai (戦い, meaning "battle" or "war").

SUNWOO THE BOYZ
IDOL K-POP WIBU YANG AKAN MEMBAWAMU KE ISEKAI

TV SHOWBIZ TEKNO FOTO HOT CEK FAKTA ISLAMI CRYPTO LAINN

Ilustrasi Bayi/ Daria Shevtsova from Pexels

Berikut beberapa nama nama anak laki-laki islam arab 3 suku kata

1. Bakir Ahsan Amal: Laki-laki yang senantiasa lebih mendahului pe

2. Dhiaurrahman Zahid Hamizan: Laki-laki yang memiliki sinar yang dan tampan serta menjauhkan diri dari kemewahan

3. Dzihni Labib Salim: Laki-laki yang berakal sehat dan selamat da berpikir

4. Fadhlan Arkhan Fathurrahman: Laki-laki yang memiliki keutama menjadi pembuka kejayaan Yang Maha Pengasih

5. Ikhbar Shaqr Akhdan: Sahabat yang menyampaikan berita dan t

6. Istaz Qasim Maulana: Pendakwah yang elok dan dihormati

7. Layyin Fakhruddin Fashih: Laki-laki yang halus dan fasih bercak agama

8. Makarim Mulud Mubarak: Laki-laki mulia yang dilahirkan banyak

9. Naqib Ibni Humam: Anak laki-laki pemberani tinggi cita-citanya pemimpin

10. Robih Hakimul Karim: Laki-laki beruntung yang penuh bijaksan

11. Tsabit Qalbun Salim: Laki-laki yang hatinya istiqomah dan dama

12. Wahid Amzar Hafizuddin: Laki-laki pertama yang mulia serta m agama

Arrest Record Search
NEWS
Search Arrest Records
Search Arrest Records
Search Arrest Records
No Mugshot
Get 40% off
$80

Home » US States » Florida » Seminole County, FL » Gerson Yellen

Gerson Yellen - Florida

Date added: 7/25/2011

Arrest Record Search

Gerson Yellen FL Search

Arrest Record Search

Reddit Tweet Share

Who is Gerson Yellen? Was Gerson Yellen arrested? When was Gerson Yellen arrested? What was Gerson Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Gerson Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Gerson Yellen? Is this the Gerson Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Gerson Yellen was booked in Seminole County, FL

Mugshots.com : 2666377
Booking No : 200500000533
Name : GERSON YELLEN
Birth date : 11/07/1968
Location : O
Arrested By : US Marshall Orlando Office
Arrest Date : 1/11/2005
Account Balance : ($0.00)

Charges:

- FEDERAL INMATE

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link now.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. P and/or arrest records are previously published public records of indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivat detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mu way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actu committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convi status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which origi information.

The following Official Record of Gerson Yellen is being redistribu
and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal ri
was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 7/25/2011.

unconstitutional mugshot laws, exonerations, arrest records, FBI opinion

Arrest Record Search

First Name: Gerson
Last Name: Yellen
State: Florida
Search

Not the Gerson Yellen you were looking for? Click here to search for other Gerson Yellen

Show Facebook Widget

All original material at this website is subject to copyright. Certain materials reproduced on this website are believed to be in the p mugshots.com is not an allegation by mugshots.com that the person has in fact engaged in any of the activities or crimes for which th
to be factually true and correct, and is not intended to malign, disparage, or defame any person named herein. Mugshots.com ma
However, Mugshots.com does not guarantee the accuracy or timeliness of the content of this website. Opinions expressed in comment

We use third-party advertising companies to serve ads when you visit our Website. These companies may use information (not includ
to this and other Web sites in order to provide advertisements about goods and services of interest to you. If you would like more information about this prac information used by these companies, click here

mugshots.com definitions:

Arrest or booked: An arrest is the act of depriving a person of his or her liberty usually in relation to the purported investigation or prevention of crime and pre criminal justice system. The term is Anglo-Norman in origin and is related to the French word arrêt, meaning "stop".

The question whe of personal liberty
stop, citation issua

The word "arrest"

PROGRESSIVE
AMERICA'S #1 BOAT INSURANCE
Get a quote

Get 40% off
when you pay with Discover® rewards
Redeem Now
Up to $30 off. Limited-time offer, see terms.

NEWS

RECORD LAWS WERE WRITTEN TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC; BY INFORMING THE PUBLIC OF ARRESTS AND TO HOLD LAW ENFORCEMENT ACCOUNTABLE FOR THE HUMANE TREATMENT OF ARRESTEES. MOST OF, IF NOT ALL "MUGSHOT LAWS" WERE CRAFTED TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC FROM FEES FOR REMOVAL OF ONLINE MUGSHOTS AND TO FURTHER PROTECT THE PRESS FROM THOSE VERY SAME "MUGSHOT LAWS". TO BE CLEAR: WE DO NOT ACCEPT PAYMENT FOR REMOVAL OF ARREST INFORMATION AND/OR BOOKING PHOTOGRAPHS. MORE...

Search Arrest Records

First Name: Harry
Last Name: Yellen
State: Tennessee
Search

Lee Hollyfield — Daniel Aurther Hodge →

» US States » Tennessee » Blount County, TN » Harry Vaughn Yellen

y Vaughn Yellen - Tennessee

dded: 11/01/2012

Arrest Record Search

Harry Yellen TN Search

Search Arrest Records

Reddit Tweet Share

Who is Harry Vaughn Yellen? Was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested? When was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested? What was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Harry Vaughn Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Harry Vaughn Yellen? Is this the Harry Vaughn Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Harry Vaughn Yellen was booked in Blount County, TN

Mugshots.com : 24898858
Age : 20
Class : PRETRIAL FELON
Race : W
Sex : M
Intake Date : 11/01/2012

Charges:

TCA Description	FEDERAL SAFE HOUSING
Bond	$0
Court Date	Not Set

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link now.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Published mugshots and/or arrest records are previously published public records of: an arrest, an indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivation of liberty or a detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mugshots.com are in no way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actual crime has been committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are merely accusations. A defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convicted. For latest case status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which originally released the information.

The following Official Record of Harry Vaughn Yellen is being redistributed by Mugshots.com and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal rights. This Official Record was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 11/01/2012.

unconstitutional mugshot laws, exonerations, arrest records, FBI most wanted, editorials, opinion

Search Arrest Records

First Name: Harry
Last Name: Yellen
State: Tennessee
✓ Search

arch for

- ARREST HISTORY CHECK
- PUBLIC RECORDS LOOKUP
- ONLINE MUGSHOT LOOKUP
- FREE PUBLIC RECORDS

Home » US States » Idaho » Unsorted, ID » Frederick Yellen

Frederick Yellen - ROBBERY - Idaho

Date added: 2/17/2013

Arrest Record Search

Frederick Yellen ID Search

See Arrest Records

Reddit Tweet Share

No Mugshot

Who is Frederick Yellen? Was Frederick Yellen arrested? When was Frederick Yellen arrested? What was Frederick Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Frederick Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Frederick Yellen? Is this the Frederick Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Frederick Yellen was booked in Unsorted, ID for ROBBERY, PROPELLING BODILY FLUIDS

Mugshots.com : 47252992
ID : 19530
Name : FREDERICK YELLEN
Status : Inmate

Offenses:

#1 #2

Offense	ROBBERY
Sentencing County	ADA
Case No.	HCR21010
Sentence Satisfaction Date	07/01/2015

Mailing Address : IDAHO STATE CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTION UNIT 16 P.O. Box 14 Boise Idaho 83707
Phone Number : 208-336-0740
Parole Eligibility Date : N/A
Last Parole Activity : 10/17/2012

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link now.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Published mugshots and/or arrest record are previously published public records of: an arrest, an indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivation of liberty or a detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mugshots.com are in no way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actual crime has been committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are merely accusations. A defendant presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convicted. For latest case status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which originally released the information.

The following Official Record of Frederick Yellen is being redistributed by Mugshots.com and is protecte by constitutional, publishing, and other legal rights. This Official Record was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 2/17/2013.

unconstitutional mugshot laws, exonerations, arrest records, FBI most wanted, editorials, opinion

Arrest Record Search

First Name: Frederick
Last Name: Yellen
State: Idaho
Search

MICHELIN
UP TO $80 INSTANT SAVINGS
ONLINE SPECIAL
LIMITED TIME!

a mugshot of Frederick Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Frederick Yellen? Is this the Frederick Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Frederick Yellen was booked in Ada County, ID for TRESPASS-CRIMINAL, DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Mugshots.com : 162924534
Age : 52
Arresting Agency : Ada County Sheriff
JID Number : 01114514

Charges:

#1 #2

Severity	M
Charge	TRESPASS-CRIMINAL

BBC NEWS The drug lords behind Mexico's deadly turf war SHARE

Gulf cartel

The Gulf cartel is perhaps the oldest organised crime group in Mexico and is known for intimidating local civilians and being particularly violent.

Former allies of the Zetas, the Gulf cartel are now believed to be allied to the Sinaloa cartel.

Its founder Juan Guerra - considered to be the "godfather" of the cartel - smuggled alcohol into the US in the 1930s.

After the end of the Prohibition, Guerra, widely known as Don Juan, turned his focus to drug smuggling.

In the 1970s the command shifted to Guerra's nephew, Juan Garcia Abrego. He lead the lucrative business until his arrest and extradition to the US in 1996.

After a series of internal battles Osiel Cardenas took over. As his cartel grew, he created Los Zetas, a new armed wing made up of military defectors.

The two groups were collectively known as The Company.

Los Zetas was designed to protect the Gulf

Juan Garcia Abrego is led out of an FBI office after his arrest in 1996. (Reuters)

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas (July 16, 1910 – July 12, 2007) was a Mexican drug lord who founded and led the Gulf Cartel for over 50 years. He is often considered the "godfather" of U.S.-Mexico border cartels.[1]

He began his criminal career in the 1930s by smuggling alcohol from Mexico during the Prohibition in the United States. His later diversified to other cross-border smuggling activities. He is the uncle of Juan Garcia Abrego, his successor in the cartel and once considered Mexico's most wanted man.

Early life and career (edit)

During the 1930s he began smuggling whisky across the Mexico-United States border through south Texas. Through devised political manipulations he had fostered, Nepomuceno Guerra was able to control all the contraband moving across the Rio Grande.[2] In the 1970s, his nephew Juan Garcia Abrego began utilizing these connections and developed the organization into a drug cartel primarily dedicated to the more lucrative business of smuggling cocaine.[3]

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra

Nepomuceno Guerra pictured in his old

Born: Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas, July 16, 1910, Matamoros, Tamaulipas, Mexico

amazon

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

Jewish History

Reviewed in the United States on July 1, 2020

Verified Purchase

This book is in one word "Awesome". And should be mandatory to read to any Judeo-Christian believer.

Helpful Report Permalink

Customers who viewed items in your browsing history also viewed

amazon

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

WOW !! What a gem of a book

Reviewed in the United States on April 16, 2024

I have a lot of positive things to say about the high level content in this book. It is a great resource for a serious person wanting to learn Biblical Hebrew in depth. However, it could be somewhat hard for someone without some prior knowledge of the language. Once you have a basic understanding, you can use this book to enhance your knowledge. As a solution to it, I recommend "Basics of Biblical Hebrew" by Gary D. Pratico as a secondary resource when starting from scratch.

By getting hold of these two books, you will have all the necessary tools to navigate through the complexities of grammar, which other books tend to make unnecessarily difficult and discouraging. The best part is that you can easily purchase them at a very competitive price on Amazon.

Helpful Report Permalink

Beth Israel Lahey Health

« Search Results

Jose A. Abrego, MD

Internal Medicine | Primary Care

Patient Portal Save Contact

Practice Location(s)

Beth Israel Lahey Health Primary Care - 1000 Broadway
1000 Broadway
Chelsea, MA 02150
Driving Directions

Phone:
617-975-6200
Fax:
617-975-6151

ABC NEWS — The drug lords behind Mexico's deadly turf war — SHARE

Gulf cartel

The Gulf cartel is perhaps the oldest organised crime group in Mexico and is known for intimidating local civilians and being particularly violent.

Former allies of the Zetas, the Gulf cartel are now believed to be allied to the Sinaloa cartel.

Its founder Juan Guerra - considered to be the "godfather" of the cartel - smuggled alcohol into the US in the 1930s.

After the end of the Prohibition, Guerra, widely known as Don Juan, turned his focus to drug smuggling.

In the 1970s the command shifted to Guerra's nephew, Juan Garcia Abrego. He lead the lucrative business until his arrest and extradition to the US in 1996.

Juan Garcia Abrego is led out of an FBI office after his arrest in 1996. (Reuters)

After a series of internal battles Osiel Cardenas took over. As his cartel grew, he created Los Zetas, a new armed wing made up of military defectors.

The two groups were collectively known as The Company.

Los Zetas was designed to protect the Gulf

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas (July 18, 1915 – July 12, 2001) was a Mexican drug lord who founded and led the Gulf Cartel for over 50 years. He is often considered the "godfather" of U.S–Mexico border cartels.[2]

He began his criminal career in the 1930s by smuggling alcohol from Mexico during the Prohibition in the United States. He later diversified to other cross-border smuggling activities. He is the uncle of Juan Garcia Abrego, his successor in the cartel and once considered Mexico's most-wanted man.

Early life and career [edit]

During the 1930s he began smuggling whisky across the Mexico–United States border through south Texas. Through shrewd political connections he had fostered, Nepomuceno Guerra was able to control all the contraband moving across the Rio Grande. [2] In the 1970s, his nephew Juan Garcia Abrego began utilizing those connections and developed the organization into a drug cartel primarily dedicated to the more lucrative business of smuggling cocaine.[4]

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra

Nepomuceno Guerra pictured on far left

Born	Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas July 18, 1915 Matamoros, Tamaulipas, Mexico

amazon — Deliver to Israel — All — Search Amazon

All | Medical Care | Groceries | Best Sellers | Amazon Basics | New Releases | Prime

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

★★★★★ Jewish History

Reviewed in the United States on July 7, 2023

Verified Purchase

This book is in one word "Awesome". And should be mandatory to read to any Judeo-Christian believer.

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Customers who viewed items in your browsing history also viewed

amazon — Deliver to Israel — All — Search Amazon

All | Today's Deals | Customer Service | Registry | Gift Cards | Sell

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

★★★★★ WOW !! What a gem of a book

Reviewed in the United States on April 18, 2024

I have a lot of positive things to say about the high-level content in this book. It is a great resource for a serious person wanting to learn Biblical Hebrew in-depth. However, it could be somewhat hard for someone without some prior knowledge of the language. Once you have a basic understanding, you can use this book to enhance your knowledge. As a solution B, I recommend "Basics of Biblical Hebrew" by Gary D. Pratico as a secondary resource when starting from scratch.

By getting hold of these two books, you will have all the necessary tools to navigate through the complexities of grammar, which other books tend to make unnecessarily difficult and discouraging. The best part is that you can easily purchase them at a very competitive price on Amazon.

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Beth Israel Lahey Health

« Search Results

Jose A. Abrego, MD

Internal Medicine | Primary Care

Patient Portal | Save Contact

Practice Location(s)

Beth Israel Lahey Health Primary Care - 1000 Broadway
1000 Broadway
Chelsea, MA 02150
Driving Directions

Phone:
617-975-6200

Fax:
617-975-6151

There could be more victims of former Maple Valley day care employee accused of child sex abuse, attorney says

The former employee, Joseph Hefner, is charged with child rape, child molestation and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Author: Julie Calhoun
Published: 7:18 PM PDT June 6, 2024
Updated: 7:18 PM PDT June 6, 2024

SEATTLE -- A private law firm is now investigating a former Maple Valley day care worker charged with child rape, child molestation, and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Michael Pfau, an attorney with Pfau Cochran Vertetis Amala PLLC, is representing the family of the two girls in this case. Pfau said he was contacted by the victim's parents and since then, he has been contacted by additional parents.

Owney Madden

Owen Vincent "Owney" Madden (December 18, 1891 – April 24, 1965) was an American gangster who was a leading underworld figure in New York during Prohibition. Nicknamed "The Killer", he garnered a brutal reputation within street gangs and organized crime. He ran the Cotton Club in Manhattan and was a leading boxing promoter. After increased attention from law enforcement in New York, Madden moved to Hot Springs, Arkansas, in 1935, where he remained until his death from natural causes in 1965.

Owney Madden in 1931 New York City Police Department mugshot

Born	Owen Vincent Madden December 18, 1891 Leeds, England
Died	April 24, 1965 (aged 73) Hot Springs, Arkansas, US
Other names	The Killer
Occupation	Gangster

Early life

Owen Vincent Madden was born into a working-class family at 25 Somerset Road in Leeds, England, on December 18, 1891, the son of Irish immigrants Francis Madden and Mary Madden (née O'Neil).[1] After his mother became a widow she emigrated to New York to become a maid, leaving Owen and his sister Mary and brother Martin in a British orphanage. In 1896, Owen's mother saved up enough money to take them out of the orphanage and get them tickets to join her in New York City.[1][2]

The young Madden grew up on the streets of New York where he learned how to use blackjacks, knuckledusters, bats, pipes, knives, and stilettos. By the age of 21 years old, Madden had become the leader of a feared New York street gang known as the Gopher Gang. He earned the nickname, "The Killer" for getting away with two brazen murders. On September 6, 1911, he shot dead a gang member of the rival Hudson Dusters in the heart of Dusters' territory around 30th Street. In February 1912, Madden was on a crowded street trolley, arguing with a store clerk named William Henshaw about a woman, and Madden shot Henshaw in the face. Henshaw was not a gang member, and as he was dying, he named Owney Madden as his killer. Despite the police having his name, and there being eyewitnesses to the crime, Madden never went to trial—witnesses in both killings were intimidated, and disappeared.[3]

In 1915, he eventually went to prison for ordering the killing of William "Little Patsy Doyle" Moore, who had been waging a three-year vendetta campaign against Madden and the Gopher Gang.[3]

Prohibition

After serving seven years of a 10-to-20-year sentence for Moore's manslaughter,[3] Madden was released on parole in 1923. The Gopher Gang had broken up, and many members of his own faction were either in Sing Sing or working for bootlegging gangs.[4]

During this time, Madden employed a young friend as a personal driver. The driver, George Raft, later became a film star noted for his authentic portrayals of gangland figures.[5][6]

NYPD mug shot of Madden (first published in 1928)

The Cotton Club

Madden purchased the Club Deluxe from former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Johnson and reopened it a year later. Nightclub patrons flooded into Harlem from downtown Manhattan to catch performers such as Cab Calloway, Duke Ellington, Louis Armstrong, Lena Horne, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson, and the Nicholas Brothers. Madden and his partners, Big Bill and George Jean "Big Frenchy" Deblanga, also muscled their way into a piece of the exclusive Stork Club, where the influential gossip columnist Walter Winchell held court and everyone who was

The Irish Mob

The Dead Rabbits & The 1857 Riot

by Owen Forsuth | Feb 22, 2019 | Gangs, Early Characters, Gangs of New York, New York, Police, Politicians

A "HOLY ROLLER," MEMBER OF THE GANG.

The Dead Rabbits were a street gang in Lower Manhattan in the 1850s, whose members were mostly Irish. The were also named the "Mulberry Boys" and the "Mulberry Street Boys" by the NYPD because they did also operate along Mulberry Street in the Five Points.

They were founded by Shang Allen, one of many disgruntled gang members of the Roach Guards, they became the largest Irish crime organization at the time in mid 19th-century Manhattan, having well over 100 members when called up for action. Its said they got the name the Dead Rabbits after a dead rabbit was thrown into the center of the room during a gang meeting, some members of the gang saw this as an omen and formed an independent gang.

There could be more victims of former Maple Valley day care employee accused of child sex abuse, attorney says

The former employee, Joseph Hefner, is charged with child rape, child molestation and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Author: Julie Calhoun
Published: 7:18 PM PDT June 6, 2024
Updated: 7:18 PM PDT June 6, 2024

SEATTLE — A private law firm is now investigating a former Maple Valley day care worker charged with child rape, child molestation, and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Michael Pfau, an attorney with Pfau Cochran Vertetis Amala PLLC, is representing the family of the two girls in this case. Pfau said he was contacted by the victim's parents and since then, he has been contacted by additional parents.

Owney Madden

7 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Owney Madden

Owney Madden in 1931 New York City Police Department mugshot

Born	Owen Vincent Madden December 18, 1891 Leeds, England
Died	April 24, 1965 (aged 73) Hot Springs, Arkansas, US
Other names	The Killer
Occupation	Gangster

Owen Vincent "Owney" Madden (December 18, 1891 – April 24, 1965) was an American gangster who was a leading underworld figure in New York during Prohibition. Nicknamed "The Killer", he garnered a brutal reputation within street gangs and organized crime. He ran the Cotton Club in Manhattan and was a leading boxing promoter. After increased attention from law enforcement in New York, Madden moved to Hot Springs, Arkansas, in 1935, where he remained until his death from natural causes in 1965.

Early life [edit]

Owen Vincent Madden was born into a working-class family at 25 Somerset Road in Leeds, England, on December 18, 1891, the son of Irish immigrants Francis Madden and Mary Madden (née O'Neil.)[1] After his mother became a widow she emigrated to New York to become a maid, leaving Owen and his sister Mary and brother Martin in a British orphanage. In 1896, Owen's mother saved up enough money to take them out of the orphanage and get them tickets to join her in New York City.[1] [2]

The young Madden grew up on the streets of New York where he learned how to use blackjacks, knuckledusters, bats, pipes, knives, and stilettoes. By the age of 21 years old, Madden had become the leader of a feared New York street gang known as the Gopher Gang. He earned the nickname, "The Killer" for getting away with two brazen murders. On September 6, 1911, he shot dead a gang member of the rival Hudson Dusters in the heart of Dusters' territory around 30th Street. In February 1912, Madden was on a crowded street trolley, arguing with a store clerk named William Henshaw about a woman, and Madden shot Henshaw in the face. Henshaw was not a gang member, and as he was dying, he named Owney Madden as his killer. Despite the police having his name, and there being eyewitnesses to the crime, Madden never went to trial—witnesses in both killings were intimidated, and disappeared.[2]

In 1915, he eventually went to prison for ordering the killing of William "Little Patsy Doyle" Moore, who had been waging a three-year vendetta campaign against Madden and the Gopher Gang.[2]

Prohibition [edit]

After serving seven years of a 10-to-20-year sentence for Moore's manslaughter,[3] Madden was released on parole in 1923. The Gopher Gang had broken up, and many members of his own faction were either in Sing Sing or working for bootlegging gangs.[4]

NYPD mug shot of Madden (first published in 1926)

During this time, Madden employed a young friend as a personal driver. The driver, George Raft, later became a film star noted for his authentic portrayals of gangland figures.[5][6]

The Cotton Club [edit]

Madden purchased the Club Deluxe from former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Johnson and reopened it a year later. Nightclub patrons flooded into Harlem from downtown Manhattan to catch performers such as Cab Calloway, Duke Ellington, Louis Armstrong, Lena Horne, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson, and the Nicholas Brothers. Madden and his partners, Big Bill and George Jean "Big Frenchy" DeMange, also muscled their way into a piece of the exclusive Stork Club, where the influential gossip columnist Walter Winchell held court and everyone who was

The Irish Mob

The Dead Rabbits & The 1857 Riot

by Owen Forsyth | Feb 22, 2019 | Cops, Early Characters, Gangs of New York, New York, Police, Politicians

A "DEAD RABBIT," SKETCHED FROM LIFE.

The Dead Rabbits were a street gang in Lower Manhattan in the 1850s, whose members were mostly Irish. The were also named the "Mulberry Boys" and the "Mulberry Street Boys" by the NYPD because they did also operate along Mulberry Street in the Five Points.

They were founded by Shang Allen, one of many disgruntled gang members of the Roach Guards, they became the largest Irish crime organization at the time in mid 19th-century Manhattan, having well over 100 members when called up for action. Its said they got the name the Dead Rabbits after a dead rabbit was thrown into the center of the room during a gang meeting, some members of the gang saw this as an omen and formed an independent gang.

There could be more victims of former Maple Valley day care employee accused of child sex abuse, attorney says

The former employee, Joseph Hefner, is charged with child rape, child molestation and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Author: Julie Calhoun
Published: 7:18 PM PDT June 6, 2024
Updated: 7:18 PM PDT June 6, 2024

SEATTLE — A private law firm is now investigating a former Maple Valley day care worker charged with child rape, child molestation, and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Michael Pfau, an attorney with Pfau Cochran Vertetis Amala PLLC, is representing the family of the two girls in this case. Pfau said he was contacted by the victim's parents and since then, he has been contacted by additional parents.

Owney Madden

Owen Vincent "Owney" Madden (December 18, 1891 – April 24, 1965) was an American gangster who was a leading underworld figure in New York during Prohibition. Nicknamed "The Killer", he garnered a brutal reputation within street gangs and organized crime. He ran the Cotton Club in Manhattan and was a leading boxing promoter. After increased attention from law enforcement in New York, Madden moved to Hot Springs, Arkansas, in 1935, where he remained until his death from natural causes in 1965.

Owney Madden

Owney Madden in 1931 New York City Police Department mugshot

Born	Owen Vincent Madden December 18, 1891 Leeds, England
Died	April 24, 1965 (aged 73) Hot Springs, Arkansas, US
Other names	The Killer
Occupation	Gangster

Early life [edit]

Owen Vincent Madden was born into a working-class family at 25 Somerset Road in Leeds, England, on December 18, 1891, the son of Irish immigrants Francis Madden and Mary Madden (née O'Neil.)[1] After his mother became a widow she emigrated to New York to become a maid, leaving Owen and his sister Mary and brother Martin in a British orphanage. In 1896, Owen's mother saved up enough money to take them out of the orphanage and get them tickets to join her in New York City.[1] [2]

The young Madden grew up on the streets of New York where he learned how to use blackjacks, knuckledusters, bats, pipes, knives, and stilettoes. By the age of 21 years old, Madden had become the leader of a feared New York street gang known as the Gopher Gang. He earned the nickname, "The Killer" for getting away with two brazen murders. On September 6, 1911, he shot dead a gang member of the rival Hudson Dusters in the heart of Dusters' territory around 30th Street. In February 1912, Madden was on a crowded street trolley, arguing with a store clerk named William Henshaw about a woman, and Madden shot Henshaw in the face. Henshaw was not a gang member, and as he was dying, he named Owney Madden as his killer. Despite the police having his name, and there being eyewitnesses to the crime, Madden never went to trial—witnesses in both killings were intimidated, and disappeared.[2]

In 1915, he eventually went to prison for ordering the killing of William "Little Patsy Doyle" Moore, who had been waging a three-year vendetta campaign against Madden and the Gopher Gang.[2]

Prohibition [edit]

After serving seven years of a 10-to-20-year sentence for Moore's manslaughter,[3] Madden was released on parole in 1923. The Gopher Gang had broken up, and many members of his own faction were either in Sing Sing or working for bootlegging gangs.[4]

NYPD mug shot of Madden (first published in 1926)

During this time, Madden employed a young friend as a personal driver. The driver, George Raft, later became a film star noted for his authentic portrayals of gangland figures.[5][6]

The Cotton Club [edit]

Madden purchased the Club Deluxe from former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Johnson and reopened it a year later. Nightclub patrons flooded into Harlem from downtown Manhattan to catch performers such as Cab Calloway, Duke Ellington, Louis Armstrong, Lena Horne, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson, and the Nicholas Brothers. Madden and his partners, Big Bill and George Jean "Big Frenchy" DeMange, also muscled their way into a piece of the exclusive Stork Club, where the influential gossip columnist Walter Winchell held court and everyone who was

The Irish Mob

The Dead Rabbits & The 1857 Riot

by Owen Forsyth | Feb 22, 2019 | Cops, Early Characters, Gangs of New York, New York, Police, Politicians

A "DEAD RABBIT," SKETCHED FROM LIFE.

The Dead Rabbits were a street gang in Lower Manhattan in the 1850s, whose members were mostly Irish. The were also named the "Mulberry Boys" and the "Mulberry Street Boys" by the NYPD because they did also operate along Mulberry Street in the Five Points.

They were founded by Shang Allen, one of many disgruntled gang members of the Roach Guards, they became the largest Irish crime organization at the time in mid 19th-century Manhattan, having well over 100 members when called up for action. Its said they got the name the Dead Rabbits after a dead rabbit was thrown into the center of the room during a gang meeting, some members of the gang saw this as an omen and formed an independent gang.

The New York Times

NBC NEWS

Pioneering heart surgeon DeBakey dead at 9

Los Angeles Times

TIMES STAFF WRITER

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, a medical pioneer who was the driving force in developing the field of cardiac surgery, operating on more than 60,000 patients and developing medical technology that saved millions more, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday at Methodist Hospital in Houston, the Baylor College of Medicine and Methodist Hospital announced, without specifying the cause of death.

In his highly influential career, DeBakey performed the first coronary artery bypass surgery and the first carotid endarterectomy to prevent strokes. He developed the pump that is the key component of the heart-and-lung machines routinely used on patients during heart surgery and an artificial heart now used to keep patients alive while they wait for their own heart to improve.

He also developed the concept of the mobile army surgical hospital -- immortalized in the film

WIRED

Under the supervision of pioneering transplant surgeon Michael DeBakey, doctors perform the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant procedure.

American heart surgeon Dr. Michael E. DeBakey takes a break from surgery at Methodist Hospital in Houston. ASSOCIATED PRESS / BRETT COOPER

1968: Dr. Michael DeBakey supervises five teams of surgeons in the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant.

The heart, the lobe of one lung and both kidneys were removed by one team from a 20-year-old woman, the victim of a gunshot wound, and

The New York Times

the National Institutes of Health, which paid for the research to develop the artificial heart, ordered investigations. Baylor's report was not made public, and the government's findings cannot be found, spokeswomen for both institutions said.

The furor led Dr. Cooley to resign from Baylor.

The annals of medicine are full of feuds. For example, Dr. Robert C. Gallo, then of the National Cancer Institute in Bethesda, Md., and Dr. Luc Montagnier, of the Pasteur Institute in Paris, battled over credit for the discovery of the AIDS virus. The dispute had to be settled at the highest levels, with a resolution that declared the scientists co-discoverers coming in a joint announcement from President Ronald Reagan and the French prime minister, Jacques Chirac.

Still, the DeBakey-Cooley feud is hard to top, not just for longevity but for the sheer drama of the incident that set it off.

In those days, cardiac surgery was in many ways in its infancy. It was only in 1966 that Dr. DeBakey had been the first to successfully implant a partial artificial heart — a left ventricular assist device — in a patient.

Dr. Denton A. Cooley, top, outvanquished an artificial heart from the lab of Dr. Michael E. DeBakey and put it in Haskell Karp. Ralph Morse/Time Life Pictures/Getty Images; Ted Spiegel/Corbis

As Dr. DeBakey, Dr. Cooley and others succeeded in operations that only a rare predecessor had dared to try, the need for a device that could pump for both ventricles — a total artificial heart — became more apparent.

NBC NEWS POLITICS U.S. NEWS WORLD BUSINESS WATCH LIVE

HEALTH NEWS

Pioneering heart surgeon DeBakey dead at 99

Create your free profile or log in to save this article

July 15, 2008, 8:10 AM GMT / Source: The Associated Press

Dr. Michael DeBakey, the world-famous cardiovascular surgeon who pioneered such now-common procedures as bypass surgery and invented a host of devices to help heart patients, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday night at The Methodist Hospital in Houston from "natural causes," according to a statement issued early Saturday by Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital.

DeBakey counted world leaders among his patients and helped turn Baylor from a provincial school into one of the nation's great medical institutions.

"Dr. DeBakey's reputation brought many people into this institution, and he treated them all: heads of state, entertainers, businessmen and presidents, as well as people with no titles and no means," said Ron Girotto, president of The Methodist Hospital System.

Girotto said the surgeon "has improved the human condition and touched the lives of generations to come."

A lifetime of innovation

While still in medical school in 1932, he invented the roller pump, which became the major component of the heart-lung machine, beginning the era of open heart surgery. The machine takes over the function of the heart and lungs during surgery.

It was only a start of a lifetime of innovation. The surgical procedures that DeBakey developed once were the wonders of the medical world. Today, they are commonplace procedures in most hospitals.

He also was a pioneer in the effort to develop artificial hearts and heart pumps to assist patients waiting for transplants, and helped create more than 70 surgical instruments.

In early 2006, DeBakey underwent surgery for a damaged aorta – a procedure he had developed.

In a rare interview published later that year, DeBakey gave The New York Times details of the operation, performed when he was 97.

"It is a miracle," DeBakey said. "I really should not be here." He said he at first gambled that his aorta would heal on its own and refused to be admitted to a hospital, and was unresponsive and near death when his doctors and his wife decided to proceed, despite his vote. He then spent several months in the hospital

Los Angeles Times LOG IN

TIMES STAFF WRITER

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, a medical pioneer who was the driving force in developing the field of cardiac surgery, operating on more than 60,000 patients and developing medical technology that saved millions more, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday at Methodist Hospital in Houston, the Baylor College of Medicine and Methodist Hospital announced, without specifying the cause of death.

In his highly influential career, DeBakey performed the first coronary artery bypass surgery and the first carotid endarterectomy to prevent strokes. He developed the pump that is the key component of the heart-and-lung machines routinely used on patients during heart surgery and an artificial heart now used to keep patients alive while they wait for their own heart to improve.

He also developed the concept of the mobile army surgical hospital -- immortalized in the film

WIRED SUBSCRIBE

Under the supervision of pioneering transplant surgeon Michael DeBakey, doctors perform the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant procedure.

American heart surgeon Dr. Michael E. DeBakey takes a break from surgery at Methodist Hospital in Houston. ASSOCIATED PRESS / BRETT COOMER

1968: Dr. Michael DeBakey supervises five teams of surgeons in the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant.

The heart, the lobe of one lung and both kidneys were removed by one team from a 20-year-old woman, the victim of a gunshot wound, and

The New York Times

the National Institutes of Health, which paid for the research to develop the artificial heart, ordered investigations. Baylor's report was not made public, and the government's findings cannot be found, spokeswomen for both institutions said.

The furor led Dr. Cooley to resign from Baylor.

The annals of medicine are full of feuds. For example, Dr. Robert C. Gallo, then of the National Cancer Institute in Bethesda, Md., and Dr. Luc Montagnier, of the Pasteur Institute in Paris, battled over credit for the discovery of the AIDS virus. The dispute had to be settled at the highest levels, with a resolution that declared the scientists co-discoverers coming in a joint announcement from President Ronald Reagan and the French prime minister, Jacques Chirac.

Still, the DeBakey-Cooley feud is hard to top, not just for longevity but for the sheer drama of the incident that set it off.

In those days, cardiac surgery was in many ways in its infancy. It was only in 1966 that Dr. DeBakey had been the first to successfully implant a partial artificial heart — a left ventricular assist device — in a patient.

Dr. Denton A. Cooley, top, commandeered an artificial heart from the lab of Dr. Michael E. DeBakey and put it in Haskell Karp. Ralph Morse/Time Life Pictures/Getty Images; Ted Spiegel/Corbis

As Dr. DeBakey, Dr. Cooley and others succeeded in operations that only a rare predecessor had dared to try, the need for a device that could pump for both ventricles — a total artificial heart — became more apparent.

NBC NEWS POLITICS U.S. NEWS WORLD BUSINESS WATCH LIVE

HEALTH NEWS

Pioneering heart surgeon DeBakey dead at 99

SAVE Create your free profile or log in to save this article

July 12, 2008, 5:12 AM CDT / Source: The Associated Press

Dr. Michael DeBakey, the world-famous cardiovascular surgeon who pioneered such now-common procedures as bypass surgery and invented a host of devices to help heart patients, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday night at The Methodist Hospital in Houston from "natural causes," according to a statement issued early Saturday by Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital.

DeBakey counted world leaders among his patients and helped turn Baylor from a provincial school into one of the nation's great medical institutions.

"Dr. DeBakey's reputation brought many people into this institution, and he treated them all: heads of state, entertainers, businessmen and presidents, as well as people with no titles and no means," said Ron Girotto, president of The Methodist Hospital System.

Girotto said the surgeon "has improved the human condition and touched the lives of generations to come."

A lifetime of innovation

While still in medical school in 1932, he invented the roller pump, which became the major component of the heart-lung machine, beginning the era of open-heart surgery. The machine takes over the function of the heart and lungs during surgery.

It was only a start of a lifetime of innovation. The surgical procedures that DeBakey developed once were the wonders of the medical world. Today, they are commonplace procedures in most hospitals.

He also was a pioneer in the effort to develop artificial hearts and heart pumps to assist patients waiting for transplants, and helped create more than 70 surgical instruments.

In early 2006, DeBakey underwent surgery for a damaged aorta – a procedure he had developed.

In a rare interview published later that year, DeBakey gave The New York Times details of the operation, performed when he was 97.

"It is a miracle," DeBakey said. "I really should not be here." He said he at first gambled that his aorta would heal on its own and refused to be admitted to a hospital, and was unresponsive and near death when his doctors and his wife decided to proceed, despite his age. He then spent several months in the hospital

Los Angeles Times LOG IN

TIMES STAFF WRITER

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, a medical pioneer who was the driving force in developing the field of cardiac surgery, operating on more than 60,000 patients and developing medical technology that saved millions more, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday at Methodist Hospital in Houston, the Baylor College of Medicine and Methodist Hospital announced, without specifying the cause of death.

In his highly influential career, DeBakey performed the first coronary artery bypass surgery and the first carotid endarterectomy to prevent strokes. He developed the pump that is the key component of the heart-and-lung machines routinely used on patients during heart surgery and an artificial heart now used to keep patients alive while they wait for their own heart to improve.

He also developed the concept of the mobile army surgical hospital -- immortalized in the film

WIRED SUBSCRIBE

Under the supervision of pioneering transplant surgeon Michael DeBakey, doctors perform the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant procedure.

American heart surgeon Dr. Michael E. DeBakey takes a break from surgery at Methodist Hospital in Houston. ASSOCIATED PRESS / BRETT COOMER

1968: Dr. Michael DeBakey supervises five teams of surgeons in the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant.

The heart, the lobe of one lung and both kidneys were removed by one team from a 20-year-old woman, the victim of a gunshot wound, and

David Barksdale

1 language

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

David Barksdale (born Donise David Barksdale; May 24, 1947 – September 2, 1974), also known as King David, was an American gangster and activist from Chicago, Illinois. He was the founder of the Black Disciples. He and Larry Hoover (leader of the Gangster Disciples) decided to merge and create the Black Gangster Disciple Nation. Barksdale was seen as a hero in the black community because he operated a free breakfast program in Englewood to poor children, and he and the Disciples marched with Martin Luther King Jr. in Marquette Park. He was a close friend of Fred Hampton. Barksdale died on September 2, 1974, due to kidney failure, at the age of 27.

David Barksdale
Born	Donise David Barksdale May 24, 1947 Sallis, Mississippi, U.S.
Died	September 2, 1974 (aged 27) Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Resting place	Restvale Cemetery, Alsip, Illinois, U.S.
Other names	King David Emperor David David Jones
Known for	Street gang leader (Chicago)
Spouse	Yvonne Yarber (m. 1972–1974)
Children	3

Biography [edit]

Born Donise David Barksdale in Sallis, Mississippi to parents Virginia and Charlie Barksdale, he was the tenth of thirteen children. His family moved to Chicago, Illinois in 1957.

Within three years of arriving, Barksdale had become a notorious gang leader. By 1966, his gang absorbed several others and became known as the Black Disciple Nation. Tensions grew between the Black Disciples and other gangs such as the Black Stone Rangers. In the late 1960s, King David, as he had become known, started to lead the Black Disciples into activism, serving breakfast to school children and marching with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Marquette park during the Chicago Freedom Movement. He

The Gangster Disciple Nation (often abbreviated as the GD's; formally, GDN), also known as Growth & Development, is an African American street and prison gang founded by former rivals David Barksdale and Larry Hoover; in 1968, the two came together to form the Black Gangster Disciple Nation (BGDN).

Post-1989, following growing tension between the two over declining leadership, the BGDN split into two new factions—Hoover's Gangster Disciple Nation (GDN) and Barksdale's Black Disciple Nation (BDN), respectively. As of 2022, following Hoover's departure, the GDN has no full-time leadership role.[10]

Gangster Disciples
Founded	1969; 55 years ago (as the Black Gangster Disciple Nation) 1989; 35 years ago (as the Gangster Disciples)
Founder	Larry Hoover David Barksdale (BGDN)
Named after	Supreme Gangsters
Founding location	Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Years active	1969–present
Territory	Northeastern, Midwestern and Southeastern United States[1][2]
Ethnicity	Primarily African American[3]
Membership (est.)	25,000–50,000+[4]
Leader(s)	Larry Hoover (formerly)
Activities	Drug trafficking, assault, firearms violations, fraud,

History [edit]

The origins of the Gangster Disciples began in Englewood (in Chicago, Illinois's South Side) in 1964, when then 13-year-old Larry 'The King' Hoover joined a small street gang called the 'Supreme Gangsters'. For years, the Supreme Gangsters had an outstanding war with the Black Disciples Nation, led by David Barksdale.[11] In 1969, Hoover and Barksdale agreed to a ceasefire. This resulted in the creation of the Black Gangster Disciple Nation.[12][13] By the early 1970s, the BGDN dominated the Chicago gang scene. Barksdale died of kidney failure in 1974, at the age of 27.[14] Following his death, Hoover assumed full control of the Black Gangster Disciples.

Folks Nation [edit]

See also: Folk Nation

In 1978, the BGDN began to splinter into three distinct factions: Black Gangsters, Black Disciples and Gangster Disciples; however, Hoover (at the time incarcerated on murder charges) prevented it by quickly setting up an alliance of all street and prison gangs in his interest into one family.[15][16]

The alliance consisted of Gangster Disciples, Black Disciples, Satan Disciples, Latin Disciples, Spanish Gangster Disciples, Ambrose, Two-Two Boys, Two-Sixers/Two-Six Boys, Simon City Royals, North Side Insane Popes, La Raza, Spanish Cobras, Imperial Gangsters, Harrison Gents, and the Latin Eagles.

Expansions [edit]

The Gangster Disciples are active in over 100 cities and 50 states, predominantly in the Midwestern and

The Free Encyclopedia

William Barksdale

9 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For the member of the Virginia Senate, see William P. Barksdale. For the Confederate colonel, see William Barksdale Tabb.

William Barksdale (August 21, 1821 – July 3, 1863) was an American lawyer, newspaper editor, US Representative, and Confederate general in the American Civil War. He served four terms in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1853 to 1861.

A staunch secessionist, he was mortally wounded during the Battle of Gettysburg while he led his brigade's attack on Union forces not far from Cemetery Ridge.

William Barksdale

Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's 3rd district
In office	March 4, 1855 – January 21, 1861
Preceded by	Otho R. Singleton
Succeeded by	Henry Barry
Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's at-large district
In office	March 4, 1853 – March 3, 1855
Preceded by	no at-large seats
Succeeded by	3rd Congressional District established
Personal details
Born	August 21, 1821 Smyrna, Tennessee
Died	July 3, 1863 (aged 41) Gettysburg, Pennsylvania
Resting place	Greenwood Cemetery Jackson, Mississippi
Political party	Democratic
Profession	Newspaper editor, soldier

Early life [edit]

William Barksdale was born in Smyrna, Tennessee, the son of William Barksdale and Nancy Hervey Lester Barksdale. He was the older brother of Ethelbert Barksdale, who would serve in both the antebellum U.S. Congress and then the Confederate States Congress during the Civil War. He was of English ancestry which came to America during the 1600s.[1]

Barksdale graduated from the University of Nashville and practiced law in Mississippi from the age of 21, but gave up his practice to become the editor of the Columbus [Mississippi] Democrat, a pro-slavery newspaper.[2]

He enlisted in the 2nd Mississippi Infantry Regiment and served in the Mexican War as a captain and quartermaster, but often participated in the infantry fighting as well.

Congress [edit]

After the war, he became active in political causes, making a name for himself as an advocate of the Compromise of 1850. His political visibility and recent military service gave him a strong profile for a political

Powered by ShulCloud Login

We are a Warm and Welcoming Conservative Congregation In Pepper Pike, Ohio

B'nai Jeshurun Congregation

CALENDAR STREAMING MEMBERSHIP DONATIONS PHOTOS CONTACT COMMUNICAT

About Us Pray Learn Engage Giv

Mind-Full Shabbat Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale

Friday, March 29, 2024 • 19 Adar II 5784

6:00 PM - 9:00 PM
B'nai Jeshurun

Register

You must be logged into your ShulCloud account if you are not paying online and plan to mail or drop off your payment later. Please make sure you are logged in to your ShulCloud account. If you are unsure, look in the top right hand corner of the screen and it should say either Log In or Welcome "Your Name." If you need any assistance contact Joscelyn Harris.

Mind-Full Shabbat Dinner
Friday, March 29
7:00 pm
Antifragility: Working to Build Resilience in the Wake of Tragedy & Violence
Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale
Nationally recognized pediatric surgeon who launched a hospital-based violence intervention teen program.

Register by March 20 for earlybird
Registration will close on Monday, March 25

Shabbat Service • 6:00 pm
Dinner • 7:00 pm
Speaker with Q&A; • 8:00 pm

Eat and engage at Mind-Full Shabbat, an exciting way to connect with congregants, the community

David Barksdale

William Barksdale

Mind Full Shabbat featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale

Friday, March 29, 2024 • (9 Adar II 5784

Register

David Barksdale

1 language

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

David Barksdale (born Dorise David Barksdale; May 24, 1947 – September 2, 1974), also known as King David, was an American gangster and activist from Chicago, Illinois. He was the founder of the Black Disciples. He and Larry Hoover (leader of the Gangster Disciples) decided to merge and create the Black Gangster Disciple Nation. Barksdale was seen as a hero in the black community because he operated a free breakfast program in Englewood to poor children, and he and the Disciples marched with Martin Luther King Jr. in Marquette Park. He was a close friend of Fred Hampton. Barksdale died on September 2, 1974, due to kidney failure, at the age of 27.

David Barksdale
Born	Dorise David Barksdale May 24, 1947 Sallis, Mississippi, U.S.
Died	September 2, 1974 (aged 27) Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Resting place	Restvale Cemetery, Alsip, Illinois, U.S.
Other names	King David Emperor David David Jones
Known for	Street gang leader (Chicago)
Spouse	Yvonne Yarber (m. 1972–1974)
Children	3

Biography [edit]

Born Dorise David Barksdale in Sallis, Mississippi to parents Virginia and Charlie Barksdale, he was the tenth of thirteen children. His family moved to Chicago, Illinois in 1957.

Within three years of arriving, Barksdale had become a notorious gang leader. By 1966, his gang absorbed several others and became known as the Black Disciple Nation. Tensions grew between the Black Disciples and other gangs such as the Black Stone Rangers. In the late 1960s, King David, as he had become known, started to lead the Black Disciples into activism, serving breakfast to school children and marching with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Marquette park during the Chicago Freedom Movement. He

The Gangster Disciple Nation (often abbreviated as the GD's; formally, GDN; also known as Growth & Development, is an African American street and prison gang founded by former rivals David Barksdale and Larry Hoover. In 1968, the two came together to form the Black Gangster Disciple Nation (BGDN).

Post-1989, following growing tension between the two over declining leadership, the BGDN split into two new factions—Hoover's Gangster Disciple Nation (GDN) and Barksdale's Black Disciple Nation (BDN), respectively. As of 2022, following Hoover's departure, the GDN has no full-time leadership role.[1]

Gangster Disciples
Founded	1969; 55 years ago (as the Black Gangster Disciple Nation) 1989; 35 years ago (as the Gangster Disciples)
Founder	Larry Hoover David Barksdale (BGDN)
Named after	Supreme Gangsters
Founding location	Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Years active	1969–present
Territory	Northeastern, Midwestern and Southeastern United States[2][3]
Ethnicity	Primarily African American[4]
Membership (est.)	25,000–50,000+[5]
Leader(s)	Larry Hoover (formerly)
Activities	Drug trafficking, assault, firearms violations, fraud,

History [edit]

The origins of the Gangster Disciples began in Englewood (in Chicago, Illinois's South Side) in 1964, when then 13-year-old Larry "The King" Hoover joined a small street gang called the "Supreme Gangsters". For years, the Supreme Gangsters had an outstanding war with the Black Disciples Nation, led by David Barksdale.[7] In 1969, Hoover and Barksdale agreed to a ceasefire. This resulted in the creation of the Black Gangster Disciple Nation.[1][2][3] By the early 1970s, the BGDN dominated the Chicago gang scene. Barksdale died of kidney failure in 1974, at the age of 27.[10] Following his death, Hoover assumed full control of the Black Gangster Disciples.

Folks Nation [edit]

See also: Folk Nation

In 1978, the BGDN began to splinter into three distinct factions: Black Gangsters, Black Disciples and Gangster Disciples; however, Hoover (at the time incarcerated on murder charges) prevented it by quickly setting up an alliance of all street and prison gangs in his interest into one family.[11][12]

The alliance consisted of Gangster Disciples, Black Disciples, Satan Disciples, Latin Disciples, Spanish Gangster Disciples, Ambrose, Two-Two Boys, Two-Sixers/Two-Six Boys, Simon City Royals, North Side Insane Popes, La Raza, Spanish Cobras, Imperial Gangsters, Harrison Gents, and the Latin Eagles.

Expansions [edit]

The Gangster Disciples are active in over 100 cities and 50 states, predominantly in the Midwestern and

William Barksdale

9 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For the member of the Virginia Senate, see William P. Barksdale. For the Confederate colonel see William Barksdale Tabb.

William Barksdale (August 21, 1821 – July 3, 1863) was an American lawyer, newspaper editor, US Representative, and Confederate general in the American Civil War. He served four terms in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1853 to 1861.

A staunch secessionist, he was mortally wounded during the Battle of Gettysburg while he led his brigade's attack on Union forces not far from Cemetery Ridge.

William Barksdale
Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's 3rd district
In office	March 4, 1859 – January 21, 1861
Preceded by	Otho R. Singleton
Succeeded by	Henry Bary
Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's at-large district
In office	March 4, 1853 – March 3, 1855
Preceded by	No at-large seats
Succeeded by	3rd Congressional District established
Personal details
Born	August 21, 1821 Smyrna, Tennessee
Died	July 3, 1863 (aged 41) Gettysburg, Pennsylvania
Resting place	Greenwood Cemetery Jackson, Mississippi
Political party	Democratic
Profession	Newspaper editor, soldier

Early life [edit]

William Barksdale was born in Smyrna, Tennessee, the son of William Barksdale and Nancy Harvey Lester Barksdale. He was the older brother of Ethelbert Barksdale, who would serve in both the antebellum U.S. Congress and then the Confederate States Congress during the Civil War. He was of English ancestry which came to America during the 1600s.[1]

Barksdale graduated from the University of Nashville and practiced law in Mississippi from the age of 21, but gave up his practice to become the editor of the Columbus [Mississippi] Democrat, a pro-slavery newspaper.[2]

He enlisted in the 2nd Mississippi Infantry Regiment and served in the Mexican War as a captain and quartermaster, but often participated in the infantry fighting as well.

Congress [edit]

After the war, he became active in political causes, making a name for himself as an advocate of the Compromise of 1850. His political visibility and recent military service gave him a strong profile for a political

We are a Warm and Welcoming Conservative Congregation in Pepper Pike, Ohio

About Us Pray Learn Engage Give

Mind-Full Shabbat Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale

Friday, March 29, 2024 • 19 Adar II 5784

6:00 PM - 9:00 PM
B'nai Jeshurun

Register

You must be logged into your ShulCloud account if you are not paying online and plan to mail or drop off your payment later. Please make sure you are logged in to your ShulCloud account. If you are unsure, look in the top right hand corner of the screen and it should say either Log In or Welcome "Your Name." If you need any assistance contact Jennifer Harris.

Mind-Full Shabbat Dinner
Friday, March 29
7:00 pm
Antifragility: Working to Build Resilience in the Wake of Tragedy & Violence
Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale
Nationally recognized pediatric surgeon who launched a hospital-based violence intervention team program.

Register by March 20 for earlybird
Registration will close on Monday, March 25

Shabbat Service • 6:00 pm
Dinner • 7:00 pm
Speaker with Q&A; • 8:00 pm

Eat and engage at Mind-Full Shabbat, an exciting way to connect with congregants, the community

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest

51.159.194.214/videos/5...

Tor

PORNIA

France | Zen Porn | HD | Big Tits | Brunette | MILF | Tattoo | Big Cock | Big Ass | Inc

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Isiah Maxwell

1 months ago

Advertisement

0 0 719 Comments

Serbia | Bos | Wayb

https://web.archive.org/web/201 90%

NudeVista

tubes | models | directory

Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevance, newest, popularity, duration or random

Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian Bosnia Macedonian

Cute Bosnian Immature Love
tubecup, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, 2 months ago

Hot Bosnian American
eporner, bosnia and herzegovina, usa, co-ed, flashing, 3 months ago

Bosnian First Time
tube8, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, amateur, homemade,

Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend
mylust, riding, girlfriend, bosnia and herzegovina, brunettes, 8 months ago

Hg - Serbians Gang Rape Their Bosnian Sex Slave
Tube: motherless
Tags: slave, serbia, bosnia and herzegovina, violence, dominance, homemade, brunettes
Added 9 months ago
Report problem

Bosnian Amela Receives Tired
hclips, bosnia and herzegovina, amateur, hardcore, 9 months ago

82°F Sunny | Search | 4:40 PM 6/11/2024

PORNIA

France | Zen Porn | HD | Big Tits | Brunette | MILF | Tattoo | Big Cock | Big Ass

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Isiah Maxwell

1 months ago

AD Watch Premium Video (FULL)

02:51 / 21:31

Cherokee

Advertisement

0 0 719 Comments

NudeVista

tubes | models | directory

Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevance, newest, popularity, duration or random

Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian Bosnia Macedonian

30:34

Cute Bosnian Immature Love

tubecup, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, 2 months ago

11:25

Hot Bosnian American

xxxtreme, bosnia and herzegovina, usa, cicnd, flashing, 3 months ago

04:10

Bosnian First Time

kabell, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, amateur, homemade,

29:55

Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend

mature, riding, girlfriend, bosnia and herzegovina, brunettes, 6 months ago

10:48

Hg - Serbians Gang Rape Their Bosnian Sex Slave

Tube: eatbaclass

Tags: slave, serbia, bosnia and herzegovina, violence, dominance, homemade, brunettes

Added 9 months ago

Report problem

47:53

Bosnian Amela Receives Tired

clips, bosnia and herzegovina, amateur, hardcore, 9 months ago

UPORNIA

France | Zen Porn | HD | Big Tits | Brunette | MILF | Tattoo | Big Cock | Big Ass

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Isiah Maxwell

1 months ago

AD Watch Premium Video (FULL)

02:51 / 21:31

Cherokee

Advertisement

0 0 719 Comments

NudeVista

tubes | models | directory

Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevance, newest, popularity, duration or random

Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian Bosnia Macedonian

30:34

Cute Bosnian Immature Love

tubecup, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, 2 months ago

11:25

Hot Bosnian American

eporner, bosnia and herzegovina, usa, co-ed, flashing, 3 months ago

04:10

Bosnian First Time

tube8, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, amateur, homemade,

29:55

Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend

mylust, riding, girlfriend, bosnia and herzegovina, brunettes, 8 months ago

10:48

Hg - Serbians Gang Rape Their Bosnian Sex Slave

Tube: motherless

Tags: slave, serbia, bosnia and herzegovina, violence, dominance, homemade, brunettes

Added 9 months ago

Report problem

47:53

Bosnian Amela Receives Tired

hclips, bosnia and herzegovina, amateur, hardcore, 9 months ago

UPORNIA

France | Zen Porn | HD | Big Tits | Brunette | MILF | Tattoo | Big Cock | Big Ass | In

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Isiah Maxwell

1 months ago

AD Watch Premium Video (FULL)

02:51 / 21:31

Advertisement

0 0 719 Comments

NudeVista

tubes | models | directory

Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevance, newest, popularity, duration or random

Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian Bosnia Macedonian

30:34

Cute Bosnian Immature Love

tubecup, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, 2 months ago

11:25

Hot Bosnian American

eporner, bosnia and herzegovina, usa, co-ed, flashing, 3 months ago

04:10

Bosnian First Time

tube8, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, amateur, homemade,

29:55

Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend

mylust, riding, girlfriend, bosnia and herzegovina, brunettes, 8 months ago

10:48

Hg - Serbians Gang Rape Their Bosnian Sex Slave

Tube: motherless

Tags: slave, serbia, bosnia and herzegovina, violence, dominance, homemade, brunettes

Added 9 months ago

Report problem

47:53

Bosnian Amela Receives Tired

hclips, bosnia and herzegovina, amateur, hardcore, 9 months ago

UPORNIA

France | Zen Porn | HD | Big Tits | Brunette | MILF | Tattoo | Big Cock | Big Ass | Ind

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Isiah Maxwell

1 months ago

Advertisement

0 0 719 Comments

NudeVista

tubes | models | directory

Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevance, newest, popularity, duration or random

Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian Bosnia Macedonian

Cute Bosnian Immature Love
tubecup, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, 2 months ago

Hot Bosnian American
eporner, bosnia and herzegovina, usa, co-ed, flashing, 3 months ago

Bosnian First Time
tube8, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, amateur, homemade,

Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend
mylust, riding, girlfriend, bosnia and herzegovina, brunettes, 8 months ago

Hg - Serbians Gang Rape Their Bosnian Sex Slave

Tube: motherless

Tags: slave, serbia, bosnia and herzegovina, violence, dominance, homemade, brunettes

Added 9 months ago

Report problem

Bosnian Amela Receives Tired
hclips, bosnia and herzegovina, amateur, hardcore, 9 months ago

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest

51.159.194.214/videos/5...

PORNIA

France | Zen Porn | HD | Big Tits | Brunette | MILF | Tattoo | Big Cock | Big Ass

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Isiah Maxwell

1 months ago

AD Watch Premium Video (FULL)

02:51 / 21:31

Advertisement

0 0 719 Comments

https://web.archive.org/web/20

NudeVista

tubes | models | directory

Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevance, newest, popularity, duration or random

Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian Bosnia Macedonian

30:34 Cute Bosnian Immature Love

11:25 Hot Bosnian American

04:10 Bosnian First Time

29:55 Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend

10:48 Hq - Serbians Gang Rape Their Bosnian Sex Slave

Tube: motherless

Tags: slave, serbia, bosnia and herzegovina, violence, dominance, homemade, brunettes

Added 9 months ago

Report problem

47:53 Bosnian Amela Receives Tired

829°
Sunny

Search

4:40 PM
6/11/2024

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest

51.159.194.214/videos/5...

PORNIA

France | Zen Porn | HD | Big Tits | Brunette | MILF | Tattoo | Big Cock | Big Ass

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Isiah Maxwell

1 months ago

AD Watch Premium Video (FULL)

02:51 / 21:31

Cherokee

Advertisement

0 0 719 Comments

https://web.archive.org/web/20

NudeVista

tubes | models | directory

Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevance, newest, popularity, duration or random

Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian Bosnia Macedonian

30:34

Cute Bosnian Immature Love

tubecup, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, 2 months ago

11:25

Hot Bosnian American

eporner, bosnia and herzegovina, usa, co-ed, flashing, 3 months ago

04:10

Bosnian First Time

tube8, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, amateur, homemade,

29:55

Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend

mydust, ndlog, girlfriend, bosnia and herzegovina, brunettes, 8 months ago

10:48

Hg - Serbians Gang Rape Their Bosnian Sex Slave

Tube: motherless

Tags: slave, serbia, bosnia and herzegovina, violence, dominance, homemade, brunettes

Added 9 months ago

Report problem

47:53

Bosnian Amela Receives Tired

fictus, bosnia and herzegovina, amateur, hardcore, 9 months ago

82°F Sunny

Search

4:40 PM 6/11/2024

shiva

Raphael Cardenas

shiva

LEARN PLAN SEND

In Loving Memory of

Raphael Cardenas

December 7th, 2019 - June 2nd, 2022

OBITUARY

Raphael Cardenas, beloved son of Marina Ross and Henry Cardenas. Adored grandson of Diana Balzak, Darren Ross, Victorino Cardenas and Ruth Leticia Vazquez. Cherished nephew of Sonia Balzak. His loss is deeply felt by many other extended family and friends. Graveside service Tuesday, 11 AM, at Shalom Memorial Park (Section XII Mt. Zion), 1700 W. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights, IL 60004. In lieu of flowers memorials in his name may made to Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago, 225 East Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611, www.luriechildrens.org, 312.227.7900. Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals - Skokie Chapel, 847.229.8822, www.cjfs.com

Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals
www.chicagojewishfuneralscom

Send Shiva Meals

Express your condolences and provide comfort with

Plant a Tree in Israel

Honor and commemorate loved ones by planting trees

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL

Feature

NJ Jewish paper mixes its Guzmans

New Jersey-based Orthodox weekly illustrates Mexican drug lord's capture with photo of comic actor Luis Guzman

Get The Times of Israel's Daily Edition by email and never miss our top stories

In an attempt to cover the capture of Mexican cartel leader Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman, The Lakewood Shopper, an Orthodox Jewish newspaper based in Lakewood, New Jersey, accidentally used a photograph of Luis Guzman, a popular Puerto Rican-American comedian from New York's Lower East Side. Ellis Daily reported.

Guzman is best known for his roles in "Carlito's Way" and "How To Make It in America."

The gaffe was identified by Nate Ritout on Twitter and was well received by

THE TIMES OF

US: Peace Iniative recognize Israel a state

Find a Jewish Funeral Home

shiva The resource for Jewish mourning

LEARN PLAN SEND

In Loving Memory of Raphael Cardenas

BACK

In Loving Memory of

Raphael Cardenas

December 7th, 2019 - June 2nd, 2022

OBITUARY

Raphael Cardenas, beloved son of Marina Ross and Henry Cardenas. Adored grandson of Diana Balzak, Darren Ross, Victorino Cardenas and Ruth Leticia Vazquez. Cherished nephew of Sonia Balzak. His loss is deeply felt by many other extended family and friends. Graveside service Tuesday, 11 AM, at Shalom Memorial Park (Section XII Mt. Zion), 1700 W. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights, IL 60004. In lieu of flowers memorials in his name may made to Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago, 225 East Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611, www.luriechildrens.org, 312.227.7500. Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals - Skokie Chapel, 847.229.8822, www.cjfinfo.com

Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals
www.chicagojewishfunerals.com

Send Shiva Meals

Express your condolences and provide comfort with

Plant a Tree in Israel

Honor and commemorate loved ones by planting trees

Congregation Kol Emeth

4.7

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL

Framed

NJ Jewish paper mixes its Guzmans

New Jersey-based Orthodox weekly illustrates Mexican drug lord's capture with photo of comic actor Luis Guzman

John Travolta isn't the only one who has been struggling with name recognition of late.

In an attempt to cover the capture of Mexican cartel leader Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman, The Lakewood Shopper, an Orthodox Jewish newspaper based in Lakewood, New Jersey, accidentally used a photograph of Luis Guzman, a popular Puerto Rican-American comedian from New York's Lower East Side, Elite Daily reported.

Guzman is best known for his roles in "Carlito's Way" and "How To Make It In America."

The gaffe was identified by Malei Rikud on Twitter and was well received by

shiva The resource for Jewish mourning

LEARN PLAN SEND

In Loving Memory of Raphael Cardenas

BACK

In Loving Memory of

Raphael Cardenas

December 7th, 2019 - June 2nd, 2022

OBITUARY

Raphael Cardenas, beloved son of Marina Ross and Henry Cardenas. Adored grandson of Diana Balzak, Darren Ross, Victorino Cardenas and Ruth Leticia Vazquez. Cherished nephew of Sonia Balzak. His loss is deeply felt by many other extended family and friends. Graveside service Tuesday, 11 AM, at Shalom Memorial Park (Section XII Mt. Zion), 1700 W. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights, IL 60004. In lieu of flowers memorials in his name may made to Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago, 225 East Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611, www.luriechildrens.org, 312.227.7500. Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals - Skokie Chapel, 847.229.8822, www.cjfinfo.com.

Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals.
www.chicagojewishfunerals.com

Send Shiva Meals

Express your condolences and provide comfort with

Plant a Tree in Israel

Honor and commemorate loved ones by planting trees

Congregation Kol Emeth

4.7 (7)

Conservative synagogue

Overview Reviews About

4435 Oakton St, Skokie, IL 60076

Open · Closes 4 PM

kolemethskokie.org

(847) 673-3370

27G6+C7 Skokie, Illinois

LGBTQ+ friendly

Photos & videos

Review summary

4.7

7 reviews

Write a review

Reviews

Cesar Guillen

52 reviews · 1 photo

2 years ago

Beautiful congregation, and great members, plus The Rabbi is awesome. This is the ideal place for peace.

Share

Yehudah Bernath

Milwaukee

Chicago

Naperville

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes

8 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this Spanish name, the first or paternal surname is Oseguera and the second or maternal family name is Cervantes.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes (Latin American Spanish: [ne˜mesio ose˜yera ser˜βantes]; born 17 July 1966, or 17 July 1964), commonly referred to by his alias El Mencho ([el ˜mentʃo]), is a Mexican drug lord and leader of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), an organized crime group based in Jalisco. He is the most-wanted person in Mexico and one of the most-wanted in the U.S. The US government, as well as the Mexican government, is offering $10 million and $30 million respectively for information leading to his arrest.

He is wanted for drug trafficking, organized crime involvement, and undocumented possession of firearms. El Mencho is allegedly responsible for coordinating global drug trafficking operations. Under his command, the CJNG became one of Mexico's leading criminal organizations.

Born into poverty in Mexico, El Mencho grew avocados and dropped out of primary school before immigrating illegally to the U.S. in the 1980s. After being arrested several times, he was deported to Mexico in the early 1990s and worked for the Milenio Cartel.[2] He eventually climbed to the top of the criminal organization and founded the CJNG after several of his bosses were arrested or killed.

His notoriety is also a result of his aggressive leadership and sensationalist acts of violence against both rival criminal groups and Mexican security forces alike. These attacks brought him increased government attention and an extensive manhunt. Security forces suspect he is hiding in the rural terrains of Jalisco, Michoacán, Nayarit, and/or Colima, and is guarded by mercenaries with former military training.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes

Born	17 July 1966 (age 57) Aguililla, Michoacán, Mexico
Other names	El Mencho El Mata Zetas[4] Don Nemesio El Señor de los Gallos[5]
Employer	Jalisco New Generation Cartel
Predecessor	Ignacio Coronel Villarreal
Criminal status	Wanted
Spouse	Rosalinda González Valencia (m. 1996; div. 2018)[2][6]
Children	4, including Rubén Oseguera González
Relatives	Abigael González Valencia (brother-in-law)

Notes

Bounty: US$10 million offered from the U.S. government; MXN$30 million offered from Mexico's Office of the General Prosecutor (PGR).

In February 2022 unconfirmed reports began to surface stating that El Mencho had died from respiratory arrest while undergoing treatment in a private hospital in Guadalajara.[3]

However, U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent Kyle Mori, who heads the search for El Mencho, denied rumors of his death in an interview he gave to KFI AM's in March 2023.[4]

Early life [edit]

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes was born in July 1964 or 1966 in the rural community of Culotitlán in Aguililla, Michoacán, Mexico.[d][5][6] His first name is cited as "Rubén" and/or "Nemesio".[5][6] He has

Jalisco New Generation Cartel

16 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Jalisco New Generation Cartel (Spanish: Cártel de Jalisco Nueva Generación) or CJNG,[39][40][41][42] is a Mexican criminal syndicate, based in Jalisco and headed by Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes ("El Mencho").[43] The cartel has been characterized by extreme violence and public relations campaigns.[4] Though the CJNG is known for diversifying into various criminal rackets, drug trafficking (primarily cocaine and methamphetamine) remains its most profitable activity.[6][4] The cartel has been noted for cannibalizing some victims during the training of new sicarios or members, as well as using drones[7][44][27] and rocket-propelled grenades to attack enemies.[45]

CJNG started in 2009 as one of the splits of the Milenio Cartel, the other being La Resistencia. CJNG defeated La Resistencia and took control of Milenio's smuggling networks. CJNG expanded its operation network from coast to coast in six months, making it one of the criminal groups with the greatest operating capacity by 2012.[46][47] Following emergence of the cartel, homicides, kidnappings and discoveries of mass graves spiked in Jalisco.[4] By 2018, the CJNG was believed to have over 100 methamphetamine labs throughout Mexico. Based on average street value, its trade could net upwards of $8 billion for cocaine and $4.6 billion for crystal meth each year.[6][48][49][50][51][52][53][34] The CJNG are fighting the Nueva Plaza Cartel for control of Guadalajara; La Unión Tepito for Mexico City; Los Viagras and La Familia Michoacana for the states of Michoacán and Guerrero; Los Zetas in the states of Veracruz and Puebla; Cártel del Noreste in Zacatecas; the Sinaloa Cartel in Baja California, Sonora,[54] Ciudad Juárez, Zacatecas and Chiapas; as well as the Santa Rosa de Lima Cartel in Guanajuato.[55] They have an alliance with the Cártel del Golfo in Zacatecas and La Línea in Juárez.[20]

CJNG is considered by the Mexican government to be one of the most dangerous criminal organizations in Mexico[26] and second most powerful drug cartel after the Sinaloa Cartel.[56] CJNG is heavily militarized and more violent than other criminal organizations. It has a special operations group for specific types of warfare.[57] Its hitman training program is strict and

Jalisco Cartel

Cártel Jalisco Nueva Generación

Logo of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Founded	31 August 2009
Founder	Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes, Emilio Alejandro Pulido Salazar, Martin Arzola Ortega, and Erick Valencia Salazar[1]
Founding location	Guadalajara, Jalisco, México[2][3]
Years active	2009–present[2][4]
Territory	Mexico: Jalisco, Nayarit, Michoacan, Colima, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Puebla, Baja California, Baja California Sur, Chihuahua, Sonora, Veracruz, Tamaulipas, Estado de Mexico, Mexico City, Tabasco, Guerrero, Chiapas, Tlaxcala, Querétaro, Hidalgo, United States: California, New York, Oregon, Illinois, Texas, Georgia, Florida, Washington Australia: Victoria, New South Wale South America: Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Brazil, Venezuela, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay, Guyana, Argentina, Uruguay Europe: France, United Kingdom, Balkans, Italy, Spain
Ethnicity	Hispanic
Membership	20,000-50,000 (suspected)[citation needed]

Rabbi Yochanan Salazar

Traveling Sofer

Rabbi Yochanan Salazar is a master sofer (scribe), educator and lecturer. Born in Ecuador, South America, he moved to the US as a teen. Before becoming a scribe he studied in Hudson College and later attended NJIT where he majored in electronics engineering and public speaking. While in college he met his wife Hanna, together they moved to Florida where they now live with their six children.

He received his rabbinic ordination in 2004 from Rabbi Daniel Channen in Beit Shemesh, Israel. In Miami, Rabbi Salazar studied art of Safrut as an apprentice under Rabbi's Druin at Sofer On Site. After years of training he received his ordination as a Sofer from Rabbi Eliyahu Ben Hayyim the Head of Sephardic studies at Yeshiva University in New York.
With his expert and gifted talent for precise and accurate Torah repair work, he now heads the Torah Restoration Department of Sofer On Site. He often travels around the country restoring Torahs on site, while educating communities on the proper techniques of Torah care.

Rabbi Levi Selwyn

Traveling Sofer

Rabbi Levi Selwyn was born in London, England where he attended the local Jewish schoo
He then continued his studies at the Yeshivah Gedolah in Hampstead. At the age of 18 he is Salazar.

Érick Valencia Salazar (Spanish pronunciation: [ˈerik βaˈlensja salaˈsar]; born 11 March 1977 or 19 November 1982), commonly referred to by his alias El 85, is a Mexican drug lord and high-ranking leader of the Nueva Plaza Cartel.[1][2][3] He previously served as a high-ranking leader of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), a criminal group based in Jalisco. The Mexican Army suspects he was responsible for supervising the CJNG's cocaine and ephedrine delivery shipments from Colombia and China to Mexico, and for coordinating attacks against rival groups like La Resistencia and Los Zetas in the 2010s. Before leading the CJNG, Valencia reportedly held a leadership role within the Milenio Cartel, the predecessor group where the CJNG originated from. When several of his superiors were arrested and/or killed, Valencia and several others from the Milenio Cartel reportedly formed the CJNG.

On 3 March 2012, the Mexican Army arrested Valencia in Zapopan, Jalisco. The arrest triggered a series of coordinated attacks carried out by the CJNG to try to rescue Valencia. Throughout the states of Jalisco and Michoacán, the CJNG hijacked 25 vehicles and set them on fire across multiple highways. Three people were killed and sixteen suspects were arrested. On 27 December 2017, Valencia was released from prison after a judge concluded there were violations in his due process and because of insufficient

Érick Valencia Salazar

Born	11 March 1977 (age 47) or 19 November 1982 (age 41) Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico
Other names	El 85
Employers	Nueva Plaza Cartel Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Ellen Cervantes	Finance Vice President	Meredith Fox	Zena Step
Cheri Mayman	Development Vice President	Dr. Robert Gelb
Jessica Docter	Recording Secretary
Leah Kuluva	Immediate Past President
Miriam Carroll	Past President's Council Representative

Shomrei Torah Synagogue
7353 Valley Circle Boulevard
West Hills, CA 91304
Main Office:
(818) 854-7650

Mailing List
E-Newsletter Sign Up

About Shomrei Torah
› About Us
› Membership
› Education
› Worship
› Social Action

Shabbat @ STS
More Shabbat Information

DAILY MINYAN
Monday - Friday: 8:00 AM
Monday - Thursday: 7:15 PM
Sunday: 9:00 AM

Sexart
Sexart
Sexart
Sexart
Sexart
Sexart

18+ Playboy Plus | 18+ Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | 18+ Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

Playboy.tv — Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

18+ Playboy Plus | 18+ Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | 18+ Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

Playboy.tv — Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2
SexART
Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

ISTAZ
Top Leader ISTAZ
PENGUMUMAN
ENGUMUMAN
JIAN AKHIR

WIKIPEDIA
Karl Gotch
Karl Gotch
Early life and amateur wrestling career
Professional wrestling career
YouTube
first mma fight history
ULISSE
6R
Muhammad Ali vs Antonio Inoki 1976 MMA Begins
Subscribe
Antonio Inoki
ISTAZ
Top Leader ISTAZ
Pimpinan Kampus ISTAZ
Drs.H.Imam B. MM
Ketua Senat
PENGUMUMAN
ENGUMUMAN
UIAN AKHIR

WIKIPEDIA
The Free Encyclopedia

Create account Log in

Karl Gotch

11 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Karel Istaz[1][2] (August 3, 1924 – July 28, 2007), best known by his ring name Karl Gotch, was a Belgian-American professional wrestler, amateur wrestler, catch wrestler, and trainer.

He represented Belgium at the 1948 Summer Olympics in both freestyle and Greco-Roman wrestling.[1][2] In Japan, Gotch is known as the "God of Wrestling" due to his influence on Japanese professional wrestling.[9][8] He significantly influenced the development of modern mixed martial arts (MMA). His students established pioneering MMA promotions and training schools to transmit Gotch's training. These include Shooto and Pancrase (both of which predate the UFC), RINGS, and PRIDE, one of the most popular MMA promotions in history.[10][11][12][13][14]

He was given the ringname "Gotch" by Ohio promoter Al Haft in honor of American wrestler Frank Gotch.[15]

Karl Gotch

Birth name	Karel Istaz[1][2]
Born	August 3, 1924[3] Antwerp, Belgium[4]
Died	July 28, 2007 (aged 82)[5] Tampa, Florida, U.S.[6]
Children	1
Professional wrestling career
Ring name(s)	Karl Gotch[4] Karl Krauser[4]
Billed height	6 ft 1 in (185 cm)[7]
Billed weight	245 lb (111 kg)[7]
Billed from	Hamburg, Germany
Trained by	Billy Riley[4] The Snake Pit
Debut	1950
Retired	January 1, 1982[8]

Early life and amateur wrestling career [edit]

Istaz was born in Antwerp, Belgium, where he excelled in amateur wrestling and represented Belgium at the 1948 Summer Olympics in both freestyle and Greco-Roman wrestling.[1][2][16] Gotch's life prior to the Olympics is unclear and has been subject to embellishment by pro wrestling magazines.[17] Gotch also trained in pehlwani, an Indian style of wrestling. This training led to Istaz's regime of calisthenic bodyweight exercise, which were used by wrestlers to build leg endurance and strength, such as the bridge, Hindu squats, and Hindu press ups.[18] Gotch's philosophy was later passed on to several of his students.

Professional wrestling career [edit]

YouTube

first mma fight history

Sign in

Muhammad Ali vs Antonio Inoki 1976 MMA Begins

アントニオ猪木fun
362 subscribers
Subscribe
33 Share Save

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Muhammad Hussain Inoki (born Kanji Inoki (Japanese: 猪木寛至, Hepburn: Inoki Kanji); February 20, 1943 – October 1, 2022) was a Japanese professional wrestler, martial artist, politician, and promoter of professional wrestling and mixed martial arts. He was best known by the ring name Antonio Inoki (アントニオ猪木, Antonio Inoki), a homage to fellow professional wrestler Antonino Rocca. Inoki was a twelve-time professional wrestling world champion, notably being the first IWGP Heavyweight Champion and the first Asian WWF Heavyweight Champion – a reign not officially recognized by WWE.

After spending his adolescence in Brazil, Inoki began his professional wrestling career in the 1960s for the Japan Pro Wrestling Alliance (JWA) under the tutelage of Rikidōzan. Inoki quickly became one of the most popular stars in the history of Japanese professional wrestling. He parlayed his wrestling career into becoming one of Japan's most recognizable athletes, a reputation bolstered by his 1976 fight against world champion boxer Muhammad Ali – a fight that served as a predecessor to modern day mixed martial arts. In 1995, with Ric Flair, Inoki headlined two shows in North Korea that drew 165,000 and 190,000 spectators, the highest attendances in professional wrestling history.[10]

Antonio Inoki

Inoki in 2012

Member of the House of Councillors
In office	July 23, 1989 – July 22, 1995
In office	July 29, 2013 – July 28, 2019
Goodwill Ambassador of Palau
In office	2013[1][2]–Unknown
Personal details
Born	Kanji Inoki (猪木寛至, Inoki

ISTAZ

PENGUMUMAN

WIKIPEDIA
The Free Encyclopedia

Create account Log in

Karl Gotch

11 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Karel Istaz[1][2] (August 3, 1924 – July 28, 2007), best known by his ring name Karl Gotch, was a Belgian-American professional wrestler, amateur wrestler, catch wrestler, and trainer.

He represented Belgium at the 1948 Summer Olympics in both freestyle and Greco-Roman wrestling.[1][2] In Japan, Gotch is known as the "God of Wrestling" due to his influence on Japanese professional wrestling.[9][8] He significantly influenced the development of modern mixed martial arts (MMA). His students established pioneering MMA promotions and training schools to transmit Gotch's training. These include Shooto and Pancrase (both of which predate the UFC), RINGS, and PRIDE, one of the most popular MMA promotions in history.[10][11][12][13][14]

He was given the ringname "Gotch" by Ohio promoter Al Haft in honor of American wrestler Frank Gotch.[15]

Karl Gotch

Birth name	Karel Istaz[1][2]
Born	August 3, 1924[3] Antwerp, Belgium[4]
Died	July 28, 2007 (aged 82)[5] Tampa, Florida, U.S.[6]
Children	1
Professional wrestling career
Ring name(s)	Karl Gotch[4] Karl Krauser[4]
Billed height	6 ft 1 in (185 cm)[7]
Billed weight	245 lb (111 kg)[7]
Billed from	Hamburg, Germany
Trained by	Billy Riley[4] The Snake Pit
Debut	1950
Retired	January 1, 1982[8]

Early life and amateur wrestling career [edit]

Istaz was born in Antwerp, Belgium, where he excelled in amateur wrestling and represented Belgium at the 1948 Summer Olympics in both freestyle and Greco-Roman wrestling.[1][2][16] Gotch's life prior to the Olympics is unclear and has been subject to embellishment by pro wrestling magazines.[17] Gotch also trained in pehlwani, an Indian style of wrestling. This training led to Istaz's regime of calisthenic bodyweight exercise, which were used by wrestlers to build leg endurance and strength, such as the bridge, Hindu squats, and Hindu press ups.[18] Gotch's philosophy was later passed on to several of his students.

Professional wrestling career [edit]

YouTube

first mma fight history

Sign in

Muhammad Ali vs Antonio Inoki 1976 MMA Begins

アントニオ猪木fun
362 subscribers

Subscribe 33 Share Save

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Muhammad Hussain Inoki (born Kanji Inoki (Japanese: 猪木寛至, Hepburn: Inoki Kanji); February 20, 1943 – October 1, 2022) was a Japanese professional wrestler, martial artist, politician, and promoter of professional wrestling and mixed martial arts. He was best known by the ring name Antonio Inoki (アントニオ猪木, Antonio Inoki), a homage to fellow professional wrestler Antonino Rocca. Inoki was a twelve-time professional wrestling world champion, notably being the first IWGP Heavyweight Champion and the first Asian WWF Heavyweight Champion – a reign not officially recognized by WWE.

After spending his adolescence in Brazil, Inoki began his professional wrestling career in the 1960s for the Japan Pro Wrestling Alliance (JWA) under the tutelage of Rikidōzan. Inoki quickly became one of the most popular stars in the history of Japanese professional wrestling. He parlayed his wrestling career into becoming one of Japan's most recognizable athletes, a reputation bolstered by his 1976 fight against world champion boxer Muhammad Ali – a fight that served as a predecessor to modern day mixed martial arts. In 1995, with Ric Flair, Inoki headlined two shows in North Korea that drew 165,000 and 190,000 spectators, the highest attendances in professional wrestling history.[10]

Antonio Inoki

Inoki in 2012

Member of the House of Councillors
In office	July 23, 1989 – July 22, 1995
In office	July 29, 2013 – July 28, 2019
Goodwill Ambassador of Palau
In office	2013[1][2]–Unknown
Personal details
Born	Kanji Inoki (猪木寛至, Inoki

ISTAZ

PENGUMUMAN

Shootfighting

Article Talk

Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article includes a list of general references, but it lacks sufficient corresponding inline citations. Please help to improve this article by introducing more precise citations. (August 2022) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shootfighting is a martial art and combat sport, with competitions governed by the International Shootfighting Association (ISFA). It incorporates techniques from a multitude of traditional martial arts, the most principal of these being wrestling and kempo.

Shootfighting was previously used synonymously with mixed martial arts competitions in Japan, as opposed to shoot-style professional wrestling competitions. The term has been retired from common usage because it became a registered trademark of Bart Vale, who uses it to describe his hybrid fighting system derived from shoot wrestling. However, it is still sometimes used colloquially.

Examples which were once considered shootfighting styles, tournaments or organizations are Pancrase, Fighting Network RINGS, and Shooto, where many fighters still considered themselves to be shootfighters. Kim Shamrock is possibly the most recognisable shoot fighter, as it was the discipline he used during the early days of the UFC.

Shootfighting

Focus	Hybrid (Combat Sport & Street Combat)
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Alexander Gustafsson (UFC) Ryan Tanner (UFC) Frank Shamrock (Strikeforce) Jake Shields (PFL) Kazushi Sakuraba (UFC) Kim Shamrock (Pancrase) Ryuji Hangaichi (Pancrase, PFL) Takanori Gomi (Shooto)
Parent/s/ed	Catch Wrestling, Shoot Wrestling, American Kempo, Judo, Boxing, Kickboxing, Karate, Muay Thai, Jujutsu, Shootfight du Jour[1]
Olympic sport	No

History [edit]

Shootfighting's use as a synonym for mixed martial arts had its genesis in the 1970s, when Karl Gotch taught a group of Japanese professional wrestlers catch wrestling techniques, called "kouskiki" or "shootfight". In 1976, one of these pro wrestlers, Antonio Inoki, headed a series of matches against practitioners of other martial arts; most of these were "worked" (predetermined), but one particular high-profile one was against Muhammad Ali, which was in fact a shoot. This led to an increased interest in real and effective technique, and eventually led to the creation of shoot wrestling, with some shoot-style professional wrestling organizations hosting legitimate mixed martial arts bouts, called "shootfight". Interest grew in the 1990s, and certain shoot-style organizations like Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS evolved into

muslim.sg

Ask An Ustaz or
With MYSAFESF

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2011 SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner THE WIRE.

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

NBC NEWS WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

SAVE

Dec. 20, 2009, 8:03 PM CST / Source: The Associated Press

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 20, 2009 5:51pm EST Updated January 14, 2015 12:40am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

euronews.

News > World > Gaza

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Copyright AP Photo

By Euronews

Published on 27/11/2023 - 15:18

Share this article Comments

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochleas and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

The Atlantic

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $150,000 or more.

By Adam Shaw

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $150,000 or more.

It's a strong business model that the little or no plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 34-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum becomes the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's prosecutors don't intend this to be successful, Bloomberg reports.

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

18+ Playboy Plus | 18+ Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | 18+ Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

.tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus

Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

The Tribune-Democrat

E-Paper | Local Events | Celebrations | Obituaries | Public Notices | Contact Us

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

By ANDREW DALTON
The Associated Press Sep 28, 2017

1 of 2

In this May 14, 1999 file photo, Playboy founder and editor in chief Hugh Hefner receives kisses from Playboy playmates during the 52nd Cannes Film Festival in Cannes, France. (AP Photo/Laurent Rebours, File)

Laurent Rebours

LOS ANGELES — Hugh Hefner turned silk pajamas into a work uniform, women into centerfolds and sexual desire into a worldwide multimedia empire that spanned several generations of American life.

With Playboy, he helped slip sex out of the confines of plain brown wrappers and into mainstream conversation.

In 1953, a time when states could legally ban contraceptives and the word "pregnant" was not allowed on "I Love Lucy," Hefner published the first issue of Playboy, featuring naked photos of Marilyn Monroe and an editorial promise of "humor, sophistication and spice."

The Great Depression and World War II were over and Playboy soon became forbidden fruit for teens and a bible for men with time and money, primed for the magazine's prescribed evenings of dimmed lights, hard drinks, soft jazz, deep thoughts and deeper desires. Within a year, circulation neared 200,000. Within five years, it had topped 1 million.

NEWSPAPER ADS
Buy Local
CLASSIFIED Yellow

Johnstown Magazine

Read now

Trending Recipes

Tomato Pie

Giant Danish

Most Popular

Visit our Israel resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent teachings and events.

Next Service: Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 10:00 am

BNAI JESHURUN

Robert and Jane Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Vitina Biondo and Yosef Riemer
Shirley Bisgeier
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anomymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corenswet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adeena Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Dimson and John Hatleberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Etingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Felsenfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardiner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

PBS NEWS HOUR

Menu | Live

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Sep 28, 2017 7:13 PM EDT

Leave your feedback | Share •••

By – PBS NewsHour

Transcript | Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

By ANDREW DALTON
The Associated Press Sep 28, 2017

1 of 2

In this May 14, 1999 file photo, Playboy founder and editor in chief Hugh Hefner receives kisses from Playboy playmates during the 52nd Cannes Film Festival in Cannes, France. (AP Photo/Laurent Rebours, File)
Laurent Rebours

LOS ANGELES — Hugh Hefner turned silk pajamas into a work uniform, women into centerfolds and sexual desire into a worldwide multimedia empire that spanned several generations of American life.

With Playboy, he helped slip sex out of the confines of plain brown wrappers and into mainstream conversation.

In 1953, a time when states could legally ban contraceptives and the word "pregnant" was not allowed on "I Love Lucy," Hefner published the first issue of Playboy, featuring naked photos of Marilyn Monroe and an editorial promise of "humor, sophistication and spice."

The Great Depression and World War II were over and Playboy soon became forbidden fruit for teens and a bible for men with time and money, primed for the magazine's prescribed evenings of dimmed lights, hard drinks, soft jazz, deep thoughts and deeper desires. Within a year, circulation neared 200,000. Within five years, it had topped 1 million.

NEWSPAPER ADS
Buy Local EAT · DRINK · SHOP · LIVE
CLASSIFIED Yellow The one place to

Johnstown Magazine

Johnstown Magazine is a positive and forward-th monthly publication for people of our region.

Read now

Trending Recipes

Tomato Pie

BONNIE'S BEST BL RIBBON OVEN BAK FRIES

Giant Danish

Most Popular

Articles

Visit our Israel resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent teachings and events.

Next Service: Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 10:00 am

B'NAI JESHURUN

Robert and Jane Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Vitina Biondo and Yosef Riemer
Shirley Bisgeier
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anomymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corenswet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adeena Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Dimson and John Hatleberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Etingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Felsenfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardiner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Sep 28, 2017 7:13 PM EDT

Leave your feedback Share •••

By – PBS NewsHour

Transcript Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

PLAYBOY
A VARGAS FAKIRTAINMENT
MARCH 2013
SELENA GOMEZ
THE ALL-AMERICAN POP PRINCESS DOES SEX ON THE BEACH
THE PLAYBOY INTERVIEW
SELENA IS HARD ON THE BIEBER:
"BOYS ARE FUN, BUT I NEEDED A MAN."
SPECIAL EDITION COVER SET
COLLECT ALL THREE
classmates
Matt Heffner: CLASS OF 1992
Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu Class of 1992
Toronto, ON
Matt's Story
Matt is from Ashland, Pennsylvania. Matt's schools include Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu. Music Matt likes includes Metal. Books Ma...Expand for more
Send Email
Remember
ye·shi·va
[yə SHēvə]
noun
an Orthodox Jewish college or seminary.
an Orthodox Jewish elementary or secondary school.
A yeshiva, jeshibah is a traditi educational institution focused of Rabbinic literature, primarily and halacha, while Torah and
Women in Love
Erin Daniels (above left, with dark hair) soaks up the love, and Leisha Hailey (above, far right) seemingly does a comparison test of antiperspirants on The L Word, Showtime's sexy lesbian melodrama.
Sopranos? Who Dey?
HBO insists its new series Tell Me You Love Me (above), about three couples dealing with their sex lives in therapy sessions, isn't just about sex. Do you think the network is referring to that stuff in between the sex parts?
(58 of 158)
Playboy USA - December 2007
Favorite
Share
Flag
sky news
Home › World
Playboy founder Hugh Hefner dies aged 91
"Hef" established Playboy magazine in 1953 and turned it into one of the most recognisable American brands in history.
Thursday 28 September 2017 14:28, UK
Image:
Hugh Hefner poses with three Playmates in 2007
Playboy magazine founder Hugh Hefner has died at the age of 91.

63°

WATCH NOW

NEWS

Remembrance Day: Jewish Holocaust rescuers want their story told

Dani Heffner-Reiner points to her photo on a poster in memory of members of the Zionist youth movement underground in Hungary during the Holocaust at a ceremony ...

by: The Associated Press
Posted: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST
Updated: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST

SHARE

KIBBUTZ HAZOREA, Israel (AP) — Just before Nazi Germany invaded Hungary in March 1944, Jewish youth leaders in the eastern European country jumped into action: They formed an underground network that in the coming months would save tens of thousands of fellow Jews from the gas chambers.

STAR

Hugh Hefner 'Pig Ni women brought to Sign up for the Hot Topics news sex tips

Enter your Email...

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy documentary Secrets of Playboy

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

CULTURE

How Hugh Hefner Commercialized Sex

The Playboy founder—who died at the age of 91—peddled an American dream that was as much about money as desire.

By Sophie Gilbert

Westcom / Starmax / AP

SEPTEMBER 28, 2017

SHARE SAVE

In 1953, Hugh Hefner was living out a stereotypical version of the American Dream. At the age of 27, he had a job (as a cartoonist and copywriter), a wife, and a baby daughter. As Elizabeth Fraterrigo notes in her 2009 book Playboy and the Making of the Good Life in Modern America, Hefner's home life was so picture-perfect that it was photographed for a two-page story in the Chicago Daily News. In one image, Hefner sits on the floor of a tidy, modern living room holding baby Christie, while his wife, Millie, watches from the couch, holding a magazine.

ADVERTISEMENT

DISCOVER THE ROLEX AND NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC PERPETUAL PLANET AMAZON EXPEDITION

63°

KOIN 6

WATCHING OUT FOR YOU

WATCH NOW

NEWS

Remembrance Day: Jewish Holocaust rescuers want their story told

Dezi Heffner-Reiner points to her photo on a poster in memory of members of the Zionist youth movement underground in Hungary during the Holocaust at a ceremony …

by: The Associated Press

Posted: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST

Updated: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST

SHARE

KIBBUTZ HAZOREA, Israel (AP) — Just before Nazi Germany invaded Hungary in March 1944, Jewish youth leaders in the eastern European country jumped into action: They formed an underground network that in the coming months would save tens of thousands of fellow Jews from the gas chambers.

DAILY STAR

Hugh Hefner 'Pig Night' sex parties saw 'carloads' of women brought to Playboy Mansion

Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', according to upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy. It's claimed pimps brought 'carloads' of women to the mansion for the parties

Bookmark SHARE Comments 1

By Samantha Bartlett Assistant Editor, Social Newsdesk

10:40, 18 JAN 2022

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night' (Image: WireImage)

Sign up for the Hot Topics newsletter for hot style and sex tips

More Newsletters

Enter your Email…

Subscribe

We use your sign-up to provide content in ways you've consented to and improve our understanding of you. This may include adverts from us and third parties based on our knowledge of you. More info

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', in upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy.

Larry Flynt's Hustler Most con

https://nypost.com/2021/02/10/larry-flynts-hustler-most-controversial-nude-pics-ever

nypost.com wants to

Show notifications

Get notifications from The New York Post

Click 'Sign Up' then 'Allow'

Dismiss

Sign Up

Entertainment TV Movies Music Celebrities

Harbor cop d Justin already...

NYC Jewish family pummeled at 5th-grade commencement by...

's brutal anti-Israel

Penis cancer surge across Docs reveal h

Belgium, Lady Gaga took Flynt's cheekiness to the next level: Wearing an homage to her infamous meat dress and responding to flack she'd gotten for putting on 25 pounds, Gaga climbed into a black leather meat grinder.

She announced to the audience, "In 1970, women would no longer be treated like meat. On the cover of Hustler magazine or at the Born This Way Ball, meat is precisely how we treat them."

ALEXA

Lady Gaga Jumps Into a Meat Grinder on Stage | Splash News

Watch later

Share

Watch on YouTube

Use your G to sign in to

No more passw remember. Sign simple and secu

Search

11:24 AM 6/23/2024

Larry Flynt's Hustler: Most cont

https://nypost.com/2021/02/10/larry-flynts-hustler-most-controversial-nude-pics-ever

nypost.com wants to

Show notifications

Get notifications from The New York Post

Click 'Sign Up' then 'Allow'

Dismiss Sign Up

Entertainment TV Movies Music Celebrities

Harbor cop ...d Justin already...

NYC Jewish family pummeled at 5th-grade commencement by...

...'s brutal ...anti-Israel ...

Penis cancer surge across Docs reveal h

Belgium, Lady Gaga took Flynt's cheekiness to the next level: Wearing an homage to her infamous meat dress and responding to flack she'd gotten for putting on 25 pounds, Gaga climbed into a black leather meat grinder.

She announced to the audience, "In 1970, women would no longer be treated like meat. On the cover of Hustler magazine or at the Born This Way Ball, meat is precisely how we treat them."

ALEXA

The designer who got

Sign in wit

Use your G to sign in to

No more passw remember. Sign simple and secu

Hustler mag Wednesday

Getty Images

86°F Partly sunny

Search

11:24 AM 6/23/2024

Larry Flynt's Hustler: Most cont

https://nypost.com/2021/02/10/larry-flynts-hustler-most-controversial-nude-pics-ever 67%

nypost.com wants to

Show notifications

Entertainment TV Movies Music Celebrities

Get notifications from The New York Post

Click 'Sign Up' then 'Allow'

Dismiss Sign Up

Harbor cop ed Justin already...

NYC Jewish family pummeled at 5th-grade commencement by…

's brutal anti-Israel ...

Penis cancer surge across Docs reveal h

Belgium, Lady Gaga took Flynt's cheekiness to the next level: Wearing an homage to her infamous meat dress and responding to flack she'd gotten for putting on 25 pounds, Gaga climbed into a black leather meat grinder.

She announced to the audience, "In 1970, women would no longer be treated like meat. On the cover of Hustler magazine or at the Born This Way Ball, meat is precisely how we treat them."

ALEXA

The designer who got

Sign in wit

Use your G to sign in to

No more passw remember. Sign simple and secu

Hustler mag Wednesday

Getty Images:

86°F Partly sunny

Search

11:24 AM 6/23/2024

+

ames_Earl_Ray

James Earl Ray

Early life and education

Initial surveillance and first escape from prison

Post-Irish escapes

Arrival in Lorenzo, and

Search

18+ Playboy Plus | 18+ Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | 18+ Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

.tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 1

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 2

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 3

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 4

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love.
Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and

18+ Playboy Plus | 18+ Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | 18+ Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

.tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 1

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 2

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 3

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 4

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love.
Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and

FIRST ALERT
Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case
CURRIN MURDER CASE
PLEA DEAL
Burton
Caldwell
Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case
How Was Jessica Currin Killed?
DEBANGSHU NATH
A charred body, shifting stories and a convicted man's assertion of innocence

IMDb
Sign In
Use app
David Cross Biography: In His Own Words – Exclusive Video, News, Photos, Age
YOU HURT
MY FEELING
A24
David Cross is an American actor, director and comedian who is best known for his stand-up performances, as well as his role as Tobias Fünke in the cult Netflix sitcom Arrested Development.
David Cross Biography: Age, Early Life, Family, Education
David Cross was born on April 4, 1964 (David Cross age: 59) in Roswell, Georgia, to a Jewish family. His father, Barry, emigrated from Leeds, England. Half a year after his birth, Cross and his family relocated to Florida. After a couple of additional moves to Connecticut and New York, Cross settled back in Roswell, where he and his family remained for about a decade. Cross is the eldest of three children, having two younger sisters, Juli and Wendy Cross.

12 FIRSTALERT KFVS Your First Alert Station 82° Cape Girardeau, MO

Watch Live Latest Video First Alert Weather

Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case

Published: Sep. 29, 2008 at 6:37 PM CDT | Updated: Sep. 30, 2008 at 4:24 PM CDT

Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case

By: Heartland News

MAYFIELD, Ky. - Two people charged in the murder of a Murray teen eight years ago make a plea deal in the case.

Jeffrey Burton and Tamara Caldwell entered Alford pleas Monday to manslaughter and abuse of a corpse.

Burton entered the same plea to tampering with physical evidence.

All other charges against the pair were dropped. Sentencing is set for October 17th.

Burton and Caldwell are two of five people charged in the death of 18-year-old Jessica Currin, whose burned body was found in 2000.

Quincy Omar Cross, considered the ringleader of the group, was convicted in April of kidnap, rape and murder.

Monica Lewinsky Leaves Behind A Fortune That Makes Her Family...

How Was Jessica Currin Killed?

According to Talk Murder With Me, the following details of Jessica Currin's murder were given by a key witness named Victoria.

On the night of July 29, 2000, a man named Quincy Cross and a woman named Tamara Caldwell approached her for sex. However, when she rejected their advances, Cross hit her with a baseball bat, which knocked her unconscious. They took her to the house of another man, named Jeffrey Burton, and sexually assaulted her.

Soon, Quincy Cross hit the 18-year-old on her head with a wrench and strangled her to death using his black braided belt. Cross along with her posse placed Jessica's corpse in Burton's garage. However, when the body began to decay, it was taken to the school and set on fire.

DEBANGSHU NATH

Debangshu watched a couple of Scorsese, Tarantino and Coppola films in seventh grade and developed an unhealthy obsession with criminals, psychopaths and serial killers. Fueled by his passion for Death, Thrash and Black Metal, he finds solace in writing about some of the most deranged people and incidents in human history.

Thank God for cats.

Investigation Discovery | Jessica Currin murder | Mom's Night Out | Murder in the Heartland | True Crime News

SHARE ARTICLE

CNN US Watch Listen Live TV Sign In

A charred body, shifting stories and a convicted man's assertion of innocence

By Jacque Smith, CNN

12 minute read · Updated 11:40 AM EST, Mon November 13, 2023

Quincy Cross listened during his sentencing on April 9, 2008, in Hickman County Circuit Court in Kentucky. Cross was convicted of murder, rape, kidnapping, abuse of a corpse and tampering with evidence. Stephen Lance Dennee/The Paducah Sun/AP

Editor's Note: This story contains language that some readers may find offensive.

(CNN) — Crooked cops. Drug dealers. Secret agendas.

The rumor mill churned after the body of 18-year-old Jessica Currin was found burned and decomposing behind Mayfield Middle School in 2000. People in the small Kentucky town still talk about the case – or don't want to talk at all, if an outsider is asking the questions.

A jury deliberated for 3 hours and 45 minutes before convicting Quincy Omar Cross of murder, rape, sodomy, kidnapping, evidence tampering and abuse of a corpse in 2008 and sentenced him to life in prison. But Cross has always expressed his innocence, and Currin's father, Joe Currin, has come to believe Cross was wrongfully convicted. For over a decade, he has advocated for finding the person who, he says, really killed his daughter.

"We've just always (been) hoping that the truth would bring itself out," Joe Currin said. "But when you've got more people hiding the truth than you do trying to get to the truth, it's kind of hard to do."

IMDb Sign In Use app

David Cross Biography: In His Own Words – Exclusive Video, News, Photos, Age

David Cross is an American actor, director and comedian who is best known for his stand-up performances, as well as his role as Tobias Fünke in the cult Netflix sitcom Arrested Development.

David Cross Biography: Age, Early Life, Family, Education

David Cross was born on April 4, 1964 (David Cross age: 59) in Roswell, Georgia, to a Jewish family. His father, Barry, emigrated from Leeds, England. Half a year after his birth, Cross and his family relocated to Florida. After a couple of additional moves to Connecticut and New York, Cross settled back in Roswell, where he and his family remained for about a decade. Cross is the eldest of three children, having two younger sisters, Juli and Wendy Cross.

Playboy Plus | Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

tv | Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2
SexART
Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2
SexArt
Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor (Balloons)).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1996, Zvetz Kfana (Small Country, Great Man), is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1960s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Ramon Biton, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 223

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Manescus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español | 阅读简体中文版 | 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 223

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Manescus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español | 阅读简体中文版 | 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

All Content | Images
Advanced Search
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Register
Browse
This is a preview. Log in through your library.

Gangster Generation 1

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin
University of Massachusetts Boston

"Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews, and the Problem of Assimilation" examines cultural representations of Jewish criminals over the course of the twentieth century. The essay seeks to demonstrate that the several successive generations following the mass immigration of Jews to the United States, from figures have been invoked and described as a kind of index to the possibility—and desirability—of Jewish assimilation into the American mainstream. Taking one in-purview account of Jewish outlaws ranging from newspaper stories and nonfiction writing to memoir, movies, and a popular TV series, the essay shows that the Jewish gangster has proved to be a figure flexible enough to accommodate and reflect changes in the social position and the cultural needs of Jews in America.

According to legend, Meyer Lansky, one of the longest-lived and most powerful Jewish gangsters in U.S. history, once described his success in the following terms: "We're bigger than U.S. Steel." Whether Lansky ever actually said this—and whether it was literally true—is beside the point: Lansky's boast manages to convey not only the prominence of men such as Lansky, Dutch Schultz, Bugsy Siegel, Gyp the Blood, and scores of others, but also offers a way of evaluating these men's success that is pointedly American and deliberately conventional.

At very least, Lansky was right in principle. From its origin in the 1880s, to a peak of accomplishment during Prohibition, the Jewish underworld flourished in ghettos such as New York's Lower East Side, Chicago's West Side, or those in Detroit, Boston, Baltimore, and other places. During this time Jews contributed some of the United States' foremost bootleggers, racketeers, gamblers, and professional killers, culminating most famously in the Jewish-Italian criminal syndicate dubbed "Murder, Inc." by contemporary journalists.

After a few lucrative and bloody decades, though, the heyday of the Jewish gangster was over. The end of Prohibition necessitated a restructuring of organized crime's business plan to emphasize other sources of income, gambling in particular. Furthermore, following World War I, Jews in huge numbers were leaving the old urban neighborhoods that had given both to the gangsters, a result of these two factors was that Jewish gangsters became much less visible or even went "legit." By the 1950s, Jewish gangsters had disappeared from the newspaper headlines and political dis-

JOURNAL ARTICLE

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin

Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 4 (SUMMER 2002), pp. 1-17 (17 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press

https://www.jstor.org/stable/42943489
Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

All Content | Images
Advanced Search
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Register
Log in
Browse
Workspace
This is a preview. Log in through your library.

The Notorious Purple Gang 113

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway
Tel-Aviv University

During Prohibition (1920–1933), Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. At the time, Jewish gangs dominated illicit activities in a number of America's larger cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York, and Philadelphia. One of the more notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang. The gang dealt in bootlegging, gambling, extortion, drugs, and murder, and developed a reputation for being more ruthless than Al Capone's mob in Chicago. The Purple's decade-long reign of terror ended when most of the gang's members either went to prison or were murdered by rivals.

After World War I, Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. During the Prohibition era (1919–1933) 50 percent of the country's leading bootleggers were Jews, and Jewish criminals financed and directed much of the nation's narcotics traffic. Jewish gangs also dominated illicit activities in a number of America's larger cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York and Philadelphia.[1] Perhaps the most notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang.

[1] See Mark Haller, "Bootleggers and American Gambling, 1920–1950," in Gambling in America, Commission on the Review of National Policy Toward Gambling, Appendix 1 (Washington, D.C., 1976), p. 186; David Courtwright, Herman Joseph, and Don Des Jarlais, Addicts Who Survived: An Oral History of Narcotic Use in America, 1923–1965 (Knoxville, 1989), pp. 115, n. 2, 186–188, 199–201; and U.S. Congress, Senate Special Committee to Investigate Organized Crime in Interstate Commerce, 81st Congress, 1st Session, 1950, Part 2; Stephen Fox, Blood and Power: Organized Crime in Twentieth-Century America (New York, 1989), pp. 24–33; Albert Fried, The Rise and Fall of the Jewish Gangster in America (New York, 1980); Humbert S. Nelli, The Business of Crime: Italians and Syndicate Crime in the United States (New York, 1976), pp. 168–169, 172; Jenna Weissman Joselit, Our Gang: Jewish Crime and the New York Jewish Community, 1900–1940 (Bloomington, 1983), especially pp. 140–156; and Robert Rockaway, But He Was Good to His Mother: The Lives and Crimes of Jewish Gangsters (Jerusalem, 2000), pp. 7–62. See also Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), files 92-3185, 58-4441, 62-26080, 62-69890, and 62-69879. The FBI files are located at the Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters, Washington, D.C.

JOURNAL ARTICLE

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway

Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 1, Special Issue: American Jews (FALL 2001), pp. 113-130 (18 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press

https://www.jstor.org/stable/42944636
Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

All Content | Images | Advanced Search | Register
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Browse | Wor

This is a preview. Log in through your library.

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin
University of Massachusetts Boston

"Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews, and the Problem of Assimilation" examines cultural representations of Jewish criminals over the course of the twentieth century. The essay seeks to demonstrate that for several successive generations following the mass immigration of Jews to the United States, these figures have been invoked and described as a kind of index to the possibility—and desirability—of Jewish assimilation into the American mainstream. Taking into its purview accounts of Jewish mobsters ranging from newspaper stories and nonfiction writing to memoir, movies, and a popular TV series, the essay shows that the Jewish gangster has proved to be a figure flexible enough to accommodate and reflect changes in the social position and the cultural needs of Jews in America.

According to legend, Meyer Lansky, one of the longest-lived and most powerful Jewish gangsters in U.S. history, once described his success in the following terms: "We're bigger than U.S. Steel." Whether Lansky ever actually said this—and whether it was literally true—is beside the point: Lansky's boast manages to convey not only the prominence of men such as Lansky, Dutch Schultz, Bugsy Siegel, Gyp the Blood, and scores of others, but also offers a way of evaluating these men's success that is pointedly American and deliberately conventional.

At very least, Lansky was right in principle. From its origin in the 1880s, to a peak of accomplishment during Prohibition, the Jewish underworld flourished in ghettos such as New York's Lower East Side, Chicago's West Side, or those in Detroit, Boston, Baltimore, and other places. During this time Jews contributed some of the United States' foremost bootleggers, racketeers, panderers, and professional killers, culminating most famously in the Jewish-Italian criminal syndicate dubbed "Murder, Inc." by contemporary journalists.

After a few lucrative and bloody decades, though, the heyday of the Jewish gangster was over. The end of Prohibition necessitated a restructuring of organized crime's business plan to emphasize other sources of income, gambling in particular. Furthermore, following World War I, Jews in huge numbers were leaving the old urban neighborhoods that had given birth to the gangsters; a result of these two factors was that Jewish gangsters became much less visible or even went "legit." By the 1950s, Jewish gangsters had disappeared from the newspaper headlines and political dis-

JOURNAL ARTICLE

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin

Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 4 (SUMMER 2002), pp. 1-17 (17 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press
https://www.jstor.org/stable/42943489

Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

All Content | Images | Advanced Search | Register | Log in
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Browse | Workspace

This is a preview. Log in through your library.

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway
Tel-Aviv University

During Prohibition (1920–1933), Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. At the time, Jewish gangs dominated illicit activities in a number of America's largest cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York, and Philadelphia. One of the more notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang. The gang dealt in bootlegging, gambling, extortion, drugs, and murder, and developed a reputation for being more ruthless than Al Capone's mob in Chicago. The Purple's decade-long reign of terror ended when most of the gang's members either went to prison or were murdered by rivals.

After World War I, Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. During the Prohibition era (1919–1933) 50 percent of the country's leading bootleggers were Jews, and Jewish criminals financed and directed much of the nation's narcotics traffic. Jewish gangs also dominated illicit activities in a number of America's largest cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York and Philadelphia.[1] Perhaps the most notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang.

[1]See Mark Haller, "Bootleggers and American Gambling, 1920–1950," in Gambling in America, Commission on the Review of National Policy Toward Gambling, Appendix I (Washington, D.C., 1976), p. 106; David Courtwright, Herman Joseph, and Don Des Jarlais, Addicts Who Survived: An Oral History of Narcotics Use in America, 1923–1965 (Knoxville, 1989), pp. 110, n. 2, 186–188, 199–201; and U.S. Congress, Senate Special Committee to Investigate Organized Crime in Interstate Commerce, 81st Congress, 1st Session, 1950, Part 2; Stephen Fox, Blood and Power: Organized Crime in Twentieth Century America (New York, 1989), pp. 24–35; Albert Fried, The Rise and Fall of the Jewish Gangster in America (New York, 1980); Humbert S. Nelli, The Business of Crime: Italians and Syndicate Crime in the United States (New York, 1976), pp. 168–169, 172; Jenna Weissman Joselit, Our Gang: Jewish Crime and the New York Jewish Community, 1900–1940 (Bloomington, 1983), especially pp. 140–156; and Robert Rockaway, But He Was Good to His Mother: The Lives and Crimes of Jewish Gangsters (Jerusalem, 2000), pp. 7–62. See also Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), files 92-3105, 58-4441, 62-26085, 62-69850, and 62-69870. The FBI files are located at the Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters, Washington, D.C.

JOURNAL ARTICLE

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway

Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 1, Special Issue: American Jews (FALL 2001), pp. 113-130 (18 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press
https://www.jstor.org/stable/42944836

Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

Los Zetas

27 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Los Zetas (pronounced [los ˈsetas], Spanish for "The Zs") is a Mexican criminal syndicate, known as one of the most dangerous of Mexico's drug cartels.[17][18][19][20][21] They are known for engaging in brutally violent "shock and awe" tactics such as beheadings, torture, and indiscriminate murder.[22] While primarily concerned with drug trafficking, the organization also runs profitable sex and gun rackets.[23] Los Zetas also operate through protection rackets, assassinations, extortion, kidnappings and other illegal activities.[24] The organization is based in Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, directly across the border from Laredo, Texas.[25] The origins of Los Zetas date back to the late 1990s, when commandos of the Mexican Army deserted their ranks and began working as the enforcement arm of the Gulf Cartel.[22][26] In February 2010, Los Zetas broke away and formed their own criminal organization, rivalling the Gulf Cartel.[27][28]

They were at one point Mexico's largest and most expansive drug cartel in terms of geographical presence, overtaking their rivals, the Sinaloa Cartel, in physical territory.[29] However, in recent times Los Zetas has become fragmented and seen its influence diminish.[30] As of March 2016, Grupo Bravo (Bravo Group) and Zetas Vieja Escuela (Old School Zetas) have formed an alliance with the Gulf Cartel against Cartel Del Noreste (Cartel of the Northeast).[31] In March 2019, Texas Republican congressman Chip Roy introduced a bill that would list the Cartel Del Noreste faction of Los Zetas, Jalisco New Generation Cartel and Gulf Cartel as foreign terrorist organizations. Former United States President Donald Trump had also expressed interest in designating cartels as terrorist organizations.[32] However such plans were halted at the request of Mexican President Andrés Manuel López Obrador.[33]

History [edit]

Etymology [edit]

Los Zetas was named after its first commander, Arturo Guzmán Decena, whose Federal Judicial

Los Zetas

Los Zetas

Founded by	Osiel Cárdenas Guillén,[1] Arturo Guzmán Decena
Founding location	Tamaulipas
Years active	1997–present
Territory	Mexico: Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, Veracruz, Tabasco, Campeche, Yucatán, Quintana Roo, San Luis Potosí, Chiapas, Puebla, Tlaxcala, Hidalgo, Guerrero, Oaxaca, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Michoacán, State of México Rest of North America: United States, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Costa Rica, Nicaragua South America: Colombia, Peru, Panama, and Venezuela[2] Europe: Balkans, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, European Union, Norway, Switzerland and Liechtenstein
Ethnicity	Multi-ethnic, but mainly Mexican and Latino
Membership (est.)	20,000-50,000
Leader(s)	Maxiley Barahona Nadales
Criminal activities	Drug trafficking, human trafficking, arms trafficking, murder, rape, kidnapping, racketeering, extortion, arson, hacking, video piracy, prostitution, theft[3][4][5][6][7][8]
Allies	Tijuana Cartel Juárez Cartel 'Ndrangheta Los Mazatlecos

Theresa Musgrove
Let's Talk

Was Dickens' guilt about Fagin a product of his Jewish family?

Documentary evidence, including contemporary copies of the JC, sheds fascinating new light on Dicken's Jewishness

This vintage image features Charles Dickens in his study.

May 23, 2022 14:32

The recent BBC series Dodger, a "prequel" to one aspect of Charles Dickens's story of Oliver Twist, has revived once more the eternal controversy over the malevolent figure of Fagin, and this character's role in the dark history of antisemitism.

In 1863, some 25 years after the publication of Oliver Twist, Dickens was taken to task by Eliza Davis, a middle aged Jewish woman who persuaded him to make at least some reparation for the damage he had caused. Their correspondence, which was published soon after his death, is held to be responsible for his decision to remove much of the most offensive material in the novel, as well as for inspiring the inclusion of the saintly Jewish character Riah, in Our Mutual Friend.

Eliza Davis's influence on Dickens can be said to have resulted in the restoration of his reputation in the eyes of the Anglo-Jewish community — or at least in the eyes of the editors of the Jewish Chronicle. The paper had accused Dickens of "pandering to a vitiated taste" in creating Fagin, and being "a contaminating influence". Yet after his death, he was described in terms of real affection, indeed something approaching reverence, and accompanied by a genuine sense of loss. The JC observed that the novelist's work had struck a chord, "broke it to a pure echo and

David Vladimir Bermant

Rabbi Jonathan Romain

amazon Deliver to Israel All Search Amazon EN Hello, sign in Account & Lists Returns & Orders

All Medical Care Groceries Best Sellers Amazon Basics New Releases Prime Music Customer Service Today's Deals

Customer Review

orniel antonio rodriguez decena

★★★★★ Buen libro

Reviewed in the United States on January 25, 2020

Verified Purchase

Excelente libro . Algunos errores de traducción .

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Translate review to English

Product Details

Libro De Oraciones Hebreo- Espanol
by Sinai publication

4.5 out of 5

56 global ratings

5 star	79%
4 star	4%
3 star	8%
2 star	3%

(Top)
- Early life
- Criminal career
  - Early activities and prison
  - Early cocaine career
  - Norman's Cay
- Return to Colombia
  - Participation in the MAS
  - The National Latin Movement

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this Spanish name, the first or paternal surname is Lehder and the second or maternal family name is Rivas.

Carlos Enrique Lehder Rivas (born 7 September 1949)[9] is a Colombian and German former drug lord who was co-founder of the Medellín Cartel. Born to a German father and Colombian mother,[10] he was the first high-level drug trafficker extradited to the United States, after which he was released from prison in the United States after 33 years in 2020.[11][12] Originally from Armenia, Colombia, Lehder eventually ran a cocaine transport empire on Norman's Cay island, 210 miles (340 km) off the Florida coast in the central Bahamas.[11][13]

Lehder was one of the founding members of Muerte a Secuestradores ("MAS"), a paramilitary group whose focus was to retaliate against the kidnappings of cartel members and their families[11] by the guerrillas.[14][15][16][17] His motivation to join the MAS was to retaliate against the M-19 guerrilla movement, which, in November 1981, attempted to kidnap him for a ransom; Lehder managed to escape from the kidnappers, though he was shot in the leg.[18] He was one

Carlos Lehder

JHSC JEWISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY of SOUTH CAROLINA

CONTACT

PROJECTS ABOUT SUPPORT EVEN
BURIALS & MEMORIALS

Kahal Kadosh Beth Elohim (KKBE) Memori

90 Hasell Street Charleston, SC

Show 50 entries

Surname	LEHDER	LEHDER
Given Name(s)	Bernard	Helen SOMMERFIELD
Date of Birth	11-Jan-1922	07-Nov-1924
Date of Death (English)	26-Feb-2002	03-Jun-2010

Los Zetas

Article Talk

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

History

Etymology

Was Dickens' guilt about Fagin a product of his Jewish family?

amazon

Customer Review

Product Details

4.5 out of 5

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Carlos Lehder

LEHDER

JHSSC

Kahal Kadosh Beth Elohim (KKBE) Memori

90 Hasell Street Charleston, SC

Los Zetas

27 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Los Zetas (pronounced [los ˈsetas], Spanish for "The Zs") is a Mexican criminal syndicate, known as one of the most dangerous of Mexico's drug cartels.[17][18][19][20][21] They are known for engaging in brutally violent "shock and awe" tactics such as beheadings, torture, and indiscriminate murder.[22] While primarily concerned with drug trafficking, the organization also runs profitable sex and gun rackets.[23] Los Zetas also operate through protection rackets, assassinations, extortion, kidnappings and other illegal activities.[24] The organization is based in Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, directly across the border from Laredo, Texas.[25] The origins of Los Zetas date back to the late 1990s, when commandos of the Mexican Army deserted their ranks and began working as the enforcement arm of the Gulf Cartel.[22][26] In February 2010, Los Zetas broke away and formed their own criminal organization, rivalling the Gulf Cartel.[27][28]

They were at one point Mexico's largest and most expansive drug cartel in terms of geographical presence, overtaking their rivals, the Sinaloa Cartel, in physical territory.[29] However, in recent times Los Zetas has become fragmented and seen its influence diminish.[30] As of March 2016, Grupo Bravo (Bravo Group) and Zetas Vieja Escuela (Old School Zetas) have formed an alliance with the Gulf Cartel against Cartel Del Noreste (Cartel of the Northeast).[31] In March 2019, Texas Republican congressman Chip Roy introduced a bill that would list the Cartel Del Noreste faction of Los Zetas, Jalisco New Generation Cartel and Gulf Cartel as foreign terrorist organizations. Former United States President Donald Trump had also expressed interest in designating cartels as terrorist organizations.[32] However such plans were halted at the request of Mexican President Andrés Manuel López Obrador.[33]

History [edit]

Etymology [edit]

Los Zetas was named after its first commander, Arturo Guzmán Decena, whose Federal Judicial

Los Zetas

Los Zetas

Founded by	Osiel Cárdenas Guillén,[1] Arturo Guzmán Decena
Founding location	Tamaulipas
Years active	1997–present
Territory	Mexico: Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, Veracruz, Tabasco, Campeche, Yucatán, Quintana Roo, San Luis Potosí, Chiapas, Puebla, Tlaxcala, Hidalgo, Guerrero, Oaxaca, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Michoacán, State of México Rest of North America: United States, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Costa Rica, Nicaragua South America: Colombia, Peru, Panama, and Venezuela[2] Europe: Balkans, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, European Union, Norway, Switzerland and Liechtenstein
Ethnicity	Multi-ethnic, but mainly Mexican and Latino
Membership (est.)	20,000-50,000
Leader(s)	Maxiley Barahona Nadales
Criminal activities	Drug trafficking, human trafficking, arms trafficking, murder, rape, kidnapping, racketeering, extortion, arson, hacking, video piracy, prostitution, theft[3][4][5][6][7][8]
Allies	Tijuana Cartel Juárez Cartel 'Ndrangheta Los Mazatlecos

Theresa Musgrove
Let's Talk

Was Dickens' guilt about Fagin a product of his Jewish family?

Documentary evidence, including contemporary copies of the JC, sheds fascinating new light on Dicken's Jewishness

This vintage image features Charles Dickens in his study.

May 23, 2022 14:32

The recent BBC series Dodger, a "prequel" to one aspect of Charles Dickens's story of Oliver Twist, has revived once more the eternal controversy over the malevolent figure of Fagin, and this character's role in the dark history of antisemitism.

In 1863, some 25 years after the publication of Oliver Twist, Dickens was taken to task by Eliza Davis, a middle aged Jewish woman who persuaded him to make at least some reparation for the damage he had caused. Their correspondence, which was published soon after his death, is held to be responsible for his decision to remove much of the most offensive material in the novel, as well as for inspiring the inclusion of the saintly Jewish character Riah, in Our Mutual Friend.

Eliza Davis's influence on Dickens can be said to have resulted in the restoration of his reputation in the eyes of the Anglo-Jewish community – or at least in the eyes of the editors of the Jewish Chronicle. The paper had accused Dickens of "pandering to a vitiated taste" in creating Fagin, and being "a contaminating influence". Yet after his death, he was described in terms of real affection, indeed something approaching reverence, and accompanied by a genuine sense of loss. The JC observed that the novelist's work had struck a chord, "broke it to a pure echo and

David Vladimir Bernsaat

Rabbi Jonathan Romain

amazon Deliver to Israel All Search Amazon EN Hello, sign in Account & Lists Returns & Orders

All Medical Care Groceries Best Sellers Amazon Basics New Releases Prime Music Customer Service Today's Deals

Customer Review

orniel antonio rodriguez decena

★★★★★ Buen libro

Reviewed in the United States on January 25, 2020

Verified Purchase

Excelente libro . Algunos errores de traducción .

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Translate review to English

Product Details

Libro De Oraciones Hebreo- Espanol
by Sinai publication

★★★★½ 4.5 out of 5

56 global ratings

5 star	79%
4 star	4%
3 star	8%
2 star	3%

(Top)
Early life
Criminal career
Early activities and prison
Early cocaine career
Norman's Cay
Return to Colombia
Participation in the MAS
The National Latin Movement

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this Spanish name, the first or paternal surname is Lehder and the second or maternal family name is Rivas.

Carlos Enrique Lehder Rivas (born 7 September 1949)[9] is a Colombian and German former drug lord who was co-founder of the Medellín Cartel. Born to a German father and Colombian mother,[10] he was the first high-level drug trafficker extradited to the United States, after which he was released from prison in the United States after 33 years in 2020.[11][12] Originally from Armenia, Colombia, Lehder eventually ran a cocaine transport empire on Norman's Cay island, 210 miles (340 km) off the Florida coast in the central Bahamas.[11][13]

Lehder was one of the founding members of Muerte a Secuestradores ("MAS"), a paramilitary group whose focus was to retaliate against the kidnappings of cartel members and their families[11] by the guerrillas.[14][15][16][17] His motivation to join the MAS was to retaliate against the M-19 guerrilla movement, which, in November 1981, attempted to kidnap him for a ransom; Lehder managed to escape from the kidnappers, though he was shot in the leg.[18] He was one

Carlos Lehder

JHSSC JEWISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY of SOUTH CAROLINA

CONTACT

PROJECTS ABOUT SUPPORT EVEN
BURIALS & MEMORIALS

Kahal Kadosh Beth Elohim (KKBE) Memori

90 Hasell Street Charleston, SC

Show 50 entries

Surname	LEHDER	LEHDER
Given Name(s)	Bernard	Helen SOMMERFIELD
Date of Birth	11-Jan-1922	07-Nov-1924
Date of Death (English)	26-Feb-2002	03-Jun-2010

1. Thieves' stars

1. Thieves' stars

History Channel/YouTube

Depending on the location on the body, the stars convey a prisoner's status. When worn on the knees, the stars are a sign of a prisoner who commands respect. The implied meaning is "I will never get on my knees in front of anyone."

Stars on the chest mark a higher rank. Only the most respected can wear the thieves' stars in that area of the body. The tattoos must be earned, and an inmate wearing an undeserved tattoo risks a beating or worse.

WIKIPEDIA
The Free Encyclopedia

Semion Mogilevich

22 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this name that follows Eastern Slavic naming customs, the patronymic is Yudkovich and the family name is Mogilevich.

Semion Yudkovich Mogilevich (Ukrainian: Семен Юдкович Могилевич, romanized: Semén Yúdkovych Mohylévych [se ˈmɛn ˈjudkowtʃ moɦ ˈlewtʃ]; born June 30, 1946) is a Jewish Ukrainian-born Russian organized crime boss. He quickly built a highly structured criminal organization, in the mode of an American mafia family; many of the organization's 250 members are his relatives.[3] He is described by agencies in the European Union and United States as the "boss of all bosses" of most Russian Mafia syndicates in the world,[4] he is believed to direct a multibillion-dollar international criminal empire and is described by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) as "the most powerful and dangerous gangster in the world," with immense power and reach at a global scale, and connections to prominent government, military, and law enforcement officials, and powerful politicians around the world.[5][3] He has been accused by the FBI of "weapons trafficking, contract murders, extortion, drug trafficking, and prostitution on an international scale."[6]

Mogilevich's nicknames include "Don Semyon" and "The Brainy Don" (because of his business acumen).[7] According to US diplomatic cables, he controls RosUkrEnergo,[8] a company actively involved in Russia–Ukraine gas disputes, and is a partner of Ivan Gordiyenko.

Mogilevich has three children and is closely associated with the Solntsevskaya crime group. He has alliances with political figures, including Yury Luzhkov, the former Mayor of Moscow, Dmytro Firtash, and Leonid Derkach, former head of the Security Service of Ukraine.[9][10][11] Oleksandr Turchynov, who was designated the acting President of Ukraine in February 2014, appeared in court in 2010 for allegedly destroying files pertaining to Mogilevich.[12] Shortly before his assassination, Russian FSB defector Alexander Litvinenko claimed Mogilevich had a "good

Semion Mogilevich

An image of Semion Mogilevich released by the FBI and State Department on 6 April 2022

FBI Ten Most Wanted Fugitive

Charges
- Fraud by Wire
- Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act Conspiracy
- Mail Fraud
- Money Laundering Conspiracy
- Money Laundering
- Arms trafficking
- Drug trafficking
- Human trafficking
- Aiding and Abetting
- Murder
- Smuggling
- Prostitution
- Securities fraud
- Filing False Registration With the SEC
- False Filings With the SEC
- Falsification of Books and Records

Alias Seva Mogulevich

National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW
From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 | Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.
https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/spotlight/fj/catalog?utf8=%E2%9C%93&exhibit_id=fj&search_field=all_fields&q=

Circulate this:

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

What do you want to learn

› Arts › Educational magazines › DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

CENGAGE Views 1,802,219 Updated

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch: Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lingering topic of interest was his

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS | 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeja Dabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW

From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.

https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/ccl/catalog?q=%E2%C%93&pubdat_id=%&search_field=all_fields&sor

Circulate this:

encyclopedia.com

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for C4 sketch Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lifelong tenor of interest was his

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Dymann, MS 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeya Dabagh (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW
From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 | Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.
https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/spotlight/fj/catalog?utf8=%E2%9C%93&exhibit_id=fj&search_field=all_fields&q=

Circulate this:

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

What do you want to learn

› Arts › Educational magazines › DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

CENGAGE Views 1,802,219 Updated

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch: Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lingering topic of interest was his

---

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS | 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeja Dabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW

From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.

https://mobilearchive.nlm.nih.gov/mobile/item/?q=(date:1%2C0%2C1%2C1%2C0)&rv=0&d_id=6&search_field=all_fields&s=

Circulate this

encyclopedia.com

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch. Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in residence in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S. Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lasting body of interest was his

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Rufenia Gabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

first mobile hos | MASH units wer

https://circulatingnow.nlm.nih....

NIH National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW
From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 | Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.

https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/spotlight/fj/catalog?utf8=%E2%9C%93&exhibit_id=fj&search_field=all_fields&q=

Circulate this:

DeBakey, Michael E. 190

https://www.encyclo...

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

› Arts › Educational magazines › DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

CENGAGE Views 1,802,219 Updated

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch: Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lingering topic of interest was his

Pioneers in Cardiothorac

https://blog.transoni...

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS | 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeja Dabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

UCF develops hypersonic pr

LIVESCIENCE

UCF develops breakthrough in hypersonic propulsion

NEW ATLAS

Overlaid shadowgraph-chemiluminescence images show conditions in the test chamber in a non-reacting Mach 3 airflow, and then with fuel added to create the oblique detonation wave. University of Central Florida

Compared to conditions measured with the main fuel injector turned off, peak pressure was 2.7 times higher behind the ramp, and the nozzle exit pressure was 10.5 times higher. The flow velocity was calculated at 99.7 percent of the theoretical detonation wave speed for a freely propagating, normal explosion in the given mixture.

"This is the first time a detonation has been shown to be stabilized experimentally," says Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor in UCF's Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering, and one of the authors on the new research paper. "We are finally able to hold the detonation in space in oblique detonation form. It's almost like freezing an intense explosion in physical space."

Where a detonation typically lasts only a matter of micro- or milliseconds, the UCF team managed to sustain this one experimentally until the fuel was turned off after around three seconds. That's long enough to prove the device works, Ahmed told LiveScience, and if the team kept the fuel flowing any longer it would've destroyed the quartz windows on the sides of the test section, which were there to allow optical imaging of the tests. Replacing the test section with something entirely metal-sided would allow the detonation to be sustained much longer.

LIVESCIENCE

Subscribe

This conceptual image shows a hypersonic aircraft powered by an Oblique Detonation Wave Engine. Image credit: Daniel A. Rosato, NASA)

A never-ending detonation could be the key to hypersonic flight and space planes that can seamlessly fly from Earth into orbit. And now, researchers have recreated the explosive phenomenon in the lab that could make it possible.

Detonations are a particularly powerful kind of explosion that move outward faster than the speed of sound. The massive explosion that rocked the port of Beirut in Lebanon last August was a detonation, and the widespread destruction it caused demonstrates the huge amounts of energy they can produce.

Scientists have long dreamed of building aircraft engines that can harness this energy; such craft could theoretically fly from New York to London in under an hour. But detonations are incredibly hard to control and typically last less than a microsecond, so no one has yet been able to make them a reality.

Related: The top 10 greatest explosions ever

Now, a team from the University of Central Florida has created an experimental setup that lets them sustain a detonation in a fixed position for several seconds, which the researchers say is a major step toward future hypersonic propulsion systems.

"What we're trying to do here is to control that detonation," said Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor of mechanical and aerospace engineering at the University of Central Florida, and lead author of a new paper on the research published Monday (May 10) in the journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

"We want to freeze it in space and harness that energy. Rather than it destroying buildings, as you saw in Lebanon, now I want to use it and produce thrust with it," Ahmed told Live Science. "If we can do that, we can travel super fast."

The breakthrough was built on decades of research into a theoretical propulsion system called an oblique detonation wave engine (ODWE). The concept works by funneling a mixture of air and fuel at hypersonic speeds (more than five times the speed of sound) toward a ramp, which creates a shock wave. This shock wave rapidly heats up the fuel-air mixture and causes it to detonate, blasting exhaust gasses out from the back of the engine at high speed. The result? Lots of thrust.

FOX 13 TAMPA BAY

News Weather Sports Good Day We Live Here Contests More

UCF develops breakthrough in hypersonic propulsion

Breakthrough in Science: Hypersonic travel

TAMPA - Aerospace engineers at the University of Central Florida are drawing global attention for their successful experiments in hypersonic propulsion. Their work would lead to safe and stable hypersonic air travel in the future– that could fly passengers from Tampa to Los Angeles in a matter of minutes.

UCF has not built such a jet, but professor Kareem Ahmed and his students figured out how to stabilize a hypersonic engine in their lab.

That's hypersonic as opposed to supersonic. For perspective, NASA's X-59 supersonic aircraft is designed to fly 925 miles per hour. UCF's hypersonic design could lead to air travel up to 14 times faster– up to 13,000 miles per hour!

"The first reaction was actually denial, not believing it's actually real," said Dr. Ahmed.

For background, we've powered engines through internal combustion for more than 200 years.

"When you have fuel injector in a car, it sprays mist into your combustor," said UCF graduate student Steven Schroeder.

The fuel mist burns, which releases energy, which drives motion. We currently ride or fly on comparatively slow, controlled reactions, Dr. Ahmed likens to a burning candle flame.

DAILY NEWSLETTER

Sign Up

Trending

Latest headlines

Rafael Caro Quintero: The True Story Of The Narcos Drug Lord Still On The Run

MORE ☰ ▲ • CONTACT US • FIELD OFFICES • DALLAS • NEWS • PRESS RELEASES FBI

Search FBI

Dallas

About | News | Wanted and Missing Persons | Community Outreach

U.S. Attorney's Office

Twitter Facebook Email

February 11, 2015

Dallas County Man Admits to Producing Child Pornography

DALLAS—A Hutchins, Texas, man, Servando Vega Cervantes, 24, appeared this morning before U.S. Magistrate Judge Paul D. Stickney and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging three counts of production of child pornography, announced John Parker, United States Attorney for the Northern District of Texas.

Cervantes faces a statutory penalty of not less than 15 years and not more than 30 years in federal prison, for each count. Each count also carries up to a $250,000 fine and up to a lifetime of supervised release. Cervantes has been in custody since his arrest in November 2014 on a related federal complaint. He is scheduled to be sentenced on May 28, 2015, by U.S. District Judge Jane J. Boyle.

According to documents filed in the case, the Hutchins Police Department contacted the FBI in May 2014 regarding questionable online communication between an 11-year-old victim, "John Doe #1," and the Facebook user profile of "Laura Ortiz." The victim's mother believed the user of the Ortiz profile was actually an adult male and not a 13-year-old female as described in chat conversations between John Doe #1 and Ortiz. The investigation revealed that the user profile "Laura Ortiz" belonged to Cervantes. The investigation also revealed that John Doe #1 knew

Henry F. Quintero Sentenced To 25 Years For Failure To Register As Sex Offender

Photo: Ellis County Sheriff's Office

Convicted for Sexual Assault of a Child in 1997

Ellis County and District Attorney Ann Montgomery announced that Henry F. Quintero, 52, of Bardwell, Texas, was sentenced to 25 years

History | Curiosities | Archaeology | News | Today In History | Members

Rafael Caro Quintero: The True Story Of The Narcos Drug Lord Still On The Run

By Gina Dimuro | Edited By John Kuroski

Rafael Caro Quintero was one of Mexico's first and most powerful cartel leaders until he was suspected of orchestrating the brutal torture and murder of a DEA agent.

Rafael Caro Quintero was considered the "Narco of Narcos." The bloodthirsty drug lord thought he was untouchable, but he overstepped his bounds when he brutally murdered an American agent.

Let out of jail on a technicality, the trafficker is still at large — and wanted by the FBI. Now, Caro Quintero is the central figure of season four of Netflix's popular series Narcos. Here's his true story.

Early Life And Finding The Guadalajara Cartel

A photo of Rafael Caro Quintero from 2016.

Rafael Caro Quintero was born sometime in October 1952, in Sinaloa, Mexico. He has listed various birthdays spanning October to November or March of

YouTube Search Sign in

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

Subscribe Join

About

Yoel
Queridos amigos
Este nuevo proyecto para la difusión de la Sagrada Torá está orientado para todos aquellos que están comenzando ahondar en el conocimiento de las escrituras y de las tradiciones de nuestro pueblo Israel.

Quiera el creador del universo que el contenido realizado sea de nuestro agrado e interés.

Te gustaría ayudar este proyecto o a un estudiante de Yeshiva?, Te gustaría que haga tefila por Ti o por alguien en especial en los lugares sagrados como la cueva de los patriarcas o el muro occidental?.
Yo te puedo ayudar
Escribe a mi correo electrónico:
yoelsinquintero@gmail.com

Te gustaría ser parte de mi grupo de WhatsApp para recibir el estudio semanal de la Torá y de las festividades? Puedes unirte con este enlace:

https://chat.whatsapp.com/ITIrxqHKyeOgG41Z0kvIMUN

Todo lo bueno y lo mejor queridos amigos y amigas

Channel details

www.youtube.com/@YoelishQuintero

13.2K subscribers

33 videos

265,428 views

Joined Dec 3, 2023

Share channel

EL PAÍS International SUBSCRIBE LOG IN

MEXICAN CARTELS >

Rafael Caro Quintero: the historic head of the Sinaloa cartel is captured

Sources from the Marines confirm that the veteran narco, implicated in the murder of a DEA agent in the 1980s, was detained on Friday

ELENA REINA
Mexico - JUL 15, 2022 - 19:38 EDT

Rafael Caro Quintero, in prison, in a file image. CUARTOSCURO

Rafael Caro Quintero, the legendary narco leader of the 1980s, has been captured. Sources from the Marines confirmed to EL PAÍS that the former cartel leader, on whose head the United States Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) had placed the highest ever reward for a criminal, was detained on Friday. One of the founders of the legendary Guadalajara cartel, which later became the Sinaloa cartel, was arrested for the second time near his home territory, in the Sinaloa highlands.

The criminal previously entered prison in 1985 after the brutal murder of undercover DEA agent Kiki Camarena. In 2013, still with 12 years of his sentence left to serve, he was released in Mexico after a state court concluded that he had been tried improperly. The United States pressured Mexican authorities to recapture him. The old drug capo, far

NEWSLETTER

Sign up to EL PAÍS US Edition bulletin

APÚNTATE

MOST VIEWED

1. Europe and the US commemorate D-Day (and suddenly World War II no longer seems so remote)
2. No money for David Lynch and no distributor for Francis Ford Coppola: Hollywood is no country for old men
3. Lisbon, a city dying from its own success
4. The 'Saltburn' effect, or the dangers of renting out your castle to a film or TV crew
5. Disfrutar, the new best restaurant in the world, is in Barcelona

Momentum

LEARNING

SISTER SPOTLIGHTS

3 MIN

Weaving science into Torah learning

There are many ways to interpret the Torah, but for Momentum sister Sherri Quintero, a biology teacher, one of her favorite ways to study is to look for the wonders of science and technology woven into the texts.

The recent holiday of Shavuot, a celebration of the day the Israelites received the Torah at Mount Sinai, is a perfect example. It is written in the Torah: "The smoke rose like the smoke of a kiln, and the whole mountain trembled violently. The blare of the horn grew louder and louder. As Moses spoke, God answered him in thunder." (Exodus 19:19-20)

For Sherri, who teaches at the Kellman Brown Academy, a Jewish Day School in New Jersey, it was an opportunity to explore with her students: Is it possible to see sound? What is a soundwave? Why does smoke always rise? What causes earthquakes?

A call for change

The Shavuot lesson is just one way that Sherri is taking an innovative approach towards combining Jewish learning and science, an idea that started coalescing during Sherri's MOMentum Trip to Israel in 2016. At the time, she was in the middle of her ninth year as

YouTube Search Sign in

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

Subscribe Join

Home Videos Shorts Live Community

Latest Popular Oldest

Hasta estar en su Lugar
3.8K views • 3 weeks ago

Pa' atrás, ni para tomar impulso!!!
4K views • 1 month ago

Eres libre!!! o no?
2.9K views • 1 month ago

25 de abril de 2024
5K views • 1 month ago

Pesaj kasher v'sameaj
2.8K views • 1 month ago

Un saludo de Shavua tov
3.6K views • 1 month ago

Kehilath HaDerekh's leadership is composed of three components:

1. BOARD OF DIRECTORS:

The Board of Directors are the governing body of the congregation. The Directors are:

- Mahamad Erika Quintero, President
- Rob Andrew Friedman, Vice President
- David Frankel, Director
- Richard Gnodzo, Director

2. ELDERS

Zeenim (Christened Elders) along with our Shomerim (Shepherds) are the servant-leaders. Under the guidance and authority of the Rabbi, provide prayers, teachings, classes, and lead ministries of the shul.

3. ACCOUNTABILITY BOARD

The Accountability Board exists as a body of accountability for the Congregation's Senior Leader. The Accountability Board may only be called upon by the rabbi for prayer or counsel as needed. The Board of Directors may contact the Accountability Board, only by unanimous vote (excepting the rabbi), if any matter of serious concern arises through an inward crisis concerning the senior leader. The Accountability Board is empowered to have authority over the senior leader. Their identity is known only to the senior rabbi, and the board of directors.

Now that their situation could be speedy discussed, they said, they could make public a demand. They wanted, as Mr. Carpio put it, "to be treated like Ethiopians" in terms of Israeli aid to immigrants. They wanted Israel to recognize that they had forfeited all their possessions — "down to the drinking glasses," Mr. Carpio said — to the Cuban Government. They had arrived with nothing but a few battered suitcases and 44 pounds of clothes per family. They want to receive an "immigration basket" of money and services, they said, just like the Ethiopians and, to a less generous extent, the Russians.

"Hey, they're complaining," commented Avraham Burg, the Speaker of the Parliament. "That means they've really become Israelis."

Ms. Quintero is not complaining, especially not after the Immigration Minister, Yuli Tamir, proposed late today that the Cubans get the help they are asking for.

Fingering her Star of David necklace, Ms. Quintero said she felt embarrassed that Israel's first glimpse of the Cuban community showed not their appreciation but their pent-up frustrations. She also regretted that Israelis might have got what she called a false impression that most of the Cubans see Israel as a way station to Miami or New York.

Television cameras could not help but focus today on one Cuban immigrant, Esther Mechulam, since she greeted them at the gate to the center. "Brooklyn, Brooklyn," she was saying. "I dream of Brooklyn."

In contrast, Ms. Quintero said she and her husband considered themselves "like hard Zionist Jews," even though, like everyone else, they left primarily because the opportunity presented itself.

"We have well-established family in New York, in New Jersey," she said. "We don't want to join them. We want them to join us here."

Home Visitors Beliefs FAQ What People Are Saying Leadership Scriptures Resources

Kehilath HaDerekh's leadership is composed of three components:

1. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors are the governing body of the congregation. The Directors are:

- Maharat Erika Quintero, President
- Reb Andrew Friedman, Vice President
- David Frontera, Director
- Richard Snoddy, Director

2. ELDERS

Zakenim (Ordained Elders) along with our Shamashim (Deacons), are the servant-leaders. Under the guidance and authority of the Rabbi, provide prayer, teachings, classes, and lead ministries of the shul.

3. ACCOUNTABILITY BOARD

The Accountability Board exists as a body of accountability for the Congregation's Senior Leader. The Accountability Board may only be called upon by the rabbi for prayer or counsel as needed. The Board of Directors may contact the Accountability Board, only by unanimous vote (excepting the rabbi), if any matter of serious unrepentant biblical sin should arise concerning the senior leader. The Accountability Board is empowered to have authority over the senior leader. Their identity is known only to the senior rabbi, and the board of directors.

Now that their situation could be openly discussed, they said, they could make public a demand. They wanted, as Mr. Carpio put it, "to be treated like Ethiopians" in terms of Israeli aid to immigrants. They wanted Israel to recognize that they had forfeited all their possessions -- "down to the drinking glasses," Mr. Carpio said -- to the Cuban Government. They had arrived with nothing but a few battered suitcases and 48 pounds of clothes per family. They want to receive an "immigration basket" of money and services, they said, just like the Ethiopians and, to a less generous extent, the Russians.

"Hey, they're complaining," commented Avraham Burg, the Speaker of the Parliament. "That means they've really become Israelis."

Ms. Quintero is not complaining, especially not after the Immigration Minister, Yuli Tamir, proposed late today that the Cubans get the help they are asking for.

Fingering her Star of David necklace, Ms. Quintero said she felt embarrassed that Israel's first glimpse of the Cuban community showed not their appreciation but their pent-up frustrations. She also regretted that Israelis might have got what she called a false impression that most of the Cubans see Israel as a way station to Miami or New York.

Television cameras could not help but focus today on one Cuban immigrant, Ester Mechulam, since she greeted them at the gate to the center. "Brooklyn, Brooklyn," she was saying. "I dream of Brooklyn."

In contrast, Ms. Quintero said she and her husband considered themselves "die-hard Zionist Jews," even though, like everyone else, they left primarily because the opportunity presented itself.

"We have well-established family in New York, in New Jersey," she said. "We don't want to join them. We want them to join us here."

Discover The Times. 7 days free, then $6.25 $1/week. Learn more

YouTube Search Sign in

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

Subscribe Join

Home Videos Shorts Live Community

Latest Popular Oldest

Hasta estar en su Lugar
3.8K views • 3 weeks ago

Pa' atrás, ni para tomar impulso!!!
4K views • 1 month ago

Eres libre!!! o no?
2.9K views • 1 month ago

25 de abril de 2024
5K views • 1 month ago

Pesaj kasher v'sameaj
2.8K views • 1 month ago

Un saludo de Shavua tov
3.6K views • 1 month ago

Orden o espontaneidad???
2.9K views • 1 month ago

Las tres herramientas
2.7K views • 1 month ago

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

US NEWS

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extraidted to the US.

CBS 47 FOX 30 ACTION NEWS JAX 95° WATCH

NEWS VIDEO FIRST ALERT WEATHER HURRICANE CENTER INVESTIGATES SPORTS ELECTION 2024 FAMILY FOCUS

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road

Action News Jax Now

Latest Local News

Newscast covering important local topics and events

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

By ActionNewsJax.com News Staff

April 29, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

CNN World Watch Listen Live TV Sign in

World / Americas

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

By Lauren Koenig and Priscilla Alvarez, CNN

2 minute read · Updated 7:29 PM EDT, Sat May 25, 2024

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, also known as 'El Nini.' United States Drug Enforcement Administration

(CNN) — A top Mexican cartel member known as 'El Nini,' who was one of America's most-wanted criminals for his alleged role in the fentanyl trade, has been extradited to the United States.

In a speech celebrating US-Mexico cooperation on the case, US President Joe Biden on Saturday hailed the extradition of El Nini – also known as Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas – as "a good day for justice."

"El Nini played a prominent role in the notorious Sinaloa cartel, one of the deadliest drug trafficking enterprises in the world. The United States has charged him for his role in illicit fentanyl trafficking and for murdering, torturing, and kidnapping numerous rivals, witnesses, and others," Biden said, thanking Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

"Our governments will continue to work together to attack the fentanyl and synthetic drug epidemic that is killing so many people in our homelands and globally, and to bring to justice the criminals and organizations producing, smuggling, and selling these lethal poisons in both of our countries," he added.

According to the US Department of Justice, Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas "was one of the Sinaloa cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins" and was involved in the "production and sale of fentanyl" in the United States.

Biden has previously described El Nini as one of America's most-wanted criminals. Pérez Salas was charged in the US with cocaine and methamphetamine trafficking conspiracy, possession of machine guns and destructive devices, and witness retaliation in February 2021.

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

Action News Live Now

Latest Local News

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

By ActionNews.Jax.com News Staff

April 26, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

NEW YORK POST

LOG IN

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extradited to the US.

95° WATCH

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road

Latest Local News

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

By ActionNews.Jax.com News Staff

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2023, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 15 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 6, 2024, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2006 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

US NEWS

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

6

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extraidted to the US.

CBS 47 FOX 30 ACTION NEWS JAX 95° WATCH

NEWS VIDEO FIRST ALERT WEATHER HURRICANE CENTER INVESTIGATES SPORTS ELECTION 2024 FAMILY FOCUS

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road 1/3

Resize:

Action News Jax Now

Latest Local News

Newscast covering important local topics and events

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

+ Caption

By ActionNewsJax.com News Staff

April 29, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

CNN World Watch Listen Live TV Sign in

World / Americas

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

By Lauren Koenig and Priscilla Alvarez, CNN

2 minute read · Updated 7:29 PM EDT, Sat May 25, 2024

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, also known as 'El Nini.' United States Drug Enforcement Administration

(CNN) — A top Mexican cartel member known as 'El Nini,' who was one of America's most-wanted criminals for his alleged role in the fentanyl trade, has been extradited to the United States.

In a speech celebrating US-Mexico cooperation on the case, US President Joe Biden on Saturday hailed the extradition of El Nini – also known as Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas – as "a good day for justice."

"El Nini played a prominent role in the notorious Sinaloa cartel, one of the deadliest drug trafficking enterprises in the world. The United States has charged him for his role in illicit fentanyl trafficking and for murdering, torturing, and kidnapping numerous rivals, witnesses, and others," Biden said, thanking Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

"Our governments will continue to work together to attack the fentanyl and synthetic drug epidemic that is killing so many people in our homelands and globally, and to bring to justice the criminals and organizations producing, smuggling, and selling these lethal poisons in both of our countries," he added.

According to the US Department of Justice, Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas "was one of the Sinaloa cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins" and was involved in the "production and sale of fentanyl" in the United States.

Biden has previously described El Nini as one of America's most-wanted criminals. Pérez Salas was charged in the US with cocaine and methamphetamine trafficking conspiracy, possession of machine guns and destructive devices, and witness retaliation in February 2021.

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Contact Us | Registries

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Showing Results For:

First Name: s, Last Name: sevilla, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/1/2024, 10:24:52 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
SEVILLA, ANASTACIO EUSEBIO	51		6299 FINDE NAIFEH DRIVE MASON, 38049 TIPTON RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, ANDREW S	36	SEVILLA, ANDREW S SEVILLA, ANDREW SCOTT SEVILLA, DREW	N/A, 54302 BROWN RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, MICHAEL ANTHONY	37	SEVILLA, ANTHONY M	6464 HAWTHORNE ST GARDEN CITY, MI 48135 WAYNE RESIDENCE 8375 HIX RD WESTLAND, MI 48185 WAYNE EMPLOYMENT

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of t population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family mem
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including na
in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archi documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

sevilla

FILTER YOUR RESULTS

Showing 1 results for sevilla ...

Sort by: Rel

Side
Confederacy (1)

State
Louisiana (1)

Sevilla, Valentin

Side: Confederacy
Location: Louisiana
Battle Unit: 5th Regiment, European Brigade, Lou
(Spanish Regiment)

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden.[4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives.[4]

Alison Czinkota / Investopedia

Early Life and Education

Janet Yellen, born on August 13, 1946, in the Bay Ridge neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York, to a Polish Jewish family has had a distinguished career in economics and public service [5] Her mother, Anna Ruth, was an elementary school teacher a her father, Julius, was a doctor who treated patients out of the family's brownstone.[4] Demonstrating early academic prowes Yellen served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper a Fort Hamilton High School, where she graduated as valedictori in 1963. She graduated summa cum laude with an economics degree from Brown University in 1967 and went on to receive h Ph.D. from Yale University in 1971 under the guidance of Nobel laureate James Tobin.[6]

Advertisement

National Park Service

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of the adu population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family members, c
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North and S
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the men
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including name, ra in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Recor
Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archives' ori documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

yellen

No results match your search query. Please try again.

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

An official form of the United States government. Provided by Touchpoints

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn
6. Phun Girls 7. Porn Site R
11. The Porn List 12. Terk Amate
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish
21. Home XXX Vid... 22. XXX Videos

4:07

Favorite Comments (1) Share Shout Download

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced #Hardcore

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 3

5,144 Views • 35 Favorites • 15 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups Galler

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn
6. Phun Girls 7. Entensity Craz...
11. The Porn List 12. Terk Amateur ...
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish Sit...
21. Home XXX Vid... 22. Homemade Fu...

6:33

Favorite Comments (1) Share Shout Download

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced #Hardcore #Fem PO

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 4

13,881 Views • 90 Favorites • 15 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups Galleri

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn 3. All
6. Phun Girls 7. Porn Site Revi... 8. Fa
11. Amateur-Bitch 12. Terk Amateur ... 13. Ho
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish Sit... 18. Ho
21. XXX Videos 22. Large Penis Su... 23. Ho

2:30 -7:38

Favorite Comments (2) Share Shout Download Add To

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 1

10,071 Views • 55 Favorites • 14 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Search Public Sex Offender Registries
The Civil War
Search For Soldiers
Was this page helpful?
The Civil War
Search For Soldiers
Was this page helpful?

The Civil War

Search For Soldiers

Sevilla, Valentin

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden.[4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives.[4]

Janet Yellen

Early Life and Education

An official website of the United States government, Department of Justice. Here's how you know

DRU SJODIN
NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Contact Us | Registries

Search

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Home

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries +

Showing Results For:

First Name: a, Last Name: sevilla, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/1/2024, 10:24:52 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
SEVILLA, ANASTACIO EUSEBIO	51		6299 FINDE NAIFEH DRIVE MASON, 38049 TIPTON RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, ANDREW S	36	SEVILLA, ANDREW S SEVILLA, ANDREW SCOTT SEVILLA, DREW	N/A, 54302 BROWN RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, MICHAEL ANTHONY	37	SEVILLA, ANTHONY M	6464 HAWTHORNE ST GARDEN CITY, MI 48135 WAYNE RESIDENCE 8375 HIX RD WESTLAND, MI 48185 WAYNE EMPLOYMENT

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of t population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family mem
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including na
in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archiv documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

sevilla

FILTER YOUR RESULTS

Showing 1 results for sevilla ... Sort by: Rel

Side
Confederacy (1)

State
Louisiana (1)

Sevilla, Valentin

Side: Confederacy
Location: Louisiana
Battle Unit: 5th Regiment, European Brigade, Lou
(Spanish Regiment)

Was this page helpful?

- Yes
- No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden. [4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives. [4]

Alison Czinkota / Investopedia

Early Life and Education

Janet Yellen, born on August 13, 1946, in the Bay Ridge neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York, to a Polish Jewish family has had a distinguished career in economics and public service [5] Her mother, Anna Ruth, was an elementary school teacher a her father, Julius, was a doctor who treated patients out of the family's brownstone. [4] Demonstrating early academic prowes Yellen served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper a Fort Hamilton High School, where she graduated as valedictori in 1963. She graduated summa cum laude with an economics degree from Brown University in 1967 and went on to receive h Ph.D. from Yale University in 1971 under the guidance of Nobel laureate James Tobin. [6]

Advertisement

National Park Service

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of the adu population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family members, c
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North and S
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the men
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including name, ra in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Recor
Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archives' ori documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

yellen

No results match your search query. Please try again.

Was this page helpful?

- Yes
- No

An official form of the United States government. Provided by Touchpoints

NEW USERS ONLY | FREE SHIPPING & 20% OFF COUPON (YOUR FIRST ORDER) | FREE RETURNS (*CONDITIONS APPLY) | PRICE ADJUSTMENT (WITHIN 30 DAYS)

SHEIN

Sandals

Categories | New In | Sale | Women Clothing | Beachwear | Kids | Curve | Men Clothing | Shoes | Underwear

Home / Beauty & Health / Sexual Wellness / Sex Toys

Filter

Sort By Recommend | QuickShip | Black | Purple | More

Color

Material

- Polyester
- ABS
- PU Leather
- PVC
- Stainless Steel
- Stone

+ View More

Price Range (USD)

$ 0 — $ 314

1pc Soft Material Sexual ...
500+ sold recently
$2.64 -20%

Rose Toy Tongue Licking...
(1000+)
$6.40 -20%

Personal Vibrating Mass...
200+ sold recently
$6.60 -11%

Sex Toy Rose Vibrator F...
10k+ sold recently
$7.60 -4%

Bondaged Kit Adult Bed ...
(500+)
$2.60 -4%

NEW Rose Sex Toy Dild...
30+ sold recently
$13.50 -4%

Clit Sucker Clitoral Sucki...
(1000+)
$7.40 -4%

Clitoral Sucking Vibrator ...
100+ sold recently
$7.60 -4%

Powerful AV Vibrator Dild...
(500+)
$11.30 -3%

1pc Mini Powerful Silent ...
(500+)

20 Stalls Powerful Dildo ...
(100+)

1pc - Male Vagina Ass O...
(100+)

INFORMATION AND/OR BOOKING PHOTOGRAPHS. MORE...

Search Anyone's Arrest Records

First Name: Jill | Last Name: Sheinbaum | State: New Jersey | Search

Patrick James Shember

Asil Manzur Sheikh →

Home » US States » New Jersey » Bergen County, NJ » Jill A Sheinbaum

Jill A Sheinbaum - New Jersey

Date added: 3/11/2017

Arrest Record Search: Jill | Sheinbaum | NJ | Search

See Arrest Records

Reddit | Tweet | Share

No Mugshot

Search Arrest Records

First Name: Jill

Last Name: Sheinbaum

State: New Jersey

✓ Search

Who is Jill A Sheinbaum? Was Jill A Sheinbaum arrested? When was Jill A Sheinbaum arrested? What was Jill A Sheinbaum arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Jill A Sheinbaum? Are there more Mugshots of Jill A Sheinbaum? Is this the Jill A Sheinbaum you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Jill A Sheinbaum was booked in Bergen County, NJ

Mugshots.com : 150763067
Sex : F
Race : WHITE
Height : 5' 7" (1.70 m)
Weight : 130 lb (59 kg)
Hair Color : BROWN
Hair Length : LONG
Eye Color : HAZEL
Complexion : LIGHT SKINNED
DOB : 3/17/1966
Marital Status : DIVORCED
State ID : 316690E
FBI : N/A
INS : N/A
Citizen : United States of America
COB : United States of America
Booking Number : E-14251
Permanent ID : D-95512
Current Location : MAIN
County : SUPERIOR COURTS (all)
Current Housing Section : N/A
Current Housing Block : N/A
Current Housing Cell : N/A
Current Housing Bed : N/A
Commitment Date : 6/23/2014
Release Date : 6/23/2014
Alias Information : N/A
Detainer Information : N/A
Bond Information : N/A

Charge Information:
#1 #2 #3 #4 #5

Case #	355-12
Offense Date	05/01/2014
Code	2C:14-2A(1)
Description	AGGRAVATED SEXUAL ASSAULT
Grade
Degree

External Links:

Restock the essentials
Shop now

DRU SADIN
NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Contact Us | Registrar

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Showing Results For:

First Name: a, Last Name: baum, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/2/2024, 5:33:08 PM Central Daylight Time

Show All entries

Showing 1 to 17 of 17 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
BAUM, AARON MICHAEL	45	BAUM, AARON BAUM, MICHAEL	315 WOODS AVENUE NORTH LEWISBURG, TN 37091 MARSHALL RESIDENCE
BAUM, ALVA JACOB	77	BAUM, AL BAUM, ALVA JACOB	9696 DIA ROUTE 14 MANDEREE, ND 58757 N/A RESIDENTIAL
BAUM, ANDREW JARROD	34		628 MARQUIS AVE MANSFIELD, OH 44907 RICHLAND RESIDENCE 1776 HARRINGTON MEMORIAL RD MANSFIELD, OH 44903 RICHLAND EMPLOYMENT
BAUM, ANDREW THOMAS	40	BAUM, ANDREW	501 SMITHFIELD HUNTINGDON, PA 16652 HUNTINGDON RESIDENCE
BAUM, ANTHONY LEON	52	GILBERT, ANTHONY L LEON, ANTHONY LEON GILBERT, ANTHONY LEON BAUM, ANTHONY LEON	306 S S 3RD ST BURLINGTON, IA 52601 OUT OF STATE RESIDENTIAL
BAUM, ANTHONY LEON	52	BAUM, LEON A BAUM, TONY BAUM, ANTHONY L GILBERT, ANTHONY L GILBERT, TONY	150 MECHANIC ST MIDDLETOWN, IA 52638 DES MOINES RESIDENCE
BAUMANN, ANTHONY JOSEPH	64	BAUMAN, BIG B BAUMANN, ANTHONY NULL BAUMANN, ANTHONY J	6564 SE HORSESHOE DR LWNC CLINTON COUNTY, MO 64048 N/A RESIDENTIAL 6925 RIVERVIEW AVE N/A, 66102 N/A EMPLOYMENT
BAUMBACH, ADAM DELOS			3107 MIDWAY ROAD

DONATE | US | ISRAEL | GLOBAL | NEW YORK | MORE | SUBS

JEWISH TELEGRAPHIC AGENCY
EST 1917

TOP NEWS | 2024 Campus Protests

GLOBAL

Jewish liberal Claudia Sheinbaum likely to win this week's Mexican presidential election, polls show

BY PHILISSA CRAMER | MAY 30, 2024 | 9:33 AM

Mexican presidential candidate Claudia Sheinbaum speaks during the 2024 closing campaign event in Mexico City, Mexico, May 29, 2024. (Ri Chesa/AxM/AFP/Getty Images)

ADVERTISEMENT

Claudia Sheinbaum vaulted to the top of the Mexican presidential polls last year when she was selected as the candidate for the left-wing Morena party, which has been led by the country's popular outgoing president, Andrés Manuel López Obrador.

Now, with the election days away, Sheinbaum's lead over Xóchitl Gálvez, her center-right opponent, has only widened — making it even more likely that the country will elect both its first woman president and the first leader from a Jewish family.

With a population of 127 million, Mexico would become the largest country by far to have a head of state with a Jewish background.

A former mayor of Mexico City, Sheinbaum is a respected scientist and political liberal who has taken credit for beating back crime. Unlike López Obrador, she comes from an affluent family, has lived in the United States and speaks English fluently. But she has been his political protege for decades, and her candidacy is widely understood as a way to extend his popular policies even though Mexico limits presidents to one term.

GET JTA'S DAILY BRIEFING
Enter your email address to get the latest headlines in your inbox.
Email Address | SUBSCRIBE
By submitting the above, agree to the Privacy policy of JTA.org.

Sheinbaum's Jewish background has barely come up on the campaign trail. But she has always been open about her family's story: Sheinbaum had Ashkenazi grandparents who immigrated from Lithuania in the 1920s and Sephardic grandparents who left Sofia, Bulgaria, in the 1940s to escape the Holocaust. She has said that she celebrated holidays at her grandparents' houses, but at home with her political activist parents, her family life was secular.

Home to an estimated 40,000 Jews, Mexico is known for having multiple tight-knit Jewish communities, many of which don't mingle much. Sheinbaum — who married her second husband, Jesús María Tarriba, in November — is not part of any of them.

"She's not seen as, let's say, one of us," Daniel Fainstein, the dean of Jewish Studies at the Hebraica University in Mexico City, told the Jewish Telegraphic Agency last year. "I think that she's seen as someone from Jewish origins that is developing her work as an academician and then as a politician."

ADVERTISEMENT

Menu Tampa Bay Times Subscribe

NEWS

Japan honors its 'god of wrestling' 10 years after his quiet death in Tampa

Jody Simon of Tampa, alongside Japanese wrestler Osamu Nishimura, holds the ashes of Karl Istaz during a wrestling event honoring Istaz on July 24 in Tokyo. Istaz, known in Japan as wrestler Karl Gotch, was honored through the efforts of his former student Simon. [Courtesy of Jody Simon]

By Paul Guzzo Times staff

Published Aug. 2, 2017

Karl Istaz lived quietly in the Tampa area for 30 years. When he died, his friends followed his wishes and scattered his ashes without ceremony over Lake Keystone in Odessa.

But the European-born Istaz — or more to the point, his alter ego Karl Gotch — was revered across Japan as a hardnosed, professional wrestler whose style so influenced the industry that fans and peers nicknamed him "Kamisama," or deity.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article is about a martial arts organization. For the baseball pitch, see Shuuto. For shutō, see Knifehand strike.

Shooto (Japanese: 修斗, Hepburn: shūto) is a combat sport and mixed martial arts organization that is governed by the Shooto Association and the International Shooto Commission (ISC). Shooto was originally formed in 1985, first as a particular fighting system and then in 1989 as a mixed martial arts promotion. It is considered one of the first true mixed martial arts competitions, with its Vale Tudo Japan events being essential to the rise of Pride Fighting Championships and the development of modern MMA. Many Japanese MMA fighters had their start at Shooto and the organization still holds both professional and amateur tournaments.

As a fighting system, Shooto is considered a hybrid martial art derived from shoot wrestling. It is focused on all aspects of fighting: striking, stand-up grappling and ground fighting. Practitioners are referred to as shooters or shootists. Shooto rules have evolved with time, are different depending on the class, Class C and D are amateur and have more restricted rules more similar to their first events, while professional classes are now true mixed martial arts competitions.[1] Shooto weight classes are different from those of the United States Association of Boxing Commissions, which are used by most MMA promotions.[2][3][4]

Although modern Shooto is indistinguishable from MMA, in Japan promoters, fighters and fans still see it as its own standalone combat sport. While outside it is mostly seen as a system of MMA promotions, organizing events from amateur grassroots to professional levels.[5]

Shooto

Native name	修斗
Formerly	Shin-kakutōgi
Company type	Private
Industry	Mixed martial arts
Predecessor	Universal Wrestling Federation
Founded	1985; 39 years ago
Founder	Sayama Satoru
Headquarters	Japan
Website	www.shooto-mma.com

Shooto (修斗)

Focus	Hybrid
Hardness	Full-contact
Country of origin	Japan
Creator	Satoru Sayama
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama Yuki Nakai Rumina Sato Takanori Gomi Erik Paulson Jake Shields Shinya Aoki
Ancestor arts	Shoot Wrestling, Catch Wrestling, Boxing, Kickboxing, Full contact karate, Muay Thai, Sambo, Judo
Descendant arts	Mixed Martial Arts, Seikendo

Etymology [edit]

The Japanese word "shooto" is derived from the English word "shoot". Although the word is of foreign origin, it is not written in katakana, but rather as an ateji: 修斗. Its first kanji means "to practice or train in", and the second kanji is an alternative form of 戦 in the word tatakai (戦い, meaning "battle" or "war").

SUNWOO THE BOIZ
IDOL K-POP WIBU YANG AKAN MEMBAWAMU KE ISEKAI

TV SHOWBIZ TEKNO FOTO HOT CEK FAKTA ISLAMI CRYPTO LAINN

Ilustrasi Bayi/ Daria Shevtsova from Pexels

Berikut beberapa nama nama anak laki-laki islam arab 3 suku kata

1. Bakir Ahsan Amal: Laki-laki yang senantiasa lebih mendahului pe

2. Dhiaurrahman Zahid Hamizan: Laki-laki yang memiliki sinar yang dan tampan serta menjauhkan diri dari kemewahan

3. Dzihni Labib Salim: Laki-laki yang berakal sehat dan selamat da berpikir

4. Fadhlan Arkhan Fathurrahman: Laki-laki yang memiliki keutama menjadi pembuka kejayaan Yang Maha Pengasih

5. Ikhbar Shaqr Akhdan: Sahabat yang menyampaikan berita dan t

6. Istaz Qasim Maulana: Pendakwah yang elok dan dihormati

7. Layyin Fakhruddin Fashih: Laki-laki yang halus dan fasih bercak agama

8. Makarim Mulud Mubarak: Laki-laki mulia yang dilahirkan banyak

9. Naqib Ibni Humam: Anak laki-laki pemberani tinggi cita-citanya pemimpin

10. Robih Hakimul Karim: Laki-laki beruntung yang penuh bijaksan

11. Tsabit Qalbun Salim: Laki-laki yang hatinya istiqomah dan dama

12. Wahid Amzar Hafizuddin: Laki-laki pertama yang mulia serta m agama

Home » US States » Florida » Seminole County, FL » Gerson Yellen

Gerson Yellen - Florida

Arrest Record Search

Who is Gerson Yellen? Was Gerson Yellen arrested? When was Gerson Yellen arrested? What was Gerson Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Gerson Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Gerson Yellen? Is this the Gerson Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Gerson Yellen was booked in Seminole County, FL

Mugshots.com : 2966377
Booking No : 200500000533
Name : GERSON YELLEN
Birth date : 11/07/1958
Location : O
Arrested By : US Marshall Orlando Office
Arrest Date : 1/11/2005
Account Balance : ($0.00)

Charges:
- FEDERAL INMATE

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link here.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Published mugshots and/or arrest records are previously published public records of an arrest, an indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivation of liberty or a detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mugshots.com are in no way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actual crime has been committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are merely accusations. A defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convicted. For latest case status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which originally released the information.

The following Official Record of Gerson Yellen is being redistributed by Mugshots.com and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal rights. This Official Record was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 7/25/2011.

Arrest Record Search

First Name: Gerson
Last Name: Yellen
State: Florida
Search

Not the Gerson Yellen you were looking for? Click here to search for other Gerson Yellen

View Facebook Widget

PROGRESSIVE
AMERICA'S BEST RATE
Get a quote

Get 40% off
when you pay with Discover® rewards
Redeem Now
Up to $50 off. Limited-time offer, see terms.

NEWS

RECORD LAWS WERE WRITTEN TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC, BY INFORMING THE PUBLIC OF ARRESTS AND TO HOLD LAW ENFORCEMENT ACCOUNTABLE FOR THE HUMANE TREATMENT OF ARRESTEES. MOST OR IF NOT ALL "MUGSHOT LAWS" WERE CRAFTED TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC FROM FEES FOR REMOVAL OF ONLINE MUGSHOTS AND TO FURTHER PROTECT THE PRESS FROM THOSE VERY SAME "MUGSHOT LAWS". TO BE CLEAR, WE DO NOT ACCEPT PAYMENT FOR REMOVAL OF ARREST INFORMATION AND/OR BOOKING PHOTOGRAPHS. MORE...

Search Arrest Records

First Name: Harry
Last Name: Yellen
State: Tennessee
Search

Lee Holyfield

Daniel Aurther Hodge →

» US States » Tennessee » Blount County, TN » Harry Vaughn Yellen

y Vaughn Yellen - Tennessee

Search Arrest Records

Who is Harry Vaughn Yellen? Was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested? When was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested? What was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Harry Vaughn Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Harry Vaughn Yellen? Is this the Harry Vaughn Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Harry Vaughn Yellen was booked in Blount County, TN

Mugshots.com : 24898858
Age : 20
Class : PRETRIAL FELON
Race : W
Sex : M
Intake Date : 11/01/2012

Charges:

TCA Description	FEDERAL SAFE HOUSING
Bond	$0
Court Date	Not Set

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link here.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Published mugshots and/or arrest records are previously published public records of an arrest, an indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivation of liberty or a detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mugshots.com are in no way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actual crime has been committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are merely accusations. A defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convicted. For latest case status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which originally released the information.

The following Official Record of Harry Vaughn Yellen is being redistributed by Mugshots.com and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal rights. This Official Record was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 11/01/2012.

Search Arrest Records

First Name: Harry
Last Name: Yellen
State: Tennessee
✓ Search

- ARREST HISTORY CHECK
- PUBLIC RECORDS LOOKUP
- ONLINE MUGSHOT LOOKUP
- FREE PUBLIC RECORDS

Home » US States » Idaho » Unsorted, ID » Frederick Yellen

Frederick Yellen - ROBBERY - Idaho

See Arrest Records

No Mugshot

Who is Frederick Yellen? Was Frederick Yellen arrested? When was Frederick Yellen arrested? What was Frederick Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Frederick Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Frederick Yellen? Is this the Frederick Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Frederick Yellen was booked in Unsorted, ID for ROBBERY, PROPELLING BODILY FLUIDS

Mugshots.com : 47252992
ID : 19530
Name : FREDERICK YELLEN
Status : Inmate

Offenses:

Offense	ROBBERY
Sentencing County	ADA
Case No.	HCR21010
Sentence Satisfaction Date	07/01/2015

Mailing Address : IDAHO STATE CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTION UNIT 16 P.O. Box 14 Boise Idaho 83707
Phone Number : 208-336-0740
Parole Eligibility Date : N/A
Last Parole Activity : 10/17/2012

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link here.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Published mugshots and/or arrest records are previously published public records of an arrest, an indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivation of liberty or a detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mugshots.com are in no way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actual crime has been committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are merely accusations. A defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convicted. For latest case status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which originally released the information.

The following Official Record of Frederick Yellen is being redistributed by Mugshots.com and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal rights. This Official Record was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 2/17/2010.

Arrest Record Search

First Name: Frederick
Last Name: Yellen
State: Idaho
Search

ARCWELD.COM
UP TO $80
INSTANT SAVINGS
ONLINE SPECIAL
LIMITED TIME!

a mugshot of Frederick Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Frederick Yellen? Is this the Frederick Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Frederick Yellen was booked in Ada County, ID for TRESPASS-CRIMINAL, DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Mugshots.com : 16750434
Age : 52
Arresting Agency : Ada County Sheriff
ID Number : 0114514

Charges:

Severity	M
Charge	TRESPASS-CRIMINAL

ABC NEWS | The drug lords behind Mexico's deadly turf war | SHARE

Gulf cartel

The Gulf cartel is perhaps the oldest organised crime group in Mexico and is known for intimidating local civilians and being particularly violent.

Former allies of the Zetas, the Gulf cartel are now believed to be allied to the Sinaloa cartel.

Its founder Juan Guerra - considered to be the "godfather" of the cartel - smuggled alcohol into the US in the 1930s.

After the end of the Prohibition, Guerra, widely known as Don Juan, turned his focus to drug smuggling.

In the 1970s the command shifted to Guerra's nephew, Juan Garcia Abrego. He lead the lucrative business until his arrest and extradition to the US in 1996.

Juan Garcia Abrego is led out of an FBI office after his arrest in 1996. (Reuters)

After a series of internal battles Osiel Cardenas took over. As his cartel grew, he created Los Zetas, a new armed wing made up of military defectors.

The two groups were collectively known as The Company.

Los Zetas was designed to protect the Gulf

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas (July 18, 1915 – July 12, 2001) was a Mexican drug lord who founded and led the Gulf Cartel for over 50 years. He is often considered the "godfather" of U.S–Mexico border cartels.[2]

He began his criminal career in the 1930s by smuggling alcohol from Mexico during the Prohibition in the United States. He later diversified to other cross-border smuggling activities. He is the uncle of Juan García Ábrego, his successor in the cartel and once considered Mexico's most-wanted man.

Early life and career [edit]

During the 1930s he began smuggling whisky across the Mexico–United States border through south Texas. Through shrewd political connections he had fostered, Nepomuceno Guerra was able to control all the contraband moving across the Rio Grande. [3] In the 1970s, his nephew Juan García Abrego began utilizing those connections and developed the organization into a drug cartel primarily dedicated to the more lucrative business of smuggling cocaine.[4]

Juan Nepomuceno Guerra

Nepomuceno Guerra pictured on far left

Born	Juan Nepomuceno Guerra Cárdenas July 18, 1915 Matamoros, Tamaulipas, Mexico

amazon | Deliver to Israel | All | Search Amazon

All | Medical Care | Groceries | Best Sellers | Amazon Basics | New Releases | Prime

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

★★★★★ Jewish History

Reviewed in the United States on July 7, 2023

Verified Purchase

This book is in one word "Awesome". And should be mandatory to read to any Judeo-Christian believer.

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Customers who viewed items in your browsing history also viewed

amazon | Deliver to Israel | All | Search Amazon

All | Today's Deals | Customer Service | Registry | Gift Cards | Sell

Customer Review

Oscar G. Abrego

★★★★★ WOW !! What a gem of a book

Reviewed in the United States on April 18, 2024

I have a lot of positive things to say about the high-level content in this book. It is a great resource for a serious person wanting to learn Biblical Hebrew in-depth. However, it could be somewhat hard for someone without some prior knowledge of the language. Once you have a basic understanding, you can use this book to enhance your knowledge. As a solution B, I recommend "Basics of Biblical Hebrew" by Gary D. Pratico as a secondary resource when starting from scratch.
By getting hold of these two books, you will have all the necessary tools to navigate through the complexities of grammar, which other books tend to make unnecessarily difficult and discouraging. The best part is that you can easily purchase them at a very competitive price on Amazon.

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Beth Israel Lahey Health

« Search Results

Jose A. Abrego, MD

Internal Medicine | Primary Care

Patient Portal | Save Contact

Practice Location(s)

Beth Israel Lahey Health Primary Care - 1000 Broadway
1000 Broadway
Chelsea, MA 02150
Driving Directions

Phone:
617-975-6200

Fax:
617-975-6151

There could be more victims of former Maple Valley day care employee accused of child sex abuse, attorney says

The Irish Mob
The Dead Rabbits & The 1857 Riot

News Weather Sports VERIFY

There could be more victims of former Maple Valley day care employee accused of child sex abuse, attorney says

The former employee, Joseph Hefner, is charged with child rape, child molestation and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Dutch Schultz

Early life

Prohibition

The Cotton Club

The Irish Mob

Home Stories Mob Wars Gallery Videos Media

The Dead Rabbits & The 1857 Riot

The Dead Rabbits were a street gang in Lower Manhattan in the 1850s, whose members were mostly Irish. They were also named the 'Mulberry Boys' and the 'Mulberry Street Boys' by the NYPD because they did also operate along Mulberry Street in the Five Points.

They were founded by Shang Allen, one of many disgruntled gang members of the Roach Guards. They became the largest Irish crime organization at the time in mid 19th century Manhattan, having well over 100 members when called up for action. He said they got the name the Dead Rabbits after a dead rabbit was thrown into the center of the room during a gang meeting, some members of the gang saw this as an omen and formed an independent gang.

There could be more victims of former Maple Valley day care employee accused of child sex abuse, attorney says

The former employee, Joseph Hefner, is charged with child rape, child molestation and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Author: Julie Calhoun
Published: 7:18 PM PDT June 6, 2024
Updated: 7:18 PM PDT June 6, 2024

SEATTLE -- A private law firm is now investigating a former Maple Valley day care worker charged with child rape, child molestation, and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Michael Pfau, an attorney with Pfau Cochran Vertetis Amala PLLC, is representing the family of the two girls in this case. Pfau said he was contacted by the victim's parents and since then, he has been contacted by additional parents.

Owney Madden

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Owen Vincent "Owney" Madden (December 18, 1891 – April 24, 1965) was an American gangster who was a leading underworld figure in New York during Prohibition. Nicknamed "The Killer", he garnered a brutal reputation within street gangs and organized crime. He ran the Cotton Club in Manhattan and was a leading boxing promoter. After increased attention from law enforcement in New York, Madden moved to Hot Springs, Arkansas, in 1935, where he remained until his death from natural causes in 1965.

Owney Madden

Owney Madden in 1931 New York City Police Department mugshot

Born	Owen Vincent Madden December 18, 1891 Leeds, England
Died	April 24, 1965 (aged 73) Hot Springs, Arkansas, US
Other names	The Killer
Occupation	Gangster

Early life

Owen Vincent Madden was born into a working-class family at 25 Somerset Road in Leeds, England, on December 18, 1891, the son of Irish immigrants Francis Madden and Mary Madden (née O'Neil).[7] After his mother became a widow she emigrated to New York to become a maid, leaving Owen and his sister Mary and brother Martin in a British orphanage. In 1896, Owen's mother saved up enough money to take them out of the orphanage and get them tickets to join her in New York City.[1][2]

The young Madden grew up on the streets of New York where he learned how to use blackjacks, knuckledusters, bats, pipes, knives, and stiletto. By the age of 21 years old, Madden had become the leader of a feared New York street gang known as the Gopher Gang. He earned the nickname, "The Killer" for getting away with two brazen murders. On September 6, 1911, he shot dead a gang member of the rival Hudson Dusters in the heart of Dusters' territory around 30th Street. In February 1912, Madden was on a crowded street trolley, arguing with a store clerk named William Henshaw about a woman, and Madden shot Henshaw in the face. Henshaw was not a gang member, and as he was dying, he named Owney Madden as his killer. Despite the police having his name, and there being eyewitnesses to the crime, Madden never went to trial—witnesses in both killings were intimidated, and disappeared.[2]

In 1915, he eventually went to prison for ordering the killing of William "Little Patsy Doyle" Moore, who had been waging a three-year vendetta campaign against Madden and the Gopher Gang.[7]

Prohibition

After serving seven years of a 10-to-20-year sentence for Moore's manslaughter,[2] Madden was released on parole in 1923. The Gopher Gang had broken up, and many members of his own faction were either in Sing Sing or working for bootlegging gangs.[4]

NYPD mug shot of Madden (first published in 1928)

During this time, Madden employed a young friend as a personal driver. The driver, George Raft, later became a film star noted for his authentic portrayals of gangland figures.[1][8]

The Cotton Club

Madden purchased the Club Deluxe from former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Johnson and reopened it a year later. Nightclub patrons flooded into Harlem from downtown Manhattan to catch performers such as Cab Calloway, Duke Ellington, Louis Armstrong, Lena Horne, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson, and the Nicholas Brothers. Madden and his partners, Big Bill and George Jean "Big Frenchy" DeMange, also muscled their way into a piece of the exclusive Stork Club, where the influential gossip columnist Walter Winchell held court and everyone who was

The Irish Mob

The Dead Rabbits & The 1857 Riot

by Owen Forsyth | Feb 22, 2019 | Cops, Early Characters, Gangs of New York, New York, Police, Politicians

A "DEAD RABBIT," SEIZED FROM LIFE.

The Dead Rabbits were a street gang in Lower Manhattan in the 1850s, whose members were mostly Irish. The were also named the "Mulberry Boys" and the "Mulberry Street Boys" by the NYPD because they did also operate along Mulberry Street in the Five Points.

They were founded by Shang Allen, one of many disgruntled gang members of the Roach Guards, they became the largest Irish crime organization at the time in mid 19th-century Manhattan, having well over 100 members when called up for action. Its said they got the name the Dead Rabbits after a dead rabbit was thrown into the center of the room during a gang meeting, some members of the gang saw this as an omen and formed an independent gang.

The New York Times

the National Institutes of Health, which paid for the research to develop the artificial heart, ordered investigations. Baylor's report was not made public, and the government's findings cannot be found, spokeswomen for both institutions said.

The furor led Dr. Cooley to resign from Baylor.

The annals of medicine are full of feuds. For example, Dr. Robert C. Gallo, then of the National Cancer Institute in Bethesda, Md., and Dr. Luc Montagnier, of the Pasteur Institute in Paris, battled over credit for the discovery of the AIDS virus. The dispute had to be settled at the highest levels, with a resolution that declared the scientists co-discoverers coming in a joint announcement from President Ronald Reagan and the French prime minister, Jacques Chirac.

Still, the DeBakey-Cooley feud is hard to top, not just for longevity but for the sheer drama of the incident that set it off.

In those days, cardiac surgery was in many ways in its infancy. It was only in 1966 that Dr. DeBakey had been the first to successfully implant a partial artificial heart — a left ventricular assist device — in a patient.

As Dr. DeBakey, Dr. Cooley and others succeeded in operations that only a rare predecessor had dared to try, the need for a device that could pump for both ventricles — a total artificial heart — became more apparent.

NBC NEWS POLITICS U.S. NEWS WORLD BUSINESS WATCH LIVE

Pioneering heart surgeon DeBakey dead at 99

Dr. Michael DeBakey, the world-famous cardiovascular surgeon who pioneered such now-common procedures as bypass surgery and invented a host of devices to help heart patients, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday night at The Methodist Hospital in Houston from "natural causes," according to a statement issued early Saturday by Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital.

DeBakey counted world leaders among his patients and helped turn Baylor from a provincial school into one of the nation's great medical institutions.

"Dr. DeBakey's reputation brought many people into this institution, and he treated them all: heads of state, entertainers, businessmen and presidents, as well as people with no titles and no means," said Ron Girotto, president of The Methodist Hospital System.

Girotto said the surgeon "has improved the human condition and touched the lives of generations to come."

A lifetime of innovation

While still in medical school in 1932, he invented the roller pump, which became the major component of the heart-lung machine, beginning the era of open-heart surgery. The machine takes over the function of the heart and lungs during surgery.

It was only a start of a lifetime of innovation. The surgical procedures that DeBakey developed once were the wonders of the medical world. Today, they are commonplace procedures in most hospitals.

He also was a pioneer in the effort to develop artificial hearts and heart pumps to assist patients waiting for transplants, and helped create more than 70 surgical instruments.

In early 2006, DeBakey underwent surgery for a damaged aorta — a procedure he had developed.

In a rare interview published later that year, DeBakey gave The New York Times details of the operation, performed when he was 97.

"It is a miracle," DeBakey said. "I really should not be here." He said he at first gambled that his aorta would heal on its own and refused to be admitted to a hospital, and was unresponsive and near death when his doctors and his wife decided to intervene. Despite his age, the three-hour operation ended recently in the hospital.

Los Angeles Times LOG IN

TIMES STAFF WRITER

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, a medical pioneer who was the driving force in developing the field of cardiac surgery, operating on more than 60,000 patients and developing medical technology that saved millions more, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday at Methodist Hospital in Houston, the Baylor College of Medicine and Methodist Hospital announced, without specifying the cause of death.

In his highly influential career, DeBakey performed the first coronary artery bypass surgery and the first carotid endarterectomy to prevent strokes. He developed the pump that is the key component of the heart-and-lung machines routinely used on patients during heart surgery and an artificial heart now used to keep patients alive while they wait for their own heart to improve.

He also developed the concept of the mobile army surgical hospital -- immortalized in the film

WIRED SUBSCRIBE

Under the supervision of pioneering transplant surgeon Michael DeBakey, doctors perform the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant procedure.

American heart surgeon Dr. Michael E. DeBakey takes a break from surgery at Methodist Hospital in Houston. ASSOCIATED PRESS / BRETT COOMER

1968: Dr. Michael DeBakey supervises five teams of surgeons in the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant.

The heart, the lobe of one lung and both kidneys were removed by one team from a 20-year-old woman, the victim of a gunshot wound, and

The New York Times

the National Institutes of Health, which paid for the research to develop the artificial heart, ordered investigations. Baylor's report was not made public, and the government's findings cannot be found, spokeswomen for both institutions said.

The furor led Dr. Cooley to resign from Baylor.

The annals of medicine are full of feuds. For example, Dr. Robert C. Gallo, then of the National Cancer Institute in Bethesda, Md., and Dr. Luc Montagnier, of the Pasteur Institute in Paris, battled over credit for the discovery of the AIDS virus. The dispute had to be settled at the highest levels, with a resolution that declared the scientists co-discoverers coming in a joint announcement from President Ronald Reagan and the French prime minister, Jacques Chirac.

Still, the DeBakey-Cooley feud is hard to top, not just for longevity but for the sheer drama of the incident that set it off.

In those days, cardiac surgery was in many ways in its infancy. It was only in 1966 that Dr. DeBakey had been the first to successfully implant a partial artificial heart — a left ventricular assist device — in a patient.

Dr. Denton A. Cooley, top, commandeered an artificial heart from the lab of Dr. Michael E. DeBakey and put it in Haskell Karp. Ralph Morse/Time Life Pictures/Getty Images; Ted Spiegel/Corbis

As Dr. DeBakey, Dr. Cooley and others succeeded in operations that only a rare predecessor had dared to try, the need for a device that could pump for both ventricles — a total artificial heart — became more apparent.

NBC NEWS POLITICS U.S. NEWS WORLD BUSINESS WATCH LIVE

HEALTH NEWS

Pioneering heart surgeon DeBakey dead at 99

SAVE Create your free profile or log in to save this article

July 12, 2008, 6:12 AM CDT / Source: The Associated Press

Dr. Michael DeBakey, the world-famous cardiovascular surgeon who pioneered such now-common procedures as bypass surgery and invented a host of devices to help heart patients, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday night at The Methodist Hospital in Houston from "natural causes," according to a statement issued early Saturday by Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital.

DeBakey counted world leaders among his patients and helped turn Baylor from a provincial school into one of the nation's great medical institutions.

"Dr. DeBakey's reputation brought many people into this institution, and he treated them all: heads of state, entertainers, businessmen and presidents, as well as people with no titles and no means," said Ron Girotto, president of The Methodist Hospital System.

Girotto said the surgeon "has improved the human condition and touched the lives of generations to come."

A lifetime of innovation

While still in medical school in 1932, he invented the roller pump, which became the major component of the heart-lung machine, beginning the era of open-heart surgery. The machine takes over the function of the heart and lungs during surgery.

It was only a start of a lifetime of innovation. The surgical procedures that DeBakey developed once were the wonders of the medical world. Today, they are commonplace procedures in most hospitals.

He also was a pioneer in the effort to develop artificial hearts and heart pumps to assist patients waiting for transplants, and helped create more than 70 surgical instruments.

In early 2006, DeBakey underwent surgery for a damaged aorta – a procedure he had developed.

In a rare interview published later that year, DeBakey gave The New York Times details of the operation, performed when he was 97.

"It is a miracle," DeBakey said. "I really should not be here." He said he at first gambled that his aorta would heal on its own and refused to be admitted to a hospital, and was unresponsive and near death when his doctors and his wife decided to proceed, despite his age. He then spent several months in the hospital

Los Angeles Times LOG IN

TIMES STAFF WRITER

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, a medical pioneer who was the driving force in developing the field of cardiac surgery, operating on more than 60,000 patients and developing medical technology that saved millions more, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday at Methodist Hospital in Houston, the Baylor College of Medicine and Methodist Hospital announced, without specifying the cause of death.

In his highly influential career, DeBakey performed the first coronary artery bypass surgery and the first carotid endarterectomy to prevent strokes. He developed the pump that is the key component of the heart-and-lung machines routinely used on patients during heart surgery and an artificial heart now used to keep patients alive while they wait for their own heart to improve.

He also developed the concept of the mobile army surgical hospital -- immortalized in the film

WIRED SUBSCRIBE

Under the supervision of pioneering transplant surgeon Michael DeBakey, doctors perform the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant procedure.

American heart surgeon Dr. Michael E. DeBakey takes a break from surgery at Methodist Hospital in Houston. ASSOCIATED PRESS / BRETT COOMER

1968: Dr. Michael DeBakey supervises five teams of surgeons in the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant.

The heart, the lobe of one lung and both kidneys were removed by one team from a 20-year-old woman, the victim of a gunshot wound, and

The New York Times

the National Institutes of Health, which paid for the research to develop the artificial heart, ordered investigations. Baylor's report was not made public, and the government's findings cannot be found, spokeswomen for both institutions said.

The furor led Dr. Cooley to resign from Baylor.

The annals of medicine are full of feuds. For example, Dr. Robert C. Gallo, then of the National Cancer Institute in Bethesda, Md., and Dr. Luc Montagnier, of the Pasteur Institute in Paris, battled over credit for the discovery of the AIDS virus. The dispute had to be settled at the highest levels, with a resolution that declared the scientists co-discoverers coming in a joint announcement from President Ronald Reagan and the French prime minister, Jacques Chirac.

Still, the DeBakey-Cooley feud is hard to top, not just for longevity but for the sheer drama of the incident that set it off.

In those days, cardiac surgery was in many ways in its infancy. It was only in 1966 that Dr. DeBakey had been the first to successfully implant a partial artificial heart — a left ventricular assist device — in a patient.

Dr. Denton A. Cooley, top, commandeered an artificial heart from the lab of Dr. Michael E. DeBakey and put it in Haskell Karp. Ralph Morse/Time Life Pictures/Getty Images; Ted Spiegel/Corbis

As Dr. DeBakey, Dr. Cooley and others succeeded in operations that only a rare predecessor had dared to try, the need for a device that could pump for both ventricles — a total artificial heart — became more apparent.

NBC NEWS POLITICS U.S. NEWS WORLD BUSINESS WATCH LIVE

HEALTH NEWS

Pioneering heart surgeon DeBakey dead at 99

SAVE Create your free profile or log in to save this article

July 12, 2008, 5:12 AM CDT / Source: The Associated Press

Dr. Michael DeBakey, the world-famous cardiovascular surgeon who pioneered such now-common procedures as bypass surgery and invented a host of devices to help heart patients, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday night at The Methodist Hospital in Houston from "natural causes," according to a statement issued early Saturday by Baylor College of Medicine and The Methodist Hospital.

DeBakey counted world leaders among his patients and helped turn Baylor from a provincial school into one of the nation's great medical institutions.

"Dr. DeBakey's reputation brought many people into this institution, and he treated them all: heads of state, entertainers, businessmen and presidents, as well as people with no titles and no means," said Ron Girotto, president of The Methodist Hospital System.

Girotto said the surgeon "has improved the human condition and touched the lives of generations to come."

A lifetime of innovation

While still in medical school in 1932, he invented the roller pump, which became the major component of the heart-lung machine, beginning the era of open-heart surgery. The machine takes over the function of the heart and lungs during surgery.

It was only a start of a lifetime of innovation. The surgical procedures that DeBakey developed once were the wonders of the medical world. Today, they are commonplace procedures in most hospitals.

He also was a pioneer in the effort to develop artificial hearts and heart pumps to assist patients waiting for transplants, and helped create more than 70 surgical instruments.

In early 2006, DeBakey underwent surgery for a damaged aorta – a procedure he had developed.

In a rare interview published later that year, DeBakey gave The New York Times details of the operation, performed when he was 97.

"It is a miracle," DeBakey said. "I really should not be here." He said he at first gambled that his aorta would heal on its own and refused to be admitted to a hospital, and was unresponsive and near death when his doctors and his wife decided to proceed, despite his age. He then spent several months in the hospital

Los Angeles Times LOG IN

TIMES STAFF WRITER

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, a medical pioneer who was the driving force in developing the field of cardiac surgery, operating on more than 60,000 patients and developing medical technology that saved millions more, has died. He was 99.

DeBakey died Friday at Methodist Hospital in Houston, the Baylor College of Medicine and Methodist Hospital announced, without specifying the cause of death.

In his highly influential career, DeBakey performed the first coronary artery bypass surgery and the first carotid endarterectomy to prevent strokes. He developed the pump that is the key component of the heart-and-lung machines routinely used on patients during heart surgery and an artificial heart now used to keep patients alive while they wait for their own heart to improve.

He also developed the concept of the mobile army surgical hospital -- immortalized in the film

WIRED SUBSCRIBE

Under the supervision of pioneering transplant surgeon Michael DeBakey, doctors perform the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant procedure.

American heart surgeon Dr. Michael E. DeBakey takes a break from surgery at Methodist Hospital in Houston. ASSOCIATED PRESS / BRETT COOMER

1968: Dr. Michael DeBakey supervises five teams of surgeons in the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant.

The heart, the lobe of one lung and both kidneys were removed by one team from a 20-year-old woman, the victim of a gunshot wound, and

David Barksdale

1 language

Article Talk | Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

David Barksdale (born Donise David Barksdale; May 24, 1947 – September 2, 1974), also known as King David, was an American gangster and activist from Chicago, Illinois. He was the founder of the Black Disciples. He and Larry Hoover (leader of the Gangster Disciples) decided to merge and create the Black Gangster Disciple Nation. Barksdale was seen as a hero in the black community because he operated a free breakfast program in Englewood to poor children, and he and the Disciples marched with Martin Luther King Jr. in Marquette Park. He was a close friend of Fred Hampton. Barksdale died on September 2, 1974, due to kidney failure, at the age of 27.

David Barksdale
Born	Donise David Barksdale May 24, 1947 Sallis, Mississippi, U.S.
Died	September 2, 1974 (aged 27) Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Resting place	Restvale Cemetery, Alsip, Illinois, U.S.
Other names	King David Emperor David David Jones
Known for	Street gang leader (Chicago)
Spouse	Yvonne Yarber (m. 1972–1974)
Children	3

Biography [edit]

Born Donise David Barksdale in Sallis, Mississippi to parents Virginia and Charlie Barksdale, he was the tenth of thirteen children. His family moved to Chicago, Illinois in 1957.

Within three years of arriving, Barksdale had become a notorious gang leader. By 1966, his gang absorbed several others and became known as the Black Disciple Nation. Tensions grew between the Black Disciples and other gangs such as the Black Stone Rangers. In the late 1960s, King David, as he had become known, started to lead the Black Disciples into activism, serving breakfast to school children and marching with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Marquette park during the Chicago Freedom Movement. He

The Gangster Disciple Nation (often abbreviated as the GD's; formally, GDN), also known as Growth & Development, is an African American street and prison gang founded by former rivals David Barksdale and Larry Hoover; in 1968, the two came together to form the Black Gangster Disciple Nation (BGDN).

Post-1989, following growing tension between the two over declining leadership, the BGDN split into two new factions—Hoover's Gangster Disciple Nation (GDN) and Barksdale's Black Disciple Nation (BDN), respectively. As of 2022, following Hoover's departure, the GDN has no full-time leadership role.[10]

Gangster Disciples
Founded	1969; 55 years ago (as the Black Gangster Disciple Nation) 1989; 35 years ago (as the Gangster Disciples)
Founder	Larry Hoover David Barksdale (BGDN)
Named after	Supreme Gangsters
Founding location	Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Years active	1969–present
Territory	Northeastern, Midwestern and Southeastern United States[1][2]
Ethnicity	Primarily African American[3]
Membership (est.)	25,000–50,000+[4]
Leader(s)	Larry Hoover (formerly)
Activities	Drug trafficking, assault, firearms violations, fraud,

History [edit]

The origins of the Gangster Disciples began in Englewood (in Chicago, Illinois's South Side) in 1964, when then 13-year-old Larry 'The King' Hoover joined a small street gang called the 'Supreme Gangsters'. For years, the Supreme Gangsters had an outstanding war with the Black Disciples Nation, led by David Barksdale.[11] In 1969, Hoover and Barksdale agreed to a ceasefire. This resulted in the creation of the Black Gangster Disciple Nation.[12][13] By the early 1970s, the BGDN dominated the Chicago gang scene. Barksdale died of kidney failure in 1974, at the age of 27.[14] Following his death, Hoover assumed full control of the Black Gangster Disciples.

Folks Nation [edit]

See also: Folk Nation

In 1978, the BGDN began to splinter into three distinct factions: Black Gangsters, Black Disciples and Gangster Disciples; however, Hoover (at the time incarcerated on murder charges) prevented it by quickly setting up an alliance of all street and prison gangs in his interest into one family.[15][16]

The alliance consisted of Gangster Disciples, Black Disciples, Satan Disciples, Latin Disciples, Spanish Gangster Disciples, Ambrose, Two-Two Boys, Two-Sixers/Two-Six Boys, Simon City Royals, North Side Insane Popes, La Raza, Spanish Cobras, Imperial Gangsters, Harrison Gents, and the Latin Eagles.

Expansions [edit]

The Gangster Disciples are active in over 100 cities and 50 states, predominantly in the Midwestern and

The Free Encyclopedia

William Barksdale

9 languages

Article Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For the member of the Virginia Senate, see William P. Barksdale. For the Confederate colonel, see William Barksdale Tabb.

William Barksdale (August 21, 1821 – July 3, 1863) was an American lawyer, newspaper editor, US Representative, and Confederate general in the American Civil War. He served four terms in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1853 to 1861.

A staunch secessionist, he was mortally wounded during the Battle of Gettysburg while he led his brigade's attack on Union forces not far from Cemetery Ridge.

William Barksdale

Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's 3rd district
In office	March 4, 1855 – January 21, 1861
Preceded by	Otho R. Singleton
Succeeded by	Henry Barry
Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's at-large district
In office	March 4, 1853 – March 3, 1855
Preceded by	no at-large seats
Succeeded by	3rd Congressional District established
Personal details
Born	August 21, 1821 Smyrna, Tennessee
Died	July 3, 1863 (aged 41) Gettysburg, Pennsylvania
Resting place	Greenwood Cemetery Jackson, Mississippi
Political party	Democratic
Profession	Newspaper editor, soldier

Early life [edit]

William Barksdale was born in Smyrna, Tennessee, the son of William Barksdale and Nancy Hervey Lester Barksdale. He was the older brother of Ethelbert Barksdale, who would serve in both the antebellum U.S. Congress and then the Confederate States Congress during the Civil War. He was of English ancestry which came to America during the 1600s.[1]

Barksdale graduated from the University of Nashville and practiced law in Mississippi from the age of 21, but gave up his practice to become the editor of the Columbus [Mississippi] Democrat, a pro-slavery newspaper.[2]

He enlisted in the 2nd Mississippi Infantry Regiment and served in the Mexican War as a captain and quartermaster, but often participated in the infantry fighting as well.

Congress [edit]

After the war, he became active in political causes, making a name for himself as an advocate of the Compromise of 1850. His political visibility and recent military service gave him a strong profile for a political

Powered by ShulCloud | Login

We are a Warm and Welcoming Conservative Congregation In Pepper Pike, Ohio

B'nai Jeshurun Congregation

CALENDAR STREAMING MEMBERSHIP DONATIONS PHOTOS CONTACT COMMUNICAT

About Us Pray Learn Engage Giv

Mind-Full Shabbat Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale

Friday, March 29, 2024 • 19 Adar II 5784

6:00 PM - 9:00 PM
B'nai Jeshurun

Register

You must be logged into your ShulCloud account if you are not paying online and plan to mail or drop off your payment later. Please make sure you are logged in to your ShulCloud account. If you are unsure, look in the top right hand corner of the screen and it should say either Log In or Welcome "Your Name." If you need any assistance contact Joscelyn Harris.

Mind-Full Shabbat Dinner
Friday, March 29
7:00 pm
Antifragility: Working to Build Resilience in the Wake of Tragedy & Violence
Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale
Nationally recognized pediatric surgeon who launched a hospital-based violence intervention teen program.

Register by March 20 for earlybird
Registration will close on Monday, March 25

Shabbat Service • 6:00 pm
Dinner • 7:00 pm
Speaker with Q&A; • 8:00 pm

Eat and engage at Mind-Full Shabbat, an exciting way to connect with congregants, the community

Brunette MILF Tattoo Big Cock Big Ass

Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And

Cherokee

NudeVista

tube

Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevan

Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Coatia

Cute Bosnian Immature Love

Hot Bosnian American

Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend

Hg - Serbians Gang Re
Bosnian Sex Slave

Tube: nudevista

Tags: slave, serbia, bosn herzegovina, violence, d homemade, brunettes

Added 9 months ago

Report problem

NudeVista

PORNGA
NudeVista

whitepages
Menu
1-302-658-7581
Who owns the Phone Number
(302) 658-7581
LOW SPAM RISK
Landline
Registered to: Coby L Ringgenberg
Coby Lynn Ringgenberg · Coby Lynn Caswell · Coby Lynn Caswell
Other names for Coby
40s
YouTube
Sign in
HIGHWEBMEDIA CHATURBATE JASON ZIMMERMAN
Marc Abigmess
Subscribe
Share
257 views Oct 4, 2019

THIS IS NOT A STATEMENT OF GOOD STANDING
CHATURBATE, LLC
REGISTERED AGENT INFORMATION
NATIONAL REGISTERED AGENTS, INC.
1209 ORANGE STREET
WILMINGTON DELAWARE
whitepages
Menu
1-302-658-7581
Who owns the Phone Number
(302) 658-7581
LOW SPAM RISK
Landline
Last updated Feb 2024
Registered to: Coby L Ringgenberg
Coby Lynn Ringgenberg • Coby Lynn Coswell • Coby Lynn Caswell
Other names for Coby
40s
YouTube
Sign in
HIGHWEBMEDIA CHATURBATE JASON ZIMMERMAN
Marc Abigmess
41 subscribers
Subscribe
Share
257 views Oct 4, 2019
Mark Text
CHATURBATE
Mark Image
Mark Image Description
Mark Type
Mark Form
Status
REGISTERED
Holder Name
Holder Address
Correspondent Name
JASON A. FISCHER
Correspondent Address

Governor | General Assembly | Courts | Elected Officials | State Agencies

Allowable Characters

Entity Details

THIS IS NOT A STATEMENT OF GOOD STANDING

File Number:	6277903	Incorporation Date / Formation Date: (mm/dd/yyyy)	1/9/2017
Entity Name:	CHATURBATE, LLC
Entity Kind:	Limited Liability Company	Entity Type:	General
Residency:	Domestic	State:	DELAWARE

REGISTERED AGENT INFORMATION

Name:	NATIONAL REGISTERED AGENTS, INC.
Address:	1209 ORANGE STREET
City:	WILMINGTON	County:	New Castle
State:	DE	Postal Code:	19801
Phone:	302-658-7581

Additional Information is available for a fee. You can retrieve Status for a fee of $10.00 or more detailed information including current franchise tax assessment, current filing history and more for a fee of $20.00.

Would you like ○ Status ○ Status,Tax & History Information

Submit

View Search Results | New Entity Search

ng to take you to the help area.

https://icis.corp.delaware.gov/eCor...c.aspx#REGISTERED AGENT INFORMATION

whitepages Menu

1-302-658-7581

Who owns the Phone Number

(302) 658-7581

LOW SPAM RISK

Landline Last updated Feb 2024

Monitor

Registered to: Coby L Ringgenberg

Coby Lynn Ringgenberg • Coby Lynn Coswell • Coby Lynn Caswell

Other names for Coby

40s

Management (Check only one)

5. THE LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY WILL BE MANAGED BY:

☑ ONE MANAGER

☐ MORE THAN ONE MANAGER

☐ ALL LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY MEMBER(S)

Additional Information

6. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION SET FORTH ON THE ATTACHED PAGES, IF ANY, IS INCORPORATED HEREIN BY THIS REFERENCE AND MADE A PART OF THIS CERTIFICATE.

Execution

I DECLARE I AM THE PERSON WHO EXECUTED THIS INSTRUMENT, WHICH EXECUTION IS MY ACT AND DEED.

4/21/2011

DATE

SIGNATURE OF ORGANIZER

Jason Zimmerman

TYPE OR PRINT NAME OF ORGANIZER

LLC-1 (REV 04/2010) APPROVED BY SECRETARY OF STATE

YouTube Sign in

Chaturbate, LLC [US] https://fr.chaturbate.com/

0:38 / 0:50

HIGHWEBMEDIA CHATURBATE JASON ZIMMERMAN

Marc Abigmess

41 subscribers

Subscribe

0 Share

257 views Oct 4, 2019

Mark Text

CHATURBATE

Mark Image

Mark Image Description

The mark consists of the word "Chaturbate" written in a cursive font with an underline

Internation Registration Number

86808048

Mark Type

Illustration: Drawing or design which also includes word(s)/ letter(s)/number(s)

Mark Form

Image

Status

REGISTERED

Url

http://tsdr.uspto.gov/#caseNumber=86808048&caseSearchType=US_APPLICATION&caseType=DEFAULT&searchType=statusSearch

Holder Name

Multi Media, LLC

Holder Address

23615 El Toro Rd #X344, Lake Forrest, CA, 92630

Correspondent Name

JASON A. FISCHER

Correspondent Address

RANDAZZA LEGAL GROUP 2 SOUTH BISCAYNE BLVD. SUITE 2600 MIAMI, FL 33131

Playboy Plus | Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2008

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Klana, Ish Badad (Great Country, Great Man), is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Ronen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 655

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus

Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español | 阅读简体中文版 | 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

WIKIPEDIA
The Free Encyclopedia

Create account Log in

Karl Gotch

11 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Karel Istaz[1][2] (August 3, 1924 – July 28, 2007), best known by his ring name Karl Gotch, was a Belgian-American professional wrestler, amateur wrestler, catch wrestler, and trainer.

He represented Belgium at the 1948 Summer Olympics in both freestyle and Greco-Roman wrestling.[1][2] In Japan, Gotch is known as the "God of Wrestling" due to his influence on Japanese professional wrestling.[9][8] He significantly influenced the development of modern mixed martial arts (MMA). His students established pioneering MMA promotions and training schools to transmit Gotch's training. These include Shooto and Pancrase (both of which predate the UFC), RINGS, and PRIDE, one of the most popular MMA promotions in history.[10][11][12][13][14]

He was given the ringname "Gotch" by Ohio promoter Al Haft in honor of American wrestler Frank Gotch.[15]

Karl Gotch

Birth name	Karel Istaz[1][2]
Born	August 3, 1924[3] Antwerp, Belgium[4]
Died	July 28, 2007 (aged 82)[5] Tampa, Florida, U.S.[6]
Children	1
Professional wrestling career
Ring name(s)	Karl Gotch[4] Karl Krauser[4]
Billed height	6 ft 1 in (185 cm)[7]
Billed weight	245 lb (111 kg)[7]
Billed from	Hamburg, Germany
Trained by	Billy Riley[4] The Snake Pit
Debut	1950
Retired	January 1, 1982[8]

Early life and amateur wrestling career [edit]

Istaz was born in Antwerp, Belgium, where he excelled in amateur wrestling and represented Belgium at the 1948 Summer Olympics in both freestyle and Greco-Roman wrestling.[1][2][16] Gotch's life prior to the Olympics is unclear and has been subject to embellishment by pro wrestling magazines.[17] Gotch also trained in pehlwani, an Indian style of wrestling. This training led to Istaz's regime of calisthenic bodyweight exercise, which were used by wrestlers to build leg endurance and strength, such as the bridge, Hindu squats, and Hindu press ups.[18] Gotch's philosophy was later passed on to several of his students.

Professional wrestling career [edit]

YouTube

first mma fight history

Sign in

Muhammad Ali vs Antonio Inoki 1976 MMA Begins

アントニオ猪木fun
362 subscribers
Subscribe
33 Share Save

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Muhammad Hussain Inoki (born Kanji Inoki (Japanese: 猪木寛至, Hepburn: Inoki Kanji); February 20, 1943 – October 1, 2022) was a Japanese professional wrestler, martial artist, politician, and promoter of professional wrestling and mixed martial arts. He was best known by the ring name Antonio Inoki (アントニオ猪木, Antonio Inoki), a homage to fellow professional wrestler Antonino Rocca. Inoki was a twelve-time professional wrestling world champion, notably being the first IWGP Heavyweight Champion and the first Asian WWF Heavyweight Champion – a reign not officially recognized by WWE.

After spending his adolescence in Brazil, Inoki began his professional wrestling career in the 1960s for the Japan Pro Wrestling Alliance (JWA) under the tutelage of Rikidōzan. Inoki quickly became one of the most popular stars in the history of Japanese professional wrestling. He parlayed his wrestling career into becoming one of Japan's most recognizable athletes, a reputation bolstered by his 1976 fight against world champion boxer Muhammad Ali – a fight that served as a predecessor to modern day mixed martial arts. In 1995, with Ric Flair, Inoki headlined two shows in North Korea that drew 165,000 and 190,000 spectators, the highest attendances in professional wrestling history.[10]

Antonio Inoki

Inoki in 2012

Member of the House of Councillors
In office	July 23, 1989 – July 22, 1995
In office	July 29, 2013 – July 28, 2019
Goodwill Ambassador of Palau
In office	2013[1][2]–Unknown
Personal details
Born	Kanji Inoki (猪木寛至, Inoki

ISTAZ

PENGUMUMAN

Muhammad Ali vs Antonio Inoki 1976 MMA Begins

Muhammad Hussain Inoki (born Kanji Inoki [Japanese: [ɕiꜜnai], Hepburn: Inoki Kanji; February 20, 1943 – October 1, 2022) was a Japanese professional wrestler, martial artist, politician, and promoter of professional wrestling and mixed martial arts. He was best known by the ring name Antonio Inoki (アントニオ猪木, Antonio Inoki), a homage to fellow professional wrestler Antonio Rocca. Inoki was a twelve-time professional wrestling world champion, notably being the first WCW Heavyweight Champion and the first Asian WWF Heavyweight Champion – a reign not officially recognized by WWE.

After spending his adolescence in Brazil, Inoki began his professional wrestling career in the 1960s for the Japan Pro Wrestling Alliance (JWA) under the tutelage of Rikidōzan. Inoki quickly became one of the most popular stars in the history of Japanese professional wrestling. He parlayed his wrestling career into becoming one of Japan's most recognizable athletes, a reputation bolstered by his 1976 fight against world champion boxer Muhammad Ali – a fight that served as a predecessor to modern-day mixed martial arts. In 1995, with Rio Piao, Inoki headlined two shows in North Korea that drew 165,000 and 190,000 spectators, the highest attendances in professional wrestling history.

Antonio Inoki

Inoki in 2012

Member of the House of Councillors

In office
July 23, 1989 – July 22, 1998

In office
July 25, 2013 – July 28, 2019

Goodwill Ambassador of Peace

In office
2013[1][2]–Unknown

Personal details

Born Kanji Inoki (猪木寛至), Inoki

WIKIPEDIA
The Free Encyclopedia

Create account Log in

Karl Gotch

11 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Karel Istaz[1][2] (August 3, 1924 – July 28, 2007), best known by his ring name Karl Gotch, was a Belgian-American professional wrestler, amateur wrestler, catch wrestler, and trainer.

He represented Belgium at the 1948 Summer Olympics in both freestyle and Greco-Roman wrestling.[1][2] In Japan, Gotch is known as the "God of Wrestling" due to his influence on Japanese professional wrestling.[9][8] He significantly influenced the development of modern mixed martial arts (MMA). His students established pioneering MMA promotions and training schools to transmit Gotch's training. These include Shooto and Pancrase (both of which predate the UFC), RINGS, and PRIDE, one of the most popular MMA promotions in history.[10][11][12][13][14]

He was given the ringname "Gotch" by Ohio promoter Al Haft in honor of American wrestler Frank Gotch.[15]

Karl Gotch

Birth name	Karel Istaz[1][2]
Born	August 3, 1924[3] Antwerp, Belgium[4]
Died	July 28, 2007 (aged 82)[5] Tampa, Florida, U.S.[6]
Children	1
Professional wrestling career
Ring name(s)	Karl Gotch[4] Karl Krauser[4]
Billed height	6 ft 1 in (185 cm)[7]
Billed weight	245 lb (111 kg)[7]
Billed from	Hamburg, Germany
Trained by	Billy Riley[4] The Snake Pit
Debut	1950
Retired	January 1, 1982[8]

Early life and amateur wrestling career [edit]

Istaz was born in Antwerp, Belgium, where he excelled in amateur wrestling and represented Belgium at the 1948 Summer Olympics in both freestyle and Greco-Roman wrestling.[1][2][16] Gotch's life prior to the Olympics is unclear and has been subject to embellishment by pro wrestling magazines.[17] Gotch also trained in pehlwani, an Indian style of wrestling. This training led to Istaz's regime of calisthenic bodyweight exercise, which were used by wrestlers to build leg endurance and strength, such as the bridge, Hindu squats, and Hindu press ups.[18] Gotch's philosophy was later passed on to several of his students.

Professional wrestling career [edit]

YouTube

first mma fight history

Sign in

Muhammad Ali vs Antonio Inoki 1976 MMA Begins

アントニオ猪木fun
362 subscribers
Subscribe
33 Share Save

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Muhammad Hussain Inoki (born Kanji Inoki (Japanese: 猪木寛至, Hepburn: Inoki Kanji); February 20, 1943 – October 1, 2022) was a Japanese professional wrestler, martial artist, politician, and promoter of professional wrestling and mixed martial arts. He was best known by the ring name Antonio Inoki (アントニオ猪木, Antonio Inoki), a homage to fellow professional wrestler Antonino Rocca. Inoki was a twelve-time professional wrestling world champion, notably being the first IWGP Heavyweight Champion and the first Asian WWF Heavyweight Champion – a reign not officially recognized by WWE.

After spending his adolescence in Brazil, Inoki began his professional wrestling career in the 1960s for the Japan Pro Wrestling Alliance (JWA) under the tutelage of Rikidōzan. Inoki quickly became one of the most popular stars in the history of Japanese professional wrestling. He parlayed his wrestling career into becoming one of Japan's most recognizable athletes, a reputation bolstered by his 1976 fight against world champion boxer Muhammad Ali – a fight that served as a predecessor to modern day mixed martial arts. In 1995, with Ric Flair, Inoki headlined two shows in North Korea that drew 165,000 and 190,000 spectators, the highest attendances in professional wrestling history.[10]

Antonio Inoki

Inoki in 2012

Member of the House of Councillors
In office	July 23, 1989 – July 22, 1995
In office	July 29, 2013 – July 28, 2019
Goodwill Ambassador of Palau
In office	2013[1][2]–Unknown
Personal details
Born	Kanji Inoki (猪木寛至, Inoki

ISTAZ

PENGUMUMAN

Shoot wrestling

Article Talk

Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article needs additional citations for verification. Please help improve this article by adding citations to reliable sources. Unsourced material may be challenged and removed.

Find sources: "Shoot wrestling" – news · newspapers · books · scholar · JSTOR (February 2019) (Learn how and when to remove this template message)

Shoot wrestling is a Japanese hybrid grappling style and combat sport. Shoot wrestling incorporates techniques from various wrestling, submission grappling, kickboxing and karate styles. It was particularly inspired and influenced by catch wrestling, a form of wrestling with submissions that was the predominant style of professional wrestling in the 19th and early 20th century, at the time a competitive sport and not yet predetermined.[1]

Shoot wrestling originated in Japan's professional wrestling circuit (puroresu) of the 1970s, particularly stemming from the influence of wrestlers Karl Gotch and all who had an enduring popularity in Japan due to their serious submission wrestling style. Professional wrestlers of that era attempted to add more realistic or even "full contact" moves in their matches to increase their excitement, diminishing or eschewing the theatrical elements and exaggerated, looking more similar to an actual, unscripted fight. The name "shoot wrestling" comes from the professional wrestling term "shoot", which refers to any unscripted occurrence within a scripted wrestling event.[2]

Shoot wrestling
Focus	Grappling
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama, Yuji Nagata, Yoshiaki Yatsushiro, Masaki Watanabe, Kazushi Sakuraba, Masaaki Satake, Tsuyoshi Kosaka, Yoji Anjo, Ken Shamrock, Masakatsu Funaki, Daisuke Nakamura
Parent/Sport	Catch wrestling, freestyle wrestling, Greco-Roman wrestling, judo, karate, Muay Thai, sambo
Descendant arts	Shootfighting, shootboxing, mixed martial arts
Olympic sport	No

The first wave of shoot wrestlers were students of Antonio Inoki and Karl Gotch from New Japan Pro-Wrestling (NJPW), two wrestlers which already were advocates of a stiffer and more realistic wrestling style. Three students left NJPW to form the Universal Wrestling Federation (UWF) in 1984, possessing in the new style.[3]

Shoot wrestling was popular in Japan from the 1980s until the mid-1990s, facing fines especially due the demise of the leading shoot-style promotion UWFi in 1996 and the simultaneous rise of mixed martial arts (MMA) in Japan. Most shoot wrestlers started to migrate to MMA or back to more theatrical forms of professional wrestling.[1][3] Shoot wrestling had a considerable influence on the sport of mixed martial arts.

Prior to the emergence of the current sport of shoot wrestling, the term was commonly used in the professional wrestling business, particularly in the United Kingdom, as a synonym for the sport of catch wrestling.[1] Shoot wrestling can be used to describe a range of hybrid fighting systems such as shootfighting, shoot boxing and the styles of mixed martial arts done in the Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS promotions. Organizations, promotions and gyms with origins in shoot wrestling are referred as the "Uwfer".

History (edit)

Shootfighting

Article Talk

Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article includes a list of general references, but it lacks sufficient corresponding inline citations. Please help to improve this article by introducing more precise citations. (August 2020) (Learn how and when to remove this template message)

Shootfighting is a martial art and combat sport, with competitions governed by the International Shootfighting Association (ISFA). It incorporates techniques from a multitude of traditional martial arts, the most principal of these being wrestling and judo.

Shootfighting was previously used synonymously with mixed martial arts competitions in Japan, as opposed to shoot-style professional wrestling competitions. The term has been retired from common usage because it became a registered trademark of Bart Vale, who uses it to describe his hybrid fighting system derived from shoot wrestling. However, it is still sometimes used colloquially.

Examples which were once considered shootfighting styles, tournaments or organizations are Pancrase, Fighting Network RINGS, and Shooto, where many fighters still considered themselves to be shootfighters. Ken Shamrock is possibly the most recognizable shoot fighter, as it was the discipline he used during the early days of the UFC.

Shootfighting
Focus	Hybrid martial sport & mixed combat
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Alexander Gustafsson (UFC), Bruno Santos (ISFC), Frank Shamrock (Strikeforce), Jake Shields (PFL), Kazushi Sakuraba (UFC), Kai Asakura (Pancrase), Kyoji Horiguchi (Rizin FF), Takanori Gomi (Rizin), Caleb Worthley, Shoot Wrestling, American Kenpo, Judo, Boxing, Kickboxing, Karate, Muay Thai, Jujutsu, Brazilian Jiu-Jitsu[1]
Olympic sport	No

History (edit)

Shootfighting's use as a synonym for mixed martial arts had its genesis in the 1970s, when Karl Gotch taught a group of Japanese professional wrestlers catch wrestling techniques, called "hooking" or "shooting". In 1976, one of these pro-wrestlers, Antonio Inoki, hosted a series of matches against practitioners of other martial arts, most of these were "scripted" (predetermined), but one particular high-profile one was against Muhammad Ali, which was in fact a shoot. This led to an increased interest in real and effective techniques, and eventually led to the creation of shoot wrestling, with some shoot-style professional wrestling organizations hosting legitimate mixed martial arts bouts, called "shoots". Interest grew in the 1980s, and certain shoot-style organizations like Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS evolved into

muslim.sg

22 Jan 2024
10 Zulhijah 1445H

Ask An Ustaz or Ustazah Questions Through Anonymous Chat With MYSAFESPACE

With MYSAFESPACE, you can conveniently and anonymously ask your religious queries from the comfort of your homes.

by Mia Fatin Binte Abdullah

Mia Abdullah is the editor-in-chief of Muslim.Sg. In 2021, she won the Exemplary Behaviour in Public Service Award, a national award that recognises individuals who constantly upgrade their competencies. A law graduate and digital media specialist, she is an exceptional writer whose work has been featured in Young Women in Leadership Dialogues (YWLD) Commemorative Book "Unprecedented: To the Best of Her Ability" and on platforms such as Medium and The Muslim Vibe. She lived and worked in Saudi Arabia for 3 years. She is now based in Singapore.

2023-03-22 · 4 min read

As a Muslim living in Singapore, we understand that having a safe space to ask questions to asatizah (religious teachers) is crucial for your personal and spiritual development.

First, a safe space allows you to freely ask questions without fear of judgment or discrimination. This is important because sometimes, you may hesitate to ask questions you think may be sensitive or controversial.

Second, having access to knowledgeable asatizah who can provide guidance and answer your questions is essential in helping you understand and navigate your faith. They can provide valuable insights and help clarify any confusion or doubts you may have, which can deepen your understanding of Islam and strengthen your faith.

Furthermore, a safe space for Muslim youth to ask questions to asatizah can foster a sense of community and belonging. Knowing that you have a support system of trusted scholars who can provide guidance and support can be comforting, especially when living

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Orga

https://www.theatlantic.co

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2011

SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner THE WIRE.

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

Israel harvested organs in

NBC NEWS

WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

SAVE

Dec. 20, 2009, 8:03 PM CST / Source: The Associated Press

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS

Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 20, 2009 5:51pm EST Updated January 14, 2015 12:40am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Israel 'stealing or

https://w

euronews.

News > World > Gaza

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Copyright AP Photo

By Euronews

Published on 27/11/2023 - 15:18

Share this article Comments

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochleas and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Orga

https://www.theatlantic.co

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2011

SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner The Wire.

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

Israel harvested organs in

NBC NEWS

WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

SAVE

Dec. 20, 2009, 8:03 PM CST / Source: The Associated Press

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS

Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 20, 2009 5:51pm EST Updated January 14, 2015 12:40am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Israel 'stealing o

https://

euronews.

News > World > Gaza

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Copyright AP Photo

By Euronews

Published on 27/11/2023 - 15:18

Share this article Comments

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochleas and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

18+ Playboy Plus | 18+ Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | 18+ Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

Playboy.tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus

Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
Hugh Hefner
Hugh Hefner: Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91
PLAYBOY

Playboy Plus | Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

.tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Art Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 603

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

er of the sexual lies at 91

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

Remembering Hugh Hefner: American icon of sex

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

By ANDREW DALTON
The Associated Press Sep 28, 2017

1 of 2

In this May 14, 1999 file photo, Playboy founder and editor in chief Hugh Hefner receives kisses from Playboy playmates during the 52nd Cannes Film Festival in Cannes, France. (AP Photo/Laurent Rebours, File)
Laurent Rebours

LOS ANGELES — Hugh Hefner turned silk pajamas into a work uniform, women into centerfolds and sexual desire into a worldwide multimedia empire that spanned several generations of American life.

With Playboy, he helped slip sex out of the confines of plain brown wrappers and into mainstream conversation.

In 1953, a time when states could legally ban contraceptives and the word "pregnant" was not allowed on "I Love Lucy," Hefner published the first issue of Playboy, featuring naked photos of Marilyn Monroe and an editorial promise of "humor, sophistication and spice."

The Great Depression and World War II were over and Playboy soon became forbidden fruit for teens and a bible for men with time and money, primed for the magazine's prescribed evenings of dimmed lights, hard drinks, soft jazz, deep thoughts and deeper desires. Within a year, circulation neared 200,000. Within five years, it had topped 1 million.

NEWSPAPER ADS
Buy Local EAT · DRINK · SHOP · LIVE
CLASSIFIED Yellow The one place to

Johnstown Magazine

Johnstown Magazine is a positive and forward-th monthly publication for people of our region.

Read now

Trending Recipes

Tomato Pie

BONNIE'S BEST BL RIBBON OVEN BAK FRIES

Giant Danish

Most Popular

Articles

Visit our Israel resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent teachings and events.

Next Service: Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 10:00 am

B'NAI JESHURUN

Robert and Jane Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Vitina Biondo and Yosef Riemer
Shirley Bisgeier
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anomymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corenswet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adeena Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Dimson and John Hatleberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Etingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Felsenfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardiner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Sep 28, 2017 7:13 PM EDT

Leave your feedback Share •••

By – PBS NewsHour

Transcript Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

Playboy USA - December 2007

Favorite Share Flag

classmates

Matt Heffner: CLASS OF 1992

Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu Class of 1992

Toronto, ON

Matt's Story

Matt is from Ashland, Pennsylvania. Matt's schools include Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu. Music Matt likes includes Metal. Books Ma...Expand for more

Send Email

Remember

ye·shi·va
[yə ˈSHēvə]

noun
an Orthodox Jewish college or seminary.
• an Orthodox Jewish elementary or secondary school.

A yeshiva, jeshibah is a traditi educational institution focused of Rabbinic literature, primarily and halacha, while Torah and

sky news Home › World

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner dies aged 91

"Hef" established Playboy magazine in 1953 and turned it into one of the most recognisable American brands in history.

Thursday 28 September 2017 14:28, UK

Image:
Hugh Hefner poses with three Playmates in 2007

Playboy magazine founder Hugh Hefner has died at the age of 91.

Matt's Story
nber 2007

classmates

Matt Heffner: CLASS OF 1992

Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu Class of 1992

Toronto, ON

Matt's Story

Matt is from Ashland, Pennsylvania. Matt's schools include Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu. Music Matt likes includes Mutual, Books Ma. Expand for more

Send Email

Remember

ye-shi-va

an Orthodox Jewish college or seminary

(98 of 156)

mber 2007

Favorite Share Flag

sky ne

Playbo

aged 9

"Hef" est

turned it

American

Thursday

Image:

Hugh He

Playboy

the age

classmates
Matt Heffner: CLASS OF 1992
Matt's Story
yeshiva
Playboy USA - December 2007
Favorite
Share
Flag
sky news
Home › World
Playboy founder Hugh Hefner dies aged 91
"Hef" established Playboy magazine in 1953 and turned it into one of the most recognisable American brands in history.
Thursday 28 September 2017 14:28, UK
Playboy magazine founder Hugh Hefner has died at the age of 91.

PLAYBOY
THE ALL-AMERICAN POP PRINCESS DOES SEX ON THE BEACH
THE PLAYBOY INTERVIEW
SPECIAL EDITION COVER SET
classmates
Matt Heffner: CLASS OF 1992
Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu Class of 1992
Toronto, ON
Matt's Story
Matt is from Ashland, Pennsylvania. Matt's schools include Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu. Music Matt likes includes Metal. Books Ma. Expand for more
Send Email
Remember
ye·shi·va
an Orthodox Jewish college or seminary
an Orthodox Jewish elementary or secondary school
(58 of 158)
Playboy USA - December 2007
Favorite
Share
Flag
sky news
Home › World
Playboy founder Hugh Hefner dies aged 91
"Hef" established Playboy magazine in 1953 and turned it into one of the most recognisable American brands in history.
Thursday 28 September 2017 14:28, UK
Image:
Hugh Hefner poses with three Playmates in 2007
Playboy magazine founder Hugh Hefner has died at the age of 91.

Convicted sex offender accused of attacking 3 females, grabbing child in Orange County

NABIL ELHAM SALAS STARTS TO WORK WITH THE COMMUNITY OF ALICANTE, SPAIN

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

LOCAL NEWS

Convicted sex offender accused of attacking 3 females, grabbing child in Orange County

by: Mary Dunnfield
Posted: Jun 6, 2024 / 08:56 AM PDT
Updated: Jun 6, 2024 / 03:46 PM PDT

SHARE

Police in Santa Ana, California, arrested a convicted sex offender who is accused of attacking three females and attempting to abduct a child on the same day.

Moises Hernandez, 30, faces felony counts of sexual penetration by force, indecent exposure, committing lewd acts on a child, battery and resisting arrest.

LOCAL NEWS

Convicted sex offender accused of attacking 3 females, grabbing child in Orange County

by: Marc Sternfield
Posted: Jun 6, 2024 / 08:56 AM PDT
Updated: Jun 6, 2024 / 03:48 PM PDT

SHARE

Police in Santa Ana, California, arrested a convicted sex offender who is accused of attacking three females and attempting to abduct a child on the same day.

Moises Hernandez, 30, faces felony counts of sexual penetration by force, indecent exposure, committing lewd acts on a child, battery and resisting arrest.

SHAVEI ISRAEL

SUPPORT US

RABBI ELISHA SALAS STARTS TO WORK WITH THE COMMUNITY OF ALICANTE, SPAIN

Rabbi Elisha Salas, the 'Shavei Israel' emissary in Portugal, is currently expanding his activities to neighboring Spain, the home for many Bnei Anousim communities. This week, he begins to support the community of Alicante on an ongoing basis.

Rabbi Salas and the community of Alicante have a long-standing common history of friendship and

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Home

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Services down

The following jurisdiction(s) : [Georgia] are temporarily unavailable. Please try again later.

Showing Results For:

First Name: d, Last Name: stein, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/7/2024, 6:21:02 PM Central Daylight Time

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 Next

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 5 of 32 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
HIGHBARGER, BRADLEY DOUGLAS	51	BOSE, BRADLEY D STEIN, DOUGLAS JEROME	310 W MAIN ST MT MORRIS, IL 61054 OGLE RESIDENTIAL
STEIN, DALE LESLIE	61	STEIN, DALE STEIN, SHORTY	262 MCMASTER RD SKANDIA, MI 49885 MARQUETTE RESIDENCE
STEIN, DAVID ARNOLD	65		2451 CORINTH AVE LOS ANGELES, CA 90064 LOS ANGELES RESIDENCE

LOCAL NEWS

Convicted sex offender accused of attacking 3 females, grabbing child in Orange County

by: Marc Sternfield
Posted: Jun 6, 2024 / 08:56 AM PDT
Updated: Jun 6, 2024 / 03:48 PM PDT

SHARE

Police in Santa Ana, California, arrested a convicted sex offender who is accused of attacking three females and attempting to abduct a child on the same day.

Moises Hernandez, 30, faces felony counts of sexual penetration by force, indecent exposure, committing lewd acts on a child, battery and resisting arrest.

SHAVEI ISRAEL שבי ישראל

SUPPORT US

RABBI ELISHA SALAS STARTS TO WORK WITH THE COMMUNITY OF ALICANTE, SPAIN

Rabbi Elisha Salas, the 'Shavei Israel' emissary in Portugal, is currently expanding his activities to neighboring Spain, the home for many Bnei Anousim communities. This week, he begins to support the community of Alicante on an ongoing basis.

Rabbi Salas and the community of Alicante have a long-standing common history of friendship and

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Home

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Services down

The following jurisdiction(s) : [Georgia] are temporarily unavailable. Please try again later.

Showing Results For:

First Name: d, Last Name: stein, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/7/2024, 6:21:02 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 Next

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 5 of 32 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
HIGHBARGER, BRADLEY DOUGLAS	51	BOSE, BRADLEY D STEIN, DOUGLAS JEROME	310 W MAIN ST MT MORRIS, IL 61054 OGLE RESIDENTIAL
STEIN, DALE LESLIE	61	STEIN, DALE STEIN, SHORTY	262 MCMASTER RD SKANDIA, MI 49885 MARQUETTE RESIDENCE
STEIN, DAVID ARNOLD	65		2451 CORINTH AVE LOS ANGELES, CA 90064 LOS ANGELES RESIDENCE

James Earl Ray - Wikipedia
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/James_Earl_Ray
Wikipedia The Free Encyclopedia
Search Wikipedia Search
Create account Log in

James Earl Ray

35 languages
Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For other people with the same name, see James Ray (disambiguation).

James Earl Ray (March 10, 1928 – April 23, 1998) was an American fugitive who was convicted of the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr. at the Lorraine Motel in Memphis, Tennessee, on April 4, 1968. After the assassination, Ray fled the United States and was captured in the United Kingdom. Ray was convicted in 1969 after entering a guilty plea—thus forgoing a jury trial and the possibility of a death sentence—and was sentenced to 99 years of imprisonment.

In 1993, Loyd Jowers, the owner of a restaurant, publicly began claiming that he had been part of a conspiracy to assassinate King and that Ray was a scapegoat. In a Memphis civil trial in 1999, a jury unanimously concluded that Jowers was liable for the assassination, that King was the victim of a conspiracy, and that various United States governmental agencies had conspired to murder King and frame Ray for the assassination. The King family has consistently said that they believe Ray was innocent, though this conclusion was disputed by the United States Department of Justice in 2000.[1][2] The King family has stated that they believe the true murderer was a Memphis Police Department officer, Lieutenant Earl Clark.[3]

James Earl Ray

Mug shot of Ray taken on July 8, 1955

Born	March 10, 1928 Alton, Illinois, U.S.
Died	April 23, 1998 (aged 70) Nashville, Tennessee, U.S.
Known for	Being convicted for the Assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr.
Conviction(s)	First degree murder Armed robbery Burglary Escape
Criminal penalty	100 years imprisonment[4]
Escaped	June 10–13, 1977
Details
Victims	Martin Luther King Jr., 39
Date	April 4, 1968

Early life and education [edit]

Ray was born on March 10, 1928, in Alton, Illinois, the son of George Ellis Ray and Lucille Ray (née Maher). He had Irish, Scottish and Welsh ancestry.[4]

In February 1935, Ray's father, known by the nickname Great Dane, passed a bad check in Alton, Illinois, and then moved to Ewing, Missouri, where the family changed their name to Raynes to avoid law enforcement.[5] James Earl Ray was the oldest of nine children,[6] including John Larry Ray,[7] Franklin Ray, Jerry William Ray,[8] Melba Ray, Carol Ray Pepper, Suzan Ray, and Marjorie Ray. His sister Marjorie died in a fire as a young child in 1933.[9] Ray left school at the age of 12. He later joined the U.S. Army at the close of World War II and served in Germany. Ray struggled to adapt to military life and was eventually discharged for ineptitude and lack of adaptability in 1948.[9]

Initial convictions and first escape from prison [edit]

Ray committed a variety of crimes prior to the murder of King. Ray's first conviction for criminal activity, a burglary in California, came in 1949. In 1952, he served two years for the armed robbery of a taxi driver in Illinois. In 1955, he was convicted of mail fraud after stealing money orders in Hannibal, Missouri. For this, he was imprisoned for four years in the federal United States Penitentiary Leavenworth. In 1959, he was caught stealing $120 (~$1,254 in 2023) in an armed robbery of a Kroger store in St. Louis.[10] He was sentenced to twenty years in prison for repeated offenses. He escaped from the Missouri State Penitentiary in 1967 by hiding in a truck transporting bread from the prison bakery.[11]

Post first escape [edit]

Following his escape, Ray stayed on the move throughout the United States and Canada, going first to St. Louis and then onward to Chicago, Toronto, Montreal, and Birmingham, Alabama, where he stayed long enough to buy a 1966 Ford Mustang and get an Alabama driver's license. He then drove to Mexico, stopping in Acapulco before settling in Puerto Vallarta on October 19, 1967.[12]

While in Mexico, Ray, using the alias Eric Starvo Galt, attempted to establish himself as a pornographic film director. Using mail-ordered equipment, he filmed and photographed local prostitutes. Frustrated with his results and jilted by the prostitute with whom he had formed a relationship, Ray left Mexico on or around November 16, 1967,[13] arriving in Los Angeles three days later. While there, Ray attended a local bartending school and took dance lessons.[14] His chief interest, however, was the George Wallace presidential campaign. Ray was quickly drawn to Wallace's segregationist platform. He spent much of his time in Los Angeles volunteering at the Wallace campaign headquarters in North Hollywood.[15]

He considered emigrating to Rhodesia (now Zimbabwe), where a predominantly white minority regime had unilaterally assumed independence from the United Kingdom in 1965.[16] The notion of living in Rhodesia continued to appeal to Ray for several years afterwards, and it was his intended destination after King's assassination. The Rhodesian government expressed its disapproval.[17]

Activity in early 1968 [edit]

On March 5, 1968, Ray had an operation on his nose, performed by physician Russell Hadley.[18] On March 18, 1968, Ray left Los Angeles and began a cross-country drive to Atlanta, Georgia.[19]

Arriving in Atlanta on March 24, 1968, Ray checked into a rooming house.[20] He bought a map of the city. FBI agents later found this map when they searched the room in which he was staying. On the map, the locations of the church and residence of Martin Luther King Jr. were circled.[21]

69°F
Mostly cloudy
Search
1:30 AM
6/12/2024

nypost.com wants to
Show notifications

Larry Flynt's Hustler: Most contr

https://nypost.com/2021/02/10/larry-flynts-hustler-most-controversial-nude-pics-ever-

Get notifications from The New York Post
Click 'Sign Up' then 'Allow'
Dismiss Sign Up

Harbor cop ed Justin already...
NYC Jewish family pummeled at 5th-grade commencement by…
's brutal anti-Israel ...
Penis cancer surge across Docs reveal h

Belgium, Lady Gaga took Flynt's cheekiness to the next level: Wearing an homage to her infamous meat dress and responding to flack she'd gotten for putting on 25 pounds, Gaga climbed into a black leather meat grinder.

She announced to the audience, "In 1970, women would no longer be treated like meat. On the cover of Hustler magazine or at the Born This Way Ball, meat is precisely how we treat them."

SEE ALSO
ALEXA
The designer who got

Sign in wit
Use your G to sign in to
No more passw remember. Sign simple and secu

Hustler mag Wednesday
Getty Images:

86°F Partly sunny
Search
11:24 AM 6/23/2024

Larry Flynt's Hustler: Most cont

https://nypost.com/2021/02/10/larry-flynts-hustler-most-controversial-nude-pics-ever

Entertainment TV Movies Music Celebrities

Get notifications from The New York Post

Click 'Sign Up' then 'Allow'

Dismiss Sign Up

Harbor cop ...d Justin already...

NYC Jewish family pummeled at 5th-grade commencement by...

...s brutal ...anti-Israel ...

Penis cancer surge across Docs reveal h...

Belgium, Lady Gaga took Flynt's cheekiness to the next level: Wearing an homage to her infamous meat dress and responding to flack she'd gotten for putting on 25 pounds, Gaga climbed into a black leather meat grinder.

She announced to the audience, "In 1970, women would no longer be treated like meat. On the cover of Hustler magazine or at the Born This Way Ball, meat is precisely how we treat them."

ALEXA

The designer who got

nypost.com wants to

Show notifications

Use your G... to sign in to

No more passw... remember. Sign... simple and secu...

Hustler mag... Wednesday

Getty Images

86°F Partly sunny

Search

11:24 AM 6/23/2024

James Earl Ray - Wikipedia

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/James_Earl_Ray

James Earl Ray

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For other people with the same name, see James Ray (disambiguation)

James Earl Ray (March 10, 1928 – April 23, 1998) was an American fugitive who was convicted of the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr. at the Lorraine Motel in Memphis, Tennessee, on April 4, 1968. After the assassination, Ray fled the United States and was captured in the United Kingdom. Ray was convicted in 1969 after entering a guilty plea—thus forgoing a jury trial and the possibility of a death sentence—and was sentenced to 99 years of imprisonment.

In 1993, Loyd Jowers, the owner of a restaurant, publicly began claiming that he had been part of a conspiracy to assassinate King and that Ray was a scapegoat. In a Memphis civil trial in 1999, a jury unanimously concluded that Jowers was liable for the assassination, that King was the victim of a conspiracy, and that various United States governmental agencies had conspired to murder King and frame Ray for the assassination. The King family has consistently said that they believe Ray was innocent, though this conclusion was disputed by the United States Department of Justice in 2000.[1][2] The King family has stated that they believe the true murderer was a Memphis Police Department officer, Lieutenant Earl Clark.[3]

Mug shot of Ray taken on July 8, 1955

James Earl Ray
Born	March 10, 1928 Alton, Illinois, U.S.
Died	April 23, 1998 (aged 70) Nashville, Tennessee, U.S.
Known for	Being convicted for the Assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr.
Conviction(s)	First degree murder Armed robbery Burglary Escape
Criminal penalty	100 years imprisonment[4]
Escaped	June 10–13, 1977
Details
Victims	Martin Luther King Jr., 39
Date	April 4, 1968

Early life and education [edit]

Ray was born on March 10, 1928, in Alton, Illinois, the son of George Ellis Ray and Lucille Ray (née Maher). He had Irish, Scottish and Welsh ancestry.[4]

In February 1935, Ray's father, known by the nickname Great Dane, passed a bad check in Alton, Illinois, and then moved to Ewing, Missouri, where the family changed their name to Raynes to avoid law enforcement.[5] James Earl Ray was the oldest of nine children,[6] including John Larry Ray,[7] Franklin Ray, Jerry William Ray,[8] Melba Ray, Carol Ray Pepper, Suzan Ray, and Marjorie Ray. His sister Marjorie died in a fire as a young child in 1933.[9] Ray left school at the age of 12. He later joined the U.S. Army at the close of World War II and served in Germany. Ray struggled to adapt to military life and was eventually discharged for ineptitude and lack of adaptability in 1948.[9]

Initial convictions and first escape from prison [edit]

Ray committed a variety of crimes prior to the murder of King. Ray's first conviction for criminal activity, a burglary in California, came in 1949. In 1952, he served two years for the armed robbery of a taxi driver in Illinois. In 1955, he was convicted of mail fraud after stealing money orders in Hannibal, Missouri. For this, he was imprisoned for four years in the federal United States Penitentiary Leavenworth. In 1959, he was caught stealing $120 (~$1,254 in 2023) in an armed robbery of a Kroger store in St. Louis.[10] He was sentenced to twenty years in prison for repeated offenses. He escaped from the Missouri State Penitentiary in 1967 by hiding in a truck transporting bread from the prison bakery.[11]

Post first escape [edit]

Following his escape, Ray stayed on the move throughout the United States and Canada, going first to St. Louis and then onward to Chicago, Toronto, Montreal, and Birmingham, Alabama, where he stayed long enough to buy a 1966 Ford Mustang and get an Alabama driver's license. He then drove to Mexico, stopping in Acapulco before settling in Puerto Vallarta on October 19, 1967.[12]

While in Mexico, Ray, using the alias Eric Starvo Galt, attempted to establish himself as a pornographic film director. Using mail-ordered equipment, he filmed and photographed local prostitutes. Frustrated with his results and jilted by the prostitute with whom he had formed a relationship, Ray left Mexico on or around November 16, 1967,[13] arriving in Los Angeles three days later. While there, Ray attended a local bartending school and took dance lessons.[14] His chief interest, however, was the George Wallace presidential campaign. Ray was quickly drawn to Wallace's segregationist platform. He spent much of his time in Los Angeles volunteering at the Wallace campaign headquarters in North Hollywood.[15]

He considered emigrating to Rhodesia (now Zimbabwe), where a predominantly white minority regime had unilaterally assumed independence from the United Kingdom in 1965.[16] The notion of living in Rhodesia continued to appeal to Ray for several years afterwards, and it was his intended destination after King's assassination. The Rhodesian government expressed its disapproval.[17]

Activity in early 1968 [edit]

On March 5, 1968, Ray had an operation on his nose, performed by physician Russell Hadley.[18] On March 18, 1968, Ray left Los Angeles and began a cross-country drive to Atlanta, Georgia.[19]

Arriving in Atlanta on March 24, 1968, Ray checked into a rooming house.[20] He bought a map of the city. FBI agents later found this map when they searched the room in which he was staying. On the map, the locations of the church and residence of Martin Luther King Jr. were circled.[21]

69°F Mostly cloudy

Search

1:30 AM 6/12/2024

James Earl Ray - Wikipedia
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/James_Earl_Ray
Wikipedia The Free Encyclopedia
Search Wikipedia Search
Create account Log in

James Earl Ray

35 languages
Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For other people with the same name, see James Ray (disambiguation).

James Earl Ray (March 10, 1928 – April 23, 1998) was an American fugitive who was convicted of the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr. at the Lorraine Motel in Memphis, Tennessee, on April 4, 1968. After the assassination, Ray fled the United States and was captured in the United Kingdom. Ray was convicted in 1969 after entering a guilty plea—thus forgoing a jury trial and the possibility of a death sentence—and was sentenced to 99 years of imprisonment.

In 1993, Loyd Jowers, the owner of a restaurant, publicly began claiming that he had been part of a conspiracy to assassinate King and that Ray was a scapegoat. In a Memphis civil trial in 1999, a jury unanimously concluded that Jowers was liable for the assassination, that King was the victim of a conspiracy, and that various United States governmental agencies had conspired to murder King and frame Ray for the assassination. The King family has consistently said that they believe Ray was innocent, though this conclusion was disputed by the United States Department of Justice in 2000.[1][2] The King family has stated that they believe the true murderer was a Memphis Police Department officer, Lieutenant Earl Clark.[3]

James Earl Ray

Mug shot of Ray taken on July 8, 1955

Born	March 10, 1928 Alton, Illinois, U.S.
Died	April 23, 1998 (aged 70) Nashville, Tennessee, U.S.
Known for	Being convicted for the Assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr.
Conviction(s)	First degree murder Armed robbery Burglary Escape
Criminal penalty	100 years imprisonment[4]
Escaped	June 10–13, 1977
Details
Victims	Martin Luther King Jr., 39
Date	April 4, 1968

Early life and education [edit]

Ray was born on March 10, 1928, in Alton, Illinois, the son of George Ellis Ray and Lucille Ray (née Mahor). He had Irish, Scottish and Welsh ancestry.[4]

In February 1935, Ray's father, known by the nickname Great Dane, passed a bad check in Alton, Illinois, and then moved to Ewing, Missouri, where the family changed their name to Raynes to avoid law enforcement.[5] James Earl Ray was the oldest of nine children,[6] including John Larry Ray,[7] Franklin Ray, Jerry William Ray,[8] Melba Ray, Carol Ray Pepper, Suzan Ray, and Marjorie Ray. His sister Marjorie died in a fire as a young child in 1933.[9] Ray left school at the age of 12. He later joined the U.S. Army at the close of World War II and served in Germany. Ray struggled to adapt to military life and was eventually discharged for ineptitude and lack of adaptability in 1948.[9]

Initial convictions and first escape from prison [edit]

Ray committed a variety of crimes prior to the murder of King. Ray's first conviction for criminal activity, a burglary in California, came in 1949. In 1952, he served two years for the armed robbery of a taxi driver in Illinois. In 1955, he was convicted of mail fraud after stealing money orders in Hannibal, Missouri. For this, he was imprisoned for four years in the federal United States Penitentiary Leavenworth. In 1959, he was caught stealing $120 (~$1,254 in 2023) in an armed robbery of a Kroger store in St. Louis.[10] He was sentenced to twenty years in prison for repeated offenses. He escaped from the Missouri State Penitentiary in 1967 by hiding in a truck transporting bread from the prison bakery.[11]

Post first escape [edit]

Following his escape, Ray stayed on the move throughout the United States and Canada, going first to St. Louis and then onward to Chicago, Toronto, Montreal, and Birmingham, Alabama, where he stayed long enough to buy a 1966 Ford Mustang and get an Alabama driver's license. He then drove to Mexico, stopping in Acapulco before settling in Puerto Vallarta on October 19, 1967.[12]

While in Mexico, Ray, using the alias Eric Starvo Galt, attempted to establish himself as a pornographic film director. Using mail-ordered equipment, he filmed and photographed local prostitutes. Frustrated with his results and jilted by the prostitute with whom he had formed a relationship, Ray left Mexico on or around November 16, 1967,[13] arriving in Los Angeles three days later. While there, Ray attended a local bartending school and took dance lessons.[14] His chief interest, however, was the George Wallace presidential campaign. Ray was quickly drawn to Wallace's segregationist platform. He spent much of his time in Los Angeles volunteering at the Wallace campaign headquarters in North Hollywood.[15]

He considered emigrating to Rhodesia (now Zimbabwe), where a predominantly white minority regime had unilaterally assumed independence from the United Kingdom in 1965.[16] The notion of living in Rhodesia continued to appeal to Ray for several years afterwards, and it was his intended destination after King's assassination. The Rhodesian government expressed its disapproval.[17]

Activity in early 1968 [edit]

On March 5, 1968, Ray had an operation on his nose, performed by physician Russell Hadley.[18] On March 18, 1968, Ray left Los Angeles and began a cross-country drive to Atlanta, Georgia.[19]

Arriving in Atlanta on March 24, 1968, Ray checked into a rooming house.[20] He bought a map of the city. FBI agents later found this map when they searched the room in which he was staying. On the map, the locations of the church and residence of Martin Luther King Jr. were circled.[21]

69°F
Mostly cloudy
Search
1:30 AM
6/12/2024

FIRSTALERT

Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case

Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case

How Was Jessica Currin Killed?

DEBANGSHU NATH

A charred body, shifting stories and a convicted man's assertion of innocence

IMDb Sign In Use app

David Cross Biography: In His Own Words – Exclusive Video, News, Photos, Age

David Cross is an American actor, director and comedian who is best known for his stand-up performances, as well as his role as Tobias Fünke in the cult Netflix sitcom Arrested Development.

David Cross Biography: Age, Early Life, Family, Education

David Cross was born on April 4, 1964 (David Cross age: 59) in Roswell, Georgia, to a Jewish family. His father, Barry, emigrated from Leeds, England. Half a year after his birth, Cross and his family relocated to Florida. After a couple of additional moves to Connecticut and New York, Cross settled back in Roswell, where he and his family remained for about a decade. Cross is the eldest of three children, having two younger sisters, Juli and Wendy Cross.

SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt
SexArt

Avraham Heffner
Biography
Influence

The New York Times
Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91
PLAYBOY

The New York Times
Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

JSTOR
All Content | Images
Advanced Search
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Register
Browse
Wor

This is a preview. Log in through your library.

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin
University of Massachusetts Boston

"Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews, and the Problem of Assimilation" examines cultural representations of Jewish criminals over the course of the twentieth century. The essay seeks to demonstrate that for several successive generations following the mass immigration of Jews to the United States, these figures have been invoked and described as a kind of index to the possibility—and desirability—of Jewish assimilation into the American mainstream. Taking into its purview accounts of Jewish mobsters ranging from newspaper stories and nonfiction writing to memoir, movies, and a popular TV series, the essay shows that the Jewish gangster has proved to be a figure flexible enough to accommodate and reflect changes in the social position and the cultural needs of Jews in America.

According to legend, Meyer Lansky, one of the longest-lived and most powerful Jewish gangsters in U.S. history, once described his success in the following terms: "We're bigger than U.S. Steel." Whether Lansky ever actually said this—and whether it was literally true—is beside the point: Lansky's boast manages to convey not only the prominence of men such as Lansky, Dutch Schultz, Bugsy Siegel, Gyp the Blood, and scores of others, but also offers a way of evaluating these men's success that is pointedly American and deliberately conventional.

At very least, Lansky was right in principle. From its origin in the 1880s, to a peak of accomplishment during Prohibition, the Jewish underworld flourished in ghettos such as New York's Lower East Side, Chicago's West Side, or those in Detroit, Boston, Baltimore, and other places. During this time Jews contributed some of the United States' foremost bootleggers, racketeers, panderers, and professional killers, culminating most famously in the Jewish-Italian criminal syndicate dubbed "Murder, Inc." by contemporary journalists.

After a few lucrative and bloody decades, though, the heyday of the Jewish gangster was over. The end of Prohibition necessitated a restructuring of organized crime's business plan to emphasize other sources of income, gambling in particular. Furthermore, following World War I, Jews in huge numbers were leaving the old urban neighborhoods that had given birth to the gangsters; a result of these two factors was that Jewish gangsters became much less visible or even went "legit." By the 1950s, Jewish gangsters had disappeared from the newspaper headlines and political dis-

JOURNAL ARTICLE
Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation
Rachel Rubin
Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 4 (SUMMER 2002), pp. 1-17 (17 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press
https://www.jstor.org/stable/42943489
Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

JSTOR
All Content | Images
Advanced Search
Search journals, books, images, and primary sources
Register
Log in
Browse
Workspace

This is a preview. Log in through your library.

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway
Tel-Aviv University

During Prohibition (1920–1933), Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. At the time, Jewish gangs dominated illicit activities in a number of America's largest cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York, and Philadelphia. One of the more notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang. The gang dealt in bootlegging, gambling, extortion, drugs, and murder, and developed a reputation for being more ruthless than Al Capone's mob in Chicago. The Purple's decade-long reign of terror ended when most of the gang's members either went to prison or were murdered by rivals.

After World War I, Jewish gangsters became major operatives in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. During the Prohibition era (1919–1933) 50 percent of the country's leading bootleggers were Jews, and Jewish criminals financed and directed much of the nation's narcotics traffic. Jewish gangs also dominated illicit activities in a number of America's largest cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York and Philadelphia.[1] Perhaps the most notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang.

[1]See Mark Haller, "Bootleggers and American Gambling, 1920–1950," in Gambling in America, Commission on the Review of National Policy Toward Gambling, Appendix I (Washington, D.C., 1976), p. 106; David Courtwright, Herman Joseph, and Don Des Jarlais, Addicts Who Survived: An Oral History of Narcotics Use in America, 1923–1965 (Knoxville, 1989), pp. 110, n. 2, 186–188, 199–201; and U.S. Congress, Senate Special Committee to Investigate Organized Crime in Interstate Commerce, 81st Congress, 1st Session, 1950, Part 2; Stephen Fox, Blood and Power: Organized Crime in Twentieth Century America (New York, 1989), pp. 24–35; Albert Fried, The Rise and Fall of the Jewish Gangster in America (New York, 1980); Humbert S. Nelli, The Business of Crime: Italians and Syndicate Crime in the United States (New York, 1976), pp. 168–169, 172; Jenna Weissman Joselit, Our Gang: Jewish Crime and the New York Jewish Community, 1900–1940 (Bloomington, 1983), especially pp. 140–156; and Robert Rockaway, But He Was Good to His Mother: The Lives and Crimes of Jewish Gangsters (Jerusalem, 2000), pp. 7–62. See also Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), files 92-3105, 58-4441, 62-26085, 62-69850, and 62-69870. The FBI files are located at the Federal Bureau of Investigation Headquarters, Washington, D.C.

JOURNAL ARTICLE
The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob
Robert A. Rockaway
Shofar
Vol. 20, No. 1, Special Issue: American Jews (FALL 2001), pp. 113-130 (18 pages)
Published By: Purdue University Press
https://www.jstor.org/stable/42944836
Cite
Read and download
Log in through your school or library
Alternate access options
For independent researchers

Was Dickens' guilt about Fagin a product of his Jewish family?
amazon
Customer Review
LEHDER
JHSS

Los Zetas
Was Dickens' guilt about Fagin a product of his Jewish family?
amazon
Customer Review
Product Details
4.5 out of 5
Carlos Lehder
LEHDER
JHSSC
Kahal Kadosh Beth Elohim (KKBE) Memori
90 Hasell Street Charleston, SC

NIH National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW
From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 | Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.
https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/spotlight/fj/catalog?utf8=%E2%9C%93&exhibit_id=fj&search_field=all_fields&q=

Circulate this:

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

What do you want to learn

› Arts › Educational magazines › DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

CENGAGE Views 1,802,219 Updated

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch: Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lingering topic of interest was his

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS | 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeja Dabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

https://circulatingnow.nlm.nih...

National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW

From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 | Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals [later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals] were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.

https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/spotlight/fl/catalog?utf8=%E2%9C%93&exhibit_id=fl&search_field=all_fields&q=

Circulate this:

https://www.encyclo...

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

› Arts › Educational magazines › DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

CENGAGE

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch: Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lingering topic of interest was his Pioneers in Cardiothora...

https://blog.transoni...

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS | 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeja Dabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

first mobile hos | MASH units wer

https://circulatingnow.nlm.nih....

NIH National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW
From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 | Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.
https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/spotlight/fj/catalog?utf8=%E2%9C%93&exhibit_id=fj&search_field=all_fields&q=

Circulate this:

DeBakey, Michael E. 190

https://www.encyclo...

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

What do you want to learn

› Arts › Educational magazines › DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

CENGAGE Views 1,802,219 Updated

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch: Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lingering topic of interest was his

Pioneers in Cardiothorac

https://blog.transoni...

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS | 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeja Dabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

first mobile hos | MASH units were

https://circulatingnow.nlm.nih....

NIH National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW
From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 | Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.
https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/spotlight/fj/catalog?utf8=%E2%9C%93&exhibit_id=fj&search_field=all_fields&q=

Circulate this:

DeBakey, Michael E. 190

https://www.encyclo...

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

What do you want to learn

› Arts › Educational magazines › DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

CENGAGE Views 1,802,219 Updated

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch: Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lingering topic of interest was his

Pioneers in Cardiothorac

https://blog.transoni...

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS | 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeja Dabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

NEW ATLAS

Overlaid shadowgraph-chemiluminescence images show conditions in the test chamber in a non-reacting Mach 5 airflow, and then with fuel added to create the oblique detonation wave University of Central Florida

Compared to conditions measured with the main fuel injector turned off, peak pressure was 2.7 times higher behind the ramp, and the nozzle exit pressure was 10.5 times higher. The flow velocity was calculated at 99.7 percent of the theoretical detonation wave speed for a freely propagating, normal explosion in the given mixture.

"This is the first time a detonation has been shown to be stabilized experimentally," says Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor in UCF's Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering, and one of the authors on the new research paper. "We are finally able to hold the detonation in space in oblique detonation form. It's almost like freezing an intense explosion in physical space."

Where a detonation typically lasts only a matter of micro- or milliseconds, the UCF team managed to sustain this one experimentally until the fuel was turned off after around three seconds. That's long enough to prove the device works, Ahmed told LiveScience, and if the team kept the fuel flowing any longer it would've destroyed the quartz windows on the sides of the test section, which were there to allow optical imaging of the tests. Replacing the test section with something entirely metal-sided would allow the detonation to be sustained much longer.

LIVESCIENCE Subscribe

This conceptual image shows a hypersonic aircraft powered by an Oblique Detonation Wave Engine. (Image credit: Daniel A. Rosato, NASA)

A never-ending detonation could be the key to hypersonic flight and space planes that can seamlessly fly from Earth into orbit. And now, researchers have recreated the explosive phenomenon in the lab that could make it possible.

Detonations are a particularly powerful kind of explosion that move outward faster than the speed of sound. The massive explosion that rocked the port of Beirut in Lebanon last August was a detonation, and the widespread destruction it caused demonstrates the huge amounts of energy they can produce.

Scientists have long dreamed of building aircraft engines that can harness this energy; such craft could theoretically fly from New York to London in under an hour. But detonations are incredibly hard to control and typically last less than a microsecond, so no one has yet been able to make them a reality.

Related: The top 10 greatest explosions ever

Now, a team from the University of Central Florida has created an experimental setup that lets them sustain a detonation in a fixed position for several seconds, which the researchers say is a major step toward future hypersonic propulsion systems.

"What we're trying to do here is to control that detonation," said Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor of mechanical and aerospace engineering at the University of Central Florida, and lead author of a new paper on the research published Monday (May 10) in the journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

"We want to freeze it in space and harness that energy. Rather than it destroying buildings, as you saw in Lebanon, now I want to use it and produce thrust with it," Ahmed told Live Science. "If we can do that, we can travel super fast."

The breakthrough was built on decades of research into a theoretical propulsion system called an oblique detonation wave engine (ODWE). The concept works by funneling a mixture of air and fuel at hypersonic speeds (more than five times the speed of sound) toward a ramp, which creates a shock wave. This shock wave rapidly heats up the fuel-air mixture and causes it to detonate, blasting exhaust gasses out from the back of the engine at high speed. The result? Lots of thrust.

FOX 13 TAMPA BAY News Weather Sports Good Day We Live Here Contests More

UCF develops breakthrough in hypersonic propulsion

By Craig Patrick | Published May 20, 2024 10:56pm EDT | Breakthroughs in Science | FOX 13 News |

Breakthrough in Science: Hypersonic travel
Craig Patrick reports.

TAMPA - Aerospace engineers at the University of Central Florida are drawing global attention for their successful experiments in hypersonic propulsion. Their work would lead to safe and stabile hypersonic air travel in the future-- that could fly passengers from Tampa to Los Angeles in a matter of minutes.

UCF has not built such a jet, but professor Kareem Ahmed and his students figured out how to stabilize a hypersonic engine in their lab.

That's hypersonic as opposed to supersonic. For perspective, NASA's X-59 supersonic aircraft is designed to fly 925 miles per hour. UCF's hypersonic design could lead to air travel up to 14 times faster-- up to 13,000 miles per hour!

"The first reaction was actually denial, not believing it's actually real," said Dr. Ahmed.

For background, we've powered engines through internal combustion for more than 200 years.

"When you have fuel injector in a car, it sprays mist into your combustor," said UCF graduate student Steven Schroeder.

The fuel mist burns, which releases energy, which drives motion. We currently ride or fly on comparatively slow, controlled reactions, Dr. Ahmed likens to a burning candle flame.

DAILY NEWSLETTER

All the news you need to know, every day

Email Address

Sign Up

By clicking Sign Up, I confirm that I have read and agree to the Privacy Policy and Terms of Service.

Trending

1. Florida named the shark attack capital of the world, again
2. Semi-truck, dump truck collide on I-75 in Sarasota County, causing major traffic delays
3. Former Tampa church employee agrees to plea deal after stealing more than $775,000 from church
4. Rapper's lyrics help lead to mail theft arrest in Venice: 'Imma show you what swiping will get you'
5. Large fire damages more than a dozen condos at Brandon complex

Latest headlines

Hurricane season begins June 1: Here's what you need to know

Large brush fire causes evacuations in North Port: Officials

NEW ATLAS

Overlaid shadowgraph-chemiluminescence images show conditions in the test chamber in a non-reacting Mach 5 airflow, and then with fuel added to create the oblique detonation wave University of Central Florida

Compared to conditions measured with the main fuel injector turned off, peak pressure was 2.7 times higher behind the ramp, and the nozzle exit pressure was 10.5 times higher. The flow velocity was calculated at 99.7 percent of the theoretical detonation wave speed for a freely propagating, normal explosion in the given mixture.

"This is the first time a detonation has been shown to be stabilized experimentally," says Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor in UCF's Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering, and one of the authors on the new research paper. "We are finally able to hold the detonation in space in oblique detonation form. It's almost like freezing an intense explosion in physical space."

Where a detonation typically lasts only a matter of micro- or milliseconds, the UCF team managed to sustain this one experimentally until the fuel was turned off after around three seconds. That's long enough to prove the device works, Ahmed told LiveScience, and if the team kept the fuel flowing any longer it would've destroyed the quartz windows on the sides of the test section, which were there to allow optical imaging of the tests. Replacing the test section with something entirely metal-sided would allow the detonation to be sustained much longer.

LIVESCIENCE

Subscribe

This conceptual image shows a hypersonic aircraft powered by an Oblique Detonation Wave Engine. (Image credit: Daniel A. Rosario, NASA)

A never-ending detonation could be the key to hypersonic flight and space planes that can seamlessly fly from Earth into orbit. And now, researchers have recreated the explosive phenomenon in the lab that could make it possible.

Detonations are a particularly powerful kind of explosion that move outward faster than the speed of sound. The massive explosion that rocked the port of Beirut in Lebanon last August was a detonation, and the widespread destruction it caused demonstrates the huge amounts of energy they can produce.

Scientists have long dreamed of building aircraft engines that can harness this energy; such craft could theoretically fly from New York to London in under an hour. But detonations are incredibly hard to control and typically last less than a microsecond, so no one has yet been able to make them a reality.

Related: The top 10 greatest explosions ever

Now, a team from the University of Central Florida has created an experimental setup that lets them sustain a detonation in a fixed position for several seconds, which the researchers say is a major step toward future hypersonic propulsion systems.

"What we're trying to do here is to control that detonation," said Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor of mechanical and aerospace engineering at the University of Central Florida, and lead author of a new paper on the research published Monday (May 10) in the journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

"We want to freeze it in space and harness that energy. Rather than it destroying buildings, as you saw in Lebanon, now I want to use it and produce thrust with it," Ahmed told Live Science. "If we can do that, we can travel super fast."

The breakthrough was built on decades of research into a theoretical propulsion system called an oblique detonation wave engine (ODWE). The concept works by funneling a mixture of air and fuel at hypersonic speeds (more than five times the speed of sound) toward a ramp, which creates a shock wave. This shock wave rapidly heats up the fuel-air mixture and causes it to detonate, blasting exhaust gasses out from the back of the engine at high speed. The result? Lots of thrust.

FOX 13 TAMPA BAY

News Weather Sports Good Day We Live Here Contests More

UCF develops breakthrough in hypersonic propulsion

By Craig Patrick | Published May 20, 2024 10:16pm EDT | Breakthroughs in Science | FOX 13 News |

Breakthrough in Science: Hypersonic travel

Craig Patrick reports

TAMPA - Aerospace engineers at the University of Central Florida are drawing global attention for their successful experiments in hypersonic propulsion. Their work would lead to safe and stable hypersonic air travel in the future-- that could fly passengers from Tampa to Los Angeles in a matter of minutes.

UCF has not built such a jet, but professor Kareem Ahmed and his students figured out how to stabilize a hypersonic engine in their lab.

That's hypersonic as opposed to supersonic. For perspective, NASA's X-59 supersonic aircraft is designed to fly 925 miles per hour. UCF's hypersonic design could lead to air travel up to 14 times faster-- up to 13,000 miles per hour!

"The first reaction was actually denial, not believing it's actually real," said Dr. Ahmed.

For background, we've powered engines through internal combustion for more than 200 years.

"When you have fuel injector in a car, it sprays mist into your combustor," said UCF graduate student Steven Schroeder.

The fuel mist burns, which releases energy, which drives motion. We currently ride or fly on comparatively slow, controlled reactions, Dr. Ahmed likens to a burning candle flame.

DAILY NEWSLETTER

All the news you need to know, every day

Email Address

Sign Up

By clicking Sign Up, I confirm that I have read and agree to the Privacy Policy and Terms of Service

Trending

1. Florida named the shark attack capital of the world, again
2. Semi-truck, dump truck collide on I-75 in Sarasota County, causing major traffic delays
3. Former Tampa church employee agrees to plea deal after stealing more than $775,000 from church
4. Rapper's lyrics help lead to mail theft arrest in Venice: 'Imma show you what swiping will get you'
5. Large fire damages more than a dozen condos at Brandon complex

Latest headlines

Hurricane season begins June 1. Here's what you need to know

Large brush fire causes evacuations in North Port: Officials

NEW ATLAS

Overlaid shadowgraph-chemiluminescence images show conditions in the test chamber in a non-reacting Mach 5 airflow, and then with fuel added to create the oblique detonation wave University of Central Florida

Compared to conditions measured with the main fuel injector turned off, peak pressure was 2.7 times higher behind the ramp, and the nozzle exit pressure was 10.5 times higher. The flow velocity was calculated at 99.7 percent of the theoretical detonation wave speed for a freely propagating, normal explosion in the given mixture.

"This is the first time a detonation has been shown to be stabilized experimentally," says Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor in UCF's Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering, and one of the authors on the new research paper. "We are finally able to hold the detonation in space in oblique detonation form. It's almost like freezing an intense explosion in physical space."

Where a detonation typically lasts only a matter of micro- or milliseconds, the UCF team managed to sustain this one experimentally until the fuel was turned off after around three seconds. That's long enough to prove the device works, Ahmed told LiveScience, and if the team kept the fuel flowing any longer it would've destroyed the quartz windows on the sides of the test section, which were there to allow optical imaging of the tests. Replacing the test section with something entirely metal-sided would allow the detonation to be sustained much longer.

LIVESCIENCE Subscribe

This conceptual image shows a hypersonic aircraft powered by an Oblique Detonation Wave Engine. (Image credit: Daniel A. Rosato, NASA)

A never-ending detonation could be the key to hypersonic flight and space planes that can seamlessly fly from Earth into orbit. And now, researchers have recreated the explosive phenomenon in the lab that could make it possible.

Detonations are a particularly powerful kind of explosion that move outward faster than the speed of sound. The massive explosion that rocked the port of Beirut in Lebanon last August was a detonation, and the widespread destruction it caused demonstrates the huge amounts of energy they can produce.

Scientists have long dreamed of building aircraft engines that can harness this energy; such craft could theoretically fly from New York to London in under an hour. But detonations are incredibly hard to control and typically last less than a microsecond, so no one has yet been able to make them a reality.

Related: The top 10 greatest explosions ever

Now, a team from the University of Central Florida has created an experimental setup that lets them sustain a detonation in a fixed position for several seconds, which the researchers say is a major step toward future hypersonic propulsion systems.

"What we're trying to do here is to control that detonation," said Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor of mechanical and aerospace engineering at the University of Central Florida, and lead author of a new paper on the research published Monday (May 10) in the journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

"We want to freeze it in space and harness that energy. Rather than it destroying buildings, as you saw in Lebanon, now I want to use it and produce thrust with it," Ahmed told Live Science. "If we can do that, we can travel super fast."

The breakthrough was built on decades of research into a theoretical propulsion system called an oblique detonation wave engine (ODWE). The concept works by funneling a mixture of air and fuel at hypersonic speeds (more than five times the speed of sound) toward a ramp, which creates a shock wave. This shock wave rapidly heats up the fuel-air mixture and causes it to detonate, blasting exhaust gasses out from the back of the engine at high speed. The result? Lots of thrust.

FOX 13 TAMPA BAY News Weather Sports Good Day We Live Here Contests More

UCF develops breakthrough in hypersonic propulsion

By Craig Patrick | Published May 20, 2024 10:56pm EDT | Breakthroughs in Science | FOX 13 News |

Breakthrough in Science: Hypersonic travel
Craig Patrick reports.

TAMPA - Aerospace engineers at the University of Central Florida are drawing global attention for their successful experiments in hypersonic propulsion. Their work would lead to safe and stabile hypersonic air travel in the future-- that could fly passengers from Tampa to Los Angeles in a matter of minutes.

UCF has not built such a jet, but professor Kareem Ahmed and his students figured out how to stabilize a hypersonic engine in their lab.

That's hypersonic as opposed to supersonic. For perspective, NASA's X-59 supersonic aircraft is designed to fly 925 miles per hour. UCF's hypersonic design could lead to air travel up to 14 times faster-- up to 13,000 miles per hour!

"The first reaction was actually denial, not believing it's actually real," said Dr. Ahmed.

For background, we've powered engines through internal combustion for more than 200 years.

"When you have fuel injector in a car, it sprays mist into your combustor," said UCF graduate student Steven Schroeder.

The fuel mist burns, which releases energy, which drives motion. We currently ride or fly on comparatively slow, controlled reactions, Dr. Ahmed likens to a burning candle flame.

DAILY NEWSLETTER

All the news you need to know, every day

Email Address

Sign Up

By clicking Sign Up, I confirm that I have read and agree to the Privacy Policy and Terms of Service.

Trending

1. Florida named the shark attack capital of the world, again
2. Semi-truck, dump truck collide on I-75 in Sarasota County, causing major traffic delays
3. Former Tampa church employee agrees to plea deal after stealing more than $775,000 from church
4. Rapper's lyrics help lead to mail theft arrest in Venice: 'Imma show you what swiping will get you'
5. Large fire damages more than a dozen condos at Brandon complex

Latest headlines

Hurricane season begins June 1: Here's what you need to know

Large brush fire causes evacuations in North Port: Officials

Dallas County Man Admits to Producing Child Pornography

Henry F. Quintero Sentenced To 20 Years For Failure To Register As Sex Offender

Rafael Caro Quintero: The True Story Of The Narcos Drug Lord Still On The Run

Early Life And Finding The Guadalajara Cartel

MORE ☰ > CONTACT US > FIELD OFFICES > DALLAS > NEWS > PRESS RELEASES FBI

Search FBI

Dallas

About | News | Wanted and Missing Persons | Community Outreach

U.S. Attorney's Office

Twitter Facebook Email

February 11, 2015

Dallas County Man Admits to Producing Child Pornography

DALLAS—A Hutchins, Texas, man, Servando Vega Cervantes, 24, appeared this morning before U.S. Magistrate Judge Paul D. Stickney and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging three counts of production of child pornography, announced John Parker, United States Attorney for the Northern District of Texas.

Cervantes faces a statutory penalty of not less than 15 years and not more than 30 years in federal prison, for each count. Each count also carries up to a $250,000 fine and up to a lifetime of supervised release. Cervantes has been in custody since his arrest in November 2014 on a related federal complaint. He is scheduled to be sentenced on May 28, 2015, by U.S. District Judge Jane J. Boyle.

According to documents filed in the case, the Hutchins Police Department contacted the FBI in May 2014 regarding questionable online communication between an 11-year-old victim, "John Doe #1," and the Facebook user profile of "Laura Ortiz." The victim's mother believed the user of the Ortiz profile was actually an adult male and not a 13-year-old female as described in chat conversations between John Doe #1 and Ortiz. The investigation revealed that the user profile "Laura Ortiz" belonged to Cervantes. The investigation also revealed that John Doe #1 knew

Henry F. Quintero Sentenced To 25 Years For Failure To Register As Sex Offender

By News Staff - June 12, 2021

Photo Ellis County Sheriff's Office

Convicted for Sexual Assault of a Child in 1997

Ellis County and District Attorney Ann Montgomery announced that Henry F. Quintero, 52, of Bardwell, Texas, was sentenced to 25 years

History | Curiosities | Archaeology | News | Today In History | Members

Rafael Caro Quintero: The True Story Of The Narcos Drug Lord Still On The Run

By Gina Dimuro | Edited By John Kuroski

Published May 4, 2021 | Updated July 26, 2021

Rafael Caro Quintero was one of Mexico's first and most powerful cartel leaders until he was suspected of orchestrating the brutal torture and murder of a DEA agent.

Rafael Caro Quintero was considered the "Narco of Narcos." The bloodthirsty drug lord thought he was untouchable, but he overstepped his bounds when he brutally murdered an American agent.

Let out of jail on a technicality, the trafficker is still at large — and wanted by the FBI. Now, Caro Quintero is the central figure of season four of Netflix's popular series Narcos. Here's his true story.

Early Life And Finding The Guadalajara Cartel

A photo of Rafael Caro Quintero from 2016.

fbi.gov

Rafael Caro Quintero was born sometime in October 1952, in Sinaloa, Mexico. He has listed various birthdays spanning October to November or March of

YouTube Search Sign in

A LA LUZ DE LA TORAH

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

Subscribe Join

About

Queridos amigos
Este nuevo proyecto para la difusión de la Sagrada Torá está orientado para todos aquellos que están comenzando ahondar en el conocimiento de las escrituras y de las tradiciones de nuestro pueblo Israel.

Quiera el creador del universo que el contenido realizado sea de vuestro agrado e interés.

Te gustaría ayudar este proyecto o a un estudiante de Yeshiva?, Te gustaría que haga tefila por Ti o por alguien en especial en los lugares sagrados como la cueva de los patriarcas o el muro occidental?.
Yo te puedo ayudar
Escribe a mi correo electrónico:
yoelishquintero@gmail.com

Te gustaría ser parte de mi grupo de WhatsApp para recibir el estudio semanal de la Torá y de las festividades? Puedes unirte con este enlace:

https://chat.whatsapp.com/ITknqHXpsOgGd1ZOknSMbN

Todo lo bueno y lo mejor queridos amigos y amigas

Channel details

www.youtube.com/@YoelishQuintero
13.2K subscribers
33 videos
265,428 views
Joined Dec 3, 2023
Share channel

Brown
Academy
Brown
Academy

EL PAÍS International

Rafael Caro Quintero: the historic head of the Sinaloa cartel is captured

Sources from the Marines confirm that the veteran narco, implicated in the murder of a DEA agent in the 1980s, was detained on Friday

ELENA REINA

Rafael Caro Quintero, the legendary narco leader of the 1980s, has been captured. Sources from the Marines confirmed to EL PAÍS that the former cartel leader, on whose head the United States Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) had placed the highest ever reward for a criminal, was detained on Friday. One of the founders of the legendary Guadalajara cartel, which later became the Sinaloa cartel, was arrested for the second time near his home territory, in the Sinaloa highlands.

The criminal previously entered prison in 1985 after the brutal murder of undercover DEA agent Kiki Camarena. In 2013, still with 12 years of his sentence left to serve, he was released in Mexico after a state court concluded that he had been tried improperly. The United States pressured Mexican authorities to recapture him. The old drug caps, for

Momentum

Weaving science into Torah learning

There are many ways to interpret the Torah, but for Momentum sister Sherri Quintero, a biology teacher, one of her favorite ways to study is to look for the wonders of science and technology woven into the texts.

The recent holiday of Shavuot, a celebration of the day the Israelites received the Torah at Mount Sinai, is a perfect example. It is written in the Torah: "The smoke rose like the smoke of a kiln, and the whole mountain trembled violently. The blare of the horn grew louder and louder. As Moses spoke, God answered him in thunder." (Exodus 19:19-20)

For Sherri, who teaches at the Kellman Brown Academy, a Jewish Day School in New Jersey, it was an opportunity to explore with her students: Is it possible to see sound? What is a soundwave? Why does smoke always rise? What causes earthquakes?

A call for change

The Shavuot lesson is just one way that Sherri is taking an innovative approach towards combining Jewish learning and science, an idea that started coalescing during Sherri's MOMentum Trip to Israel in 2016. At the time, she was in the middle of her ninth year as

YouTube

Home Visitors Beliefs FAQ What People Are Saying Leadership Scriptures Resources

Kehilath HaDerekh's leadership is composed of three components:

1. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors are the governing body of the congregation. The Directors are:

- Maharat Erika Quintero, President
- Reb Andrew Friedman, Vice President
- David Frontera, Director
- Richard Snoddy, Director

2. ELDERS

Zakenim (Ordained Elders) along with our Shamashim (Deacons), are the servant-leaders. Under the guidance and authority of the Rabbi, provide prayer, teachings, classes, and lead ministries of the shul.

3. ACCOUNTABILITY BOARD

The Accountability Board exists as a body of accountability for the Congregation's Senior Leader. The Accountability Board may only be called upon by the rabbi for prayer or counsel as needed. The Board of Directors may contact the Accountability Board, only by unanimous vote (excepting the rabbi), if any matter of serious unrepentant biblical sin should arise concerning the senior leader. The Accountability Board is empowered to have authority over the senior leader. Their identity is known only to the senior rabbi, and the board of directors.

WORLD | Ashkelon Journal; The Ever-So-Quiet Exodus: Israeli Cuba

Share full article

Now that their situation could be openly discussed, they said, they could make public a demand. They wanted, as Mr. Carpio put it, "to be treated like Ethiopians" in terms of Israeli aid to immigrants. They wanted Israel to recognize that they had forfeited all their possessions -- "down to the drinking glasses," Mr. Carpio said -- to the Cuban Government. They had arrived with nothing but a few battered suitcases and 48 pounds of clothes per family. They want to receive an "immigration basket" of money and services, they said, just like the Ethiopians and, to a less generous extent, the Russians.

"Hey, they're complaining," commented Avraham Burg, the Speaker of the Parliament. "That means they've really become Israelis."

Ms. Quintero is not complaining, especially not after the Immigration Minister, Yuli Tamir, proposed late today that the Cubans get the help they are asking for.

Fingering her Star of David necklace, Ms. Quintero said she felt embarrassed that Israel's first glimpse of the Cuban community showed not their appreciation but their pent-up frustrations. She also regretted that Israelis might have got what she called a false impression that most of the Cubans see Israel as a way station to Miami or New York.

Television cameras could not help but focus today on one Cuban immigrant, Ester Mechulam, since she greeted them at the gate to the center. "Brooklyn, Brooklyn," she was saying. "I dream of Brooklyn."

In contrast, Ms. Quintero said she and her husband considered themselves "die-hard Zionist Jews," even though, like everyone else, they left primarily because the opportunity presented itself.

"We have well-established family in New York, in New Jersey," she said. "We don't want to join them. We want them to join us here."

Discover The Times. 7 days free, then $6.25 $1/week. Learn more >

YouTube Search Sign in

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

Subscribe Join

Home Videos Shorts Live Community

Latest Popular Oldest

Hasta estar en su Lugar
3.8K views • 3 weeks ago

Pa' atrás, ni para tomar impulso!!!
4K views • 1 month ago

Eres libre!!! o no?
2.9K views • 1 month ago

25 de abril de 2024
5K views • 1 month ago

Pesaj kasher v'sameaj
2.8K views • 1 month ago

Un saludo de Shavua tov
3.6K views • 1 month ago

Orden o espontaneidad???
2.9K views • 1 month ago

Las tres herramientas
2.7K views • 1 month ago

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

US NEWS

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

6

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extraidted to the US.

CBS 47 FOX 30 ACTION NEWS JAX 95° WATCH

NEWS VIDEO FIRST ALERT WEATHER HURRICANE CENTER INVESTIGATES SPORTS ELECTION 2024 FAMILY FOCUS

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road 1/3

Resize:

Action News Jax Now

Latest Local News

Newscast covering important local topics and events

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

+ Caption

By ActionNewsJax.com News Staff

April 29, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

CNN World Watch Listen Live TV Sign in

World / Americas

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

By Lauren Koenig and Priscilla Alvarez, CNN

2 minute read · Updated 7:29 PM EDT, Sat May 25, 2024

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, also known as 'El Nini.' United States Drug Enforcement Administration

(CNN) — A top Mexican cartel member known as 'El Nini,' who was one of America's most-wanted criminals for his alleged role in the fentanyl trade, has been extradited to the United States.

In a speech celebrating US-Mexico cooperation on the case, US President Joe Biden on Saturday hailed the extradition of El Nini – also known as Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas – as "a good day for justice."

"El Nini played a prominent role in the notorious Sinaloa cartel, one of the deadliest drug trafficking enterprises in the world. The United States has charged him for his role in illicit fentanyl trafficking and for murdering, torturing, and kidnapping numerous rivals, witnesses, and others," Biden said, thanking Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

"Our governments will continue to work together to attack the fentanyl and synthetic drug epidemic that is killing so many people in our homelands and globally, and to bring to justice the criminals and organizations producing, smuggling, and selling these lethal poisons in both of our countries," he added.

According to the US Department of Justice, Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas "was one of the Sinaloa cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins" and was involved in the "production and sale of fentanyl" in the United States.

Biden has previously described El Nini as one of America's most-wanted criminals. Pérez Salas was charged in the US with cocaine and methamphetamine trafficking conspiracy, possession of machine guns and destructive devices, and witness retaliation in February 2021.

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

US NEWS

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extraidted to the US.

CBS 47 FOX 30 ACTION NEWS JAX 95° WATCH

NEWS VIDEO FIRST ALERT WEATHER HURRICANE CENTER INVESTIGATES SPORTS ELECTION 2024 FAMILY FOCUS

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road

Action News Jax Now

Latest Local News

Newscast covering important local topics and events

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

By ActionNewsJax.com News Staff

April 29, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

CNN World Watch Listen Live TV Sign in

World / Americas

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

By Lauren Koenig and Priscilla Alvarez, CNN

2 minute read · Updated 7:29 PM EDT, Sat May 25, 2024

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, also known as 'El Nini.' United States Drug Enforcement Administration

(CNN) — A top Mexican cartel member known as 'El Nini,' who was one of America's most-wanted criminals for his alleged role in the fentanyl trade, has been extradited to the United States.

In a speech celebrating US-Mexico cooperation on the case, US President Joe Biden on Saturday hailed the extradition of El Nini – also known as Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas – as "a good day for justice."

"El Nini played a prominent role in the notorious Sinaloa cartel, one of the deadliest drug trafficking enterprises in the world. The United States has charged him for his role in illicit fentanyl trafficking and for murdering, torturing, and kidnapping numerous rivals, witnesses, and others," Biden said, thanking Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

"Our governments will continue to work together to attack the fentanyl and synthetic drug epidemic that is killing so many people in our homelands and globally, and to bring to justice the criminals and organizations producing, smuggling, and selling these lethal poisons in both of our countries," he added.

According to the US Department of Justice, Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas "was one of the Sinaloa cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins" and was involved in the "production and sale of fentanyl" in the United States.

Biden has previously described El Nini as one of America's most-wanted criminals. Pérez Salas was charged in the US with cocaine and methamphetamine trafficking conspiracy, possession of machine guns and destructive devices, and witness retaliation in February 2021.

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn
6. Phun Girls 7. Porn Site Re
11. The Porn List 12. Terk Amate
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish
21. Home XXX Vid... 22. XXX Videos

4:07

Favorite Comments (1) Share Shout Download

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced #Hardcore #F

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 3

5,144 Views • 35 Favorites • 15 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups Galler

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn
6. Phun Girls 7. Entensity Craz...
11. The Porn List 12. Terk Amateur ...
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish Sit...
21. Home XXX Vid... 22. Homemade Fu...

6:33

Favorite Comments (1) Share Shout Download

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced #Hardcore #Fem POV

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 4

13,881 Views • 90 Favorites • 15 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Videos Images Categories Shouts Cams Groups Galleri

TOP Friends
Check these out!

1. Inhumanity 2. Daft Porn 3. All
6. Phun Girls 7. Porn Site Revi... 8. Fa
11. Amateur-Bitch 12. Terk Amateur ... 13. Ho
16. PainalTube 17. Best Fetish Sit... 18. Ho
21. XXX Videos 22. Large Penis Su... 23. Ho

2:30 -7:38

Favorite Comments (2) Share Shout Download Add To

#Oral #Pussy #Anal #Abuse #Forced

Bosnian War Abuse Pt 1

10,071 Views • 55 Favorites • 14 Jun 2021

corpoXYZ SUBSCRIBE 15

Videos
Images
Categories
Shouts
Cams
Groups
TOP Friends
Check these out!
Favorite
Comments (1)
Share
Shout
Download
Bosnian War Abuse Pt 3
corpoXYZ
SUBSCRIBE

Videos
Images
Categories
Shouts
Cams
Groups
TOP Friends
Check these out!
Favorite
Comments (1)
Share
Shout
Download
Bosnian War Abuse Pt 4
corpoXYZ
SUBSCRIBE

Videos
Images
Categories
Shouts
Cams
Groups
TOP Friends
Check these out!
Favorite
Comments (2)
Share
Shout
Download
Bosnian War Abuse Pt 1
corpoXYZ
SUBSCRIBE

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE
Search Public Sex Offender Registries
The Civil War
Search For Soldiers
Sevilla, Valentin
Was this page helpful?
Yes
No
Investopedia
Janet Yellen
Early Life and Education
National Park Service
The Civil War
Search For Soldiers
Was this page helpful?
Yes
No

SHEIN

Search Anyone's Arrest Records

Jill A Sheinbaum - New Jersey

See Arrest Records

No Mugshot

Restock the essentials

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

JEWISH TELEGRAPHIC AGENCY

Jewish liberal Claudia Sheinbaum likely to win this week's Mexican presidential election, polls show

Menu Tampa Bay Times Subscribe

NEWS

Japan honors its 'god of wrestling' 10 years after his quiet death in Tampa

Jody Simon of Tampa, alongside Japanese wrestler Osamu Nishimura, holds the ashes of Karl Istaz during a wrestling event honoring Istaz on July 24 in Tokyo. Istaz, known in Japan as wrestler Karl Gotch, was honored through the efforts of his former student Simon. [Courtesy of Jody Simon]

By Paul Guzzo Times staff

Published Aug. 2, 2017

Karl Istaz lived quietly in the Tampa area for 30 years. When he died, his friends followed his wishes and scattered his ashes without ceremony over Lake Keystone in Odessa.

But the European-born Istaz — or more to the point, his alter ego Karl Gotch — was revered across Japan as a hardnosed, professional wrestler whose style so influenced the industry that fans and peers nicknamed him "Kamisama," or deity.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article is about a martial arts organization. For the baseball pitch, see Shuuto. For shutō, see Knifehand strike.

Shooto (Japanese: 修斗, Hepburn: shūto) is a combat sport and mixed martial arts organization that is governed by the Shooto Association and the International Shooto Commission (ISC). Shooto was originally formed in 1985, first as a particular fighting system and then in 1989 as a mixed martial arts promotion. It is considered one of the first true mixed martial arts competitions, with its Vale Tudo Japan events being essential to the rise of Pride Fighting Championships and the development of modern MMA. Many Japanese MMA fighters had their start at Shooto and the organization still holds both professional and amateur tournaments.

As a fighting system, Shooto is considered a hybrid martial art derived from shoot wrestling. It is focused on all aspects of fighting: striking, stand-up grappling and ground fighting. Practitioners are referred to as shooters or shootists. Shooto rules have evolved with time, are different depending on the class, Class C and D are amateur and have more restricted rules more similar to their first events, while professional classes are now true mixed martial arts competitions.[1] Shooto weight classes are different from those of the United States Association of Boxing Commissions, which are used by most MMA promotions.[2][3][4]

Although modern Shooto is indistinguishable from MMA, in Japan promoters, fighters and fans still see it as its own standalone combat sport. While outside it is mostly seen as a system of MMA promotions, organizing events from amateur grassroots to professional levels.[5]

Shooto

Native name	修斗
Formerly	Shin-kakutōgi
Company type	Private
Industry	Mixed martial arts
Predecessor	Universal Wrestling Federation
Founded	1985; 39 years ago
Founder	Sayama Satoru
Headquarters	Japan
Website	www.shooto-mma.com

Shooto (修斗)

Focus	Hybrid
Hardness	Full-contact
Country of origin	Japan
Creator	Satoru Sayama
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama Yuki Nakai Rumina Sato Takanori Gomi Erik Paulson Jake Shields Shinya Aoki
Ancestor arts	Shoot Wrestling, Catch Wrestling, Boxing, Kickboxing, Full contact karate, Muay Thai, Sambo, Judo
Descendant arts	Mixed Martial Arts, Seikendo

Etymology [edit]

The Japanese word "shooto" is derived from the English word "shoot". Although the word is of foreign origin, it is not written in katakana, but rather as an ateji: 修斗. Its first kanji means "to practice or train in", and the second kanji is an alternative form of 戦 in the word tatakai (戦い, meaning "battle" or "war").

SUNWOO THE BOYZ
IDOL K-POP WIBU YANG AKAN MEMBAWAMU KE ISEKAI

TV SHOWBIZ TEKNO FOTO HOT CEK FAKTA ISLAMI CRYPTO LAINN

Ilustrasi Bayi/ Daria Shevtsova from Pexels

Berikut beberapa nama nama anak laki-laki islam arab 3 suku kata

1. Bakir Ahsan Amal: Laki-laki yang senantiasa lebih mendahului pe

2. Dhiaurrahman Zahid Hamizan: Laki-laki yang memiliki sinar yang dan tampan serta menjauhkan diri dari kemewahan

3. Dzihni Labib Salim: Laki-laki yang berakal sehat dan selamat da berpikir

4. Fadhlan Arkhan Fathurrahman: Laki-laki yang memiliki keutama menjadi pembuka kejayaan Yang Maha Pengasih

5. Ikhbar Shaqr Akhdan: Sahabat yang menyampaikan berita dan t

6. Istaz Qasim Maulana: Pendakwah yang elok dan dihormati

7. Layyin Fakhruddin Fashih: Laki-laki yang halus dan fasih bercak agama

8. Makarim Mulud Mubarak: Laki-laki mulia yang dilahirkan banyak

9. Naqib Ibni Humam: Anak laki-laki pemberani tinggi cita-citanya pemimpin

10. Robih Hakimul Karim: Laki-laki beruntung yang penuh bijaksan

11. Tsabit Qalbun Salim: Laki-laki yang hatinya istiqomah dan dama

12. Wahid Amzar Hafizuddin: Laki-laki pertama yang mulia serta m agama

Japan honors its 'god of wrestling' 10 years after his quiet death in Tampa

Menu Tampa Bay Times Subscribe

NEWS

Japan honors its 'god of wrestling' 10 years after his quiet death in Tampa

Jody Simon of Tampa, alongside Japanese wrestler Osamu Nishimura, holds the ashes of Karl Istaz during a wrestling event honoring Istaz on July 24 in Tokyo. Istaz, known in Japan as wrestler Karl Gotch, was honored through the efforts of his former student Simon. [Courtesy of Jody Simon]

By Paul Guzzo Times staff

Published Aug. 2, 2017

Karl Istaz lived quietly in the Tampa area for 30 years. When he died, his friends followed his wishes and scattered his ashes without ceremony over Lake Keystone in Odessa.

But the European-born Istaz — or more to the point, his alter ego Karl Gotch — was revered across Japan as a hardnosed, professional wrestler whose style so influenced the industry that fans and peers nicknamed him "Kamisama," or deity.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article is about a martial arts organization. For the baseball pitch, see Shuuto. For shutō, see Knifehand strike.

Shooto (Japanese: 修斗, Hepburn: shūto) is a combat sport and mixed martial arts organization that is governed by the Shooto Association and the International Shooto Commission (ISC). Shooto was originally formed in 1985, first as a particular fighting system and then in 1989 as a mixed martial arts promotion. It is considered one of the first true mixed martial arts competitions, with its Vale Tudo Japan events being essential to the rise of Pride Fighting Championships and the development of modern MMA. Many Japanese MMA fighters had their start at Shooto and the organization still holds both professional and amateur tournaments.

As a fighting system, Shooto is considered a hybrid martial art derived from shoot wrestling. It is focused on all aspects of fighting: striking, stand-up grappling and ground fighting. Practitioners are referred to as shooters or shootists. Shooto rules have evolved with time, are different depending on the class, Class C and D are amateur and have more restricted rules more similar to their first events, while professional classes are now true mixed martial arts competitions.[1] Shooto weight classes are different from those of the United States Association of Boxing Commissions, which are used by most MMA promotions.[2][3][4]

Although modern Shooto is indistinguishable from MMA, in Japan promoters, fighters and fans still see it as its own standalone combat sport. While outside it is mostly seen as a system of MMA promotions, organizing events from amateur grassroots to professional levels.[5]

Shooto

Native name	修斗
Formerly	Shin-kakutōgi
Company type	Private
Industry	Mixed martial arts
Predecessor	Universal Wrestling Federation
Founded	1985; 39 years ago
Founder	Sayama Satoru
Headquarters	Japan
Website	www.shooto-mma.com

Shooto (修斗)

Focus	Hybrid
Hardness	Full-contact
Country of origin	Japan
Creator	Satoru Sayama
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama Yuki Nakai Rumina Sato Takanori Gomi Erik Paulson Jake Shields Shinya Aoki
Ancestor arts	Shoot Wrestling, Catch Wrestling, Boxing, Kickboxing, Full contact karate, Muay Thai, Sambo, Judo
Descendant arts	Mixed Martial Arts, Seikendo

Etymology [edit]

The Japanese word "shooto" is derived from the English word "shoot". Although the word is of foreign origin, it is not written in katakana, but rather as an ateji: 修斗. Its first kanji means "to practice or train in", and the second kanji is an alternative form of 戦 in the word tatakai (戦い, meaning "battle" or "war").

SUNWOO THE BOIZ
IDOL K-POP WIBU YANG AKAN MEMBAWAMU KE ISEKAI

TV SHOWBIZ TEKNO FOTO HOT CEK FAKTA ISLAMI CRYPTO LAINN

Ilustrasi Bayi/ Daria Shevtsova from Pexels

Berikut beberapa nama nama anak laki-laki islam arab 3 suku kata

1. Bakir Ahsan Amal: Laki-laki yang senantiasa lebih mendahului pe

2. Dhiaurrahman Zahid Hamizan: Laki-laki yang memiliki sinar yang dan tampan serta menjauhkan diri dari kemewahan

3. Dzihni Labib Salim: Laki-laki yang berakal sehat dan selamat da berpikir

4. Fadhlan Arkhan Fathurrahman: Laki-laki yang memiliki keutama menjadi pembuka kejayaan Yang Maha Pengasih

5. Ikhbar Shaqr Akhdan: Sahabat yang menyampaikan berita dan t

6. Istaz Qasim Maulana: Pendakwah yang elok dan dihormati

7. Layyin Fakhruddin Fashih: Laki-laki yang halus dan fasih bercak agama

8. Makarim Mulud Mubarak: Laki-laki mulia yang dilahirkan banyak

9. Naqib Ibni Humam: Anak laki-laki pemberani tinggi cita-citanya pemimpin

10. Robih Hakimul Karim: Laki-laki beruntung yang penuh bijaksan

11. Tsabit Qalbun Salim: Laki-laki yang hatinya istiqomah dan dama

12. Wahid Amzar Hafizuddin: Laki-laki pertama yang mulia serta m agama

Home » US States » Florida » Seminole County, FL » Gerson Yellen

Gerson Yellen - Florida

Date added: 7/25/2011

Arrest Record Search: Gerson | Yellen | FL | Search

Arrest Record Search

Reddit | Tweet | Share

Who is Gerson Yellen? Was Gerson Yellen arrested? When was Gerson Yellen arrested? What was Gerson Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Gerson Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Gerson Yellen? Is this the Gerson Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Gerson Yellen was booked in Seminole County, FL

Mugshots.com : 2666377
Booking No : 200500000533
Name : GERSON YELLEN
Birth date : 11/07/1968
Location : O
Arrested By : US Marshall Orlando Office
Arrest Date : 1/11/2005
Account Balance : ($0.00)

Charges:

- FEDERAL INMATE

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link now.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. P and/or arrest records are previously published public records of indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivat detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mu
way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actu committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convi status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which origin information.

The following Official Record of Gerson Yellen is being redistribu
and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal ri
was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 7/25/2011.

unconstitutional mugshot laws, exonerations, arrest records, FBI opinion

Arrest Record Search

First Name: Gerson
Last Name: Yellen
State: Florida
Search

Not the Gerson Yellen you were looking for? Click here to search for other Gerson Yellen

Show Facebook Widget

All original material at this website is subject to copyright. Certain materials reproduced on this website are believed to be in the p mugshots.com is not an allegation by mugshots.com that the person has in fact engaged in any of the activities or crimes for which th
to be factually true and correct, and is not intended to malign, disparage, or defame any person named herein. Mugshots.com ma
However, Mugshots.com does not guarantee the accuracy or timeliness of the content of this website. Opinions expressed in comment

We use third-party advertising companies to serve ads when you visit our Website. These companies may use information (not includ
to this and other Web sites in order to provide advertisements about goods and services of interest to you. If you would like more information about this pract information used by these companies, click here

mugshots.com definitions:

Arrest or booked: An arrest is the act of depriving a person of his or her liberty usually in relation to the purported investigation or prevention of crime and pre criminal justice system. The term is Anglo-Norman in origin and is related to the French word arrêt, meaning "stop".

The question whe of personal liberty
stop, citation issua

The word "arrest"

Get 40% off
when you pay with Discover® rewards
Redeem Now
Up to $30 off. Limited-time offer, see terms.

NEWS

RECORD LAWS WERE WRITTEN TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC; BY INFORMING THE PUBLIC OF ARRESTS AND TO HOLD LAW ENFORCEMENT ACCOUNTABLE FOR THE HUMANE TREATMENT OF ARRESTEES. MOST OF, IF NOT ALL "MUGSHOT LAWS" WERE CRAFTED TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC FROM FEES FOR REMOVAL OF ONLINE MUGSHOTS AND TO FURTHER PROTECT THE PRESS FROM THOSE VERY SAME "MUGSHOT LAWS". TO BE CLEAR: WE DO NOT ACCEPT PAYMENT FOR REMOVAL OF ARREST INFORMATION AND/OR BOOKING PHOTOGRAPHS. MORE...

Search Arrest Records

First Name: Harry | Last Name: Yellen | State: Tennessee | Search

Lee Hollyfield — Daniel Aurther Hodge →

» US States » Tennessee » Blount County, TN » Harry Vaughn Yellen

y Vaughn Yellen - Tennessee

dded: 11/01/2012

Arrest Record Search: Harry | Yellen | TN | Search

Search Arrest Records

Reddit | Tweet | Share

Who is Harry Vaughn Yellen? Was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested? When was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested? What was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Harry Vaughn Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Harry Vaughn Yellen? Is this the Harry Vaughn Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Harry Vaughn Yellen was booked in Blount County, TN

Mugshots.com : 24898858
Age : 20
Class : PRETRIAL FELON
Race : W
Sex : M
Intake Date : 11/01/2012

Charges:

TCA Description	FEDERAL SAFE HOUSING
Bond	$0
Court Date	Not Set

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link now.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Published mugshots and/or arrest records are previously published public records of: an arrest, an indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivation of liberty or a detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mugshots.com are in no way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actual crime has been committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are merely accusations. A defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convicted. For latest case status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which originally released the information.

The following Official Record of Harry Vaughn Yellen is being redistributed by Mugshots.com and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal rights. This Official Record was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 11/01/2012.

unconstitutional mugshot laws, exonerations, arrest records, FBI most wanted, editorials,

Search Arrest Records

First Name: Harry
Last Name: Yellen
State: Tennessee
✓ Search

arch for

- ARREST HISTORY CHECK
- PUBLIC RECORDS LOOKUP
- ONLINE MUGSHOT LOOKUP
- FREE PUBLIC RECORDS

Home » US States » Idaho » Unsorted, ID » Frederick Yellen

Frederick Yellen - ROBBERY - Idaho

Date added: 2/17/2013

Arrest Record Search: Frederick | Yellen | ID | Search

See Arrest Records

Reddit | Tweet | Share

No Mugshot

Who is Frederick Yellen? Was Frederick Yellen arrested? When was Frederick Yellen arrested? What was Frederick Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Frederick Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Frederick Yellen? Is this the Frederick Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Frederick Yellen was booked in Unsorted, ID for ROBBERY, PROPELLING BODILY FLUIDS

Mugshots.com : 47252992
ID : 19530
Name : FREDERICK YELLEN
Status : Inmate

Offenses:

#1 #2

Offense	ROBBERY
Sentencing County	ADA
Case No.	HCR21010
Sentence Satisfaction Date	07/01/2015

Mailing Address : IDAHO STATE CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTION UNIT 16 P.O. Box 14 Boise Idaho 83707
Phone Number : 208-336-0740
Parole Eligibility Date : N/A
Last Parole Activity : 10/17/2012

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link now.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Published mugshots and/or arrest record are previously published public records of: an arrest, an indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivation of liberty or a detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mugshots.com are in no way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actual crime has been committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are merely accusations. A defendant presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convicted. For latest case status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which originally released the information.

The following Official Record of Frederick Yellen is being redistributed by Mugshots.com and is protecte by constitutional, publishing, and other legal rights. This Official Record was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 2/17/2013.

unconstitutional mugshot laws, exonerations, arrest records, FBI most wanted, editorials, opinion

Arrest Record Search

First Name: Frederick
Last Name: Yellen
State: Idaho
Search

Frederick Yellen arrested? What was Frederick Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Frederick Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Frederick Yellen? Is this the Frederick Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Frederick Yellen was booked in Ada County, ID for TRESPASS-CRIMINAL, DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Mugshots.com : 162924534
Age : 52
Arresting Agency : Ada County Sheriff
JID Number : 01114514

Charges:

#1 #2

Severity	M
Charge	TRESPASS-CRIMINAL

MICHELIN
$80 UP TO
INSTANT SAVINGS
ONLINE SPECIAL
LIMITED TIME!

First Name
Last Name
State
Any State

There could be more victims of former Maple Valley day care employee accused of child sex abuse, attorney says

The former employee, Joseph Hefner, is charged with child rape, child molestation and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Author: Julie Calhoun
Published: 7:18 PM PDT June 6, 2024
Updated: 7:18 PM PDT June 6, 2024

SEATTLE — A private law firm is now investigating a former Maple Valley day care worker charged with child rape, child molestation, and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Michael Pfau, an attorney with Pfau Cochran Vertetis Amala PLLC, is representing the family of the two girls in this case. Pfau said he was contacted by the victim's parents and since then, he has been contacted by additional parents.

Owney Madden

Owen Vincent "Owney" Madden (December 18, 1891 – April 24, 1965) was an American gangster who was a leading underworld figure in New York during Prohibition. Nicknamed "The Killer", he garnered a brutal reputation within street gangs and organized crime. He ran the Cotton Club in Manhattan and was a leading boxing promoter. After increased attention from law enforcement in New York, Madden moved to Hot Springs, Arkansas, in 1935, where he remained until his death from natural causes in 1965.

Owney Madden

Owney Madden in 1931 New York City Police Department mugshot

Born	Owen Vincent Madden December 18, 1891 Leeds, England
Died	April 24, 1965 (aged 73) Hot Springs, Arkansas, US
Other names	The Killer
Occupation	Gangster

Early life [edit]

Owen Vincent Madden was born into a working-class family at 25 Somerset Road in Leeds, England, on December 18, 1891, the son of Irish immigrants Francis Madden and Mary Madden (née O'Neil.)[1] After his mother became a widow she emigrated to New York to become a maid, leaving Owen and his sister Mary and brother Martin in a British orphanage. In 1896, Owen's mother saved up enough money to take them out of the orphanage and get them tickets to join her in New York City.[1] [2]

The young Madden grew up on the streets of New York where he learned how to use blackjacks, knuckledusters, bats, pipes, knives, and stilettoes. By the age of 21 years old, Madden had become the leader of a feared New York street gang known as the Gopher Gang. He earned the nickname, "The Killer" for getting away with two brazen murders. On September 6, 1911, he shot dead a gang member of the rival Hudson Dusters in the heart of Dusters' territory around 30th Street. In February 1912, Madden was on a crowded street trolley, arguing with a store clerk named William Henshaw about a woman, and Madden shot Henshaw in the face. Henshaw was not a gang member, and as he was dying, he named Owney Madden as his killer. Despite the police having his name, and there being eyewitnesses to the crime, Madden never went to trial—witnesses in both killings were intimidated, and disappeared.[2]

In 1915, he eventually went to prison for ordering the killing of William "Little Patsy Doyle" Moore, who had been waging a three-year vendetta campaign against Madden and the Gopher Gang.[2]

Prohibition [edit]

After serving seven years of a 10-to-20-year sentence for Moore's manslaughter,[3] Madden was released on parole in 1923. The Gopher Gang had broken up, and many members of his own faction were either in Sing Sing or working for bootlegging gangs.[4]

NYPD mug shot of Madden (first published in 1926)

During this time, Madden employed a young friend as a personal driver. The driver, George Raft, later became a film star noted for his authentic portrayals of gangland figures.[5][6]

The Cotton Club [edit]

Madden purchased the Club Deluxe from former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Johnson and reopened it a year later. Nightclub patrons flooded into Harlem from downtown Manhattan to catch performers such as Cab Calloway, Duke Ellington, Louis Armstrong, Lena Horne, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson, and the Nicholas Brothers. Madden and his partners, Big Bill and George Jean "Big Frenchy" DeMange, also muscled their way into a piece of the exclusive Stork Club, where the influential gossip columnist Walter Winchell held court and everyone who was

The Irish Mob

The Dead Rabbits & The 1857 Riot

by Owen Forsyth | Feb 22, 2019 | Cops, Early Characters, Gangs of New York, New York, Police, Politicians

A "DEAD RABBIT," SKETCHED FROM LIFE.

The Dead Rabbits were a street gang in Lower Manhattan in the 1850s, whose members were mostly Irish. The were also named the “Mulberry Boys” and the “Mulberry Street Boys” by the NYPD because they did also operate along Mulberry Street in the Five Points.

They were founded by Shang Allen, one of many disgruntled gang members of the Roach Guards, they became the largest Irish crime organization at the time in mid 19th-century Manhattan, having well over 100 members when called up for action. Its said they got the name the Dead Rabbits after a dead rabbit was thrown into the center of the room during a gang meeting, some members of the gang saw this as an omen and formed an independent gang.

Owney Madden

Owney Madden

Owney Madden in 1931 New York City Police Department mugshot

Born	Owen Vincent Madden December 16, 1891 Leeds, England
Died	April 24, 1965 (aged 73) Hot Springs, Arkansas, US
Other names	The Killer
Occupation	Gangster

Owen Vincent "Owney" Madden (December 16, 1891 – April 24, 1965) was an American gangster who was a leading underworld figure in New York during Prohibition. Nicknamed "The Killer", he garnered a brutal reputation within street gangs and organized crime. He ran the Cotton Club in Manhattan and was a leading boxing promoter. After increased attention from law enforcement in New York, Madden moved to Hot Springs, Arkansas, in 1935, where he remained until his death from natural causes in 1965.

Early life

Owen Vincent Madden was born into a working-class family at 25 Gerrard Road in Leeds, England, on December 16, 1891. He was of Irish immigrants Francis Madden and Mary Madden (née O'Neal).[1] After his mother became a widow she emigrated to New York to become a maid, leaving Owen and his sister Mary and brother Walter in a British orphanage. In 1896, Owen's mother saved up enough money to take them out of the orphanage and gathered to sets to join her in New York City.[1][2]

The young Madden grew up on the streets of New York where he learned how to use brickbats, knuckledusters, baseball bats, knives, and straitjackets. By the age of 17 years old, Madden had become the leader of a feared New York street gang known as the Gopher Gang. He earned the nickname "The Killer" for getting away with two known murders. On September 6, 1911, he shot dead a gang member of the rival Hudson Dusters in the heart of Dusters' territory around 30th Street. In February 1912, Madden was on a crowded street finding, arguing with a stern-faced named William Kelleher about a woman, and Madden shot Kelleher in the face. Kelleher was not a gang member, and as he was dying, he named Owney Madden as his killer. Despite the police having his name, and there being eyewitnesses to the crime, Madden never went to trial—witnesses in both killings were intimidated, and disappeared.[3]

In 1915, he eventually went to prison for ordering the killing of William "Little Patsy Doyle" Moore, who had been waging a three-year vendetta campaign against Madden and the Gopher Gang.[3]

Prohibition

After serving seven years of a 10 to 20-year sentence for Moore's manslaughter,[3] Madden was released on parole in 1923. The Gopher Gang had broken up, and many members of his own faction were either in Sing Sing or working for bootlegging gangs.[4]

During this time, Madden employed a young friend as a personal driver. The driver, George Ruft, later became a film star noted for his authentic portrayals of gangster figures.[5][6]

NYPD mug shot of Madden (first published in 1928)

The Cotton Club

Madden purchased the Club Deluxe from former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Johnson and reopened it a year later. Nightclub patrons flooded into Harlem from downtown Manhattan to catch performers such as Cab Calloway, Duke Ellington, Louis Armstrong, Lena Horne, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson, and the McKinney Brothers. Madden and his partners, Big Bill and George Jean "Big Frenchy" DeMange, also muscled their way into a piece of the exclusive Stork Club, where the influential gossip columnist Walter Winchell held court and everyone who was

Home Stories - ID

The Dead Rabbi

by Owen Keough (Feb 20, 2016) Gangs, Early Characters

A "[illegible]," [illegible]

The Dead Rabbits were a street gang mostly Irish. They were also named tho the NYPD because they did also open

They were founded by Shang Allen, o they became the largest Irish crime sy well over 100 members when called u after a dead rabbit was thrown into the of the gang saw this as an omen and t

There could be more victims of former Maple Valley day care employee accused of child sex abuse, attorney says

The former employee, Joseph Hefner, is charged with child rape, child molestation and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Author: Julie Calhoun
Published: 7:18 PM PDT June 6, 2024
Updated: 7:18 PM PDT June 6, 2024

SEATTLE — A private law firm is now investigating a former Maple Valley day care worker charged with child rape, child molestation, and communication with a minor for immoral purposes earlier this week.

Michael Pfau, an attorney with Pfau Cochran Vertetis Amala PLLC, is representing the family of the two girls in this case. Pfau said he was contacted by the victim's parents and since then, he has been contacted by additional parents.

Owney Madden

7 languages
Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Owen Vincent "Owney" Madden (December 18, 1891 – April 24, 1965) was an American gangster who was a leading underworld figure in New York during Prohibition. Nicknamed "The Killer", he garnered a brutal reputation within street gangs and organized crime. He ran the Cotton Club in Manhattan and was a leading boxing promoter. After increased attention from law enforcement in New York, Madden moved to Hot Springs, Arkansas, in 1935, where he remained until his death from natural causes in 1965.

Owney Madden

Owney Madden in 1931 New York City Police Department mugshot

Born	Owen Vincent Madden December 18, 1891 Leeds, England
Died	April 24, 1965 (aged 73) Hot Springs, Arkansas, US
Other names	The Killer
Occupation	Gangster

Early life [edit]

Owen Vincent Madden was born into a working-class family at 25 Somerset Road in Leeds, England, on December 18, 1891, the son of Irish immigrants Francis Madden and Mary Madden (née O'Neil.)[1] After his mother became a widow she emigrated to New York to become a maid, leaving Owen and his sister Mary and brother Martin in a British orphanage. In 1896, Owen's mother saved up enough money to take them out of the orphanage and get them tickets to join her in New York City.[1] [2]

The young Madden grew up on the streets of New York where he learned how to use blackjacks, knuckledusters, bats, pipes, knives, and stilettoes. By the age of 21 years old, Madden had become the leader of a feared New York street gang known as the Gopher Gang. He earned the nickname, "The Killer" for getting away with two brazen murders. On September 6, 1911, he shot dead a gang member of the rival Hudson Dusters in the heart of Dusters' territory around 30th Street. In February 1912, Madden was on a crowded street trolley, arguing with a store clerk named William Henshaw about a woman, and Madden shot Henshaw in the face. Henshaw was not a gang member, and as he was dying, he named Owney Madden as his killer. Despite the police having his name, and there being eyewitnesses to the crime, Madden never went to trial—witnesses in both killings were intimidated, and disappeared.[2]

In 1915, he eventually went to prison for ordering the killing of William "Little Patsy Doyle" Moore, who had been waging a three-year vendetta campaign against Madden and the Gopher Gang.[2]

Prohibition [edit]

After serving seven years of a 10-to-20-year sentence for Moore's manslaughter,[3] Madden was released on parole in 1923. The Gopher Gang had broken up, and many members of his own faction were either in Sing Sing or working for bootlegging gangs.[4]

NYPD mug shot of Madden (first published in 1926)

During this time, Madden employed a young friend as a personal driver. The driver, George Raft, later became a film star noted for his authentic portrayals of gangland figures.[5][6]

The Cotton Club [edit]

Madden purchased the Club Deluxe from former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Johnson and reopened it a year later. Nightclub patrons flooded into Harlem from downtown Manhattan to catch performers such as Cab Calloway, Duke Ellington, Louis Armstrong, Lena Horne, Bill "Bojangles" Robinson, and the Nicholas Brothers. Madden and his partners, Big Bill and George Jean "Big Frenchy" DeMange, also muscled their way into a piece of the exclusive Stork Club, where the influential gossip columnist Walter Winchell held court and everyone who was

The Irish Mob

The Dead Rabbits & The 1857 Riot

by Owen Forsyth | Feb 22, 2019 | Cops, Early Characters, Gangs of New York, New York, Police, Politicians

A "DEAD RABBIT," SKETCHED FROM LIFE.

The Dead Rabbits were a street gang in Lower Manhattan in the 1850s, whose members were mostly Irish. The were also named the "Mulberry Boys" and the "Mulberry Street Boys" by the NYPD because they did also operate along Mulberry Street in the Five Points.

They were founded by Shang Allen, one of many disgruntled gang members of the Roach Guards, they became the largest Irish crime organization at the time in mid 19th-century Manhattan, having well over 100 members when called up for action. Its said they got the name the Dead Rabbits after a dead rabbit was thrown into the center of the room during a gang meeting, some members of the gang saw this as an omen and formed an independent gang.

Los Angeles Times

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, a medical pioneer who was the driving force in developing the field of cardiac surgery, operating on more than 60,000 patients and developing medical technology that overall influence more than that, was 99.

DeBakey died Friday at Methodist Hospital in Houston, the Baylor College of Medicine and Methodist Hospital announced, without specifying the cause of death.

In his highly influential career, DeBakey performed the first coronary artery bypass surgery and the first carotid endarterectomy to prevent strokes. He developed the pump that is the key component of the heart and lung machine routinely used on patients during heart surgery and an artificial heart was used to keep patients alive while they waited for their own heart to improve.

He also developed the concept of the mobile army surgical hospital — commonplace in the Blue

Los Angeles Times

Dr. Michael E. DeBakey, a medical pioneer who was the driving force in developing the field of cardiac surgery, operating on more than two [illegible] patients and developing medical technology that saved millions more, has died. He was [illegible]

DeBakey died Friday at Methodist Hospital in Houston, the Baylor College of Medicine and Methodist Hospital announced, without specifying the cause of death.

In his highly influential career, DeBakey performed the first coronary artery bypass surgery and the first carotid endarterectomy to prevent strokes. He developed the pump that is the key component of the heart and lung machines routinely used on patients during heart surgery and an artificial heart now used to keep patients alive while they wait for their own heart to improve.

He also developed the concept of the mobile army surgical hospital — transferred to the Ohio

Under the supervision of pioneering transplant surgeon Michael DeBakey, doctors perform the first simultaneous, multi-organ transplant procedure.

David Barksdale

Biography

History

Folks Nation

Expansions

David Barksdale

Gangster Disciples

William Barksdale

Early life

Congress

William Barksdale

Mind-Full Shabbat Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale

Friday, March 29, 2024 • 19 Adar II 5784

Register

Mind-Full Shabbat Dinner

Friday, March 29

7:00 pm

Antifragility: Working to Build Resilience in the Wake of Tragedy & Violence

Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale

Register by March 20 for earlybird

Registration will close on Monday, March 29

Shabbat Service • 6:00 pm

Dinner • 7:00 pm

Speaker with Q&A, • 8:00 pm

David Barksdale

1 language

Article Talk | Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

David Barksdale (born Donise David Barksdale; May 24, 1947 – September 2, 1974), also known as King David, was an American gangster and activist from Chicago, Illinois. He was the founder of the Black Disciples. He and Larry Hoover (leader of the Gangster Disciples) decided to merge and create the Black Gangster Disciple Nation. Barksdale was seen as a hero in the black community because he operated a free breakfast program in Englewood to poor children, and he and the Disciples marched with Martin Luther King Jr. in Marquette Park. He was a close friend of Fred Hampton. Barksdale died on September 2, 1974, due to kidney failure, at the age of 27.

David Barksdale
Born	Donise David Barksdale May 24, 1947 Sallis, Mississippi, U.S.
Died	September 2, 1974 (aged 27) Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Resting place	Restvale Cemetery, Alsip, Illinois, U.S.
Other names	King David Emperor David David Jones
Known for	Street gang leader (Chicago)
Spouse	Yvonne Yarber (m. 1972–1974)
Children	3

Biography [edit]

Born Donise David Barksdale in Sallis, Mississippi to parents Virginia and Charlie Barksdale, he was the tenth of thirteen children. His family moved to Chicago, Illinois in 1957.

Within three years of arriving, Barksdale had become a notorious gang leader. By 1966, his gang absorbed several others and became known as the Black Disciple Nation. Tensions grew between the Black Disciples and other gangs such as the Black Stone Rangers. In the late 1960s, King David, as he had become known, started to lead the Black Disciples into activism, serving breakfast to school children and marching with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. in Marquette park during the Chicago Freedom Movement. He

The Gangster Disciple Nation (often abbreviated as the GD's; formally, GDN), also known as Growth & Development, is an African American street and prison gang founded by former rivals David Barksdale and Larry Hoover; in 1968, the two came together to form the Black Gangster Disciple Nation (BGDN).

Post-1989, following growing tension between the two over declining leadership, the BGDN split into two new factions—Hoover's Gangster Disciple Nation (GDN) and Barksdale's Black Disciple Nation (BDN), respectively. As of 2022, following Hoover's departure, the GDN has no full-time leadership role.[10]

Gangster Disciples
Founded	1969; 55 years ago (as the Black Gangster Disciple Nation) 1989; 35 years ago (as the Gangster Disciples)
Founder	Larry Hoover David Barksdale (BGDN)
Named after	Supreme Gangsters
Founding location	Chicago, Illinois, U.S.
Years active	1969–present
Territory	Northeastern, Midwestern and Southeastern United States[1][2]
Ethnicity	Primarily African American[3]
Membership (est.)	25,000–50,000+[4]
Leader(s)	Larry Hoover (formerly)
Activities	Drug trafficking, assault, firearms violations, fraud,

History [edit]

The origins of the Gangster Disciples began in Englewood (in Chicago, Illinois's South Side) in 1964, when then 13-year-old Larry 'The King' Hoover joined a small street gang called the 'Supreme Gangsters'. For years, the Supreme Gangsters had an outstanding war with the Black Disciples Nation, led by David Barksdale.[11] In 1969, Hoover and Barksdale agreed to a ceasefire. This resulted in the creation of the Black Gangster Disciple Nation.[12][13] By the early 1970s, the BGDN dominated the Chicago gang scene. Barksdale died of kidney failure in 1974, at the age of 27.[14] Following his death, Hoover assumed full control of the Black Gangster Disciples.

Folks Nation [edit]

See also: Folk Nation

In 1978, the BGDN began to splinter into three distinct factions: Black Gangsters, Black Disciples and Gangster Disciples; however, Hoover (at the time incarcerated on murder charges) prevented it by quickly setting up an alliance of all street and prison gangs in his interest into one family.[15][16]

The alliance consisted of Gangster Disciples, Black Disciples, Satan Disciples, Latin Disciples, Spanish Gangster Disciples, Ambrose, Two-Two Boys, Two-Sixers/Two-Six Boys, Simon City Royals, North Side Insane Popes, La Raza, Spanish Cobras, Imperial Gangsters, Harrison Gents, and the Latin Eagles.

Expansions [edit]

The Gangster Disciples are active in over 100 cities and 50 states, predominantly in the Midwestern and

William Barksdale

The Free Encyclopedia

9 languages

Article Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

For the member of the Virginia Senate, see William P. Barksdale. For the Confederate colonel, see William Barksdale Tabb.

William Barksdale (August 21, 1821 – July 3, 1863) was an American lawyer, newspaper editor, US Representative, and Confederate general in the American Civil War. He served four terms in the U.S. House of Representatives from 1853 to 1861.

A staunch secessionist, he was mortally wounded during the Battle of Gettysburg while he led his brigade's attack on Union forces not far from Cemetery Ridge.

William Barksdale

Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's 3rd district
In office	March 4, 1855 – January 21, 1861
Preceded by	Otho R. Singleton
Succeeded by	Henry Barry
Member of the U.S. House of Representatives from Mississippi's at-large district
In office	March 4, 1853 – March 3, 1855
Preceded by	no at-large seats
Succeeded by	3rd Congressional District established
Personal details
Born	August 21, 1821 Smyrna, Tennessee
Died	July 3, 1863 (aged 41) Gettysburg, Pennsylvania
Resting place	Greenwood Cemetery Jackson, Mississippi
Political party	Democratic
Profession	Newspaper editor, soldier

Early life [edit]

William Barksdale was born in Smyrna, Tennessee, the son of William Barksdale and Nancy Hervey Lester Barksdale. He was the older brother of Ethelbert Barksdale, who would serve in both the antebellum U.S. Congress and then the Confederate States Congress during the Civil War. He was of English ancestry which came to America during the 1600s.[1]

Barksdale graduated from the University of Nashville and practiced law in Mississippi from the age of 21, but gave up his practice to become the editor of the Columbus [Mississippi] Democrat, a pro-slavery newspaper.[2]

He enlisted in the 2nd Mississippi Infantry Regiment and served in the Mexican War as a captain and quartermaster, but often participated in the infantry fighting as well.

Congress [edit]

After the war, he became active in political causes, making a name for himself as an advocate of the Compromise of 1850. His political visibility and recent military service gave him a strong profile for a political

Powered by ShulCloud | Login

We are a Warm and Welcoming Conservative Congregation In Pepper Pike, Ohio

B'nai Jeshurun Congregation

CALENDAR STREAMING MEMBERSHIP DONATIONS PHOTOS CONTACT COMMUNICAT

About Us Pray Learn Engage Giv

Mind-Full Shabbat Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale

Friday, March 29, 2024 • 19 Adar II 5784

6:00 PM - 9:00 PM
B'nai Jeshurun

Register

You must be logged into your ShulCloud account if you are not paying online and plan to mail or drop off your payment later. Please make sure you are logged in to your ShulCloud account. If you are unsure, look in the top right hand corner of the screen and it should say either Log In or Welcome "Your Name." If you need any assistance contact Joscelyn Harris.

Mind-Full Shabbat Dinner
Friday, March 29
7:00 pm
Antifragility: Working to Build Resilience in the Wake of Tragedy & Violence
Featuring Dr. Ed Barksdale
Nationally recognized pediatric surgeon who launched a hospital-based violence intervention teen program.

Register by March 20 for earlybird
Registration will close on Monday, March 25

Shabbat Service • 6:00 pm
Dinner • 7:00 pm
Speaker with Q&A; • 8:00 pm

Eat and engage at Mind-Full Shabbat, an exciting way to connect with congregants, the community

UPORNIA

NudeVista

PORNIA
France
Zen Porn
HD
Big Tits
Brunette
MILF
Tattoo
Big Cock
Big Ass
Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Isiah Maxwell
1 months ago
AD Watch Premium Video (FULL)
02:51 / 21:31
Cherokee
Advertisement
0 0 719 Comments

NudeVista
tubes models directory
Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevance, newest, popularity, duration or random
Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian Bosnia Macedonian 30:34
Cute Bosnian Immature Love
tubecup, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, 2 months ago
11:25
Hot Bosnian American
eporner, bosnia and herzegovina, usa, co-ed, flashing, 3 months ago 04:10
Bosnian First Time
tube8, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, amateur, homemade,
29:55
Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend
mylust, riding, girlfriend, bosnia and herzegovina, brunettes, 8 months ago 10:48
Hg - Serbians Gang Rape Their Bosnian Sex Slave
Tube: motherless
Tags: slave, serbia, bosnia and herzegovina, violence, dominance, homemade, brunettes
Added 9 months ago
Report problem
47:53
Bosnian Amela Receives Tired
hclips, bosnia and herzegovina, amateur, hardcore, 9 months ago

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest

51.159.194.214/videos/5...

Tor

PORNIA

France | Zen Porn | HD | Big Tits | Brunette | MILF | Tattoo | Big Cock | Big Ass | Ind

Fabulous Sex Video Milf Hottest Like In Your Dreams - Bosnian Beauty And Isiah Maxwell

1 months ago

Advertisement

0 0 719 Comments

https://web.archive.org/web/201

90%

NudeVista

tubes | models | directory

Results 1 - 25 of 46 for bosnian tube ordered by relevance, newest, popularity, duration or random

Related searches: Serbian Croatian Balkan Croatia Slovenian Bosnia Macedonian

Cute Bosnian Immature Love
tubecup, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, 2 months ago

Hot Bosnian American
eporner, bosnia and herzegovina, usa, co-ed, flashing, 3 months ago

Bosnian First Time
tube8, bosnia and herzegovina, teens, amateur, homemade,

Brunette Bosnian Girlfriend
mylust, riding, girlfriend, bosnia and herzegovina, brunettes, 8 months ago

Hg - Serbians Gang Rape Their Bosnian Sex Slave

Tube: motherless

Tags: slave, serbia, bosnia and herzegovina, violence, dominance, homemade, brunettes

Added 9 months ago

Report problem

Bosnian Amela Receives Tired
hclips, bosnia and herzegovina, amateur, hardcore, 9 months ago

82°F Sunny

Search

4:40 PM 6/11/2024

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL
NJ Jewish paper mixes its Guzmans

shiva
LEARN PLAN SEND
In Loving Memory of
Raphael Cardenas
December 7th, 2019 - June 2nd, 2022
OBITUARY
Raphael Cardenas, beloved son of Marina Ross and Henry Cardenas. Adored grandson of Diana Balzak, Darren Ross, Victorino Cardenas and Ruth Leticia Vazquez. Cherished nephew of Sonia Balzak. His loss is deeply felt by many other extended family and friends. Graveside service Tuesday, 11 AM, at Shalom Memorial Park (Section XII Mt. Zion), 1700 W. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights, IL 60004. In lieu of flowers memorials in his name may made to Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago, 225 East Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611, www.luriechildrens.org, 312.227.7500. Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals - Skokie Chapel, 847.229.8822, www.cjfs-fs.com
Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals
www.chicagojewishfunerals.com
Send Shiva Meals
Express your condolences and provide comfort with
Plant a Tree in Israel
Honor and commemorate loved ones by planting trees

Congregation Rol Emeth
4.7
Chicago

THE TIMES OF ISRAEL

Framed

NJ Jewish paper mixes its Guzmans

New Jersey-based Orthodox weekly illustrates Mexican drug lord's capture with photo of comic actor Luis Guzman

BY ARON DONZIS | March 6, 2014, 2:01 pm |

Actor-comedian Luis Guzman. (screen capture: YouTube)

John Travolta isn't the only one who has been struggling with name recognition of late.

Get The Times of Israel's Daily Edition by email and never miss our top stories FREE SIGN UP!

In an attempt to cover the capture of Mexican cartel leader Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman, The Lakewood Shopper, an Orthodox Jewish newspaper based in Lakewood, New Jersey, accidentally used a photograph of Luis Guzman, a popular Puerto Rican-American comedian from New York's Lower East Side, Elite Daily reported.

Guzman is best known for his roles in "Carlito's Way" and "How To Make It In America."

The gaffe was identified by Malei Rikud on Twitter and was well received by

shiva The resource for Jewish mourning

LEARN PLAN SEND

Shiva Plans > Find and Contribute to a Shiva > In Loving Memory of Raphael Cardenas

BACK

In Loving Memory of

Raphael Cardenas

December 7th, 2019 - June 2nd, 2022

OBITUARY

Raphael Cardenas, beloved son of Marina Ross and Henry Cardenas. Adored grandson of Diana Balzak, Darren Ross, Victorino Cardenas and Ruth Leticia Vazquez. Cherished nephew of Sonia Balzak. His loss is deeply felt by many other extended family and friends. Graveside service Tuesday, 11 AM, at Shalom Memorial Park (Section XII Mt. Zion), 1700 W. Rand Rd., Arlington Heights, IL 60004. In lieu of flowers memorials in his name may made to Ann & Robert H. Lurie Children's Hospital of Chicago, 225 East Chicago Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611, www.luriechildrens.org, 312.227.7500. Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals - Skokie Chapel, 847.229.8822, www.cjfinfo.com.

Arrangements by Chicago Jewish Funerals.
www.chicagojewishfunerals.com

Send Shiva Meals

Express your condolences and provide comfort with

Plant a Tree in Israel

Honor and commemorate loved ones by planting trees

Congregation Kol Emeth

Congregation Kol Emeth
4.7 (7)
Conservative synagogue

Overview Reviews About

Directions Save Nearby Send to phone Share

4435 Oakton St, Skokie, IL 60076
Open · Closes 4 PM
kolemethskokie.org
(847) 673-3370
27G6+C7 Skokie, Illinois
LGBTQ+ friendly

Photos & videos

Review summary

4.7
7 reviews

Write a review

Reviews

Cesar Guillen
52 reviews · 1 photo
2 years ago
Beautiful congregation, and great members, plus The Rabbi is awesome. This is the ideal place for peace.

Share

Yehudah Bernath

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes

8 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this Spanish name, the first or paternal surname is Oseguera and the second or maternal family name is Cervantes.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes (Latin American Spanish: [ne`mesio ose`yera ser`βantes]; born 17 July 1966, or 17 July 1964), commonly referred to by his alias El Mencho ([el `ment͡ʃo]), is a Mexican drug lord and leader of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), an organized crime group based in Jalisco. He is the most-wanted person in Mexico and one of the most-wanted in the U.S. The US government, as well as the Mexican government, is offering $10 million and $30 million respectively for information leading to his arrest.

He is wanted for drug trafficking, organized crime involvement, and undocumented possession of firearms. El Mencho is allegedly responsible for coordinating global drug trafficking operations. Under his command, the CJNG became one of Mexico's leading criminal organizations.

Born into poverty in Mexico, El Mencho grew avocados and dropped out of primary school before immigrating illegally to the U.S. in the 1980s. After being arrested several times, he was deported to Mexico in the early 1990s and worked for the Milenio Cartel.[2] He eventually climbed to the top of the criminal organization and founded the CJNG after several of his bosses were arrested or killed.

His notoriety is also a result of his aggressive leadership and sensationalist acts of violence against both rival criminal groups and Mexican security forces alike. These attacks brought him increased government attention and an extensive manhunt. Security forces suspect he is hiding in the rural terrains of Jalisco, Michoacán, Nayarit, and/or Colima, and is guarded by mercenaries with former military training.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes

Born	17 July 1966 (age 57) Aguililla, Michoacán, Mexico
Other names	El Mencho El Mata Zetas[a] Don Nemesio El Señor de los Gallos[b]
Employer	Jalisco New Generation Cartel
Predecessor	Ignacio Coronel Villarreal
Criminal status	Wanted
Spouse	Rosalinda González Valencia (m. 1996; div. 2018)[c][1]
Children	4, including Rubén Oseguera González
Relatives	Abigael González Valencia (brother-in-law)

Notes

Bounty: US$10 million offered from the U.S. government; MXN$30 million offered from Mexico's Office of the General Prosecutor (PGR).

In February 2022 unconfirmed reports began to surface stating that El Mencho had died from respiratory arrest while undergoing treatment in a private hospital in Guadalajara.[3]

However, U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent Kyle Mori, who heads the search for El Mencho, denied rumors of his death in an interview he gave to KFI AM's in March 2023.[4]

Early life [edit]

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes was born in July 1964 or 1966 in the rural community of Culotitlán in Aguililla, Michoacán, Mexico.[d][5][6] His first name is cited as "Rubén" and/or "Nemesio".[5][7] He has

Jalisco New Generation Cartel

16 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Jalisco New Generation Cartel (Spanish: Cártel de Jalisco Nueva Generación) or CJNG,[39][40][41][42] is a Mexican criminal syndicate, based in Jalisco and headed by Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes ("El Mencho").[43] The cartel has been characterized by extreme violence and public relations campaigns.[4] Though the CJNG is known for diversifying into various criminal rackets, drug trafficking (primarily cocaine and methamphetamine) remains its most profitable activity.[6][4] The cartel has been noted for cannibalizing some victims during the training of new sicarios or members, as well as using drones[7][44][27] and rocket-propelled grenades to attack enemies.[45]

CJNG started in 2009 as one of the splits of the Milenio Cartel, the other being La Resistencia. CJNG defeated La Resistencia and took control of Milenio's smuggling networks. CJNG expanded its operation network from coast to coast in six months, making it one of the criminal groups with the greatest operating capacity by 2012.[46][47] Following emergence of the cartel, homicides, kidnappings and discoveries of mass graves spiked in Jalisco.[4] By 2018, the CJNG was believed to have over 100 methamphetamine labs throughout Mexico. Based on average street value, its trade could net upwards of $8 billion for cocaine and $4.6 billion for crystal meth each year.[8][48][49][50][51][52][53][34] The CJNG are fighting the Nueva Plaza Cartel for control of Guadalajara; La Unión Tepito for Mexico City; Los Viagras and La Familia Michoacana for the states of Michoacán and Guerrero; Los Zetas in the states of Veracruz and Puebla; Cártel del Noreste in Zacatecas; the Sinaloa Cartel in Baja California, Sonora,[54] Ciudad Juárez, Zacatecas and Chiapas; as well as the Santa Rosa de Lima Cartel in Guanajuato.[55] They have an alliance with the Cártel del Golfo in Zacatecas and La Línea in Juárez.[20]

CJNG is considered by the Mexican government to be one of the most dangerous criminal organizations in Mexico[26] and second most powerful drug cartel after the Sinaloa Cartel.[56] CJNG is heavily militarized and more violent than other criminal organizations. It has a special operations group for specific types of warfare.[57] Its hitman training program is strict and

Jalisco Cartel

Cártel Jalisco Nueva Generación

Logo of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Founded	31 August 2009
Founder	Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes, Emilio Alejandro Pulido Salazar, Martín Arzola Ortega, and Erick Valencia Salazar[1]
Founding location	Guadalajara, Jalisco, México[2][3]
Years active	2009–present[2][4]
Territory	Mexico: Jalisco, Nayarit, Michoacan, Colima, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Puebla, Baja California, Baja California Sur, Chihuahua, Sonora, Veracruz, Tamaulipas, Estado de Mexico, Mexico City, Tabasco, Guerrero, Chiapas, Tlaxcala, Querétaro, Hidalgo, United States: California, New York, Oregon, Illinois, Texas, Georgia, Florida, Washington Australia: Victoria, New South Wal South America: Colombia, Ecuador, Per, Brazil, Venezuela, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay, Guyana, Argentina, Uruguay Europe: France, United Kingdom, Balkans, Italy, Spain
Ethnicity	Hispanic
Membership	20,000-50,000 (suspected)[citation needed]

Rabbi Yochanan Salazar

Traveling Sofer

Rabbi Yochanan Salazar is a master sofer (scribe), educator and lecturer. Born in Ecuador, South America, he moved to the US as a teen. Before becoming a scribe he studied in Hudson College and later attended NJIT where he majored in electronics engineering and public speaking. While in college he met his wife Hanna, together they moved to Florida where they now live with their six children.

He received his rabbinic ordination in 2004 from Rabbi Daniel Channen in Beit Shemesh,Israel. In Miami, Rabbi Salazar studied art of Safrut as an apprentice under Rabbi's Druin at Sofer On Site. After years of training he received his ordination as a Sofer from Rabbi Eliyahu Ben Hayylm the Head of Sephardic studies at Yeshiva University in New York.
With his expert and gifted talent for precise and accurate Torah repair work, he now heads the Torah Restoration Department of Sofer On Site. He often travels around the country restoring Torahs on site, while educating communities on the proper techniques of Torah care.

Rabbi Levi Selwyn

Traveling Sofer

Rabbi Levi Selwyn was born in London, England where he attended the local Jewish schoo
He then continued his studies at the Yeshivah Gedolah in Hampstead.At the age of 18 he is Salazar.

Érick Valencia Salazar (Spanish pronunciation: [`erik βa`lensja sala`sar]; born 11 March 1977 or 19 November 1982), commonly referred to by his alias El 85, is a Mexican drug lord and high-ranking leader of the Nueva Plaza Cartel.[1][2][3] He previously served as a high-ranking leader of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), a criminal group based in Jalisco. The Mexican Army suspects he was responsible for supervising the CJNG's cocaine and ephedrine delivery shipments from Colombia and China to Mexico, and for coordinating attacks against rival groups like La Resistencia and Los Zetas in the 2010s. Before leading the CJNG, Valencia reportedly held a leadership role within the Milenio Cartel, the predecessor group where the CJNG originated from. When several of his superiors were arrested and/or killed, Valencia and several others from the Milenio Cartel reportedly formed the CJNG.

On 3 March 2012, the Mexican Army arrested Valencia in Zapopan, Jalisco. The arrest triggered a series of coordinated attacks carried out by the CJNG to try to rescue Valencia. Throughout the states of Jalisco and Michoacán, the CJNG hijacked 25 vehicles and set them on fire across multiple highways. Three people were killed and sixteen suspects were arrested. On 27 December 2017, Valencia was released from prison after a judge concluded there were violations in his due process and because of insufficient

Érick Valencia Salazar

Born	11 March 1977 (age 47) or 19 November 1982 (age 41) Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico
Other names	El 85
Employers	Nueva Plaza Cartel Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Ellen Cervantes	Finance Vice President	Meredith Fox	Zena Step
Cheri Meyman	Development Vice President	Dr. Robert Gelb
Jessica Docter	Recording Secretary
Leah Kulava	Immediate Past President
Miriam Carroll	Past President's Council Representative

Shomrei Torah Synagogue
7353 Valley Circle Boulevard
West Hills, CA 91304
Main Office: (818) 854-7650

Mailing List
E-Newsletter Sign Up

About Shomrei Torah
› About Us
› Membership
› Education
› Worship
› Social Action

Shabbat @ STS
More Shabbat Information

DAILY MINYAN
Monday - Friday: 8:00 AM
Monday - Thursday: 7:15 PM
Sunday: 9:00 AM

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes

8 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this Spanish name, the first or paternal surname is Oseguera and the second or maternal family name is Cervantes.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes (Latin American Spanish: [ne�excl.mesio ose˧ˈɣera ser˧ˈβantes]; born 17 July 1966, or 17 July 1964), commonly referred to by his alias El Mencho ([el ˈmentʃo]), is a Mexican drug lord and leader of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), an organized crime group based in Jalisco. He is the most-wanted person in Mexico and one of the most-wanted in the U.S. The US government, as well as the Mexican government, is offering $10 million and $30 million respectively for information leading to his arrest.

He is wanted for drug trafficking, organized crime involvement, and undocumented possession of firearms. El Mencho is allegedly responsible for coordinating global drug trafficking operations. Under his command, the CJNG became one of Mexico's leading criminal organizations.

Born into poverty in Mexico, El Mencho grew avocados and dropped out of primary school before immigrating illegally to the U.S. in the 1980s. After being arrested several times, he was deported to Mexico in the early 1990s and worked for the Milenio Cartel.[2] He eventually climbed to the top of the criminal organization and founded the CJNG after several of his bosses were arrested or killed.

His notoriety is also a result of his aggressive leadership and sensationalist acts of violence against both rival criminal groups and Mexican security forces alike. These attacks brought him increased government attention and an extensive manhunt. Security forces suspect he is hiding in the rural terrains of Jalisco, Michoacán, Nayarit, and/or Colima, and is guarded by mercenaries with former military training.

Nemesio Rubén Oseguera Cervantes

Born	17 July 1966 (age 57) Aguililla, Michoacán, Mexico
Other names	El Mencho El Mata Zetas[a] Don Nemesio El Señor de los Gallos[b]
Employer	Jalisco New Generation Cartel
Predecessor	Ignacio Coronel Villarreal
Criminal status	Wanted
Spouse	Rosalinda González Valencia (m. 1996; div. 2018)[c][1]
Children	4, including Rubén Oseguera González
Relatives	Abigael González Valencia (brother-in-law)

Notes

Bounty: US$10 million offered from the U.S. government; MXN$30 million offered from Mexico's Office of the General Prosecutor (PGR).

In February 2022 unconfirmed reports began to surface stating that El Mencho had died from respiratory arrest while undergoing treatment in a private hospital in Guadalajara.[3]

However, U.S. Drug Enforcement Administration agent Kyle Mori, who heads the search for El Mencho, denied rumors of his death in an interview he gave to KFI AM's in March 2023.[4]

Early life [edit]

Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes was born in July 1964 or 1966 in the rural community of Culotitlán in Aguililla, Michoacán, Mexico.[d][5][6] His first name is cited as "Rubén" and/or "Nemesio".[5][9] He has

Jalisco New Generation Cartel

16 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

The Jalisco New Generation Cartel (Spanish: Cártel de Jalisco Nueva Generación) or CJNG,[39][40][41][42] is a Mexican criminal syndicate, based in Jalisco and headed by Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes ("El Mencho").[43] The cartel has been characterized by extreme violence and public relations campaigns.[4] Though the CJNG is known for diversifying into various criminal rackets, drug trafficking (primarily cocaine and methamphetamine) remains its most profitable activity.[6][4] The cartel has been noted for cannibalizing some victims during the training of new sicarios or members, as well as using drones[7][44][27] and rocket-propelled grenades to attack enemies.[45]

CJNG started in 2009 as one of the splits of the Milenio Cartel, the other being La Resistencia. CJNG defeated La Resistencia and took control of Millenio's smuggling networks. CJNG expanded its operation network from coast to coast in six months, making it one of the criminal groups with the greatest operating capacity by 2012.[46][47] Following emergence of the cartel, homicides, kidnappings and discoveries of mass graves spiked in Jalisco.[4] By 2018, the CJNG was believed to have over 100 methamphetamine labs throughout Mexico. Based on average street value, its trade could net upwards of $8 billion for cocaine and $4.6 billion for crystal meth each year.[6][48][49][50][51][52][53][34] The CJNG are fighting the Nueva Plaza Cartel for control of Guadalajara; La Unión Tepito for Mexico City; Los Viagras and La Familia Michoacana for the states of Michoacán and Guerrero; Los Zetas in the states of Veracruz and Puebla; Cártel del Noreste in Zacatecas; the Sinaloa Cartel in Baja California, Sonora,[54] Ciudad Juárez, Zacatecas and Chiapas; as well as the Santa Rosa de Lima Cartel in Guanajuato.[55] They have an alliance with the Cártel del Golfo in Zacatecas and La Línea in Juárez.[20]

CJNG is considered by the Mexican government to be one of the most dangerous criminal organizations in Mexico[26] and second most powerful drug cartel after the Sinaloa Cartel.[56] CJNG is heavily militarized and more violent than other criminal organizations. It has a special operations group for specific types of warfare.[57] Its hitman training program is strict and

Jalisco Cartel

Cártel Jalisco Nueva Generación

Logo of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Founded	31 August 2009
Founder	Nemesio Oseguera Cervantes, Emilio Alejandro Pulido Salazar, Martín Arzola Ortega, and Erick Valencia Salazar[1]
Founding location	Guadalajara, Jalisco, México[2][3]
Years active	2009–present[2][4]
Territory	Mexico: Jalisco, Nayarit, Michoacan, Colima, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Puebla, Baja California, Baja California Sur, Chihuahua, Sonora, Veracruz, Tamaulipas, Estado de Mexico, Mexico City, Tabasco, Guerrero, Chiapas, Tlaxcala, Querétaro, Hidalgo, United States: California, New York, Oregon, Illinois, Texas, Georgia, Florida, Washington Australia: Victoria, New South Wale South America: Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, Brazil, Venezuela, Chile, Bolivia, Paraguay, Guyana, Argentina, Uruguay Europe: France, United Kingdom, Balkans, Italy, Spain
Ethnicity	Hispanic
Membership	20,000-50,000 (suspected)[citation needed]

Rabbi Yochanan Salazar

Traveling Sofer

Rabbi Yochanan Salazar is a master sofer (scribe), educator and lecturer. Born in Ecuador, South America, he moved to the US as a teen. Before becoming a scribe he studied in Hudson College and later attended NJIT where he majored in electronics engineering and public speaking. While in college he met his wife Hanna, together they moved to Florida where they now live with their six children.

He received his rabbinic ordination in 2004 from Rabbi Daniel Channen in Beit Shemesh, Israel. In Miami, Rabbi Salazar studied art of Saffut as an apprentice under Rabbi's Druin at Sofer On Site. After years of training he received his ordination as a Sofer from Rabbi Eliyahu Ben Hayyim the Head of Sephardic studies at Yeshiva University in New York.
With his expert and gifted talent for precise and accurate Torah repair work, he now heads the Torah Restoration Department of Sofer On Site. He often travels around the country restoring Torahs on site, while educating communities on the proper techniques of Torah care.

Rabbi Levi Selwyn

Traveling Sofer

Rabbi Levi Selwyn was born in London, England where he attended the local Jewish schoo
He then continued his studies at the Yeshivah Gedolah in Hampstead. At the age of 18 he is Salazar.

Érick Valencia Salazar (Spanish pronunciation: [ˈerik βaˈlensja salaˈsar]; born 11 March 1977 or 19 November 1982), commonly referred to by his alias El 85, is a Mexican drug lord and high-ranking leader of the Nueva Plaza Cartel.[1][2][3] He previously served as a high-ranking leader of the Jalisco New Generation Cartel (CJNG), a criminal group based in Jalisco. The Mexican Army suspects he was responsible for supervising the CJNG's cocaine and ephedrine delivery shipments from Colombia and China to Mexico, and for coordinating attacks against rival groups like La Resistencia and Los Zetas in the 2010s. Before leading the CJNG, Valencia reportedly held a leadership role within the Milenio Cartel, the predecessor group where the CJNG originated from. When several of his superiors were arrested and/or killed, Valencia and several others from the Milenio Cartel reportedly formed the CJNG.

On 3 March 2012, the Mexican Army arrested Valencia in Zapopan, Jalisco. The arrest triggered a series of coordinated attacks carried out by the CJNG to try to rescue Valencia. Throughout the states of Jalisco and Michoacán, the CJNG hijacked 25 vehicles and set them on fire across multiple highways. Three people were killed and sixteen suspects were arrested. On 27 December 2017, Valencia was released from prison after a judge concluded there were violations in his due process and because of insufficient

Érick Valencia Salazar

Born	11 March 1977 (age 47) or 19 November 1982 (age 41) Guadalajara, Jalisco, Mexico
Other names	El 85
Employers	Nueva Plaza Cartel Jalisco New Generation Cartel

Ellen Cervantes	Finance Vice President	Meredith Fox	Zena Step
Cheri Mayman	Development Vice President	Dr. Robert Gelb
Jessica Docter	Recording Secretary
Leah Kuluva	Immediate Past President
Miriam Carroll	Past President's Council Representative

Shomrei Torah Synagogue
7353 Valley Circle Boulevard
West Hills, CA 91304
Main Office:
(818) 854-7650

Mailing List
E-Newsletter Sign Up

About Shomrei Torah
› About Us
› Membership
› Education
› Worship
› Social Action

Shabbat @ STS
More Shabbat Information

DAILY MINYAN
Monday - Friday: 8:00 AM
Monday - Thursday: 7:15 PM
Sunday: 9:00 AM

Governor | General Assembly | Courts | Elected Officials | State Agencies

Allowable Characters

Entity Details

THIS IS NOT A STATEMENT OF GOOD STANDING

File Number:	6277903	Incorporation Date / Formation Date:	1/9/2017 (mm/dd/yyyy)
Entity Name:	CHATURBATE, LLC
Entity Kind:	Limited Liability Company	Entity Type:	General
Residency:	Domestic	State:	DELAWARE

REGISTERED AGENT INFORMATION

Name:	NATIONAL REGISTERED AGENTS, INC.
Address:	1209 ORANGE STREET
City:	WILMINGTON	County:	New Castle
State:	DE	Postal Code:	19801
Phone:	302-658-7581

Additional Information is available for a fee. You can retrieve Status for a fee of $10.00 or more detailed information including current franchise tax assessment, current filing history and more for a fee of $20.00.

Would you like ○ Status ○ Status,Tax & History Information

Submit

View Search Results | New Entity Search

ag to take you to the help area.

t this site | contact us | translate | delaware.gov

https://icis.corp.delaware.gov/eCor...c.aspx#REGISTERED AGENT INFORMATION

whitepages Menu

1-302-658-7581

Who owns the Phone Number

(302) 658-7581

LOW SPAM RISK

Landline Last updated Feb 2024

Monitor

Registered to: Coby L Ringgenberg

Coby Lynn Ringgenberg • Coby Lynn Coswell • Coby Lynn Caswell

Other names for Coby

40s

Management (Check only one)

5. THE LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY WILL BE MANAGED BY:

- [x] ONE MANAGER
- [ ] MORE THAN ONE MANAGER
- [ ] ALL LIMITED LIABILITY COMPANY MEMBER(S)

Additional Information

6. ADDITIONAL INFORMATION SET FORTH ON THE ATTACHED PAGES, IF ANY, IS INCORPORATED HEREIN BY THIS REFERENCE AND MADE A PART OF THIS CERTIFICATE.

Execution

7. I DECLARE I AM THE PERSON WHO EXECUTED THIS INSTRUMENT, WHICH EXECUTION IS MY ACT AND DEED.

4/21/2011
DATE

SIGNATURE OF ORGANIZER

Jason Zimmerman
TYPE OR PRINT NAME OF ORGANIZER

LLC-1 (REV 04/2010) APPROVED BY SECRETARY OF STATE

YouTube Sign in

HIGHWEBMEDIA CHATURBATE JASON ZIMMERMAN

Marc Abigmess
41 subscribers

Subscribe 0 Share

257 views Oct 4, 2019

Mark Text
CHATURBATE

Mark Image

Mark Image Description
The mark consists of the word "Chaturbate" written in a cursive font with an underline.

Internation Registration Number
86808048

Mark Type
Illustration: Drawing or design which also includes word(s)/ letter(s)/number(s)

Mark Form
image

Status
REGISTERED

Url
http://tsdr.uspto.gov/ #caseNumber=86808048&caseSearchType=US_APPLICATION&caseType=DEFAULT&searchType=statusSearch

Holder Name
Multi Media, LLC

Holder Address
23615 El Toro Rd #X344, Lake Forrest, CA, 92630

Correspondent Name
JASON A. FISCHER

Correspondent Address
RANDAZZA LEGAL GROUP 2 SOUTH BISCAYNE BLVD. SUITE 2600 MIAMI, FL 33131

18+ Playboy Plus | 18+ Magazine Archives | Playboy Shop | 18+ Playboy Club | Join Now | Log In

.tv

Shows | Episodes | Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 5

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 6

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 7

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 8

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 9

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 2, Episode 10

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article | 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love. Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus

Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and finally as anachronistic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success from the moment he emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Jay Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Walt Disney, but Mr. Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened his life to a romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in silk pajamas and

Shoot wrestling

7 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article needs additional citations for verification. Please help improve this article by adding citations to reliable sources. Unsourced material may be challenged and removed.
Find sources: "Shoot wrestling" – news · newspapers · books · scholar · JSTOR (February 2019) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shoot wrestling is a Japanese hybrid grappling style and combat sport. Shoot wrestling incorporates techniques from various wrestling, submission grappling, kickboxing and karate styles. It was particularly inspired and influenced by catch wrestling, a form of wrestling with submissions that was the predominant style of professional wrestling in the 19th and early 20th century, at the time a competitive sport and not yet predetermined.[1]

Shoot wrestling originated in Japan's professional wrestling circuit (puroresu) of the 1970s, particularly stemming from the influence of wrestlers Karl Gotch and all who had an enduring popularity in Japan due to their serious submission wrestling style. Professional wrestlers of that era attempted to use more realistic or even "full-contact" moves in their matches to increase their excitement, diminishing or eschewing the theatrical elements and acrobatics, looking more similar to an actual, unscripted fight. The name "shoot wrestling" comes from the professional wrestling term "shoot", which refers to any unscripted occurrence within a scripted wrestling event.[2]

Shoot wrestling

Focus	Grappling
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama, Yuki Nakai, Yoshiaki Nakamura, Kazuo Yamazaki, Kazuchi Sakuraba, Kiyoshi Tamura, Toyoshi Kosaka, Volk Han, Ken Shamrock, Masakatsu Funaki, Daisuke Nakamura
Parenthood	Catch wrestling, freestyle wrestling, Greco-Roman wrestling, judo, karate, Muay Thai, sambo
Descendant arts	Shootfighting, shootboxing, mixed martial arts
Olympic sport	No

The first wave of shoot wrestlers were students of Antonio Inoki and Karl Gotch from New Japan Pro-Wrestling (NJPW), two wrestlers which already were advocates of a stiffer and more realistic wrestling style. Their students left NJPW to form the Universal Wrestling Federation (UWF) in 1984, pioneering in the new style.[3]

Shoot wrestling was popular in Japan from the 1980s until the mid-1990s, fading from popularity due the demise of the leading shoot-style promotion UWFi in 1996 and the simultaneous rise of mixed martial arts (MMA) in Japan. Most shoot wrestlers started to migrate to MMA or back to more theatrical forms of professional wrestling.[3][4] Shoot wrestling had a considerable influence on the sport of mixed martial arts.

Prior to the emergence of the current sport of shoot wrestling, the term was commonly used in the professional wrestling business, particularly in the United Kingdom, as a synonym for the sport of catch wrestling.[5] Shoot wrestling can be used to describe a range of hybrid fighting systems such as shootfighting, shoot boxing and the styles of mixed martial arts done in the Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS promotions. Organizations, promotions and gyms with origins in shoot wrestling are referred as the "U-Kei".

History [edit]

Shootfighting

4 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article includes a list of general references, but it lacks sufficient corresponding inline citations. Please help to improve this article by introducing more precise citations. (August 2022) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shootfighting is a martial art and combat sport, with competitions governed by the International Shootfighting Association (ISFA). It incorporates techniques from a multitude of traditional martial arts, the most principal of these being wrestling and kenpo.

Shootfighting was previously used synonymously with mixed martial arts competitions in Japan, as opposed to shoot-style professional wrestling competitions. The term has been retired from common usage because it became a registered trademark of Bart Vale, who uses it to describe his hybrid fighting system derived from shoot wrestling. However, it is still sometimes used colloquially.

Examples which were once considered shootfighting styles, tournaments or organizations are Pancrase, Fighting Network RINGS, and Shooto, where many fighters still considered themselves to be shootfighters. Ken Shamrock is possibly the most recognisable shoot fighter, as it was the discipline he used during the early days of the UFC.

Shootfighting

Focus	Hybrid (Combat Sport & Street Combat)
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Alexander Gustafsson (UFC), Evan Tanner (UFC), Frank Shamrock (Strikeforce), Jake Shields (PFL), Kazushi Sakuraba (UFC), Ken Shamrock (Pancrase), Kyoji Horiguchi (Rizin FF), Takanori Gomi (Shooto)
Parenthood	Catch Wrestling, Shoot Wrestling, American Kenpo, Judo, Boxing, Kickboxing, Karate, Muay Thai, Jujutsu, Brazilian Jiu Jitsu[1]
Olympic sport	No

History [edit]

Shootfighting's use as a synonym for mixed martial arts had its genesis in the 1970s, when Karl Gotch taught a group of Japanese professional wrestlers catch wrestling techniques, called "hooking" or "shooting". In 1976, one of these pro-wrestlers, Antonio Inoki, hosted a series of matches against practitioners of other martial arts; most of these were "worked" (predetermined), but one particular high-profile one was against Muhammad Ali, which was in fact a shoot. This led to an increased interest in real and effective technique, and eventually led to the creation of shoot wrestling, with some shoot-style professional wrestling organizations hosting legitimate mixed martial arts bouts, called "shoots". Interest grew in the 1990s, and certain shoot-style organizations like Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS evolved into

muslim.sg

22 Jun 2024
19 Zulhijah 1445H

Ask An Ustaz or Ustazah Questions Through Anonymous Chat With MYSAFESPACE

With MYSAFESPACE, you can conveniently and anonymously ask your religious queries from the comfort of your homes.

by Alia Fatin Binte Abdullah

Alia Abdullah is the editor-in-chief of Muslim.Sg. In 2021, she won the Exemplary Skillsfuture @ Public Service Award, a national award that recognises individuals who constantly upgrade their competencies. A law graduate and digital media specialist, Alia is an exceptional writer whose work has been featured in Young Women in Leadership Dialogue's (YWLD) Commemorative Book "Unprecedented - To the Beat of Her Own Drum" and on platforms such as Muslim and The Muslim Vibe. Alia lived and worked in Saudi Arabia for 2 years. She is now based in Singapore.

2023-03-22 · 4 min read

As a Muslim living in Singapore, we understand that having a safe space to ask questions to asatizah (religious teachers) is crucial for your personal and spiritual development.

First, a safe space allows you to freely ask questions without fear of judgment or discrimination. This is important because sometimes, you may hesitate to ask questions you think may be sensitive or controversial.

Second, having access to knowledgeable asatizah who can provide guidance and answer your questions is essential in helping you understand and navigate your faith. They can provide valuable insights and help clarify any confusion or doubts you may have, which can deepen your understanding of Islam and strengthen your faith.

Furthermore, a safe space for Muslim youth to ask questions to asatizah can foster a sense of community and belonging. Knowing that you have a support system of trusted scholars who can provide guidance and support can be comforting, especially when living

Shoot wrestling

7 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article needs additional citations for verification. Please help improve this article by adding citations to reliable sources. Unsourced material may be challenged and removed.
Find sources: "Shoot wrestling" – news · newspapers · books · scholar · JSTOR (February 2019) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shoot wrestling is a Japanese hybrid grappling style and combat sport. Shoot wrestling incorporates techniques from various wrestling, submission grappling, kickboxing and karate styles. It was particularly inspired and influenced by catch wrestling, a form of wrestling with submissions that was the predominant style of professional wrestling in the 19th and early 20th century, at the time a competitive sport and not yet predetermined.[1]

Shoot wrestling

Focus	Grappling
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Satoru Sayama, Yuki Nakai, Yorinaga Nakamura, Kazuo Yamazaki, Kazushi Sakuraba, Kiyoshi Tamura, Tsuyoshi Kosaka, Volk Han, Ken Shamrock, Masakatsu Funaki, Daisuke Nakamura
Parenthood	Catch wrestling, freestyle wrestling, Greco-Roman wrestling, judo, karate, Muay Thai, sambo
Descendant arts	Shootfighting, shootboxing, mixed martial arts
Olympic sport	No

Shoot wrestling originated in Japan's professional wrestling circuit (puroresu) of the 1970s, particularly stemming from the influence of wrestlers Karl Gotch and all who had an enduring popularity in Japan due to their serious submission wrestling style. Professional wrestlers of that era attempted to use more realistic or even "full contact" moves in their matches to increase their excitement, diminishing or eschewing the theatrical elements and acrobatics, looking more similar to an actual, unscripted fight. The name "shoot wrestling" comes from the professional wrestling term "shoot", which refers to any unscripted occurrence within a scripted wrestling event.[2]

The first wave of shoot wrestlers were students of Antonio Inoki and Karl Gotch from New Japan Pro-Wrestling (NJPW), two wrestlers which already were advocates of a stiffer and more realistic wrestling style. Their students left NJPW to form the Universal Wrestling Federation (UWF) in 1984, pioneering in the new style.[3]

Shoot wrestling was popular in Japan from the 1980s until the mid-1990s, fading from popularity due the demise of the leading shoot-style promotion UWFi in 1996 and the simultaneous rise of mixed martial arts (MMA) in Japan. Most shoot wrestlers started to migrate to MMA or back to more theatrical forms of professional wrestling.[3][4] Shoot wrestling had a considerable influence on the sport of mixed martial arts.

Prior to the emergence of the current sport of shoot wrestling, the term was commonly used in the professional wrestling business, particularly in the United Kingdom, as a synonym for the sport of catch wrestling.[5] Shoot wrestling can be used to describe a range of hybrid fighting systems such as shootfighting, shoot boxing and the styles of mixed martial arts done in the Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS promotions. Organizations, promotions and gyms with origins in shoot wrestling are referred as the "U-Kei".

History [edit]

Shootfighting

4 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article includes a list of general references, but it lacks sufficient corresponding inline citations. Please help to improve this article by introducing more precise citations.
(August 2022) (Learn how and when to remove this message)

Shootfighting is a martial art and combat sport, with competitions governed by the International Shootfighting Association (ISFA). It incorporates techniques from a multitude of traditional martial arts, the most principal of these being wrestling and kenpo.

Shootfighting

Focus	Hybrid (Combat Sport & Street Combat)
Country of origin	Japan
Famous practitioners	Alexander Gustafsson (UFC) Evan Tanner (UFC) Frank Shamrock (Strikeforce) Jake Shields (PFL) Kazushi Sakuraba (UFC) Ken Shamrock (Pancrase) Kyoji Horiguchi (Rizin FF) Takanori Gomi (Shooto)
Parenthood	Catch Wrestling, Shoot Wrestling, American Kenpo, Judo, Boxing, Kickboxing, Karate, Muay Thai, Jujutsu, Brazilian Jiu Jitsu[1]
Olympic sport	No

Shootfighting was previously used synonymously with mixed martial arts competitions in Japan, as opposed to shoot-style professional wrestling competitions. The term has been retired from common usage because it became a registered trademark of Bart Vale, who uses it to describe his hybrid fighting system derived from shoot wrestling. However, it is still sometimes used colloquially.

Examples which were once considered shootfighting styles, tournaments or organizations are Pancrase, Fighting Network RINGS, and Shooto, where many fighters still considered themselves to be shootfighters. Ken Shamrock is possibly the most recognisable shoot fighter, as it was the discipline he used during the early days of the UFC.

History [edit]

Shootfighting's use as a synonym for mixed martial arts had its genesis in the 1970s, when Karl Gotch taught a group of Japanese professional wrestlers catch wrestling techniques, called "hooking" or "shooting". In 1976, one of these pro-wrestlers, Antonio Inoki, hosted a series of matches against practitioners of other martial arts; most of these were "worked" (predetermined), but one particular high-profile one was against Muhammad Ali, which was in fact a shoot. This led to an increased interest in real and effective technique, and eventually led to the creation of shoot wrestling, with some shoot-style professional wrestling organizations hosting legitimate mixed martial arts bouts, called "shoots". Interest grew in the 1990s, and certain shoot-style organizations like Shooto, Pancrase and RINGS evolved into

muslim.sg

22 Jun 2024
15 Zulhijjah 1445H

16:38 Subuh

Ask An Ustaz or Ustazah Questions Through Anonymous Chat With MYSAFESPACE

With MYSAFESPACE, you can conveniently and anonymously ask your religious queries from the comfort of your homes.

by Alia Fatin Binte Abdullah

Alia Abdullah is the editor-in-chief of Muslim.Sg. In 2021, she won the Exemplary Skillsfuture @ Public Service Award, a national award that recognises individuals who constantly upgrade their competencies. A law graduate and digital media specialist, Alia is an exceptional writer whose work has been featured in Young Women in Leadership Dialogue's (YWILD) Commemorative Book "Unprecedented - To the Beat of Her Own Drum" and on platforms such as Mvslim and The Muslim Vibe. Alia lived and worked in Saudi Arabia for 2 years. She is now based in Singapore.

2023-03-22 · 4 min read

As a Muslim living in Singapore, we understand that having a safe space to ask questions to asatizah (religious teachers) is crucial for your personal and spiritual development.

First, a safe space allows you to freely ask questions without fear of judgment or discrimination. This is important because sometimes, you may hesitate to ask questions you think may be sensitive or controversial.

Second, having access to knowledgeable asatizah who can provide guidance and answer your questions is essential in helping you understand and navigate your faith. They can provide valuable insights and help clarify any confusion or doubts you may have, which can deepen your understanding of Islam and strengthen your faith.

Furthermore, a safe space for Muslim youth to ask questions to asatizah can foster a sense of community and belonging. Knowing that you have a support system of trusted scholars who can provide guidance and support can be comforting, especially when living

Sign in Subscribe

ver Organ

day to selling organs on be bought kidneys from ns for $120,000 or more.

SHARE SAVE

day to selling organs on
be bought kidneys from
ns for $120,000 or more.
s plan was that one of his
. With his guilty plea, 60-rst person ever convicted h outlawed selling human enbaum's practice does
s.

NBC NEWS WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 20, 2009 6:01am EST Updated January 14, 2010 11:46am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Israel's humar

Concern raised by

Euro-Med theft from examined

The NGO from the south.

Medical p alongside
"evidence"

They also dug more

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2013

SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner The Wire

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

NBC NEWS

WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without requesting from relatives

FOX NEWS

Login WATCH TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 29, 2009 | Updated January 14, 2010

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

IBUNEWS.

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochlea and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2011

SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner wire

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

NBC NEWS

WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

SAVE

Dec. 31, 2009, 6:00 PM EST / Source: The Associated Press

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS

Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 30, 2009 5:51pm EST Updated January 14, 2015 12:40am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

euronews.

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Copyright AP Photo

By Euronews

Published on 27/10/2023 - 10:18

Share this article Comments

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochleas and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2011

SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner The Wire.

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

NBC NEWS

WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

SAVE

Dec. 20, 2009, 8:03 PM CST / Source: The Associated Press

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS

Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 20, 2009 5:51pm EST Updated January 14, 2015 12:40am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

euronews.

News > World > Gaza

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Copyright AP Photo

By Euronews

Published on 27/11/2023 - 15:18

Share this article Comments

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochleas and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

The Atlantic

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $150,000 or more.

By Adam Marcus

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $150,000 or more.

It's a cunning business model that the trade in human organs was the case of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 66-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's procedure does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

BBC NEWS

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Israel 'trafficking organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2013

SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner "WIRE"

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

NBC NEWS

WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones in as the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without requesting from relatives.

FOX NEWS

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 20, 2009 5:13 pm EST Updated January 14, 2013 12:10am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

euronews.

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochlea and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2011

SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner wire

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

NBC NEWS

WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

Dec. 30, 2009, 6:00 PM GST / Source: The Associated Press

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 30, 2009 5:51pm EST Updated January 14, 2015 12:40am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

euronews.

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochleas and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Orga

https://www.theatlantic.co

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2011

SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner The Wire.

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

Israel harvested organs in

NBC NEWS

WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

SAVE

Dec. 20, 2009, 8:03 PM CST / Source: The Associated Press

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS

Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 20, 2009 5:51pm EST Updated January 14, 2015 12:40am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Israel 'stealing o

https://w

euronews.

News > World > Gaza

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Copyright AP Photo

By Euronews

Published on 27/11/2023 - 15:18

Share this article Comments

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochleas and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

er of the sexual
lies at 91

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

By ANDREW DALTON
The Associated Press

With Playboy, he helped slip sex out of the confines of plain brown wrappers and into mainstream conversation.

In 1953, a time when states could legally ban contraceptives and the word "pregnant" was not allowed on "I Love Lucy," Hefner published the first issue of Playboy, featuring naked photos of Marilyn Monroe and an editorial promise of "humor, sophistication and spice."

The Great Depression and World War II were over and Playboy soon became forbidden fruit for teens and a bible for men with time and money, primed for the magazine's prescribed evenings of dimmed lights, hard drinks, soft jazz, deep thoughts and deeper desires. Within a year, circulation neared 200,000. Within five years, it had topped 1 million.

NEWSPAPER ADS

Buy Local

CLASSIFIED

Johnstown Magazine

Read now

Trending Recipes

Most Popular

Visit our latest resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent teachings and events.

Next Service: Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 10:00 am

Robert and Jane Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Vitina Biondo and Yosef Riemer
Shirley Blageier
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anonymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corensweet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adeena Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Dimson and John Hatleberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Etingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Felsenfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardiner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

PBS NEWSHOUR

Menu

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Sep 18, 2017 7:13 PM EDT

Leave your feedback

Share

By PBS NewsHour

Transcript Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

The Tribune-Democrat

E-Paper | Local Events | Celebrations | Obituaries | Public Notices | Contact Us

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

By ANDREW DALTON
The Associated Press Sep 28, 2017

1 of 2

In this May 14, 1998 file photo, Playboy founder and editor in chief Hugh Hefner receives kisses from Playboy playmates during the 52nd Cannes Film Festival in Cannes, France. (AP Photo/Laurent Rebours, File)

Laurent Rebours

LOS ANGELES – Hugh Hefner traced silk pajamas into a work uniform, women into centerfolds and sexual desire into a worldwide multimedia empire that spanned several generations of American life.

With Playboy, he helped slip sex out of the confines of plain brown wrappers and into mainstream conversation.

In 1953, a time when states could legally ban contraceptives and the word "pregnant" was not allowed on "I Love Lucy," Hefner published the first issue of Playboy, featuring naked photos of Marilyn Monroe and an editorial promise of "humor, sophistication and spice."

The Great Depression and World War II were over and Playboy soon became forbidden fruit for teens and a bible for men with time and money, primed for the magazine's prescribed evenings of dimmed lights, hard drinks, soft jazz, deep thoughts and deeper desires. Within a year, circulation neared 200,000. Within five years, it had topped 1 million.

NEWSPAPER ADS

Buy Local
EAT · DRINK · SHOP · LIVE

CLASSIFIED YellOw

Johnstown Magazine

Johnstown Magazine is a positive and forward-th monthly publication for people of our region.

Read now

Trending Recipes

Most Popular

Articles

Visit our Israel resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent teachings and events.

Next Service: Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 10:00 am

BNAI JESHURUN

Robert and Jane Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Vitina Biondo and Yosef Riemer
Shirley Bisgeier
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anomymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corenswet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adeena Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Dimson and John Hatleberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Etingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Felsenfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardiner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

PBSO NEWS HOUR

Menu | Live

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Sep 28, 2017 7:13 PM EDT

Leave your feedback | Share •••

By – PBS NewsHour

Transcript | Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

The Tribune-Democrat

E-Paper | Local Events | Celebrations | Obituaries | Public Notices | Contact Us

Hugh Hefner, leader of the sexual revolution, dies at 91

By ANDREW DALTON
The Associated Press Sep 28, 2017

1 of 2

In this May 14, 1999 file photo, Playboy founder and editor in chief Hugh Hefner receives kisses from Playboy playmates during the 52nd Cannes Film Festival in Cannes, France. (AP Photo/Laurent Rebours, File)

Laurent Rebours

LOS ANGELES — Hugh Hefner turned silk pajamas into a work uniform, women into centerfolds and sexual desire into a worldwide multimedia empire that spanned several generations of American life.

With Playboy, he helped slip sex out of the confines of plain brown wrappers and into mainstream conversation.

In 1953, a time when states could legally ban contraceptives and the word "pregnant" was not allowed on "I Love Lucy," Hefner published the first issue of Playboy, featuring naked photos of Marilyn Monroe and an editorial promise of "humor, sophistication and spice."

The Great Depression and World War II were over and Playboy soon became forbidden fruit for teens and a bible for men with time and money, primed for the magazine's prescribed evenings of dimmed lights, hard drinks, soft jazz, deep thoughts and deeper desires. Within a year, circulation neared 200,000. Within five years, it had topped 1 million.

NEWSPAPER ADS
Buy Local
CLASSIFIED Yellow

Johnstown Magazine

Johnstown Magazine is a positive and forward-th monthly publication for people of our region.

Read now

Trending Recipes

Tomato Pie

BONNIE'S BEST BL RIBBON OVEN BA FRIES

Giant Danish

Most Popular

Articles

Visit our Israel resources and events page to stay up to date on ways to come together or catch up on recent teachings and events.

Next Service: Wednesday, June 12, 2024 at 10:00 am

B'NAI JESHURUN

Robert and Jane Baum
Georgette Bennett and Leonard Polonsky
Vitina Biondo and Yosef Riemer
Shirley Bisgeier
Jeannie Blaustein and Peter Bokor
Stacy Bolton
Edward Brill and Michele Levin
Brad Ruskin and Susan Brooks
Anomymous
Rodney Cohen and Sheryl Green
Deborah Colson and Mark Diker
Elizabeth and Jay Cooper
Ellen Corenswet and John Morgan
Marvin Davis and Adeena Karasick
Carol and Andrew Dikman
Rise Dimson and John Hatleberg
Barbara and Eric Dobkin
Alisa and Daniel Doctoroff
Rochelle Etingin
Christopher and Kai Falkenberg
Alex Federman and Tamar Kotz
Jeffrey and Michelle Feig
Michael Feldberg and Ruth Lazarus
Carl and Judith (z"l) Felsenfeld
Debra Fine and Martin Schneider
Donald Fishbein
Barbara and Joseph Friedman
Kay Gardiner
Michael Gertzman and Carole Balin
Jeffrey and Laurie Goldberger
Sally Gottesman
Vicki Gross and Jonathan Levine
Amy and Ronald Guttman
Elaine Heffner

PBS NEWS HOUR

Menu | Live

Remembering Hugh Hefner, American mogul of sex

Sep 28, 2017 7:13 PM EDT

Leave your feedback | Share •••

By – PBS NewsHour

Transcript | Audio

Playboy founder Hugh Hefner died Wednesday at 91. First published in 1953, the magazine made Hefner the face of sexual liberation in the 1960s and a subject of feminist critique. Jeffrey Brown looks back at Hefner's legacy with Amanda Marcotte of Salon and Todd Gitlin of Columbia University.

PLAYBOY
A VARGAS FAKIRTAINMENT
MARCH 2013
SELENA GOMEZ
THE ALL-AMERICAN POP PRINCESS DOES SEX ON THE BEACH
THE PLAYBOY INTERVIEW
SELENA IS HARD ON THE BIEBER: "BOYS ARE FUN, BUT I NEEDED A MAN."
SPECIAL EDITION COVER SET
COLLECT ALL THREE
Women in Love
Erin Daniels (above left, with dark hair) soaks up the love, and Leisha Hailey (above, far right) seemingly does a comparison test of antiperspirants on The L Word, Showtime's sexy lesbian melodrama.
Sopranos? Who Dey?
HBO insists its new series Tell Me You Love Me (above), about three couples dealing with their sex lives in therapy sessions, isn't just about sex. Do you think the network is referring to that stuff in between the sex parts?
(58 of 158)
Playboy USA - December 2007
Favorite
Share
Flag
classmates
Matt Heffner: CLASS OF 1992
Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu Class of 1992
Toronto, ON
Matt's Story
Matt is from Ashland, Pennsylvania. Matt's schools include Yeshiva Gedolah Zichron Shmayahu. Music Matt likes includes Metal. Books Ma...Expand for more
Send Email
Remember
ye·shi·va
[yə SHēvə]
noun
an Orthodox Jewish college or seminary.
an Orthodox Jewish elementary or secondary school.
A yeshiva, jeshibah is a traditi educational institution focused of Rabbinic literature, primarily and halacha, while Torah and
sky news
Home › World
Playboy founder Hugh Hefner dies aged 91
"Hef" established Playboy magazine in 1953 and turned it into one of the most recognisable American brands in history.
Thursday 28 September 2017 14:28, UK
Image:
Hugh Hefner poses with three Playmates in 2007
Playboy magazine founder Hugh Hefner has died at the age of 91.

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

CULTURE

How Hugh Hefner Commercialized Sex

The Playboy founder—who died at the age of 91—peddled an American dream that was as much about money as desire.

By Sophie Gilbert

Westcom / Starmax / AP

SEPTEMBER 28, 2017

SHARE SAVE

In 1953, Hugh Hefner was living out a stereotypical version of the American Dream. At the age of 27, he had a job (as a cartoonist and copywriter), a wife, and a baby daughter. As Elizabeth Fraterrigo notes in her 2009 book Playboy and the Making of the Good Life in Modern America, Hefner's home life was so picture-perfect that it was photographed for a two-page story in the Chicago Daily News. In one image, Hefner sits on the floor of a tidy, modern living room holding baby Christie, while his wife, Millie, watches from the couch, holding a magazine.

ADVERTISEMENT

DISCOVER THE ROLEX AND NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC PERPETUAL PLANET AMAZON EXPEDITION

63°

KOIN 6

WATCHING OUT FOR YOU

WATCH NOW

NEWS

Remembrance Day: Jewish Holocaust rescuers want their story told

Dezi Heffner-Reiner points to her photo on a poster in memory of members of the Zionist youth movement underground in Hungary during the Holocaust at a ceremony …

by: The Associated Press

Posted: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST

Updated: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST

SHARE

KIBBUTZ HAZOREA, Israel (AP) — Just before Nazi Germany invaded Hungary in March 1944, Jewish youth leaders in the eastern European country jumped into action: They formed an underground network that in the coming months would save tens of thousands of fellow Jews from the gas chambers.

DAILY STAR

Hugh Hefner 'Pig Night' sex parties saw 'carloads' of women brought to Playboy Mansion

Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', according to upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy. It's claimed pimps brought 'carloads' of women to the mansion for the parties

Bookmark SHARE Comments 1

By Samantha Bartlett Assistant Editor, Social Newsdesk

10:40, 18 JAN 2022

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night' (Image: WireImage)

Sign up for the Hot Topics newsletter for hot style and sex tips

More Newsletters

Enter your Email…

Subscribe

We use your sign-up to provide content in ways you've consented to and improve our understanding of you. This may include adverts from us and third parties based on our knowledge of you. More info

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', in upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy.

The Atlantic

How Hugh Hefner Commercialized Sex

The Playboy founder—who died at the age of 91—peddled an American dream that was as much about money as desire.

By Sophie Gilbert

In 1953, Hugh Hefner was living out a stereotypical version of the American Dream. At the age of 27, he had a job (as a cartoonist and copywriter), a wife and a baby daughter. As Elizabeth Fortenberry notes in her 2009 book Playboy and the Making of the Good Life in Modern America, Hefner's home life was so picture-perfect that it was photographed for a two-page story in the Chicago Daily News. In one image, Hefner sits on the floor of a tidy, modern living room holding baby Christie, while his wife, Millie, watches from the couch, holding a magazine.

63°

WATCH NOW

NEWS

Remembrance Day: Jewish Holocaust rescuers want their story told

Tess Hefner Rosner points to her photo on a poster in memory of members of the Hanoar youth movement, underground in Hungary during the Holocaust at a ceremony ...

By: The Associated Press
Posted: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST
Updated: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST

SHARE:

KIBBUTZ HAZOREA, Israel (AP) — Just before Nazi Germany invaded Hungary in March 1944, Jewish youth leaders in the eastern European country jumped into action: They formed an underground network that in the coming months would save tens of thousands of fellow Jews from the gas chambers.

STAR

Hugh Hefner 'Pig Night' sex parties saw 'carloads' of women brought to Playboy Mansion

Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', according to upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy. It's claimed pimps brought 'carloads' of women to the mansion for the parties.

Bookmark SHARE Comments 1

By Samantha Barbas, Associate Editor, Star on Newsstands
Date: 15 APR 2020

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night'. Image: Wikimedia

Sign up for the Hot Topics newsletter for hot style and sex tips

More Newsletters +

Enter your Email ...

Subscribe

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', in upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy.

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

CULTURE

How Hugh Hefner Commercialized Sex

The Playboy founder—who died at the age of 91—peddled an American dream that was as much about money as desire.

By Sophie Gilbert

Watson / Stanton / AP

SEPTEMBER 28, 2017 SHARE SAVE

In 1953, Hugh Hefner was living out a stereotypical version of the American Dream. At the age of 27, he had a job (as a cartoonist and copywriter), a wife, and a baby daughter. As Elizabeth Fraterrigo notes in her 2009 book Playboy and the Making of the Good Life in Modern America, Hefner's home life was so picture-perfect that it was photographed for a two-page story in the Chicago Daily News. In one image, Hefner sits on the floor of a tidy, modern living room holding baby Christie, while his wife, Millie, watches from the couch, holding a magazine.

ADVERTISEMENT

DISCOVER THE ROLEX AND NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC PERPETUAL PLANET AMAZON EXPEDITION

63° KOIN 6 WATCHING OUT FOR YOU WATCH NOW

NEWS

Remembrance Day: Jewish Holocaust rescuers want their story told

Dezi Heffner-Reiner points to her photo on a poster in memory of members of the Zionist youth movement underground in Hungary during the Holocaust at a ceremony ...

by: The Associated Press
Posted: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST
Updated: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST

SHARE

KIBBUTZ HAZOREA, Israel (AP) — Just before Nazi Germany invaded Hungary in March 1944, Jewish youth leaders in the eastern European country jumped into action: They formed an underground network that in the coming months would save tens of thousands of fellow Jews from the gas chambers.

DAILY STAR

Hugh Hefner 'Pig Night' sex parties saw 'carloads' of women brought to Playboy Mansion

Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', according to upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy. It's claimed pimps brought 'carloads' of women to the mansion for the parties

Bookmark SHARE Comments 1

By Samantha Bartlett Assistant Editor, Social Newsdesk
10:40, 18 JAN 2022

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night' (Image: Wireimage)

Sign up for the Hot Topics newsletter for hot style and sex tips

More Newsletters →

Enter your Email... Subscribe

We use your sign-up to provide content in ways you've consented to and improve our understanding of you. This may include adverts from us and third parties based on our knowledge of you. More info

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', in upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy.

James Earl Ray - Wikipedia

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/James_Earl_Ray

James Earl Ray

Early life and education

Initial convictions and first escape from prison

Post first escape

Activity in early 1968

69°F
Mostly cloudy

Search

1:30 AM
6/12/2024

18+ Playboy Plus 18+ Magazine Archives Playboy Shop 18+ Playboy Club Join Now Log In

Shows Episodes Models

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 1

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 2

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 3

TV FOR 2

SexArt

Season 1, Episode 4

Avraham Heffner

4 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2009

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 17. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor BaLevana).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1969 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensitivity" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde-European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where Is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where Is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1998, Eretz Ktana, Ish Gadol [Small Country, Great Man], is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1990s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life-time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel Aviv University, and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Renen Shor, Ari Folman, Hagai Levi, Menashe Noy and Dover Kosashvili.

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Empire and Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article 633

In 2008, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to talk about his influences, his well-publicized lifestyle and his labor of love.
Lucy Nicholson/Reuters

By Laura Mansnerus
Sept. 27, 2017

Leer en español · 阅读简体中文版 · 閱讀繁體中文版

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spun it into a media and entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its very public avatar, squiring attractive young women (and sometimes marrying them) well into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Playboy Mansion, in the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Hefner the man and Playboy the brand were inseparable. Both advertised themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an escape from American priggishness and wider social intolerance. Both were derided over the years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and

THE IRISH TIMES

Ireland

Heart disappears after jail death

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed...

Sat Jun 20 1998 - 01:00

Edinburgh - The body of a Scottish man who died in Israel was returned to his family without the heart, which had been removed during a post-mortem examination, a pathologist confirmed yesterday.

Now his family are believed to be questioning whether a heart sent later was the right one. Alistair Sinclair (47), from Selkirk, is believed to have hanged himself in jail in April after being arrested on suspicion of drug smuggling.

BBC NEWS

Front Page
World
UK
UK Politics
Business
Sci/Tech
Health
Education
Sport
Entertainment
Talking Point

Sunday, December 20, 1998 Published at 16:21 GMT

World: Middle East

Israel sued over 'wrong heart'

Sinclair's brother made the claims in Tel Aviv

The family of a Scottish tourist who died in Israel say the authorities have returned the wrong heart.

Alistair Sinclair's relatives are suing Israel for one million shekels (£142,053) for removing his heart and thyroid for medical tests without their permission.

Sinclair, a musician from Selkirk in the Scottish borders, was arrested in Israel in April on his way out of the country. He was alleged to have been smuggling drugs.

Police found him the next morning hanging from his shoelaces in his cell. Police said it was suicide but Sinclair's family believe he was killed.

His body was returned for cremation, minus the heart which was removed during a post-mortem examination.

Transplant theory

A heart was later sent to the family, who ordered forensic tests in Glasgow to find out whether it matched genetic samples taken from the dead man's body before the funeral.

Speaking in Tel Aviv on Sunday, Sinclair's brother James said he believed Israel kept his brother's heart and may have even used it in an organ transplant.

Africa | Americas | Asia-Pacific | Europe | Middle East | South Asia

Internet Links

Israel's Ministry of Health

The BBC is not responsible for the content of external internet sites.

In this section

Safety chief deplores crash speculation
Iraq oil-for-food aid extended
Israel demands soccer sex scandal inquiry
Israeli PM's plane in accident
Jordan police stop trade unionists prayers
New Israeli raid in southern Lebanon
New demand over PLO terror list
Earthquake hits Iran
New UN decision on Iraq expected
Algerian president pledges reform

PALESTINE CHRONICLE

HOME | NEWS | Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

Israel Steals Body Parts: Palestinians

September 13, 2009

The controversy triggered by a Swedish newspaper report about Israel's harvesting of Palestinian organs has salted the wounds of many Palestinian families haunted by the memories of loved ones who suffered the same fate.

"They claimed they came to arrest him, but in truth they came to murder him, which they did," Walid Masaimeh, a resident of the small West Bank town of Dura, 10 kilometer west of Al-Khalil (Hebron), said about his relative Bassam.

In 1995, Bassam was killed by the Israeli army at the village of Ibn Awwa, located near the former armistice line between the West Bank and what is now Israel.
"But 24 hours later they returned the body with a huge scar running from the chin to the lower abdomen," Walid remembers.

"They took all the vital organs, including the heart, kidneys, Liver. Then they stuffed the empty cavities with garbage before sewing him up."

Several other Palestinians gave a similar narrative, recounting how they received the bodies of their murdered relatives, mostly men in their early twenties, with vital organs taken away by the Israeli authorities.

YOU HURT
MY FEELING

n Killed?

A charred body, shining stones and a convicted man's assertion of innocence

David Cross
Video, News,

David Cross is an stand-up performa
sitcom Arrested D

David Cross Biogr

David Cross was b a Jewish family. H his birth, Cross an moves to Connect his family remaine
having two younge

12 KFVS FIRST ALERT Your First Alert Station

82° Cape Girardeau, MO

Watch Live Latest Video First Alert Weather

Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case

Published: Sep. 29, 2008 at 6:37 PM CDT | Updated: Sep. 30, 2008 at 4:24 PM CDT

Two Make Plea Deal in Currin Murder Case

By: Heartland News

MAYFIELD, Ky. - Two people charged in the murder of a Murray teen eight years ago make a plea deal in the case.

Jeffrey Burton and Tamara Caldwell entered Alford pleas Monday to manslaughter and abuse of a corpse.

Burton entered the same plea to tampering with physical evidence.

All other charges against the pair were dropped. Sentencing is set for October 17th.

Burton and Caldwell are two of five people charged in the death of 18-year-old Jessica Currin, whose burned body was found in 2000.

Quincy Omar Cross, considered the ringleader of the group, was convicted in April of kidnap, rape and murder.

Monica Lewinsky Leaves Behind A Fortune That Makes Her Family...

Daily Sparrow

How Was Jessica Currin Killed?

According to Talk Murder With Me, the following details of Jessica Currin's murder were given by a key witness named Victoria.

On the night of July 29, 2000, a man named Quincy Cross and a woman named Tamara Caldwell approached her for sex. However, when she rejected their advances, Cross hit her with a baseball bat, which knocked her unconscious. They took her to the house of another man, named Jeffrey Burton, and sexually assaulted her.

Soon, Quincy Cross hit the 18-year-old on her head with a wrench and strangled her to death using his black braided belt. Cross along with her posse placed Jessica's corpse in Burton's garage. However, when the body began to decay, it was taken to the school and set on fire.

DEBANGSHU NATH

Debangshu watched a couple of Scorsese, Tarantino and Coppola films in seventh grade and developed an unhealthy obsession with criminals, psychopaths and serial killers. Fueled by his passion for Death, Thrash and Black Metal, he finds solace in writing about some of the most deranged people and incidents in human history.

Thank God for cats.

Investigation Discovery | Jessica Currin murder | Mom's Night Out | Murder in the Heartland | True Crime News

SHARE ARTICLE

CNN US Watch Listen Live TV Sign In

A charred body, shifting stories and a convicted man's assertion of innocence

By Jacque Smith, CNN

12 minute read · Updated 11:40 AM EST, Mon November 13, 2023

Quincy Cross listened during his sentencing on April 9, 2008, in Hickman County Circuit Court in Kentucky. Cross was convicted of murder, rape, kidnapping, abuse of a corpse and tampering with evidence. Stephen Lance Dennee/The Paducah Sun/AP

Editor's Note: This story contains language that some readers may find offensive.

(CNN) — Crooked cops. Drug dealers. Secret agendas.

The rumor mill churned after the body of 18-year-old Jessica Currin was found burned and decomposing behind Mayfield Middle School in 2000. People in the small Kentucky town still talk about the case – or don't want to talk at all, if an outsider is asking the questions.

A jury deliberated for 3 hours and 45 minutes before convicting Quincy Omar Cross of murder, rape, sodomy, kidnapping, evidence tampering and abuse of a corpse in 2008 and sentenced him to life in prison. But Cross has always expressed his innocence, and Currin's father, Joe Currin, has come to believe Cross was wrongfully convicted. For over a decade, he has advocated for finding the person who, he says, really killed his daughter.

"We've just always (been) hoping that the truth would bring itself out," Joe Currin said. "But when you've got more people hiding the truth than you do trying to get to the truth, it's kind of hard to do."

IMDb Sign In Use app

David Cross Biography: In His Own Words – Exclusive Video, News, Photos, Age

David Cross is an American actor, director and comedian who is best known for his stand-up performances, as well as his role as Tobias Fünke in the cult Netflix sitcom Arrested Development.

David Cross Biography: Age, Early Life, Family, Education

David Cross was born on April 4, 1964 (David Cross age: 59) in Roswell, Georgia, to a Jewish family. His father, Barry, emigrated from Leeds, England. Half a year after his birth, Cross and his family relocated to Florida. After a couple of additional moves to Connecticut and New York, Cross settled back in Roswell, where he and his family remained for about a decade. Cross is the eldest of three children, having two younger sisters, Juli and Wendy Cross.

Avraham Heffner

Article Talk

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Avraham Heffner (Hebrew: אברהם הפנר; 7 May 1935 – 19 September 2014) was an Israeli film and television director, screenwriter, author and Professor Emeritus at the Tel-Aviv University. He was a recipient of the Ophir Award for lifetime achievements.

Avraham Heffner

Heffner in Tel-Aviv, October 2006

Born	7 May 1935 Haifa, Mandatory Palestine
Died	19 September 2014 (aged 79) Tel-Aviv, Israel
Occupation(s)	Film director, screenwriter, author, lecturer

Biography [edit]

Heffner graduated from the Hebrew Reali School in Haifa and served in the IDF with the Nahal Army Band. After his IDF service, he studied French literature at the Sorbonne, Paris. His love for the cinema began, according to him, at the age of 13. He began his career as an actor (in Uri Zohar's Hor Balaxania).

His first movie as director was Slow Down (1967), an adaptation of a short story by Simone de Beauvoir, which won him the Silver Lion Award at the 1968 Venice Film Festival. In the 1960s and the 1970s he was among the Israeli directors creating more personal and social films (in the "New Sensibility" genre), films that were influenced from the Avant-garde European cinema. The most significant example for these type of films is Heffner's first feature, But Where is Daniel Wax?, which he wrote and directed. But Where is Daniel Wax?, Heffner's most important and famous film, is considered by film critics and Israeli film researchers to be the best Israeli movie of all time.

Two other films of his, Aunt Clara (1977) and Laura Adler's Last Love Affair, are considered to be a eulogy to the old Yiddish speakers, European Jews who live in Israel. Aunt Clara, a semi-autobiographical film about Heffner's own family, tells the story of three Poland-born aunts in Israel, who are looking after their young nieces. Laura Adler's Last Love Affair is a eulogy to the Israeli Yiddish theater and its old actors.

The television film he created in 1986, Erets Afela, Ish Gadol (Small Country, Great Man), is a cynical look at the ever-changing State of Israel of the 1980s and the Zionist myths, which in Heffner's opinion, are now gone.

Heffner lectured for many years on filmmaking and screenwriting at the Tel-Aviv University.[1][2]

In 2004, Heffner won the Ophir Award for his life time of achievements in Israeli Cinema. His films are held at the Jewish film archives.[3]

Heffner died on 19 September 2014.[4][5]

Influence [edit]

Heffner was a screenwriting lecturer in the mid-1970s at the Tel-Aviv University and influenced many well-known Israeli filmmakers such as Eitan Green, Pinhas Shiv, Avi Florman, Hagai Levi, Menahem Rog and Doron Kavillaris.

The New York Times

Hugh Hefner, Who Built the Playboy Embodied It, Dies at 91

Share full article Save More

In 2005, the founder of the Playboy empire sat down with The New York Times to discuss his influence, his well-publicized lifestyle and his sense of time. Gary H

By Laura Massenzio

Sept. 27, 2017

Listen to a reporter [illegible] [illegible]

Hugh Hefner, who created Playboy magazine and spur entertainment-industry giant — all the while, as its ve squiring attractive young women (and sometimes mar into his 80s — died on Wednesday at his home, the Pla the Holmby Hills area of Los Angeles. He was 91.

His death was announced by Playboy Enterprises.

Helmer: the man and Playboy the brand were inseparab themselves as emblems of the sexual revolution, an ea prudishness and wider social intolerance. Both were d years — as vulgar, as adolescent, as exploitative and la unauthentic. But Mr. Hefner was a stunning success t emerged in the early 1950s. His timing was perfect.

He was compared to Joy Gatsby, Citizen Kane and Wal Hefner was his own production. He repeatedly likened romantic movie; it starred an ageless sophisticate in si

Advanced Search

Register

Browse

All Content | Images

Search journals, books, images, and primary sources

JOURNAL ARTICLE

Gangster Generation: Crime, Jews and the Problem of Assimilation

Rachel Rubin

Shofar

Vol. 33, No. 4 (SUMMER 2015), pp. 1-17 (17 pages)

Published by: Purdue University Press

https://www.jstor.org/stable/42943689

Cite

Read and download

Log in through your school or library

Alternate access options

For Independent researchers

This is a preview. Log in through your library.

The Notorious Purple Gang: Detroit's All-Jewish Prohibition Era Mob

Robert A. Rockaway
Tel Aviv University

During Prohibition (1920–1933), Jewish gangsters became major operators in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. At the time, Jewish gangs dominated illicit activities in a number of American large cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York, and Philadelphia. One of the most notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang. The gang dealt in bootlegging, gambling, extortion, drugs, and murder, and developed a reputation for being more ruthless than Al Capone's mob in Chicago. The Purple's also adopted ways of crime unlike those of the gang's contemporaries, either sent to prison or were murdered by rivals.

After World War I, Jewish gangsters became major operators in the American underworld and played prominent roles in the creation and extension of organized crime in the United States. During the Prohibition era (1919–1933), 80 percent of the country's leading bootleggers were Jews, and Jewish criminals financed and directed much of the nation's narcotics traffic. Jewish gangs also dominated illicit activities in a number of America's large cities, including Cleveland, Detroit, Minneapolis, Newark, New York and Philadelphia.[1] Perhaps the most notorious of these all-Jewish mobs was Detroit's Purple Gang.

---

[1] See Mark Haller, "Bootleggers and American Gambling, 1920–1950," in Gambling in America: Commission on the Review of National Policy Toward Gambling, Appendix 1 (Washington, D.C., 1976), p. 186; David Cantor/Jerome Joseph, and Stan Nye Barlas, Addicts Who Survived: an Oral History of Narcotic Use in America, 1923–1965 (Knoxville, 1989), pp. 115 n. 2, 186–190, 199–215; and U.S. Congress, Senate Special Committee to Investigate Organized Crime in Interstate Commerce, 81st Congress, 1st Session, 1950, Part 2, Hughes Rice, Blood and Power: Organized Crime in Twentieth-Century America (New York, 1970), pp. 24–33; Albert Fried, The Rise and Fall of the Jewish Gangster in America (New York, 1980); Humbert S. Nelli, The Business of Crime: Italians and Syndicate Crime in the United States (New York, 1976), pp. 168–169, 172; Jenna Weissman Joselit, Our Gang: Jewish Crime and the New York Jewish Community, 1900–1940 (Bloomington, 1983), especially pp. 140–156; and Robert Rockaway, But We Were Good to Our Mother: The Lives and Times of Jewish Gangsters (Jerusalem, 2000), pp. 1–13. See also: Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI), files 92-3153, 24-4445, 62-24182, 62-69924, and 62-69927-1. The FBI files are located at the Federal Bureau of Investigation headquarters, Washington, D.C.

Los Zetas

27 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Los Zetas (pronounced [los ˈsetas], Spanish for "The Zs") is a Mexican criminal syndicate, known as one of the most dangerous of Mexico's drug cartels.[17][18][19][20][21] They are known for engaging in brutally violent "shock and awe" tactics such as beheadings, torture, and indiscriminate murder.[22] While primarily concerned with drug trafficking, the organization also runs profitable sex and gun rackets.[23] Los Zetas also operate through protection rackets, assassinations, extortion, kidnappings and other illegal activities.[24] The organization is based in Nuevo Laredo, Tamaulipas, directly across the border from Laredo, Texas.[25] The origins of Los Zetas date back to the late 1990s, when commandos of the Mexican Army deserted their ranks and began working as the enforcement arm of the Gulf Cartel.[27][28] In February 2010, Los Zetas broke away and formed their own criminal organization, rivalling the Gulf Cartel.[27][28]

They were at one point Mexico's largest and most expansive drug cartel in terms of geographical presence, overtaking their rivals, the Sinaloa Cartel, in physical territory.[29] However, in recent times Los Zetas has become fragmented and seen its influence diminish.[30] As of March 2016, Grupo Bravo (Bravo Group) and Zetas Vieja Escuela (Old School Zetas) have formed an alliance with the Gulf Cartel against Cartel Del Noreste (Cartel of the Northeast).[31] In March 2019, Texas Republican congressman Chip Roy introduced a bill that would list the Cartel Del Noreste faction of Los Zetas, Jalisco New Generation Cartel and Gulf Cartel as foreign terrorist organizations. Former United States President Donald Trump had also expressed interest in designating cartels as terrorist organizations.[32] However such plans were halted at the request of Mexican President Andrés Manuel López Obrador.[33]

History [edit]

Etymology [edit]

Los Zetas was named after its first commander, Arturo Guzmán Decena, whose Federal Judicial

Los Zetas

Los Zetas

Founded by	Osiel Cárdenas Guillén,[1] Arturo Guzmán Decena
Founding location	Tamaulipas
Years active	1997–present
Territory	Mexico: Tamaulipas, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, Veracruz, Tabasco, Campeche, Yucatán, Quintana Roo, San Luis Potosí, Chiapas, Puebla, Tlaxcala, Hidalgo, Guerrero, Oaxaca, Guanajuato, Zacatecas, Aguascalientes, Michoacán, State of México Rest of North America: United States, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Costa Rica, Nicaragua South America: Colombia, Peru, Panama, and Venezuela[7] Europe: Balkans, France, Germany, Italy, Spain, Portugal, European Union, Norway, Switzerland and Liechtenstein
Ethnicity	Multi-ethnic, but mainly Mexican and Latino
Membership (est.)	20,000-50,000
Leader(s)	Maxiley Barahona Nadales
Criminal activities	Drug trafficking, human trafficking arms trafficking, murder, rape, kidnapping, racketeering, extortion, arson, hacking, video piracy, prostitution, theft[10][11][12][13]
Allies	Tijuana Cartel Juárez Cartel Ndrangheta Los Macatecos

Was Dickens' guilt about Fagin a product of his Jewish family?

Documentary evidence, including contemporary copies of the JC, sheds fascinating new light on Dickens's Jewishness

May 23, 2022 14:32

The recent BBC series Dodger, a "prequel" to one aspect of Charles Dickens's story of Oliver Twist, has revived once more the eternal controversy over the malevolent figure of Fagin, and this character's role in the dark history of antisemitism.

In 1863, some 25 years after the publication of Oliver Twist, Dickens was taken to task by Eliza Davis, a middle aged jewish woman who persuaded him to make at least some reparation for the damage he had caused. Their correspondence, which was published soon after his death, is held to be responsible for his decision to remove much of the most offensive material in the novel, as well as for inspiring the inclusion of the saintly Jewish character Riah, in Our Mutual Friend.

Eliza Davis's influence on Dickens can be said to have resulted in the restoration of his reputation in the eyes of the Anglo-Jewish community — or at least in the eyes of the editors of the Jewish Chronicle. The paper had accused Dickens of "pandering to a vitiated taste" in creating Fagin, and being "a contaminating influence". Yet after his death, he was described in terms of real affection, indeed something approaching reverence, and accompanied by a genuine sense of loss. The JC observed that the novelist's work had struck a chord, "broke it to a pure echo and

amazon

Deliver to Israel | All | Search Amazon | EN | Hello, sign in Account & Lists | Returns & Orders

All | Medical Care | Groceries | Best Sellers | Amazon Basics | New Releases | Prime | Music | Customer Service | Today's Deals

Customer Review

orniel antonio rodriguez decena

★★★★★ Buen libro

Reviewed in the United States on January 25, 2020

Verified Purchase

Excelente libro . Algunos errores de traducción .

Helpful | Report | Permalink

Translate review to English

Product Details

Libro De Oraciones Hebreo- Espanol by Sinai publication

★★★★☆ 4.5 out of 5

56 global ratings

5 star	79%
4 star	4%
3 star	8%
2 star	3%

(Top)
- Early life
- Criminal career
  - Early activities and prison
  - Early cocaine career
  - Norman's Cay
- Return to Colombia
  - Participation in the MAS
  - The National Latin Movement

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this Spanish name, the first or paternal surname is Lehder and the second or maternal family name is Rivas.

Carlos Enrique Lehder Rivas (born 7 September 1949)[8] is a Colombian and German former drug lord who was co-founder of the Medellín Cartel. Born to a German father and Colombian mother,[10] he was the first high-level drug trafficker extradited to the United States, after which he was released from prison in the United States after 33 years in 2020.[11][12] Originally from Armenia, Colombia, Lehder eventually ran a cocaine transport empire on Norman's Cay island, 210 miles (340 km) off the Florida coast in the central Bahamas.[11][13]

Lehder was one of the founding members of Muerte a Secuestradores ("MAS"), a paramilitary group whose focus was to retaliate against the kidnappings of cartel members and their families[11] by the guerrillas.[14][15][16][17] His motivation to join the MAS was to retaliate against the M-19 guerrilla movement, which, in November 1981, attempted to kidnap him for a ransom; Lehder managed to escape from the kidnappers, though he was shot in the leg.[18] He was one

Carlos Lehder

JHSSC | JEWISH HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF SOUTH CAROLINA

CONTACT

PROJECTS ABOUT SUPPORT EVEN
BURIALS & MEMORIALS

Kahal Kadosh Beth Elohim (KKBE) Memori

90 Hasell Street Charleston, SC

Show 50 entries

Surname	LEHDER	LEHDER
Given Name(s)	Bernard	Helen SOMMERFIELD
Date of Birth	11-Jan-1922	07-Nov-1924
Date of Death (English)	26-Feb-2002	03-Jun-2010

1. Thieves' stars

History Channel/YouTube

Depending on the location on the body, the stars convey a prisoner's status. When worn on the knees, the stars are a sign of a prisoner who commands respect. The implied meaning is "I will never get on my knees in front of anyone."

Stars on the chest mark a higher rank. Only the most respected can wear the thieves' stars in that area of the body. The tattoos must be earned, and an inmate wearing an undeserved tattoo risks a beating or worse.

Pinterest Today Watch Shop Explore Log in Sign up

Read it Save

russian-criminal-tattoos.tumblr.com

Russian Criminal Tattoos

Various Thieves' Stars - I Top-right: The tattoo of an authoritative pickpocket, nicknamed 'Yasha the Pianist'. A university dropout, he was very experienced and careful. Two crews of policemen from...

Tatting Tattoos Criminal Tattoo Russian Criminal Tattoo Pentacle

naitsirhc Lone
30 followers

More like this

ments

No comments yet! Add one to start the conversation.

WIKIPEDIA
The Free Encyclopedia

Semion Mogilevich

22 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this name that follows Eastern Slavic naming customs, the patronymic is Yudkovich and the family name is Mogilevich.

Semion Yudkovich Mogilevich (Ukrainian: Семен Юдкович Могилевич, romanized: Semén Yúdkovych Mohylévych [seˈmɛn ˈjudkowʲtʃ mohɪˈlewʲtʃ]; born June 30, 1946) is a Jewish Ukrainian-born Russian organized crime boss. He quickly built a highly structured criminal organization, in the mode of an American mafia family; many of the organization's 250 members are his relatives.[3] He is described by agencies in the European Union and United States as the "boss of all bosses" of most Russian Mafia syndicates in the world,[4] he is believed to direct a multibillion-dollar international criminal empire and is described by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) as "the most powerful and dangerous gangster in the world," with immense power and reach at a global scale, and connections to prominent government, military, and law enforcement officials, and powerful politicians around the world.[5][3] He has been accused by the FBI of "weapons trafficking, contract murders, extortion, drug trafficking, and prostitution on an international scale."[6]

Mogilevich's nicknames include "Don Semyon" and "The Brainy Don" (because of his business acumen).[7] According to US diplomatic cables, he controls RosUkrEnergo,[8] a company actively involved in Russia–Ukraine gas disputes, and is a partner of Ivan Gordiyenko.

Mogilevich has three children and is closely associated with the Solntsevskaya crime group. He has alliances with political figures, including Yury Luzhkov, the former Mayor of Moscow, Dmytro Firtash, and Leonid Derkach, former head of the Security Service of Ukraine.[9][10][11] Oleksandr Turchynov, who was designated the acting President of Ukraine in February 2014, appeared in court in 2010 for allegedly destroying files pertaining to Mogilevich.[12] Shortly before his assassination, Russian FSB defector Alexander Litvinenko claimed Mogilevich had a "good

Semion Mogilevich

An image of Semion Mogilevich released by the FBI and State Department on 6 April 2022

FBI Ten Most Wanted Fugitive

Charges
- Fraud by Wire
- Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act Conspiracy
- Mail Fraud
- Money Laundering Conspiracy
- Money Laundering
- Arms trafficking
- Drug trafficking
- Human trafficking
- Aiding and Abetting
- Murder
- Smuggling
- Prostitution
- Securities fraud
- Filing False Registration With the SEC
- False Filings With the SEC
- Falsification of Books and Records

Alias Seva Moguilevich

The Sun News Sport Fabulous TV Showbiz Money More

News > World News

'BOSS OF BOSSES' Who is Semion Mogilevich and where is he now?

Evelyn Richards

Published: 10:32, 28 Jul 2020 | Updated: 14:17, 22 Dec 2021

SEMION Mogilevich is one of the most powerful and dangerous mobsters in the world.

The crime boss is one of the subjects in Netflix's true-crime docu-series World's Most Wanted.

2

Semion Mogilevich was placed on the FBI's Ten Most Wanted list in 2009

Credit: The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI)

Who is Semion Mogilevich?

Semion Mogilevich is a Ukrainian-born Russian organised crime boss.

He is described by agencies across the globe as the "boss of bosses" of most Russian Mafia syndicates in the world.

The FBI has dubbed him as "the most dangerous mobster in the world".

His net worth is estimated to be $10billion.

Mogilevich was born in 1946 to a Jewish family in Kiev.

He joined the Lyubertskaya crime clan in the early 1970s. After his apprenticeship, he started his own syndicate, the Solntsdevo gang.

status. When worn on the knees, the stars

g to "I will never get on my knees in front of wear the thieves' stars on that area of the ned tattoo risks a beating or worse.

Log in | Sign up

Read in | Save

n Criminal Tattoos

Wikipedia

Semion Mogilevich

Article | Talk | Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Semion Mogilevich

An image of Semion Mogilevich released by the FBI and State Department on 6 April 2009

FBI Ten Most Wanted Fugitive

Charges

- Fraud by Wire
- Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act Conspiracy
- Mail Fraud
- Money Laundering Conspiracy
- Money Laundering
- Sexual trafficking
- Drug trafficking
- Human trafficking
- Selling and Reselling
- Murder
- Smuggling
- Prostitution
- Securities Fraud
- Filing False Registration with the SEC
- False Filings With the SEC
- Falsification of Books and Records

Allies: Sam Mogilevich

Sun

News > Wo

'BOSS O

is he no

SEMION M

in the wo

The crime

World's M

Semion Mo

Who is

Semion M

He is desc

most Rus

The FBI hi

His net wo

Mogilevic

He joined apparatc

1. Thieves' stars

History Channel YouTube

Depending on the location on the body, the stars convey a prisoner's status. When worn on the knees, the stars are a sign of a prisoner who commands respect. The implied meaning is "I will never get on my knees in front of anyone."

Stars on the chest mark a higher rank. Only the most respected can wear the thieves' stars in that area of the body. The tattoos must be earned, and an inmate wearing an undeserved tattoo risks a beating or worse.

Pinterest Today Watch Shop Explore Log in Sign up

Save

russian-criminal-tattoos.tumblr.com

Russian Criminal Tattoos

Various Thieves' Stars - I Top-right: The tattoo of an authoritative pickpocket, nicknamed "Nasha the Pianist". A university dropout, he was very experienced and careful. Two crows of policemen from...

nadiarifa Lyone
20 followers

Move like this

Wikipedia
The Free Encyclopedia

Semion Mogilevich

22 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this name that follows Eastern Slavic naming customs, the patronymic is Yudkovich and the family name is Mogilevich.

Semion Yudkovich Mogilevich (Ukrainian: Семен Юдкович Могилевич, romanized: Semén Yúdkovych Mohylévych [se mɔn ˈjudkowɪtʃ mɔɦɪˈlewɪtʃ]; born June 30, 1946) is a Jewish Ukrainian-born Russian organized crime boss. He quickly built a highly structured criminal organization, in the mode of an American mafia family; many of the organization's 250 members are his relatives.[7] He is described by agencies in the European Union and United States as the "boss of all bosses" of most Russian Mafia syndicates in the world;[8] he is believed to direct a multibillion-dollar international criminal empire and is described by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) as "the most powerful and dangerous gangster in the world," with immense power and reach at a global scale, and connections to prominent government, military, and law enforcement officials, and powerful politicians around the world.[9][10] He has been accused by the FBI of "weapons trafficking, contract murders, extortion, drug trafficking, and prostitution on an international scale."[11]

Mogilevich's nicknames include "Don Semyon" and "The Brainy Don" (because of his business acumen).[7] According to US diplomatic cables, he controls RosUkrEnergo,[12] a company actively involved in Russia–Ukraine gas dispute, and is a partner of Ivan Gordiyenko.

Mogilevich has three children and is closely associated with the Solntsevskaya crime group. He has alliances with political figures, including Yury Luzhkov, the former Mayor of Moscow, Dmytro Firtash, and Leonid Derkach, former head of the Security Service of Ukraine.[13][14][15] Oleksandr Turchynov, who was designated the acting President of Ukraine in February 2014, appeared in court in 2010 for allegedly destroying files pertaining to Mogilevich.[16] Shortly before his assassination, Russian FSB defector Alexander Litvinenko claimed Mogilevich had a "good

Semion Mogilevich

An image of Semion Mogilevich released by the FBI and State Department on 6 April 2022

FBI Ten Most Wanted Fugitive

Charges	• Fraud by Wire • Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act Conspiracy • Mail Fraud • Money Laundering Conspiracy • Money Laundering • Arms trafficking • Drug trafficking • Human trafficking • Aiding and Abetting • Murder • Smuggling • Prostitution • Securities fraud • Filing False Registration With the SEC • False Filings With the SEC • Falsification of Books and Records
Alias	Dave Mogilevich

Sun News Sport Fabulous TV Showbiz Money More

News > World News

'BOSS OF BOSSES' Who is Semion Mogilevich and where is he now?

Evelyn Richards

Published 10:02, 28 Jul 2020 | Updated 14:17, 22 Dec 2020

SEMION Mogilevich is one of the most powerful and dangerous mobsters in the world.

The crime boss is one of the subjects in Netflix's true-crime docu-series World's Most Wanted.

2

Semion Mogilevich was placed on the FBI's Ten Most Wanted list in 2009

Credit: The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI)

Who is Semion Mogilevich?

Semion Mogilevich is a Ukrainian-born Russian organised crime boss.

He is described by agencies across the globe as the "boss of bosses" of most Russian Mafia syndicates in the world.

The FBI has dubbed him as "the most dangerous mobster in the world".

His net worth is estimated to be $10billion.

Mogilevich was born in 1946 to a Jewish family in Kiev.

He joined the Lyubertsikaya crime clan in the early 1970s. After his apprenticeship, he started his own syndicate, the Solntsdevo gang.

1. Thieves' stars

History Channel/YouTube

Depending on the location on the body, the stars convey a prisoner's status. When worn on the knees, the stars are a sign of a prisoner who commands respect. The implied meaning is "I will never get on my knees in front of anyone."

Stars on the chest mark a higher rank. Only the most respected can wear the thieves' stars in that area of the body. The tattoos must be earned, and an inmate wearing an undeserved tattoo risks a beating or worse.

WIKIPEDIA
The Free Encyclopedia

Semion Mogilevich

22 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this name that follows Eastern Slavic naming customs, the patronymic is Yudkovich and the family name is Mogilevich.

Semion Yudkovich Mogilevich (Ukrainian: Семен Юдкович Могилевич, romanized: Semén Yúdkovych Mohylévych [ˈsɛˈmɛn ˈjudkowt͡ʃ ˈmoɦɪ lewt͡ʃ]; born June 30, 1946) is a Jewish Ukrainian-born Russian organized crime boss. He quickly built a highly structured criminal organization, in the mode of an American mafia family; many of the organization's 250 members are his relatives.[7] He is described by agencies in the European Union and United States as the "boss of all bosses" of most Russian Mafia syndicates in the world,[4] he is believed to direct a multibillion-dollar international criminal empire and is described by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) as "the most powerful and dangerous gangster in the world," with immense power and reach at a global scale, and connections to prominent government, military, and law enforcement officials, and powerful politicians around the world.[9][7] He has been accused by the FBI of "weapons trafficking, contract murders, extortion, drug trafficking, and prostitution on an international scale."[8]

Mogilevich's nicknames include "Don Semyon" and "The Brainy Don" (because of his business acumen).[7] According to US diplomatic cables, he controls RosUrEnergo,[9] a company actively involved in Russia–Ukraine gas disputes, and is a partner of Ivan Gordyenko.

Mogilevich has three children and is closely associated with the Solntsevskaya crime group. He has alliances with political figures, including Yury Luzhkov, the former Mayor of Moscow, Dmytro Firtash, and Leonid Derkach, former head of the Security Service of Ukraine.[9][10][11] Oleksandr Turchynov, who was designated the acting President of Ukraine in February 2014, appeared in court in 2010 for allegedly destroying files pertaining to Mogilevich.[12] Shortly before his assassination, Russian FSB defector Alexander Litvinenko claimed Mogilevich had a "good

Semion Mogilevich

An image of Semion Mogilevich released by the FBI and State Department on 6 April 2022

FBI: Ten Most Wanted Fugitive

Charges
- Fraud by Wire
- Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act Conspiracy
- Mail Fraud
- Money Laundering Conspiracy
- Money Laundering
- Arms trafficking
- Drug trafficking
- Human trafficking
- Aiding and Abetting
- Murder
- Smuggling
- Prostitution
- Securities fraud
- Filing False Registration With the SEC
- False Filings With the SEC
- Falsification of Books and Records

Alias Seva Mogulevich

1. Thieves' stars

History Channel/YouTube

Depending on the location on the body, the stars convey a prisoner's status. When worn on the knees, the stars are a sign of a prisoner who commands respect. The implied meaning is "I will never get on my knees in front of anyone."

Stars on the chest mark a higher rank. Only the most respected can wear the thieves' stars in that area of the body. The tattoos must be earned, and an inmate wearing an undeserved tattoo risks a beating or worse.

Pinterest Today Watch Shop Explore Log in Sign up

Read it Save

russian-criminal-tattoos.tumblr.com

Russian Criminal Tattoos

Various Thieves' Stars - I Top-right: The tattoo of an authoritative pickpocket, nicknamed 'Yasha the Pianist'. A university dropout, he was very experienced and careful. Two crews of policemen from...

Tatting Tattoos Criminal Tattoo Russian Criminal Tattoo Pentacle

naitsirhc Lone
30 followers

More like this

nents

No comments yet! Add one to start the conversation.

WIKIPEDIA
The Free Encyclopedia

Semion Mogilevich

22 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this name that follows Eastern Slavic naming customs, the patronymic is Yudkovich and the family name is Mogilevich.

Semion Yudkovich Mogilevich (Ukrainian: Семен Юдкович Могилевич, romanized: Semén Yúdkovych Mohylévych [se˴mɛn ˴judkowtʃ moɦɪ˴lɛwtʃ]; born June 30, 1946) is a Jewish Ukrainian-born Russian organized crime boss. He quickly built a highly structured criminal organization, in the mode of an American mafia family; many of the organization's 250 members are his relatives.[3] He is described by agencies in the European Union and United States as the "boss of all bosses" of most Russian Mafia syndicates in the world,[4] he is believed to direct a multibillion-dollar international criminal empire and is described by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) as "the most powerful and dangerous gangster in the world," with immense power and reach at a global scale, and connections to prominent government, military, and law enforcement officials, and powerful politicians around the world.[5][3] He has been accused by the FBI of "weapons trafficking, contract murders, extortion, drug trafficking, and prostitution on an international scale."[6]

Mogilevich's nicknames include "Don Semyon" and "The Brainy Don" (because of his business acumen).[7] According to US diplomatic cables, he controls RosUkrEnergo,[8] a company actively involved in Russia–Ukraine gas disputes, and is a partner of Ivan Gordiyenko.

Mogilevich has three children and is closely associated with the Solntsevskaya crime group. He has alliances with political figures, including Yury Luzhkov, the former Mayor of Moscow, Dmytro Firtash, and Leonid Derkach, former head of the Security Service of Ukraine.[9][10][11] Oleksandr Turchynov, who was designated the acting President of Ukraine in February 2014, appeared in court in 2010 for allegedly destroying files pertaining to Mogilevich.[12] Shortly before his assassination, Russian FSB defector Alexander Litvinenko claimed Mogilevich had a "good

Semion Mogilevich

An image of Semion Mogilevich released by the FBI and State Department on 6 April 2022

FBI Ten Most Wanted Fugitive

Charges
- Fraud by Wire
- Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act Conspiracy
- Mail Fraud
- Money Laundering Conspiracy
- Money Laundering
- Arms trafficking
- Drug trafficking
- Human trafficking
- Aiding and Abetting
- Murder
- Smuggling
- Prostitution
- Securities fraud
- Filing False Registration With the SEC
- False Filings With the SEC
- Falsification of Books and Records

Alias Seva Moguilevich

The Sun News Sport Fabulous TV Showbiz Money More

News > World News

'BOSS OF BOSSES' Who is Semion Mogilevich and where is he now?

Evelyn Richards
Published: 10:32, 28 Jul 2020 | Updated: 14:17, 22 Dec 2021

SEMION Mogilevich is one of the most powerful and dangerous mobsters in the world.

The crime boss is one of the subjects in Netflix's true-crime docu-series World's Most Wanted.

2

Semion Mogilevich was placed on the FBI's Ten Most Wanted list in 2009
Credit: The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI)

Who is Semion Mogilevich?

Semion Mogilevich is a Ukrainian-born Russian organised crime boss.

He is described by agencies across the globe as the "boss of bosses" of most Russian Mafia syndicates in the world.

The FBI has dubbed him as "the most dangerous mobster in the world".

His net worth is estimated to be $10billion.

Mogilevich was born in 1946 to a Jewish family in Kiev.

He joined the Lyubertskaya crime clan in the early 1970s. After his apprenticeship, he started his own syndicate, the Solntsdevo gang.

1. Thieves' stars

History Channel/YouTube

Depending on the location on the body, the stars convey a prisoner's status. When worn on the knees, the stars are a sign of a prisoner who commands respect. The implied meaning is "I will never get on my knees in front of anyone."

Stars on the chest mark a higher rank. Only the most respected can wear the thieves' stars in that area of the body. The tattoos must be earned, and an inmate wearing an undeserved tattoo risks a beating or worse.

Pinterest Today Watch Shop Explore Log in Sign up

Read it Save

russian-criminal-tattoos.tumblr.com

Russian Criminal Tattoos

Various Thieves' Stars - I Top-right: The tattoo of an authoritative pickpocket, nicknamed 'Yasha the Pianist'. A university dropout, he was very experienced and careful. Two crews of policemen from...

Tatting Tattoos Criminal Tattoo Russian Criminal Tattoo Pentacle

naitsirhc Lone
30 followers

More like this

nents

No comments yet! Add one to start the conversation.

WIKIPEDIA
The Free Encyclopedia

Semion Mogilevich

22 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

In this name that follows Eastern Slavic naming customs, the patronymic is Yudkovich and the family name is Mogilevich.

Semion Yudkovich Mogilevich (Ukrainian: Семен Юдкович Могилевич, romanized: Semén Yúdkovych Mohylévych [seˈmɛn ˈjudkowɪtʃ moɦɪˈlewɪtʃ]; born June 30, 1946) is a Jewish Ukrainian-born Russian organized crime boss. He quickly built a highly structured criminal organization, in the mode of an American mafia family; many of the organization's 250 members are his relatives.[3] He is described by agencies in the European Union and United States as the "boss of all bosses" of most Russian Mafia syndicates in the world,[4] he is believed to direct a multibillion-dollar international criminal empire and is described by the Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI) as "the most powerful and dangerous gangster in the world," with immense power and reach at a global scale, and connections to prominent government, military, and law enforcement officials, and powerful politicians around the world.[5][3] He has been accused by the FBI of "weapons trafficking, contract murders, extortion, drug trafficking, and prostitution on an international scale."[6]

Mogilevich's nicknames include "Don Semyon" and "The Brainy Don" (because of his business acumen).[7] According to US diplomatic cables, he controls RosUkrEnergo,[8] a company actively involved in Russia–Ukraine gas disputes, and is a partner of Ivan Gordiyenko.

Mogilevich has three children and is closely associated with the Solntsevskaya crime group. He has alliances with political figures, including Yury Luzhkov, the former Mayor of Moscow, Dmytro Firtash, and Leonid Derkach, former head of the Security Service of Ukraine.[9][10][11] Oleksandr Turchynov, who was designated the acting President of Ukraine in February 2014, appeared in court in 2010 for allegedly destroying files pertaining to Mogilevich.[12] Shortly before his assassination, Russian FSB defector Alexander Litvinenko claimed Mogilevich had a "good

Semion Mogilevich

An image of Semion Mogilevich released by the FBI and State Department on 6 April 2022

FBI Ten Most Wanted Fugitive

Charges
- Fraud by Wire
- Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act Conspiracy
- Mail Fraud
- Money Laundering Conspiracy
- Money Laundering
- Arms trafficking
- Drug trafficking
- Human trafficking
- Aiding and Abetting
- Murder
- Smuggling
- Prostitution
- Securities fraud
- Filing False Registration With the SEC
- False Filings With the SEC
- Falsification of Books and Records

Alias Seva Mogulevich

The Sun News Sport Fabulous TV Showbiz Money More

News > World News

'BOSS OF BOSSES' Who is Semion Mogilevich and where is he now?

Evelyn Richards
Published: 10:32, 28 Jul 2020 | Updated: 14:17, 22 Dec 2021

SEMION Mogilevich is one of the most powerful and dangerous mobsters in the world.

The crime boss is one of the subjects in Netflix's true-crime docu-series World's Most Wanted.

2

Semion Mogilevich was placed on the FBI's Ten Most Wanted list in 2009
Credit: The Federal Bureau of Investigation (FBI)

Who is Semion Mogilevich?

Semion Mogilevich is a Ukrainian-born Russian organised crime boss.

He is described by agencies across the globe as the "boss of bosses" of most Russian Mafia syndicates in the world.

The FBI has dubbed him as "the most dangerous mobster in the world".

His net worth is estimated to be $10billion.

Mogilevich was born in 1946 to a Jewish family in Kiev.

He joined the Lyubertskaya crime clan in the early 1970s. After his apprenticeship, he started his own syndicate, the Solntsdevo gang.

CIRCULATING NOW

HMO-JANTS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY SURGEONS AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

NIH National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW
From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 | Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.
https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/spotlight/fj/catalog?utf8=%E2%9C%93&exhibit_id=fj&search_field=all_fields&q=

Circulate this:

ENCYCLOPEDIA.COM

What do you want to learn

› Arts › Educational magazines › DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

CENGAGE Views 1,802,219 Updated

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch: Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lingering topic of interest was his

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS | 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeja Dabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

AND DEVELOPED
L CONSULTANTS
WAR II

Army Surgical Hospitals) were al Consultants in the first years any survival rates by getting taken during the Korean war
of the surgical units, including died.

encyclopedia-com

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for G/A station. Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 15, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into the late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A tireless tour of interest was his

Pioneers in Car
Michael Ellis De

By Susan Eymann, MS

Perhaps no one person in treatment of cardiovascu than Dr. Michael Ellis Deb innovation, medical educatio and humanitarian. His nam surgery, biomedical innova educational and medical in

Michael Ellis DeBakey was in Lake Charles, Louisiana 1908 to Lebanese immigra parents Shaker and Rahee Colvaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakeys). He received both
B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical s which later became an inte that led the way to open-he

DeBakey remained in New Charity Hospital before tra
at the University of Strasbo
Germany. Upon his return faculty at Tulane Medical S Orleans, were among the cigarette smoking and lung 1948 appointment at Baylo where he remained and he his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBak
where he helped to revolut stationing of doctors close development of Mobile Arm saved countless lives durin
the U.S. Surgeon General's

first mobile hos | MASH units were

https://circulatingnow.nlm.nih....

NIH National Library of Medicine

CIRCULATING NOW
From the Historical Collections of the National Library of Medicine

MENU

MASH UNITS WERE CONCEIVED AND DEVELOPED BY DEBAKEY AND THE SURGICAL CONSULTANTS IN THE FIRST YEARS OF WORLD WAR II

June 21, 2016 | Leave a comment

The auxiliary surgical hospitals (later called Mobile Army Surgical Hospitals) were conceived and developed by DeBakey and the Surgical Consultants in the first years of World War II. They greatly improved battlefield injury survival rates by getting surgical care closer to the front lines. Photos like this, taken during the Korean war (1950-1953), provide a closer look at the operations of the surgical units, including the addition of helicopters for transporting the wounded.
https://profiles.nlm.nih.gov/spotlight/fj/catalog?utf8=%E2%9C%93&exhibit_id=fj&search_field=all_fields&q=

Circulate this:

DeBakey, Michael E. 190

https://www.encyclo...

ENCYCLOpedia.com

What do you want to learn

› Arts › Educational magazines › DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

CENGAGE Views 1,802,219 Updated

DeBakey, Michael E. 1908–2008

(Michael Ellis DeBakey)

OBITUARY NOTICE—

See index for CA sketch: Born September 7, 1908, in Lake Charles, LA; died July 11, 2008, in Houston, TX. Physician, surgeon, inventor, educator, administrator, and author. DeBakey is revered as one of America's greatest, and also longest-serving, physicians. His career began in the early 1930s when he invented a hand-operated roller pump that could replace human heart-lung operation during surgery without damaging the patient's red blood cells. When he walked out of the operating room for the last time nearly seventy years later, he had revolutionized the field of cardiovascular medicine. DeBakey performed tens of thousands of surgical procedures on patients from all walks of life, including movie stars and world leaders. His life-saving inventions included the roller pump, the Dacron vascular graft, and a partial artificial heart called the left ventricular assist device. He was one of the first Americans to perform a human heart transplant, to repair damaged arteries with Dacron grafts or with veins from the patient's own legs, and he made coronary bypass surgery a nearly routine procedure. DeBakey was affiliated with Baylor University for most of his career. He joined the faculty in Houston in 1948 and was instrumental in building the small, nearly bankrupt college of medicine into a world-famous complex of surgical and cardiovascular research centers. He became the chancellor of the medical college in 1969. DeBakey was also energetic outside the operating room and the classroom. He is credited with the concept for the first mobile army surgical hospitals (MASH units) that debuted during the Korean War. He transformed the National Library of Medicine from a chaotic collection of documents into a world-renowned treasury of medical knowledge. He advised presidents from Harry S Truman to George W. Bush, including the support he offered John F. Kennedy for the successful launch of the Medicare program. He was also an early campaigner against tobacco and smoking. DeBakey performed or assisted in surgeries into his late eighties or early nineties, but he never retired fully from medicine or teaching. A lingering topic of interest was his

Pioneers in Cardiothorac

https://blog.transoni...

Pioneers in Cardiothoracic Surgery: Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey

By Susan Eymann, MS | 18 Jan 2017

Perhaps no one person embodies the advancements in the surgical treatment of cardiovascular diseases during the 20th century more than Dr. Michael Ellis DeBakey. As a world-renowned scientist, innovator, medical educator, administrator, author, medical statesman and humanitarian, his name has become synonymous with firsts in surgery, biomedical innovations and the establishment of several educational and medical institutions.

Michael Ellis DeBakey was born in Lake Charles, Louisiana in 1908 to Lebanese immigrant parents Shaker and Raheeja Dabaghi (later Anglicized to DeBakey). He received both his B.S. and M.D. degrees from Tulane University in New Orleans. While in medical school, DeBakey developed the roller pump, which later became an essential component of the heart-lung machine that led the way to open heart surgery.

DeBakey remained in New Orleans for his internship and residency at Charity Hospital before traveling to Europe to pursue surgical fellowships at the University of Strasbourg, France and the University of Heidelberg, Germany. Upon his return to the states in 1937, he joined the surgical faculty at Tulane Medical School. There, he and his mentor Dr. Alton Ochsner, were among the first to postulate a connection between cigarette smoking and lung cancer. DeBakey stayed at Tulane until his 1948 appointment at Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston where he remained and held various appointments for the remainder of his 75-year career.

During World War II, DeBakey volunteered to serve in the U.S. Army, where he helped to revolutionize wartime medicine by supporting the stationing of doctors closer to the front lines. This concept resulted in the development of Mobile Army Surgical Hospital (MASH) units that later saved countless lives during the Korean and Vietnam wars. His work with the U.S. Surgeon General's office also led to the Department of Veterans

NEW ATLAS

Overlaid shadowgraph-chemiluminescence images show conditions in the test chamber in a non-reacting Mach 5 airflow, and then with fuel added to create the oblique detonation wave University of Central Florida

Compared to conditions measured with the main fuel injector turned off, peak pressure was 2.7 times higher behind the ramp, and the nozzle exit pressure was 10.5 times higher. The flow velocity was calculated at 99.7 percent of the theoretical detonation wave speed for a freely propagating, normal explosion in the given mixture.

"This is the first time a detonation has been shown to be stabilized experimentally," says Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor in UCF's Department of Mechanical and Aerospace Engineering, and one of the authors on the new research paper. "We are finally able to hold the detonation in space in oblique detonation form. It's almost like freezing an intense explosion in physical space."

Where a detonation typically lasts only a matter of micro- or milliseconds, the UCF team managed to sustain this one experimentally until the fuel was turned off after around three seconds. That's long enough to prove the device works, Ahmed told LiveScience, and if the team kept the fuel flowing any longer it would've destroyed the quartz windows on the sides of the test section, which were there to allow optical imaging of the tests. Replacing the test section with something entirely metal-sided would allow the detonation to be sustained much longer.

LIVESCIENCE Subscribe

This conceptual image shows a hypersonic aircraft powered by an Oblique Detonation Wave Engine. (Image credit: Daniel A. Rosato, NASA)

A never-ending detonation could be the key to hypersonic flight and space planes that can seamlessly fly from Earth into orbit. And now, researchers have recreated the explosive phenomenon in the lab that could make it possible.

Detonations are a particularly powerful kind of explosion that move outward faster than the speed of sound. The massive explosion that rocked the port of Beirut in Lebanon last August was a detonation, and the widespread destruction it caused demonstrates the huge amounts of energy they can produce.

Scientists have long dreamed of building aircraft engines that can harness this energy; such craft could theoretically fly from New York to London in under an hour. But detonations are incredibly hard to control and typically last less than a microsecond, so no one has yet been able to make them a reality.

Related: The top 10 greatest explosions ever

Now, a team from the University of Central Florida has created an experimental setup that lets them sustain a detonation in a fixed position for several seconds, which the researchers say is a major step toward future hypersonic propulsion systems.

"What we're trying to do here is to control that detonation," said Kareem Ahmed, an associate professor of mechanical and aerospace engineering at the University of Central Florida, and lead author of a new paper on the research published Monday (May 10) in the journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences.

"We want to freeze it in space and harness that energy. Rather than it destroying buildings, as you saw in Lebanon, now I want to use it and produce thrust with it," Ahmed told Live Science. "If we can do that, we can travel super fast."

The breakthrough was built on decades of research into a theoretical propulsion system called an oblique detonation wave engine (ODWE). The concept works by funneling a mixture of air and fuel at hypersonic speeds (more than five times the speed of sound) toward a ramp, which creates a shock wave. This shock wave rapidly heats up the fuel-air mixture and causes it to detonate, blasting exhaust gasses out from the back of the engine at high speed. The result? Lots of thrust.

FOX 13 TAMPA BAY News Weather Sports Good Day We Live Here Contests More

UCF develops breakthrough in hypersonic propulsion

By Craig Patrick | Published May 20, 2024 10:56pm EDT | Breakthroughs in Science | FOX 13 News

Breakthrough in Science: Hypersonic travel
Craig Patrick reports

TAMPA - Aerospace engineers at the University of Central Florida are drawing global attention for their successful experiments in hypersonic propulsion. Their work would lead to safe and stabile hypersonic air travel in the future-- that could fly passengers from Tampa to Los Angeles in a matter of minutes.

UCF has not built such a jet, but professor Kareem Ahmed and his students figured out how to stabilize a hypersonic engine in their lab.

That's hypersonic as opposed to supersonic. For perspective. NASA's X-59 supersonic aircraft is designed to fly 925 miles per hour. UCF's hypersonic design could lead to air travel up to 14 times faster-- up to 13,000 miles per hour!

"The first reaction was actually denial, not believing it's actually real," said Dr. Ahmed.

For background, we've powered engines through internal combustion for more than 200 years.

"When you have fuel injector in a car, it sprays mist into your combustor," said UCF graduate student Steven Schroeder.

The fuel mist burns, which releases energy, which drives motion. We currently ride or fly on comparatively slow, controlled reactions, Dr. Ahmed likens to a burning candle flame.

DAILY NEWSLETTER
All the news you need to know, every day
Email Address
Sign Up
By clicking Sign Up, I confirm that I have read and agree to the Privacy Policy and Terms of Service

Trending

1. Florida named the shark attack capital of the world, again
2. Semi-truck, dump truck collide on I-75 in Sarasota County, causing major traffic delays
3. Former Tampa church employee agrees to plea deal after stealing more than $775,000 from church
4. Rapper's lyrics help lead to mail theft arrest in Venice: 'Imma show you what swiping will get you'
5. Large fire damages more than a dozen condos at Brandon complex

Latest headlines

Hurricane season begins June 1: Here's what you need to know

Large brush fire causes evacuations in North Port: Officials

NEWS19 News Weather Sports VERIFY

29-year-old convicted heroin trafficker in Lexington County gets 30 year prison sentence

Prosecutors report there have been more than 50 overdoses deaths linked to heroin since the suspect was caught in 2018.

Author: Christopher Bachman
Published: 2:19 PM EDT August 27, 2022
Updated: 2:20 PM EDT August 27, 2022

WEST COLUMBIA, S.C. — A convicted drug trafficker will spend the next three decades in prison following a conviction handed up in Lexington County.

According to the 11th Circuit Solicitor's Office, 29-year-old Israel Mendoza-Cervantes was sentenced in general sessions court earlier in the week after being convicted of all charges brought against him.

The charges included trafficking heroin - 28 grams or more, possession of a weapon during the commission of a violent crime, and possession with intent to distribute cocaine.

Cervantes received a 25-year sentence for the trafficking conviction, a concurrent 15-year sentence for the possession with intent to distribute conviction, and a consecutive five-year sentence for the weapon charge which came to 30 years in all.

The conviction stems from an investigation that began in September 2018 when Richland County Sheriff's Department narcotics agents shared information with the neighboring Lexington County Sheriff's Department. Cervantes was one of two suspects in the case who

An official website of the United States government
Here's how you know

United States Attorney's Office
District of Kansas

Menu

Search

PRESS RELEASE

Man sentenced in Kansas City drug ring tied to Mexican cartel

Friday, January 19, 2024

Share

For Immediate Release

U.S. Attorney's Office, District of Kansas

KANSAS CITY, KAN. – A man was sentenced to 102 months in prison for his involvement in a Kansas City metro-based drug trafficking ring with ties to Mexico.

According to court documents, Edwar Salazar-Belleda, 34, pleaded guilty to one count of conspiracy to distribute and possess with intent to distribute 50 grams or more of methamphetamine.

Salazar-Belleda was part of an international drug trafficking ring operating with meth brought in from Mexico. The co-conspirators laundered illegal proceeds as wire payments destined for individuals in Mexico and California.

From August 2019 through May 2021, the Kansas Bureau of Investigation (KBI) and Homeland Security Investigations (HSI) led an undercover investigation which included multiple purchases of meth, heroin, and firearms. Romel Alvarado-Calderon, 27, of Kansas City, Kansas, was the head of the operation, and Salazar-Belleda acted as a broker.

telaviv.cervantes.es

siele

¡APRENDE ESPAÑOL EN ESPAÑA!

DELE 2024

Cervantes Tel Aviv

Facebook

Cluba de lectura

La Opinión

Greta Cervantes es una actriz mexicana que vive en Israel y tras los ataques de Hamás a ese país, se ha visto obligada a refugiarse en el búnker que tiene dentro de su casa, el cual mostró en un video que compartió en su cuenta de TikTok.

La artista mexicana de 29 años, quien ha participado en programas unitarios como "La Rosa de Guadalupe" y "Como dice El Dicho", hizo una pausa en su carrera para vivir junto a su esposo israelí Yarden Hassid, pero siempre ha e[illegible]en contacto con sus seguidores.

Greta Cervantes muestra su refugio en Israel

FBI

Dallas

About | News | Wanted and Missing/Persons | Community Outreach

U.S. Attorney's Office

Twitter | Facebook | Email

February 11, 2015

Dallas County Man Admits to Producing Child Pornography

DALLAS—A Hutchins, Texas, man, Servando Vega Cervantes, 24, appeared this morning before U.S. Magistrate Judge Paul D. Stickney and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging three counts of production of child pornography, announced John Parker, United States Attorney for the Northern District of Texas.

Cervantes faces a statutory penalty of not less than 15 years and not more than 30 years in federal prison, for each count. Each count also carries up to a $250,000 fine and up to a lifetime of supervised release. Cervantes has been in custody since his arrest in November 2014 on a related federal complaint. He is scheduled to be sentenced on May 28, 2015, by U.S. District Judge Jane J. Boyle.

According to documents filed in the case, the Hutchins Police Department contacted the FBI in May 2014 regarding questionable online communication between an 11-year-old victim, "John Doe #1," and the Facebook user profile of "Laura Ortiz." The victim's mother believed the user of the Ortiz profile was actually an adult male and not a 13-year-old female as described in chat conversations between John Doe #1 and Ortiz. The investigation revealed that the user profile "Laura Ortiz" belonged to Cervantes. The investigation also revealed that John Doe #1 knew

Henry F. Quintero Sentenced To 25 Years For Failure To Register As Sex Offender

Photo: Ellis County Sheriff's Office

Convicted for Sexual Assault of a Child in 1997

Ellis County and District Attorney Ann Montgomery announced that Henry F. Quintero, 52, of Bardwell, Texas, was sentenced to 25 years

History | Curiosities | Archaeology | News | Today in history

Rafael Caro Quintero: The True Story Of The Narcos Drug Lord Still On The Run

By Erika Dilmuro | Edited by John Kuroski

Rafael Caro Quintero was one of Mexico's first and most powerful cartel leaders until he was suspected of orchestrating the brutal torture and murder of a DEA agent.

Rafael Caro Quintero was considered the "Narcos of Narcos." The bloodthirsty drug lord thought he was untouchable, but he overstepped his bounds when he brutally murdered an American agent.

Let out of jail on a technicality, the trafficker is still at large — and wanted by the FBI. Now, Caro Quintero is the central figure of season four of Netflix's popular series Narcos. Here's his true story.

Early Life And Finding The Guadalajara Cartel

A photo of Rafael Caro Quintero from 2016.

Rafael Caro Quintero was born sometime in October 1952, in Sinaloa, Mexico. He has listed various birthdays spanning October to November or March of

YouTube

Yoel Quintero oficial

Subscribe | Join

About

Y'ka
Queridos amigos
Este nuevo proyecto para la difusión de la Sagrada Torá, está orientado para todos aquellos que están comenzando ahondar en el conocimiento de las escrituras y de las tradiciones de nuestro pueblo Israel.

Quiera el creador del universo que el contenido realizado sea de nuestro agrado e interés.

Te gustaría ayudar este proyecto o a un estudiante de Yeshiva? Te gustaría que haga tefila por Ti o por alguien en especial en los lugares sagrados como la cuna de los patriarcas o el muro occidental?
Yo te puedo ayudar
Escribe a mi correo electrónico:
yoelshquintero@gmail.com

Te gustaría ser parte de mi grupo de Whatsapp para recibir el estudio semanal de la Torá y de las festividades? Puedes unirte con este enlace:

https://chat.whatsapp.com/ITkmqHRpaDgGaYJ3ecGMbW

Todo lo bueno y lo mejor queridos amigos y amigas

Channel details

www.youtube.com/@YoelshQuintero

13.2K subscribers

33 videos

265,439 views

Joined Dec 3, 2020

Share channel

MORE ☰ > CONTACT US > FIELD OFFICES > DALLAS > NEWS > PRESS RELEASES FBI

Search FBI

Dallas

About | News | Wanted and Missing Persons | Community Outreach

U.S. Attorney's Office

Twitter Facebook Email

February 11, 2015

Dallas County Man Admits to Producing Child Pornography

DALLAS—A Hutchins, Texas, man, Servando Vega Cervantes, 24, appeared this morning before U.S. Magistrate Judge Paul D. Stickney and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging three counts of production of child pornography, announced John Parker, United States Attorney for the Northern District of Texas.

Cervantes faces a statutory penalty of not less than 15 years and not more than 30 years in federal prison, for each count. Each count also carries up to a $250,000 fine and up to a lifetime of supervised release. Cervantes has been in custody since his arrest in November 2014 on a related federal complaint. He is scheduled to be sentenced on May 28, 2015, by U.S. District Judge Jane J. Boyle.

According to documents filed in the case, the Hutchins Police Department contacted the FBI in May 2014 regarding questionable online communication between an 11-year-old victim, "John Doe #1," and the Facebook user profile of "Laura Ortiz." The victim's mother believed the user of the Ortiz profile was actually an adult male and not a 13-year-old female as described in chat conversations between John Doe #1 and Ortiz. The investigation revealed that the user profile "Laura Ortiz" belonged to Cervantes. The investigation also revealed that John Doe #1 knew

Henry F. Quintero Sentenced To 25 Years For Failure To Register As Sex Offender

By News Staff · June 12, 2021

Photo Ellis County Sheriff's Office

Convicted for Sexual Assault of a Child in 1997

Ellis County and District Attorney Ann Montgomery announced that Henry F. Quintero, 52, of Bardwell, Texas, was sentenced to 25 years

History | Curiosities | Archaeology | News | Today In History | Members

Rafael Caro Quintero: The True Story Of The Narcos Drug Lord Still On The Run

By Gina Dimuro | Edited By John Kuroski

Published May 4, 2021 | Updated July 28, 2021

Rafael Caro Quintero was one of Mexico's first and most powerful cartel leaders until he was suspected of orchestrating the brutal torture and murder of a DEA agent.

Rafael Caro Quintero was considered the "Narco of Narcos." The bloodthirsty drug lord thought he was untouchable, but he overstepped his bounds when he brutally murdered an American agent.

Let out of jail on a technicality, the trafficker is still at large — and wanted by the FBI. Now, Caro Quintero is the central figure of season four of Netflix's popular series Narcos. Here's his true story.

Early Life And Finding The Guadalajara Cartel

A photo of Rafael Caro Quintero from 2016.

fbi.gov

Rafael Caro Quintero was born sometime in October 1952, in Sinaloa, Mexico. He has listed various birthdays spanning October to November or March of

YouTube Search Sign in

A LA LUZ DE LA TORAH

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

Subscribe | Join

About

Queridos amigos
Este nuevo proyecto para la difusión de la Sagrada Torá está orientado para todos aquellos que están comenzando ahondar en el conocimiento de las escrituras y de las tradiciones de nuestro pueblo Israel.

Quiera el creador del universo que el contenido realizado sea de vuestro agrado e interés.

Te gustaría ayudar este proyecto o a un estudiante de Yeshiva?, Te gustaría que haga tefila por Ti o por alguien en especial en los lugares sagrados como la cueva de los patriarcas o el muro occidental?.
Yo te puedo ayudar
Escribe a mi correo electrónico:
yoelishquintero@gmail.com

Te gustaría ser parte de mi grupo de WhatsApp para recibir el estudio semanal de la Torá y de las festividades? Puedes unirte con este enlace:

https://chat.whatsapp.com/ITknqHXpsOgGd1ZOknSMbN

Todo lo bueno y lo mejor queridos amigos y amigas

Channel details

www.youtube.com/@YoelishQuintero
13.2K subscribers
33 videos
265,428 views
Joined Dec 3, 2023
Share channel

MORE ☰ > CONTACT US > FIELD OFFICES > DALLAS > NEWS > PRESS RELEASES FBI Search FBI

Dallas

About | News | Wanted and Missing Persons | Community Outreach

U.S. Attorney's Office

Twitter Facebook Email

February 11, 2015

Dallas County Man Admits to Producing Child Pornography

DALLAS—A Hutchins, Texas, man, Servando Vega Cervantes, 24, appeared this morning before U.S. Magistrate Judge Paul D. Stickney and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging three counts of production of child pornography, announced John Parker, United States Attorney for the Northern District of Texas.

Cervantes faces a statutory penalty of not less than 15 years and not more than 30 years in federal prison, for each count. Each count also carries up to a $250,000 fine and up to a lifetime of supervised release. Cervantes has been in custody since his arrest in November 2014 on a related federal complaint. He is scheduled to be sentenced on May 28, 2015, by U.S. District Judge Jane J. Boyle.

According to documents filed in the case, the Hutchins Police Department contacted the FBI in May 2014 regarding questionable online communication between an 11-year-old victim, "John Doe #1," and the Facebook user profile of "Laura Ortiz." The victim's mother believed the user of the Ortiz profile was actually an adult male and not a 13-year-old female as described in chat conversations between John Doe #1 and Ortiz. The investigation revealed that the user profile "Laura Ortiz" belonged to Cervantes. The investigation also revealed that John Doe #1 knew

Henry F. Quintero Sentenced To 25 Years For Failure To Register As Sex Offender

By News Staff - June 12, 2021

Photo Ellis County Sheriff's Office

Convicted for Sexual Assault of a Child in 1997

Ellis County and District Attorney Ann Montgomery announced that Henry F. Quintero, 52, of Bardwell, Texas, was sentenced to 25 years

History | Curiosities | Archaeology | News | Today In History | Members

Rafael Caro Quintero: The True Story Of The Narcos Drug Lord Still On The Run

By Gina Dimuro | Edited By John Kuroski

Published May 4, 2021 | Updated July 28, 2021

Rafael Caro Quintero was one of Mexico's first and most powerful cartel leaders until he was suspected of orchestrating the brutal torture and murder of a DEA agent.

Rafael Caro Quintero was considered the "Narco of Narcos." The bloodthirsty drug lord thought he was untouchable, but he overstepped his bounds when he brutally murdered an American agent.

Let out of jail on a technicality, the trafficker is still at large — and wanted by the FBI. Now, Caro Quintero is the central figure of season four of Netflix's popular series Narcos. Here's his true story.

Early Life And Finding The Guadalajara Cartel

A photo of Rafael Caro Quintero from 2016.

fbi.gov

Rafael Caro Quintero was born sometime in October 1952, in Sinaloa, Mexico. He has listed various birthdays spanning October to November or March of

YouTube Search Sign in

A LA LUZ DE LA TORAH

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

Subscribe | Join

About

Queridos amigos
Este nuevo proyecto para la difusión de la Sagrada Torá está orientado para todos aquellos que están comenzando ahondar en el conocimiento de las escrituras y de las tradiciones de nuestro pueblo Israel.

Quiera el creador del universo que el contenido realizado sea de vuestro agrado e interés.

Te gustaría ayudar este proyecto o a un estudiante de Yeshiva?, Te gustaría que haga tefila por Ti o por alguien en especial en los lugares sagrados como la cueva de los patriarcas o el muro occidental?.
Yo te puedo ayudar
Escribe a mi correo electrónico:
yoelishquintero@gmail.com

Te gustaría ser parte de mi grupo de WhatsApp para recibir el estudio semanal de la Torá y de las festividades? Puedes unirte con este enlace:

https://chat.whatsapp.com/ITknqHXps0gGd1Z0knSMbN

Todo lo bueno y lo mejor queridos amigos y amigas

Channel details

www.youtube.com/@YoelishQuintero
13.2K subscribers
33 videos
265,428 views
Joined Dec 3, 2023
Share channel

Home | Visitors | Beliefs | FAQ | What People Are Saying | Leadership | Scriptures | Resources

Kehilath HaDerekh's leadership is composed of three components:

1. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors are the governing body of the congregation. The Directors are:

- Maharat Erika Quintero, President
- Reb Andrew Friedman, Vice President
- David Frontera, Director
- Richard Snoddy, Director

2. ELDERS

Zakenim (Ordained Elders) along with our Shamashim (Deacons), are the servant-leaders. Under the guidance and authority of the Rabbi, provide prayer, teachings, classes, and lead ministries of the shul.

3. ACCOUNTABILITY BOARD

The Accountability Board exists as a body of accountability for the Congregation's Senior Leader. The Accountability Board may only be called upon by the rabbi for prayer or counsel as needed. The Board of Directors may contact the Accountability Board, only by unanimous vote (excepting the rabbi), if any matter of serious unrepentant biblical sin should arise concerning the senior leader. The Accountability Board is empowered to have authority over the senior leader. Their identity is known only to the senior rabbi, and the board of directors.

WORLD | Ashkelon Journal; The Ever-So-Quiet Exodus: Israeli Cuba

Share full article

Now that their situation could be openly discussed, they said, they could make public a demand. They wanted, as Mr. Carpio put it, "to be treated like Ethiopians" in terms of Israeli aid to immigrants. They wanted Israel to recognize that they had forfeited all their possessions -- "down to the drinking glasses," Mr. Carpio said -- to the Cuban Government. They had arrived with nothing but a few battered suitcases and 48 pounds of clothes per family. They want to receive an "immigration basket" of money and services, they said, just like the Ethiopians and, to a less generous extent, the Russians.

"Hey, they're complaining," commented Avraham Burg, the Speaker of the Parliament. "That means they've really become Israelis."

Ms. Quintero is not complaining, especially not after the Immigration Minister, Yuli Tamir, proposed late today that the Cubans get the help they are asking for.

Fingering her Star of David necklace, Ms. Quintero said she felt embarrassed that Israel's first glimpse of the Cuban community showed not their appreciation but their pent-up frustrations. She also regretted that Israelis might have got what she called a false impression that most of the Cubans see Israel as a way station to Miami or New York.

Television cameras could not help but focus today on one Cuban immigrant, Ester Mechulam, since she greeted them at the gate to the center. "Brooklyn, Brooklyn," she was saying. "I dream of Brooklyn."

In contrast, Ms. Quintero said she and her husband considered themselves "die-hard Zionist Jews," even though, like everyone else, they left primarily because the opportunity presented itself.

"We have well-established family in New York, in New Jersey," she said. "We don't want to join them. We want them to join us here."

Discover The Times. 7 days free, then $6.25 $1/week.

Learn more

YouTube | Search | Sign in

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

בס"ד

Subscribe | Join

Home | Videos | Shorts | Live | Community

Latest | Popular | Oldest

Hasta estar en su Lugar
3.8K views • 3 weeks ago

Pa' atrás, ni para tomar impulso!!!
4K views • 1 month ago

Eres libre!!! o no?
2.9K views • 1 month ago

25 de abril de 2024
5K views • 1 month ago

Pesaj kasher v'sameaj
2.8K views • 1 month ago

Un saludo de Shavua tov
3.6K views • 1 month ago

Orden o espontaneidad???
2.9K views • 1 month ago

Las tres herramientas
2.7K views • 1 month ago

EL PAÍS

Rafael Caro Quintero: the historic head of the Sinaloa cartel is captured

Sources from the Marines confirm that the veteran narco, implicated in the murder of a DEA agent in the 1980s, was detained on Friday

Rafael Caro Quintero, the legendary narco leader of the 1980s, has been captured. Sources from the Marines confirmed to EL PAÍS that the former cartel leader, on whose head the United States Drug Enforcement Administration (DEA) had placed the highest ever reward for a criminal, was detained on Friday. One of the founders of the legendary Guadalajara cartel, which later became the Sinaloa cartel, was arrested for the second time near his home territory, in the Sinaloa highlands.

The criminal previously entered prison in 1985 after the brutal murder of undercover DEA agent Kiki Camarena. In 2013, still with 11 years of his sentence left to serve, he was released in Mexico after a court ruled that he had been tried improperly. The United States pressured Mexican authorities to recapture him. The red drug czar, for

Meaningful

Weaving science into Torah learning

There are many ways to interpret the Torah, but for Monmouth-area Sherri Quintero, a biology teacher, one of her favorite ways to study is to look for the wonders of science and technology woven into the texts.

The recent holiday of Shavuot, a celebration of the day the Israelites received the Torah at Mount Sinai, is a perfect example. It is written in the Torah: "The smoke rose like the smoke of a kiln, and the whole mountain trembled violently. The blare of the horn grew louder and louder. As Moses spoke, God answered him in thunder." (Exodus 19:18-19)

For Sherri, who teaches at the Kellman Brown Academy, a Jewish Day School in New Jersey, it was an opportunity to explore with her students: Is it possible to see sound? What is a seismograph? Why does smoke always rise? What causes earthquakes?

A call for change

The Shavuot lesson is just one way that Sherri is taking an innovative approach towards combining Jewish learning and science, an idea that started coalescing during Sherri's MEOMonmouth Trip to Israel in 2016. At the time, she was in the middle of her ninth year as

YouTube

Now that their situation could be openly discussed, they said, they could make public a demand. They wanted, as Mr. Carpio put it, "to be treated like Ethiopians" in terms of Israeli aid to immigrants. They wanted Israel to recognize that they had forfeited all their possessions -- "down to the drinking glasses," Mr. Carpio said -- to the Cuban Government. They had arrived with nothing but a few battered suitcases and 48 pounds of clothes per family. They want to receive an "immigration basket" of money and services, they said, just like the Ethiopians and, to a less generous extent, the Russians.

"Hey, they're complaining," commented Avraham Burg, the Speaker of the Parliament. "That means they've really become Israelis."

Ms. Quintero is not complaining, especially not after the Immigration Minister, Yuli Tamir, proposed late today that the Cubans get the help they are asking for.

Fingering her Star of David necklace, Ms. Quintero said she felt embarrassed that Israel's first glimpse of the Cuban community showed not their appreciation but their pent-up frustrations. She also regretted that Israelis might have got what she called a false impression that most of the Cubans see Israel as a way station to Miami or New York.

Television cameras could not help but focus today on one Cuban immigrant, Esther Mechulam, since she greeted them at the gate to the center. "Brooklyn, Brooklyn," she was saying. "I dream of Brooklyn."

In contrast, Ms. Quintero said she and her husband considered themselves "die-hard Zionist Jews," even though, like everyone else, they left primarily because the opportunity presented itself.

"We have well-established family in New York, in New Jersey," she said. "We don't want to join them. We want them to join us here."

Discover The Times. 7 days free, then $0.25 $1/week. Learn more >

Home Visitors Beliefs FAQ What People Are Saying Leadership Scriptures Resources

Kehilath HaDerekh's leadership is composed of three components:

1. BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors are the governing body of the congregation. The Directors are:

- Maharat Erika Quintero, President
- Reb Andrew Friedman, Vice President
- David Frontera, Director
- Richard Snoddy, Director

2. ELDERS

Zakenim (Ordained Elders) along with our Shamashim (Deacons), are the servant-leaders. Under the guidance and authority of the Rabbi, provide prayer, teachings, classes, and lead ministries of the shul.

3. ACCOUNTABILITY BOARD

The Accountability Board exists as a body of accountability for the Congregation's Senior Leader. The Accountability Board may only be called upon by the rabbi for prayer or counsel as needed. The Board of Directors may contact the Accountability Board, only by unanimous vote (excepting the rabbi), if any matter of serious unrepentant biblical sin should arise concerning the senior leader. The Accountability Board is empowered to have authority over the senior leader. Their identity is known only to the senior rabbi, and the board of directors.

WORLD | Ashkelon Journal; The Ever-So-Quiet Exodus: Israeli Cuba

Share full article

Now that their situation could be openly discussed, they said, they could make public a demand. They wanted, as Mr. Carpio put it, "to be treated like Ethiopians" in terms of Israeli aid to immigrants. They wanted Israel to recognize that they had forfeited all their possessions -- "down to the drinking glasses," Mr. Carpio said -- to the Cuban Government. They had arrived with nothing but a few battered suitcases and 48 pounds of clothes per family. They want to receive an "immigration basket" of money and services, they said, just like the Ethiopians and, to a less generous extent, the Russians.

"Hey, they're complaining," commented Avraham Burg, the Speaker of the Parliament. "That means they've really become Israelis."

Ms. Quintero is not complaining, especially not after the Immigration Minister, Yuli Tamir, proposed late today that the Cubans get the help they are asking for.

Fingering her Star of David necklace, Ms. Quintero said she felt embarrassed that Israel's first glimpse of the Cuban community showed not their appreciation but their pent-up frustrations. She also regretted that Israelis might have got what she called a false impression that most of the Cubans see Israel as a way station to Miami or New York.

Television cameras could not help but focus today on one Cuban immigrant, Ester Mechulam, since she greeted them at the gate to the center. "Brooklyn, Brooklyn," she was saying. "I dream of Brooklyn."

In contrast, Ms. Quintero said she and her husband considered themselves "die-hard Zionist Jews," even though, like everyone else, they left primarily because the opportunity presented itself.

"We have well-established family in New York, in New Jersey," she said. "We don't want to join them. We want them to join us here."

Discover The Times. 7 days free, then ~~$6.25~~ $1/week. Learn more

YouTube Search Sign in

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

בס"ד

Subscribe Join

Home Videos Shorts Live Community

Latest Popular Oldest

Hasta estar en su Lugar
3.8K views • 3 weeks ago

Pa' atrás, ni para tomar impulso!!!
4K views • 1 month ago

Eres libre!!! o no?
2.9K views • 1 month ago

25 de abril de 2024
5K views • 1 month ago

Pesaj kasher v'sameaj
2.8K views • 1 month ago

Un saludo de Shavua tov
3.6K views • 1 month ago

Orden o espontaneidad???
2.9K views • 1 month ago

Las tres herramientas
2.7K views • 1 month ago

Action News Live Now

Latest Local News

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

By ActionNews.Jax.com News Staff

April 26, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

NEW YORK POST

LOG IN

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extradited to the US.

95° WATCH

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road

Latest Local News

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

By ActionNews.Jax.com News Staff

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2023, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 15 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 6, 2024, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2006 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

US NEWS

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

6

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extraidted to the US.

CBS 47 FOX 30 ACTION NEWS JAX 95° WATCH

NEWS VIDEO FIRST ALERT WEATHER HURRICANE CENTER INVESTIGATES SPORTS ELECTION 2024 FAMILY FOCUS

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road 1/3

Resize:

Action News Jax Now

Latest Local News

Newscast covering important local topics and events

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

+ Caption

By ActionNewsJax.com News Staff

April 29, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

CNN World Watch Listen Live TV Sign in

World / Americas

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

By Lauren Koenig and Priscilla Alvarez, CNN

2 minute read · Updated 7:29 PM EDT, Sat May 25, 2024

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, also known as 'El Nini.' United States Drug Enforcement Administration

(CNN) — A top Mexican cartel member known as 'El Nini,' who was one of America's most-wanted criminals for his alleged role in the fentanyl trade, has been extradited to the United States.

In a speech celebrating US-Mexico cooperation on the case, US President Joe Biden on Saturday hailed the extradition of El Nini – also known as Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas – as "a good day for justice."

"El Nini played a prominent role in the notorious Sinaloa cartel, one of the deadliest drug trafficking enterprises in the world. The United States has charged him for his role in illicit fentanyl trafficking and for murdering, torturing, and kidnapping numerous rivals, witnesses, and others," Biden said, thanking Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

"Our governments will continue to work together to attack the fentanyl and synthetic drug epidemic that is killing so many people in our homelands and globally, and to bring to justice the criminals and organizations producing, smuggling, and selling these lethal poisons in both of our countries," he added.

According to the US Department of Justice, Néstor Isidro Pérez Salas "was one of the Sinaloa cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins" and was involved in the "production and sale of fentanyl" in the United States.

Biden has previously described El Nini as one of America's most-wanted criminals. Pérez Salas was charged in the US with cocaine and methamphetamine trafficking conspiracy, possession of machine guns and destructive devices, and witness retaliation in February 2021.

NEW YORK POST LOG IN

US NEWS

El Chapo's top drug cartel assassin 'El Nini' extradited to the US

By Jorge Fitz-Gibbon

Published May 28, 2024, 1:44 p.m. ET

A high-ranking honcho and assassin for El Chapo's Sinaloa drug cartel has been shipped to the US to face drug, gun and conspiracy charges, federal officials said.

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, a vicious sicario known as "El Nini," was a leading figure in the international narcotrafficking operation once run by Joaquin "El Chapo" Guzman and his family before he was picked by Mexican authorities last year and held for extradition.

"We allege El Nini was one of the Sinaloa Cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins, and was responsible for the murder, torture, and kidnapping of rivals and witnesses who threatened the cartel's criminal drug trafficking enterprise," US Attorney General Merrick Garland said in a statement.

Nestor Isidro "El Nini" Perez Salas, a top assassin for the Sinaloa cartel, has been extradited to the US.

CBS 47 FOX 30 ACTION NEWS JAX 95° WATCH

NEWS VIDEO FIRST ALERT WEATHER HURRICANE CENTER INVESTIGATES SPORTS ELECTION 2024 FAMILY FOCUS

BREAKING NEWS | BREAKING: Heavy deputy activity in St. Augustine on US-1 and Old Moultrie Road

Action News Jax Now

Latest Local News

Live Streams

LOCAL

Registered sex offender indicted for child sexual exploitation offenses in Jacksonville

By ActionNewsJax.com News Staff

April 25, 2023 at 3:25 pm EDT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. — A registered sex offender from Jacksonville, Andrew David Salas, has been indicted and charged with multiple child sexual exploitation offenses, according to the United States Attorney's Office.

The United States Attorney's Office has charged Andrew David Salas, aged 35, with interstate travel with intent to engage in illicit sexual conduct with a minor child, interstate transportation of a minor child to engage in unlawful sexual activity, production, attempted production, and possession of child sexual abuse materials, and committing felony offenses involving a minor child while required to register as a sex offender.

Salas was arrested on November 3, 2022, at his residence in Jacksonville and has been in custody since then.

If convicted, Salas faces a mandatory minimum penalty of 25 years, up to life, in federal prison, and a lifetime term of supervised release. He is scheduled for arraignment on May 4, 2023, in Jacksonville.

Salas was previously convicted of carnal knowledge of a minor child in Virginia in 2008 and is a registered sex offender.

The case was investigated by the Carroll County Sheriff's Office, the Georgia Bureau of Investigation, the Georgia State Attorney General's Office, the United States Marshals Service, the Jacksonville Sheriff's Office, and the

CNN World

Top Mexican cartel criminal El Nini, once among America's most wanted, extradited to the US

Nestor Isidro Perez Salas, also known as "El Nini" | United States Drug Enforcement Administration

(CNN) — A top Mexican cartel member known as "El Nini," who was one of America's most-wanted criminals for his alleged role in the fentanyl trade, has been extradited to the United States.

In a speech celebrating US-Mexico cooperation on the case, US President Joe Biden on Saturday hailed the extradition of El Nini – also known as Nestor Isidro Perez Salas – as "a good day for justice."

"El Nini played a prominent role in the notorious Sinaloa cartel, one of the deadliest drug trafficking enterprises in the world. The United States has charged him for his role in illicit fentanyl trafficking and for murdering, torturing, and kidnapping numerous rivals, witnesses, and others," Biden said, thanking Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador.

"Our governments will continue to work together to attack the fentanyl and synthetic drug epidemic that is killing so many people in our homelands and globally, and to bring to justice the criminals and organizations producing, smuggling, and selling these lethal poisons in both of our countries," he added.

According to the US Department of Justice, Nestor Isidro Perez Salas "was one of the Sinaloa cartel's lead sicarios, or assassins" and was involved in the "production and sale of fentanyl" in the United States.

Biden has previously described El Nini as one of America's most-wanted criminals. Perez Salas was charged in the US with cocaine and methamphetamine trafficking conspiracy, possession of machine guns and destructive devices, and witness retaliation in February 2023.

An official website of the United States government, Department of Justice. Here's how you know

DRU SJODIN
NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Contact Us | Registries

Search

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Home

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries +

Showing Results For:

First Name: a, Last Name: sevilla, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/1/2024, 10:24:52 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
SEVILLA, ANASTACIO EUSEBIO 	51		6299 FINDE NAIFEH DRIVE MASON, 38049 TIPTON RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, ANDREW S	36	SEVILLA, ANDREW S SEVILLA, ANDREW SCOTT SEVILLA, DREW	N/A, 54302 BROWN RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, MICHAEL ANTHONY 	37	SEVILLA, ANTHONY M	6464 HAWTHORNE ST GARDEN CITY, MI 48135 WAYNE RESIDENCE 8375 HIX RD WESTLAND, MI 48185 WAYNE EMPLOYMENT

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of t population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family mem
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including na
in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archiv documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

sevilla

FILTER YOUR RESULTS

Side
Confederacy (1)

State
Louisiana (1)

Showing 1 results for sevilla ... Sort by: Rele

Sevilla, Valentin

Side: Confederacy
Location: Louisiana
Battle Unit: 5th Regiment, European Brigade, Loui
(Spanish Regiment)

Was this page helpful?

- Yes
- No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden.[4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives.[4]

Alison Czinkota / Investopedia

Early Life and Education

Janet Yellen, born on August 13, 1946, in the Bay Ridge neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York, to a Polish Jewish family has had a distinguished career in economics and public service [5] Her mother, Anna Ruth, was an elementary school teacher a her father, Julius, was a doctor who treated patients out of the family's brownstone.[4] Demonstrating early academic prowes Yellen served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper a Fort Hamilton High School, where she graduated as valedictori in 1963. She graduated summa cum laude with an economics degree from Brown University in 1967 and went on to receive h Ph.D. from Yale University in 1971 under the guidance of Nobel laureate James Tobin.[6]

Advertisement

National Park Service

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of the adu population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family members, o
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North and S
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the men in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including name, ra in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Recor
Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archives' ori documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

yellen

No results match your search query. Please try again.

Was this page helpful?

- Yes
- No

An official form of the United States government. Provided by Touchpoints

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Showing Results For:

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War

Sevilla, Valentin

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

Janet Yellen

Early Life and Education

National Park Service

The Civil War

Search For Soldiers

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

An official website of the United States government, Department of Justice. Here's how you know

DRU SJODIN
NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Contact Us | Registries

Search

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Home

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries +

Showing Results For:

First Name: a, Last Name: sevilla, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/1/2024, 10:24:52 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
SEVILLA, ANASTACIO EUSEBIO	51		6299 FINDE NAIFEH DRIVE MASON, 38049 TIPTON RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, ANDREW S	36	SEVILLA, ANDREW S SEVILLA, ANDREW SCOTT SEVILLA, DREW	N/A, 54302 BROWN RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, MICHAEL ANTHONY	37	SEVILLA, ANTHONY M	6464 HAWTHORNE ST GARDEN CITY, MI 48135 WAYNE RESIDENCE 8375 HIX RD WESTLAND, MI 48185 WAYNE EMPLOYMENT

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of t population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family mem
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including na
in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archiv documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

sevilla

FILTER YOUR RESULTS

Showing 1 results for sevilla ... Sort by: Rel

Side
Confederacy (1)

State
Louisiana (1)

Sevilla, Valentin

Side: Confederacy
Location: Louisiana
Battle Unit: 5th Regiment, European Brigade, Lou
(Spanish Regiment)

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden.[4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives.[4]

Alison Czinkota / Investopedia

Early Life and Education

Janet Yellen, born on August 13, 1946, in the Bay Ridge neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York, to a Polish Jewish family has had a distinguished career in economics and public service [5] Her mother, Anna Ruth, was an elementary school teacher a her father, Julius, was a doctor who treated patients out of the family's brownstone.[4] Demonstrating early academic prowes Yellen served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper a Fort Hamilton High School, where she graduated as valedictori in 1963. She graduated summa cum laude with an economics degree from Brown University in 1967 and went on to receive h Ph.D. from Yale University in 1971 under the guidance of Nobel laureate James Tobin.[6]

Advertisement

National Park Service

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of the adu population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family members, c
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North and S
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the men in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including name, ra in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Recor
Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archives' ori documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

yellen

No results match your search query. Please try again.

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

An official form of the United States government. Provided by Touchpoints

An official website of the United States government, Department of Justice. Here's how you know

DRU SJODIN
NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Contact Us | Registries

Search

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Home

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries +

Showing Results For:

First Name: a, Last Name: sevilla, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/1/2024, 10:24:52 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
SEVILLA, ANASTACIO EUSEBIO 	51		6299 FINDE NAIFEH DRIVE MASON, 38049 TIPTON RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, ANDREW S	36	SEVILLA, ANDREW S SEVILLA, ANDREW SCOTT SEVILLA, DREW	N/A, 54302 BROWN RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, MICHAEL ANTHONY 	37	SEVILLA, ANTHONY M	6464 HAWTHORNE ST GARDEN CITY, MI 48135 WAYNE RESIDENCE 8375 HIX RD WESTLAND, MI 48185 WAYNE EMPLOYMENT

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of t population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family mem
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including na
in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archiv documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

sevilla

FILTER YOUR RESULTS

Showing 1 results for sevilla ... Sort by: Rel

Side
Confederacy (1)

State
Louisiana (1)

Sevilla, Valentin

Side: Confederacy
Location: Louisiana
Battle Unit: 5th Regiment, European Brigade, Loui
(Spanish Regiment)

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden. [4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives. [4]

Alison Czinkota / Investopedia

Early Life and Education

Janet Yellen, born on August 13, 1946, in the Bay Ridge neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York, to a Polish Jewish family has had a distinguished career in economics and public service [5] Her mother, Anna Ruth, was an elementary school teacher a her father, Julius, was a doctor who treated patients out of the family's brownstone. [4] Demonstrating early academic prowes Yellen served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper a Fort Hamilton High School, where she graduated as valedictori in 1963. She graduated summa cum laude with an economics degree from Brown University in 1967 and went on to receive h Ph.D. from Yale University in 1971 under the guidance of Nobel laureate James Tobin. [6]

Advertisement

National Park Service

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of the adu population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family members, o
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North and S
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the men in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including name, ra in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Recor
Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archives' ori documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

yellen

No results match your search query. Please try again.

Was this page helpful?

Yes

No

An official form of the United States government. Provided by Touchpoints

An official website of the United States government, Department of Justice. Here's how you know

DRU SJODIN
NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Contact Us | Registries

Search

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Home

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries +

Showing Results For:

First Name: a, Last Name: sevilla, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/1/2024, 10:24:52 PM Central Daylight Time

Print

Show 5 entries

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
SEVILLA, ANASTACIO EUSEBIO	51		6299 FINDE NAIFEH DRIVE MASON, 38049 TIPTON RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, ANDREW S	36	SEVILLA, ANDREW S SEVILLA, ANDREW SCOTT SEVILLA, DREW	N/A, 54302 BROWN RESIDENCE
SEVILLA, MICHAEL ANTHONY	37	SEVILLA, ANTHONY M	6464 HAWTHORNE ST GARDEN CITY, MI 48135 WAYNE RESIDENCE 8375 HIX RD WESTLAND, MI 48185 WAYNE EMPLOYMENT

Showing 1 to 3 of 3 entries

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of t population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family mem
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the
in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including na
in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archiv documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

sevilla

FILTER YOUR RESULTS

Showing 1 results for sevilla ... Sort by: Rel

Side
Confederacy (1)

State
Louisiana (1)

Sevilla, Valentin

Side: Confederacy
Location: Louisiana
Battle Unit: 5th Regiment, European Brigade, Lou
(Spanish Regiment)

Was this page helpful?

- Yes
- No

Investopedia

TABLE OF CONTENTS

- Yellen has held significant roles in economic policy-making, including chairing the White House Council of Economic Advisers under President Bill Clinton and advising both Presidents Obama and Biden.[4]
- Yellen advocates for the necessity of government regulation in economic markets and prioritizes low unemployment over low inflation, aligning with dovish policy perspectives.[4]

Alison Czinkota / Investopedia

Early Life and Education

Janet Yellen, born on August 13, 1946, in the Bay Ridge neighborhood of Brooklyn, New York, to a Polish Jewish family has had a distinguished career in economics and public service [5] Her mother, Anna Ruth, was an elementary school teacher a her father, Julius, was a doctor who treated patients out of the family's brownstone.[4] Demonstrating early academic prowes Yellen served as editor-in-chief of her high school newspaper a Fort Hamilton High School, where she graduated as valedictori in 1963. She graduated summa cum laude with an economics degree from Brown University in 1967 and went on to receive h Ph.D. from Yale University in 1971 under the guidance of Nobel laureate James Tobin.[6]

Advertisement

National Park Service

The Civil War

NPS.gov / Home / People / Soldiers and Sailors Database / Soldiers

Search For Soldiers

The Civil War was the first war in American history in which a substantial proportion of the adu population participated. Almost every American would have known friends, family members, o
who marched off to war, many never to return. The service records of these men, North and S
contained in the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System.

Please note that the Civil War Soldiers and Sailors System contains just an index of the men in the Civil War with only rudimentary information from the service records (including name, ra in which they served). The full service records are housed at the National Archives and Recor
Administration. Learn more about obtaining copies of full service records.

Additionally, all records in this database have been transcribed from the National Archives' ori documents; alternate names and/or misspellings are recorded as initially documented.

yellen

No results match your search query. Please try again.

Was this page helpful?

- Yes
- No

An official form of the United States government. Provided by Touchpoints

SHEIN
Search Anyone's Arrest Records
Jill A Sheinbaum - New Jersey
See Arrest Records
No Mugshot
Restock the essentials
Search Public Sex Offender Registries
JEWISH TELEGRAPHIC AGENCY
Jewish liberal Claudia Sheinbaum likely to win this week's Mexican presidential election, polls show

FREE SHIPPING & 20% OFF COUPON | FREE RETURNS | PRICE ADJUSTMENT
SHEIN
Sandals
Home / Beauty & Health / Sexual Wellness / Sex Toys
Filter
Color
Material
Price Range (USD)
1pc Soft Material Sexual ...
Rose Toy Tongue Licking...
Personal Vibrating Mass...
Sex Toy Rose Vibrator F...
Bondaged Kit Adult Bed ...
Rose Sex Toy Dild...
Clit Sucker Clitoral Suckl...
Clitoral Sucking Vibrator ...
Powerful AV Vibrator Dild...
1pc Mini Powerful Silent ...
20 Stalls Powerful Dildo ...
1pc - Male Vagina Ass O...

Search Anyone's Arrest Records
First Name
Last Name
State
Jill
Sheinbaum
New Jersey
Search
Patrick James Shember
Asil Manzur Sheikh
Home » US States » New Jersey » Bergen County, NJ » Jill A Sheinbaum
Jill A Sheinbaum - New Jersey
See Arrest Records
No Mugshot
Who is Jill A Sheinbaum? Was Jill A Sheinbaum arrested? When was Jill A Sheinbaum arrested? What was Jill A Sheinbaum arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Jill A Sheinbaum? Are there more Mugshots of Jill A Sheinbaum? Is this the Jill A Sheinbaum you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?
Jill A Sheinbaum was booked in Bergen County, NJ
Mugshots.com : 150763067
Sex : F
Race : WHITE
Height : 5' 7" (1.70 m)
Weight : 130 lb (59 kg)
Hair Color : BROWN
Hair Length : LONG
Eye Color : HAZEL
Complexion : LIGHT SKINNED
DOB : 3/17/1966
Marital Status : DIVORCED
State ID : 316690E
FBI : N/A
INS : N/A
Citizen : United States of America
COB : United States of America
Booking Number : E-14251
Permanent ID : D-95512
Current Location : MAIN
County : SUPERIOR COURTS (all)
Current Housing Section : N/A
Current Housing Block : N/A
Current Housing Cell : N/A
Current Housing Bed : N/A
Commitment Date : 6/23/2014
Release Date : 6/23/2014
Alias Information : N/A
Detainer Information : N/A
Bond Information : N/A
Charge Information:
Case # 355-12
Offense Date 05/01/2014
Code 2C:14-2A(1)
Description AGGRAVATED SEXUAL ASSAULT
Grade
Degree
External Links:
Search Arrest Records
Restock the essentials
Shop now

NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE
Search Public Sex Offender Registries

JEWISH TELEGRAPHIC AGENCY
Jewish liberal Claudia Sheinbaum likely to win this week's Mexican presidential election, polls show
GET JTA'S DAILY BRIEFING

NEW USERS ONLY | FREE SHIPPING & 20% OFF COUPON | FREE RETURNS | PRICE ADJUSTMENT

SHEIN

Sandals

Categories | New In | Sale | Women Clothing | Beachwear | Kids | Curve | Men Clothing | Shoes | Underwear

Home / Beauty & Health / Sexual Wellness / Sex Toys

Filter

Sort By Recommend | QuickShip | Black | Purple | More

Color

Material

Polyester
ABS
PU Leather
PVC
Stainless Steel
Stone
+ View More

Price Range (USD)

$ 0 — $ 314

1pc Soft Material Sexual ...
500+ sold recently
$2.64 -20%

Rose Toy Tongue Licking...
(1000+)
$6.40 -20%

Personal Vibrating Mass...
200+ sold recently
$6.60 -11%

Sex Toy Rose Vibrator F...
10k+ sold recently
$7.60 -4%

Bondaged Kit Adult Bed ...
(500+)
$2.60 -4%

NEW Rose Sex Toy Dild...
30+ sold recently
$13.50 -4%

Clit Sucker Clitoral Sucki...
(1000+)
$7.40 -4%

Clitoral Sucking Vibrator ...
100+ sold recently
$7.60 -4%

Powerful AV Vibrator Dild...
(500+)
$11.30 -2%

1pc Mini Powerful Silent ...
(500+)

20 Stails Powerful Dildo ...
(100+)

1pc - Male Vagina Ass O...
(100+)

INFORMATION AND/OR BOOKING PHOTOGRAPHS. MORE...

Search Anyone's Arrest Records

First Name: Jill | Last Name: Sheinbaum | State: New Jersey | Search

Patrick James Shember

Asil Manzur Sheikh →

Home » US States » New Jersey » Bergen County, NJ » Jill A Sheinbaum

Jill A Sheinbaum - New Jersey

Date added: 3/11/2017

Arrest Record Search: Jill | Sheinbaum | NJ | Search

See Arrest Records

Reddit | Tweet | Share

No Mugshot

Search Arrest Records

First Name: Jill

Last Name: Sheinbaum

State: New Jersey

✓ Search

Who is Jill A Sheinbaum? Was Jill A Sheinbaum arrested? When was Jill A Sheinbaum arrested? What was Jill A Sheinbaum arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Jill A Sheinbaum? Are there more Mugshots of Jill A Sheinbaum? Is this the Jill A Sheinbaum you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Jill A Sheinbaum was booked in Bergen County, NJ

Mugshots.com : 150763067
Sex : F
Race : WHITE
Height : 5' 7" (1.70 m)
Weight : 130 lb (59 kg)
Hair Color : BROWN
Hair Length : LONG
Eye Color : HAZEL
Complexion : LIGHT SKINNED
DOB : 3/17/1966
Marital Status : DIVORCED
State ID : 316690E
FBI : N/A
INS : N/A
Citizen : United States of America
COB : United States of America
Booking Number : E-14251
Permanent ID : D-95512
Current Location : MAIN
County : SUPERIOR COURTS (all)
Current Housing Section : N/A
Current Housing Block : N/A
Current Housing Cell : N/A
Current Housing Bed : N/A
Commitment Date : 6/23/2014
Release Date : 6/23/2014
Alias Information : N/A
Detainer Information : N/A
Bond Information : N/A

Charge Information:

#1 #2 #3 #4 #5

Case #	355-12
Offense Date	05/01/2014
Code	2C:14-2A(1)
Description	AGGRAVATED SEXUAL ASSAULT
Grade
Degree

External Links:

Restock the essentials
Shop now

DRU SADDIN
NATIONAL SEX OFFENDER PUBLIC WEBSITE

Contact Us | Regional

Home | Search Public Sex Offender Registries | Safety and Education | About NSOPW | FAQs | About Dru | Español

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Search Public Sex Offender Registries

Showing Results For:

First Name: a, Last Name: baum, State/Territory: All, Indian Country: All
Search performed 6/2/2024, 5:33:08 PM Central Daylight Time

Show All entries

Showing 1 to 17 of 17 entries

Offender	Age	Aliases	Address
BAUM, AARON MICHAEL	45	BAUM, AARON BAUM, MICHAEL	315 WOODS AVENUE NORTH LEWISBURG, TN 37091 MARSHALL RESIDENCE
BAUM, ALVA JACOB	77	BAUM, AL BAUM, ALVA JACOB	9696 DIA ROUTE 14 MANDEREE, ND 58757 N/A RESIDENTIAL
BAUM, ANDREW JARROD	34		628 MARQUIS AVE MANSFIELD, OH 44907 RICHLAND RESIDENCE 1776 HARRINGTON MEMORIAL RD MANSFIELD, OH 44903 RICHLAND EMPLOYMENT
BAUM, ANDREW THOMAS	40	BAUM, ANDREW	501 SMITHFIELD HUNTINGDON, PA 16652 HUNTINGDON RESIDENCE
BAUM, ANTHONY LEON	52	GILBERT, ANTHONY L LEON, ANTHONY LEON GILBERT, ANTHONY LEON BAUM, ANTHONY LEON	306 S S 3RD ST BURLINGTON, IA 52601 OUT OF STATE RESIDENTIAL
BAUM, ANTHONY LEON	52	BAUM, LEON A BAUM, TONY BAUM, ANTHONY L GILBERT, ANTHONY L GILBERT, TONY	150 MECHANIC ST MIDDLETOWN, IA 52638 DES MOINES RESIDENCE
BAUMANN, ANTHONY JOSEPH	64	BAUMANN, BIG B BAUMANN, ANTHONY NULL BAUMANN, ANTHONY J	6564 SE HORSESHOE DR LAKE CLINTON COUNTY, MO 64048 N/A RESIDENTIAL 6925 RIVERVIEW AVE N/A, 66102 N/A EMPLOYMENT
BAUMBACH, ADAM DELOS			3107 MIDWAY ROAD

DONATE | US | ISRAEL | GLOBAL | NEW YORK | MORE

JEWISH TELEGRAPHIC AGENCY

EST 1917

TOP NEWS : 2024 Campus Protests

GLOBAL

Jewish liberal Claudia Sheinbaum likely to win this week's Mexican presidential election, polls show

BY PHILISSA CRAMER | MAY 30, 2024 | 9:33 AM

Mexican presidential candidate Claudia Sheinbaum speaks during the 2024 closing campaign event in Mexico City, Mexico, May 29, 2024. (Ricardo Arduengo/AFP/Getty Images)

ADVERTISEMENT

Claudia Sheinbaum vaulted to the top of the Mexican presidential polls last year when she was selected as the candidate for the left-wing Morena party, which has been led by the country's popular outgoing president, Andrés Manuel López Obrador.

Now, with the election days away, Sheinbaum's lead over Xóchitl Gálvez, her center-right opponent, has only widened — making it even more likely that the country will elect both its first woman president and the first leader from a Jewish family.

With a population of 127 million, Mexico would become the largest country by far to have a head of state with a Jewish background.

A former mayor of Mexico City, Sheinbaum is a respected scientist and political liberal who has taken credit for beating back crime. Unlike López Obrador, she comes from an affluent family, has lived in the United States and speaks English fluently. But she has been his political protege for decades, and her candidacy is widely understood as a way to extend his popular policies even though Mexico limits presidents to one term.

GET JTA'S DAILY BRIEFING
Enter your email address to get the latest headlines in your inbox.
Email Address | SUBSCRIBE
By submitting the above, agree to the Privacy policy of JTA.org

Sheinbaum's Jewish background has barely come up on the campaign trail. But she has always been open about her family's story: Sheinbaum had Ashkenazi grandparents who immigrated from Lithuania in the 1920s and Sephardic grandparents who left Sofia, Bulgaria, in the 1940s to escape the Holocaust. She has said that she celebrated holidays at her grandparents' houses, but at home with her political activist parents, her family life was secular.

Home to an estimated 40,000 Jews, Mexico is known for having multiple tight-knit Jewish communities, many of which don't mingle much. Sheinbaum — who married her second husband, Jesus Maria Tarrilla, in November — is not part of any of them.

"She's not seen as, let's say, one of us," Daniel Fainstein, the dean of Jewish Studies at the Hebraica University in Mexico City, told the Jewish Telegraphic Agency last year. "I think that she's seen as someone from Jewish origins that is developing her work as an academician and then as a politician."

ADVERTISEMENT

Home » US States » Florida » Seminole County, FL » Gerson Yellen

Gerson Yellen - Florida

Date added: 7/25/2011

Arrest Record Search

Who is Gerson Yellen? Was Gerson Yellen arrested? When was Gerson Yellen arrested? What was Gerson Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Gerson Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Gerson Yellen? Is this the Gerson Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Gerson Yellen was booked in Seminole County, FL

Mugshots.com : 2666377
Booking No : 200500000533
Name : GERSON YELLEN
Birth date : 11/07/1968
Location : O
Arrested By : US Marshall Orlando Office
Arrest Date : 1/11/2005
Account Balance : ($0.00)

Charges:

- FEDERAL INMATE

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link now.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. P... and/or arrest records are previously published public records of ... indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivat... detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mu... way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an act... committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are... defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convi... status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which origi... information.

The following Official Record of Gerson Yellen is being redistrib... and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal ri... was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 7/25/2011.

unconstitutional mugshot laws, exonerations, arrest records, FBI... opinion

Arrest Record Search

First Name: Gerson
Last Name: Yellen
State: Florida
Search

Not the Gerson Yellen you were looking for? Click here to search for other Gerson Yellen

Show Facebook Widget

All original material at this website is subject to copyright. Certain materials reproduced on this website are believed to be in the p... mugshots.com is not an allegation by mugshots.com that the person has in fact engaged in any of the activities or crimes for which th... to be factually true and correct, and is not intended to malign, disparage, or defame any person named herein. Mugshots.com ma... However, Mugshots.com does not guarantee the accuracy or timeliness of the content of this website. Opinions expressed in comment...

We use third-party advertising companies to serve ads when you visit our Website. These companies may use information (not includ... to this and other Web sites in order to provide advertisements about goods and services of interest to you. If you would like more information about this pract... information used by these companies, click here

mugshots.com definitions:

Arrest or booked: An arrest is the act of depriving a person of his or her liberty usually in relation to the purported investigation or prevention of crime and pr... criminal justice system. The term is Anglo-Norman in origin and is related to the French word arrêt, meaning "stop".

The question whet... of personal liberty... stop, citation issua...

The word "arrest"...

PROGRESSIVE
AMERICA'S #1 BOAT INSURER
Get a quote

Get 40% off
when you pay with Discover® rewards
Redeem Now
Up to $30 off. Limited-time offer, see terms.

NEWS

RECORD LAWS WERE WRITTEN TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC; BY INFORMING THE PUBLIC OF ARRESTS AND TO HOLD LAW ENFORCEMENT ACCOUNTABLE FOR THE HUMANE TREATMENT OF ARRESTEES. MOST OF, IF NOT ALL "MUGSHOT LAWS" WERE CRAFTED TO PROTECT THE PUBLIC FROM FEES FOR REMOVAL OF ONLINE MUGSHOTS AND TO FURTHER PROTECT THE PRESS FROM THOSE VERY SAME "MUGSHOT LAWS". TO BE CLEAR: WE DO NOT ACCEPT PAYMENT FOR REMOVAL OF ARREST INFORMATION AND/OR BOOKING PHOTOGRAPHS. MORE...

Search Arrest Records

First Name: Harry
Last Name: Yellen
State: Tennessee
Search

...ee Hollyfield

Daniel Aurther Hodge →

» US States » Tennessee » Blount County, TN » Harry Vaughn Yellen

...y Vaughn Yellen - Tennessee

...dded: 11/01/2012

Arrest Record Search

Who is Harry Vaughn Yellen? Was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested? When was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested? What was Harry Vaughn Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Harry Vaughn Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Harry Vaughn Yellen? Is this the Harry Vaughn Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Harry Vaughn Yellen was booked in Blount County, TN

Mugshots.com : 24898858
Age : 20
Class : PRETRIAL FELON
Race : W
Sex : M
Intake Date : 11/01/2012

Charges:

TCA Description	FEDERAL SAFE HOUSING
Bond	$0
Court Date	Not Set

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link now.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Published mugshots and/or arrest records are previously published public records of: an arrest, an indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivation of liberty or a detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mugshots.com are in no way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actual crime has been committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are merely accusations. A defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convicted. For latest case status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which originally released the information.

The following Official Record of Harry Vaughn Yellen is being redistributed by Mugshots.com and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal rights. This Official Record was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 11/01/2012.

unconstitutional mugshot laws, exonerations, arrest records, FBI most wanted, editorials, opinion

Search Arrest Records

First Name: Harry
Last Name: Yellen
State: Tennessee
✓ Search

...arch for

- ARREST HISTORY CHECK
- PUBLIC RECORDS LOOKUP
- ONLINE MUGSHOT LOOKUP
- FREE PUBLIC RECORDS

Home » US States » Idaho » Unsorted, ID » Frederick Yellen

Frederick Yellen - ROBBERY - Idaho

Date added: 2/17/2013

No Mugshot

Who is Frederick Yellen? Was Frederick Yellen arrested? When was Frederick Yellen arrested? What was Frederick Yellen arrested for? Is this a mugshot of Frederick Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Frederick Yellen? Is this the Frederick Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Frederick Yellen was booked in Unsorted, ID for ROBBERY, PROPELLING BODILY FLUIDS

Mugshots.com : 47252992
ID : 19530
Name : FREDERICK YELLEN
Status : Inmate

Offenses:

#1 #2

Offense	ROBBERY
Sentencing County	ADA
Case No.	HCR21010
Sentence Satisfaction Date	07/01/2015

Mailing Address : IDAHO STATE CORRECTIONAL INSTITUTION UNIT 16 P.O. Box 14 Boise Idaho 83707
Phone Number : 208-336-0740
Parole Eligibility Date : N/A
Last Parole Activity : 10/17/2012

External Links:

Do you know of a related media coverage to this person and/or arrest? Submit a link now.

All are presumed innocent until proven guilty in a court of law. Published mugshots and/or arrest records are previously published public records of: an arrest, an indictment, a registration, supervision or probation, the deprivation of liberty or a detention. The mugshots and/or arrest records published on mugshots.com are in no way an indication of guilt and they are not evidence that an actual crime has been committed. Arrest does not imply guilt, and criminal charges are merely accusations. A defendant is presumed innocent unless proven guilty and convicted. For latest case status, contact the official Law Enforcement Agency which originally released the information.

The following Official Record of Frederick Yellen is being redistributed by Mugshots.com and is protected by constitutional, publishing, and other legal rights. This Official Record was collected from a Law Enforcement agency on 2/17/2013.

unconstitutional mugshot laws, exonerations, arrest records, FBI most wanted, editorials, opinion

Arrest Record Search

First Name: Frederick
Last Name: Yellen
State: Idaho
Search

MICHELIN
UP TO $80 INSTANT SAVINGS
ONLINE SPECIAL
LIMITED TIME!

...a mugshot of Frederick Yellen? Are there more Mugshots of Frederick Yellen? Is this the Frederick Yellen you know? Who decides which Mugshots are Indexed online? Who decides what public records the American public sees? Why should Mugshots remain public record and available to all citizens? Are Mugshot laws unconstitutional?

Frederick Yellen was booked in Ada County, ID for TRESPASS-CRIMINAL, DISORDERLY CONDUCT

Mugshots.com : 162924534
Age : 52
Arresting Agency : Ada County Sheriff
JID Number : 01114514

Charges:

#1 #2

Severity M
Charge : TRESPASS-CRIMINAL

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2011

SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner The Wire.

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

NBC NEWS WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

SAVE

Dec. 20, 2009, 8:03 PM CST / Source: The Associated Press

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 20, 2009 5:51pm EST Updated January 14, 2015 12:40am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

euronews.

News > World > Gaza

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Copyright AP Photo

By Euronews

Published on 27/11/2023 - 15:18

Share this article Comments

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochleas and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Orga

https://www.theatlantic.co

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

U.S. Convicts its First-Ever Organ Trafficker

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more.

By Adam Martin

OCTOBER 27, 2011

SHARE SAVE

This article is from the archive of our partner The Wire.

A Brooklyn man who pleaded guilty on Thursday to selling organs on the black market had a huge profit margin as he bought kidneys from Israelis for $10,000 and sold them to Americans for $120,000 or more. It's a strong business model but the kink in his plan was that one of his clients was an FBI agent, Bloomberg reported. With his guilty plea, 60-year-old Levy Izhak Rosenbaum became the first person ever convicted of organ trafficking in the United States, which outlawed selling human organs in 1984. In spite of it being illegal, Rosenbaum's practice does sound like it was successful, Bloomberg reports.

Israel harvested organs in

NBC NEWS

WATCH LIVE

Israel harvested organs in '90s without consent

Israel admits that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

SAVE

Dec. 20, 2009, 8:03 PM CST / Source: The Associated Press

Israel has admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Parts of the interview were broadcast on Israel's Channel 2 TV over the weekend. In it, Hiss said, "We started to harvest corneas ... Whatever was done was highly informal. No permission was asked from the family."

The Channel 2 report said that in the 1990s, forensic specialists at Abu Kabir harvested skin, corneas, heart valves and bones from the bodies of Palestinians and foreign workers, often without permission from relatives.

FOX NEWS

Login Watch TV

Israel Harvested Organs Without Families' Permission

Associated Press

Published December 20, 2009 5:51pm EST Updated January 14, 2015 12:40am EST

JERUSALEM – Israel admitted that in the 1990s, its forensic pathologists harvested organs from dead bodies, including Palestinians, without permission of their families.

The issue emerged with publication of an interview with the then-head of Israel's Abu Kabir forensic institute, Dr. Jehuda Hiss. The interview was conducted in 2000 by an American academic, who released it because of a huge controversy last summer over an allegation by a Swedish newspaper that Israel was killing Palestinians in order to harvest their organs. Israel hotly denied the charge.

Israel 'stealing o

https://w

euronews.

News > World > Gaza

Israel 'stealing organs' from bodies in Gaza, alleges human rights group

Copyright AP Photo

By Euronews

Published on 27/11/2023 - 15:18

Share this article Comments

Concerns about 'organ theft' by Israel's forces from dead Palestinians were raised by Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor.

Israel's army has been accused of stealing organs from the dead in Gaza by an NGO, which called for an independent international investigation.

Euro-Med Human Rights Monitor said on Sunday it had "concerns" about possible organ theft from Palestinian corpses, following reports by medical professionals in Gaza who examined some bodies after they were released by Israel.

The NGO claimed it has documented Israeli forces confiscating dozens of dead bodies from the al-Shifa and Indonesian hospitals in northern Gaza, alongside others in the south.

Medical professionals reportedly found vital organs, such as livers, kidneys and hearts, alongside cochleas and corneas, were missing, which the Euro-Med Monitor called "evidence" of potential organ theft.

They also claimed Israel exhumed and confiscated corpses from a mass grave that was dug more than 10 days ago in a courtyard at al-Shifa.

MORE > CONTACT US > FIELD OFFICES > DALLAS > NEWS > PRESS RELEASES FBI Search FBI

Dallas

About | News | Wanted and Missing Persons | Community Outreach

U.S. Attorney's Office

Twitter Facebook Email

February 11, 2015

Dallas County Man Admits to Producing Child Pornography

DALLAS—A Hutchins, Texas, man, Servando Vega Cervantes, 24, appeared this morning before U.S. Magistrate Judge Paul D. Stickney and pleaded guilty to an indictment charging three counts of production of child pornography, announced John Parker, United States Attorney for the Northern District of Texas.

Cervantes faces a statutory penalty of not less than 15 years and not more than 30 years in federal prison, for each count. Each count also carries up to a $250,000 fine and up to a lifetime of supervised release. Cervantes has been in custody since his arrest in November 2014 on a related federal complaint. He is scheduled to be sentenced on May 28, 2015, by U.S. District Judge Jane J. Boyle.

According to documents filed in the case, the Hutchins Police Department contacted the FBI in May 2014 regarding questionable online communication between an 11-year-old victim, "John Doe #1," and the Facebook user profile of "Laura Ortiz." The victim's mother believed the user of the Ortiz profile was actually an adult male and not a 13-year-old female as described in chat conversations between John Doe #1 and Ortiz. The investigation revealed that the user profile "Laura Ortiz" belonged to Cervantes. The investigation also revealed that John Doe #1 knew

Henry F. Quintero Sentenced To 25 Years For Failure To Register As Sex Offender

By News Staff - June 12, 2021 0

Photo Ellis County Sheriff's Office

Convicted for Sexual Assault of a Child in 1997

Ellis County and District Attorney Ann Montgomery announced that Henry F. Quintero, 52, of Bardwell, Texas, was sentenced to 25 years

56

History | Curiosities | Archaeology | News | Today In History Members

Rafael Caro Quintero: The True Story Of The Narcos Drug Lord Still On The Run

By Gina Dimuro | Edited By John Kuroski

Published May 4, 2021 | Updated July 28, 2021

Rafael Caro Quintero was one of Mexico's first and most powerful cartel leaders until he was suspected of orchestrating the brutal torture and murder of a DEA agent.

Rafael Caro Quintero was considered the "Narco of Narcos." The bloodthirsty drug lord thought he was untouchable, but he overstepped his bounds when he brutally murdered an American agent.

Let out of jail on a technicality, the trafficker is still at large — and wanted by the FBI. Now, Caro Quintero is the central figure of season four of Netflix's popular series Narcos. Here's his true story.

Early Life And Finding The Guadalajara Cartel

A photo of Rafael Caro Quintero from 2016. fbi.gov

Rafael Caro Quintero was born sometime in October 1952, in Sinaloa, Mexico. He has listed various birthdays spanning October to November or March of

YouTube Search Sign in

A LA LUZ DE LA TORAH

Yoel Quintero oficial

@YoelishQuintero · 13.2K subscribers · 33 videos

בס"ד

Subscribe Join

About

בס"ד
Queridos amigos
Este nuevo proyecto para la difusión de la Sagrada Torá está orientado para todos aquellos que están comenzando ahondar en el conocimiento de las escrituras y de las tradiciones de nuestro pueblo Israel.

Quiera el creador del universo que el contenido realizado sea de vuestro agrado e interés.

Te gustaría ayudar este proyecto o a un estudiante de Yeshiva?, Te gustaría que haga tefila por Ti o por alguien en especial en los lugares sagrados como la cueva de los patriarcas o el muro occidental?.
Yo te puedo ayudar
Escribe a mi correo electrónico:
yoelishquintero@gmail.com

Te gustaría ser parte de mi grupo de WhatsApp para recibir el estudio semanal de la Torá y de las festividades? Puedes unirte con este enlace:

https://chat.whatsapp.com/ITknqHXpsOgGd1ZOknSMbN

Todo lo bueno y lo mejor queridos amigos y amigas

Channel details

www.youtube.com/@YoelishQuintero
13.2K subscribers
33 videos
265,428 views
Joined Dec 3, 2023
Share channel

4:34 6:28 2:21

2.8K views • 1 month ago 3.6K views • 1 month ago

NudeVista

Matt Heffner
Matt's Story
Playboy founder Hugh Hefner dies aged 91
Playboy USA - December 2007

The Atlantic

Sign In Subscribe

CULTURE

How Hugh Hefner Commercialized Sex

The Playboy founder—who died at the age of 91—peddled an American dream that was as much about money as desire.

By Sophie Gilbert

Westcom / Starmax / AP

SEPTEMBER 28, 2017

SHARE SAVE

In 1953, Hugh Hefner was living out a stereotypical version of the American Dream. At the age of 27, he had a job (as a cartoonist and copywriter), a wife, and a baby daughter. As Elizabeth Fraterrigo notes in her 2009 book Playboy and the Making of the Good Life in Modern America, Hefner's home life was so picture-perfect that it was photographed for a two-page story in the Chicago Daily News. In one image, Hefner sits on the floor of a tidy, modern living room holding baby Christie, while his wife, Millie, watches from the couch, holding a magazine.

ADVERTISEMENT

DISCOVER THE ROLEX AND NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC PERPETUAL PLANET AMAZON EXPEDITION

63°

KOIN 6

WATCHING OUT FOR YOU

WATCH NOW

NEWS

Remembrance Day: Jewish Holocaust rescuers want their story told

Dezi Heffner-Reiner points to her photo on a poster in memory of members of the Zionist youth movement underground in Hungary during the Holocaust at a ceremony …

by: The Associated Press
Posted: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST
Updated: Jan 27, 2023 / 07:04 AM PST

SHARE

KIBBUTZ HAZOREA, Israel (AP) — Just before Nazi Germany invaded Hungary in March 1944, Jewish youth leaders in the eastern European country jumped into action: They formed an underground network that in the coming months would save tens of thousands of fellow Jews from the gas chambers.

DAILY STAR

Hugh Hefner 'Pig Night' sex parties saw 'carloads' of women brought to Playboy Mansion

Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', according to upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy. It's claimed pimps brought 'carloads' of women to the mansion for the parties

Bookmark SHARE Comments 1

By Samantha Bartlett Assistant Editor, Social Newsdesk
10:40, 18 JAN 2022

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night' (Image: WireImage)

Sign up for the Hot Topics newsletter for hot style and sex tips

More Newsletters

Enter your Email…

Subscribe

We use your sign-up to provide content in ways you've consented to and improve our understanding of you. This may include adverts from us and third parties based on our knowledge of you. More info

It's claimed that Hugh Hefner's Playboy Mansion hosted a weekly sex party, dubbed 'Pig Night', in upcoming documentary Secrets of Playboy.

Tampa Bay Times

Subscribe

The five women who were rescued were connected to the nonprofit Selah Freedom for counseling and support, according to the Sheriff's Office. The teen is receiving help through the Florida Department of Children and Families.

The most serious allegations resulted in two men being arrested Friday: 34-year-old Alvin Lynch Jr. and Scott Fitzgerald, 27. A search warrant obtained to search Fitzgerald's phone explains how detectives built the case:

An undercover detective found the victim through an online advertisement and used the phone number listed to arrange a meeting at a Clarion motel at 9332 E Adamo Drive, according to the warrant.

Alvin Lynch Jr., 34, faces one count of human trafficking for commercial sexual activity involving someone under the age of 18 and several other charges, according to the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office. (Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office)

SPONSORED CONTENT

Primary care doctors are critical link to better health for seniors

by BUPA USA

Detectives booked a room for the sting and started surveilling the hotel. It was about 4:20 p.m. when detectives said they noted a Lexus sedan in the parking lot's south side. Lynch was driving the vehicle, according to the warrant, Fitzgerald was in the front passenger seat and the victim was in the backseat.

The two men remained in the area and the victim was tested to "check in" with them via text, the warrant said. That is a common tactic of traffickers, the warrant said, who provide security after transporting someone for the purposes of engaging in sex acts for payment.

Scott Fitzgerald, 27, faces one count of human trafficking for commercial sexual activity involving someone under the age of 18 and other criminal charges, according to the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office. (Hillsborough County

ALEX J. SHEPARD
Attorney

CASE OVERVIEW

Defendant Daniel S. Fitzgerald, a.k.a. "Hollywood Homes," is a sex trafficker who engaged in intimidation and harassment to conceal his actions and silence victims and witnesses. Fitzgerald, a co-conspirator in Peter Nygard's sex trafficking enterprise, also had his own venture, victimizing the plaintiffs in this case.

Caroline Barghout · CBC News ·
Posted: Apr 29, 2021 5:00 AM CDT | Last Updated: April 29, 2021

This photo, included in the lawsuit, calls Daniel Fitzgerald, fourth from right, a longtime friend and associate of Peter Nygard, centre. The lawsuit alleges Fitzgerald 'knowingly participated in Nygard's alleged sex trafficking venture by engaging in sex acts' with three women referred to as Jane Doe 1, 2 and 3. (United States District Court, Central District of California Western Division)

Fitz's

Fitz's VOODEW

VOODEW

$35.95

Out of stock

Fitz's - 12 Pack | Made with a ma
lemons, limes, and oranges balar
cane sugar and a caffeine bump.

Shipping Prices Explained

YouTube

Voodoo Fest 2010 Fitz and the Tantrums - "We Don Need No Love Songs"

carolynola11
27 subscribers

Subscribe

Meet Fitz Haney, the Israeli-American dip businessman and reality TV star

From a youth in Chicago to a conversion with roots in Mexico, aliya to Israel and an ambassadorship in Costa Rica, Stafford Fitzgerald Haney is still on a journey

By Amy Spiro · August 6, 2009

Spread

S

Even these disparate snapshots don't come close to telling the full life story of Haney, kn people simply as 'Fitz.' From roots in Nashville and Chicago to a decade working in Latin

Back

All topics

Kurt Lockwood

Biography

Jump to

Overview

Born June 4, 1970 · Baltimore, Maryland, USA

Birth name Steve Fitzgerald

Height 5' 10" (1.78 m)

Mini Bio

Kurt Lockwood was born on June 4, 1970 in Baltimore, Maryland, USA. He is an actor and director.

Trivia

Has a degree in Theatre from the University of Maryland.

Stephanie Adams Fucked With A Thumb In Her Butt - Anal

1080p

Onlycougars Com 429k | Kurt Lockwood 8 | anal | stockings | cumshot | facial | hardcore | mil

brunette | doggystyle | hardsex | ass-to-mouth | cougar | anal-sex | butt-sex | ass-fuck | anal-fingering

Join Our FREE Community & Meet Cougars For Anonymous Sex!

Najłatwiejszy sposób na powiększ
+6cm w 7 dni. 100% gw
Czy

Kurt Lockwood AKA Kirt Lockwood, Kurt Blockwood

Man, Porn actor, 46y

Subscribe 12.6k

Add to friends

Videos 105 | RED 41 | Fans

Kurt Lockwood 105 free videos

(Watched recently / New / Most viewed / Most commented)

Prev 1 2 3

360p Kurt Lockwood takes nuru massage from skinny… Nurumassage 41.3k 6 min

720p Beautiful Lucy Lee offers her ass to Kurt Lockwood's big.. Estelle And Friends 15… 23 min

1080p Small Tits Chick Samantha Ryan Rides a Big Dick Pornstar.com 29k 10 min

360p Sexy masseuse blows fat cock - Kurt Lockwood, Alai… Nurumassage 23.4k 6 min

360p | 360p | 360p

XNXX.COM

Watch Long Porn Videos for FREE

Kurt Lockwood

STANDARD - 104 | GOLD - 41

26,109,673 video views

Watched recently 1 2 3

Blonde teen flirts with her stepdad.The guy lifts her… 6min 720p 3.7M

Blonde milf is cheating with her stepdaughters… 6min 720p 270.9k

Teen babysitter caught stealing the boss credit… 6min 720p 1.4M

Big tits blonde pegging 6min 720p 1.6M

Pornstar.com Anal Fucking And Many Orgasm From Taryn Thomas 10min 1080p 77.2k

Guy finds out his babysitter loves anal sex.They give it… 6min 720p 191.5k

DevilsVid.com - A blonde teen auditions to be a… 6min 720p 394k

Blonde stepdaughter catches her stepmom… 6min 720p 330.1k

Cum Eating Cuckolds Cum Eating Cuckolds - Vera Drake cheats on her… 10min 720p 492.7k

Brunette babysitter gets spanked by her boss for… 6min 720p 205.9k

Pornstar.com Pornstar Girl Hillary Scott Gangbanged by Five Big… 10min 1080p 34.2k

Adult Time - Out Of The … I Can't Believe You Did This To Me Again 13min 1080p 563.3k so her father.

נתקדשה קודם שתגדל שלא לדעת אביה אינה מקודשת:

If she were to be betrothed, before she came of age without permission of her father, it is not a valid betrothal.

קדשה אביה בבקר וקידשה עצמה בערב ושניהם ביום שנשלם מן ששה חדשים של ימי נערות וגדלה ומצאוה בוגרת מחזיקים אותה בחזקת בוגרת וקידושי האב אינו כלום ויש מי שאומר דאפילו אינה מכחישתו לומר שבאו הסימנים בבקר ויש מי שאומר דחזקא מכחישתו אבל באינה מכחישתו צריכה גט משניהם:

If her father were to betroth her in the morning and she betrothed herself in the evening and both of them did it on the day that completed the six months of the days of her na'arut[1] and they examine and find her to be of age then she is considered to be adult and the betrothal of her father is not valid. There are those who say that[2] even if she does not contradict him and say that the signs of maturity were there in the morning. However, there are those who say that this applies only if she contradicts him, but if she does not contradict him she needs a bill of divorce from both of them.

Somatica® Institute

The Founders' Story

Danielle Harel and Celeste Hirschman's partnership began over a decade ago when they met at a sexological bodywork certification training program. Bonding over their backgrounds in human sexuality studies and desire to help others experience more fulfilling relationships, they partnered to create a revolutionary new approach to sex and relationship coaching.

Together, they identified a gap in the industry:

As they built t
the principles
and Celeste w
shifts in confic
relationship sa
themselves!).
showed their more loving, a others. They c and feelings o listeners with

Somatica® Institute

Find a Sex Coach Near Me

Our sex coach directory has moved to sexcoaching.com! Over there, you will find a list of Certified and trained Somatica Sex Coaches. These are highly skilled, knowledgeable, warm, and supportive practitioners who have gone through the Somatica Training.

Contact a Sex Coach Now

Somatica sex coaches are available to support you in all of your sex and relationship goals. If you need help choosing the right coach, fill out a contact form, and we will have the right practitioner get in touch with you!

Find a Sex and Relationship Coach Near Me

Somatica sex and relationship coaches live all around the globe. Most of them also provide online sex coaching.

North America: USA, Canada
US States: California, Colorado, Kentucky, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Oregon, South Carolina, Texas, Washington
Europe: Germany, Italy, Netherlands, United Kingdom
Asia and Oceania: Australia, India
Africa: Ghana, South Africa

Find a Sex Coach by Expertise

Trevor Warren

Couples & Sexual Intimacy Therapist

Trevor Warren is a seasoned couples and sexual intimacy therapist with over 30 years helping couples achieve deeper intimate communion. He's an experienced workshop facilitator, Tantric practitioner, and sex-activist with a desire to support others to emancipate from the heavy historical blanket of sex negativity that has become so normalized in our culture.

Trevor's passionate aim is to resurrect the most natural and powerful essence of who we are as human beings and reclaim our Divine Sexual Selves.

More Info:
CoreQuest.ca

19 תנו רבנן זכור לא עשו בו קטן כגדול בהמה עשו בה קטנה כגדולה

§ The Sages taught: With regard to intercourse with a male, the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy; but with regard to intercourse with an animal, the Torah does deem a young animal to be like an old animal.

20 מאי לא עשו בו קטן כגדול אמר רב לא עשו ביאת פחות מבן תשע שנים כבן תשע שנים ושמואל אמר לא עשו ביאת פחות מבן שלש שנים כבן שלש שנים

The Gemara asks: What does it mean that the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy? Rav says: It means that the Torah does not deem the intercourse of one who is less than nine years old to be like the intercourse of one who is at least nine years old, as for a male's act of intercourse to have the legal status of full-fledged intercourse the minimum age is nine years. And Shmuel says: The Torah does not deem the intercourse of a child who is less than three years old to be like that of one who is three years old.

21 במאי קמיפלגי רב סבר כל דאיתיה בשוכב איתיה בנשכב וכל דליתיה בשוכב ליתיה בנשכב

The Gemara asks: With regard to what principle do Rav and Shmuel disagree? The Gemara answers: Rav holds that any halakha that applies to one who engages in intercourse actively applies to one who engages in intercourse passively, and any halakha that does not

19 תנו רבנן זכור לא עשו בו קטן כגדול בהמה עשו בה קטנה כגדולה

§ The Sages taught: With regard to intercourse with a male, the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy; but with regard to intercourse with an animal, the Torah does deem a young animal to be like an old animal.

20 מאי לא עשו בו קטן כגדול אמר רב לא עשו ביאת פחות מבן תשע שנים כבן תשע שנים ושמואל אמר לא עשו ביאת פחות מבן שלש שנים כבן שלש שנים

The Gemara asks: What does it mean that the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy? Rav says: It means that the Torah does not deem the intercourse of one who is less than nine years old to be like the intercourse of one who is at least nine years old, as for a male's act of intercourse to have the legal status of full-fledged intercourse the minimum age is nine years. And Shmuel says: The Torah does not deem the intercourse of a child who is less than three years old to be like that of one who is three years old.

21 במאי קמיפלגי רב סבר כל דאיתיה בשוכב איתיה בנשכב וכל דליתיה בשוכב ליתיה בנשכב

The Gemara asks: With regard to what principle do Rav and Shmuel disagree? The Gemara answers: Rav holds that any halakha that applies to one who engages in intercourse actively applies to one who engages in intercourse passively, and any halakha that does not

19 תנו רבנן זכור לא עשו בו קטן כגדול בהמה עשו בה קטנה כגדולה

§ The Sages taught: With regard to intercourse with a male, the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy; but with regard to intercourse with an animal, the Torah does deem a young animal to be like an old animal.

20 מאי לא עשו בו קטן כגדול אמר רב לא עשו ביאת פחות מבן תשע שנים כבן תשע שנים ושמואל אמר לא עשו ביאת פחות מבן שלש שנים כבן שלש שנים

The Gemara asks: What does it mean that the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy? Rav says: It means that the Torah does not deem the intercourse of one who is less than nine years old to be like the intercourse of one who is at least nine years old, as for a male's act of intercourse to have the legal status of full-fledged intercourse the minimum age is nine years. And Shmuel says: The Torah does not deem the intercourse of a child who is less than three years old to be like that of one who is three years old.

21 במאי קמיפלגי רב סבר כל דאיתיה בשוכב איתיה בנשכב וכל דליתיה בשוכב ליתיה בנשכב

The Gemara asks: With regard to what principle do Rav and Shmuel disagree? The Gemara answers: Rav holds that any halakha that applies to one who engages in intercourse actively applies to one who engages in intercourse passively, and any halakha that does not

37a

1 הואיל וראוי לביאה מטמא נמי בזיבה אמר רבינא הלכך הא תינוקת עובדת כוכבים בת ג׳ שנים ויום אחד הואיל וראויה לביאה מטמאה נמי בזיבה

The Gemara explains the reason for this opinion: Since a nine-year-old boy is fit to engage in intercourse, he also imparts ritual impurity as one who experienced ziva*. Ravina said: Therefore, with regard to a female gentile child who is three years and one day old, since she is fit to engage in intercourse at that age, she also imparts impurity as one who experienced ziva*.

2 פשיטא מהו דתימא האי ידע לארגולי והא לא ידעה לארגולי קמ״ל

The Gemara asks: Isn't that obvious? The Gemara explains: It was necessary to state this ruling, lest you say that the halakha that a gentile who is suited for intercourse imparts impurity does not apply to a female. The possible difference between a male and female child is based on the fact that whereas that child, a nine-year-old male gentile, knows how to accustom others to sin by employing persuasion, this child, a three-year-old female gentile, does not know how to accustom others to sin until she matures. Therefore, Ravina teaches us that the halakha nevertheless applies to both male and female children.

3 מיסתמיך ואזיל ר׳ יהודה נשיאה אכתפיה דרבי שמלאי שמעיה א״ל

37a

1 הואיל וראוי לביאה מטמא נמי בזיבה אמר רבינא הלכך הא תינוקת עובדת כוכבים בת ג׳ שנים ויום אחד הואיל וראויה לביאה מטמאה נמי בזיבה

The Gemara explains the reason for this opinion: Since a nine-year-old boy is fit to engage in intercourse, he also imparts ritual impurity as one who experienced ziva*. Ravina said: Therefore, with regard to a female gentile child who is three years and one day old, since she is fit to engage in intercourse at that age, she also imparts impurity as one who experienced ziva*.

2 פשיטא מהו דתימא האי ידע לארגולי והא לא ידעה לארגולי קמ״ל

The Gemara asks: Isn't that obvious? The Gemara explains: It was necessary to state this ruling, lest you say that the halakha that a gentile who is suited for intercourse imparts impurity does not apply to a female. The possible difference between a male and female child is based on the fact that whereas that child, a nine-year-old male gentile, knows how to accustom others to sin by employing persuasion, this child, a three-year-old female gentile, does not know how to accustom others to sin until she matures. Therefore, Ravina teaches us that the halakha nevertheless applies to both male and female children.

3 מיסתמיך ואזיל ר׳ יהודה נשיאה אכתפיה דרבי שמלאי שמעיה א״ל

37a

הואיל וראוי לביאה מטמא נמי בחבה אמר רבינא הלכך הא הניקה שבדת סיכבים בת ג׳ שנים ויום אחד הואיל וראויה לביאה מטמאה נמי בחבה

The Gemara explains the reason for this epitrope: Since a nine-year-old boy is fit to engage in intercourse, he also imparts ritual impurity as one who experienced zava. Ravina said: Therefore, with regard to a female gentile child who is three years and one day old, since she is fit to engage in intercourse at that age, she also imparts impurity as one who experienced zava.

מנינא מהו דהינא האי ידע לארגולי והא לא ידעה לארגולי קמ״ל

The Gemara asks: Isn't that obvious? The Gemara explains: It was necessary to state this ruling, lest you say that the halakha that a gentile who is suited for intercourse imparts impurity does not apply to a female. The possible difference between a male and female child is based on the fact that whereas that child, a nine-year-old male gentile, knows how to accustom others to sin by employing persuasion, this child, a three-year-old female gentile, does not know how to accustom others to sin until she matures. Therefore, Ravina teaches us that the halakha nevertheless applies to both male and female children.

מיסתפיך ואזיל ר׳ יהודה נשיאה אסתפיה דרבי שמלאי שמעיה א״ל

כיצד. מֻתָּר הָאָב לְחַבֵּק בִּתּוֹ וּלְנַשְּׁקָהּ וְתִישַׁן עִמּוֹ בְּקֵרוּב בָּשָׂר. וְכֵן הָאֵם עִם בְּנָהּ כָּל זְמַן שֶׁהֵם קְטַנִּים. הִגְדִּילוּ וְנַעֲשָׂה הַבֵּן גָּדוֹל וְהַבַּת גְּדוֹלָה עַד שֶׁיִּהְיוּ שָׁדַיִם נְכוֹנִים וּשְׂעָרָהּ צָמַח זֶה יָשֵׁן בְּכֻסּוּתוֹ וְהִיא יְשֵׁנָה בְּכֻסּוּתָהּ. וְאִם הָיְתָה הַבַּת בּוֹשָׁה לַעֲמֹד לִפְנֵי אָבִיהָ עֲרֻמָּה אוֹ שְׁנִשֵּׂאת. וְכֵן אִם הָאֵם בּוֹשָׁה לַעֲמֹד בִּפְנֵי בְּנָהּ עֲרֻמָּה וְאַף עַל פִּי שֶׁהֵן קְטַנִּים מִשֶּׁהִגִּיעַ לְהִתְבַּיֵּשׁ מֵהֶן אֵין יְשֵׁנִים עִמָּהֶם אֶלָּא בְּכֻסּוּתָן:

What is implied? A father is permitted to embrace his daughter, kiss her, and sleep with her with their bodies touching[17] and a mother may do the same with her son as long as they are young. When they grow and become mature[18] with the girl's body becoming developed,[19] they should each sleep in clothing.
If the daughter is embarrassed to stand before her father naked or she married,[20] and similarly, if the mother was embarrassed to stand before her son naked, even if [the children] are minors, when one reaches the point when one is ashamed [of being naked] in their presence, they should sleep together only when clothed.[21]

נָשִׁים הַמְסוֹלֶלוֹת זוֹ בָּזוֹ אָסוּר וּמַמְעֲשֵׂה מִצְרַיִם הוּא שֶׁהֻזְהַרְנוּ עָלָיו שֶׁנֶּאֱמַר (ויקרא יח ג) "כְּמַעֲשֵׂה אֶרֶץ מִצְרַיִם לֹא תַעֲשׂוּ". אָמְרוּ חֲכָמִים

7 כֵּיצַד. מֻתָּר הָאָב לְחַבֵּק בִּתּוֹ וּלְנַשְּׁקָהּ וְתִישַׁן עִמּוֹ בְּקֵרוּב בָּשָׂר. וְכֵן הָאֵם עִם בְּנָהּ כָּל זְמַן שֶׁהֵם קְטַנִּים. הִגְדִּילוּ וְנַעֲשָׂה הַבֵּן גָּדוֹל וְהַבַּת גְּדוֹלָה עַד שֶׁיִּהְיוּ שָׁדַיִם נָכֹנוּ וּשְׂעָרֵךְ צָמַח זֶה יָשֵׁן בִּכְסוּתוֹ וְהִיא יְשֵׁנָה בִּכְסוּתָהּ. וְאִם הָיְתָה הַבַּת בּוֹשָׁה לַעֲמֹד לִפְנֵי אָבִיהָ עֲרֻמָּה אוֹ שֶׁנִּשֵּׂאת. וְכֵן אִם הָאֵם בּוֹשָׁה לַעֲמֹד בִּפְנֵי בְּנָהּ עֲרֻמָּה וְאַף עַל פִּי שֶׁהֵן קְטַנִּים מִשֶּׁהִגִּיעוּ לְהִכָּלֵם מֵהֶן אֵין יְשֵׁנִים עִמָּהֶם אֶלָּא בִּכְסוּתָן:

What is implied? A father is permitted to embrace his daughter, kiss her, and sleep with her with their bodies touching[17] and a mother may do the same with her son as long as they are young. When they grow and become mature[18] with the girl's body becoming developed,[19] they should each sleep in clothing.

If the daughter is embarrassed to stand before her father naked or she married,[20] and similarly, if the mother was embarrassed to stand before her son naked, even if [the children] are minors, when one reaches the point when one is ashamed [of being naked] in their presence, they should sleep together only when clothed.[21]

8 נָשִׁים הַמְסוֹלְלוֹת זוֹ בָּזוֹ אָסוּר וּמִמַּעֲשֵׂה מִצְרַיִם הוּא שֶׁהֻזְהַרְנוּ עָלָיו שֶׁנֶּאֱמַר (ויקרא יח ג) "כְּמַעֲשֵׂה אֶרֶץ מִצְרַיִם לֹא תַעֲשׂוּ". אָמְרוּ חֲכָמִים

the term "I will require," which is stated in the singular, that a descendant of Noah is executed on the basis of the verdict of even one judge.

4 (בראשית ט, ה) מיד כל חיה אפילו שלא בהתראה (בראשית ט, ה) אדרשנו ומיד האדם אפילו בעד אחד (בראשית ט, ה) מיד איש ולא מיד אשה אחיו אפילו קרוב

It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every animal" that one is executed even without forewarning, as an animal certainly cannot forewarn someone. It is derived from the phrase "I will require it; and at the hand of man," with "I" stated in the singular, that the sentence is issued on the basis of the testimony of even one witness. It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every man," that the judgment and testimony must be at the hand of a man, but not at the hand of a woman. It is derived from the term "his brother" that the testimony of the witness is accepted even if he is a relative of the defendant.

5 משום רבי ישמעאל אמרו אף על העוברין מאי טעמיה דרבי ישמעאל דכתיב (בראשית ט, ו) שופך דם האדם באדם דמו ישפך איזהו אדם שהוא באדם הוי אומר זה עובר שבמעי אמו

It is stated in that book of Aggadot that the Sages said in the name of Rabbi Yishmael: A descendant of Noah is executed even for killing fetuses. The Gemara asks: What is the reason for the opinion of Rabbi Yishmael? The Gemara answers: It is derived from that which is written: "One who sheds the blood of a person, by a person [ba'adam] his blood shall be shed" (Genesis 9:6). The word ba'adam

the term "I will require," which is stated in the singular, that a descendant of Noah is executed on the basis of the verdict of even one judge.

(בראשית ט, ה) מיד כל חיה אפילו שלא בהתראה (בראשית ט, ה) אדרשנו ומיד האדם אפילו בעד אחד (בראשית ט, ה) מיד איש ולא מיד אשה אחיו אפילו קרוב

It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every animal" that one is executed even without forewarning, as an animal certainly cannot forewarn someone. It is derived from the phrase "I will require it; and at the hand of man," with "I" stated in the singular, that the sentence is issued on the basis of the testimony of even one witness. It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every man," that the judgment and testimony must be at the hand of a man, but not at the hand of a woman. It is derived from the term "his brother" that the testimony of the witness is accepted even if he is a relative of the defendant.

משום רבי ישמעאל אמרו אף על העוברין מאי טעמיה דרבי ישמעאל דכתיב (בראשית ט, ו) שופך דם האדם באדם דמו ישפך איזהו אדם שהוא באדם הוי אומר זה עובר שבמעי אמו

It is stated in that book of Aggadot that the Sages said in the name of Rabbi Yishmael: A descendant of Noah is executed even for killing fetuses. The Gemara asks: What is the reason for the opinion of Rabbi Yishmael? The Gemara answers: It is derived from that which is written: "One who sheds the blood of a person, by a person [ba'adam] his blood shall be shed" (Genesis 9:6). The word ba'adam be burned" (Genesis 38:24). This proves that the prohibition against licentious intercourse with a gentile was in force long before the time of the students of Shammai and Hillel.

8 אלא דאורייתא עובד כוכבים הבא על בת ישראל דמשכה בתריה אבל ישראל הבא על העובדת כוכבים לא ואתו אינהו גזור אפי׳ ישראל הבא על העובדת כוכבים

The Gemara explains: Rather, the prohibition prescribed by Torah law applies to the case of a gentile who engaged in intercourse with a Jewish woman, as she is drawn after him toward idolatry, but the case of a Jew who engaged in intercourse with a gentile woman is not included in the prohibition by Torah law. And the students of Shammai

be burned" (Genesis 38:24). This proves that the prohibition against licentious intercourse with a gentile was in force long before the time of the students of Shammai and Hillel.

8 אלא דאורייתא עובד כוכבים הבא על בת ישראל דמשכה בתריה אבל ישראל הבא על העובדת כוכבים לא ואתו אינהו גזור אפי׳ ישראל הבא על העובדת כוכבים

The Gemara explains: Rather, the prohibition prescribed by Torah law applies to the case of a gentile who engaged in intercourse with a Jewish woman, as she is drawn after him toward idolatry, but the case of a Jew who engaged in intercourse with a gentile woman is not included in the prohibition by Torah law. And the students of Shammai

[illegible]

be burned" (Genesis 38:24). This proves that the prohibition against licentious intercourse with a gentile was in force long before the time of the students of Shammai and Hillel.

- אלא דאורייתא עבד כוכבים הבא על בת ישראל דמשכה בתריה אבל ישראל הבא על העבדת כוכבים לא ואתו אינהו גזור אפי' ישראל הבא על העבדת כוכבים

The Gemara explains: Rather, the prohibition prescribed by Torah law applies to the case of a gentile who engaged in intercourse with a Jewish woman, as she is drawn after him toward idolatry, but the case of a Jew who engaged in intercourse with a gentile woman is not included in the prohibition by Torah law. And the students of Shammai

be burned" (Genesis 38:24). This proves that the prohibition against licentious intercourse with a gentile was in force long before the time of the students of Shammai and Hillel.

8 אלא דאורייתא עובד כוכבים הבא על בת ישראל דמשכה בתריה אבל ישראל הבא על העובדת כוכבים לא ואתו אינהו גזור אפי' ישראל הבא על העובדת כוכבים

The Gemara explains: Rather, the prohibition prescribed by Torah law applies to the case of a gentile who engaged in intercourse with a Jewish woman, as she is drawn after him toward idolatry, but the case of a Jew who engaged in intercourse with a gentile woman is not included in the prohibition by Torah law. And the students of Shammai

be burned" (Genesis 38:24). This proves that the prohibition against licentious intercourse with a gentile was in force long before the time of the students of Shammai and Hillel.

8 אלא דאורייתא עובד כוכבים הבא על בת ישראל דמשכה בתריה אבל ישראל הבא על העובדת כוכבים לא ואתו אינהו גזור אפי׳ ישראל הבא על העובדת כוכבים

The Gemara explains: Rather, the prohibition prescribed by Torah law applies to the case of a gentile who engaged in intercourse with a Jewish woman, as she is drawn after him toward idolatry, but the case of a Jew who engaged in intercourse with a gentile woman is not included in the prohibition by Torah law. And the students of Shammai

מתניתין דמה לה מאי דמה לה דמה לה לגזלן ולגזלן

כיצד בנכרי גזלו בנו בין ישראל לבנו בין נכרי לנכרי

The Gemara challenges: If the connection of a Jewish mamzer to robbery is a deterrent to the robbery of less than the value of one perutah, what is the moral deterrent in the case of a gentile who robs a gentile? Since they are not equal in power forgiveness, robbing a gentile of even a minimal amount is considered full-fledged robbery, and our mishnah studies to robberies.

אלא מהכי יש מדה בריה דיש מדה אינה לא שייכי מדה לגבוה שני

שנאי כיצד בנכרי גזלו בנו בין ישראל אפילו ישראל בנכרי גזלו

Rashba, Bar Aḥa, son of Bar Ba, says that there is a different explanation. It is unnecessary really to teach the halakhot of one who witholdeddly the wages of a hired labourer for a gentile or for an unwilling gentile said for a gentile or for a Jew is prohibited. But for a Jew or for or to a gentile is permitted. This case is for otherwise those other types of robbery or removal of taking or from from the robbing the other witholdeddly an entry that is due in the another.

- "A Jew who rapes a gentile 3-year-old girl, because he raped her viciously, this girl is put to death, because she "brought" shame on the Jewish people, like a case a Jew coupling with an animal, the animal is to be executed as mentioned elsewhere. (Maimonides, chapter 12 of The Laws of Forbidden Relationships, halacha 8-9).[1]
- "Ones' ox that injured a pregnant maidservant and she miscarried, the owner of the ox is exempt from payment for her offspring, for this is similar to injuring a pregnant she-ass".(Maimonides in chapter 11 of The Laws of Monetary Damage, halacha 4).[2]

  (This revered scholar even explains himself very well, here is an exact quotation:

  "This is our law! And do not find it difficult, and don't be surprised by it, just as one is not surprised about the slaughter of animals even though they have done no harm, for, one in whom human characteristics are not complete is not truly a man, and his end purpose is only for 'man' (i.e. the Jew)". (Maimonides commentary on the Mishnah in Tractate Baba Kama, chapter 4, mishnah 3).
- A Jew who killed a Gentile with intent is not put to death by the Beit Din, as he would be had he killed a Jew. (Maimonides in The Laws of a Murderer and Saving Life, chapter 2, halacha 10-11).[3]
- A gentile who killed a Jew without intent, even though he did it unintentionally, he is put to death.(Maimonidesin chapter 5 of The Laws of a Murderer and Protecting Life, halacha 4)[4]

Mishneh Torah, Forbidden Intercourse 12
Trans. by Eliyahu Touger, Moznaim Publishing

9 עַכּוּ״ם הַבָּא עַל בַּת יִשְׂרָאֵל אִם אֵשֶׁת אִישׁ הִיא נֶהֱרַג עָלֶיהָ וְאִם פְּנוּיָה הִיא אֵינוֹ נֶהֱרַג:

When a gentile engages in relations with a Jewish woman, if she is married, he should be executed.[22] If she is single, he is not executed.

10 אֲבָל יִשְׂרָאֵל הַבָּא עַל הַכּוּתִית בֵּין קְטַנָּה בַּת שָׁלֹשׁ שָׁנִים וְיוֹם אֶחָד בֵּין גְּדוֹלָה בֵּין פְּנוּיָה בֵּין אֵשֶׁת אִישׁ וַאֲפִלּוּ הָיָה קָטָן בֶּן תֵּשַׁע שָׁנִים וְיוֹם אֶחָד כֵּיוָן שֶׁבָּא עַל הַכּוּתִית בְּזָדוֹן הֲרֵי זוֹ נֶהֱרֶגֶת מִפְּנֵי שֶׁבָּא לְיִשְׂרָאֵל תַּקָּלָה עַל יָדֶיהָ כִּבְהֵמָה. וְדָבָר זֶה מְפֹרָשׁ בַּתּוֹרָה שֶׁנֶּאֱמַר (במדבר לא טז) ״הֵן הֵנָּה הָיוּ לִבְנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל בִּדְבַר בִּלְעָם״ (במדבר לא יז) ״וְכָל אִשָּׁה יֹדַעַת אִישׁ לְמִשְׁכַּב זָכָר הֲרֹגוּ״:

If, by contrast, a Jewish male enters into relations with a gentile woman, when he does so intentionally, she should be executed.[23] She is executed because she caused a Jew to be involved in an unseemly transgression, as [is the law with regard to] an animal.[24] [This applies regardless of] whether the gentile women was a minor of three years of age,[25] or an adult, whether she was single or married. And it applies even if [the Jew] was a minor of nine years old, [she is executed].[26] This [punishment] is explicitly mentioned in the Torah, as [Numbers 31:16-17] states: "Behold they were [involved] with the children of Israel according to the advice of Balaam[27] ו. Execute any woman fit to know a man through lying with a male."

11 הָעֲבָדִים שֶׁהִטְבִּילוּ אוֹתָם לְשֵׁם עַבְדוּת וְקִבְּלוּ עֲלֵיהֶם מִצְוֹת שֶׁהָעֲבָדִים

old girl, because he raped her viciously, this brought" shame on the Jewish people, like a
, the animal is to be executed as mentioned
2 of The Laws of Forbidden Relationships,

aidservant and she miscarried, the owner of ner offspring, for this is similar to injuring a
chapter 11 of The Laws of Monetary Damage,

ains himself very well, here is an exact

find it difficult, and don't be surprised by it,
d about the slaughter of animals even arm, for, one in whom human
nplete is not truly a man, and his end purpose
)". (Maimonides commentary on the Mishnah pter 4, mishnah 3).

nt is not put to death by the Beit Din, as he monides in The Laws of a Murderer and Saving

ntent, even though he did it unintentionally, hapter 5 of The Laws of a Murderer and

Mishnah
Trans. by

יא נָהֲרַג עָלֶיהָ וְאִם

When a gentile engages i married, he should be ex

שָׁלֹשׁ שָׁנִים וְיוֹם אֶחָד
ד קָטָן בֶּן תֵּשַׁע שָׁנִים
נָהֲרַגַת מִפְּנֵי שֶׁבָּא
מֵישׂ בְּתוֹרָה שֶׁנֶּאֱמַר
ד בְּלִקְטָם" (במדבר לא יז)

If, by contrast, a Jewish n
when he does so intentio
executed because she cau
transgression, as [is the la regardless of] whether th
age,[13] or an adult, wheth
even if [the Jew] was a m
This [punishment] is exp
31:16-17] states: "Behold
Israel according to the ad
know a man through lyi

עֲלֵיהֶם מִצְוֹת שֶׁנִּצְטַוּוּם

- "A Jew who rapes a gentile 3-year-old girl, because he raped her viciously, this girl is put to death, because she "brought" shame on the Jewish people, like a case a Jew coupling with an animal, the animal is to be executed as mentioned elsewhere. (Maimonides, chapter 12 of The Laws of Forbidden Relationships, halacha 8-9).[1]
- "Ones' ox that injured a pregnant maidservant and she miscarried, the owner of the ox is exempt from payment for her offspring, for this is similar to injuring a pregnant she-ass".(Maimonides in chapter 11 of The Laws of Monetary Damage, halacha 4).[2]

  (This revered scholar even explains himself very well, here is an exact quotation:

  "This is our law! And do not find it difficult, and don't be surprised by it, just as one is not surprised about the slaughter of animals even though they have done no harm, for, one in whom human characteristics are not complete is not truly a man, and his end purpose is only for 'man' (i.e. the Jew)". (Maimonides commentary on the Mishnah in Tractate Baba Kama, chapter 4, mishnah 3).
- A Jew who killed a Gentile with intent is not put to death by the Beit Din, as he would be had he killed a Jew. (Maimonides in The Laws of a Murderer and Saving Life, chapter 2, halacha 10-11).[3]
- A gentile who killed a Jew without intent, even though he did it unintentionally, he is put to death.(Maimonidesin chapter 5 of The Laws of a Murderer and Protecting Life, halacha 4)[4]

Mishneh Torah, Forbidden Intercourse 12
Trans. by Eliyahu Touger, Moznaim Publishing

9 עַכּוּ״ם הַבָּא עַל בַּת יִשְׂרָאֵל אִם אֵשֶׁת אִישׁ הִיא נֶהֱרַג עָלֶיהָ וְאִם פְּנוּיָה הִיא אֵינוֹ נֶהֱרַג:

When a gentile engages in relations with a Jewish woman, if she is married, he should be executed.[22] If she is single, he is not executed.

10 אֲבָל יִשְׂרָאֵל הַבָּא עַל הַכּוּתִית בֵּין קְטַנָּה בַּת שָׁלֹשׁ שָׁנִים וְיוֹם אֶחָד בֵּין גְּדוֹלָה בֵּין פְּנוּיָה בֵּין אֵשֶׁת אִישׁ וַאֲפִלּוּ הָיָה קָטָן בֶּן תֵּשַׁע שָׁנִים וְיוֹם אֶחָד כֵּיוָן שֶׁבָּא עַל הַכּוּתִית בְּזָדוֹן הֲרֵי זוֹ נֶהֱרֶגֶת מִפְּנֵי שֶׁבָּא לְיִשְׂרָאֵל תַּקָּלָה עַל יָדֶיהָ כִּבְהֵמָה. וְדָבָר זֶה מְפֹרָשׁ בַּתּוֹרָה שֶׁנֶּאֱמַר (במדבר לא טז) ״הֵן הֵנָּה הָיוּ לִבְנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל בִּדְבַר בִּלְעָם״ (במדבר לא יז) ״וְכָל אִשָּׁה יֹדַעַת אִישׁ לְמִשְׁכַּב זָכָר הֲרֹגוּ״:

If, by contrast, a Jewish male enters into relations with a gentile woman, when he does so intentionally, she should be executed.[23] She is executed because she caused a Jew to be involved in an unseemly transgression, as [is the law with regard to] an animal.[24] [This applies regardless of] whether the gentile women was a minor of three years of age,[25] or an adult, whether she was single or married. And it applies even if [the Jew] was a minor of nine years old, [she is executed].[26] This [punishment] is explicitly mentioned in the Torah, as [Numbers 31:16-17] states: "Behold they were [involved] with the children of Israel according to the advice of Balaam[27].ו Execute any woman fit to know a man through lying with a male."

11 הָעֲבָדִים שֶׁהִטְבִּילוּ אוֹתָם לְשֵׁם עַבְדוּת וְקִבְּלוּ עֲלֵיהֶם מִצְוֹת שֶׁהָעֲבָדִים

- "A Jew who rapes a gentile 3-year-old girl, because he raped her viciously, this girl is put to death, because she "brought" shame on the Jewish people, like a case a Jew coupling with an animal, the animal is to be executed as mentioned elsewhere. (Maimonides, chapter 12 of The Laws of Forbidden Relationships, halacha 8-9).[1]
- "Ones' ox that injured a pregnant maidservant and she miscarried, the owner of the ox is exempt from payment for her offspring, for this is similar to injuring a pregnant she-ass".(Maimonides in chapter 11 of The Laws of Monetary Damage, halacha 4).[2]

  (This revered scholar even explains himself very well, here is an exact quotation:

  > "This is our law! And do not find it difficult, and don't be surprised by it, just as one is not surprised about the slaughter of animals even though they have done no harm, for, one in whom human characteristics are not complete is not truly a man, and his end purpose is only for 'man' (i.e. the Jew)". (Maimonides commentary on the Mishnah in Tractate Baba Kama, chapter 4, mishnah 3).

- A Jew who killed a Gentile with intent is not put to death by the Beit Din, as he would be had he killed a Jew. (Maimonides in The Laws of a Murderer and Saving Life, chapter 2, halacha 10-11).[3]
- A gentile who killed a Jew without intent, even though he did it unintentionally, he is put to death.(Maimonidesin chapter 5 of The Laws of a Murderer and Protecting Life, halacha 4)[4]

Mishneh Torah, Forbidden Intercourse 12
Trans. by Eliyahu Touger, Moznaim Publishing

9 עכו"ם הבא על בת ישראל אם אשת איש היא נהרג עליה ואם פנויה היא אינו נהרג:

When a gentile engages in relations with a Jewish woman, if she is married, he should be executed.[22] If she is single, he is not executed.

10 אבל ישראל הבא על הכותית בין קטנה בת שלש שנים ויום אחד בין גדולה בין פנויה בין אשת איש ואפלו היה קטן בן תשע שנים ויום אחד כיון שבא על הכותית בזדון הרי זו נהרגת מפני שבא לישראל תקלה על ידיה כבהמה. וזכר זה מפרש בתורה שנאמר (במדבר לא טז) "הן הנה היו לבני ישראל בדבר בלעם" (במדבר לא יז) "וכל אשה ידעת איש למשכב זכר הרגו":

If, by contrast, a Jewish male enters into relations with a gentile woman, when he does so intentionally, she should be executed.[23] She is executed because she caused a Jew to be involved in an unseemly transgression, as [is the law with regard to] an animal.[24] [This applies regardless of] whether the gentile women was a minor of three years of age,[25] or an adult, whether she was single or married. And it applies even if [the Jew] was a minor of nine years old, [she is executed].[26] This [punishment] is explicitly mentioned in the Torah, as [Numbers 31:16-17] states: "Behold they were [involved] with the children of Israel according to the advice of Balaam[27].† Execute any woman fit to know a man through lying with a male."

11 העבדים שהטבילו אותם לשם עבדות וקבלו עליהם מצות שהעבדים

- "A Jew who rapes a gentile 3-year-old girl, because he raped her viciously, this girl is put to death, because she "brought" shame on the Jewish people, like a case a Jew coupling with an animal, the animal is to be executed as mentioned elsewhere. (Maimonides, chapter 12 of The Laws of Forbidden Relationships, halacha 8-9).[1]
- "Ones' ox that injured a pregnant maidservant and she miscarried, the owner of the ox is exempt from payment for her offspring, for this is similar to injuring a pregnant she-ass".(Maimonides in chapter 11 of The Laws of Monetary Damage, halacha 4).[2]

  (This revered scholar even explains himself very well, here is an exact quotation:

  "This is our law! And do not find it difficult, and don't be surprised by it, just as one is not surprised about the slaughter of animals even though they have done no harm, for, one in whom human characteristics are not complete is not truly a man, and his end purpose is only for 'man' (i.e. the Jew)". (Maimonides commentary on the Mishnah in Tractate Baba Kama, chapter 4, mishnah 3).
- A Jew who killed a Gentile with intent is not put to death by the Beit Din, as he would be had he killed a Jew. (Maimonides in The Laws of a Murderer and Saving Life, chapter 2, halacha 10-11).[3]
- A gentile who killed a Jew without intent, even though he did it unintentionally, he is put to death.(Maimonidesin chapter 5 of The Laws of a Murderer and Protecting Life, halacha 4)[4]

Mishneh Torah, Forbidden Intercourse 12
Trans. by Eliyahu Touger, Moznaim Publishing

9 עַכּוּ״ם הַבָּא עַל בַּת יִשְׂרָאֵל אִם אֵשֶׁת אִישׁ הִיא נֶהֱרַג עָלֶיהָ וְאִם פְּנוּיָה הִיא אֵינוֹ נֶהֱרַג:

When a gentile engages in relations with a Jewish woman, if she is married, he should be executed.[22] If she is single, he is not executed.

10 אֲבָל יִשְׂרָאֵל הַבָּא עַל הַכּוּתִית בֵּין קְטַנָּה בַּת שָׁלֹשׁ שָׁנִים וְיוֹם אֶחָד בֵּין גְּדוֹלָה בֵּין פְּנוּיָה בֵּין אֵשֶׁת אִישׁ וַאֲפִלּוּ הָיָה קָטָן בֶּן תֵּשַׁע שָׁנִים וְיוֹם אֶחָד כֵּיוָן שֶׁבָּא עַל הַכּוּתִית בְּזָדוֹן הֲרֵי זוֹ נֶהֱרֶגֶת מִפְּנֵי שֶׁבָּא לְיִשְׂרָאֵל תַּקָּלָה עַל יָדֶיהָ כִּבְהֵמָה. וְדָבָר זֶה מְפֹרָשׁ בַּתּוֹרָה שֶׁנֶּאֱמַר (במדבר לא טז) "הֵן הֵנָּה הָיוּ לִבְנֵי יִשְׂרָאֵל בִּדְבַר בִּלְעָם" (במדבר לא יז) "וְכָל אִשָּׁה יֹדַעַת אִישׁ לְמִשְׁכַּב זָכָר הָרֹגוּ":

If, by contrast, a Jewish male enters into relations with a gentile woman, when he does so intentionally, she should be executed.[23] She is executed because she caused a Jew to be involved in an unseemly transgression, as [is the law with regard to] an animal.[24] [This applies regardless of] whether the gentile women was a minor of three years of age,[25] or an adult, whether she was single or married. And it applies even if [the Jew] was a minor of nine years old, [she is executed].[26] This [punishment] is explicitly mentioned in the Torah, as [Numbers 31:16-17] states: "Behold they were [involved] with the children of Israel according to the advice of Balaam[27].ו Execute any woman fit to know a man through lying with a male."

11 הָעֲבָדִים שֶׁהִטְבִּילוּ אוֹתָם לְשֵׁם עֲבָדוּת וְקִבְּלוּ עֲלֵיהֶם מִצְוֹת שֶׁהָעֲבָדִים

13 רב הונא ורב יהודה וכולהו תלמידי דרב אמרי על שבע מצות בן נח נהרג גלי רחמנא בחדא והוא הדין לכולהו

Rav Huna, Rav Yehuda, and all of the other students of Rav say: A descendant of Noah is executed for transgressing any of the seven Noahide mitzvot; the Merciful One revealed this punishment with regard to one mitzva, the prohibition of bloodshed, and the same is true with regard to all of them.

14 ועל הגזל בן נח נהרג והתניא על הגזל גנב וגזל וכן יפת תואר וכן כיוצא בהן כותי בכותי וכותי בישראל אסור וישראל בכותי מותר ואם איתא ניתני חייב

The Gemara asks: But is a descendant of Noah executed for robbery? But isn't it taught in a baraita: With regard to the following types of robbery: One who steals or robs, and likewise one who engages in intercourse with a married beautiful woman who was taken as a prisoner of war, and likewise all actions similar to these, if they are done by a gentile to another gentile, or by a gentile to a Jew, the action is prohibited; but if a Jew does so to a gentile, it is permitted? The Gemara explains the question: And if it is so that a gentile is liable to be executed for robbery, and it is not merely prohibited to him, let the baraita teach that he is liable to be executed.

15 משום דקבעי למיתני סיפא ישראל בכותי מותר תנא רישא אסור

The Gemara answers: Because the tanna wanted to teach in the latter clause that if a Jew does so to a gentile, it is permitted, he taught in the former clause that if a gentile does one of these, it is prohibited. If the baraita were to state that if a gentile does so, he is liable, it would have to state that if a Jew does so to a gentile, he is exempt, because this is the opposite of liable. That would indicate that it is actually prohibited for a Jew to do so to a gentile, and that he is merely exempt from liability, which is not the case. Therefore, the word prohibited is used with regard to a gentile. Therefore, this does not prove that a gentile is exempt from capital punishment.

Marco Galant - Model page
David Galant
Biography

וקיימי בשעה שהיה נכנסה אדם אביו ושאר כל עניות מותרים לו לאחריו אינה אביו

And according to all opinions, he is permitted to marry his brother's wife and his father's brother's wife, and all other relatives with whom relations are forbidden in the case of lowly Jews are also permitted to him. The expression And all other relatives with whom relations are forbidden is added to include his father's wife, who is permitted to him if she was widowed or divorced from his father.

בנים אינו יבמה ניכנס אדם מיתה מיתה אדם אלמנותיה לא יכנס מיתה מיתה בנים ביתו בתוכיתו ושיקנה ושאני אביו בתוכיתו

With regard to a gentile who assembled a woman and her daughters and they all converted, he may marry one from among them, the widow's mother and he should not marry the mother of those children. If his wife, the daughter, died, he is permitted to marry an Israelite mother-in-law or her wife. And vice versa, he is prohibited from marrying her mother-in-law. In any event, Rabbi Meir clearly holds that in cases of forbidden relationships for which a Jew is not liable to receive capital punishment, but only lashes, are forbidden to descendants of Noah as

4 ומותר באשת אחיו ובאשת אחי אביו ושאר כל עריות מותרות לו לאתויי אשת אביו

And according to all opinions, he is permitted to marry his brother's wife and his father's brother's wife, and all other relatives with whom relations are forbidden in the case of born Jew are also permitted to him. The expression: And all other relatives with whom relations are forbidden, is added to include his father's wife, who is permitted to him if she was widowed or divorced from his father.

5 נשא אשה ובתה כונס אחת ומוציא אחת ולכתחילה לא יכנוס מתה אשתו מותר בחמותו ואיכא דאמרי אסור בחמותו

With regard to a gentile who married a woman and her daughter and they all converted, he may marry one but must divorce the other one; and he should not marry the second of them ab initio. If his wife, the daughter, died, he is permitted to maintain his mother-in-law as his wife. And some say that he is prohibited from maintaining his mother-in-law. In any event, Rabbi Meir clearly holds that several forbidden relationships for which a Jew is not liable to receive capital punishment, but only karet, are forbidden to descendants of Noah as well, namely, intercourse with one's sister or one's parent's sister.

ומותר באשת אחיו ובאשת אחי אביו ושאר כל עריות מותרות לו לאחיי אשת אביו

And according to all opinions, he is permitted to marry his brother's wife and his father's brother's wife, and all other relatives with whom relations are forbidden in the case of born Jew are also permitted to him. The expression: And all other relatives with whom relations are forbidden, is added to include his father's wife, who is permitted to him if she was widowed or divorced from his father.

נשא אשה ובתה כולם אחת ומוציא אחת ולכתחילה לא יכנוס מתה אשתו מותר בחמותו ואיכא דאמרי אסור בחמותו

With regard to a gentile who married a woman and her daughter and they all converted, he may marry one but must divorce the other one; and he should not marry the second of them ab initio. If his wife, the daughter, died, he is permitted to maintain his mother-in-law as his wife. And some say that he is prohibited from maintaining his mother-in-law. In any event, Rabbi Meïr clearly holds that several forbidden relationships for which a Jew is not liable to receive capital punishment, but only karet, are forbidden to descendants of Noah as well, namely, intercourse with one's sister or one's parent's sister.

XVIDEOS

Straight · Games · History

Miyuki y David Santos Post it Kiss 9 min 720p

Gsgtegeg · Miyuki Son · teen · latina · ass

303k 99% 1% Comments Download Save Share

Related videos · Related playlists 100

Marco Galant AKA David Galant, Marco Gagnon

David Galant #5,395

2.4M video views · Subscribe 328

Videos · RED · Fans

Watched recently

My stepbrother wants to put his sperm in my vagina and leav...

my 18 sister enjoys tremendous fucked that i give...

She is Horny sexy 18 year old babe With Big Ass Wants me...

Already daddy! I come in his tight pussy! While everyone...

Tayler learns to fuck when her stepbrother catches her...

Infaled stepsister exper... husband to leave home...

lohud.

MORE ROCKLAND NEWS: Wake, funeral set for Tiki Bar co-owner John Ambrose

"Though we could not know their names, they have gained a sense of identity as we take responsibility for their burial," said Paul Galan, the president of the Holocaust Museum and Center for Tolerance and Education in Suffern. "Today we restore these dignities which were so lacking in the place and time where they lost their lives. Do not forget these people. Do not forget the Holocaust. And remember one thing. Never, never again."

Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Yoav Gallant (Hebrew: יואב גלנט; born 8 November 1958) is an Israeli politician and retired military general. A member of the Knesset for Likud, he has served as Minister of Defense since 2022. He is a former commander of the Southern Command in the Israel Defense Forces. In January 2015, he entered politics, joining the new Kulanu party. After being elected to the Knesset, he was appointed Minister of Construction. At the end of 2018, he joined Likud. Gallant also previously held the posts of Minister of Aliyah and Integration and Minister of Education.

Biography

Yoav Gallant was born on 8 November 1958[1] in Jaffa to Polish Jewish immigrants. His mother,

Yoav Gallant

Official portrait, 2023

Ministerial roles
2015–2019	Minister of Construction
2019–2020	Minister of Aliyah & Integration
2020–2021	Minister of Education

Leslie Grace

HOME ABOUT SEX COACHING PSYCHEDELIC INTEGRATION MEDIA

Our Team

Meet Leslie Grace, RN

The vibrant journey alchemist, soul mentor, and #1 Wall Street Journal Bestselling co-author who is sparking a movement of leaders, entrepreneurs, and visionaries who are ready to make peace with their demons and unleash their full potential as the sexy, heart-centered Creators and Creatrixes of the most magnificent collective future we could ever dream of.

Her approach utilizes a unique blend of psychedelic healing, Hakomi Somatic Therapy, and conscious sexuality practices, all backed by her own deepening practice of Vajrayana Buddhism.

Leslie is no stranger to breaking free from limiting beliefs - having escaped her Catholic upbringing and former career in end-of-life care to embark on an orgasmic, revelatory journey with plant medicine. With over 15 years of intentional psychedelic exploration, she trusts her intuition above all else, making her a true authority in her field.

Based in the magical San Francisco Bay Area, Leslie offers both private and group transformational containers, providing a safe and supportive space for you to play at the edges and embrace the timeless wisdom within. Ready to unleash your life force and join the movement of psychedelic change-makers?

Apply now and let the adventure begin!

APPLY HERE

"

Leslie is simultaneously immensely nurturing, delightfully playful,

Hakomi
Mindful Somatic Psychotherapy

DONATE

BACK TO DIRECTORY

FACULTY

Halko Weiss

HAKOMI TRAINER
Ph.D., Dipl.-Psych., ECP, supervisor (BDP), CHT

ABOUT

Halko Weiss

Halko Weiss is a Clinical Psychologist, supervisor, and lecturer with a Ph.D. and DBH, specializing in mindfulness, couples therapy, and body-centered psychotherapy. He authored 30 publications, including ten books, and earned the Alice K. Ladas Research Award from the USABP in 2005.

As a co-founder of the Hakomi Institute in Boulder, Colorado, and the Hakomi Institutes of Europe, Australia, and New Zealand, Halko played a key role in developing the Hakomi Method and

Availab

Contact

EMAIL:
PHONE:
ADDRESS:

Publica

Hakomi
Mindful Somatic Psychotherapy

DONATE LOGIN

BACK TO DIRECTORY

FACULTY

Bettina Berger

HAKOMI TRAINER
M.D., CHT

ABOUT

Bettina Berger

Bettina Berger, M.D., is a physician in psychosomatic medicine and psychotherapie. After 12 years of clinical psychosomatic work she now offers psychotherapie for individuals and groups in private practice.

Availability

Contact Info

EMAIL:
bergbettina@outlook.com

YouTube

Sign

Chat Replay is disabled for this Premiere.

Life is School | Sex Coach & Tantra Teacher | Aaron Kleinerman | Sneak Peak

Simon Transparently
4.25K subscribers

Subscribe

1 Share Save ···

203 views Premiered Jan 20, 2021 #sexuality #personaldevelopment #sexcoach
☆ FULL PODCAST: https://www.podbean.com/media/share/p...
SUBSCRIBE TO THIS CHANNEL AND CLICK THE BELL TO KEEP UPDATED.

Leslie Grace

HOME ABOUT SEX COACHING PSYCHEDELIC INTEGRATION MEDIA

Our Team

Meet Leslie Grace, RN

The vibrant journey alchemist, soul mentor, and #1 Wall Street Journal Bestselling co-author who is sparking a movement of leaders, entrepreneurs, and visionaries who are ready to make peace with their demons and unleash their full potential as the sexy, heart-centered Creators and Creatrixes of the most magnificent collective future we could ever dream of.

Her approach utilizes a unique blend of psychedelic healing, Hakomi Somatic Therapy, and conscious sexuality practices, all backed by her own deepening practice of Vajrayana Buddhism.

Leslie is no stranger to breaking free from limiting beliefs - having escaped her Catholic upbringing and former career in end-of-life care to embark on an orgasmic, revelatory journey with plant medicine. With over 15 years of intentional psychedelic exploration, she trusts her intuition above all else, making her a true authority in her field.

Based in the magical San Francisco Bay Area, Leslie offers both private and group transformational containers, providing a safe and supportive space for you to play at the edges and embrace the timeless wisdom within. Ready to unleash your life force and join the movement of psychedelic change-makers?

Apply now and let the adventure begin!

APPLY HERE

"

Leslie is simultaneously immensely nurturing, delightfully playful,

Hakomi
Mindful Somatic Psychotherapy

DONATE

BACK TO DIRECTORY

FACULTY

Halko Weiss

HAKOMI TRAINER
Ph.D., Dipl.-Psych., ECP, supervisor (BDP), CHT

ABOUT

Halko Weiss

Halko Weiss is a Clinical Psychologist, supervisor, and lecturer with a Ph.D. and DBH, specializing in mindfulness, couples therapy, and body-centered psychotherapy. He authored 30 publications, including ten books, and earned the Alice K. Ladas Research Award from the USABP in 2005.

As a co-founder of the Hakomi Institute in Boulder, Colorado, and the Hakomi Institutes of Europe, Australia, and New Zealand, Halko played a key role in developing the Hakomi Method and

Availab

Not Accep

Contact

EMAIL: halk

PHONE: oo

ADDRESS:

Hamburg, 22

Publica

Halko has pu of books an editor of Ha Centered Sc Psychothera Comprehen

Hakomi
Mindful Somatic Psychotherapy

DONATE LOGIN

BACK TO DIRECTORY

FACULTY

Bettina Berger

HAKOMI TRAINER
M.D., CHT

ABOUT

Bettina Berger

Bettina Berger, M.D., is a physician in psychosomatic medicine and psychotherapie. After 12 years of clinical psychosomatic work she now offers psychotherapie for individuals and groups in private practice.

Availability

Contact Info

EMAIL:
bergbettina@outlook.com

YouTube

Sign

Chat Replay is disabled for this Premiere.

Life is School | Sex Coach & Tantra Teacher | Aaron Kleinerman | Sneak Peak

Simon Transparently
4.25K subscribers

Subscribe

1 Share Save

203 views Premiered Jan 20, 2021 #sexuality #personaldevelopment #sexcoach
☆ FULL PODCAST: https://www.podbean.com/media/share/p...
SUBSCRIBE TO THIS CHANNEL AND CLICK THE BELL TO KEEP UPDATED.

9 מַתְנִי׳ הַמַּדִּיר אֶת אִשְׁתּוֹ מִתַּשְׁמִישׁ הַמִּטָּה, בֵּית שַׁמַּאי אוֹמְרִים: שְׁתֵּי שַׁבָּתוֹת. בֵּית הִלֵּל אוֹמְרִים: שַׁבָּת אַחַת.

MISHNA: With regard to one who vows that his wife may not derive benefit from marital relations with him, Beit Shammai say: He may maintain this situation for up to two weeks, but beyond that he must divorce her and give her the payment for her marriage contract. Beit Hillel say: He must divorce her if it continues beyond one week.

10 הַתַּלְמִידִים יוֹצְאִין לְתַלְמוּד תּוֹרָה שֶׁלֹּא בִּרְשׁוּת שְׁלֹשִׁים יוֹם. הַפּוֹעֲלִים שַׁבָּת אַחַת. הָעוֹנָה הָאֲמוּרָה בַּתּוֹרָה: הַטַּיָּלִין — בְּכָל יוֹם. הַפּוֹעֲלִים — שְׁתַּיִם בְּשַׁבָּת. הַחַמָּרִים — אַחַת בְּשַׁבָּת. הַגַּמָּלִים — אַחַת לִשְׁלֹשִׁים יוֹם. הַסַּפָּנִים — אַחַת לְשִׁשָּׁה חֳדָשִׁים. דִּבְרֵי רַבִּי אֱלִיעֶזֶר.

Apropos the husband's obligation to his wife regarding marital relations, the Gemara mentions other aspects of this issue: Students may leave their homes and travel in order to learn Torah without their wives' permission for up to thirty days, and laborers may leave their homes without their wives' permission for up to one week. The set interval defining the frequency of a husband's conjugal obligation to his wife stated in the Torah (see Exodus 21:10), unless the couple stipulated otherwise, varies according to the man's occupation and proximity to his home: Men of leisure, who do not work, must engage in marital relations every day, laborers must do so twice a week, donkey drivers once a week, camel drivers once every thirty days, and sailors once every six months. This is the statement of Rabbi Eliezer.

11 גְּמָ׳ מַאי טַעְמָא דְּבֵית שַׁמַּאי? גְּמִרִי מִיּוֹלֶדֶת נְקֵבָה. וּבֵית הִלֵּל? גְּמִרִי מִיּוֹלֶדֶת זָכָר.

GEMARA: The Gemara asks: What is the reason that Beit Shammai say a husband may force abstinence on his wife by a vow for a period of up to two weeks without being compelled to divorce her? They derive this from the halakha that a woman who gave birth to a female is ritually impure and prohibited from engaging in conjugal relations with her husband for two weeks after childbirth (see Leviticus 12:5). From this they derive that a period of up to two weeks of abstinence is not deemed undue suffering. And from where do Beit Hillel derive their opinion? They derive it from a woman who gave birth to a male, as she is ritually impure for one week (see Leviticus 12:1–4).

12 וּבֵית הִלֵּל נָמֵי נִגְמְרוּ מִיּוֹלֶדֶת נְקֵבָה! אִי מִיּוֹלֶדֶת גְּמִרִי לַהּ — הָכִי

9 מַתְנִי׳ הַמַּדִּיר אֶת אִשְׁתּוֹ מִתַּשְׁמִישׁ הַמִּטָּה, בֵּית שַׁמַּאי אוֹמְרִים: שְׁתֵּי שַׁבָּתוֹת. בֵּית הִלֵּל אוֹמְרִים: שַׁבָּת אַחַת.

MISHNA: With regard to one who vows that his wife may not derive benefit from marital relations with him, Beit Shammai say: He may maintain this situation for up to two weeks, but beyond that he must divorce her and give her the payment for her marriage contract. Beit Hillel say: He must divorce her if it continues beyond one week.

10 הַתַּלְמִידִים יוֹצְאִין לְתַלְמוּד תּוֹרָה שֶׁלֹּא בִּרְשׁוּת שְׁלֹשִׁים יוֹם. הַפּוֹעֲלִים שַׁבָּת אַחַת. הָעוֹנָה הָאֲמוּרָה בַּתּוֹרָה: הַטַּיָּילִין — בְּכָל יוֹם. הַפּוֹעֲלִים — שְׁתַּיִם בְּשַׁבָּת. הַחַמָּרִים — אַחַת בְּשַׁבָּת. הַגַּמָּלִים — אַחַת לִשְׁלֹשִׁים יוֹם. הַסַּפָּנִים — אַחַת לְשִׁשָּׁה חֳדָשִׁים. דִּבְרֵי רַבִּי אֱלִיעֶזֶר.

Apropos the husband's obligation to his wife regarding marital relations, the Gemara mentions other aspects of this issue: Students may leave their homes and travel in order to learn Torah without their wives' permission for up to thirty days, and laborers may leave their homes without their wives' permission for up to one week. The set interval defining the frequency of a husband's conjugal obligation to his wife stated in the Torah (see Exodus 21:10), unless the couple stipulated otherwise, varies according to the man's occupation and proximity to his home: Men of leisure, who do not work, must engage in marital relations every day, laborers must do so twice a week, donkey drivers once a week, camel drivers once every thirty days, and sailors once every six months. This is the statement of Rabbi Eliezer.

11 גְּמָ׳ מַאי טַעְמָא דְּבֵית שַׁמַּאי? גְּמִרִי מִיּוֹלֶדֶת נְקֵבָה. וּבֵית הִלֵּל? גְּמִרִי מִיּוֹלֶדֶת זָכָר.

GEMARA: The Gemara asks: What is the reason that Beit Shammai say a husband may force abstinence on his wife by a vow for a period of up to two weeks without being compelled to divorce her? They derive this from the halakha that a woman who gave birth to a female is ritually impure and prohibited from engaging in conjugal relations with her husband for two weeks after childbirth (see Leviticus 12:5). From this they derive that a period of up to two weeks of abstinence is not deemed undue suffering. And from where do Beit Hillel derive their opinion? They derive it from a woman who gave birth to a male, as she is ritually impure for one week (see Leviticus 12:1–4).

12 וּבֵית הִלֵּל נָמֵי נִגְמְרוּ מִיּוֹלֶדֶת נְקֵבָה! אִי מִיּוֹלֶדֶת גְּמִרִי לַהּ — הָכִי

Mishnah Yomit

Kiddush Nesachim

Menachot (7:4) | Yisrael Bankier | 10 years ago

We have learnt that while many of the mincha offerings were brought independently, some were brought either alongside or secondary to other korbanot. Nesachim, consisting of wine and a mincha offering were brought with a korban olah or shelamim. The Mishnah (7:4) discusses a case where one sanctifies the nesachim by placing them in a kli sharet (vessel designated for service) and the korban was then found to be invalid. The Mishnah teaches that if there is another sacrifice that requires nesachim it can be brought for that one.[1] If not, then the nesachim should be left beyond the required time to offer it, thereby invalidating it (lina), and burnt in the manner of invalid korbanot.

The Gemara(79a) cites the statement of R' Zeira that nesachim are only sanctified at the time of slaughter. Consequently it concludes that when the Mishnah teaches that the korban was found to be pasul it must mean that something went wrong at the time of zerika (casting the blood). If it happened at the time of shechita the nesachim would not be sanctified.

Rashi understands that according to R' Zeiram, prior to shechita the nesachim are considered chullin (unsanctified). Along this line the Bartenura explains that only after shechita are the nesachim sanctified such that they can be invalid due to lina or yotze (being taken outside the

Donate

Log in Sign up

About This Text

Composed: Talmudic Israel, c.190 – c.230 CE

Menachot ("Meal Offerings") is the second tractate in Seder Kodashim ("Order of Holy Things"). Its thirteen chapters mainly discuss flour-based offerings brought in the Temple, as well as oil and wine libations. Among the topics addressed are intentions that nullify an offering's validity, details of the process of removing a handful of meal-offering, sanctifying it in a vessel, carrying it, and burning it on the altar, and the preparation and consumption of showbread (loaves that were always present on a dedicated table in the Temple).

Related Topics

Sefirat Ha'Omer

Topics Community Search Log in Sign up

Mishnah Menachot 7

from each set of ten as terumah, to be given to a priest, as it is stated: "And he shall present from it one of each offering as a terumah unto the Lord; to the priest that sprinkles the blood of the peace offerings against the altar it shall be given" (Leviticus 7:14). The verse is analyzed: "One" indicates that one should not take a sliced loaf; "of each offering" indicates that all the offerings should be equal, i.e., that one should not take a loaf from one type of offering for another type; "to the priest that sprinkles the blood of the peace offerings against the altar it shall be given," and the rest of the loaves are eaten by the owner.

הַשּׁוֹחֵט אֶת הַתּוֹדָה בִּמְנִים, וְלֶחֶם חוּץ לְחוֹמָה, לֹא קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם. שֶׁחֲטָהּ עַד שֶׁלֹּא קָרְבוּ בְּתַנּוּר, וְאֶפְלוּ קָרְבוּ כֻּלָּן חוּץ מֵאֶחָד מֵהֶן, לֹא קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם. שֶׁחֲטָהּ חוּץ לִזְמַנָּהּ וְחוּץ לִמְקוֹמָהּ, קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם. שֶׁחֲטָהּ וְנִמְצֵאת טְרֵפָה, לֹא קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם. שֶׁחֲטָהּ וְנִמְצֵאת בְּעֻלַּת מוּם, רַבִּי אֱלִיעֶזֶר אוֹמֵר, קָדַשׁ. וַחֲכָמִים אוֹמְרִים, לֹא קָדַשׁ. שֶׁחֲטָהּ שֶׁלֹּא לִשְׁמָהּ, וְכֵן אֵיל הַמִּלּוּאִים וְכֵן שְׁנֵי כִּבְשֵׂי עֲצֶרֶת שֶׁשְּׁחָטָן שֶׁלֹּא לִשְׁמָן, לֹא קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם:

In the case of one who slaughters the thanks offering in its proper place inside the Temple courtyard, and at that

Menachot 7b

And Rabbi Yehuda HaNasi holds that it is specifically there, in the case of meal offerings and libations that accompany an animal offering, that the meal offering is burned on the altar before the wine libation is poured on the altar. This is because since the altar has started to eat, i.e., consume, the animal offering, one must first complete the entire matter of the altar's eating, including the meal offering. The pouring of the wine on the altar is likened more to drinking than to eating. But when the meal offering and the libations are brought by themselves, the libations are considered preferable, because the song of the Levites is recited over them. Consequently, the pouring of the libations precedes the burning of the meal offering on the altar.

המתנות שעל מזבח החיצון אין מעכבות זו את זו:

§ The mishna teaches: Failure to perform some of the placements of blood on the external altar does not prevent fulfillment of the mitzva with the other placements, as even if the priest performed only one placement, the offering effects atonement after the fact.

תיר מנין לכל המתנין על מזבח החיצון שיהיו במתנה אחת שנאמר (דברים יב, כז) והם ובחיך ישפך על מזבח ה' אלהיך:

Apropos this statement, the Sages taught in a Baraita: From where is it derived with regard to all offerings whose blood is to be placed on the external altar that if one placed their blood with one act of placement, as opposed to the two or four that are required depending upon the offering, that the offering has nevertheless effected atonement after the fact, i.e., one has fulfilled his obligation to bring the offering? As it is stated: "And the blood of your offerings shall be poured out against the altar of the Lord your God" (Deuteronomy 12:27).

CAPITOL RIOTS

'Gay Hitler' Texas Lawmaker Kyle Biederman Introduces Bill Aimed at Seceding from the Union

'USED BY GOD'

Casey Michel

Updated Feb. 03, 2021 12:00PM EST
Published Jan. 28, 2021 4:58AM EST

San Antonio Express-News Subscribe Sign in

GOP Texas House candidate dressed as 'Gay Hitler'

By Brian Chasnoff, Staff Writer
Updated March 30, 2016 6:24 p.m.

Kyle Biedermann, on the right, is running to unseat Doug Miller, R-New Braunfels, in Texas House District 73.
Kyle Biedermann, Facebook

December 26, 2021
Pledge Signed Date

About Me

Daniel Miller is President of the Texas Nationalist Movement and has been an outspoken advocate for Texas independence since 1996. As the head of one of the largest and most influential political organizations in Texas, Miller has extensively researched and engaged the issue of self-determination, not just for Texas, but as part of a growing global trend.

he company also etes mainly with
of the Green Bay
Baltimore Ravens,

York's Rheingold
ped in 1964 by chemist
ed into Miller Lite had its biochemist working for Peter Hand Brewing.
estors, renamed
u Lite, a companion to au Brewing
l of its existing labels to in advertising (with he test markets of
; and San Diego,

Miller Lite logo

Type	Pilsner-style light American lager
Manufacturer	Miller Brewing Company
Introduced	1975; 49 years ago
Alcohol by volume	4.2%[1]
Website	https://www.millerlite.com/

YouTube

Rabbi Elimelech Biderman - Emunah

Y B
2.25K subscribers
Subscribe

102 Share Sa

7.6K views 5 years ago ISRAEL

The Atlantic Subscribe

December 2019 Issue

POLITICS

The Movement to Make Texas Its Own Country

Daniel Miller is fighting to divorce his state from the union.

Subscribe for unlimited access

DONATE Texas Wildfires John Cornyn Border Visits Immigration Law

Kyle Biedermann, a former state representative and current Legislative Advisor for the Texas Nationalist Movement's Advisory Board, speaks during the Saturday opening event at TEXIT in Waco, on Nov. 11, 2023. Evan L'Roy for The Texas Tribune

Sign up for The Brief, The Texas Tribune's daily newsletter that keeps readers up to speed on the most essential Texas news.

Rabbi
Avigdor Miller

Miller's grave with visitation stones

Personal
Victor Miller[1]

Lecrae Devaughn Moore, publicly known as Lecrae, is a pioneer and leading figure in the growing genre of gospel-hip hop. He is also well known for having secured a great degree of fame in the fields of singing, songwriting, record producing, acting, and filmmaking.

Lecrae: A Bright Light in the Hip Hop Music World

jamesfirsen.com/2021/11/14/lecrae-a-bright-light-in-the-hip-hop-music-world/

Was this helpful?

People also ask

Is Lecrae a Christian rapper?

He produced much of his earlier material along with other early Reach Records releases. Lecrae, in reference to him being labeled as a Christian rapper, has stated that ...

Lecrae - Wikipedia

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Lecrae

Did Lecrae Moore win a Grammy?

Lecrae Moore received a Grammy in 2012 for the 'Best Gospel Album' for his sixth studio album 'Gravity'. He won his second Grammy in 2015 for the 'Best Contemporary Christian ...

Lecrae Moore Biography - Facts, ...

www.thefamous.people.com/profile

Did Le

Lecrae

Lecra

Lecrae Devaughn M

and film producer, a pseudonym, co-owner

Records, was the c organization Reach production software

3 Brand Films. Two

"Rendezvous as a side

album, was EP and

116 Clique. He prod

Reach Records rele

DEEP IN THE SITE

https://www.deepinthesite.com/who-is-s... ›

Who is Skrillex? History of The Dubstep King - DITM

Skrillex

was Jul 25, 2023 · The real name of the face behind Skrillex is Sonny John Moore who was born on January 15, 1988. He is an American electronic music producer and DJ with big name productions such as "Pink of the ...

Tags: Dubstep Skrillex | Sonny John Moore | DJ Music Producer | Electronic Music

EXPLORE FURTHER

What Happened to Skrillex? : r/skrillex - Reddit — reddit.com

18 Fun Facts About Skrillex You Didn't Know - Ranker — ranker.com

Skrillex - Ethnicity of Celeb | EthnicCelebs.com — ethniccelebs.com

Quora - A place to share knowledge and better understand ... — quora.com

Is Skrillex the most hated man in dubstep? — theguardian.com

Recommended to you based on what's popular · Feedback

Albums

Skrille

Sonny John Moore,

and music producer,

California, he owned

Wikipedia

skrillex.com

ONLY USD 1.5 PER MONTH*

South China Morning Post

How World War II got Japan and the US hooked on amphetamines, 'the ultimate military performance enhancing drug'

Drugs

POLITICO

POLITICO Massachusetts Playbook SUBSCRIBE NOW

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Afghanistan is the fastest-growing maker of methamphetamine, U.N. drug agency says

The report called Afghanistan's meth manufacturing a growing threat to national and regional health and security.

100Gbps IP Transit $4400/month
Global Internet Backbone 30,000+ BGP sessions, 9500+ networks, 250+ exchanges. Join Us!
he.net
Open

Israel supported Burma's military against Rohingya Muslims in exchange for international recognition complicated by Israeli settlements in the West Bank.

Newsweek

Eritrea and Cameroon are the only two African nations that do not recognize Palestine; both support Palestinian self-determination, but also the security of Israel.

You deserve extraordinary care.
Learn More

Similarly, there are only two non-aligned Asian countries that do not recognize Palestinian statehood: Myanmar, which has previously expressed support for a two-state solution, and Singapore, which reaffirmed its support for a two-state solution in November.

READ MORE

- Peace in the Middle East Would Be Expensive—But Worth It
- Secret Peace Talks Are Underway for Israelis and Palestinians

The Nation.

The Echoes of Israeli Apartheid in Myanmar

The parallels in conditions imposed on Palestinians and Rohingya reveal how elements of Israel's genocidal project appear to have been taken up by Myanmar.

Subscribe for complete access to 158 years of independent journalism
You have three free articles remaining.
Subscribe
Log In

FINANCIAL TIMES

How Myanmar coup fuelled rise in illegal drugs trade

POSSIBLE

His work on catoptrics in Book V of the Book of Optics ains a discussion of what is now known as zen's problem, first formulated by Ptolemy in 150 AD. It comprises drawing lines from two points in the plane of a circle meeting at a point on the circumference and making equal angles with the normal at that point. This is equivalent to finding the point on the edge of a circular billiard table at which a player must aim a cue ball at a given point to make it bounce off the table edge and hit another ball at a second given point. Thus, its main application in optics is to solve the problem, "Given a light source and a spherical mirror, find the point on the mirror where the light will be reflected to the eye of an observer." This leads to an equation of the fourth degree.[79] This eventually led Alhazen to derive a formula for the sum of fourth powers, where previously only the formulas for the sums of squares and cubes had been stated. His method can be readily generalized to find the formula for the sum of any integral powers, although he did not himself do this (perhaps because he only needed the fourth power to calculate the volume of the paraboloid he was interested in). He used his result on sums of integral powers to perform what would now be called an integration, where the formulas for the sums of integral squares and fourth powers allowed him to calculate the volume of a paraboloid.[80] Alhazen eventually solved the problem using conic sections and a geometric proof. His solution was extremely long and complicated and may not have been understood by mathematicians reading him in Latin translation. Later mathematicians used Descartes' analytical methods to analyse the problem.[81] An algebraic solution to the problem was finally found in 1965 by Jack M. Elkin, an actuarian.[82] Other solutions were discovered in 1989, by Harald Riede[83] and in 1997 by the Oxford mathematician Peter M. Neumann.[84][85] Recently, Mitsubishi Electric Research Laboratories (MERL) researchers solved the extension of Alhazen's problem to general rotationally symmetric quadric mirrors including hyperbolic, parabolic and elliptical mirrors.[86]

The theorem of Ibn Haytham

Christian Robins

The Story of Pr... first son of abrah
Ishmael
Ishmael was the first son of Abraham, the common patriarch of
People also ask
Was Ishmael the first son of Abraham?
Did Abraham have a so
Ishmael - Wikipedia
Ishmael was the first son of Abraham, the common patriarch of Etymology

Ibn al-Haytham

86 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

"Alhazen" redirects here. For other uses, see Alhazen (disambiguation) and Ibn al-Haytham (disambiguation).

Ḥasan Ibn al-Haytham (Latinized as Alhazen; /æl ˈhæzən/; full name Abū ʿAlī al-Ḥasan ibn al-Ḥasan ibn al-Haytham أبو علي الحسن بن الحسن بن الهيثم; c. 965 – c. 1040) was a medieval mathematician, astronomer, and physicist of the Islamic Golden Age from present-day Iraq.[6][7][8][9] Polymath Title "the father of modern optics",[10][11][12] he made significant contributions to the principles of optics and visual perception in particular. His most influential work is titled Kitāb al-Manāẓir (Arabic: كتاب المناظر, "Book of Optics"), written during 1011–1021, which survived in a Latin edition.[13] The works of Alhazen were frequently cited during the scientific revolution by Isaac Newton, Johannes Kepler, Christiaan Huygens, and Galileo Galilei.

Ibn al-Haytham was the first to correctly explain the theory of vision,[14] and to argue that vision occurs in the brain, pointing to observations that

Alhazen
Ḥasan Ibn al-Haytham
ابن الهيثم

Born	c. 965 (c. 354 AH)[1] Basra, Buyid Emirate
Died	c. 1040 (c. 430 AH)[1] (aged around 75) Cairo, Fatimid Caliphate

Intended for healthcare professionals

Sage Journals

Journal of Medical Biography

Impact Factor: 0.2
5-Year Impact Factor: 0.2

Restricted access | Research article | First published online April 15, 2014

Ibn al-Haytham (965–1039 AD), the original portrayal of the modern theory of vision

Babak Daneshfard, Behnam Dalfardi, and Golnoush Sadat Mahmoudi Nezhad View all authors and affiliations

Volume 24, Issue 2 https://doi.org/10.1177/0967772014529050

Contents Get access More

Abstract

Abū ʿAlī al-Ḥasan ibn al-Ḥasan ibn al-Haytham, known in the West as Alhazen, was an Arab-Islamic scholar who helped develop the science of ophthalmology during the medieval era. He was the first to reject firmly the extramission theory of vision, which was prevalent during his time, and suggested that the eyes are the source of the light rays responsible for vision. Ibn al-Haytham in his book entitled Kitab al-Manazir (Book of Optics) explained vision based on light emanating from objects. In this study we review Ibn al-Haytham's life and introduce his major co

Ibn al-Haytham

86 languages

Article Talk Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

"Alhazen" redirects here. For other uses, see Alhazen (disambiguation) and Ibn al-Haytham (disambiguation).

Ḥasan Ibn al-Haytham (Latinized as Alhazen; /æl'hæzən/; full name Abū ʿAlī al-Ḥasan ibn al-Ḥasan ibn al-Haytham أبو علي، الحسن بن الحسن بن الهيثم; c. 965 – c. 1040) was a medieval mathematician, astronomer, and physicist of the Islamic Golden Age from present-day Iraq.[6][7][8][9] Referred to as "the father of modern optics",[10][11][12] he made significant contributions to the principles of optics and visual perception in particular. His most influential work is titled Kitāb al-Manāẓir (Arabic: كتاب المناظر, "Book of Optics"), written during 1011–1021, which survived in a Latin edition.[13] The works of Alhazen were frequently cited during the scientific revolution by Isaac Newton, Johannes Kepler, Christiaan Huygens, and Galileo Galilei.

Ibn al-Haytham was the first to correctly explain the theory of vision,[14] and to argue that vision occurs in the brain, pointing to observations that

Alhazen
Ḥasan Ibn al-Haytham
ابن الهيثم

Born	c. 965 (c. 354 AH)[1] Basra, Buyid Emirate
Died	c. 1040 (c. 430 AH)[1] (aged around 75) Cairo, Fatimid Caliphate

Intended for healthcare professionals

Menu Sage Journals Search Access/Profile Cart

Journal of Medical Biography

Impact Factor: 0.2
5-Year Impact Factor: 0.2

Restricted access | Research article | First published online April 15, 2014

Ibn al-Haytham (965–1039 AD), the original portrayal of the modern theory of vision

Babak Daneshfard, Behnam Dalfardi ✉, and Golnoush Sadat Mahmoudi Nezhad View all authors and affiliations

Volume 24, Issue 2 | https://doi.org/10.1177/0967772014529050

Contents Get access More

Abstract

Abū 'Alī al-Ḥasan ibn al-Ḥasan ibn al-Haytham, known in the West as Alhazen, was an Arab-Islamic scholar who helped develop the science of ophthalmology during the medieval era. He was the first to reject firmly the extramission theory of vision, which was prevalent during his time, and suggested that the eyes are the source of the light rays responsible for vision. Ibn al-Haytham in his book entitled Kitab al-Manazir (Book of Optics) explained vision based on light emanating from objects. In this study we review Ibn al-Haytham's life and introduce his major cor

Privacy

jack reposted

Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald · Sep 10, 2023

Yesterday's event to launch the David Miranda Institute -- @idm_org -- was as powerful and inspiring as I know the Institute's work will be, to continue and expand on David's legacy.

Here's the video Edward @Snowden recorded for it: about David and his work:

Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald · Sep 9, 2023

Today is a special day for our family. We are launching the David Miranda Institute, designed to preserve and build on David's work and legacy. It will focus on material improvements for those most in need.

Edward Snowden

This article is more than 9 years old

Edward Snowden's girlfriend living with him in Moscow, film reveals

Lindsay Mills, thought to have been deserted by Snowden before NSA revelations, appears beside whistleblower in Citizenfour

ADULTTIME

Bree Mills

Los Angeles Metropolitan Area · Contact Info

20 followers · 4 connections

See your mutual connections

Join to view profile | Message

Adult Time

Bree Mills

6 languages

Article Talk | Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Bree Mills (born July 15, 1981) is an American adult film director, screenwriter and producer.[1][2] Head of production company Gamma Films and Chief Creative Officer for Gamma Entertainment.[3][4]

Having begun her career in Adult Entertainment in 2009 with Gamma Entertainment as a Marketing Director, Mills moved on to become the head of creative content six years later to create Gamma's websites Girlsway and PureTaboo and most recently her newly launched master brand Adult Time.[5][6]

Early life [edit]

Mills was born in 1981 in Boston, Massachusetts and Canadian-raised in London, Ontario, Canada and graduated from London Central Secondary School. Raised by a gay parent who came out when she was 8 years old, Mills was able to grow up in an openly accepting environment while exploring her own sexuality. A great lover of film, Mills considers herself a pop culture vulture; "I've watched a lot of films, read a lot of books, and watched a lot of television. It's in my genes." Allowing pop culture to influence her work, Mills creative inspiration comes from various sources from which she draws to craft her concepts. A creative remembering of her earlier years has been captured in Teenage Lesbian,[7] which was released on Adult Time in September 2019.

In 2021, she founded Disruptive Films, a gay focused production label. She directed "The Last Course," first film under the banner.[8]

Personal life [edit]

Mills identifies as lesbian, she married former pornographic actress Sara Luvv in December, 2017.[9]

Filmography [edit]

Selected filmography

Year	Title	Description
2019	Teenage Lesbian	Writer/Director/Producer
2021	The Last Course

Awards [edit]

- Director of the year (Body of Work) - XBIZ 2018
- Director of the Year (Feature Release) - XBIZ 2018
- Best New Studio (Pure Taboo) - XBIZ 2018
- Best Director (Features) - XRCO 2018
- Director of the Year (Body of Work) - XBIZ 2019

Bree Mills

Mills at the "Perspective" movie premiere in September 2019

Born	July 15, 1981 (age 42) Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.
Nationality	American
Occupations	Pornographic film director · screenwriter · producer · company executive · production company founder
Known for	Gamma Films, Disruptive Films
Spouse	Sara Luvv (m. December 2017)

Jack reposted

Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald · Sep 10, 2023

Yesterday's event to launch the David Miranda Institute — @dm_org — was as powerful and inspiring as I know the Institute's work will be, to continue and expand on David's legacy.

Here's the video Edward @Snowden recorded for it: about David and his work:

Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald · Sep 9, 2023

Today is a special day for our family. We are launching the David Miranda Institute, designed to preserve and build on David's work and legacy. It will focus on material improvements for those most in need.

Edward Snowden

● This article is more than 9 years old

Edward Snowden's girlfriend living with him in Moscow, film reveals

Lindsay Mills, thought to have been deserted by Snowden before NSA revelations, appears beside whistleblower in Citizenfour

ADULT TIME

Bree Mills

Los Angeles Metropolitan Area · Contact info

20 followers · 4 connections

See your mutual connections

Join to view profile

Message

Adult Time

Bree Mills

Article Talk

Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Bree Mills (born July 15, 1981) is an American adult film director, screenwriter and producer.[1][2] Head of production company Gamma Films and Chief Creative Officer for Gamma Entertainment.[3][4]

Having begun her career in Adult Entertainment in 2009 with Gamma Entertainment as a Marketing Director, Mills moved on to become the head of creative content six years later to create Gamma's websites Girlsway and PureTaboo and most recently her newly launched master brand Adult Time.[5][6]

Early life [edit]

Mills was born in 1981 in Boston, Massachusetts and Canadian-raised in London, Ontario, Canada and graduated from London Central Secondary School. Raised by a gay parent who came out when she was 8 years old, Mills was able to grow up in an openly accepting environment while exploring her own sexuality. A great lover of film, Mills considers herself a pop-culture vulture, "I've watched a lot of films, read a lot of books, and watched a lot of television. It's in my genes." Allowing pop culture to influence her work, Mills creative inspiration comes from various sources from which she draws to craft her concepts. A creative remembering of her earlier years has been captured in Teenage Lesbian,[7] which was released on Adult Time in September 2019.

In 2021, she founded Disruptive Films, a gay focused production label. She directed "The Last Course," first film under the banner.[8]

Personal life [edit]

Mills identifies as lesbian, she married former pornographic actress Sara Luvv in December, 2017.[9]

Filmography [edit]

Selected filmography

Year	Title	Description
2019	Teenage Lesbian	Writer/Director/Producer
2021	The Last Course

Awards [edit]

- Director of the year (Body of Work) - XBIZ 2018
- Director of the Year (Feature Release) - XBIZ 2018
- Best New Studio (Pure Taboo) - XBIZ 2018
- Best Director (Features) - XRCO 2018
- Director of the Year (Body of Work) - XBIZ 2019

Bree Mills

Mills at the "Perspective" movie premiere in September 2019

Born	July 15, 1981 (age 40) Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.
Nationality	American
Occupations	Pornographic film director · screenwriter · producer · company executive · production company founder
Known for	Gamma Films, Disruptive Films
Spouse	Sara Luvv (m. December 2017)

jack reposted

Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald · Sep 10, 2023

Yesterday's event to launch the David Miranda Institute — @idm_org — was as powerful and inspiring as I know the Institute's work will be, to continue and expand on David's legacy.

Here's the video Edward @Snowden recorded for it: about David and his work:

Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald · Sep 9, 2023

Today is a special day for our family. We are launching the David Miranda Institute, designed to preserve and build on David's work and legacy. It will focus on material improvements for those most in need.

Edward Snowden

This article is more than 9 years old

Edward Snowden's girlfriend living with him in Moscow, film reveals

Lindsay Mills, thought to have been deserted by Snowden before NSA revelations, appears beside whistleblower in Citizenfour

ADULTTIME

Bree Mills

Los Angeles Metropolitan Area · Contact Info

20 followers · 4 connections

See your mutual connections

Join to view profile | Message

Adult Time

Bree Mills

6 languages

Article Talk | Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Bree Mills (born July 15, 1981) is an American adult film director, screenwriter and producer.[1][2] Head of production company Gamma Films and Chief Creative Officer for Gamma Entertainment.[3][4]

Having begun her career in Adult Entertainment in 2009 with Gamma Entertainment as a Marketing Director, Mills moved on to become the head of creative content six years later to create Gamma's websites Girlsway and PureTaboo and most recently her newly launched master brand Adult Time.[5][6]

Early life [edit]

Mills was born in 1981 in Boston, Massachusetts and Canadian-raised in London, Ontario, Canada and graduated from London Central Secondary School. Raised by a gay parent who came out when she was 8 years old, Mills was able to grow up in an openly accepting environment while exploring her own sexuality. A great lover of film, Mills considers herself a pop culture vulture; "I've watched a lot of films, read a lot of books, and watched a lot of television. It's in my genes." Allowing pop culture to influence her work, Mills creative inspiration comes from various sources from which she draws to craft her concepts. A creative remembering of her earlier years has been captured in Teenage Lesbian,[7] which was released on Adult Time in September 2019.

In 2021, she founded Disruptive Films, a gay focused production label. She directed "The Last Course," first film under the banner.[8]

Personal life [edit]

Mills identifies as lesbian, she married former pornographic actress Sara Luvv in December, 2017.[9]

Filmography [edit]

Selected filmography

Year	Title	Description
2019	Teenage Lesbian	Writer/Director/Producer
2021	The Last Course

Awards [edit]

- Director of the year (Body of Work) - XBIZ 2018
- Director of the Year (Feature Release) - XBIZ 2018
- Best New Studio (Pure Taboo) - XBIZ 2018
- Best Director (Features) - XRCO 2018
- Director of the Year (Body of Work) - XBIZ 2019

Bree Mills

Mills at the "Perspective" movie premiere in September 2019

Born	July 15, 1981 (age 42) Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.
Nationality	American
Occupations	Pornographic film director · screenwriter · producer · company executive · production company founder
Known for	Gamma Films, Disruptive Films
Spouse	Sara Luvv (m. December 2017)

jack reposted

Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald · Sep 10, 2023

Yesterday's event to launch the David Miranda Institute -- @idm_org -- was as powerful and inspiring as I know the Institute's work will be, to continue and expand on David's legacy.

Here's the video Edward @Snowden recorded for it: about David and his work:

Glenn Greenwald @ggreenwald · Sep 9, 2023

Today is a special day for our family. We are launching the David Miranda Institute, designed to preserve and build on David's work and legacy. It will focus on material improvements for those most in need.

Edward Snowden

This article is more than 9 years old

Edward Snowden's girlfriend living with him in Moscow, film reveals

Lindsay Mills, thought to have been deserted by Snowden before NSA revelations, appears beside whistleblower in Citizenfour

ADULTTIME

Bree Mills

Los Angeles Metropolitan Area · Contact Info

20 followers · 4 connections

See your mutual connections

Join to view profile

Message

Adult Time

Bree Mills

6 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Bree Mills (born July 15, 1981) is an American adult film director, screenwriter and producer.[1][2] Head of production company Gamma Films and Chief Creative Officer for Gamma Entertainment.[3][4]

Having begun her career in Adult Entertainment in 2009 with Gamma Entertainment as a Marketing Director, Mills moved on to become the head of creative content six years later to create Gamma's websites Girlsway and PureTaboo and most recently her newly launched master brand Adult Time.[5][6]

Bree Mills

Mills at the "Perspective" movie premiere in September 2019

Born	July 15, 1981 (age 42) Boston, Massachusetts, U.S.
Nationality	American
Occupations	Pornographic film director · screenwriter · producer · company executive · production company founder
Known for	Gamma Films, Disruptive Films
Spouse	Sara Luvv (m. December 2017)

Early life [edit]

Mills was born in 1981 in Boston, Massachusetts and Canadian-raised in London, Ontario, Canada and graduated from London Central Secondary School. Raised by a gay parent who came out when she was 8 years old, Mills was able to grow up in an openly accepting environment while exploring her own sexuality. A great lover of film, Mills considers herself a pop culture vulture; "I've watched a lot of films, read a lot of books, and watched a lot of television. It's in my genes." Allowing pop culture to influence her work, Mills creative inspiration comes from various sources from which she draws to craft her concepts. A creative remembering of her earlier years has been captured in Teenage Lesbian,[7] which was released on Adult Time in September 2019.

In 2021, she founded Disruptive Films, a gay focused production label. She directed "The Last Course," first film under the banner.[8]

Personal life [edit]

Mills identifies as lesbian, she married former pornographic actress Sara Luvv in December, 2017.[9]

Filmography [edit]

Selected filmography

Year	Title	Description
2019	Teenage Lesbian	Writer/Director/Producer
2021	The Last Course

Awards [edit]

- Director of the year (Body of Work) - XBIZ 2018
- Director of the Year (Feature Release) - XBIZ 2018
- Best New Studio (Pure Taboo) - XBIZ 2018
- Best Director (Features) - XRCO 2018
- Director of the Year (Body of Work) - XBIZ 2019

WIKIPEDIA
The Free Encyclopedia

Create account Log in

Shriners Hospitals for Children

3 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article needs additional citations for verification. Please help improve this article by adding citations to reliable sources. Unsourced material may be challenged and removed.
Find sources: "Shriners Hospitals for Children" – news – newspapers – books – scholar – JSTOR
(March 2012) (Learn how and when to remove this template message)

Shriners Children's is a network of non-profit medical facilities across North America. Children with orthopaedic conditions, burns, spinal cord injuries, and cleft lip and palate are eligible for care and receive all services in a family-centered environment, regardless of the patients' ability to pay. Care for children is usually provided until age 18, although in some cases, it may be extended to age 21.

Headquartered in Tampa, Florida, the hospitals are owned and operated by Shriners International, formally known as the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, a Freemasonry-related organization whose members are known as Shriners. Patients are not required to have any familial affiliation with the Shriners order nor Freemasonry. The hospitals advertising campaign features the tagline, "Love to the Rescue."

Shriners Children's

Shriners Children's

Company type	Nonprofit organization
Industry	Pediatric hospitals
Founded	1922
Headquarters	Tampa, Florida, US
Revenue	$38,206,361 United States dollar (2017)
Owner	Shriners International
Website	www.shrinershospitalsforchildren.org[2]

History [edit]

In 1920, the Imperial Session of the Shriners was held in Portland, Oregon. During that session the membership unanimously passed a resolution put forward by W. Freeland Kendrick who (while serving as Imperial Potentate) put forth the resolution that created the Shriners Hospitals for Children.[1][2] The first hospital in the system opened in 1922 in Shreveport, Louisiana. It provided pediatric orthopaedic care.

Shriners Hospitals for Children worked closely with the United States Southern Command and other military commands, including the Army and Air Force, the Guatemalan combined military force and via the U.S. embassy, the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services, and the U.S. State Department to arrange medical visas and transportation to the United States, "with a global commitment to children around the world".[3]

Historical marker noting location of first Shriners Hospital (1922) off King's Highway in Shreveport, Louisiana

PCAD search for person, firm, or building People Buildings Firms More

Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine (A.A.O.N.M.S), Shriners Hospital, Rampart Village, Los Angeles, CA (1952)

AKA: Shriners Hospital, Los Angeles, CA

Structure Type: built works - public buildings - hospitals

Designers: Chambers and Hibbard, Architects (firm); Harold Coulson Chambers Sr. (architect); Lester Hudson Hibbard (architect)

Dates: constructed 1952

2 stories, total floor area: 154,700 sq. ft.

3160 Geneva Street
Rampart Village, Los Angeles, CA 90020

OpenStreetMap (new tab)

Google Map (new tab)

Google Streetview (new tab)

WIKIPEDIA
The Free Encyclopedia

Create account Log in

Shriners Hospitals for Children

3 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article needs additional citations for verification. Please help improve this article by adding citations to reliable sources. Unsourced material may be challenged and removed.
Find sources: "Shriners Hospitals for Children" – news · newspapers · books · scholar · JSTOR
(March 2012) (Learn how and when to remove this template message)

Shriners Children's is a network of non-profit medical facilities across North America. Children with orthopaedic conditions, burns, spinal cord injuries, and cleft lip and palate are eligible for care and receive all services in a family-centered environment, regardless of the patients' ability to pay. Care for children is usually provided until age 18, although in some cases, it may be extended to age 21.

Headquartered in Tampa, Florida, the hospitals are owned and operated by Shriners International, formally known as the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, a Freemasonry-related organization whose members are known as Shriners. Patients are not required to have any familial affiliation with the Shriners order nor Freemasonry. The hospitals advertising campaign features the tagline, "Love to the Rescue."

Shriners Children's

Company type	Nonprofit organization
Industry	Pediatric hospitals
Founded	1922
Headquarters	Tampa, Florida, US
Revenue	838,298,361 United States dollar (2017)
Owner	Shriners International
Website	www.shrinershospitalsforchildren.org

History [edit]

In 1920, the Imperial Session of the Shriners was held in Portland, Oregon. During that session the membership unanimously passed a resolution put forward by W. Freeland Kendrick who (while serving as Imperial Potentate) put forth the resolution that created the Shriners Hospitals for Children.[1][2] The first hospital in the system opened in 1922 in Shreveport, Louisiana. It provided pediatric orthopaedic care.

Historical marker noting location of first Shriners Hospital (1922) off King's Highway in Shreveport, Louisiana

Shriners Hospitals for Children worked closely with the United States Southern Command and other military commands, including the Army and Air Force, the Guatemalan combined military force and via the U.S. embassy, the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services, and the U.S. State Department to arrange medical visas and transportation to the United States, "with a global commitment to children around the world".[3]

PCAD

search for person, firm, or building

People Buildings Firms More

Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine (A.A.O.N.M.S), Shriners Hospital, Rampart Village, Los Angeles, CA (1952)

AKA: Shriners Hospital, Los Angeles, CA

Structure Type: built works - public buildings - hospitals

Designers: Chambers and Hibbard, Architects (firm); Harold Coulson Chambers Sr. (architect); Lester Hudson Hibbard (architect)

Dates: constructed 1952

2 stories, total floor area: 154,700 sq. ft.

3160 Geneva Street
Rampart Village, Los Angeles, CA 90020

OpenStreetMap (new tab)

Google Map (new tab)

Google Streetview (new tab)

WIKIPEDIA
The Free Encyclopedia

Create account Log in

Shriners Hospitals for Children

3 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

This article needs additional citations for verification. Please help improve this article by adding citations to reliable sources. Unsourced material may be challenged and removed.

Find sources: "Shriners Hospitals for Children" – news · newspapers · books · scholar · JSTOR (March 2012) (Learn how and when to remove this template message)

Shriners Children's is a network of non-profit medical facilities across North America. Children with orthopaedic conditions, burns, spinal cord injuries, and cleft lip and palate are eligible for care and receive all services in a family-centered environment, regardless of the patients' ability to pay. Care for children is usually provided until age 18, although in some cases, it may be extended to age 21.

Shriners Children's

Company type	Nonprofit organization
Industry	Pediatric hospitals
Founded	1922
Headquarters	Tampa, Florida, US
Revenue	838,298,361 United States dollar (2017)
Owner	Shriners International
Website	www.shrinershospitalsforchildren.org

Headquartered in Tampa, Florida, the hospitals are owned and operated by Shriners International, formally known as the Ancient Arabic Order of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, a Freemasonry-related organization whose members are known as Shriners. Patients are not required to have any familial affiliation with the Shriners order nor Freemasonry. The hospitals advertising campaign features the tagline, "Love to the Rescue."

History [edit]

In 1920, the Imperial Session of the Shriners was held in Portland, Oregon. During that session the membership unanimously passed a resolution put forward by W. Freeland Kendrick who (while serving as Imperial Potentate) put forth the resolution that created the Shriners Hospitals for Children.[1][2] The first hospital in the system opened in 1922 in Shreveport, Louisiana. It provided pediatric orthopaedic care.

Historical marker noting location of first Shriners Hospital (1922) off King's Highway in Shreveport, Louisiana

Shriners Hospitals for Children worked closely with the United States Southern Command and other military commands, including the Army and Air Force, the Guatemalan combined military force and via the U.S. embassy, the U.S. Department of Health & Human Services, and the U.S. State Department to arrange medical visas and transportation to the United States, "with a global commitment to children around the world".[3]

PCAD

search for person, firm, or building

People Buildings Firms More

Ancient Arabic Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine (A.A.O.N.M.S), Shriners Hospital, Rampart Village, Los Angeles, CA (1952)

AKA: Shriners Hospital, Los Angeles, CA

Structure Type: built works - public buildings - hospitals

Designers: Chambers and Hibbard, Architects (firm); Harold Coulson Chambers Sr. (architect); Lester Hudson Hibbard (architect)

Dates: constructed 1952

2 stories, total floor area: 154,700 sq. ft.

3160 Geneva Street
Rampart Village, Los Angeles, CA 90020

OpenStreetMap (new tab)

Google Map (new tab)

Google Streetview (new tab)

CASE OVERVIEW
VODKA
$25.95

ALEX J. SHEPARD
Attorney

CASE OVERVIEW

Defendant Daniel S. Fitzgerald, a.k.a. "Hollywood Homes," is a sex trafficker who engaged in intimidation and harassment to conceal his actions and silence victims and witnesses. Fitzgerald, a co-conspirator in Peter Nygard's sex trafficking enterprise, also had his own venture, victimizing the plaintiffs in this case.

Caroline Bargreaux · CDC News
Posted: Apr 29, 2021 5:00 AM CDT | Last Updated: April 29, 2021

This photo, included in the lawsuit, calls Daniel Fitzgerald, fourth from right, a longtime friend and associate of Peter Nygard, centre. The lawsuit alleges Fitzgerald "knowingly participated in Nygard's alleged sex trafficking venture by engaging in sex acts" with three women referred to as Jane Doe 1, 2 and 3. (United States District Court, Central District of California-Western Division)

Fitz's

VOODEW

$35.95

Out of stock

Fitz's – 12 Pack | Made with a ma
lemons, limes, and oranges balar
cane sugar and a caffeine bump

Shipping Prices Explained

Tampa Bay Times

Subscribe

The five women who were rescued were connected to the nonprofit Brink Freedom for counseling and support, according to the Sheriff's Office. The force is receiving help through the Florida Department of Children and Families.

The more serious allegations resulted in two men being arrested Friday: 30-year-old Alvin Lynch Jr. and Scott Fitzgerald, 27. A search warrant obtained to search Fitzgerald's phone explains how detectives built the case.

An undercover detective found the victim through an online advertisement and used the phone number listed to arrange a meeting at a Clarion motel at 9330 E Adamo Drive, according to the warrant.

SPONSORED CONTENT

Primary care doctors are critical link to better health for seniors

by AbbyNorris

Detectives booked a room for the sting and started surveilling the hotel. It was about 4:30 p.m. when detectives said they noticed a Lexus sedan in the parking lot's south side. Lynch was driving the vehicle, according to the warrant; Fitzgerald was in the front passenger seat and the victim was in the backseat.

The two men remained in the area and the victim was texted to "check in" with them via text, the warrant said. This is a common tactic of traffickers, the warrant said, who provide security after transporting someone for the purposes of engaging in sex acts for payment.

ALEX J. SHEPARD
Attorney

CASE OVERVIEW

Defendant Daniel S. Fitzgerald, a.k.a. "Hollywood Homes," is a sex trafficker who engaged in intimidation and harassment to conceal his actions and silence victims and witnesses. Fitzgerald, a co-conspirator in Peter Nygard's sex trafficking enterprise, also had his own venture, victimizing the plaintiffs in this case.

Caroline Bergkoul - CBC News -
Posted: Apr 25, 2021 5:00 AM CDT | Last Updated: April 25, 2021

This photo, included in the lawsuit, calls Daniel Fitzgerald, fourth from right, a longtime friend and associate of Peter Nygard, centre. The lawsuit alleges Fitzgerald "knowingly participated in Nygard's alleged sex trafficking venture by engaging in sex acts" with these women referred to as Jane Doe 1, 2 and 3. (United States District Court, Central District of California Western Division)

Fitz's

Fitz's VOODEW

VOODEW

$35.95

Out of stock

Fitz's - 12 Pack | Made with a ma

lemons, limes, and oranges balan

cane sugar and a caffeine bump.

Shipping Prices Explained

YouTube

Voodoo Fest 2010 Fitz and the Tantrums - "We Don' Need No Love Songs"

carolynola11

Subscribe

Meet Fitz Haney, the Israeli-American dip businessman and reality TV star

From a youth in Chicago to a conversion with roots in Nicaragua, aliyah to Israel and an ambassadorship in Costa Rica, Siegfried Fitzgerald Haney is still on a journey

By Amy Spiro August 6, 2020

Siegfried Fitzgerald Haney sits in his office in Herzliya, surrounded by photographs of him with former President Barack Obama. Another shows him sitting in a car with current Vice President Mike Pence, and hanging next to his desk is a collage showcasing his participation in an annual Costa Rican Dancing With The Stars.

Everyday diplomats singularly don't come close to telling the full life story of Haney, but people deeply at ease in Nashville and Chicago to a decade working in Latin

Tampa Bay Times

Subscribe

Alvin Lynch Jr., 34, faces one count of human trafficking for commercial sexual activity involving someone under the age of 18 and several other charges, according to the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office. [Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office]

The five women who were rescued were connected to the nonprofit Selah Freedom for counseling and support, according to the Sheriff's Office. The teen is receiving help through the Florida Department of Children and Families.

The most serious allegations resulted in two men being arrested Friday: 34-year-old Alvin Lynch Jr. and Scott Fitzgerald, 27. A search warrant obtained to search Fitzgerald's phone explains how detectives built the case:

An undercover detective found the victim through an online advertisement and used the phone number listed to arrange a meeting at a Clarion motel at 9331 E Adamo Drive, according to the warrant.

SPONSORED CONTENT

Primary care doctors are critical link to better health for seniors

By HUMANA

Detectives booked a room for the sting and started surveilling the hotel. It was about 4:20 p.m. when detectives said they noted a Lexus sedan in the parking lot's south side. Lynch was driving the vehicle, according to the warrant, Fitzgerald was in the front passenger seat and the victim was in the backseat.

Scott Fitzgerald, 27, faces one count of human trafficking for commercial sexual activity involving someone under the age of 18 and other criminal charges, according to the Hillsborough County Sheriff's Office. [Hillsborough County

The two men remained in the area and the victim was texted to "check in" with them via text, the warrant said. That is a common tactic of traffickers, the warrant said, who provide security after transporting someone for the purposes of engaging in sex acts for payment.

ALEX J. SHEPARD

Attorney

CASE OVERVIEW

Defendant Daniel S. Fitzgerald, a.k.a. "Hollywood Homes," is a sex trafficker who engaged in intimidation and harassment to conceal his actions and silence victims and witnesses. Fitzgerald, a co-conspirator in Peter Nygard's sex trafficking enterprise, also had his own venture, victimizing the plaintiffs in this case.

Caroline Barghout · CBC News ·

Posted: Apr 29, 2021 5:00 AM CDT | Last Updated: April 29, 2021

This photo, included in the lawsuit, calls Daniel Fitzgerald, fourth from right, a longtime friend and associate of Peter Nygard, centre. The lawsuit alleges Fitzgerald 'knowingly participated in Nygard's alleged sex trafficking venture by engaging in sex acts' with three women referred to as Jane Doe 1, 2 and 3. (United States District Court, Central District of California Western Division)

Fitz's

VOODEW

$35.95

Out of stock

Fitz's – 12 Pack | Made with a mag

lemons, limes, and oranges balar

cane sugar and a caffeine bump.

Shipping Prices Explained

YouTube

Voodoo Fest 2010 Fitz and the Tantrums - "We Don' Need No Love Songs"

carolynola11

27 subscribers

Subscribe

Meet Fitz Haney, the Israeli-American dip businessman and reality TV star

From a youth in Chicago to a conversion with roots in Mexico, aliya to Israel and an ambassadorship in Costa Rica, Stafford Fitzgerald Haney is still on a journey

By Amy Spiro · August 8, 2019

SHARE

Stafford Fitzgerald Haney sits in his office in Herzliya, surrounded by photograph features him with former President Barack Obama. Another shows him sitting in with current Vice President Mike Pence. And hanging next to his desk is a collag showcasing his participation on a recent season of Costa Rica's Dancing With The Stars.

Even these disparate snapshots don't come close to telling the full life story of Haney, kn people simply as 'Fitz.' From roots in Nashville and Chicago to a decade working in Latin

Biography
Overview
Stephanie Adams Fucked With A Thumb In Her Butt - Anal

Stephanie Adams Fucked With A Thumb In Her Butt - Anal

1080p

Onlycougars Cons | Kurt Lockwood | anal | stockings | cumshot | facial | hardcore

brunette | doggystyle | hardsex | ass-to-mouth | cougar | anal-sex | butt-sex | ass-fuck | anal-fingering

Kurt Lockwood AKA Kirt Lockwood, Kurt Blockwood

Man, Porn actor, 46y

Subscribe

Add to friends

Videos | RSS | Fans

Kurt Lockwood 108 free videos

Watched recently / New / Most viewed / Most commented

Page 1 2 3

Kurt Lockwood takes nurse massage from sidney...

Beautiful Lucy Lee offers her ass to Kurt Lockwood's big...

Small Tits Cherri Samantha Ryan Rose a Big Dick

Sexy masseuse blows fat cock - Kurt Lockwood, Alan...

Kurt Lockwo

28,109,673 video

Blonde teen flirts with stepdad The guy lifts

Big tits blonde peggi

Devilsfilm.com - A bla teen auditions to be

Brunette babysitter g spanked by her boss

Back

All topics

Kurt Lockwood

Biography

Jump to

Overview

Born June 4, 1970 · Baltimore, Maryland, USA

Birth name Steve Fitzgerald

Height 5' 10" (1.78 m)

Mini Bio

Kurt Lockwood was born on June 4, 1970 in Baltimore, Maryland, USA. He is an actor and director.

Trivia

Has a degree in Theatre from the University of Maryland.

Stephanie Adams Fucked With A Thumb In Her Butt - Anal

1080p

Onlycougars.Com | Kurt Lockwood | anal | stockings | cumshot | facial | hardcore | brunette | doggystyle | hardsex | ass-to-mouth | cougar | anal-sex | butt-sex | ass-fuck | anal-fingering

+6cm w 7 dni. 100% gw

Kurt Lockwood AKA Kirt Lockwood, Kurt Blockwood

Man, Porn actor, 46y

Videos | RED | Fans

Kurt Lockwood 105 free videos

(Watched recently / New / Most viewed / Most commented)

Prev 1 2 3

Kurt Lockwood takes nurs massage from skinny...

Beautiful Lucy Lee offers her ass to Kurt Lockwood's big...

Small Tits Chick Samantha Ryan Rides a Big Dick

Sexy masseuse blows fat cock - Kurt Lockwood, Alai...

XNXX.COM

Kurt Lockwood

STANDARD | GOLD

26,109,673 video views

Watched recently 1 2 3

Blonde teen flirts with her stepdad The guy lifts her...

Blonde milf is cheating with her stepdaughters...

Teen babysitter caught stealing the boss credit...

Big tits blonde pegging

Pornstar.com Anal Fucking And Many Orgasm From Taryn Thomas

Guy finds out his babysitter loves anal sex. They give it...

DevilsVid.com - A blonde teen auditions to be a...

Blonde stepdaughter catches her stepmom...

Cum Eating Cuckolds Cum Eating Cuckolds - Vera Drake cheats on her...

Brunette babysitter gets spanked by her boss for...

Pornstar.com Pornstar Girl Hillary Scott Gangbanged by Five Big...

Adult Time - Out Of The ... I Can't Believe You Did This To Me Again

Ishmael

Ishmael was the first son of Abraham, the common patriarch religions. He was born to Abraham by his slave, Hagar, w Kanaanuren. Ishmael was later banished to the desert wi concubine Ketura, who became Abraham's wife Kor. God pro would raise up a great nation of his own.

Learn more:

Ishmael - Wikipedia

Ishmael: Abraham's Other Son - Chabad.org

People also ask

Was Ishmael the first son of Abraham?

Ishmael was the first son of Abraham. His mother was Hagar. There are many versions of the story, some of which include a prophecy about Ishmael's birth.

Ishmael in Islam - Wikipedia

Did Abraham have

Abraham's sons other w consequences of their f importance. Many know story about Abraham an rather God tested Abrah
Gold versus the tone for

Who Were Abraham?

www.christianity.com

Wikipedia
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ishmael

Ishmael - Wikipedia

Ishmael was the first son of Abraham, the common patriarch religions. Through his wife Sarah's Kanaanuren Hagar (Genesis Genesis account, he died at the age of 137 (Genesis 25:17).
tradition, he is the ancestor of the Arabs. Within Islam, Ishma

Etymology

The name "Ishmael" existed in various ancient Semitic cultures, including early Babylonian and Minaean. It is a theophoric name translated ... Read more

Ishmael

יִשְׁמָעֵאל

Ishmael, watercolour by James Tissot, as in Genesis 21:20: "And God was with the lad; and he grew, and dwelt in the wilderness, and became an archer."

Title Prophet, Patriarch, Apostle to Arabia, Father of the Arabs

Personal

Out of desperation, she ran back and forth, climbing between the two mountains a total of seven times before hearing a voice. She then quieted down, waiting patiently for the voice to call out again.

> She then heard the voice again but was unable to make any sense of it, Hagar called out, yelling:
>
> "O, (whoever you may be)! You have made me hear your voice; have you got something to help me?"

To Hagar's astonishment, she spotted an angel at the site of Zamzam, he was digging with his heel (or wing) till water miraculously began to flow.

Overwhelmed with relief, she ran to the watering hole fashioned a basin-like structure around it, and proceeded to fill her water skin.

Still, the water kept gushing out. Hagar quenched her third and nursed her baby.

> The angel then said to Hagar:
> "Don't be afraid of being neglected, for this is the House of Allah, which will be built by this boy and his father, and Allah never neglects His people."
>
> In the hadith recounted by Ibn Abbas, as recorded in Sahih Bukhari 3362 and 3364, Prophet Muhammad (ﷺ) said:
> "May Allah (سُبْحَانَهُ وَتَعَالَى) bestow mercy on Ishmael's mother! Had she let the Zamzam (flow without trying to control it) (or had she not scooped from that water) (to fill her water-skin), Zamzam would have been a stream flowing on the surface of the earth."
> (Sahih Bukhari 3362, 3364)

* Note
This watering hole is known as the Zamzam, and the practice of running between the two mountains is the ritual of tawaf that Muslims observe during pilgrimage.

Ishmael

Ishmael was the first son of Abraham, the common patriarch of the Abrahamic religions [1] [2]. He was born to Abraham by his slave, Hagar, who was Sarah's handmaiden [1] [3]. Ishmael was later banished to the desert with Hagar, after Sarah conceived Isaac, who became Abraham's sole heir [4]. God promised that Ishmael would raise up a great nation of his own [4] [2].

Learn more:

1 Ishmael - Wikipedia — wikipedia.org

2 Ishmael: Abraham's Other Son - Chabad.org — chabad.org

3 Who is Ishmael in the Bible? His Str... — biblestudytools...

Feedback

People also ask

Was Ishmael the first son of Abraham?
Ishmael was the first son of Abraham; his mother was Hajar. There are many versions of the story, some of which include a prophecy about Ishmael's birth.
Ishmael in Islam - Wikipedia
en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ishmael_in_...

Did Abraham have a son?
Abraham's sons often reaped the consequences of their father's impatience. Many know of the Bible story about Abraham and Isaac when God tested Abraham's faith in God versus his love for his son, yet...
Who Were Abraham's Sons? Ish... www.christianity.com/wiki/people/...

Why d son Is
God ins their so for th Abraha Sarah w
Who W www

Feedback

Wikipedia
https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Ishmael

Ishmael - Wikipedia

Ishmael was the first son of Abraham, the common patriarch of the Abrahamic religions, through his wife Sara's handmaiden Hagar (Genesis 16:3). According to the Genesis account, he died at the age of 137 (Genesis 25:17). According to biblical tradition, he is the ancestor of the Arabs. Within Islam, Ishmael is ... See more

Etymology

The name "Yishma'el" existed in various ancient Semitic cultures, including early Babylonian and Minaean. It is a theophoric name translated... See more

Ishmael

First son of Abraham

Ishmael was the first son of Abraham, the common patriarch of the Abrahamic religions, through his wife Sara's handmaiden Hagar. According to the Genesis account, he died at the age of 137. According ...

Parents Abraham (father) · Hagar (moth...
Relatives Isaac (half-brother/half-cousin...
Title Prophet, Patriarch, Apostle to Arabi...
Religion Judaism · Christianity · Islam

Abraham's Son and an Islami...
Ishmael was the first son of Abraham, the common patriarch of...

According to an engraving by Frans De Roy dated to around 1750, the painting once included an angel in the sky with the infant Ishmael at the bottom of the tree on the left.

Abraham was blessed so that his descendants would be as numerous as the dust of the earth. God would make of Ishmael a great nation because he was of the seed of Abraham.

Ishmael is also an important prophet within Islam. Islamic tradition states that Ishmael, Abraham and Hagar were sent on a journey over 4,000 years ago to Mecca (in present-day Saudi Arabia).

Explore more to her father.

נתקדשה קודם שתבגר שלא לדעת אביה אינה מקודשת:

If she were to be betrothed, before she came of age without permission of her father, it is not a valid betrothal.

קדשה אביה בבקר וקידשה עצמה בערב ושניהם ביום שנשלם בו ששה חדשים של ימי נערות ובדקוה ומצאוה בוגרת מחזיקים אותה בחזקת בוגרת וקידושי האב אינו כלום ויש מי שאומר דאפילו אינה מכחישתו לומר שבאו הסימנים בבקר ויש מי שאומר דדוקא מכחישתו אבל באינה מכחישתו צריכה גט משניהם:

If her father were to betroth her in the morning and she betrothed herself in the evening and both of them did it on the day that completed the six months of the days of her na'aruth and they examine and find her to be of age then she is considered to be adult and the betrothal of her father is not valid. There are those who say that[51] even if she does not contradict him and say that the signs of maturity were there in the morning. However, there are those who say that this applies only if she contradicts him, but if she does not contradict him she needs a bill of divorce from both of them.

to her father.

נתקדשה קודם שתבגר שלא לדעת אביה אינה מקודשת:

If she were to be betrothed, before she came of age without permission of her father, it is not a valid betrothal.

קדשה אביה בבקר וקידשה עצמה בערב ושניהם ביום שנשלם בו ששה חדשים של ימי נערות ובדקוה ומצאוה בוגרת מחזיקים אותה בחזקת בוגרת וקידושי האב אינו כלום ויש מי שאומר דאפילו אינה מכחישתו לומר שבאו הסימנים בבקר ויש מי שאומר דדוקא מכחישתו אבל באינה מכחישתו צריכה גט משניהם:

If her father were to betroth her in the morning and she betrothed herself in the evening and both of them did it on the day that completed the six months of the days of her na'aruth and they examine and find her to be of age then she is considered to be adult and the betrothal of her father is not valid. There are those who say that[51] even if she does not contradict him and say that the signs of maturity were there in the morning. However, there are those who say that this applies only if she contradicts him, but if she does not contradict him she needs a bill of divorce from both of them.

The Founders' Story

Somatica® Institute

Find a Sex Coach Near Me

Our sex coach directory has moved to www.sexcoaching.world. Over there, you will find a list of Certified and trained Somatica Sex Coaches. These are highly skilled, knowledgeable, warm, and supportive practitioners who have gone through the Somatica Training.

Contact a Sex Coach Now

Somatica sex coaches are available to support you in all of your sex and relationship goals. If you need help choosing the right coach, fill out a contact form, and we will have the right practitioner get in touch with you!

Find a Sex and Relationship Coach Near Me

Somatica sex and relationship coaches live all around the globe. Most of them also provide online sex coaching.

North America: USA, Canada
US States: California, Colorado, Kentucky, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Oregon, South Carolina, Texas, Washington
Europe: Germany, Italy, Netherlands, United Kingdom
Asia and Oceania: Australia, India
Africa: Ghana, South Africa

Find a Sex Coach by Expertise

Here are some of our 2023 Presenters!
2024 Presenters to be announced soon...

Somatica Institute

The Founders' Story

Daniela Hanel and Celeste Hirschman's partnership began over a decade ago when they met at a sexological bodywork certification training program. Bonding over their backgrounds in human sexuality studies and desire to help others experience more fulfilling relationships, they partnered to create a revolutionary new approach to sex and relationship coaching.

Together, they identified a gap in the industry

As they built t
the principles
and Celeste w shifts in confi relationship s themselves),
showed their more loving, a others. They and feelings
Sessions with

Somatica Institute

Find a Sex Coach Near Me

Your sex coach directory has moved to www.coaching.com! Over time, you will find a list of Certified and trained Somatica Sex Coaches. These are highly skilled, knowledgeable, warm, and supportive practitioners who have gone through the Somatica Training.

Contact a Sex Coach Now

Somatica sex coaches are available to support you in all of your sex and relationship goals. If you need help choosing the right coach, fill out a contact form, and we will have the right practitioner get in touch with you!

Find a Sex and Relationship Coach Near Me

Somatica sex and relationship coaches live all around the globe. Most of them also provide online sex coaching.

North America: USA, Canada
US States: California, Colorado, New York, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Oregon, South Carolina, Texas, Washington
Europe: Germany, Italy, Netherlands, United Kingdom
Asia and Oceania: Australia, India
Africa: Ghana, South Africa

Find a Sex Coach by Expertise

Trevor Warren

Couples & Sexual Intimacy Therapist

Trevor Warren is a seasoned couples and sexual intimacy therapist with over 30 years helping couples achieve deeper intimate communion. He's an experienced workshop facilitator, Tantric practitioner, and sex-activist with a desire to support others to emancipate from the heavy historical blanket of sex negativity that has become so normalized in our culture.

Trevor's passionate aim is to resurrect the most natural and powerful essence of who we are as human beings and reclaim our Divine Sexual Selves.

More Info:
CoreQuest.ca

Somatica® Institute

The Founders' Story

Danielle Harel and Celeste Hirschman's partnership began over a decade ago when they met at a sexological bodywork certification training program. Bonding over their backgrounds in human sexuality studies and desire to help others experience more fulfilling relationships, they partnered to create a revolutionary new approach to sex and relationship coaching.

Together, they identified a gap in the industry: Some of their clients' challenges required

As they built t
the principles
and Celeste w
shifts in confic
relationship sa
themselves!).
showed their more loving, a others. They c
and feelings o
listeners with

Somatica® Institute

Find a Sex Coach Near Me

Our sex coach directory has moved to sexcoaching.com! Over there, you will find a list of Certified and trained Somatica Sex Coaches. These are highly skilled, knowledgeable, warm, and supportive practitioners who have gone through the Somatica Training.

Contact a Sex Coach Now

Somatica sex coaches are available to support you in all of your sex and relationship goals. If you need help choosing the right coach, fill out a contact form, and we will have the right practitioner get in touch with you!

Find a Sex and Relationship Coach Near Me

Somatica sex and relationship coaches live all around the globe. Most of them also provide online sex coaching.

North America: USA, Canada
US States: California, Colorado, Kentucky, Massachusetts, New Jersey, New Mexico, New York, North Carolina, Oregon, South Carolina, Texas, Washington
Europe: Germany, Italy, Netherlands, United Kingdom
Asia and Oceania: Australia, India
Africa: Ghana, South Africa

Find a Sex Coach by Expertise

TANTRA FESTIVAL

Home | Program | Schedule | Info | Venue | Buy Tickets | Contact

Here are some of our 2023 Presenters!
2024 Presenters to be announced soon..

Eugene Hedlund

Robyn Vogel

Candice Leigh

Amaku

Brynn Bishop

Meleza Morris

Mark Bonder

Cathleene Cienfuegos

ScottieO McClure

Angel Love

Liliana Conventina

Lea Dawn

Amanda Ananda

Aaron Mandelbaum

Trevor Warren

Couples & Sexual Intimacy Therapist

Trevor Warren is a seasoned couples and sexual intimacy therapist with over 30 years helping couples achieve deeper intimate communion. He's an experienced workshop facilitator, Tantric practitioner, and sex-activist with a desire to support others to emancipate from the heavy historical blanket of sex negativity that has become so normalized in our culture.

Trevor's passionate aim is to resurrect the most natural and powerful essence of who we are as human beings and reclaim our Divine Sexual Selves.

More Info:
CoreQuest.ca

[illegible] does not deem a [illegible] boy [illegible] like an [illegible] boy, [illegible] with regard [illegible] with an animal, the Torah does deem a [illegible] [illegible] like an old [illegible].

בשר לא עשו בו קנין סכיל אבל רב לא עשו בשר פרה מקנו רשע
שור מקנו רשע שור רשע ישראל אבל לא עשו בשר פרה מקנו שלם
שור מקנו שלם שור

The Gemara asks: What does it mean that the Torah does not deem a passage [illegible] like an [illegible] boy? Rav [illegible] It means that the Torah does not deem the [illegible] of one who is less than nine years old [illegible] like the [illegible] of one who is [illegible] nine years old, as for a child's act of [illegible] [illegible] legal status of full-fledged [illegible] [illegible] years. And Shmuel says: The Torah does not deem the [illegible] of a child who is less than three years old [illegible] like [illegible] of one who is three years old.

בנו שנשלם לו מנין כל ושאינו בשעת שחיטה בשעת יכל
דלידה בשעת לידה בשעת

9 The Sages taught: With regard to intercourse with a male, the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy; but with regard to intercourse with an animal, the Torah does deem a young animal to be like an old animal.

20 מאי לא עשו בו קטן כגדול אמר רב לא עשו ביאת פחות מבן תשע שנים כבן תשע שנים ושמואל אמר לא עשו ביאת פחות מבן שלש שנים כבן שלש שנים

The Gemara asks: What does it mean that the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy? Rav says: It means that the Torah does not deem the intercourse of one who is less than nine years old to be like the intercourse of one who is at least nine years old, as for a male's act of intercourse to have the legal status of full-fledged intercourse the minimum age is nine years. And Shmuel says: The Torah does not deem the intercourse of a child who is less than three years old to be like that of one who is three years old.

21 במאי קמיפלגי רב סבר כל דאיתיה בשוכב איתיה בנשכב וכל דליתיה בשוכב ליתיה בנשכב

19 תנו רבנן זכור לא עשו בו קטן כגדול בהמה עשו בה קטנה כגדולה

§ The Sages taught: With regard to intercourse with a male, the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy; but with regard to intercourse with an animal, the Torah does deem a young animal to be like an old animal.

20 מאי לא עשו בו קטן כגדול אמר רב לא עשו ביאת פחות מבן תשע שנים כבן תשע שנים ושמואל אמר לא עשו ביאת פחות מבן שלש שנים כבן שלש שנים

The Gemara asks: What does it mean that the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy? Rav says: It means that the Torah does not deem the intercourse of one who is less than nine years old to be like the intercourse of one who is at least nine years old, as for a male's act of intercourse to have the legal status of full-fledged intercourse the minimum age is nine years. And Shmuel says: The Torah does not deem the intercourse of a child who is less than three years old to be like that of one who is three years old.

21 במאי קמיפלגי רב סבר כל דאיתיה בשוכב איתיה בנשכב וכל דליתיה בשוכב ליתיה בנשכב

The Gemara asks: With regard to what principle do Rav and Shmuel disagree? The Gemara answers: Rav holds that any halakha that applies to one who engages in intercourse actively applies to one who engages in intercourse passively, and any halakha that does not

19 תנו רבנן זכור לא עשו בו קטן כגדול בהמה עשו בה קטנה כגדולה

§ The Sages taught: With regard to intercourse with a male, the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy; but with regard to intercourse with an animal, the Torah does deem a young animal to be like an old animal.

20 מאי לא עשו בו קטן כגדול אמר רב לא עשו ביאת פחות מבן תשע שנים כבן תשע שנים ושמואל אמר לא עשו ביאת פחות מבן שלש שנים כבן שלש שנים

The Gemara asks: What does it mean that the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy? Rav says: It means that the Torah does not deem the intercourse of one who is less than nine years old to be like the intercourse of one who is at least nine years old, as for a male's act of intercourse to have the legal status of full-fledged intercourse the minimum age is nine years. And Shmuel says: The Torah does not deem the intercourse of a child who is less than three years old to be like that of one who is three years old.

21 במאי קמיפלגי רב סבר כל דאיתיה בשוכב איתיה בנשכב וכל דליתיה בשוכב ליתיה בנשכב

The Gemara asks: With regard to what principle do Rav and Shmuel disagree? The Gemara answers: Rav holds that any halakha that applies to one who engages in intercourse actively applies to one who engages in intercourse passively, and any halakha that does not

[illegible] does not deem a [illegible] boy [illegible] like an [illegible] boy, [illegible] with regard [illegible] with an animal, the Torah does deem a [illegible] [illegible] like an old [illegible].

בשר לא עשו בו קנין סכיל אבל רב לא עשו בשר פרה מקנו רשע
שור מקנו רשע שור רשע ישראל אבל לא עשו בשר פרה מקנו שלם
שור מקנו שלם שור

The Gemara asks: What does it mean that the Torah does not deem a passage [illegible] like an [illegible] boy? Rav [illegible] It means that the Torah does not deem the [illegible] of one who is less than nine years old [illegible] like the [illegible] of one who is [illegible] nine years old, as for a child's act of [illegible] [illegible] legal status of full-fledged [illegible] [illegible] years. And Shmuel says: The Torah does not deem the [illegible] of a child who is less than three years old [illegible] like [illegible] of one who is three years old.

בנו שנשלם לו מנין כל ושאינו בשעת שחיטה בשעת יכל
דלידה בשעת לידה בשעת

תנו רבנן זכר לא עשו בו קטן כגדול בהבאה עשו בה קטנה כגדולה

§ The Sages taught: With regard to intercourse with a male, the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy; but with regard to intercourse with an animal, the Torah does deem a young animal to be like an old animal.

מאי לא עשו בו קטן כגדול אמר רב לא עשו בראת פחות מבן תשע שנים כבן תשע שנים ושמואל אמר לא עשו בראת פחות מבן שלש שנים כבן שלש שנים

The Gemara asks: What does it mean that the Torah does not deem a younger boy to be like an older boy? Rav says: It means that the Torah does not deem the intercourse of one who is less than nine years old to be like the intercourse of one who is at least nine years old, as for a male's act of intercourse to have the legal status of full-fledged intercourse the minimum age is nine years. And Shmuel says: The Torah does not deem the intercourse of a child who is less than three years old to be like that of one who is three years old.

במאי קמיפלגי הא מאי דאיתה בעיבוב איתה בעיבוב והא דליתה בעיבוב ליתה בעיבוב

The Gemara asks: With regard to what principle do Rav and Shmuel disagree? The Gemara answers: Rav holds that any halakha that applies to one who engages in intercourse actively applies to one who engages in intercourse passively, and any halakha that does not

37a

1 הואיל וראוי לביאה מטמא נמי בזיבה אמר רבינא הלכך הא תינוקת עובדת כוכבים בת ג׳ שנים ויום אחד הואיל וראויה לביאה מטמאה נמי בזיבה

The Gemara explains the reason for this opinion: Since a nine-year-old boy is fit to engage in intercourse, he also imparts ritual impurity as one who experienced ziva*. Ravina said: Therefore, with regard to a female gentile child who is three years and one day old, since she is fit to engage in intercourse at that age, she also imparts impurity as one who experienced ziva*.

2 פשיטא מהו דתימא האי ידע לארגולי והא לא ידעה לארגולי קמ״ל

The Gemara asks: Isn't that obvious? The Gemara explains: It was necessary to state this ruling, lest you say that the halakha that a gentile who is suited for intercourse imparts impurity does not apply to a female. The possible difference between a male and female child is based on the fact that whereas that child, a nine-year-old male gentile, knows how to accustom others to sin by employing persuasion, this child, a three-year-old female gentile, does not know how to accustom others to sin until she matures. Therefore, Ravina teaches us that the halakha nevertheless applies to both male and female children.

3 מיסתמיך ואזיל ר׳ יהודה נשיאה אכתפיה דרבי שמלאי שמעיה א״ל

37a

1 הואיל וראוי לביאה מטמא נמי בזיבה אמר רבינא הלכך הא תינוקת עובדת כוכבים בת ג׳ שנים ויום אחד הואיל וראויה לביאה מטמאה נמי בזיבה

The Gemara explains the reason for this opinion: Since a nine-year-old boy is fit to engage in intercourse, he also imparts ritual impurity as one who experienced ziva*. Ravina said: Therefore, with regard to a female gentile child who is three years and one day old, since she is fit to engage in intercourse at that age, she also imparts impurity as one who experienced ziva*.

2 פשיטא מהו דתימא האי ידע לארגולי והא לא ידעה לארגולי קמ״ל

The Gemara asks: Isn't that obvious? The Gemara explains: It was necessary to state this ruling, lest you say that the halakha that a gentile who is suited for intercourse imparts impurity does not apply to a female. The possible difference between a male and female child is based on the fact that whereas that child, a nine-year-old male gentile, knows how to accustom others to sin by employing persuasion, this child, a three-year-old female gentile, does not know how to accustom others to sin until she matures. Therefore, Ravina teaches us that the halakha nevertheless applies to both male and female children.

3 מיסתמיך ואזיל ר׳ יהודה נשיאה אכתפיה דרבי שמלאי שמעיה א״ל

37a

1 הואיל וראוי לביאה מטמא נמי בזיבה אמר רבינא הלכך הא תינוקת עובדת כוכבים בת ג׳ שנים ויום אחד הואיל וראויה לביאה מטמאה נמי בזיבה

The Gemara explains the reason for this opinion: Since a nine-year-old boy is fit to engage in intercourse, he also imparts ritual impurity as one who experienced ziva*. Ravina said: Therefore, with regard to a female gentile child who is three years and one day old, since she is fit to engage in intercourse at that age, she also imparts impurity as one who experienced ziva*.

2 פשיטא מהו דתימא האי ידע לארגולי והא לא ידעה לארגולי קמ״ל

The Gemara asks: Isn't that obvious? The Gemara explains: It was necessary to state this ruling, lest you say that the halakha that a gentile who is suited for intercourse imparts impurity does not apply to a female. The possible difference between a male and female child is based on the fact that whereas that child, a nine-year-old male gentile, knows how to accustom others to sin by employing persuasion, this child, a three-year-old female gentile, does not know how to accustom others to sin until she matures. Therefore, Ravina teaches us that the halakha nevertheless applies to both male and female children.

3 מיסתמיך ואזיל ר׳ יהודה נשיאה אכתפיה דרבי שמלאי שמעיה א״ל

1 הואיל וראוי לביאה מטמא נמי בזיבה אמר רבינא הלכך הא תינוקת שובדת כוכבים בת ג׳ שנים ויום אחד הואיל וראויה לביאה מטמאה נמי בזיבה

The Gemara explains the reason for this opinion: Since a nine-year-old boy is fit to engage in intercourse, he also imparts ritual impurity as one who experienced zivut*. Ravina said: Therefore, with regard to a female gentile child who is three years and one day old, since she is fit to engage in intercourse at that age, she also imparts impurity as one who experienced zivut*.

2 פשיטא מהו דתימא האי ידע לארגולי והא לא ידעה לארגולי קמ״ל

The Gemara asks: Isn't that obvious? The Gemara explains: It was necessary to state this ruling, lest you say that the halakha that a gentile who is suited for intercourse imparts impurity does not apply to a female. The possible difference between a male and female child is based on the fact that whereas that child, a nine-year-old male gentile, knows how to accustom others to sin by employing persuasion, this child, a three-year-old female gentile, does not know how to accustom

37a

1 הואיל וראוי לביאה מטמא נמי בזיבה אמר רבינא הלכך הא תינוקת עובדת כוכבים בת ג׳ שנים ויום אחד הואיל וראויה לביאה מטמאה נמי בזיבה

The Gemara explains the reason for this opinion: Since a nine-year-old boy is fit to engage in intercourse, he also imparts ritual impurity as one who experienced ziva*. Ravina said: Therefore, with regard to a female gentile child who is three years and one day old, since she is fit to engage in intercourse at that age, she also imparts impurity as one who experienced ziva*.

2 פשיטא מהו דתימא האי ידע לארגולי והא לא ידעה לארגולי קמ״ל

The Gemara asks: Isn't that obvious? The Gemara explains: It was necessary to state this ruling, lest you say that the halakha that a gentile who is suited for intercourse imparts impurity does not apply to a female. The possible difference between a male and female child is based on the fact that whereas that child, a nine-year-old male gentile, knows how to accustom others to sin by employing persuasion, this child, a three-year-old female gentile, does not know how to accustom others to sin until she matures. Therefore, Ravina teaches us that the halakha nevertheless applies to both male and female children.

3 מיסתמיך ואזיל ר׳ יהודה נשיאה אכתפיה דרבי שמלאי שמעיה א״ל

1 הואיל וראוי לביאה מטמא נמי בזיבה אמר רבינא הלכך הא תינוקת שובדת כוכבים בת ג׳ שנים ויום אחד הואיל וראויה לביאה מטמאה נמי בזיבה

The Gemara explains the reason for this opinion: Since a nine-year-old boy is fit to engage in intercourse, he also imparts ritual impurity as one who experienced zivut*. Ravina said: Therefore, with regard to a female gentile child who is three years and one day old, since she is fit to engage in intercourse at that age, she also imparts impurity as one who experienced zivut*.

2 פשיטא מהו דתימא האי ידע לארגולי והא לא ידעה לארגולי קמ״ל

The Gemara asks: Isn't that obvious? The Gemara explains: It was necessary to state this ruling, lest you say that the halakha that a gentile who is suited for intercourse imparts impurity does not apply to a female. The possible difference between a male and female child is based on the fact that whereas that child, a nine-year-old male gentile, knows how to accustom others to sin by employing persuasion, this child, a three-year-old female gentile, does not know how to accustom

37a

1 הואיל וראוי לביאה מטמא נמי בזיבה אמר רבינא הלכך הא תינוקת עובדת כוכבים בת ג׳ שנים ויום אחד הואיל וראויה לביאה מטמאה נמי בזיבה

The Gemara explains the reason for this opinion: Since a nine-year-old boy is fit to engage in intercourse, he also imparts ritual impurity as one who experienced ziva*. Ravina said: Therefore, with regard to a female gentile child who is three years and one day old, since she is fit to engage in intercourse at that age, she also imparts impurity as one who experienced ziva*.

2 פשיטא מהו דתימא האי ידע לארגולי והא לא ידעה לארגולי קמ״ל

The Gemara asks: Isn't that obvious? The Gemara explains: It was necessary to state this ruling, lest you say that the halakha that a gentile who is suited for intercourse imparts impurity does not apply to a female. The possible difference between a male and female child is based on the fact that whereas that child, a nine-year-old male gentile, knows how to accustom others to sin by employing persuasion, this child, a three-year-old female gentile, does not know how to accustom others to sin until she matures. Therefore, Ravina teaches us that the halakha nevertheless applies to both male and female children.

3 מיסתמיך ואזיל ר׳ יהודה נשיאה אכתפיה דרבי שמלאי שמעיה א״ל

the term "I will require," which is stated in the singular, that a descendant of Noah is executed on the basis of the verdict of even one judge.

(בראשית ט, ה) מיד כל חיה אפילו שלא בהתראה (בראשית ט, ה) אדרשנו ומיד האדם אפילו בנו אחר (בראשית ט, ה) מיד איש ולא מיד אשה אחר אפילו קרוב

It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every animal" that one is executed even without forewarning, as an animal certainly cannot forewarn someone. It is derived from the phrase "I will require its and at the hand of man," with "I" stated in the singular, that the sentence is issued on the basis of the testimony of even one witness. It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every man," that the judgment and testimony must be at the hand of a man, but not at the hand of a woman. It is derived from the term "his brother" that the testimony of the witness is accepted even if he is a relative of the defendant.

משום רבי ישמעאל אומר אף על הנגרין בא מבעוד דרבי ישמעאל הכתיב (בראשית ט, ו) שופך דם האדם באדם דמי יישפך מיתתו אדם שהרג באדם הוי אומר זה שהרג שבבית אבי

It is stated in that book of Aggada that the Sages said in the name of Rabbi Yishmael: A descendant of Noah is executed even for killing fetuses. The Gemara asks: What is the reason for the opinion of Rabbi Yishmael? The Gemara answers: It is derived from that which is written: "One who sheds the blood of a person, by a person [ba'adam] his blood shall be shed" (Genesis 9:6). The word ba'adam

(בראשית ט, ה) מיד כל חיה אפילו שלא בהתראה (בראשית ט, ה) אדרשנו ומיד האדם אפילו בעד אחד (בראשית ט, ה) מיד איש ולא מיד אשה אחיו אפילו קרוב

It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every animal" that one is executed even without forewarning, as an animal certainly cannot forewarn someone. It is derived from the phrase "I will require it; and at the hand of man," with "I" stated in the singular, that the sentence is issued on the basis of the testimony of even one witness. It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every man," that the judgment and testimony must be at the hand of a man, but not at the hand of a woman. It is derived from the term "his brother" that the testimony of the witness is accepted even if he is a relative of the defendant.

משום רבי ישמעאל אמרו אף על העברין מאי טעמיה דרבי ישמעאל דכתיב (בראשית ט, ו) שופך דם האדם באדם דמו ישפך איזהו אדם שהוא באדם הוי אומר זה עובר שבמעי אמו

the term "I will require," which is stated in the singular, that a descendant of Noah is executed on the basis of the verdict of even one judge.

(בראשית ט, ה) מיד כל חיה אפילו שלא בהתראה (בראשית ט, ה) אדרשנו ומיד האדם אפילו בעד אחד (בראשית ט, ה) מיד איש ולא מיד אשה אחיו אפילו קרוב

It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every animal" that one is executed even without forewarning, as an animal certainly cannot forewarn someone. It is derived from the phrase "I will require it; and at the hand of man," with "I" stated in the singular, that the sentence is issued on the basis of the testimony of even one witness. It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every man," that the judgment and testimony must be at the hand of a man, but not at the hand of a woman. It is derived from the term "his brother" that the testimony of the witness is accepted even if he is a relative of the defendant.

משום רבי ישמעאל אמרו אף על העוברין מאי טעמיה דרבי ישמעאל דכתיב (בראשית ט, ו) שופך דם האדם באדם דמו ישפך איזהו אדם שהוא באדם הוי אומר זה עובר שבמעי אמו

It is stated in that book of Aggadot that the Sages said in the name of Rabbi Yishmael: A descendant of Noah is executed even for killing fetuses. The Gemara asks: What is the reason for the opinion of Rabbi Yishmael? The Gemara answers: It is derived from that which is written: "One who sheds the blood of a person, by a person [ba'adam] his blood shall be shed" (Genesis 9:6). The word ba'adam

the term "I will require," which is stated in the singular, that a descendant of Noah is executed on the basis of the verdict of even one judge.

(בראשית ט, ה) מיד כל חיה אפילו שלא בהתראה (בראשית ט, ה) אדרשנו ומיד האדם אפילו בעד אחד (בראשית ט, ה) מיד איש ולא מיד אשה אחיו אפילו קרוב

It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every animal" that one is executed even without forewarning, as an animal certainly cannot forewarn someone. It is derived from the phrase "I will require it; and at the hand of man," with "I" stated in the singular, that the sentence is issued on the basis of the testimony of even one witness. It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every man," that the judgment and testimony must be at the hand of a man, but not at the hand of a woman. It is derived from the term "his brother" that the testimony of the witness is accepted even if he is a relative of the defendant.

משום רבי ישמעאל אמרו אף על העוברין מאי טעמיה דרבי ישמעאל דכתיב (בראשית ט, ו) שופך דם האדם באדם דמו ישפך איזהו אדם שהוא באדם הוי אומר זה עובר שבמעי אמו

It is stated in that book of Aggadot that the Sages said in the name of Rabbi Yishmael: A descendant of Noah is executed even for killing fetuses. The Gemara asks: What is the reason for the opinion of Rabbi Yishmael? The Gemara answers: It is derived from that which is written: "One who sheds the blood of a person, by a person [ba'adam] his blood shall be shed" (Genesis 9:6). The word ba'adam

the term "I will require," which is stated in the singular, that a descendant of Noah is executed on the basis of the verdict of even one judge.

(בראשית ט, ה) מיד כל חיה אפילו שלא בהתראה (בראשית ט, ה) אדרשנו ומיד האדם אפילו בעד אחד (בראשית ט, ה) מיד איש ולא מיד אשה אחיו אפילו קרוב

It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every animal" that one is executed even without forewarning, as an animal certainly cannot forewarn someone. It is derived from the phrase "I will require it; and at the hand of man," with "I" stated in the singular, that the sentence is issued on the basis of the testimony of even one witness. It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every man," that the judgment and testimony must be at the hand of a man, but not at the hand of a woman. It is derived from the term "his brother" that the testimony of the witness is accepted even if he is a relative of the defendant.

משום רבי ישמעאל אמרו אף על העוברין מאי טעמיה דרבי ישמעאל דכתיב (בראשית ט, ו) שופך דם האדם באדם דמו ישפך איזהו אדם שהוא באדם הוי אומר זה עובר שבמעי אמו

It is stated in that book of Aggadot that the Sages said in the name of Rabbi Yishmael: A descendant of Noah is executed even for killing fetuses. The Gemara asks: What is the reason for the opinion of Rabbi Yishmael? The Gemara answers: It is derived from that which is written: "One who sheds the blood of a person, by a person [ba'adam] his blood shall be shed" (Genesis 9:6). The word ba'adam

the term "I will require," which is stated in the singular, that a descendant of Noah is executed on the basis of the verdict of even one judge.

(בראשית ט, ה) מיד כל חיה אפילו שלא בהתראה (בראשית ט, ה) אדרשנו ומיד האדם אפילו בנו אחר (בראשית ט, ה) מיד איש ולא מיד אשה אחר אפילו קרוב

It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every animal" that one is executed even without forewarning, as an animal certainly cannot forewarn someone. It is derived from the phrase "I will require its and at the hand of man," with "I" stated in the singular, that the sentence is issued on the basis of the testimony of even one witness. It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every man," that the judgment and testimony must be at the hand of a man, but not at the hand of a woman. It is derived from the term "his brother" that the testimony of the witness is accepted even if he is a relative of the defendant.

משום רבי ישמעאל אומר אף על הנגרין בא מבעוד דרבי ישמעאל הכתיב (בראשית ט, ו) שופך דם האדם באדם דמי יישפך מיתתו אדם שהרג באדם הוי אומר זה שהרג שבבית אבי

It is stated in that book of Aggada that the Sages said in the name of Rabbi Yishmael: A descendant of Noah is executed even for killing fetuses. The Gemara asks: What is the reason for the opinion of Rabbi Yishmael? The Gemara answers: It is derived from that which is written: "One who sheds the blood of a person, by a person [ba'adam] his blood shall be shed" (Genesis 9:6). The word ba'adam

the term "I will require," which is stated in the singular, that a descendant of Noah is executed on the basis of the verdict of even one judge.

(בראשית ט, ה) מיד כל חיה אפילו שלא בהתראה (בראשית ט, ה) אדרשנו ומיד האדם אפילו בעד אחד (בראשית ט, ה) מיד איש ולא מיד אשה אחיו אפילו קרוב

It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every animal" that one is executed even without forewarning, as an animal certainly cannot forewarn someone. It is derived from the phrase "I will require it; and at the hand of man," with "I" stated in the singular, that the sentence is issued on the basis of the testimony of even one witness. It is derived from the phrase "at the hand of every man," that the judgment and testimony must be at the hand of a man, but not at the hand of a woman. It is derived from the term "his brother" that the testimony of the witness is accepted even if he is a relative of the defendant.

משום רבי ישמעאל אמרו אף על העוברין מאי טעמיה דרבי ישמעאל דכתיב (בראשית ט, ו) שופך דם האדם באדם דמו ישפך איזהו אדם שהוא באדם הוי אומר זה עובר שבמעי אמו

It is stated in that book of Aggadot that the Sages said in the name of Rabbi Yishmael: A descendant of Noah is executed even for killing fetuses. The Gemara asks: What is the reason for the opinion of Rabbi Yishmael? The Gemara answers: It is derived from that which is written: "One who sheds the blood of a person, by a person [ba'adam] his blood shall be shed" (Genesis 9:6). The word ba'adam

ed" (Genesis 38:24). This proves that the prohibition again
s intercourse with a gentile was in force long before the tir ents of Shammai and Hillel.

דאורייתא עובד כוכבים הבא על בת ישראל דמשכה ב
ישראל הבא על העובדת כוכבים לא ואתו אינהו גזור א ל הבא על העובדת כוכבים

nara explains: Rather, the prohibition prescribed by Torah
o the case of a gentile who engaged in intercourse with a woman, as she is drawn after him toward idolatry, but the who engaged in intercourse with a gentile woman is no
in the prohibition by Torah law. And the students of Shai

[illegible]

nל" (Genesis 16:14). This proves that the prohibition agai a intercourse with a gentile was in force long before the tie ves of Shammai and Hillel.

ואוריתא עבד כוכבים הבא על בת ישראל דמשמה ב
ישראל הבא על השבויה כוכבים לא ואתי איהדר גויר ע ל הבא על השבויה כוכבים

ara explains: Rather, the prohibition prescribed by Torah
n the case of a gentile who engaged in intercourse with a woman, as she is drawn after him toward idolatry, but the who engaged in intercourse with a gentile woman is not in the prohibition by Torah law. And the students of Shai

transgression and is liable to be punished for it.

21 כותי בכותי כיוצא בהן כיון דלאו בני מחילה נינהו גזל מעליא הוא

The Gemara challenges: If the mention of actions similar to robbery is referring to the robbery of less than the value of one perutta, what is the novel element in the case of a gentile who robs a gentile? Since they are not apt to grant forgiveness, robbing a gentile of even a minuscule amount is considered full-fledged robbery, and not merely similar to robbery.

22 אלא אמר רב אחא בריה דרב איקא לא נצרכה אלא לכובש שכר שכיר כותי בכותי וכותי בישראל אסור ישראל בכותי מותר

Rather, Rav Aḥa, son of Rav Ika, says that there is a different explanation: It is necessary only to teach the halakha of one who withholds the wages of a hired laborer; for a gentile to do so to another gentile and for a gentile to do so to a Jew is prohibited, but for a Jew to do so to a gentile is permitted. This case is less obvious than other types of robbery, as instead of taking an item from the victim, the robber withholds money that is due to the victim.

transgression and is liable to be punished for it.

21 כותי בכותי כיוצא בהן כיון דלאו בני מחילה נינהו גזל מעליא הוא

The Gemara challenges: If the mention of actions similar to robbery is referring to the robbery of less than the value of one peruta, what is the novel element in the case of a gentile who robs a gentile? Since they are not apt to grant forgiveness, robbing a gentile of even a minuscule amount is considered full-fledged robbery, and not merely similar to robbery.

22 אלא אמר רב אחא בריה דרב איקא לא נצרכה אלא לכובש שכר שכיר כותי בכותי וכותי בישראל אסור ישראל בכותי מותר

Rather, Rav Aḥa, son of Rav Ika, says that there is a different explanation: It is necessary only to teach the halakha of one who withholds the wages of a hired laborer; for a gentile to do so to another gentile and for a gentile to do so to a Jew is prohibited, but for a Jew to do so to a gentile is permitted. This case is less obvious than other types of robbery, as instead of taking an item from the victim, the robber withholds money that is due to the victim.

transgression and is liable to be punished for it.

21 כותי בכותי כיוצא בהן כיון דלאו בני מחילה נינהו גזל מעליא הוא

The Gemara challenges: If the mention of actions similar to robbery is referring to the robbery of less than the value of one perutta, what is the novel element in the case of a gentile who robs a gentile? Since they are not apt to grant forgiveness, robbing a gentile of even a minuscule amount is considered full-fledged robbery, and not merely similar to robbery.

22 אלא אמר רב אחא בריה דרב איקא לא נצרכה אלא לכובש שכר שכיר כותי בכותי וכותי בישראל אסור ישראל בכותי מותר

Rather, Rav Aḥa, son of Rav Ika, says that there is a different explanation: It is necessary only to teach the halakha of one who withholds the wages of a hired laborer; for a gentile to do so to another gentile and for a gentile to do so to a Jew is prohibited, but for a Jew to do so to a gentile is permitted. This case is less obvious than other types of robbery, as instead of taking an item from the victim, the robber withholds money that is due to the victim.

transgression and is liable to be punished for it.

כותי בכותי כיצא בהן כיון דלאו בני מחילה ניתהו גזל מעליא הוא

The Gemara challenges: If the mention of actions similar to robbery is referring to the robbery of less than the value of one perutah, what is the novel element in the case of a gentile who robs a gentile? Since they are not apt to grant forgiveness, robbing a gentile of even a minuscule amount is considered full-fledged robbery, and not merely similar to robbery.

אלא אמר רב אחא בריה דרב איקא לא נצרכה אלא לכובש שכר שכיר כותי בכותי וכותי בישראל אסור ישראל בכותי מותר

Rather, Rav Aḥa, son of Rav Ika, says that there is a different explanation: It is necessary only to teach the halakha of one who withholds the wages of a hired laborer; for a gentile to do so to another gentile and for a gentile to do so to a Jew is prohibited, but for a Jew to do so to a gentile is permitted. This case is less obvious than other types of robbery, as instead of taking an item from the victim, the robber withholds money that is due to the victim.

transgression and is liable to be punished for it.

21 כותי בכותי כיוצא בהן כיון דלאו בני מחילה נינהו גזל מעליא הוא

The Gemara challenges: If the mention of actions similar to robbery is referring to the robbery of less than the value of one peruta, what is the novel element in the case of a gentile who robs a gentile? Since they are not apt to grant forgiveness, robbing a gentile of even a minuscule amount is considered full-fledged robbery, and not merely similar to robbery.

22 אלא אמר רב אחא בריה דרב איקא לא נצרכה אלא לכובש שכר שכיר כותי בכותי וכותי בישראל אסור ישראל בכותי מותר

Rather, Rav Aḥa, son of Rav Ika, says that there is a different explanation: It is necessary only to teach the halakha of one who withholds the wages of a hired laborer; for a gentile to do so to another gentile and for a gentile to do so to a Jew is prohibited, but for a Jew to do so to a gentile is permitted. This case is less obvious than other types of robbery, as instead of taking an item from the victim, the robber withholds money that is due to the victim.

- "A Jew who rapes a gentile 3-year-old girl, because he raped her voluntarily, this girl is just to death, because she 'brought' shame on the Jewish people, like a case a Jew coupling with an animal, the animal is to be executed as mentioned elsewhere. (Mamonides, chapter 12 of The Laws of Forbidden Relationships, halacha 8-10) [1] [2]
- "Ones' ox that injured a pregnant maidservant and she miscarried, the owner of the ox is exempt from payment for her offspring, for this is similar to injuring a pregnant she-ass" (Mamonides in chapter 11 of The Laws of Monetary Damage, halacha 4) [3] [4]

  (This reviewed scholar even explains himself very well, here is an exact quotation:

  > "This is our law! And do not find it difficult, and don't be surprised by it, just as one is not surprised about the slaughter of animals even though they have done no harm, for, one in whom human characteristics are not complete is not truly a man, and his end purpose is only for 'man' (i.e. the Jew)". (Mamonides commentary on the Mishnah in Tractate Baba Kama, chapter 4, mishnah 3).
- A Jew who killed a Gentile with intent is not just to death by the Red Din, as he would be 'not' he killed a Jew. (Mamonides in The Laws of a Murderer and Saving Life, chapter 2, halacha 11-11) [5] [6]
- A gentile who killed a Jew without intent, even though he did it unintentionally, he is just to death (Mamonides in chapter 5 of The Laws of a Murderer and Protecting Life, halacha 4) [7] [8]

- When a gentile engages in relations with a Jewish woman, if she is married, he should be crucified. [1] If she is single, he is not crucified.
- אבל יקותיאל הקשה על הגמרא בי יוסף בית קדים יום אחד בין איזה בין אמרה בין אמה אינה ואמאי הרי אם בן אינה שיבא דיש אמר בין אמה בין אמה על הגמרא בפרק אחד בי בכרים בשם אמה דיקותיאל הקשה על זה מפנינה, יפה יש נאמרים בתורה בפנינה שאינו יש בו אל הקה בין לגוי יקותיאל בגוי אלקאי שאינו יש בו יפה אמה דיקה אינו לגיעה נפי פרוחין

  A Jew commits adultery with a gentile woman, whether she is married or not, he should be crucified. [2] He is executed because she caused a Jew to be prostituted or commit transgressions, as "Is she not with regard to an animal." [3] This applies regardless of whether the gentile woman was a minor or little years of age, [4] or an adult, whether she was single or married, but it applies even if she had not yet a minor of nine years old. She is crucified. [5] This jurisprudence is explicitly mentioned in the Tosfot on Masekes Avoda Zara 37 where "Rebbe Ami was identified with the children of Israel consulting in the affair of Shechem." [6] Rashi says another Jew knew a man through living with a woman.
- הקונים ערכאות אינם דינם אמרה דינה עליהם אמה ערכאות

- "A Jew who rapes a gentile 3-year-old girl, because he raped her viciously, this girl is put to death, because she "brought" shame on the Jewish people, like a case a Jew coupling with an animal, the animal is to be executed as mentioned elsewhere. (Maimonides, chapter 12 of The Laws of Forbidden Relationships, halacha 8-9).[1]
- "Ones' ox that injured a pregnant maidservant and she miscarried, the owner of the ox is exempt from payment for her offspring, for this is similar to injuring a pregnant she-ass".(Maimonides in chapter 11 of The Laws of Monetary Damage, halacha 4).[2]

  (This revered scholar even explains himself very well, here is an exact quotation:

  > "This is our law! And do not find it difficult, and don't be surprised by it, just as one is not surprised about the slaughter of animals even though they have done no harm, for, one in whom human characteristics are not complete is not truly a man, and his end purpose is only for 'man' (i.e. the Jew)". (Maimonides commentary on the Mishnah in Tractate Baba Kama, chapter 4, mishnah 3).

- A Jew who killed a Gentile with intent is not put to death by the Beit Din, as he would be had he killed a Jew. (Maimonides in The Laws of a Murderer and Saving Life, chapter 2, halacha 10-11).[3]
- A gentile who killed a Jew without intent, even though he did it unintentionally, he is put to death.(Maimonidesin chapter 5 of The Laws of a Murderer and Protecting Life, halacha 4)[4]

Mishneh Torah, Forbidden Intercourse 12
Trans. by Eliyahu Touger, Moznaim Publishing

9 עכו"ם הבא על בת ישראל אם אשת איש היא נהרג עליה ואם פנויה היא אינו נהרג:

When a gentile engages in relations with a Jewish woman, if she is married, he should be executed.[22] If she is single, he is not executed.

10 אבל ישראל הבא על הכותית בין קטנה בת שלש שנים ויום אחד בין גדולה בין פנויה בין אשת איש ואפלו היה קטן בן תשע שנים ויום אחד כיון שבא על הכותית בזדון הרי זו נהרגת מפני שבא לישראל תקלה על ידיה כבהמה. וזכר זה מפרש בתורה שנאמר (במדבר לא טז) "הן הנה היו לבני ישראל בדבר בלעם" (במדבר לא יז) "וכל אשה ידעת איש למשכב זכר הרגו":

If, by contrast, a Jewish male enters into relations with a gentile woman, when he does so intentionally, she should be executed.[23] She is executed because she caused a Jew to be involved in an unseemly transgression, as [is the law with regard to] an animal.[24] [This applies regardless of] whether the gentile women was a minor of three years of age,[25] or an adult, whether she was single or married. And it applies even if [the Jew] was a minor of nine years old, [she is executed].[26] This [punishment] is explicitly mentioned in the Torah, as [Numbers 31:16-17] states: "Behold they were [involved] with the children of Israel according to the advice of Balaam[27].† Execute any woman fit to know a man through lying with a male."

11 העבדים שהטבילו אותם לשם עבדות וקבלו עליהם מצות שהעבדים

ed girl, because he raped her violently. Was brought" shame on the Jewish people, like a
; the animal is to be executed as mentioned
[] of The Laws of Forbidden Relationships.

adversary and one innocent, the owner of ne obligating, for this is similar to injuring a chapter 10 of The Laws of Monetary Damage,

and himself very well, here is an exact

first is difficult, and isn't to surprise to it, about this slaughter of animals even one, for, one to whom human rabbi is not truly a man, and his end purpose
[7]. [redacted] commentary on the Mishnah ter 4, mishnah 2.

It is not put to death by the Bet Din, as he includes in The Laws of a Murderer and Saving intent, even though he did it unintentionally, chapter 5 of The Laws of a Murderer and [redacted]

old girl, because he raped her viciously, this brought" shame on the Jewish people, like a
, the animal is to be executed as mentioned
2 of The Laws of Forbidden Relationships,

aidservant and she miscarried, the owner of
ner offspring, for this is similar to injuring a
chapter 11 of The Laws of Monetary Damage,

ains himself very well, here is an exact

find it difficult, and don't be surprised by it,
d about the slaughter of animals even arm, for, one in whom human
nplete is not truly a man, and his end purpose
)". (Maimonides commentary on the Mishnah
pter 4, mishnah 3).

nt is not put to death by the Beit Din, as he monides in The Laws of a Murderer and Saving

ntent, even though he did it unintentionally,
hapter 5 of The Laws of a Murderer and

Mishnah
Trans. by

יא נָהֲרַג עָלֶיהָ וְאִם

When a gentile engages i
married, he should be ex

שָׁלֹשׁ שָׁנִים וְיוֹם אֶחָד
ד קָטָן בֶּן תֵּשַׁע שָׁנִים
נָהֲרַגַת מִפְּנֵי שֶׁבָּא
מֵישׂ בְּתוֹרָה שֶׁנֶּאֱמַר
ד בְּלִקְטָם" (במדבר לא יז)

If, by contrast, a Jewish n
when he does so intentio
executed because she cau
transgression, as [is the la
regardless of] whether th
age,[13] or an adult, wheth
even if [the Jew] was a m
This [punishment] is exp
31:16-17] states: "Behold
Israel according to the ad
know a man through lyi

עֲלֵיהֶם מִצְוֹת שֶׁנִּצְטַוּוּם

רב הונא ורב יהודה וכולהו תלמידי דרב אמרי על שבע מצות בן נח נהרג אלא דלא הזהירום בהדיא הכא הכי נמי לגמרי

Rav Huna, Rav Yehuda, and all of the other students of Rav says: A descendant of Noah is executed for transgressing any of the seven Noahide mitzvoth, the Merciful One revealed this prohibition with regard to some mitzvot, the prohibition of bloodshed, and the same is true with regard to all of them.

וקל הגזל בן נח נהרג והתנן על הגזל שגם זגל הכל יכן שאר מצות יכן מיבעי ליה דאמר רב אחא בר יעקב אמר ר' אבהו אמר ר' אלעזר בשלמא מיתה דאיכא נמי דינא

The Gemara asks: But is a descendant of Noah executed for robbery? But isn't it taught in a baraita: With regard to the following types of robbery: One who steals or robs, and likewise one who engages in intercourse with a married beautiful woman who was taken as a prisoner of war, and likewise all actions similar to these, if they are done by a gentile to another gentile, or by a gentile to a Jew, the action is prohibited; but if a Jew does so to a gentile, it is permitted? The Gemara explains the question: And if it is so that a gentile is liable to be executed for robbery, and it is not merely prohibited to him, but the Torah teaches that he is liable to be executed,

משום דבעי למיתב טעמא דישראל בבתר נמי הכא דיקא אמר

The Gemara answers: Because the verse wanted to teach in the latter clause that if a Jew does so to a gentile, it is permitted, he taught in the former clause that if a gentile does one of these, it is prohibited. If the Torah were to state that if a gentile does so, he is liable, it would have to state that if a Jew does so to a gentile, he is exempt, because this is the opposite of liable. That would indicate that it is actually prohibited for a Jew to do so to a gentile, and that he is merely exempt from liability, which is not the case. Therefore, the word prohibited is used with regard to a gentile. Therefore, this does not prove that a gentile is exempt from capital punishment.

13 רב הונא ורב יהודה וכולהו תלמידי דרב אמרי על שבע מצות בן נח נהרג גלי רחמנא בחדא והוא הדין לכולהו

Rav Huna, Rav Yehuda, and all of the other students of Rav say: A descendant of Noah is executed for transgressing any of the seven Noahide mitzvot; the Merciful One revealed this punishment with regard to one mitzva, the prohibition of bloodshed, and the same is true with regard to all of them.

14 ועל הגזל בן נח נהרג והתניא על הגזל גנב וגזל וכן יפת תואר וכן כיוצא בהן כותי בכותי וכותי בישראל אסור וישראל בכותי מותר ואם איתא ניתני חייב

The Gemara asks: But is a descendant of Noah executed for robbery? But isn't it taught in a baraita: With regard to the following types of robbery: One who steals or robs, and likewise one who engages in intercourse with a married beautiful woman who was taken as a prisoner of war, and likewise all actions similar to these, if they are done by a gentile to another gentile, or by a gentile to a Jew, the action is prohibited; but if a Jew does so to a gentile, it is permitted? The Gemara explains the question: And if it is so that a gentile is liable to be executed for robbery, and it is not merely prohibited to him, let the baraita teach that he is liable to be executed.

15 משום דקבעי למיתני סיפא ישראל בכותי מותר תנא רישא אסור

The Gemara answers: Because the tanna wanted to teach in the latter clause that if a Jew does so to a gentile, it is permitted, he taught in the former clause that if a gentile does one of these, it is prohibited. If the baraita were to state that if a gentile does so, he is liable, it would have to state that if a Jew does so to a gentile, he is exempt, because this is the opposite of liable. That would indicate that it is actually prohibited for a Jew to do so to a gentile, and that he is merely exempt from liability, which is not the case. Therefore, the word prohibited is used with regard to a gentile. Therefore, this does not prove that a gentile is exempt from capital punishment.

13 רב הונא ורב יהודה וכולהו תלמידי דרב אמרי על שבע מצות בן נח נהרג גלי רחמנא בחדא והוא הדין לכולהו

Rav Huna, Rav Yehuda, and all of the other students of Rav say: A descendant of Noah is executed for transgressing any of the seven Noahide mitzvot; the Merciful One revealed this punishment with regard to one mitzva, the prohibition of bloodshed, and the same is true with regard to all of them.

14 ועל הגזל בן נח נהרג והתניא על הגזל גנב וגזל וכן יפת תואר וכן כיוצא בהן כותי בכותי וכותי בישראל אסור וישראל בכותי מותר ואם איתא ניתני חייב

The Gemara asks: But is a descendant of Noah executed for robbery? But isn't it taught in a baraita: With regard to the following types of robbery: One who steals or robs, and likewise one who engages in intercourse with a married beautiful woman who was taken as a prisoner of war, and likewise all actions similar to these, if they are done by a gentile to another gentile, or by a gentile to a Jew, the action is prohibited; but if a Jew does so to a gentile, it is permitted? The Gemara explains the question: And if it is so that a gentile is liable to be executed for robbery, and it is not merely prohibited to him, let the baraita teach that he is liable to be executed.

15 משום דקבעי למיתני סיפא ישראל בכותי מותר תנא רישא אסור

The Gemara answers: Because the tanna wanted to teach in the latter clause that if a Jew does so to a gentile, it is permitted, he taught in the former clause that if a gentile does one of these, it is prohibited. If the baraita were to state that if a gentile does so, he is liable, it would have to state that if a Jew does so to a gentile, he is exempt, because this is the opposite of liable. That would indicate that it is actually prohibited for a Jew to do so to a gentile, and that he is merely exempt from liability, which is not the case. Therefore, the word prohibited is used with regard to a gentile. Therefore, this does not prove that a gentile is exempt from capital punishment.

CUMLOUSER
David Galant
Marco Galant - Model page
David Galant
lohud.
MORE ROCKLAND NEWS: Wake, funeral set for Tiki Bar co-owner John Ambrose
"Though we could not know their names, they have gained a sense of identity as we take responsibility for their burial," said Paul Galan, the president of the Holocaust Museum and Center for Tolerance and Education in Suffern. "Today we restore these dignities which were so lacking in the place and time where they lost their lives. Do not forget these people. Do not forget the Holocaust. And remember one thing. Never, never again."
Yoav Gallant
Biography

David galant - HD Porn

Miyuki y David Santos Post

p2.hosteagle.club/girl/david-galant/?_...

Tor 4

CUMLOUDER

INTERNET IS FOR PORN

HOME | PORN VIDEOS | CATEGORIES | LIVE CAMS | GIRLS | CHANNELS | REWARDS

David Galant

David Galant

- Videos: 75
- Rating: 7.61
- Eye color: brown
- Hair color: chestnut
- Height: 1.84
- Weight: 82 Kg
- Date of Birth: 02-08-1978
- Nationality: Spanish

About David Galant:

Born and raise in A Coruña, addicted to women, arrived 3 years ago to the porn world, he is proving with firm steps to where he is willing to go. If you want to know more about him, visit their website: www.davidgalant.com

David Galant Porn Videos

No more words | Snake tamer | Adventures in the big city | Not really a vegetarian | She Fucks VIPs

Raising the spirits | Bootylicious Brazilian Dunia Mo... | Busty blonde spanish milf fuckin... | Dirty blonde opens her legs for ... | Busty brunette riding hard cock

Leyla Black likes hard sex | Squeezing a cock to completion | Vicious party girl | She's as generous as her cleavage | Sofia Arenas sucking a fat Spani...

ADVERTISEMENT

Marco Galam - Model page

p2.hosteagl...

Tor 4

Marco Galam AKA Davit Galan, Marco Gagnon

Man, Porn actor, 29y

Subscribe 555

Add to friends

Videos 292 | RED 298 | Fans

Marco Galam 282 free videos

(Watched recently / New / Most viewed / Most commented)

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 Next

Sharing bed with my boyfriend's best friend - I'm such a slut that I ... | Threesome with recently turned 18yearold girls Stepsister addicte... | 18-year-old girl can't stand how hot her pussy is being fucked in publi... | Cheating wife stepsister fucks her husband's friend with a big cock -

Latina Hot5 - Hot milf masturbates in the bathroom and puts down h... | I am a very slutty stepsister, I wanted so much to fuck with the ... | Latina Hot5 - Perverted stepmom fucks stepson in public and ends ... | My very slutty shobrina leaves her dildo in the bathroom so they can...

David Galant #5,395

2.4M video views | Subscribe 328

Videos 38 | RED 29 | Fans

Watched recently

1 2

My stepbrother wants to put his sperm in my vagina and leav... Patty Up Fucked - 254.3... 11 min

my 18 sister enjoys tremendous fucked that i give... Patty Up Fucked - 41.1k ... 10 min

She is Horny sexy 18 year old babe With Big Ass Wants me... Patty Up Fucked - 64.3k ... 11 min

Already daddy! I come in his tight pussy! While everyone...

Tayler learns to fuck when her stepbrother catches her...

Infaiel stepsister expec... husband to leave home to ta...

Holocaust Museum: Human r

p1.hosteagl...

Tor

lohud.

MORE ROCKLAND NEWS: Wake, funeral set for Tiki Bar co-owner John Ambrose

"Though we could not know their names, they have gained a sense of identity as we take responsibility for their burial," said Paul Galan, the president of the Holocaust Museum and Center for Tolerance and Education in Suffern. "Today we restore these dignities which were so lacking in the place and time where they lost their lives. Do not forget these people. Do not forget the Holocaust. And remember one thing. Never, never again."

Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Yoav Gallant (Hebrew: יואב גלנט; born 8 November 1958) is an Israeli politician and retired military general. A member of the Knesset for Likud, he has served as Minister of Defense since 2022. He is a former commander of the Southern Command in the Israel Defense Forces. In January 2015, he entered politics, joining the new Kulanu party. After being elected to the Knesset, he was appointed Minister of Construction. At the end of 2018, he joined Likud. Gallant also previously held the posts of Minister of Aliyah and Integration and Minister of Education.

Yoav Gallant

Official portrait, 2023

Ministerial roles
2015–2019	Minister of Construction
2019–2020	Minister of Aliyah & Integration
2020–2021	Minister of Education

Biography

Yoav Gallant was born on 8 November 1958[1] in Jaffa to Polish Jewish immigrants. His mother,

David galant - HD Porn | Miyuki y David Santos Post

p2.hosteagle.club/girl/david-galant/?_...

CUMLOUDER — INTERNET IS FOR PORN

HOME | PORN VIDEOS | CATEGORIES | LIVE CAMS | GIRLS | CHANNELS | REWARDS

David Galant — 75 Videos — 7.61

David Galant

- Videos: 75
- Rating: 7.61
- Eye color: brown
- Hair color: chestnut
- Height: 1.84
- Weight: 82 Kg
- Date of Birth: 02-08-1978
- Nationality: Spanish

About David Galant:

Born and raise in A Coruña, addicted to women, arrived 3 years ago to the porn world, he is proving with firm steps to where he is willing to go. If you want to know more about him, visit their website: www.davidgalant.com

Follow me — Tweets @David Galant

David Galant Porn Videos

No more words | Snake tamer | Adventures in the big city | Not really a vegetarian | She Fucks VIPs

Raising the spirits | Bootylicious Brazilian Dunia Mo... | Busty blonde spanish milf fuckin... | Dirty blonde opens her legs for ... | Busty brunette riding hard cock

Leyla Black likes hard sex | Squeezing a cock to completion | Vicious party girl | She's as generous as her cleavage | Sofia Arenas sucking a fat Spani...

ADVERTISEMENT

Marco Galam - Model page

p2.hosteagl...

Marco Galam AKA Davit Galan, Marco Gagnon

Man, Porn actor, 29y

Subscribe 555 — Add to friends

Videos 282 | RED 296 | Fans

Marco Galam 282 free videos (Watched recently / New / Most viewed / Most commented)

Sharing bed with my boyfriend's best friend - I'm such a slut that I... | Threesome with recently turned 18yearold girls Stepsister addicte... | 18-year-old girl can't stand how hot her pussy is being fucked in publi... | Cheating wife stepsister fucks her husband's friend with a big cock -...

Latina Hot5 - Hot milf masturbates in the bathroom and puts down h... | I am a very slutty stepsister, I wanted so much to fuck with the... | Latina Hot5 - Perverted stepmom fucks stepson in public and ends ... | My very slutty shobrina leaves her dildo in the bathroom so they can...

David Galant #5,395

2.4M video views — Subscribe 328

Videos 38 | RED 29 | Fans

Watched recently

My stepbrother wants to put his sperm in my vagina and leav... — Patty Up Fucked - 254.3... — 11 min

my 18 sister enjoys tremendous fucked that i give... — Patty Up Fucked - 41.1k ... — 10 min

She is Horny sexy 18 year old babe With Big Ass Wants me... — Patty Up Fucked - 64.3k ... — 11 min

Already daddy! I come in his tight pussy! While everyone...

Tayler learns to fuck when her stepbrother catches her...

Infaiel stepsister expect... husband to leave home to ta...

Holocaust Museum: Human r...

p1.hosteagl...

lohud.

MORE ROCKLAND NEWS: Wake, funeral set for Tiki Bar co-owner John Ambrose

"Though we could not know their names, they have gained a sense of identity as we take responsibility for their burial," said Paul Galan, the president of the Holocaust Museum and Center for Tolerance and Education in Suffern. "Today we restore these dignities which were so lacking in the place and time where they lost their lives. Do not forget these people. Do not forget the Holocaust. And remember one thing. Never, never again."

Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Yoav Gallant (Hebrew: יואב גַּלַנְט; born 8 November 1958) is an Israeli politician and retired military general. A member of the Knesset for Likud, he has served as Minister of Defense since 2022. He is a former commander of the Southern Command in the Israel Defense Forces. In January 2015, he entered politics, joining the new Kulanu party. After being elected to the Knesset, he was appointed Minister of Construction. At the end of 2018, he joined Likud. Gallant also previously held the posts of Minister of Aliyah and Integration and Minister of Education.

Yoav Gallant

Official portrait, 2023

Ministerial roles
2015–2019	Minister of Construction
2019–2020	Minister of Aliyah & Integration
2020–2021	Minister of Education

Biography

Yoav Gallant was born on 8 November 1958[1] in Jaffa to Polish Jewish immigrants. His mother,

New edition of the Babylonian Talmud

4 ומותר באשת אחיו ובאשת אחי אביו ושאר כל עריות מותרות לו לאתויי אשת אביו

And according to all opinions, he is permitted to marry his brother's wife and his father's brother's wife, and all other relatives with whom relations are forbidden in the case of born Jew are also permitted to him. The expression: And all other relatives with whom relations are forbidden, is added to include his father's wife, who is permitted to him if she was widowed or divorced from his father.

5 נשא אשה ובתה כונס אחת ומוציא אחת ולכתחילה לא יכנוס מתה אשתו מותר בחמותו ואיכא דאמרי אסור בחמותו

With regard to a gentile who married a woman and her daughter and they all converted, he may marry one but must divorce the other one; and he should not marry the second of them ab initio. If his wife, the daughter, died, he is permitted to maintain his mother-in-law as his wife. And some say that he is prohibited from maintaining his mother-in-law. In any event, Rabbi Meir clearly holds that several forbidden relationships for which a Jew is not liable to receive capital punishment, but only karet, are forbidden to descendants of Noah as

XVIDEOS

Straight · RED · Games · History

Miyuki y David Santos Post it Kiss 9 min 720p

Gsgtegeg 7k · Miyuki Son 68k · teen · latina · ass

303k 99% 1% · Comments · Download · Save · Share

Related videos · Related playlists 100

Marco Galam AKA Davit Galan, Marco Gagnon

Man, Porn actor, 29y

David Galant #5,395

2.4M video views · Subscribe 328

Videos · RED · Fans

Watched recently

My stepbrother wants to put his sperm in my vagina and leav...

my 18 sister enjoys tremendous fucked that i give...

She is Horny sexy 18 year old babe With Big Ass Wants me...

Already daddy! I come in his tight pussy! While everyone...

Tayler learns to fuck when her stepbrother catches her...

Infaiel stepsister exped husband to leave home

lohud.

MORE ROCKLAND NEWS: Wake, funeral set for Tiki Bar co-owner John Ambrose

"Though we could not know their names, they have gained a sense of identity as we take responsibility for their burial," said Paul Galan, the president of the Holocaust Museum and Center for Tolerance and Education in Suffern. "'Today we restore these dignities which were so lacking in the place and time where they lost their lives. Do not forget these people. Do not forget the Holocaust. And remember one thing. Never, never again."

Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Yoav Gallant (Hebrew: יואב גלנט; born 8 November 1958) is an Israeli politician and retired military general. A member of the Knesset for Likud, he has served as Minister of Defense since 2022. He is a former commander of the Southern Command in the Israel Defense Forces. In January 2015, he entered politics, joining the new Kulanu party. After being elected to the Knesset, he was appointed Minister of Construction. At the end of 2018, he joined Likud. Gallant also previously held the posts of Minister of Aliyah and Integration and Minister of Education.

Biography

Yoav Gallant was born on 8 November 1958[1] in Jaffa to Polish Jewish immigrants. His mother,

Yoav Gallant

Official portrait, 2023

Ministerial roles
2015–2019	Minister of Construction
2019–2020	Minister of Aliyah & Integration
2020–2021	Minister of Education

שבעה שמות, דומה לקשרים בתורה: תפילין — בגד יום, לאותות
— קרוב בגשמה, הרקיעים — שמה בגשמה, הגדולים — שמה
לגדולים יום ולמאורות — שמה לגשמי נרות ומאי דו מילגה.

Synopsis: the husband's obligation to his wife regarding marital relations, the Gemara's interpretation either aspects of this issue. Students may learn thirty lessons and travel to study in Israel. Torah scholars thirty travel permission for up to thirty days, and laborers may leave their homes without their wives' permission for up to one week. The sun interval defining the frequency of a husband's conjugal obligations to his wife travel in the Torah (see Exodus 21:10), unless the couple originated relationship, upon according to the man's occupation and proximity to his home: Men of leisure, who do not work, must engage in marital relations every day; laborers must do so twice a week, donkey drivers once a week, camel drivers once every thirty days, and sailors once every six months. This is the statement of Rabbi Eliezer.

מתני' כמה מתנה רבית שבאשה נדר ביתלה ונשבע. שבת הלילה נדרי
ביתלה נדר.

שִׁבְעָה אַחַת. הָשׁוֹנֶה הָאֲמוּרָה בַּתּוֹרָה: הַטַּיָּלִין — בְּכָל יוֹם. הַפּוֹעֲלִים — שְׁתַּיִם בְּשַׁבָּת. הַחַמָּרִים — אַחַת בְּשַׁבָּת. הַגַּמָּלִים — אַחַת לְשָׁלֹשִׁים יוֹם. הַסַּפָּנִים — אַחַת לְשִׁשָּׁה חֳדָשִׁים. דִּבְרֵי רַבִּי אֱלִיעֶזֶר.

Apropos the husband's obligation to his wife regarding marital relations, the Gemara mentions other aspects of this issue: Students may leave their homes and travel in order to learn Torah without their wives' permission for up to thirty days, and laborers may leave their homes without their wives' permission for up to one week. The set interval defining the frequency of a husband's conjugal obligation to his wife stated in the Torah (see Exodus 21:10), unless the couple stipulated otherwise, varies according to the man's occupation and proximity to his home: Men of leisure, who do not work, must engage in marital relations every day, laborers must do so twice a week, donkey drivers once a week, camel drivers once every thirty days, and sailors once every six months. This is the statement of Rabbi Eliezer.

גְּמָ׳ מַאי טַעְמָא דְּבֵית שַׁמַּאי? גְּמָרִי מִילְּדָת נְקֵבָה. וּבֵית הִלֵּל? גְּמָרִי מִילְּדָת זָכָר.

11

ears ago fferings ht either chim, rought

4) him by d for valid. The e that e.[1] If not, quired time
t in the that pter.

ah teaches ean that ting the nesochim

rior to sanctified).
after ney can be the

About This Text

Composed: Talmudic Israel, c.190 – c.230 CE

Menachot ("Meal Offerings") is the second tractate in Seder Kodashim ("Order of Holy Things"). Its thirteen chapters mainly discuss flour-based offerings brought in the Temple, as well as oil and wine libations. Among the topics addressed are intentions that nullify an offering's validity, details of the process of removing a handful of meal-offering, sanctifying it in a vessel, carrying it, and burning it on the altar, and the preparation and consumption of showbread (loaves that were always present on a dedicated table in the Temple).

Related Topics

Sefirat Ha'Omer

Mishnah Menachot 7

Notes · Translation

from each set of ten as *terumat, to be given to a priest, as it is stated: "And he shall present from it one of each offering as a terumat unto the Lord; to the priest that sprinkles the blood of the peace offerings against the altar it shall be given" (Leviticus 7:14). The verse is analyzed: "One" indicates that one should not take a sliced loaf; "of each offering" indicates that all the offerings should be equal, i.e., that one should not take a loaf from one type of offering for another type; "to the priest that sprinkles the blood of the peace offerings against the altar it shall be given," and the rest of the loaves are eaten by the owner.

הַשּׁוֹחֵט אֶת הַתּוֹדָה בְּמָקוֹם, וְלַחְמָהּ חוּץ לַחוֹמָה, לֹא קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם. שֶׁחֲטָהּ עַד שֶׁלֹּא קְרָבוּ בַּתַּנּוּר, וְאַפִּלּוּ קְרָבוּ כֻּלָּן חוּץ מֵאֶחָד מֵהֶן, לֹא קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם. שֶׁחֲטָהּ חוּץ לִזְמַנָּהּ וְחוּץ לִמְקוֹמָהּ, קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם. שֶׁחֲטָהּ הַמְּצָאת מְרֻקָּה, לֹא קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם. שֶׁחֲטָהּ וְנִמְצָאת בְּעֵלַת מוּם, רַבִּי אֱלִיעֶזֶר אוֹמֵר, קָדַשׁ. וַחֲכָמִים אוֹמְרִים, לֹא קָדַשׁ. שֶׁחֲטָהּ שֶׁלֹּא לִשְׁמָהּ, וְכֵן אֶל הַמְּלוּאִים וְכֵן שְׁנֵי כִּבְשֵׁי עֲצֶרֶת שֶׁשְּׁחָטָן שֶׁלֹּא לִשְׁמָן, לֹא קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם:

In the case of one who slaughters the thanks offering in its proper place inside the Temple courtyard, and at that

Mishnah Yomit

Kiddush Nesachim

Menachot (7:4) | Yisrael Bankier | 10 years ago

We have learnt that while many of the mincha offerings were brought independently, some were brought either alongside or secondary to other korbanot. Nesachim, consisting of wine and a mincha offering were brought with a korban oloh or shelamim. The Mishnah (7:4) discusses a case where one sanctifies the nesachim by placing them in a kli sharet * (vessel designated for service) and the korban was then found to be invalid. The Mishnah teaches that if there is another sacrifice that requires nesachim it can be brought for that one.[1] If not, then the nesachim should be left beyond the required time to offer it, thereby invalidating it (ino), and burnt in the manner of invalid korbanot.

The Gemara(79a) cites the statement of R' Zeira that nesachim are only sanctified at the time of slaughter. Consequently it concludes that when the Mishnah teaches that the korban was found to be pasul it must mean that something went wrong at the time of zeriko (casting the blood). If it happened at the time of shechita the nesachim would not be sanctified.

Rashi understands that according to R' Zeiram, prior to shechita the nesachim are considered chullin (unsanctified). Along this line the Bartenura explains that only after shechita are the nesachim sanctified such that they can be invalid due to lino or yotze (being taken outside the

Log in Sign up

Donate

About This Text

Composed: Talmudic Israel, c.190 – c.230 CE

Menachot ("Meal Offerings") is the second tractate in Seder Kodashim ("Order of Holy Things"). Its thirteen chapters mainly discuss flour-based offerings brought in the Temple, as well as oil and wine libations. Among the topics addressed are intentions that nullify an offering's validity, details of the process of removing a handful of meal-offering, sanctifying it in a vessel, carrying it, and burning it on the altar, and the preparation and consumption of showbread (loaves that were always present on a dedicated table in the Temple).

Related Topics

Sefirat Ha'Omer

Topics Community Search Log in Sign up

Mishnah Menachot 7

from each set of ten as *terumah, to be given to a priest, as it is stated: "And he shall present from it one of each offering as a terumah unto the Lord; to the priest that sprinkles the blood of the peace offerings against the altar it shall be given" (Leviticus 7:14). The verse is analyzed: "One" indicates that one should not take a sliced loaf; "of each offering" indicates that all the offerings should be equal, i.e., that one should not take a loaf from one type of offering for another type; "to the priest that sprinkles the blood of the peace offerings against the altar is shall be given," and the rest of the loaves are eaten by the owner.

הַשּׁוֹחֵט אֶת הַתּוֹדָה בַּמֶּנֶם, וְלָחְמָהּ חוּץ לַחוֹמָה. לֹא קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם. שֶׁחָטָהּ עַד שֶׁלֹּא קָרְבוּ בַּתַּנּוּר, וְאַפִּלּוּ קָרְבוּ כֻּלָּן חוּץ מֵאֶחָד מֵהֶן, לֹא קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם. שֶׁחָטָהּ חוּץ לִזְמַנָּהּ וְחוּץ לִמְקוֹמָהּ, קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם. שֶׁחָטָהּ בְּמַחֲצֵית קַרְסָהּ, לֹא קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם. שֶׁחָטָהּ וְנִמְצֵאת בְּעֵלַת מוּם. רַבִּי אֱלִיעֶזֶר אוֹמֵר, קָדַשׁ. וַחֲכָמִים אוֹמְרִים, לֹא קָדַשׁ. שֶׁחָטָהּ שֶׁלֹּא לִשְׁמָהּ, וְכֵן אֶל הַמְּלוּאִים וְכֵן שְׁנֵי כִּבְשֵׂי עֲצֶרֶת שֶׁשְּׁחָטָן שֶׁלֹּא לִשְׁמָן, לֹא קָדַשׁ הַלֶּחֶם.

In the case of one who slaughters the thanks offering in its proper place inside the Temple courtyard, and at that

Topics Community Search Log in Sign up

Menachot 14b

And Rabbi Yehuda HaNasi holds that it is specifically there, in the case of meal offerings and libations that accompany an animal offering, that the meal offering is burned on the altar before the wine libation is poured on the altar. This is because since the altar has started to eat, i.e., consume, the animal offering, one must first complete the entire matter of the altar's eating, including the meal offering. The pouring of the wine on the altar is likened more to drinking than to eating. But when the meal offering and the libations are brought by themselves, the libations are considered preferable, because the song of the Levites is recited over them. Consequently, the pouring of the libations precedes the burning of the meal offering on the altar.

הבחנות עבור מנחה התיקון אין מסכנות זו את זו:

§ The Mishna teaches: Failure to perform some of the placements of blood on the external altar does not prevent fulfillment of the mitzva with the other placements, so even if the priest performed only one placement, the offering offers atonement after the fact.

תדיר מקיים לכל הנתינה על מזבח החיצון שנתנו במתנה אחת שכיפר שמאחר דתריץ יב, פרי דם ובחיר שפר על מזבח ה' אלהיך:

Apropos this statement, the Sages taught in a Baraita: From where is it derived with regard to all offerings where blood is to be placed on the external altar that if one placed their blood with one set of placements, as opposed to the two or four that are required depending upon the offering, that the offering has nevertheless effected atonement after the fact, i.e., one has fulfilled his obligation in bring the offering? As it is stated: "And the blood of your offerings shall be poured out against the altar of the Lord your God" (Deuteronomy 12:27).

NBC NEWS WATCH LIVE

HEALTH NEWS

Rabbi probed for circumcised infants' herpes

myjewishlearning.com
1064 × 598
View File

A Brit Milah Ceremony

During a brit milah ceremony, a mohel (or circumciser) (right) performs metzitzah on an eight-day-old Jewish boy following circumcision, Jerusalem, Israel, July 23, 2012., Had Nes, Israel, June 18, 2014. The metzitzah involved sucking blood from the wound for hygienic reasons. The infant is held in the lap of his godfather. (Photo by Dan Porges/Getty Images)

etrated the 1994 Cave of the Patriarchs massacre bron in the Israeli-occupied West Bank, an incident of Jewish terrorism.[3][4][5] Goldstein was a supporter of the Kach, a religious Zionist party that the United States, the European Union and other countries designate as a terrorist organization.[6]

On February 25, 1994, Goldstein, a resident of the illegal Israeli settlement of Kiryat Arba near Hebron, entered a room in the Cave of the Patriarchs that was serving as a mosque. Dressed in Israeli military uniform, he opened fire on the 800 Palestinian Muslim worshippers praying during the month of Ramadan,

Born Benjamin Carl Goldstein
December 9, 1956
Brooklyn, New York, U.S.

Name: Stephen Aurum Bergen
(First Middle Last)
Date of Birth: 01/05/1962

Email Track

Compliant [link to definition]

Tier Level 3 [link to definition]

Most Recent Offense

Offense:	Sexual Assault/exploitation Of Child * , More Information * This link reflects the current statute and due to continuous legislative changes, may not be indicative of the statute at the time the offender was convicted.
Date:	02/01/1993
Offender Age at Time of Offense:	31 years old
Victim Gender/Age:	Female/13
Offense City/State:	Boulder City, CO

Physical Description

Height:	5 feet 08 inches
Weight:	185 lbs
Eye Color:	Blue
Hair Color:	Brown
Race:	White
Gender:	Male

Home Address

Street:	235 Old Cemetery Rd
City:	Granby
State:	MO
Zip Code:	64844
County:	Newton

Name: Alex Richard Goldstein
(First Middle Last)
Date of Birth: 06/05/1988

Email Track

Compliant [link to definition]

Tier Level 1 [link to definition]

Most Recent Offense

Offense:	Possess Child Porn-2nd Offense * , More Information * This link reflects the current statute and due to continuous legislative changes, may not be indicative of the statute at the time the offender was convicted.
Date:	02/01/2007
Offender Age at Time of Offense:	18 years old
Victim Gender/Age:	Female/1-13
Offense City/State:	Creve Couer, MO

Physical Description

Height:	6 feet 01 inches
Weight:	256 lbs
Eye Color:	Brown
Hair Color:	Black
Race:	White
Gender:	Male

Home Address

Street:	721 Bergerac Dr
City:	Saint Louis
State:	MO
Zip Code:	63141
County:	St Louis

This is called Metzitzah b'peh.
This is a man putting the freshly sliced penitals of a baby into his mouth.
This is a legal thing to do.
NBC NEWS
WATCH LIVE
HEALTH NEWS
Rabbi probed for circumcised infants' herpes

View File
A Brit Milah Ceremony
During a brit milah ceremony, a mohel (or circumciser) (right) performs metzitzah on an eight-day-old Jewish boy following circumcision, Jerusalem, Israel, July 23, 2012., Had Nes, Israel, June 18, 2014. The metzitzah involved sucking blood from the wound for hygienic reasons. The infant is held in the lap of his godfather. (Photo by Dan Porges/Getty Images)

Stephen Aurum Bergen
Most Recent Offense
Physical Description
Home Address
Compliant
Tier Level 3

Alex Richard Goldstein
Most Recent Offense
Physical Description
Home Address
Compliant
Tier Level 1

NBC NEWS WATCH LIVE

HEALTH NEWS

Rabbi probed for circumcised infants' herpes

A Brit Milah Ceremony

During a brit milah ceremony, a mohel (or circumciser) (right) performs metzitzah on an eight-day-old Jewish boy following circumcision, Jerusalem, Israel, July 23, 2012., Had Nes, Israel, June 18, 2014. The metzitzah involved sucking blood from the wound for hygienic reasons. The infant is held in the lap of his godfather. (Photo by Dan Porges/Getty Images)

etrated the 1994 Cave of the Patriarchs massacre bron in the Israeli-occupied West Bank, an incident of Jewish terrorism.[3][4][5] Goldstein was a supporter of the Kach, a religious Zionist party that the United States, the European Union and other countries designate as a terrorist organization.[6]

On February 25, 1994, Goldstein, a resident of the illegal Israeli settlement of Kiryat Arba near Hebron, entered a room in the Cave of the Patriarchs that was serving as a mosque. Dressed in Israeli military uniform, he opened fire on the 800 Palestinian Muslim worshippers praying during the month of Ramadan,

Born Benjamin Carl Goldstein
December 9, 1956
Brooklyn, New York, U.S.

Name: Stephen Aurum Bergen
(First Middle Last)
Date of Birth: 01/05/1962

Email Track

Compliant [link to definition]

Tier Level 3 [link to definition]

Most Recent Offense

Offense:	Sexual Assault/exploitation Of Child *, More Information * This link reflects the current statute and due to continuous legislative changes, may not be indicative of the statute at the time the offender was convicted.
Date:	02/01/1993
Offender Age at Time of Offense:	31 years old
Victim Gender/Age:	Female/13
Offense City/State:	Boulder City, CO

Physical Description

Height:	5 feet 08 inches
Weight:	185 lbs
Eye Color:	Blue
Hair Color:	Brown
Race:	White
Gender:	Male

Home Address

Street:	235 Old Cemetery Rd
City:	Granby
State:	MO
Zip Code:	64844
County:	Newton

Name: Alex Richard Goldstein
(First Middle Last)
Date of Birth: 06/05/1988

Email Track

Compliant [link to definition]

Tier Level 1 [link to definition]

Most Recent Offense

Offense:	Possess Child Porn-2nd Offense *, More Information * This link reflects the current statute and due to continuous legislative changes, may not be indicative of the statute at the time the offender was convicted.
Date:	02/01/2007
Offender Age at Time of Offense:	18 years old
Victim Gender/Age:	Female/1-13
Offense City/State:	Creve Couer, MO

Physical Description

Height:	6 feet 01 inches
Weight:	256 lbs
Eye Color:	Brown
Hair Color:	Black
Race:	White
Gender:	Male

Home Address

Street:	721 Bergerac Dr
City:	Saint Louis
State:	MO
Zip Code:	63141
County:	St Louis

Baba Buddha

6 languages

Article Talk | Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Not to be confused with The Buddha.

Baba Buddha (Gurmukhi: ਬਾਬਾ ਬੁੱਢਾ; bābā buḍhā; lit. meaning "wise old man"; 6 October 1506 – 8 September 1631) was a prime figure in early Sikhism.[1]

Baba Buddha
Ji
ਬਾਬਾ ਬੁੱਢਾ

Fresco of Baba Buddha from a Nirmala Akhara in Punjab

Personal
Born	Bura Randhawa 6 October 1506 Kathu Nangal, Amritsar, India
Died	8 September 1631 (aged 124) Jhanda Ramdas
Religion	Sikhism
Children	Bhai Bhana (1536-1644)
Parent(s)	Bhai Sukha Randhawa (father) Mai Gauran Sandhu (mother)
Known for	Early figure of Sikhism

Early life [edit]

He was born to Jat[2] family on 1506 in the village of Kathu Nangal in Amritsar . His father's name was Sugha Randhawa and his mother was named Mai Gauran. His birth name was Bura (Gurmukhi: ਬੂੜਾ; būṛā).[3] As a child, while grazing cattle outside his village, he met Guru Nanak. He asked Guru Nanak many questions regarding life and death, such that, at his young age, Guru Nanak blessed him with the name Buddha, as he spoke as if he were a wise elder.

Spiritual career [edit]

He was one of the earliest Sikhs of Guru Nanak, and performed the formal coronation ceremonies of the five Sikh gurus who succeeded Guru Nanak; Guru Angad, Guru Amar Das, Guru Ram Das, Guru Arjan, and Guru Hargobind.[4][5]

On installation of the Adi Granth, a compilation of Sikh scripture, at Sri Harimandir Sahib on August 16, 1604, Bhai Buddha was appointed the first Granthi by Guru Arjan.[6]

When Bhani (daughter of Guru Amar Das) had a jagir land grant (consisting of 500 biggas) of productive agricultural land bestowed upon her by the Mughal emperor Akbar, Baba Buddha was administrator of the land.[7] The land became known as 'Beer Baba Buddha Ji' as a result.[7] The land had a gurdwara constructed upon it, was used for farming, and educational activities.[7]

Ganga, wife of Guru Arjan, sought out Baba Buddha for his blessings when Ganga desired to give birth to a son in-order to have an heir to the guruship.[8][9] After a failed first attempt, Baba Buddha eventually granted her wish and blessed her.[8][9] Guru Hargobind was born to Ganga after this blessing.[8][9]

CNN US Watch Listen Live TV Sign in

Jury finds Ghislaine Maxwell guilty of sex trafficking a minor for Jeffrey Epstein and four other charges

By Lauren del Valle, Steve Almasy and Ray Sanchez, CNN
4 minute read · Updated 9:18 PM EST, Wed December 29, 2021

BAHAIPEDIA Search
Menu Tools

May Maxwell

May Maxwell

Born	May Ellis Bolles January 14, 1870 Englewood, New Jersey
Died	March 1, 1940 (aged 70) Buenos Aires, Argentina
Nationality	American
Spouse(s)	William Sutherland Maxwell (1902-1940)
Children	Rúhíyyih Khánum
Parent(s)	Father: John B. Bolles Mother: Mary Martin Bolles

Works • Media

May Bolles Maxwell (January 14, 1870 - March 1, 1940)[1], was an early American Bahá'í, and is best known as the mother of Rúhíyyih Khánum, and the wife of William Sutherland Maxwell (m. 1902).

She was among the first group of pilgrims to visit 'Abdu'l-Bahá in February 1899[2]. She was an early participant at Green Acre, the first Bahá'í training facility in the United States.

In 1927 she was a member of the joint National Spiritual Assembly of the United States and Canada.

She died in 1940, shortly after arriving in Buenos Aires, Argentina, where she is buried. Shoghi Effendi gave her the status of a martyr.

Mrs. Nakhjavani has written two volumes on the family, entitled, "The Maxwells of

BAHAIPEDIA Search
Menu Tools

Shoghi Effendi

Shoghi Effendi

The last photograph of Shoghi Effendi, taken a few months before his passing.

Born	Shoghí March 1, 1897 'Akká, Ottoman Empire (now Israel)
Died	November 4, 1957 (aged 60) London, United Kingdom
Title	The Guardian of the Faith
Spouse(s)	Amatu'l-Bahá Rúhíyyih Khánum (m. 1937)
Children	No Issue
Parent(s)	Father: Mírzá Hádí Shírází Mother: Diyá'íyyih Khánum

Media • Works

Shoghi Effendi Rabbani (March 1, 1897 - November 4, 1957) was a direct descendant of Bahá'u'lláh and the grandson of 'Abdu'l-Bahá. After the Ascension of 'Abdu'l-Bahá he was appointed the Guardian of the Bahá'í Faith serving as the Head of the Bahá'í community from 1921 until his passing in 1957.

As Guardian Shoghi Effendi was the Head of the international Bahá'í community and the authorized infallible interpreter of Bahá'í scripture. For much of his ministry he almost single-handedly managed the international affairs of the Faith establishing major teaching plans to organize community work and maintaining a prolific correspondence with Bahá'í individuals and institutions to provide personal and administrative guidance.

During his ministry he oversaw the development of the administration of the Bahá'í Faith establishing formal institutions to organize and coordinate internal

Baba Buddha

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Not to be confused with The Buddha

Baba Buddha (Punjabi: ਬਾਬਾ ਬੁੱਢਾ; Sikhi Gurbani: बाबा बुढ्ढा, lit. meaning "wise old man"; 6 October 1506 – 8 September 1631) was a prime figure in early Sikhism.[1]

Early life [edit]

He was born in Jatt[2] family on 1506 in the village of Kathu Nangal in Amritsar. His father's name was Sugha Randhawa and his mother was named Mai Gauran. His birth name was Sura (Gurmukhi: ਸੂਰਾ; ISO 15919: Sūrā).[3] As a child, while grazing cattle outside his village, he met Guru Ramas. He asked Guru Ramas many questions regarding life and death, such that, at his young age, Guru Ramas blessed him with the name Buddha, as he spoke as if he were a wise elder.

Spiritual career [edit]

He was one of the earliest Sikhs of Guru Ramas, and performed the formal ceremonies of the five Sikh gurus who succeeded Guru Ramas, Guru Angad, Guru Amar Das, Guru Ram Das, Guru Arjan, and Guru Hargobind.[4][5]

On installation of the Adi Granth, a compilation of Sikh scripture, at Sri Harimandir Sahib on August 16, 1604, Bhai Buddha was appointed the first Granthi by Guru Arjan.[6]

When Bhani (daughter of Guru Amar Das) had a jagir land grant consisting of 500 bigahs of productive agricultural land bestowed upon her by the Mughal emperor Akbar, Baba Buddha was administrator of the land.[7] The land became known as Tikar (Baba Buddha Ji as a result).[7] The land had a gardens constructed upon it, was used for farming, and educational activities.[7]

Ganga, wife of Guru Arjan, sought out Baba Buddha for his blessings when Ganga desired to give birth to a son in order to have an heir to the gaddi.[8][9] After a failed trial attempt, Baba Buddha eventually granted her wish and blessed her.[10] Guru Hargobind was born to Ganga after this blessing.[10]

CNN US Watch Listen Live TV Sign In

Jury finds Ghislaine Maxwell guilty of sex trafficking a minor for Jeffrey Epstein and four other charges

By Lauren del Valle, Steve Almasy and Ray Sanchez, CNN

4 minute read · Updated 9:18 PM EST, Wed December 29, 2021

BAHAIPEDIA Search

Menu Tools

May Maxwell

Born	May Bliss Bolles January 14, 1870 Englewood, New Jersey
Died	March 1, 1940 (aged 70) Buenos Aires, Argentina
Nationality	American
Spouse(s)	William Sutherland Maxwell (1903–1940)
Children	Rúhíyyih Khánum
Parent(s)	Father: John B. Bolles Mother: Mary Martin Bolles

Media • Media

May Bolles Maxwell (January 14, 1870 – March 1, 1940)[1], was an early American Bahá'í, and is best known as the mother of Rúhíyyih Khánum, and the wife of William Sutherland Maxwell (m. 1903).

She was among the first group of pilgrims to visit 'Abdu'l-Bahá in February 1898[2]. She was an early participant at Green Acre, the first Bahá'í training facility in the United States.

In 1927 she was a member of the joint National Spiritual Assembly of the United States and Canada.

She died in 1940, shortly after arriving in Buenos Aires, Argentina, where she is buried. Shoghi Effendi gave her the status of a martyr.

Mrs. Maxwell has written two volumes on the family, entitled, "The Maxwells of

BAHAIPEDIA Search

Menu Tools

Shoghi Effendi

The last photograph of Shoghi Effendi, taken a few months before his passing.

Born	Shoghi March 1, 1897 'Akká (Ottoman Empire (now Israel))
Died	November 4, 1957 (aged 60) London, United Kingdom
Title	The Guardian of the Faith
Spouse(s)	Amatu'l-Bahá Rúhíyyih Khánum (m. 1937)
Children	No issue
Parent(s)	Father: Mírzá Hádí Shírází Mother: Diyáníyyih Khánum

Media • Media

Shoghi Effendi Rabbani (March 1, 1897 – November 4, 1957) was a direct descendant of Bahá'u'lláh and the grandson of 'Abdu'l-Bahá. After the Ascension of 'Abdu'l-Bahá he was appointed the Guardian of the Bahá'í Faith, serving as the Head of the Bahá'í community from 1921 until his passing in 1957.

As Guardian Shoghi Effendi was the Head of the International Bahá'í community and the authorized infallible interpreter of Bahá'í scripture. For much of his ministry he almost single-handedly managed the international affairs of the faith, establishing major teaching plans to organize community work and maintaining a prolific correspondence with Bahá'í individuals and institutions to provide personal and administrative guidance.

During his ministry he oversaw the development of the administration of the Bahá'í Faith, establishing formal institutions to organize and coordinate internal

Baba Buddha

6 languages

Article Talk Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Not to be confused with The Buddha.

Baba Buddha (Gurmukhi: ਬਾਬਾ ਬੁੱਢਾ; bābā buḍhā; lit. meaning "wise old man"; 6 October 1506 – 8 September 1631) was a prime figure in early Sikhism.[1]

Early life [edit]

He was born to Jat[2] family on 1506 in the village of Kathu Nangal in Amritsar . His father's name was Sugha Randhawa and his mother was named Mai Gauran. His birth name was Bura (Gurmukhi: ਬੁੱਢਾ; bUḍhā).[3] As a child, while grazing cattle outside his village, he met Guru Nanak. He asked Guru Nanak many questions regarding life and death, such that, at his young age, Guru Nanak blessed him with the name Buddha, as he spoke as if he were a wise elder.

Spiritual career [edit]

He was one of the earliest Sikhs of Guru Nanak, and performed the formal coronation ceremonies of the five Sikh gurus who succeeded Guru Nanak; Guru Angad, Guru Amar Das, Guru Ram Das, Guru Arjan, and Guru Hargobind.[4][5]

On installation of the Adi Granth, a compilation of Sikh scripture, at Sri Harimandir Sahib on August 16, 1604, Bhai Buddha was appointed the first Granthi by Guru Arjan.[6]

When Bhani (daughter of Guru Amar Das) had a jagir land grant (consisting of 500 biggas) of productive agricultural land bestowed upon her by the Mughal emperor Akbar, Baba Buddha was administrator of the land.[7] The land became known as 'Beer Baba Buddha Ji' as a result.[7] The land had a gurdwara constructed upon it, was used for farming, and educational activities.[7]

Ganga, wife of Guru Arjan, sought out Baba Buddha for his blessings when Ganga desired to give birth to a son in-order to have an heir to the guruship.[8][9] After a failed first attempt, Baba Buddha eventually granted her wish and blessed her.[10][11] Guru Hargobind was born to Ganga after this blessing.[12]

Baba Buddha

ਬਾਬਾ ਬੁੱਢਾ

Fresco of Baba Buddha from a Nishan Amara in Punjab

Personal
Born	Bura Randhawa 6 October 1506 Kathu Nangal, Amritsar, India
Died	8 September 1631 (aged 124) Jhanda Ramdas
Religion	Sikhism
Children	Bhai Bhana (1536-1644)
Parent(s)	Bhai Sukha Randhawa (father) Mai Gauran Sandhu (mother)
Known for	Early figure of Sikhism

CNN US Watch Listen Live TV Sign In

Jury finds Ghislaine Maxwell guilty of sex trafficking a minor for Jeffrey Epstein and four other charges

By Lauren del Valle, Steve Almasy and Ray Sanchez, CNN

4 minute read · Updated 9:18 PM EST, Wed December 29, 2021

BAHAIPEDIA Search

Menu Tools

May Maxwell

May Maxwell

Born	May Ellis Bolles January 14, 1870 Englewood, New Jersey
Died	March 1, 1940 (aged 70) Buenos Aires, Argentina
Nationality	American
Spouse(s)	William Sutherland Maxwell (1902-1940)
Children	Rúhíyyih Khánum
Parent(s)	Father: John B. Bolles Mother: Mary Martin Bolles

Works • Media

May Bolles Maxwell (January 14, 1870 – March 1, 1940)[1], was an early American Bahá'í, and is best known as the mother of Rúhíyyih Khánum, and the wife of William Sutherland Maxwell (m. 1902).

She was among the first group of pilgrims to visit 'Abdu'l-Bahá in February 1899[1]. She was an early participant at Green Acre, the first Bahá'í training facility in the United States.

In 1927 she was a member of the joint National Spiritual Assembly of the United States and Canada.

She died in 1940, shortly after arriving in Buenos Aires, Argentina, where she is buried. Shoghi Effendi gave her the status of a martyr.

Mrs. Nakhjavani has written two volumes on the family, entitled, "The Maxwells of

BAHAIPEDIA Search

Menu Tools

Shoghi Effendi

Shoghi Effendi

The last photograph of Shoghi Effendi, taken a few months before his passing.

Born	Shoghi March 1, 1897 'Akká, Ottoman Empire (now Israel)
Died	November 4, 1957 (aged 60) London, United Kingdom
Title	The Guardian of the Faith
Spouse(s)	Amatu'l-Bahá Rúhíyyih Khánum (m. 1937)
Children	No issue
Parent(s)	Father: Mírzá Hádí Shirází Mother: Diyá'íyyih Khánum

Media • Works

Shoghi Effendi Rabbani (March 1, 1897 – November 4, 1957) was a direct descendant of Bahá'u'lláh and the grandson of 'Abdu'l-Bahá. After the Ascension of 'Abdu'l-Bahá he was appointed the Guardian of the Bahá'í Faith serving as the Head of the Bahá'í community from 1921 until his passing in 1957.

As Guardian Shoghi Effendi was the Head of the international Bahá'í community and the authorized infallible interpreter of Bahá'í scripture. For much of his ministry he almost single-handedly managed the international affairs of the Faith establishing major teaching plans to organize community work and maintaining a prolific correspondence with Bahá'í individuals and institutions to provide personal and administrative guidance.

During his ministry he oversaw the development of the administration of the Bahá'í Faith establishing formal institutions to organize and coordinate internal

Baba Buddha

6 languages

Article Talk | Read Edit View history Tools

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Not to be confused with The Buddha.

Baba Buddha (Gurmukhi: ਬਾਬਾ ਬੁੱਢਾ; bābā buḍhā; lit. meaning "wise old man"; 6 October 1506 – 8 September 1631) was a prime figure in early Sikhism.[1]

Early life [edit]

He was born to Jat[2] family on 1506 in the village of Kathu Nangal in Amritsar . His father's name was Sugha Randhawa and his mother was named Mai Gauran. His birth name was Bura (Gurmukhi: ਬੂੜਾ; bū̃rā).[3] As a child, while grazing cattle outside his village, he met Guru Nanak. He asked Guru Nanak many questions regarding life and death, such that, at his young age, Guru Nanak blessed him with the name Buddha, as he spoke as if he were a wise elder.

Spiritual career [edit]

He was one of the earliest Sikhs of Guru Nanak, and performed the formal coronation ceremonies of the five Sikh gurus who succeeded Guru Nanak; Guru Angad, Guru Amar Das, Guru Ram Das, Guru Arjan, and Guru Hargobind.[4][5]

On installation of the Adi Granth, a compilation of Sikh scripture, at Sri Harimandir Sahib on August 16, 1604, Bhai Buddha was appointed the first Granthi by Guru Arjan.[6]

When Bhani (daughter of Guru Amar Das) had a jagir land grant (consisting of 500 biggas) of productive agricultural land bestowed upon her by the Mughal emperor Akbar, Baba Buddha was administrator of the land.[7] The land became known as 'Beer Baba Buddha Ji' as a result.[7] The land had a gurdwara constructed upon it, was used for farming, and educational activities.[7]

Ganga, wife of Guru Arjan, sought out Baba Buddha for his blessings when Ganga desired to give birth to a son in-order to have an heir to the guruship.[8][9] After a failed first attempt, Baba Buddha eventually granted her wish and blessed her.[8][9] Guru Hargobind was born to Ganga after this blessing.[8][9]

Baba Buddha
ਜੀ
ਬਾਬਾ ਬੁੱਢਾ

Fresco of Baba Buddha from a Nirmala Akhara in Punjab

Personal
Born	Bura Randhawa 6 October 1506 Kathu Nangal, Amritsar, India
Died	8 September 1631 (aged 124) Jhanda Ramdas
Religion	Sikhism
Children	Bhai Bhana (1536-1644)
Parent(s)	Bhai Sukha Randhawa (father) Mai Gauran Sandhu (mother)
Known for	Early figure of Sikhism

CNN US | Watch Listen Live TV | Sign in

Jury finds Ghislaine Maxwell guilty of sex trafficking a minor for Jeffrey Epstein and four other charges

By Lauren del Valle, Steve Almasy and Ray Sanchez, CNN

4 minute read · Updated 9:18 PM EST, Wed December 29, 2021

BAHAIPEDIA Search

Menu Tools

May Maxwell

May Maxwell

Born	May Ellis Bolles January 14, 1870 Englewood, New Jersey
Died	March 1, 1940 (aged 70) Buenos Aires, Argentina
Nationality	American
Spouse(s)	William Sutherland Maxwell (1902-1940)
Children	Rúhíyyih Khánum
Parent(s)	Father: John B. Bolles Mother: Mary Martin Bolles

Works • Media

May Bolles Maxwell (January 14, 1870 - March 1, 1940)[1], was an early American Bahá'í, and is best known as the mother of Rúhíyyih Khánum, and the wife of William Sutherland Maxwell (m. 1902).

She was among the first group of pilgrims to visit 'Abdu'l-Bahá in February 1899[2]. She was an early participant at Green Acre, the first Bahá'í training facility in the United States.

In 1927 she was a member of the joint National Spiritual Assembly of the United States and Canada.

She died in 1940, shortly after arriving in Buenos Aires, Argentina, where she is buried. Shoghi Effendi gave her the status of a martyr.

Mrs. Nakhjavani has written two volumes on the family, entitled, "The Maxwells of

BAHAIPEDIA Search

Menu Tools

Shoghi Effendi

Shoghi Effendi

The last photograph of Shoghi Effendi, taken a few months before his passing.

Born	Shoghí March 1, 1897 'Akká, Ottoman Empire (now Israel)
Died	November 4, 1957 (aged 60) London, United Kingdom
Title	The Guardian of the Faith
Spouse(s)	Amatu'l-Bahá Rúhíyyih Khánum (m. 1937)
Children	No Issue
